Philharmonic Concert To Be Given Sunday

Local Musicians Are Members of Orchestra

The third concert by the Philharmonic Orchestra of Pontiac, will be given the afternoon of April 21st, in the auditorium of the Pontiac High School at 3:30.

Under the direction of D. Cesar Chanfone, the orchestra has shown a steady and remarkable improvement since its inception last September. It has already become an integral part of the community, and has been very well received by both music critics and the public.

Miss Dorothy Stone, operatic Mezzo-soprano of Flint, will be guest artist. She will sing, "Oh My Fernando" from the opera "Favorita" by Donizetti; "Agnus Dei", by Bizet; and "Mists", by Rhespigi. Miss Stone was guest soloist at the orchestra's premier concert, and has a voice of unusual power and depth of tone.

The orchestra will open with the Overture to the opera "Norma" by Bellini. This work has been acclaimed Bellini's greatest.

The second selection will be the popular First Movement from Anton Dvorak's "New World Symphony."

Continuing the variety which audiences have come to expect from Mr. Chanfone's programs, the orchestra will play the Brahms Dances Nos. 5 and 6, as its third selection.

Closing the concert, will be the dances from Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite", namely, "Danse of the Miriltions," and "Valse des Fiehrs". In each dance, the composer has caught the feeling of the different nationalities, imbued them with his own touch, and produced a thrilling musical tour.

Miss Margaret Pelican will be featured as soloist in the "Danse de la Fee Dragee", playing a celeste furnished by the Grinnell Bros. Music House.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased at the orchestra headquarters, 300 State Theatre Bldg., the Calbi Music Co. and Grinnell's Music House, all in Pontiac.

Junior Literary Club Met in Waterford

Mrs. Earl Card Was the Hostess

The Clarkston Junior Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. Earl Card in Waterford on Tuesday night with seven members present. The members were glad to learn that Mrs. Daril O'Dea who underwent an operation at the Pontiac General Hospital was resting comfortably and getting along as well as could be expected.

The Roll Call was answered with an interesting fact about some Hollywood star. As the subject for the evening's program was "the summary of a good picture soon to be released" Mrs. Gordon Parker gave an interesting outline of the picture "All This and Heaven Too" starring Bette Davis.

During the business meeting the "Mothers Program" was discussed. The next meeting will be on April 30th at the home of Mrs. Stanley Henderson.

At the close of the evening the hostess served refreshments.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jones, who returned to their home in Clarkston after a lovely winter at St. Cloud, Fla., went to Brown City Tuesday afternoon and attended the funeral of Mrs. Jones' cousin.

SOUND GRASS FIRE WARNING

We are approaching the grass fire season and would like to call attention to the extra care that should be taken at this time.

Many fires are started from old papers and other articles taken from homes at housecleaning time, especially summer cottages where rubbish is cleaned up and put in a pile to burn.

There is generally leaves and grass around such places and the wind blows bits from the burning rubbish. The result is a fire alarm, a hazard to lives and homes.

Burn all junk in a receptacle of some kind.

Burning off old grass is not necessary as it is a potential fire hazard. The new grass will grow up thru, while the old will rot down and form a mulch on the land. Also there is the danger of destroying ground nesting birds. If you must burn, do it before nesting time and wait for a quiet day with very little wind. Start the fire on the side away from the wind and be sure that you will be able to control it.

Farewell Party Honors Mr. and Mrs. W. King

On Monday night fifty friends, neighbors and relatives gathered at the Andersonville Community House to say "Farewell" to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. King who were leaving to make their home on Appoline Ave. in Detroit.

A very fine evening of games and visiting kept the crowd busy. At about ten o'clock a delicious supper was served and a gift was presented to Mr. and Mrs. King. In making the presentation Mr. Hillman told the honored couple how much they would be missed by everyone and asked them to always remember that they had no enemies especially in the Springfield district. Mr. and Mrs. King in saying "Thank you" said they would always cherish the many friendships they had made in the vicinity and hoped to return and see them quite often. In saying the final "Goodbye" before leaving Mr. King felt it was his privilege to kiss the ladies and this he proceeded to do in his usual graceful manner.

It was indeed a very lovely party and one that Mr. and Mrs. King will always remember.

The Lost Hat

A Lady bought herself a hat, A master piece of flowers, A charming thing for one who's fat To wear in April showers.

Her time was short when buying it, Her friend was to be buried, She scarce had time to find a fit, And to the church she hurried, Her new chapeau so's not to mar, So gay in all its wrappings, Was fondly placed within the car, Among the other trappings.

The church in time the party reached, The service having started, And then the preacher stood and preached, At length for the departed, Lo and behold what do you think? The lady filled with terror, Her legs beneath her seemed to sink, For she beheld the error.

Someone in all the rush and haste, Her hat all trimmed with posies, Upon the corpse had deftly placed, And not her spray of roses.

be good neighbors, but they don't know and understand, so they don't really help. Sunday Schools, day schools, boys' and girls' clubs and all the fine movements which youngsters enjoy today, all these are filled with well-mannered, well-dressed, well-behaved, disciplined, happy, affectionately secure children. But the ones who need it the most, those who have careless manners, or poor or untidy clothing or appearance, whose behavior is erratic, who are poorly or unwisely disciplined, who are always somewhat unhappy and who rarely have fulfilled their natural yearning for an affectionate home, these do not fit in, or belong; and they know it.

Did you ever see a child in Court? I wish you might. A school teacher came to Court the other day with a boy and said: "He's so bad I'm through with him." This good teacher stayed through an hour Court hearing and finally volunteered to take the boy on probation. Do you believe all they need is a "cat-o-nine-tails"? Do you believe taking children "out of circulation" for a year of silent fear and punishment will make other children safe from their influence when they return? Are your theories on these matters constructive? Do you really know what you believe as to decent corrective care for delinquent children?

I know that the people of this County want to help--indeed, many individuals have done so. I am deeply appreciative. But communities, the "foster parents" of these children, whose own parents have deserted their real welfare--communities have not understood, and failing in comprehension have failed to meet the problem.

Therefore, I am asking the communities of this County to be good foster parents, to overcome the deficiencies of normal parents. I know that communities can be successful

CHILDREN IN TROUBLE

Do you love your own children? Then please read this through. Modern criminals start young. Therefore, if we wish to prevent crime, we must begin with youth. The Juvenile Courts recognize that the parents are usually to blame. But blaming is no cure. So much has been said about delinquent children, that is true and scientifically right, but not at all practical. So many institutes and commissions have studied problem children and recommended good action and made laudable plans. Comparatively little has been done to carry out these plans. So little has been done to awaken normal, good parents to help the child "down the street". So much can be done if local communities would only try. It is all very simple--except for some additional effort which is needed. If you saw a pitiful youngster crying on the street corner, you would all stop for the few minutes necessary to help such a child. Human nature is kind. People intend to foster parents; can do fairly well most of the things the parents have neglected or failed to do for their boys and girls.

More than anything else, I desire to clearly, but simply, draw a vivid word picture of these children in trouble, and at once with equal clearness and simplicity explain how local communities may care for their own community children.

In a series of true stories of boys and girls in trouble I shall tell the readers the facts, and point the way toward community parenthood. If you love your own children, follow me through, for what I have to say affects your children too.

SPEND your afternoon shopping or at the theater or visiting friends... go for a drive in the car. When you come home at supper time, wouldn't it be pleasant to find your whole dinner waiting--perfectly cooked, warm, and ready for the table? That is exactly what an electric cooker does for you.

Cooks a whole meal at one time

A roast, two vegetables, potatoes and gravy can be cooked all at one time--or you can prepare all casserole dishes such as waterless pot roast, Boston baked beans, Irish stew, etc., to perfection. You'll be enthusiastic about electric cooking: No other method cooks with such flavor, such tenderness--even for cheaper cuts of meat. And an electric cooker is simple to use: Plug it into any convenience outlet.

The Bride's Cooking Primer

PIE CRUST POINTERS By BETTY BARCLAY

There are but two kinds of pie--good pie, and bad pie. Good pies have a crust as light as a powder puff, tender as a school-girl's heart, flaky as a first snowfall. Their reward is hearty praises from a family... just try the recipe and see what I mean!

Flaky Plain Pastry 1 1/2 cups flour, sifted with 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup shortening 4-5 tablespoons cold water

Now the secret in making good, flaky crust lies in three things: first, chill shortening thoroughly; second, no over-mixing; third, just enough cold water to combine ingredients.

Cut cold shortening into flour with a pastry blender--or two knives--until shortening is in pieces about the size of small peas.

Now for a little water--iced water, please--the same to be blended with the flour mixture until all of it just holds together. Water must be added slowly, practically a drop at a time, for a sticky dough means a tough crust. Your aim is a smooth mixture--both sticky and crumbly proportions are to be avoided. Chill pastry before rolling.

When a girl marries, let her serve no pie other than a perfect pie. And let it often be apple. Such rules are good insurance for happy years ahead.

Mrs. Harry Davis, clever little bride of the CBS radio program, "When a Girl Marries," takes her pie seriously and makes a perfect apple pie.

Jobs Made Available To Michigan Graduates

Careers for highway engineers will be awaiting some 25 graduates of Michigan universities and colleges this year.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner, himself a graduate of the University of Michigan in 1921, said the jobs would be made available to graduates of the University's Engineering College, Wayne University, the University of Detroit, the Michigan College of Mining and Technology and Michigan State College in proportion to the number of their graduates.

"I know of no better place for a young engineer to get his early experience," commented Van Wagoner. "We hope to acquire outstanding engineering students genuinely interested in the highway problem of their own state."

Employment plans will be discussed with officials of the schools graduating the students.

For Homemakers

Few families fail to vote for desserts in the form of fruit whips, so home economics specialists at Michigan State College have recommended a few tips in preparation.

Fruits of pronounced flavor and color make the best fruit whips, for example, peaches, apricots plums, and prunes. Cook, sieve and sweeten the fruit for a whip before you beat the egg whites. If the whites stand they will lose much of the air that has been worked into them by beating.

Egg whites whip up more quickly when they are at ordinary room temperature, so get the eggs out of the refrigerator ahead of time. Avoid getting egg yolk or any fat on the beater. If it gets into the whites, they won't beat up as stiffly as you want them.

Adding a pinch of salt to the egg whites before beating will increase the volume of the foam and make it less likely to become watery if it stands. Either a rotary beater or a whip or whisk may be used. A rotary beater makes a finer foam, but a whip beater makes a greater volume. Beat until the whites are stiff, but not dry. At this stage the foam will be shiny, and will hold its shape when the beater is removed.

Hot fruit pulp added to the beaten eggs partly cooks them. The best technique for combining them is to pour the hot fruit mixture gradually over the egg whites. Use a gentle, folding motion for mixing. If the whip is to be baked, pour at once into a buttered mold or pan. Set this in a pan of water and cook for about an hour in a very slow oven (225 to 250 degrees F.). A whip cooked slowly should not fall when taken from the oven.

If the whip is served without cooking, mix only a short time before you want it. Whipped cream, if used, is added after the egg and fruit mixture has cooled and just before serving.

HOLLY THEATRE

Next attraction at the Holly Theatre, starting on Sunday, will be "Castle On The Hudson", starring John Garfield, Ann Sheridan, and Pat O'Brien, an Anatole Litvak production, released by Warner Bros. Garfield and Miss Sheridan, two of the outstanding new stars of the screen are co-starred for the first time in a torrid love story, tailored to the measure of their dynamic personalities.

Garfield, it will be remembered, came to Hollywood from Broadway's Group Theatre. In his first screen role, "Four Daughters," he portrayed a restless, cynical young musician. He was an immediate hit and bigger and better roles followed upon that one. As for Miss Sheridan, her phenomenal rise to screen fame is pretty well-known to all. From the obscure ranks of beauty contest winners, she rose through the treadmill of "bit" roles to featured and finally to starring roles. Vibrant charm combine with red-headed loveliness to make her one of the brightest stars on the present Hollywood horizon.

Together, Garfield and Miss Sheridan make a dynamic screen team and "Castle on the Hudson" is an ideal vehicle for them. A turbulent love story of a young couple who risk death to be together, it is a fast-moving drama, full of suspense. Garfield portrays an egotistical young gangster, arrogant in his confidence that his luck will hold. But like most other strong characters he has a weakness. That weakness is his love for Kay, the role played by Ann Sheridan. Beautiful and desirable, she is queen of the underworld, but her love is all for Garfield. Separated when he is finally apprehended, they cannot stay apart. He comes to her when she needs him most, and she, in return, murders another man to save his life. It is this point on which the plot revolves, and to tell how the situation is resolved would detract from the full dramatic impact of the picture.

Also starred with Garfield and Miss Sheridan is Pat O'Brien, while the featured roles are played by Burgess Meredith, famous stage star, Henry O'Neill, Jerome Cowan, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, John Littel, Margot Stevenson, Willard Robertson, Edward Pawley and several other well-known players.

"Castle On The Hudson" is an Anatole Litvak production; released by Warner Bros. Litvak directed from the screen play by Seton I. Miller, Brown Homes and Courtney Terrett, from the book by Lewis E. Lawes.

Some people have the mistaken idea that most of our automobile accidents occur on bad roads under bad conditions and on curves and hills. It is true that some of our most serious accidents occur at these spots and under such conditions, but here are some facts that have been developed by the National Safety Council on a nationwide basis:

- Four out of five accidents occur on a straight stretch of road.
- Four out of five accidents occur on dry roads in clear weather.
- Some of the causes for these accidents are:
 1. Exceeding the speed limit or driving too fast for existing conditions.
 2. Driving on wrong side of road.
 3. Disregarding stop sign or signal.
 4. Cutting in.
 5. Passing on curves or hills.

Check these five causes. How often have you been guilty of these violations?

It isn't the man who knows the most, but the man who knows the best, that's wisest.—Anon.

"500 MILES TODAY AND I FEEL FIT AS A FIDDLE!"

Pontiac owners frequently mention this car's superiority for long distance travel. They're the same miles but they seem shorter, and they're more delightful, in a Pontiac.
 As Pontiac owners compare notes with other drivers on their trips, they also discover that few others can match Pontiac's gasoline and oil economy (18 to 24 miles per gallon).
 Up in the mountains, Pontiac's smooth, efficient power-packed engine really thrills you by the way it "goes to town." And Pontiac's handling ease stops driving fatigue before it starts!
 And whether you go across town or 500 miles a day, it's a shorter trip in a Pontiac with Pontiac's marvelous "Triple-Cushioned" ride!

Special Six 2-Door Touring Sedan, as Illustrated $838*

IF YOU LIKE TO get out and see the country, go in a Pontiac and travel de luxe! Pontiac's "Triple-Cushioned" ride and big, wide seats bring every passenger in at night feeling fine and ready to go again at the first crack of dawn. Pontiac's noteworthy steering ease, its big-car road balance, and the super quietness of Pontiac's power-packed engine save wear and tear on driver's nerves.

And it's more economical to go in a Pontiac. Owners report 18 to 24 miles to a gallon of gas—and never a drop of oil in between the regular oil changes. You'll like Pontiac's price, too. It's right down with the lowest!

YOU'VE NEVER tasted MORE DELICIOUS MEALS!

YOU'VE heard and read a great deal about electric cooking—its better flavor, healthfulness, superiority—and now you can enjoy it economically with one of these compact electric cookers. At a cost of about 2c you can prepare an entire meal at one time in the cooker. Two vegetables, a roast, potatoes and gravy.

Waterless cooking at its best

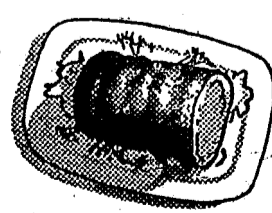

You'll marvel at the difference electric cooking makes. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices with very little water.

Important minerals and food values are SEALED-IN, instead of being boiled away or poured down the sink with excess water.

Cooks even cheap cuts of meat to tenderness

You can save money on meat bills too, by buying cheaper cuts and cooking them electrically. And your family will compliment you on the cakes and pies and pastries you can bake in the cooker. An accurate heat control eliminates guesswork and assures successful baking results time after time.

He pointed out that there was a lot of land in which to build parks. If this plan goes through it will mean healthier citizens, adequate bathing beaches, greater employment for our citizens, and more tourist dollars for Southeastern Michigan. If they are built, they will be along the Huron and Clinton rivers in Wayne, Washtenaw, Oakland, Macomb and Livingston counties.

Do You Know Your Lemon Garnish?

By BETTY BARCLAY

Do you make the most of lemon to bring out flavor in other foods? A plate of lemon quarters may very well take its place on the table along with the salt and pepper shaker, for in any meal there is always some food the flavor of which can be enhanced by lemon. It is well, therefore, to see that the family shopping list always provides an ample supply of this fruit.

Lemon quarters or slices are suggested because they are most practical for juicing. With a sharp knife, cut a lemon lengthwise into four or six pieces. These lemon pieces may be squeezed without getting juice on the fingers. They are decorative additions to the foods they accompany, as are lemon slices, plain or cut in fancy shapes. To heighten decorative effect, the lemon may itself be garnished with chopped mint, pimiento strips and parsley.

The lemon garnishes pictured are easily copied with the use of sharp knife or scissors. They are used to decorate and provide flavor for an appetizing plate of asparagus, summer squash, beets, corn and sardines.

Here are some other suggestions for food combinations that may very well include lemon garnishes.

Lemon with Tea: The custom of serving lemon with tea has grown and many guests now prefer lemon with this beverage, so the thoughtful hostess will always include a plate of lemon slices and quarters. Gloves may be inserted in the lemon for a decorative touch. Iced tea, in particular, calls for generous additions of lemon.

Lemon with Other Fruits: The juice of half a lemon adds a tang to the morning glass of orange juice. Quarters of lemon cut lengthwise give keener flavor as accompaniments for such fruit cocktails as tomato, pineapple and prune juice. Lemon does something, too, for stewed prunes, apricots, peaches, pears and apple, both dried and fresh, and there's nothing like lemon juice to bring out the full flavor of melon or provide just the right dressing for avocado.

Lemon with Fish: Lemon's affinity for fish and shellfish is well known. Oysters or clams on the half shell, seafood cocktails of all kinds—baked, broiled or fried fish—gain by lemon juice, which may be provided in decorative lemon wedges or quarters. Canned salmon, sardines or tuna should be garnished with greens and a generous supply of lemon quarters. Again—and this is a trick worth knowing—sprinkle a bit of lemon juice on canned salmon or tuna before creaming or scalloping.

Lemon with Vegetables: Whether you eat spinach for duty or pleasure, lemon juice makes the eating more enjoyable. Other greens and many vegetables are improved by lemon juice. Here's a chance to do a bit of experimenting for yourself. See what lemon juice does for each. You'll make many pleasant discoveries.

Lemon Garnish for Soups: Novel but good is the idea of a lemon garnish for soups. Float a slice of lemon on each bowl, the next time you serve bouillon or consommé. Decorative and good, too, on bean or lentil soup and such cream soups as tomato, asparagus, spinach or green pea. Lemon is especially good with food or jellied consommé!

Lemon with the Breakfast Waffle: From England comes this surprising good but novel lemon use. Sprinkle waffles or pancakes with sugar and follow with a generous squeeze of lemon juice. You'll never believe how good this is until you try it.

theme. Jeanette Vliet played the part of our school mom; and did a very good job of teaching us the fundamentals of Readin', Writin', and Arithmetic. Except for a few misspelled words we proved very intelligent. Evelyn Davies gave a comic essay on the effects of Alcohol and Narcotics and because she gave the teacher an enormous rosy apple she received a big "A". Dick Lowrie our prize dramatic student with the aid of Irene's skirt made "Reuben Pryose". Junior Bird is still pulling that "Long, Long, Nail", out of the heel of his shoe—To close our day of school we gave our rendition of "School Days".

Home owners wishing the songs, the brilliant plumage, the delicate form and graceful flight of birds about their houses, may attract them by discriminating selection in spring shrubbery plantings, as well as by providing nesting places and bird houses.

Mass plantings of a variety of shrubbery is recommended for the birds' safety and for a variety of flowers and fruits. Native species are to be preferred and the birds like wild fruits best.

Third Nickname Contest Staged
Ford Dealers Repeat $1,000 Event for Used Car Buyers
 A third Used Car Nickname Contest is to be put on by Ford dealers after the present contest closes at midnight today, according to D. D. Harris, Chairman. The third contest will end at midnight, April 25.

The same amount of prize money which was offered in both the first and second contests, $1000, will go to the ten used car buyers who give the best nicknames to the cars they buy from Ford dealers; said Mr. Harris. Again, the judges will be the Honorable John L. Carey, Mayor of Dearborn, Michigan; Mr. Gordon Kingsbury, Director of Advertising Courses at Wayne University; and Mr. G. D. Gettins, Automobile Editor of the Toledo Blade.
 "We were agreeably surprised at the unusual interest which our Nickname Contest aroused," said Mr. Harris. "Our first two contests, of a week's duration each, proved to be so popular that Ford dealers are glad to invest a third $1000 in prizes. In most of the comments which we have received so far, people have complimented us upon the simplicity of the contest. There are no puzzles to solve, essays to write, or questions to answer. All the contestant needs to do is to write a nickname for the car he buys, using any number of words up to five. The ten best names win checks for $100 each."

Parent and Teacher Seek Same Goal
 "Every good parent wants the same thing as every good teacher," said Harvey L. Turner, Ypsilanti, director of rural education for Michigan speaking before a large number of P. T. A. members and teachers at the Oakland County Council meeting last Thursday at Walled Lake, "the best for the child".
 The dinner which preceded a short business meeting was served by the 10th grade Home Economics Class. Mrs. Stanley Kipp and Mrs. Lester Snyder were elected delegates to the State Convention at Lansing which is being held today and Friday.
 The program opened with selections by the Walled Lake band. A mixed quartet composed of Marion Thomas, Mary Culbertson, James Travis and David Rubritius sang two selections. Mrs. Erwin Hoffmeister played a piano solo. C. A. Hoffman, superintendent of Walled Lake School, extended a welcome.
 The next meeting of the Council will be held in May at the Lambert School.

Original Ship-to-Shore Telephone Is Gift to Leviathan's Commander

Captain H. A. Cunningham, former commander of the S. S. Leviathan (second from right), receives from R. A. Helsing, radio research engineer at the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the original telephone instrument over which Capt. Cunningham spoke with President Walter S. Gifford of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company on December 8, 1929, when regular service was inaugurated between telephones on land and those on liners at sea.

Marking the tenth anniversary of the introduction of commercial ship-to-shore telephone service on the S. S. Leviathan, first liner to be equipped for conversation with the mainland while at sea, Bell System men who contributed to the development of the service held a luncheon recently.
 Their guest was Captain Harold A. Cunningham, former commander of the Leviathan. Captain Cunningham was presented with the original telephone, suitably inscribed, over which he spoke from his ship during the ceremonies establishing the service more than ten years ago.
 On that occasion, Captain Cunningham, on his ship 200 miles at sea, talked with Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, in his office in New York City. The telephone was later salvaged as a souvenir when the test equipment was removed from the Leviathan.
 First ship-to-shore conversation was actually held in May, 1916, between Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, in Washington, and Captain Lloyd H. Chandler, commander of the battleship New Hampshire, off Cape Hatteras. Interrupted by the World War, tests were resumed later, and finally regular service was inaugurated on December 8, 1929, with the Leviathan.
 So successful was ship-to-shore telephone service with the Leviathan, and so useful to passengers did it prove, that a number of other vessels were similarly equipped. Prior to the outbreak of the present hostilities in Europe, about a score of liners were within voice reach of the land. At present, the service is available only to vessels of neutral nations.

GLIMPSES OF HOLLYWOOD

By HELEN RAETHER

Mabel Taliaferro, appearing in the Coast production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner", has been on the stage since she was 2½. In the early 1900's she was the toast of New York and still bears traces of a very great beauty. As a balmy hammer-murderess in the piece, she scores delightfully. The play is as witty a comedy as has struck L. A. for a long time. It is a satire built around the character of one of the best-known of today's American figures, Alexander Woollcott. Dialogue is brittle and pointed and on the Coast, Mr. Woollcott played himself until throat difficulty made him miss a few performances. Then George S. Kaufman, director and co-author, with Moss Hart, took over the part and was grand. The whole cast was deliciously well-chosen and performed admirably. From British pictures came Rex O'Malley, who "took off" Noel Coward to perfection; from American pictures came Doris Nolan, Renie Riano, Betty Blythe and Robert Allen. From the New York stage was Claudia Morgan, daughter of Ralph. The whole thing was extremely well-done.

Intimate data on This-a and That-a Vivien Leigh hires a man who does nothing all day on the set but play phonograph records for her—lovely waltzes and such. Remember when Joan Crawford used to put herself "in the mood" by listening to Bing Crosby's recordings? It is always a shock to see some of the most terrifying "bad men" of the movies regular attendants at the churches of Hollywood.

If you are wondering about the reception of "Gone with the Wind" and its stars by the South, here is what my Atlanta spy has to say, "The picture is being enthusiastically acclaimed all over the South and is being held over for additional weeks in many places. There was something almost reverent in Atlanta's attitude towards the picture and its stars. Clark Gable expressed what I mean when he said that to Atlanta he was actually Rhett Butler and not Clark Gable. The city received them all as the actual characters. Margaret Mitchell made so real.

"One woman here, whose father was a Confederate officer, said the picture was so good! The scenes showing the burning of Atlanta were so vivid, she couldn't keep in mind that she was only seeing a picture, and she had to leave before it was over. I think everyone in the South is pleased with Vivian Leigh's conception of Scarlett, for her acting has been lavishly praised. Her accent was perfect; in fact, it was so good, one wasn't even conscious of it. Atlanta was a little skeptical of her at first, but after she came for the premiere, there was no doubt in anyone's mind about her being suited for the part.

"Carole Lombard was certainly modest thro' all the festivities. Not once did she try to capitalize on her own fame, but always stayed in the background. Ann Rutherford and Claudette Colbert were both immense hits with the Atlanta people. Olivia de Havilland was splendid, tho' I tho't Melanie was made a stronger character in the picture than she was in the book."

Seen Around the Town . . . Donald Crisp, all done up in sideburns, buying a wide variety of candy in a cut-rate drug store . . . At Al Levy's—John Carradine, always the actor, in black homburg, gloves, spats, his elongated frame swinging with his cane, as he strides in . . . Robert Barrat waving a greeting from his car as he whizzes down Hollywood Boul' . . . Deanna Durbin being chauffeured on to a studio lot to visit her boy-friend, Vaughn Paul. She wore blue slacks and very nicely, too . . . Anita Louise in crinolines for "The Villain Still Pursued Her", picturization of "The Drunkard", old-time meller-drammer that has been playing on the stage of the Theatre Mart in L. A. for 7 years! . . . In Sardi's, after their broadcast, Bob Hope, Bill Goodwin, and Jerry Colonna, the latter convulsing the other customers with his "yehudi" routine which you have heard on their program . . . At "Meet the People", the sensational revue performed by young actors at the Hollywood Playhouse, the new Mr. and Mrs. William Powell. She is pretty and he is looking better than in ages

Sign of Spring, Greens on Table

When it comes to food, early vegetables are among the first-harbingers of spring, explain home economics staff members at Michigan State College.

First among these vegetables are the wild greens, dandelion and sorrel, in many places. In other sections are water cress and cowslip, or poke-weed and milkweed. Lambsquarter, purslane, field cress and many others appear on the list of greens in some localities.

When the greens are used raw in a salad, most of the food values are retained, but be sure to wash them quickly and put them in a cold place to become crisp. Don't let the greens stand in the water.

If the greens are to be cooked, put them in a covered saucepan. If the pan is thick enough for them to cook slowly, use just the water that clings to the leaves and have a low fire under the pan. Cook until just tender. Leave the cover on the pan until the greens are wilted, and then remove the cover to finish cooking. Season lightly, and dress them with butter or other fat, bacon, or bits of salt pork, fried crisp.

Indolence is a delightful but distressing state; we must be doing something to be happy. Action is no less necessary than thought to the instinctive tendencies of the human frame.—Hazlett.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my deepest appreciation to my friends and neighbors, who so thoughtfully remembered me with the many beautiful floral pieces and other expressions of sympathy in the recent passing of my father.
