CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1940

NUMBER 3

Get-Acquainted Party Was Well Attended

A. E. Genter, Recreational Director, of Pontiac, Directed the Program

On Wednesday evening the Clarkston P. T. A. held their first meeting in the form of a get-acquainted party at the school. There was a good attendance. On entering the auditorium each person had their name pinned on them to assist in making themselves acquainted. After a goodly crowd had gathered the good time began. Mr. A. E. Genter, recreational director, from Pontiac, took charge and he kept everyone busy for about two hours. The auditorium was just like a huge mixing bowl, no one had a chance to sit down, and before it was time for the grand march which concluded the recreational program there were very few, if any, who were not acquainted.

The new teachers had a fine chance to meet a great many parents and know what congenial people live in this neighborhood.

At the close of a very delightful evening fried cakes and coffee were served.

Clarkston to Have Community Tree

Will Be Sponsored by Rotary Club

The Clarkston Rotary Club will sponsor a community Christmas tree this year. Plans are now under way for a project the village will be proud of. More details from time to time.

Next week's meeting will be at Devon Gabes, with the wives of the members attending. A dinner will be served with entertainment afterwards.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waters have moved into their new home on Robertson Court.

Among those who attended the Tiger-Yankee baseball game in Detroit last Friday were K. G. Hempstead and son, Kenneth.

The Masonic Temple is being redecorated. Everything will be spic and span and in apple-pie order for the busy winter season.

Odds and Ends

Press agents are always welcome in a newspaper office. They smoke good cigars and are liberal, and are very friendly. Of course after they leave you throw their neatly typewritten sheets of "News" in the waste basket, wish they had left more smokes and then go to work again. The other day however it worked differently. The gentleman, we mean that and we have known him for some time, came into the office and without waste of time or cigars got down to business. He wanted me to endorse Amendment Number three and while it is an amendment of which you will hear more, very much more, before election, it might not hurt and would probably do much good to start hearing of it now. It seems that Detroit bought an obsolete trolley system and then started to rebuild it by buses. Now a bus line is decent and profitable business so Detroit got ideas. Why not serve Royal Oak, Ecorse and perhaps some other suburbs. In fact they might even cover the state—there would be nothing to stop them—in fact why be so narrow minded—why not cover the nation. But the fly in the ointment and one for the rest of the state to consider is that being a municipal undertaking they are able to avoid so many taxes—and as costs must be met somehow. The rest of the state if they vote "No" on this amendment can reach down in their pockets and make up the difference between what a private owned system would pay and what the municipal system of Detroit can avoid. It may be that you favor municipal ownership but it is claimed that the D. S. R. system is evading the small sum of $1,898,713.43—so consider Amendment No. 3.

Let us repeat in case you have heard before that Thanksgiving comes to Michigan, November 21st (the early date) The Rotary club is thinking of a Christmas tree In other words Thanksgiving, Christmas, and the winter is half gone and many have not got enough fuel in to keep them warm until October.

The new cars are appearing. Pontiac appeared first, then came Oldsmobile, Chevrolet is out Saturday and Mercury and Ford will show up in a week. Look them over. Take your choice. BUT buy the new boat in Clarkston.

The Centennial Banquet of the Methodist Church which starts off the 100th anniversary of the Church will be occasioned by a Banquet at which The Rev. Dwight S. Large will be the speaker. An unusually attractive program of music will be part of this Centennial Banquet.

Of interest is the delectable menu planned by the Ladies of the Church all of which is suggested by the fact that Roast Turkey will be the meat course. All people who desire to be at the Banquet should obtain their tickets very soon at Walter's Store, Adis' Store or the Parsonage as only a limited number of tickets are available.

Clarkston Locals

Among those in this district who have left for college is Miss Janet Stickney who left on Thursday of last week for Richmond, Ind., where she will enter her second year at Earlham College. The two weeks prior to leaving for school Miss Stickney spent in New York.

Honor received 3rd on a ram lamb in a class of 10; 6th on a ewe lamb in a class of 13 and 7th on a yearling. Competition was keen this year which proved that the members had been working more than in other years.

The Still Sow Drinks the Swill

The saying old, is truthful still, "Quiet's the sow that drinks the swill".

A poll of votes sets out and picks. The winning man in politics, The leader, with a chest that swells— Pins buttons on his friends' lapels And shouts about his champion's cause— And tells how he will change the laws.

If he could only get a crack He'd put the country in the black, And most the men it seems you meet Will 'low as how you can't defeat; The man that everybody picks The fair haired boy in politics.

The loudest speaker of the crowd— Like me; one vote he is allowed, And millions more there are like me, Who, when they vote, find they are free

To cross the name of whom they choose Or vote themselves a drink of booze. If we don't shout about the flaws They claim exists within our laws— We get results, us timid souls— A million strong when at the polls The saying old is truthful still.

"Quiet's the sow that drinks the swill".

American Legion

Installs Officers

District Commander Harold Owen Is Installing Officer

Tuesday evening the officers of the Campbell-Richmond Post of the American Legion were installed for the ensuing year. A large number of the members were present as well as a number of guests.

Harold Owen, District Commander, formerly of Ortonville, now of Detroit, was installing officer. Harold stated that this was the first installation since taking the office. One is supposed to improve with practice, but he started his installing career so perfectly that he did not leave much room for improvement. He was assisted by Charles Krieg of Ferndale, who acted in his usual capable manner.

After the ceremonies, former District Commander, Wm. E. Kramer, gave a short talk. He explained that the reason that the American Legion approved the Conscription bill was that it believed that a nation, well prepared was one other nations would respect and leave alone.

Cleve Collins, of the John Faust Post, of Detroit, gave a short talk on amendment No. 3.

The officers installed were: Herbert Baynes, Commander; Vernon Ridgeway, Vice Commander; Elmer Collins, Adjutant; Henri Buck, Finance Officer; Wm. Jens, Sergeant-at-arms; Percy Craven, Historian and Wm. H. Stamp, Chaplain.

Refreshments were served while the members talked over memories of the war of '18.

Members are advised of a joint district meeting at Royal Oak the 4th of October.

Methodist Church

Landscaped for Centennial

The Methodist Church in preparation for the Centennial which is just a week away, September 28 and 29th, has landscaped both the front and the rear of the Church. Two new groups of trees and shrubs have been arranged in a beautiful pattern in the front of the Church. Some of the shrubs and bushes which had to be removed to new locations have been placed in the rear of the Church which materially improves the appearances of the Church from the East.

The improvements on the exterior have been done while the interior decorating is in progress to beautify the inside of the Church. Unusual effort is being expended to have the Church greatly enhanced in appearance for all the visitors which are expected who formerly lived in Clarkston.

HANDLE POTATOES WITH MUCH CARE

It Will Pay Growers Dividends on the Market

Every potato grower who bruises a potato, puts a dent in his own pocket-book.

Whether potatoes are being dug and stored for home use or for sale, the careful handling of the crop is worthwhile, concludes A. J. Bell of the agricultural engineering extension service of Michigan State College.

Five principal causes of mechanical injury can all be reduced or even eliminated, tests conducted all over the states have shown.

With a machine, four of these causes include: digger running too shallow, elevators running too fast, drop from elevator to rear attachment, not enough dirt carried on elevator. One test in Marquette county reduced bruising 50 per cent when shakers were padded with inner tubing.

Crates for field handling sometimes are unsatisfactory. Sharp corners and throwing are two causes of injury. Then when the crop is dumped eight or 10 feet through a hole in a ceiling onto a concrete floor there is bound to be injury and poor storage.

Even a hand digging operation is a source of trouble. City husewives, it is pointed out by Bell, shy away from buying potatoes that have been speared by a fork in the field.

Grading is another step where care pays more per bushel. Some growers in Michigan have discovered it pays to grade as the crop comes out of storage rather than when it goes in. The skins have had a chance to toughen before they are run over the grader. Damage can result if a grader is operated at too high a speed or constructed with sharp corners.

COOL LIGHT IN A TUBE

Fluorescent lighting is increasing in popularity by leaps and bounds... one reason being that you get DOUBLE THE LIGHT for the same amount of electricity.

But fluorescent lighting is so new, and the demand for it so great, that the average buyer is bewildered when he sets out to buy the proper fixtures. There are so many fixtures on the market, so many erroneous and exaggerated claims being made for fluorescent lighting, that it is not surprising to find incorrect applications... with a complete disregard for the rules of good lighting. As a result, the buyer is often disappointed with his fluorescent installation.

For your protection, and to help you get your money's worth, a STANDARD has been set up by the Mazda lamp manufacturers to assure dependability and high quality in fluorescent fixtures. These approved fixtures (in commercial styles for stores, offices, etc.) are called certified Fleur-O-Liers, and conform to rigid specifications checked by Electrical Testing Laboratories. They are now being made by over 17 companies. When you buy fluorescent fixtures, insist on certified Fleur-O-Liers—and look for the label. Corresponding fixtures for industrial use are identified by the name "R. L. M. Fluorescent."

Our experienced lighting staff will be glad to give you full information about this revolutionary new lighting. Call your Detroit Edison office. The Detroit Edison Company does not sell fluorescent fixtures or lamps. See your electrical contractor or lighting fixture dealer. The Detroit Edison Company.

Why Women Will Do Things Men Won't

In an article to be found in The American Weekly in the September 22 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times Dr. Donald A. Laird, noted psychologist, author and lecturer, analyzes the urge of "silly age" females to show off in useless contests that males fight shy of, but promote -- and explains why all women shouldn't be judged by their dizzy sisters. Be sure to get The Detroit Sunday Times.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Community United Presbyterian Church held its regular business meeting at the home of Mrs. A. T. Stewart last Thursday evening. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Walter Aderholdt and Mrs. Frank Jeffrey. Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved. Mrs. L. G. Rowley, Mrs. Frank Jones and Mrs. Lloyd Bowden attended the executive meeting in Detroit last Tuesday. Mrs. Cecil Morrow, the program chairman, opened the meeting with singing, "Christ Shall Have Dominion". The lesson was on temperance and reform. Mrs. Morrow read the 139th Psalm. Mrs. Virginia Hanggee, Mrs. John Watkins and Mrs. Morrow followed with prayer. Mrs. Russell gave a talk on "What Price Repeal"; Mrs. Katherine Cable, on "Defeats and Victories"; Mrs. Wesley Stevens, "Danger of Drugs"; and Mrs. Frank Jeffrey, "Lotteries in State and Church". At the close of the meeting a handkerchief shower was given Mrs. Marie Curtis. She left last Saturday afternoon to spend the winter with her son Howard E. Curtis, in Omaha, Neb.

The W. C. T. U. meeting was held in the Parlors of the Community United Presbyterian Church last Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was opened by the President Mrs. Cecil Morrow. Singing of the song "Let the Beauty of Jesus" followed with prayer. Reports from the leaders of the Y. T. C., Mrs. Fred Appleton and L. T. L., Mrs. Grace Barnhart were given. Election of officers took place and the following officers were installed: President, Mrs. Alfred Hutchinson; vice president, Mrs. Katherine Cable; recording secretary, Mrs. Alice Jeffery; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Zella Appleton; treasurer, Mrs. Beulah Sutton; vice president at large, Mrs. A. T. Stewart; vice president at large from the Free Methodist Church, Pontiac, Mrs. Kenneth See; vice president at large, First Baptist Church, Pontiac, Mrs. Grace Ebeby. Mrs. Pearl Sutton, "Program", opened with the singing of the "Crusade Song". Her Scripture was taken from the sixth chapter of Deuteronomy. Her subject was "The Family Altar", closing with the song, "How Firm a Foundation". Mrs. Zella Appleton gave a report on the Y. T. C. Convention which was held at Rocklake, Michigan. This report was most interesting as there were a great many young people, both boys and girls, in camp and it was encouraging to know of the interest taken in the Christian work among the young people. Mrs. Katherine Cable also gave a very interesting report on the National Convention which was held in Chicago, Ill. They visited the home of Frances Willard; the cemetery where she is buried and many other places of interest. The one great drawback while this wonderful convention was on was that it rained nearly every day.

HOLLY THEATRE

Horses that for five centuries represented the glories of the rule of the Hapsburgs in Austria and that helped to carve Europe's history, are making their last stand in a peaceful valley in California. They are the Lippizans, steeds of the Hapsburg Emperors, cavalry horses that surpassed all in the world and that have become a tradition in Europe. Under present war conditions their fate in the Old World is uncertain, but Lippizans imported from Austria are being bred at the ranch of Winfield Sheehan, picture producer, near Hollywood. His are the only Lippizans in America. The horses will be seen on the screen for the first time in "Florian", Sheehan's first production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which comes Tuesday to the Holly Theatre. Based on the novel by Felix Salten, it is the love story of a boy and girl, told against the cavalcade of glorious Imperial Austria, the World War, revolution, the fall of the Hapsburg dynasty, and world reorganization, traced through the fate of a magnificent Lippizan stallion, property of Emperor Franz Josef. "Florian", eldest of the Sheehan horses, plays the title role.

Lippizans, so called because they were first bred in Lippizza, were used by Hapsburg rulers as war horses about 1500. Arabian and Andalusian stock was crossed to produce a fast but extremely sturdy animal with a vast intelligence. Down the years the breed was perfected. Horsemanship reached its highest art in the training and riding of the animals. Maria Theresa rode one. Lippizan cavalry blocked the Turks in their invasion of Austria; stopped Napoleon at Leipzig. Two and a half centuries ago the Spanish Riding School in Vienna was established in a palace. Here horsemanship reached its apex. Four Lippizans and their official trappings were presented to Maria Jeritza, opera star and Sheehan's wife, by the Austrian Government. Since then, two colts have been born at his ranch. The animals are born black, gradually change color, and at four or five years are milk white. Elaborate research went into the picture. Sheehan's ranch was used for location work.

A complete replica of the original ballroom in Schonbrunn was constructed for a replica of one of Emperor Franz Josef's great social functions before the war. Irina Baronova, principal dancer of the Monte Carlo Ballet Russe, was brought from Europe to play the fiery sweetheart of an archduke, and performs the "Sylvia Ballet" of Delibes, favorite ballet of the Emperor, in this setting. Edwin L. Marin, because of his sympathetic direction of "A Christmas Carol" and "Maiseie", was chosen to direct, from a script by Noel Langley and Geza Herczeg, once managing editor of Vienna's largest newspaper.

Just as Sheehan chose Janet Gaynor, then unknown, and catapulted her to stardom in "Seventh Heaven", so he chose another beauty, Helen Gilbert, former concert cellist, for the lead in the picture opposite Robert Young, fresh from his triumph in "Northwest Passage". Regina I. Owen, of "Christmas Carol" fame, was transformed by make-up magic into the Emperor, Charles Coburn, forty years a star on the New York Stage, plays the sympathetic veterinarian at the Imperial stables. Lee Bowman is the dashing young Archduke, enamored of the ballerina, and facing Imperial displeasure over her. Aside from the Imperial Ball, a spectacular highlight is the Emperor's review of the horses at the Riding School, with "Florian" exhibiting his equine dances, piave, Spanish march and other steps and evolutions taught the Imperial horses.

Intimate details of breeding and training at the School and Imperial Stud Farm at Piber are shown in scenes actually filmed in Austria and the Vienna school. Hundreds of people appear. A village festival with its gay old Austrian customs and pastimes, probably never to be seen again in the reorganized nation, is reproduced in detail. In this sequence Soko Szakall, great European comedian recently arrived in America, appears.

STAMPS

The "defense stamps" announced some time ago in this column are scheduled to go on sale in Washington, D. C., on October 12, the anniversary of the date on which Columbus discovered America. The one cent will pertain to Industry and Agriculture, the two cent the Army and Navy, and the 3 cent will represent Security, Education, Conservation and Health. The inscription "For Defense" will appear below the central design on each stamp. The 1 cent green will bear a picture of the Statue of Liberty, the 2 cent red of the new 90-millimeter anti-aircraft guns and the 3 cent purple will carry the torch of enlightenment.

Copies of the Augustus Saint Gaudens 3 cent purple stamp that was to have been on first day sale at New York on Monday, Sept. 16, were received and had been cancelled five and six days ahead of orders.

The 5 cent blue honoring Daniel Chester French went on sale at Stockbridge, Mass., on the same day, and the 10 cent brown Frederic Remington on sale Sept. 30 at Canton, N. Y., will complete the artist series. The five inventors will appear in October which will complete the Famous American series.

Every year we spend $1,800,000,000 too much in taxes. Public funds wasted on gold badges, dry swimming pools, twin courthouses, needless insurance and other foolish and cynical extravagances could easily pay for twenty-six new battleships. Don't miss this startling article by James Vernel Clarke of the tax foundation, New York City, in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

AMERICAN BOY IS COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It is as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. I made our school basketball team because of tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boy's clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

THE AMERICAN BOY sells on most newsstands at 25 cents a copy. Subscription prices are $2.00 for one year or $3.50 for three years. Foreign and Canadian rates 50 cents a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

An executive in the making

All men and women holding responsible positions in this Company have come up from the ranks. One general official started as a switchboard operator; another began as a telephone installer. Still another was first a file-room boy. Our future executives are following in similar paths. These men and women of experience and seasoned ability know Michigan's needs and thus this Company is prepared to meet the State's growing demands in normal times or in any emergency.
