Odds and Ends

Monday is Township Election day. We are asked to vote. Not only is it our privilege to vote, it is our duty.

A special proposition is to be voted upon. Shall the township spend sixty cents per thousand of assessed valuation for the next three years to purchase fire equipment for fighting fires in the Township? Let's look into the situation. Is it just another tax or are we going to get some real advantage? It is our idea that we are going to get a real advantage. The money will be used to purchase apparatus which will carry water to start fighting the fire as soon as the apparatus arrives. The water is in sufficient volume to last until a water supply can be secured, such as hooking onto the well, sinking a line into the cistern or wherever water is available. We are advised that Troy Township purchased such a truck, the equipment was approved by the underwriters and a lower insurance rate will go into effect at once. Their fire truck saved a $5,000 dwelling on its first run two weeks ago. Troy's truck is manned by a volunteer crew such as our Clarkston Fire association. Insurance savings should more than offset the cost per taxpayer. We believe you should vote YES.

Coal Gas Kills Mother and Daughter

Bodies Found in Trailer Home Near Clarkston Depot

Sometime early Tuesday morning authorities believe that coal gas fumes from a small stove in a trailer home killed Mrs. Essie Jackson and her nine year old daughter, Beverly. Mrs. Jackson was employed by the Clare Bedding Company and it was back of the Bedding Company's building that she and her daughter made their home in a trailer. When Mrs. Jackson did not report for work on Tuesday an investigation was made and her prostrate body was found lying on the floor and the daughter was in bed. The two were rushed to a physician's office and then to a hospital but they were both dead upon arrival.

Mrs. Jackson and Beverly came to Clarkston about 15 months ago. Mrs. Jackson was 28 years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fields of Pontiac.

HOLLY THEATRE

"Brother Rat and a Baby," the new Warner Bros. comedy opening Sunday at the Holly picks up the lives of the principal characters of last year's comedy hit, "Brother Rat," just one year later.

Apparently, nothing very important happened to the "Brother Rat" characters during the past year. But a lot happened to the film players who are bringing those characters to the screen.

Morris married the former Bubbles Schinasi, cigarette heiress, and has recently become a real life father. He also furthered his screen career by doing several successful pictures, including "The Kid from Kokomo," and moved into a palatial estate in the Brentwood district.

Miss Lane became a screen star, and with her sister, Rosemary, bought a home in Laurel Canyon. She was rumored married to Oren Haglund (but it was only a rumor). And she worked about as hard as any young star ever had done in Hollywood, making "Yes My Darling Daughter," "Daughters Courageous," "Dust Be My Destiny," "The Roaring Twenties" and "Four Wives."

Albert went back to New York and starred in the Broadway musical show, "The Boys from Syracuse." Then he returned to Hollywood to appear in "On Your Toes," and "Four Wives."

Like Miss Lane, Miss Bryan became a full-fledged star. She won a critics poll for a best supporting performance of the month in "The Old Maid," with Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins. And she had the thrill of making her first trip across the continent.

Perhaps the most important thing that happened to Miss Wyman and Reagan was their discovery of each other. "Brother Rat" started that, and they plan to finish it by getting married. They officially announced their engagement a few days ago.

As for Peter B. Good, the baby, a lot happened to him during the past year. He came from Switzerland to America. He moved from San Francisco to Hollywood. And matching the records of Miss Lane and Miss Bryan, he became a movie star.

"Brother Rat and a Baby" continues the madcap adventures of the three cadets after their graduation from V. M. I. Albert, who became a father on Commencement Day, is the proud papa of little "Commencement" (Peter B. Good). Jane Bryan is the mother, and Priscilla Lane and Jane Wyman are the girl friends of Morris and Reagan, respectively.

Clarkston Locals

All the churches in the district were crowded for the Easter services. A few braved the cold weather in new togs but the majority were content with their warm winter coats, muffs and galoshes.

My Hopes

I hope I'll never see the time When I'm too rushed to write a rhyme.

I hope that I will never be So busy that I cannot see The beauties of this world of ours, And marvel at great natural powers. I hope I'll never be so wrapped In making money that I'm apt To pass along and never heed A fellow man when he's in need— Or not take time when passing by To comfort children when they cry.

I hope I'll never see the day— When I count money as my pay, Instead of grateful shining eyes Of kids of various kinds and size, Or adult words of gratitude, When needy folks are given food. I hope the job will not be mine— To boss on an assembly line, Where I would have to count the cost.

And human values would be lost. The only value on a man Is judged by holes drilled in a pan.

Citizenship Committee Has Instruction Session

In Preparation for "Citizenship Day" on May 19

Four hundred committee members and discussion leaders of the Oakland County Citizenship Day Committee attended the first instruction session at the Pontiac High School last Thursday. Judge George B. Hartrick presided at the meeting.

Dr. James K. Pollock, of the political science department of the University of Michigan, was the principal speaker. S. V. Norton of Bloomfield Hills also spoke briefly on the plan of organization followed last year by the Citizenship Day Committee in Manitowoc County, Wisconsin.

Dr. Pollock emphasized the importance of urging new voters to engage actively in the inner workings of political parties prior to the primaries. The real decisions on candidates and issues are made by the party leaders long before the general elections, he indicated, and the average citizen should make an avocation of party politics. Only in this way, Dr. Pollock believes, will the will of the majority replace boss rule in party politics.

All discussion leaders who attended this meeting received a manual prepared by the University of Michigan. This manual will serve as a basis for the groups of "21 ers" who will study the structure of local and state governments before participating in the final ceremony of induction into citizenship on May 19.

The Hilltopper

JUNIOR PLAY

After a brief breathing spell the Juniors are again busily working on their play, "Peck's Bad Boy." We are sure that you will enjoy this screamingly funny, fast-moving farce comedy. For many, many years, "Peck's Bad Boy" was presented in the professional theatres of every city and town in the United States, where its annual visit was awaited with pleasant anticipation. Heretofore, no published version of this play was available for amateurs, but now Charles George, the author, has given amateur players this successful version which the Clarkston Juniors expect to present some time in April. There are two delightful young girls parts in Luella, the bad boy's stepsister, played by Anna Mary Floyd, and Minnie, the bad boy's girl friend, played by Grace Gilchrist. You'll roar at the pranks the "bad boy," played by little red-headed Howard Smith, plays on Dahlia, the colored cook, played by Virginia Orr. You can't afford to miss the excitable, explosive Dutchman, Schultz, the grocer, played by Glen Batten. Howard Smith and Russell Dommer, the bad boy and his pal, keep things moving at a merry pace for three side-splitting acts of uproarious comedy.

So to enjoy this well-known play, watch this paper for the date and save it for the Junior Play!!!!

BASEBALL

Due to the weather, the boys haven't been able to do anything but the pitchers and catchers played a little catch in the gym last week. Those that reported for pitchers were Ross, Young, Minton, Kline and Perrin. Of the group, Minton is the only pitcher with previous experience.

STATE TAXPAYERS MEETING

Conference in Detroit, April 1. Auspices Mich. Chamber of Commerce

Taxpayers of Michigan will gather at the Book-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, Monday, April 1, for one of the largest meetings of its kind ever held in the state. The conference will be under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of Michigan and will embrace the counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, and Wash-taw, in all of which there are taxpayers' organizations.

"This meeting is being held," says Ernest T. Conlon, General Manager of the State Chamber, "in connection with our campaign to cut state expenditures with a consequent lessening of the tax rate, which is now so high that it is handicapping business and working a needless hardship on our citizens."

"We now have affiliated organizations in the 83 counties of the state. These counties are divided into districts for convenience of various areas. We have already held three divisional conferences and are sponsoring one in Jackson on the 28th of this month, the one scheduled for Detroit being the fifth."

"We believe that this will have a very large attendance. The program has been chosen with care and we have speakers on it who are fully capable of enlightening us on various phases of our government and suggesting changes which will work in the interests of tax relief."

"Taxation is the most important thing we in the state have to face. It has gone beyond all reasonable bounds. All taxpayers are invited to these sessions and we believe it is in their interest to attend."

The program of the conference is as follows:

The meeting will open at 10:15 in the Crystal Ballroom of the hotel, with an address of welcome by Harvey Campbell, Vice President-Secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce. Ernest T. Conlon, General Manager of the State Chamber, promoting the subject "Tax Economy in Michigan," will be chairman of the morning session.

Honorable Elton R. Eaton, publisher of the Plymouth Mail and member of the House of Representatives, will speak on "The Reaction of a State Department of Finance to Supervise and Control All State Tax Collections."

Mr. C. M. Laux, Certified Public Accountant and a former president of the Michigan Association of Public Accountants, will have as his subject "Michigan's Intangible Tax Law and Its Administration."

The noon session will be in the Grand Ballroom of the Book-Cadillac in conjunction with the Economic Club of Detroit. Samuel Crowther, Chairman of the Executive Committee of Commission for the Promotion of the Wealth and Income of the People of New Hampshire, will be the noonday speaker, his topic being "The Limits of Taxation in a Democracy."

The afternoon session, which will be held in the Crystal Ballroom, will have as its chairman Mr. William P. Lovett, Secretary of the Detroit Citizens League. Dr. Lent D. Upson, Director of the Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research, will talk on "County Home Rule." The discussion will be led by Duane H. Mosier, Attorney and President of the Taxpayers Council of Wayne County, Inc.

Mr. Hugh White, Manager of the Michigan Public Expenditure Survey, will discuss the subject "Research Facilities for Local Taxpayers' Associations."

Mrs. Jean B. Chamberlain, Chairman of the Wayne County Unit of the National Consumers' Tax Commission, will close the afternoon with a talk on "Women's Activity in Taxpayer Movements."

same number of counties involved year after year.
Mice, skunks, and the downy woodpecker have found the borers make good eating. Farmers and gardeners take precautions whenever an infestation appears heavy and the following year the borers usually are less numerous in that spot. Corn goes into the silo and garden trash is cleaned up and burned. These processes and dry summers help control the pest. Huron county's summer showers are the exception, resulting in recent increases for several successive years.
Entomologists would like to see the control measures used more regularly, even when borers are not too numerous. Many individual farmers who have suffered in some years heavy losses, second this plea for continuous control.
In spite of the borer's prevalence, the corn crop in the state in the last two years has exceeded 58 million bushel each year.

CORN BORER PEST LESS PREVALENT
What's happened to the European corn borer?
He's the farm and garden pest that 10 years ago was considered such a threat it seemed Michigan's annual plantings of field and sweet corn were ultimately doomed in a match against his appetite.
Science and Dame Nature have trimmed sails on the pest's increase, at least temporarily, claim entomologists at Michigan State College.
There are infestations of the borer known in 31 southern and central Michigan counties. Comparing 1939 with 1938, there were definite increases in Washtenaw and St. Clair counties, a decrease in Lenawee and no change in Macomb, Wayne and Monroe. As a whole, the infestations over a period of years fluctuate, they are not standard in prevalence in the same counties, but there is about the Robert Waters, who has been ill and confined to his home, returned to his school duties this week.

William Yoh and William Parker were among the college students who returned to their homes for the Easter vacation.

In spite of the wintry weather a fairly large crowd attended the Easter Cantata at the Clarkston Methodist Church last Sunday evening. The Resurrection story was unfolded in an interesting way by Rev. Pailthorp. At intervals in the story the choir sang. Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Rowley were the guest soloists.

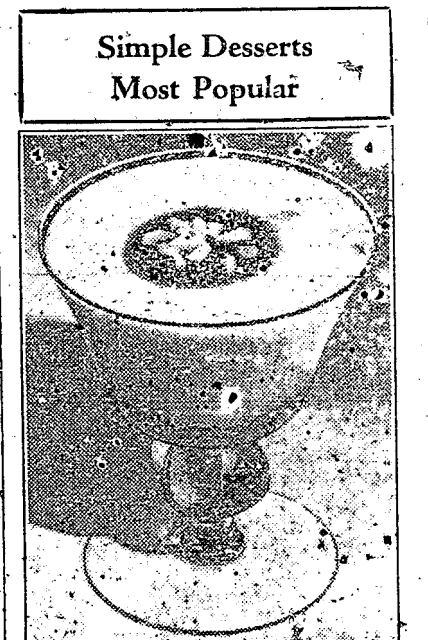

Mr. Smith is an ideal father. His son wants a bicycle. The financial condition of the Smith family is none too good, but Mr. Smith economizes—smokes nickel cigars, walks to work—and, when son's birthday arrives, presents him with a shiny new bike and sends him out to enjoy the newly acquired vehicle. Mr. Smith sits back with pleasure and a bit of pride. He has made his son happy; he has done his duty as a father.

But has he? What about instructing his child in the proper way to operate a bike? What about teaching this youngster the traffic rules which apply to bicycles as well as automobiles? What about warning him not to be a show-off rider?

The way this boy rides his bicycle is very likely the manner in which he will operate his car when a grown man. It is the parents' duty to caution their children to think and act safely. Safety habits installed in the mind of a child will be lasting.

The term "game" has a broad enough meaning in law to include fish and even shellfish, like clams.

Simple Desserts
Most Popular

Most of us prepare elaborate desserts for special occasions. Few make this a regular practice as the days and weeks come and go. We prefer the simple dessert, particularly if it is easy to prepare, economical and delicious.

Here is a dessert that does not call for eggs. No baking or boiling is needed. The ingredients should be in every home at all times—with the possible exception of the toasted almonds for which you can easily find a substitute. Mothers of children who refuse to drink milk will find it particularly beneficial.

Apricot Vanilla, Rennet-Custard
1/2 cup dried apricots
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon sugar
2 cups milk (not canned or soft curd)
1 package vanilla rennet powder
Chocolate sauce
Chopped toasted almonds

Wash dried apricots thoroughly, add water, cover, and simmer for 3/4 to 1 hour, or until soft, adding more water if necessary to prevent scorching. Drain off excess liquid and rub apricots through a strainer, stir in the sugar, and cool. Divide cooled purée among 4 or 5 sherbet glasses or custard cups. Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. Pour over apricot purée. Do not move until firm—about 10 minutes. Then chill. Just before serving, garnish with a pool of thick chocolate sauce and a sprinkling of chopped toasted almonds.

Makes 4 to 5 servings; depending on size of sherbets.

STAMPS
Items and News of Interest to Collectors

The seventh in the series of "duck stamps" will be on sale at postoffices on July 1, and will show a pair of black ducks flying down-wind over a marsh area. Wild rice forms a background. Frances L. Jaques made the drawing from which the design was taken.

Two more of the Famous American series will be on sale this week and with the 10 cent brown on April 7 will complete the Educator group.

The 3 cent purple showing a profile of Charles W. Eliot will be on sale at Cambridge, Mass., on March 28. Always a student and man of letters, he introduced the elective system of giving students their choice of subjects and his "Five Foot Shelf" of books is a library in itself.

Frances E. Willard, whose picture appears on the 5 cent blue, is revered and honored by W. C. T. U. members the world over, having devoted her life to its cause, and was president of the Evanston College for Ladies. The first day sale will be in that city on March 28.

The 2 cent red of the scientist group, on sale April 8 at Jefferson, Georgia, has brought a storm of protest from Georgians who object to the picture of Dr. Crawford W. Long with a full beard. The statue which the state presented to Washington shows him clean shaven and although vigorous protests were made from all sides the stamp was already printed and had to stand. This is the second protest from the Southland, both of them well substantiated.

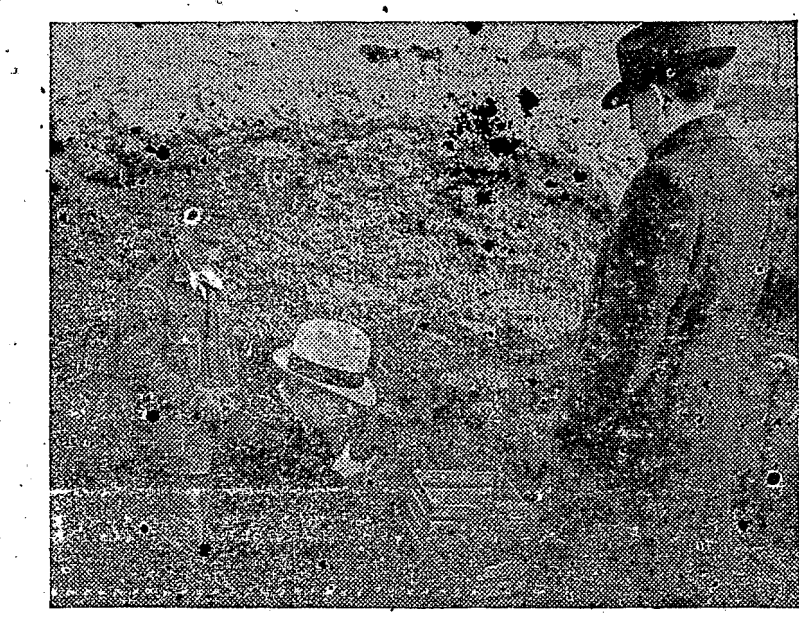

LAST DAY TO FISH

With closing of inland lakes of Michigan to fishing March 31, anglers face the period of greatest inaction of the year, except for the smelt runs which are the occasions for celebrations in a number of northern Michigan communities.

Trout streams and trout lakes will be opened to fishing again on April 27. Pike lakes will be opened to fishing again on May 15 when everything except black bass, bluegills and sunfish may be taken. These species may not be taken from any waters until June 25 when all inland lakes are opened.

The wild swan of Michigan is the whistling swan. Trumpet swans are not now found so far east, but occasionally mute European swans that have escaped from parks are seen wild.

HOLE IN GROUND PRODUCES CHEAP FEED

Out of the ground in midwinter on the farm of Harry Woodworth, north of Charlotte, is coming a vitamin-carrying low cost feed. It's sweet clover silage made in the summer of 1939. Above in the picture is C. F. Huffman, dairy authority at Michigan State College, center, testing the feed by smell. At right is S. T. Dexter of the college farm crops department. The two men are probing processes and results of this new feed storage method. The sweet clover silage being fed on the Woodworth farm this winter contains nearly 10 times as much carotene as hay does at this time of the year. Carotene is in the green coloring, is a source of vitamin A and is a health protector. The Woodworth trench silo held about 150 tons, produced on 10 acres, cut up in a silo filler and treated with 60 pounds of beet molasses to the ton.

IT'S GOOD... IT'S CHEAP...
IT'S FRIENDLY

It is the aim of the Bell System that telephone service in this country be kept the best and cheapest in the world. This objective is backed by the continuing search for improvement by the Bell Telephone Laboratories and the precision manufacture of standardized telephone equipment by the Western Electric Company. It is backed, too, by telephone men and women who recognize their responsibility to serve the public efficiently and in a courteous and friendly manner.
