G. A. Walter Sells Grocery Business

Had Been in Business Here Over 40 Years

After being in the grocery business in Clarkston for over forty years Guy A. Walter decided that in order to be fair to his patrons here and also to the wholesale grocery firm of Whitfield, Walter and Dawson, with which he has been connected for the past twenty years, he should retire from the Clarkston business. So on Thursday of last week the G. A. Walter store became "The Village Market" operated by William Dunston, who is well known in this district.
Mr. Walter started in business here on April 11, 1899 in what was at that time the Floren Hammond Drug Store located where the Clarkston Dry Goods is now. In 1902 Mr. Walter moved to his present location. During the last forty-one years his business has been uninterrupted and a great many pleasant incidents have occurred. The fact that his store was a friendly store was evidenced in the earlier days when the farmers as well as some of the townspeople gathered around the large heating stove and decided township, county, state and even national affairs.

Mr. Walter will always be interested in the affairs in Clarkston because he intends to keep his home here and be with the friends he has made during the last forty years.

Dr. Clark J. Sutherland | Local Baptist Pastor Answers Last Call

the Clarkston Methodist Church at 2:00 O'clock Friday Afternoon

The residents of Clarkston and nany throughout the county and many throughout the country and state were saddened on Tuesday morning when they learned of the passing of Dr. Clark J. Sutherland in Goodrich Hospital at 5:35 that mornng. Dr. Sutherland had been in poor nealth for about four years and about two weeks ago he was stricken with nfluenza which caused his death.

In his passing the town loses one who has served the community as physician, friend and counsellor for nearly half a century.

CLARK J. SUTHERLAND, M. D.

He was born in Oxford May 6, 867, the son of Andrew and Abby Sutherland. He came to Clarkston January 26, 1892 after graduating from the University of Michigan Medical School in June, 1891. In 1889 and 1890 he was a member of the University football team and played his last game 50 years ago last Thanksgiving Day.

On September 11, 1892 he married Maud J. Rose. She answered the last call on April 5, 1926.

During his early years in Clarkston, before paved or gravel roads were ever dreamed of Dr. Sutherland travelled many miles over most of the county by horse and buggy to care for patients. He was the first in Clarkston to own an automobile.

Although his medical practice took Jan .14th-Tuesday afternoon-the up a great deal of his time yet he Abraham Lincoln and in his extensive Frank Leonard of Clarkston. Great Emancipator". Another Sewing Circle will meet at the home of his sterling qualities was that he was very civic minded and took a great interest and supported any worthwhile project in the community. That he led an active life is again evidenced in the fact that he was a member of Cedar Lodge, No. 60, F. & A. M., and acted as Worshipful Master for fourteen years; he was a di-rector of the E. Jossman State Bank and the Clarkston State Bank and a member of the local school board for several years; he was a Past President of the Oakland County Medical Association and a member of the Michigan State Medical Association; he served nine years as chairman of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanitorium and was the present President of the University of Mich-igan Medical Class of 1891 which held a reunion every five years in Ann Arbor and plans were being formulated for the fiftieth anniversary in June.

Dr. Sutherland had many admircharacteristics: Among them was his love for music, flowers and young people. He was a very fine and enjoyed sharing his talent in the churches, at the school or lodge functions and in the home. He was always delighted when the church choirs would decide to hold practice in his home. His face beamed when young people called upon him for help when they were in need of a speaker or a singer. He was always ready with a joke and a few kind words for every little boy or girl that happened to be near him.

Back of the Sutherland home was a garden where the Doctor used to spend many of his free moments during the spring and summer. He was always very proud of his flowers, especially his dahlias. He always claimed that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" and so he varied is recreation. About four years ago his health started to fail and although he spent weeks at a time in bed he was alvays patient and cheerful. His long illness would perhaps have meant weary hours but for the faithful friends and old patients who expressed their regard for him by visits and flowers. During the past year his guest log registered 1633 callers.

While Dr. Sutherland had been ill he was cared for by Miss Ada Scrace C. Reid of Goodrich, C. L. C. Simer-who had been his housekeeper, secre- son of Andersonville and L. F. Walter tary and office nurse for many years. Miss Scrace's mother had made her home at the Sutherland home since ushers at the Church are: Harold following the death of Mrs.

He is survived by one brother, F. C. The Ogden Sutherland of Oxford; two nephews, Clarkston has Charles G. DeShon of Oxford and arrangements.

David Lee Celebrated His Seventh Birthday

About a week ago David Lee, son Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Lee of Orion Road, was seven years old and his mother honored him at a birthday

The little folks had a grand time. They received favors and paper hats and played several games. The main feature of the afternoon was a pic-ture show which was put on in the basement of the house. This delighted the young people because most of the pictures were movies that had been taken during the past year and most of the children were in them.

At the close of a very happy after-noon they enjoyed ice-cream and birthday cake.

Transplanted Strength

Dedicated to the Memory of Dr. Sutherland

It doesn't seem to me so long Since you were tall and very strong When you leaned strong into the breeze Away above the other trees. our giant limbs of massive strength Matched your trunk's unusual length

And your outstretched protecting arm Kept many a weaker tree from harm. You towered there upon the hill And noticed not each little chill That shook the trunks of lesser tree: Not so accustomed to the breeze. You were the landmark of the town The highest head to bear a crown You saw each infant on the street Pass you by on wavering feet. nany in your own home town

Lift themselves up to great renown And the misfortunes of a few Struck at the very heart of you. But now time takes the job in hand Of transplanting in that Great Land The strongest one of all our trees To tower there in Heaven's breeze, Protection for the ones less strong As one by one they go along.
Robert C. Beattie.

Gurdon DeShon of Detroit and one great nephew, Frank DeShon of De-A prayer service will be held at the residence at 1:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon and at 2:00 o'clock the funeral service will be held at the Clarkston Methodist Church with Rev. Edwin Stephens of Stockbridge and Rev. W. Harold Pailthorp, Pas-Clarkston Methodist Church, officiating.

Dr. Sutherland will be borne to his last resting place in the Oxford cemetery by a group of young men whom he has ushered into this world: Bradley Miller, Ronald Walter, Lessiter Hammond, Donald Scrace, C. J. Parrish, Harlan Walter, Clark Miller and William Warren.

Honorary pallbearers will be: Morgan Axford and Burdette Hagerman of Oxford, Ben Cole of Metamora, Guy A. Walter of Clarkston, Dr. W. of Clarkston.

MEETING CALLED TO BOOST COUNTY

Object Is to Effect a Working Organization

The Publicity, Tourist and Convenions Committee of the Boosters Club of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce will be host to sixty-five representative citizens from all over Oakland County, who have been invited to attend a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce, Waldron Hotel Building at 8:00 P. M., Friday, January 10th, for the purpose of discussing the feasibility of setting up a countywid organization dedicated to the job reational facilities of Oakland Co.

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce was waited upon early in December by Mayor Osmund Wigg, Earl Milliman and Ernest Crawford, all of Orion and active in the Michigan Inland Lakes Festival held there each summer, who requested that the Pontiac organization use their facilities for calling and arranging for a meeting of this type.

All members of the Boosters Club have been invited to lend their assistance in every way possible, and the meeting is open to the public and the citizens invited are welcome and urged to bring additional interested parties to the meeting.

For Homemakers

Whether a family eats heavy or light breakfasts or has dinner at noon or in the evening, it takes something from nine types of foods to make a balanced daily diet.

The following daily outline is approved by home economics extension workers on the staff at Michigan

State College: Milk—For a growing child, % to I quart. For other family members, pint or more.

Leafy, green, or yellow vegetables 1 or more servings. Tomatoes, oranges, grapefruit, any raw fruit or vegetable rich in vita-

Potatoes, other vegetables, or fruit 2 or more servings. Eggs-1 (or at least 3 or 4 a week)

min C-1 or more servings.

Levi rieat, poultry, fish—1 or more Cereals and bread-At least 3 serings of whole-grain products. Fats and sweets-As needed to satsfy the appetite.

Water-6 or more glasses. The group called "milk" includes dry and evaporated milk as well as fresh fluid milk. Skimmilk, buttermilk and cheese also belong under this general heading.

When counting the eggs that go into the family meals, full credit is given for those in sauces, custards and baked dishes. Some eggs should be served as eggs—poached, scram-bled, fried or cooked in the shell.

Use Caution

Patience and caution are watchwords now for Michigan's ice fishermen, kept from their usual sport by unsafe ice, thaws and unseasonable Sunday afternoon for Canton, Ohio, rainy weather. Two drownings, one near Hastings and the other near Coldwater, were reported as the season began for some, in spite of weak ice cover on the lakes.

Where ice remained strong in spite of thawing weather, spearing began on inland waters January 1, and ice fishing with hook and line began even earlier. Except for the prohibition Another good Penny Supper will against taking of bluegills at night be served at the Church tonight be- and the closing of lakes in five southwestern counties to nonresidents, fishing regulations for winter are much the same as for other seasons.

Anglers are limited in winter as in summer to two lines and a maximum of four hooks. All fishermen on inland waters now need 1941 fishing licenses.

Michigan Timber Is Defense Resource

Michigan's timber resources, no less than its ores, its limestones and brones, will supply the raw materials of defense as the nation prepares for what may come.

German chemists' success in converting forest products into synthetic yarns and fabrics, sugars and motor fuels, can be duplicated in the United thorities. German military men are said to place wood second in the list of war essentials. Military uses of wood, as listed by C. P. Winslow, director of the forest products laboratory of the United States Forest Service at Madison, Wis., include cantonments, pontoons, shipping containers for explosives, air raid shelters, assault boats, charcoal for gas masks, rosin for shrapnel filling and plywood for trainer airplanes.

Although there are 148 ice cream flavors on the United States market. 14 flavors make up 85 per cent of the ice cream consumed.

The Loyal Temperance Legion held their first meeting of the new year last Monday afternoon, in the School. Thirty youngsters were present. Due to the president, Miss Frances Jones, being ill, Mrs. Glenn Sutton and Mrs. Grace Barnhart had charge of the meeting. After several songs were sung, Mrs. Sutton gave the lesson entitled, 'Taking God's name in Vain'. The next meeting will be held on January 20th.

The P. T. A. will hold its regular meeting next Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock. Business meeting is in charge of Father Vice President, Elmer Johnson. A flag ceremony by the Scouts; community singing by Ward Reed. The speaker for the evening will be Mr. E. C. Beck, who is head of the English department of Central State College at Mt. Pleasant. His talk will be on "Cowboy and Lumberjack". Mr. Beck is a formal authority on folk lore and ballads in the United States. During the summer he teaches in the University in Colorado, and has given talks all over in the Northwest, including universities in California, Washington, Oregon and throughout the East. The men will be in charge of the refreshments.

A lovely Watch-night service was held in the Community United Prestyterian Church last Tuesday night, December 31. Over one hundred were in attendance. The first part of the evening was used for games which were enjoyed by both young and older people. From 10-11 a musical entertainment was held, with Eddie Watkins playing several selections on the guitar, Lucille Hanggee, Myra Katherine Rowley and Mrs. M. M. Cable gave selections on the piano; Miss Edith Sutton accompanied Don-cla Dancey on the piano, Donald play-ed several selections on his violin. Dr. and Mrs. Rowley each sang a A Grand March headed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on that day was the next in order, ending with the serving of a delicious lunch. From 11 to 12 a devotional hour was held.

Along this line, how about a good old macaroni, spaghetti or egg noodle felicacy "for a change"? Meat and potatoes is a popular food combination relished by all, but any of the macaroni products may be served in-stead of potatoes as a welcome shange — without lessening the food value or increasing the cost of the

Have you ever tried serving buttered egg noodles or fried macaroni in order to hanish menu monotony? These are money savers, time savers and labor savers. No peeling or clean-ing is necessary. There is no waste. And, in combination dishes they are economical, nutritious — and real "for a change" dishes, — equally delicious with meat, fish or fowl.

Macaroni, spaghetti, elbows, and egg noodles, the whole macaroni family in fact, — since they are interchangeable in practically all recipes, will prove wonderful substitutes for other healthful carbohydrate and protein foods — for a change. Try the following recipes and you will agree: Brolled Hamburger Steaks

½ lb. spaghetti 1 lb. hamburger

1 sweet Spanish onion 4 medium tomatoes or 1 No. 1 can of tomatoes

THRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES "Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 12. The Golden Text (II Corinthians 13:14) is: "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all." Among the Bible citations is this passage (I Cor. 5:8): "Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (p.140): "We worship spiritually, only as we cease to worship materially. Spiritual de-voutness is the soul of Christianity."
