School Doings Top the List

School Band Expects to Have a Busy Week

Great preparations are being made for the Band Festival to be held in Holly on Tuesday, May 28th. Clarkston School band will attend and the members are hoping for a good following from town. The majorettes and the drum major will, of course, be in the lead. These young people in their new uniforms add color to the line-up.

There will be eight bands participating. Each band will play several numbers and the gala affair will close with a mass concert directed by W. D. Revell, director of the University of Michigan band. The Clarkston Band will be directed by Orlo J. Willoughby and will play "Marriman March" by Hayer and "Atella Overture" by Karoly.

On Thursday, Decoration Day, the school band will lead the parade to the cemetery.

While the band is in the fore at the school this week the Seniors are looking forward to their baccalaureate service a week from Sunday evening and their commencement exercises the following Thursday. In the line-up of graduates this year will be: Charlotte Sue Miller, Richard E. Lowrie, Owen W. Payne, Jeanette M. Vliet, Imogene Dillon, Robert C. Johnson, Kenneth L. Milleur, Eugene C. Hubbard, Ralph B. Ware Jr., Frank T. Russell, Alice Marie Gameau, Rena L. Sparling, George H. Lueckeman, Evelyn L. Davies, Jackie A. Parrish, Basil Bird Jr., Thomas R. Boothby, Eileen Ruth See, Bernice M. Tallenger, Maxine M. Roadway, Muriel Boynes, Julia M. Edgar, Irene C. Walz, June E. Taylor, Mildred J. Putnam, Vivian A. Dean, Ina E. Rouse, Velma E. Sylvester, Betty J. Hoyt, Russell I. Morgan.

Telephone Company to Boost Michigan

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. doesn't think that "19" is an unlucky number, for this is the 19th consecutive year that it has decided to advertise Michigan to Michigan people as the ideal State in which to spend their summer vacations.

Being firm believers in the effectiveness of newspaper advertising, they have determined again to use that media in advertising Michigan to its citizens as a place where they can get splendid value for their vacation dollars.

"There is no question in our minds that what benefits the State as a whole benefits each concern and individual in it, either directly or indirectly. We are confident our company has benefited from the promotion of Michigan as a summer playground, and hope all others have so benefited," says C. W. Hungerford, advertising manager.

The News has received a set of proofs of the 1940 "Vacation in Michigan" advertising, which will start running in more than 250 Michigan newspapers this week.

Beattie Motor Sales Has Annual Party

Dinner and Program Was Enjoyed at Hotel Miles in Ortonville

Last Thursday evening the Beattie Motor Sales was host to its employees and their families at a chicken dinner and a party afterwards at the Miles Hotel in Ortonville.

This happy event has become an annual affair in the past few years, and this year is more significant since the organization is celebrating its tenth anniversary.

A very enjoyable program was given after dinner by the members of the families, including several musical selections by Margaret Ann, Dorothy and Ida May Beattie on their guitars; songs by Bobby and Mary Jane Beattie, Sarah Colling, and Ruth and Alice Fuller; a tap dance by Earl Lamberton and readings by Mrs. Edward Fuller, Jimmie Collins and John Beattie.

The evening was one which will be long remembered by all who attended.

Wheat Allotments For New Growers Now Available

The Oakland County office of the Agricultural Conservation Program is in the process of setting the 1941 wheat acreage allotments. These allotments are set on all farms which have had a wheat history in either 1938, 1939 or 1940.

Those farmers who have not grown wheat in any one of these years and desire to become wheat growers may apply at the county office for an acreage allotment for wheat to be harvested in 1941.

Application for a 1941 wheat allotment must be made not later than June 1, 1940.

The county office is located at 319 Hubbard Building, Pontiac, Michigan.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. David Stewart entertained their club at their home on Miller Road on Saturday evening. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clark Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn O'Berry and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stevens.

Dear Friends

It's been the custom all these years, For folks with eyes all full of tears, To gather here upon this day—

And homages to the dead we pay, And with a heart brim full of grief, Place on this tomb a gorgeous wreath.

To you who've gone—we loved you so, And felt so bad to see you go, We've figured close that we might save,

To put this wreath upon your grave, Yet you recall when you were here, We never seemed to have a fear That someday you would go away, And it would be too late to say

The things we always had in mind, Yet you'd always been so very kind, Yet we delayed to tell your worth While still you lived upon the earth.

And all that's left for us to do, Is live, in hopes that all of you Will please accept these humble flowers;

Belated praise for you that's ours, And may we learn today to start To speak to those, who live, our heart.

To give the living, roses red, And never wait 'till they are dead! R. C. B.

CHARLES D. HARRIS

780 Will Graduate From M. S. C.

Charles Harris of Waterford Will Receive Degree

It has been announced from the registrar's office that degrees will be granted to 780 Michigan State College seniors at Commencement ceremonies to be held at East Lansing on Monday, June 10. This is the largest graduating class in the college's history. Dr. Allen Arthur Stockdale, of the National Association of Manufacturers, will be the Commencement speaker, and Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, Detroit pastor, will give the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 9.

Among the students from Oakland County who will receive degrees is Charles Disbrow Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Buck of Waterford.

ADD NEW SERVICE IN STATE PARKS

More and Better Facilities to Be Afforded Visitors

Both Mother and Dad can go fishing this summer while vacationing in some Michigan state parks after checking Junior and Susie with park attendants who will see that they keep out of mischief. The checking service will be a feature of a W P A recreational department program being worked out in cooperation with the conservation department's education division.

The W P A is to provide about 75 nature guides, lifeguards, recreation leaders and playground directors who will be assigned duties in most of the state parks. The largest group will be the nature guides, about 40 of them, who will have intensive training in the department's school at Pigeon River state forest near Wolverine for a 10-day period just prior to the opening of the park season on Memorial Day.

Plans are complete to establish nature trails in a number of the parks, over which hikers can be taken on conducted trips which will permit them to explore their particular interests in geology, nature study, wildflowers and the like. Trailside museums will add interest to some of the hikes.

The W P A's state park recreational staff is being recruited in all sections of Michigan.

Royal Neighbors Met in Drayton

Mrs. Emma Barnes Was the Hostess

On Wednesday afternoon the Royal Neighbor Sewing Circle met at the home of Mrs. Emma Barnes in Drayton Plains. There were eighteen members and one guest present.

The group enjoyed sewing and visiting during the afternoon. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Shaughnessy and Mrs. Allen, served dainty refreshments.

Ann Arbor Flower Show June 1, 2 and 3

The Ann Arbor Flower Show, which aroused so much interest, last year, throughout the state, when it completely transformed Yost Field House into a garden paradise, is to be held at the same place this year on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, June 1, 2 and 3. The hours are 10:00 A. M. to 10:00 P. M. each day. Plans reported by committee chairman have caused landscape experts at the University of Michigan to predict that the 1940 show will surpass all previous efforts.

Our floor plan is centered by a long reflecting pool, surrounded by old brick walks. White birch trees and ribbons of salmen and white "ruffly petunias" border the pool and will strike the color note of the show. The pool is balanced by a Serpentine wall at the east end of the building, which will form a semi-circular terrace for a group of gardens, and on the west an esplanade of tan bark, which will provide the background for the terrace, where delicious luncheons, tea and supper will be served.

Also for the comfort of the visitors, a soft drink bar will be available and wheel chairs provided for those who may not feel quite up to walking through a show of such magnitude, but do wish to enjoy its full beauty.

America's Vegetables Getting Attention

Two attacks by science are improving America's vegetable supply, a trend applauded by home economists on the staff of Michigan State College.

One of these advances is in the refrigeration which holds quality while the supplies come to consuming centers or quick freezes the supplies so that year around fresh supplies tempt appetites. The other is in streamlining the string bean, making it a snap bean. Even the carrot has taken new shape, with round tops that taper down to the roots.

The tomato has undergone some interior decoration. Firmness and meatiness are new qualities. "A head of lettuce of the iceberg or New York type is far different from olden day lettuce style. Even celery is gaining crispiness and losing some of its stringiness in fiber.

Why is the vegetable getting so much attention?

Dieticians approve. They point to the "greens" with their calcium and iron. They also approve of the vitamin content available in many vegetables. For vitamin A one can turn to the green vegetables especially those with green leaves and to the yellow kinds such as carrots, sweet potatoes, squash and yellow corn and rutabagas. These also supply vitamin C and tomatoes as well do this. Some vegetables offer vitamin B-1 and even supplies of vitamin G.

Choose the best way of life, and habit will soon make it pleasant for you. — Pythagoras.

Death May Lurk in Mushrooms

In gathering mushrooms, botanists at Michigan State College advise, one should use nine parts care to one part of observation. During May and early June dozens of persons become ill, and some die, because what they thought was a meadow mushroom was the deadly amanita.

The only safe course in mushroom gathering is to know a few safe varieties well, and stick to them. If a mushroom looks only slightly different, it is not safe. It is still too early for the common meadow mushroom to appear, and anyone who thinks he has found such a fungus growing in the woods should leave it growing and seek elsewhere.

Inky caps and morels are the only mushrooms growing at this time of the year which may be gathered and eaten safely, and even the inky cap has near relatives that are treacherous.

The morel, which resembles a yellowish, gray sponge, can never be mistaken for any other variety. It has a stout stalk, is hollow, has a rough, ridgy surface, and grows in open woods, in old orchards, along stream banks, or under pines and firs. It appears in Michigan sometimes until June.

Later in the summer the giant puffball and the meadow mushrooms appear. The meadow mushroom is the variety seen in the market, often grown commercially.

Just now, the botanists say, if in doubt about a mushroom, don't.

Michigan to Protect Tourists' Health

Health protection for residents and tourists in Michigan's famed vacationland is the aim of sanitation inspections now in progress along 9,000 miles of trunkline highways, it was announced by Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner.

In the inspections 3,500 to 4,000 roadside wells and springs will be tested and vacation travelers will be guided to safe drinking water by two types of signs. The roadside supply will be marked by a small black and yellow sign lettered "This Water Safe for Drinking." Municipal water supplies that have been approved will be marked at the city limits by large signs stating "Public Water Supply Approved."

Two visits to each roadside water supply will be made by health department sanitarians. Water samples will be taken and inspections made at the first visit and the signs will be posted about two weeks later when inspection and tests have indicated safe sanitary conditions.

Summer resorts, cabin and trailer camps and recreation camps meeting the state sanitation standards will be marked with signs indicating "Sanitation Approved." Restaurants, too, will be awarded similar window signs by the local health departments.

State Health Department laboratories are being prepared for the huge number of tests which will be required for the sanitation program. Five barrels of beef broth for culture tests of water bacteria will be needed and the 4,000 tests expected will require the washing, filling and emptying of 200,000 pieces of laboratory glassware.

Sanitary and drinking water inspections will also be made in roadside parks and state parks. Both the State Department of Conservation and the Highway Department are cooperating with the State Health Department in meeting required sanitary standards.

Holland last Saturday, and on Sunday they were the guests of Mrs. Barnhart's son, Osmun, and family in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson and family, Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Sutton and son James, Mrs. Ransom Robb and Mrs. J. R. Berryman were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stanback, near Oxford, last Tuesday night.

Mrs. Fannie Stevens entertained several guests at her home at Watkins Lake at a 6:00 o'clock dinner last Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Sarah Stevens' ninety-fifth birthday. Guests besides the honoree were Austin Stoddard, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, Miss Marie McFarlane, Mrs. Katherine Taylor and Miss Jessie Stevens of Pontiac, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Neil and son Harry and Miss Barbara Mathison of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stevens of Sashabaw Plains. Mrs. Stevens is enjoying very good health. She is up and about most of the time and reads and crochets some. Four generations were represented at this gathering. We all wish Mrs. Stevens many more enjoyable birthdays.

Memorial Day

Our honored dead, Americans and patriots all. They sleep under a flag they rendered stainless, beneath the solemn pines, the sad hemlocks, the tearful willows, the embracing vines.

They sleep beneath the shadow of the clouds, careless alike of sunshine or storm, each in the windowless palace of rest. They are at peace.

TRAGIC PLIGHT OF EUROPE'S WAR BABIES

Writing in The American Weekly with the June 2 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, Europe's most noted exile and cousin of the Czar who, with his family, was murdered by Russian Communists, tells in her own words—why there is only one way ahead for tiny heirs to the thrones broken or threatened by the lightning of invading armies. Be sure to get Sunday's Detroit Times.

If ever there was a time when the whole nation needed to get back to God, to rally around His Church, it is now. All the armaments in the world cannot protect an irreligious Godless nation if God forsakes them. "Our hope is in Him" "America Back to God", is a good slogan for the present hour. If our salvation depends upon your Faith, will it stand?

Conservation Notes

The upland plover, once almost extinct in Michigan and protected by law for many years, may be staging a comeback here, according to Farley F. Tubbs, conservation department biologist. The bird, whose migratory flight carries it to the Argentine pampas, is reported scattered thru the grasslands of northern counties of both peninsulas.

The C C C crew of Camp Higgins lifted 665,000 young Norway, white and jack pine seedlings, wrapped in wet sphagnum moss in bundles of 100, and boxed for shipment, during the first week of the transplanting season. Besides stock for reforestation of more than 3,000 acres of state forest land this spring, 2,000,000 young trees will be used to fill orders of private persons and communities.

Charity is quite as rare as wisdom, but when charity does appear, it is known by its patience and endurance.
