JUNIOR PLAY NEWS

The Junior Class of Clarkston High School will present a new and modern version of the famous George W. Peck stories by Charles Georga who gave amateur players the most successful version of "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" ever written, was commissioned by Baker's plays to put this equally popular book into play form. In a screamingly funny, fast-moving farce comedy, Mr. George has placed all the wellknown Peck characters, such as Schultz, the grocer; Henry Peck, Sr.; the bad boy's pa; and Henry Jr.; "the bad boy". Heretofore, no published version of the play was available for amateurs, but now. Clarkston's audience and players alike can revel in the pranks and antics of the famous 'bad boy". The cast will be selected soon so watch the paper and see which of the local boys and girls will play those lovable parts.
