CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1941

NUMBER 20

Male Members of PTA Present Fine Program

Lee Volberding Was in Charge of the Meeting

On Wednesday night the Clarkston P. T. A. observed "Dad's Night" and the male members of the organization took charge of the meeting under the direction of Lee Volberding. There were about 65 present.

The regular business meeting was dispensed with and the chairman decided to have a round table discussion. Volunteers were asked to speak but the men felt rather timid and after a little persuasion Mr. Volberding got nine or ten men to give two and three minute talks. William Edgar gave a short talk on "How to bring up the other father's son", which of course was very amusing and yet very interesting. Robert Waters spoke on "Discipline" and he mentioned several methods that might benefit a good many parents. "Music the harmonizer of life" was the subject that Orlo Willoughby talked on and he tried to persuade the audience that music was one of the best and perhaps the most uplifting hobby for leisure time. Of course just after his talk the group was music minded so Mr. Willoughby conducted a little band practice with a band comprised of Ralph Thayer, violin; Paul Conklin, cornet; Robert Waters, baritone horn; Orlo Willoughby, alto horn, and Lee Volberding at the piano. The several musical numbers were especially good as they were Mr. Willoughby's own arrangements. Following this Mr. Conklin talked on "Photography" as a good hobby for leisure time. Richard Bullen's subject was "Scouting" and he heartily approved boy scout work for every boy. D. M. Winn spoke on "What does a parent expect from the school". Ralph Thayer talked on "Physical Education". John Breakey's subject was "The parent teaching etiquette to the child" and Wade Dean's was "Problem parents". At intervals during the talks the audience called for Dorothy Dix who was supposed to make an appearance with her "Advice to the lover". So after all the men had had their say the door swung open and in came Dorothy Dix, quite excited because the hour was late and she had to hurry to board a train to keep another appointment. Gerald O'Dell made an excellent impersonator and we feel sure that he would have been quite a little help at the Home Extension Club meeting when the lesson was "Suing the dress to the wearer". One of the questions in America today is where shall the style center of America be, in New York or in California. The Clarkston P. T. A. will vouch for the fact that Clarkston's Dorothy Dix should help to decide this great question.

The program went along quite smoothly and following Dorothy's exit a male quartet composed of Ralph Thayer, Paul Conklin, Robert Waters and Orlo Willoughby sang "Sweet Adeline" with variations. The next to the last number on the program was a very amusing Chinese trick conducted by Paul Conklin. One would have to see the trick to appreciate it. However it was good and everyone enjoyed it.

To close a very fine program refreshments were served.

Mrs. Robert Craven Honored at Showers

On Friday evening of last week Mrs. Frank Reese of Sashabaw honored her daughter, Mrs. Robert Craven of Clarkston, at a Pink and Blue shower. There were ten guests.

Mrs. Craven received many lovely gifts and to close the evening dainty refreshments were served.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Percy Craven entertained at a Pink and Blue shower honoring Mrs. Robert Craven. There were twelve guests present. Appropriate games were played and the honored guest was presented with some very beautiful gifts. A lovely luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon.

Clarkston Locals

Mrs. Lee M. Clark spent Wednesday in Auburn Heights with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Owen. In the evening Mr. Clark joined them for dinner at the Owen home.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. King left on Wednesday afternoon to spend their winter vacation in Florida. They expect to be located at West Palm Beach.

Very Large Crowd Attends Funeral Friday

A very large crowd attended the funeral service for Dr. C. J. Sutherland at the Clarkston Methodist Church last Friday afternoon. The church auditorium and the parlors in the basement of the church were crowded. A public address system was installed in order that the people in the lower rooms could hear the service.

There were so many beautiful floral tributes that they almost formed a bank of flowers across the front of the church. Mrs. Charles Matthews of Clarkston presided at the organ. Rev. Edwin Stephens of Stockbridge and Rev. Harold Pailthorp conducted the service, during which Mr. Pailthorp read the poem "Strength Transplanted" written by Clarkston's poet, Robert C. Beattie, in memory of Dr. Sutherland.

There were many attended from out of town. Among them, besides Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Sutherland of Oxford were Charles DeShon of Oxford, Gurdon DeShon and Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeShon of Detroit; Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Hagaman of Armada; Mr. and Mrs. Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Saliard and Mrs. Adell Freeman of Romeo; Mr. and Mrs. Don Walker of Birmingham; besides many friends from Drayton Plains, Waterford and Seymour Lake. Among the doctors who were present were—Dr. Leon Gobb and Dr. Sherman of Pontiac, Dr. Reid of Goodrich, Dr. Bishop of Almont, Dr. Carr of Holly, Dr. Wm. A. Hudson of Detroit and Dr. Yoh of Clarkston.

Rotary Club Receives New Member

William Dunston was duly installed into the Rotary Club of Clarkston on Monday night at the time of the regular meeting. Part of the proceedings consisted in the presentation of the Rotary lapel insignia, the Rotary Badge used for meetings, the Official Welcome, the framed objects of Rotary and the card of identification.

The Club will have a joint meeting with the Oxford Rotary Club on Monday night, leaving Clarkston at 5:45 o'clock from O'Dell's Store.

Clarkston Literary Club Met Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. Lee M. Clark Was the Hostess

On Tuesday afternoon the Clarkston Literary Club met at the home of the president, Mrs. Lee M. Clark. After the meeting was called to order the Club prayer was repeated. Eleven members answered Roll Call with the name of a woman writer.

After the regular business meeting Mrs. Clark gave a book review on "Attorney for the People" by Rupert Hughes. The book review was prepared by Mrs. Francis Walter. A sketch on the life of Rupert Hughes was given by Mrs. John Shaughnessy. A very fine paper on "Music in the Home" was given by Mrs. Jessie McIntyre.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon, January 21, at the home of Mrs. George Slayton on West Washington.

Little Toy Soldiers

Little toy soldiers on the floor, Opposing sides engaged in war. Maneuvered here and strengthened there,

By little hands with utmost care. Little toy soldiers yesterday, You were happy carefree and gay, Laughing, joking, a peaceful sight, Ne'er dreaming then you'd have to fight.

Little toy soldier get your gun, Your master thinks he'll have some fun,

He woke this morning with a whim, That other countries bow to him. Little toy soldier still your voice, For in this fight you have no choice.

Don't ever question wrong or right, Or hunt a reason, you should fight. Little toy soldiers you don't know, What makes the general push you so. Never thought he'd have the will To lead you up to such a kill.

Little toy soldiers, we're like you, Horrible things we're forced to do. When some great force thinks up a whim,

He forces us to fight for him. Robert C. Beattie.

Livestock Practice Judging Now Taking Place

The Seventh Annual Judging Contest will be held in connection with the Farmers' Week Program the week of February 3 to 7 in the new livestock judging pavilion at the Michigan State College.

Teams from Oakland County have won the contest for four years previous to last year when they stood fifth. The work brings a lot of good experience and training in livestock judging. The team to represent Oakland County will consist of the three highest ranking farmers in the County Practice Judging Contest which is now in progress. No active 4-H Club member, high school or college student, farm manager, herdsman, or instructor is eligible to participate.

Assistance in training the judging team for 1941 will be given by some of the members of the former State Champion teams as follows: 1936, O. F. Foster, Sidney Smith and Ward Carey; 1937, Forest Brown, Wayne Carpenter and Frank Williamson; 1938, Albert Kessler, Graham Bodwell and John Lessiter; 1939, Byron Barnett, Stuart Beardsley and Bill Williamson.

Anyone interested in participating in the contest work is invited to join the practice work. Practice judging of sheep and dairy cattle took place on Tuesday at the Lakefield farms, Clarkston, O. F. Foster, Mgr. On Friday, January 17, at 9:30, judging of swine, dairy cattle and beef cattle will take place at the Cesar Farms at Farmington where George Newlin is manager. On Wednesday, January 22, at 9:30 horses and dairy cattle will be judged at the Meadowbrook Farm at Rochester where Arthur Ferguson is manager and on Tuesday, January 23, at 9:30 there will be judging of sheep and beef cattle at the Wildwood Farm, Lake Orion, Sidney Smith, Mgr.

Methodist Men Plan Supper

The Methodist Men are planning to put on a Sausage and Pancake Supper on Thursday night, January 30th. In charge of the supper as general committeemen are Mr. Richard Bullen and Mr. Robert Waters. A fine menu to go with the sausage and pancakes has been planned and the public is cordially invited to partake of the men's culinary preparation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 19.

The Golden Text (Rev. 21:6,7) is: "I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of life freely. He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 36: 7,9): "How excellent is thy loving-kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings. For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.331): "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas."

Rep. Dondero to Continue on Two House Committees

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde P. Holcomb of Sturtevant Ave., Detroit, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy to William B. Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Shaffer of Highland Ave. The wedding plans will be revealed later.

Voters Authorize Financing Plans

Taxpayers of Waterford Township again have given their approval to a plan to construct a new township hall. At a special meeting held Saturday at the Drayton Plains school seventy-one votes were cast, with 62 votes in favor of a plan to finance the building and only 9 votes against, such a plan. The vote authorized use of money on hand plus a bond issue to raise the balance of $20,000 for the building.

Plans now are being made by the township board to let out bids for the construction work. These bids are expected in about three weeks.

Preliminary plans were drafted to build the town hall in approximately the center of the township at the intersection of M-59 and the road running from Crescent Lake to Drayton Plains, or one mile east of the Pontiac Airport and one half mile west of Watkins Lake. The $20,000 building would centralize offices of the township supervisor, clerk and treasurer and would provide a fireproof safe for valuable records.

The board already has purchased the site for the building and at the time of the fall primary had $2,000 in a building fund on which to start construction. The balance of the money was to be raised by a $20,000 bond issue. The bonds would bear interest at a rate not exceeding 6 per cent per annum and would mature within 10 years of the date of issue, it was reported.

Death Claims Mrs. Maude L. Powers

Mrs. Maude L. Powers, aged 60 years, passed away at her home on Orion Road early Saturday morning.

Mrs. Powers was born December 4, 1880, in Attica Township. She graduated from the Almont High School. On February 20, 1901, she married Andrew Powers, who survives. She had made her home in Oakland County for the past twenty years. She was a member of the Cleaners Society.

Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Howard Powers and Floyd Powers of Clarkston; two daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Barrett of Leonard and Mrs. Orrin Wright of Clarkston and five grandchildren.

The funeral service was held at the residence on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with Rev. Frank S. Hemingway officiating. Interment was in Ottawa Park cemetery. The Ogden Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

RADIOTELEPHONE BEATS STOWAWAY OUT OF TRIP

Captain's Call Over New Service in Gulf Puts End to Youth's Adventurous Expedition

One of the first calls made after the new coastal and harbor radio telephone service along the Texas Coast was placed in service revealed the fact that the lot of a stowaway aboard a ship so equipped is not a happy one.

A 16-year-old lad of Pearland, Tex., decided that the time had come to see the world, and stowed away on a yacht which plies between Galveston and New Orleans. The captain of the yacht discovered him and, by use of the radio telephone with which the vessel had just been equipped, he got in touch with the Galveston police, who relayed the message to nearby towns. The city marshal at Alvin, Tex., identified the youth from the captain's description, and when the ship reached New Orleans, he was on hand to take him off.

The radio telephone service which has now been opened along the Texas Gulf Coast is the first in that section of the country. The sending station, known as Station KQP, is located in Galveston. Receivers have been built at three points along the coast, near La Porte, Port Arthur and Corpus Christi. The Bell Telephone System now has 13 coastal radiotelephone stations on this country's shores.

The new service is used mostly by fishing boats, tugs, private yachts, oil tankers and dredges. It is extremely flexible for fishing vessels, enabling them to learn where fishing is best, what market conditions are, etc. Tugs find it useful in saving docking and the time of checking by land telephone on their next job.

Yachtsmen, as well as commercial vessels, find it both convenient and a safety factor to be linked with the telephone network on land at any time they desire.

Deeryard Inspection

Scenes like the above will be common in swamps and winter deer yards of northern counties during coming weeks as conservation officers and men who work with the state's deer herds conduct boy scouts, 4-H club groups and interested adults on inspection trips through areas where deer congregate when weather is severe. Conservation department game men keep close check on the condition of deer herds in these winter yarding places and will conduct some 600 4-H club members on inspection trips that are part of 4-H study programs. In scene above, conservation officer talks about deer that has starved in overbrowsed swamp

CLARKSTON TIES FARMINGTON IN OVERTIME GAME BUT LOSES ON PERCENTAGE

Clarkston's first team lost a very hard fought game last Friday to Farmington. The score was 17-17 at the end of the regular game time. But 3 minutes were given for overtime playoff. At the end of the 3 minutes each team had scored two points, making it 19-19. The game was then over and had to be decided by percentage. There were five points given for the most baskets, each team had seven field goals and five free shots, so that was a tie, four points for least number of personal fouls, and Farmington got that. Three points were given for most free shots made in least attempts, that went to Clarkston. This gave Farmington 4 points, Clarkston 3, so they put the one point difference on Farmington's score and the final score was 20-19. Don Smith led the Clarkston boys in scoring with seven points. The seconds lost 27-17 with Baynes and O'Roark being high point men. The team would like to see larger crowds at the games, so why don't you come up some Friday and give our team some real support.

ASSEMBLY NEWS

A pep meeting was held in the high school auditorium last Friday to raise a little school spirit for the basketball game which was to be played that evening. A short talk on school spirit and good sportsmanship was given by Bill Radoye. Mr. Willoughby, accompanied by Betty Ash, led the high school in the singing of the school song. Our cheer leader, Betty Taylor, led us in a few cheers.

SCHOOL NEWS

The dance which took place Saturday evening at CHS from 9:00-12:00 didn't draw as large crowd as expected. Refreshments were ice cream bars and candy bars. Don Smith's orchestra furnished the best of music. We would be pleased to see a large crowd come on Saturday nights.

MUSIC NEWS

At the 2nd monthly meeting of the Music club, committees were named for preparing the initiation of new members to be "taken" in next semester, and to draw up a trial test to determine the theoretical intelligence of the class.

The test will be given at a music club party to be held on some Tuesday night. This test is to eliminate some of the members and make it more confined.

The same night the club will initiate new members with 2 semesters of music or over in the Clarkston School.

The high school choruses are gaining members, mostly girls, and are looking forward and planning a comic or operatic play for early spring.

SECOND GRADE NEWS

Miss Neff

The second grade pupils are now learning about the birds that we hear all winter. We have a small feeding box by our window, and the children bring bread crumbs and grain to feed the birds. We also have a chart to keep a record of the birds we feed. For our own use we are making a booklet of these winter birds; we have the bird's picture, that we made, and a little about each bird's habit. We are very much interested in the activities of a Little Green Goblin, that we have for story hour each day.

FOURTH AND FIFTH GRADE NEWS

Miss Compton

We are now giving illustrated book reports on books which we have been reading for the last three weeks. They are very interesting.

We have completed our large map of the United States, and as we study each separate group of states, we are going to fill them in and place certain products in their proper places.

A soap carving project, with January as the theme for the figures, was started this week.

Salute the Lemon

By BETTY BARCLAY

The average person in this country eats, drinks and makes other use of 20 lemons a year — and the variety of uses is at least 57!

When you drink hot lemonade for colds or "flu," follow through by going to bed. The early morning drink of lemon, soda and water may be warm or tepid, and is growing in popularity for health maintenance.

Lemons are prescribed for gout, rheumatism, arthritis and to build resistance to infections such as pneumonia and tuberculosis — but they are also first aid to the cook! She cuts lemons lengthwise into quarters for juicy garnishes, makes fancy trims with scissors; she uses them with vegetables, fish, hot or cold tea, in salad dressings and to flavor delicious puddings, cakes and pies.

The secret of that favorite dessert, lemon pie, is fresh lemon juice, added to the filling after it is cooked. From appetizers to desserts, lemons bring out flavor and add zest to a meal. If you would like to know how to make 10 varieties of lemon pie, as well as 100 other lemon recipes and tricks with foods — all done with lemon — write Betty Barclay, P. O. For Homemakers

It is false economy to buy fats in large quantities, unless they can be stored properly, explain members of the Michigan State College home economics extension service.

Covered containers are the first essential for storing fats. Cans, jars, or other containers with tight-fitting covers will keep out the air, moisture and light that turn the fats rancid.

Butter and oleomargarine can never be kept long, no matter how carefully they are stored. But lard, oils and compounds will keep fresh for some time if they are stored in a dry, cold dark place. Some of the hydrogenated fats will keep satisfactorily at room temperature and are easier to use as a shortening if they are not too cold.

Proper storage for fats left over from cooking is just as important as proper storage for commercial fats. Surplus fats can be used a second time if they are not scorched or too strong in flavor. These surplus fats should be strained to remove any particles of food, then stored in a covered container in a cool place.

The thrifty housekeeper makes sure that the butcher gives her all the fat trimmings she pays for with her cut of meat. She may also buy suet or salt pork for pan-frying or seasoning vegetables, because these fats are low in price and high in flavor. To render out these fats, cut them in small pieces and heat in a double boiler. Strain, cover, and store in a cool place. It's a good idea to label each container so that you can tell readily which kind of fat you are using.

HOLLY THEATRE

As their answer to the desire of the public for an opportunity to laugh long and loudly in these times, the Marx Brothers offer their merriest fun-fest, "Go, West," which opens next Sunday at the Holly Theatre for an engagement of two days.

The Kings of Comedy spent nearly a year in developing their new story, which unfolds an uproarious farce, taking place in the Colorado gold country of 1870. It gives the Marxes their first "period picture", with costumes of an earlier era.

The comedy was tested for best laughs through 103 performances of the Marxes and a full cast before theatre audiences, before being played before the cameras. This was done to assure perfection in comedy sequences and dialogue.

Supporting the stars is a stellar cast, including John Carroll, Diana Lewis, Walter Woolf King and Robert Barrat. The production was directed by Edward Buzzell and was produced by Jack Cummings.

The plot is an exciting one about the mad antics of the Marx Brothers in foiling a group of villains and sirens from stealing a valuable deed to land from the hero and heroine. While the plot is well rounded, everything is played for laughs, with many of the most hilarious scenes the Marx Brothers have ever had. In addition there is plenty of music, with a piano solo by Chico, a harp number by Harpo, songs by Carroll, Miss Lewis and Groucho, and a "Can-Can" dance by a dozen lovely chorines.

Though 2,500 patents on devices to replace wooden railroad ties have been granted in the past 50 years, none has been as cheap and as good as the wooden ones.

Telephone Service Shows Increase in 1940

At the first of January, 1941, there were 377 company-owned telephones in service in the Clarkston exchange, representing a gain of 42 during 1940, according to W. B. Fauser, manager in this area for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

The Company as a whole operated 820,062 Company-owned telephones as of January 1, or a gain of 9,577 during December, compared with 6,946 during November. Gain for the entire year of 1940 was 77,907, compared with 61,604 for the year.

DOES FORD PAY GOOD WAGES?

HERE ARE SOME FACTS about Ford Labor. During the year ended November 30th, 1940, the Ford Payroll throughout the United States averaged 113,628 hourly wage earners, not including office employes, students, or executives. They were paid $185,105,639.12. On this basis, the average annual wage was $1,629.05.

According to the latest available government figures, the annual average wage of all workers in employment covered by old age insurance law was $841.00.

If the 45,000,000 workers of this country received the same average wage as Ford employes, they would have had additional wages of more than $35,000,000,000, thus increasing the national income about 50%. Think what such an increase would mean to the workers of this country and to the American farmer, whose prices are based on the national income.

Wage scales in the Ford Rouge plants are divided into three classifications:

- Unskilled . . . Minimum hiring wage . 75c per hour
 - Semi-skilled . . . Minimum hiring wage . 80c per hour
 - Skilled . . . Minimum hiring wage . 90c per hour
- Higher wages are in consideration of ability and years of service.

Minimum wage scales for unskilled labor at the Rouge plant are the highest in the industry. Top wages for skilled labor compare favorably with, or are higher than, wages in other automobile plants.

Now some facts on Ford labor conditions: Not only are sanitation and other health conditions the best in the industry, but Ford also leads in safety devices for the protection of employes. Proof of this is found in the following comparison of compensation insurance costs: The national average rate in automotive manufacturing plants as computed by the National Association of Underwriters is in excess of $1.50 premium on each $100 payroll. The Ford cost of workmen's compensation is less than 50c.

This indicates that the chance of injury in a Ford plant is much less than in the average automobile plant.

The Ford Motor Company has no age limit for labor, and in fact deliberately attempts to keep older workers working. The average age of Ford workers at the Rouge and nearby plants is 38.7.

A recent check-up shows that nearly one-half the workers at these Ford plants were 40 or over, falling into these age groups:

25,819	between 40 and 50
14,731	between 50 and 60
3,377	between 60 and 70
417	between 70 and 80
12	between 80 and 90

In addition to the so-called regular employes, the Ford Motor Company has hired, and now has on the payroll, at the same regular hourly wage, thousands of workers who are blind, crippled or otherwise incapacitated for normal productive work. They are not selected for their ability to build cars or to maintain the plant. They are on the payroll because of Henry Ford's belief that the responsibility of a large company to labor goes beyond the point at which the unfortunate worker can no longer produce profitably.

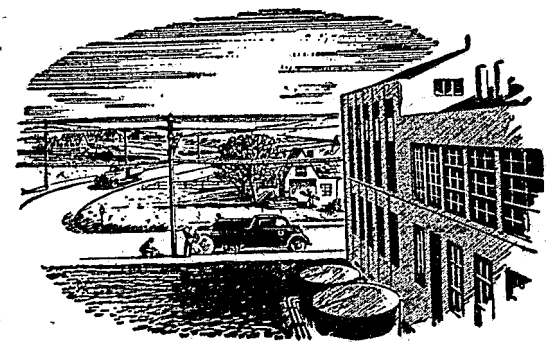

The above are facts. They are open to anyone who really wants to deal in facts. Anyone who wants to get a job . . . buy a car . . . or place a national defense contract on the basis of fair labor treatment must place Ford at the top of his eligible list.

GLIMPSES OF HOLLYWOOD

By HELEN RAETHER

Among top "oomph" girls of the screen is Rita Hayworth, tho' she disclaims all knowledge of "oomph". This nebulous quality was so evident in the picture, "Only Angels Have Wings", in which she played Richard Barthelmess' wife, that the moment Rita appeared on the screen, the masculine gender in the audience sat up and took collective notice, defined by an audible murmur. At the preview, Rita, hearing the male overture, asked her companion, "Are they talking about me?" At the affirmative answer, she scrunched down into her seat and went hot and cold intermittently until the picture was done. She wondered if people would stare. They did and, enjoyed it.

Rita is a dark, slender girl with a beautiful figure. Her clear, olive skin and brilliant dark eyes attest her Spanish heritage. Her real name is Margarita Cansino and she is a member of the third generation in the theatre of this famous Spanish dancing family.

When Rita seemed bound to be typed to fiery Spanish roles in pictures, she took the maiden name, Hayworth, of her English mother, and since then has had a much wider range of roles.

She was dancing in a cafe in Caliente, across the Mexican border, with her father, Edouardo Cansino, several years ago when Fox talent scouts spotted her, signed her immediately and brought her to Hollywood. From the Latinesque roles she advanced to the part of "Leonora" with Joan Crawford in "Susan and God" and to leads in "The Lady in Question" with Brian Aherne, and "Angels Over Broadway" with Douglas Fairbanks Jr., in which she really trouped.

Rita says, "Any girl can have glamour if she works at it. She should study her good points and emphasize them. She can change her hair-line or the shape of her eyebrows and improve her entire face. She can always be immaculate and well-groomed. She can discover what type of clothes looks best on her and what colors do the most for her.

"Further, she should strive for a pleasing voice and use it to show interest in other people. She should avoid over-indulgence in cosmetics, work always towards the goal of simple sincerity. When a girl knows she looks her best, she is automatically poised and self-assured; then the thing is to forget her appearance entirely and to be interested in what goes on around her."

With a contract at Columbia Pictures and a budding career opening so beautifully before her, Rita Hayworth is a walking testimonial for her own advice. She has two dramatic lessons a day when she is not actually at the studio. There are diction lessons; French lessons; she is already proficient in Spanish.

She loves her dancing, which helps give her poise. For relaxation she plays tennis and golf, and walks in the rain. "Yes, I am quite sincere about that," she smiles, "I like to bundle up in a coat with a hood, and old shoes, and go walking around all over the hills." She can do so without going far from the doorstep of her comfortable hillstone house in Westwood.

"I want to do everything in pictures that I get an opportunity to do," she concluded our chat. "That's why I'm working so hard. Yes, comedy and dancing, and dramatic parts. Pictures are very exciting and I want to do the best I possibly can in them."

Rev. and Mrs. George A. Hill were called to Detroit on Friday to attend the funeral of Mr. Sutherland, an uncle by marriage of Mrs. Hill.

A rustic foot bridge across the swiftly-flowing Au Sable river in Ludington state park is used by deer which of necessity swam the icy stream before the bridge was built.

Healthful Breakfast Menus

By BETTY BARCLAY

Importance of vitamins and minerals for individual and family health protection under today's living conditions is emphasized in the government's adoption of a national health defense program. The need for optimum rather than minimum amounts of food essentials to fortify against the stress of modern life, whether civil or military, is fully recognized.

The country abounds with natural foods which, taken collectively, have all vital elements. By choosing wisely, even in winter the housewife on a moderate budget can feed her family for health. As cold weather cuts down the variety of fresh fruits and vegetables, it becomes increasingly important for each child and grownup to eat adequately of the fresh foods available. Americans are indeed fortunate that certain producing areas in this country harvest crops every month in the year, as California with its green vegetables and golden citrus fruits which ripen winter and summer.

An adequate breakfast with two fruits is one form of health insurance. One large glass of fruit juice, preferably fresh orange juice, is the best of all breakfast starts. Fresh orange juice is recognized as the primary source of vitamin C, and also as a supplemental source of vitamins A, B₁ and G, calcium, phosphorus and iron. How could any chemist's art improve on this natural way of acquiring what it takes for normal growth and development — particularly of the bones and teeth — and to keep the general health level above the brach of infection?

Only deep golden orange juice is a good source of vitamin A. The richer the color, the richer the juice, according to men of science. This is one reason why California orange juice can be depended upon to average the highest concentration of protective essentials.

Here are some breakfast suggestions which will help you and your family off for the day, well prepared to withstand the "ravages of winter." The photograph of the breakfast plate shows an egg poached in an orange ring. Remove fruit meat from an orange slice, put circle of peel into boiling water and break egg into the orange ring.

What is "TESTED" LIGHTING?

Just this:

It is lighting that has been MEASURED with the Light Meter, checked as to quality and quantity for easy, comfortable seeing. No charge for this service — call any Detroit Edison office.

Good All Year 'Round

Many of our most popular dishes are seasonal. We enjoy them while a certain fruit or vegetable is on the market, and then we must forget them for awhile.

You may have a recipe for a peach shortcake that is perfection itself. The actual shortcake may have brought you many words of praise from guests. But when important guests arrive, with no peaches obtainable, that particular recipe is of no use.

It's well to have a number of recipes for delicious dishes that may be prepared at any time — good all year 'round dishes. Then you are always ready to place a tested and tried dainty before your guests.

Here's a recipe for a dessert that is just as popular in January as it is in June — with one for a cherry sauce that is also an "all year 'round" possibility.

This healthful rennet-custard dessert calls for no eggs. No boiling or baking is necessary. Excellent for guests of any age, and practically perfect for a children's party.

Grape-Nut Rennet-Custard
2 cups milk (ordinary or homogenized)
1 pkg. vanilla rennet powder
2/3 cup Grape-Nuts
Cherry sauce

Set out 4 or 5 individual dessert glasses. Warm milk slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY WARM, (120° F.) not hot, remove at once from stove. Stir rennet powder into milk briskly until dissolved — not over one minute. Add Grape-Nuts and pour at once, while still liquid, into the dessert glasses. Do not move until firm — about 10 minutes. Chill in refrigerator. Serve with Cherry Sauce and garnish with whipped cream and candied citron, if desired. Serves 4 or 5.

Cherry Sauce
1/4 cup butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup red cherry juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 drops almond extract
1/4 cup sugar

Melt butter, blend in flour, add cherry juice and cook until sauce boils and thickens, stirring constantly. Add lemon juice, sugar and almond extract and chill. Serve on Grape-Nut Rennet-Custard.

Village on Ice

Clusters of fishing shacks on the ice of Michigan's northern lakes increase in size as the season advances, attract thousands of fishermen from far away points. As at Boyne City on Lake Charlevoix, above, many services, including electricity, are supplied fishermen. Winter fishermen, in Michigan, may spear pike, take smelt and bluegills with hook and line.

Most popular of the towers for detection of forest fires in Chippewa and Mackinac counties is the one on Mackinac Island. In 1940 more than 1,000 visitors climbed to the top of it, while 11 other fire towers in the area drew only 500 callers.

Conservation Notes

Study of wild-flowers that are native to Michigan and of fish in the state's inland lakes are new 4-H club extra curricular projects developed by the conservation department's educational division.

Close to a thousand members of Michigan's 600-odd 4-H clubs will engage in the studies for which the department supplies schedules. Field trips stimulate interest of boys and girls in the subjects. The courses developed by the conservation department are the first of the kind prepared for 4-H clubs anywhere in the United States.

A third more tourists from Michigan and out-of-state made use of state forest campgrounds in 1940 than in the year before, the conservation department's forestry division reported today. When the division closed its 1940 books, they bore the names of 20,954 fishermen, hunters and campers who had registered at the unattended camping sites between early spring and late fall. Less than half the campground visitors sign their names and addresses, and some checks have found as few as 28 percent of the campsites users registering.

Besides the 20,954 registered attendance at 50 remote campgrounds in 12 state forests of northern Michigan, another 11,894 signed the registers as six campsites in the new Allegan state forest in southwestern Michigan, added to the state forest chain in 1940. Adding Allegan figures to the others gives a total registration twice that of the previous year.

Furnished only with fireplaces, tables, benches, water and sanitary facilities, state forest campgrounds are preferred by persons who like to

"rough it" far from main traveled highways. Most visitors, the forestry division reports, show themselves good citizens by cleaning up fairly well, when they move on. Visitors registered from 36 states, Alaska, Canada and Mexico.

Coming Events

Jan. 20th—Monday night—the O. E. S. will have a school of instruction starting at 8:00 o'clock.

Jan. 21st—Tuesday evening the Clarkston Junior Literary Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Quinn in Clarkston.

Jan. 22nd—Wednesday, the Royal Neighbor Sewing Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. William Beltz.

County 4-H Leaders To Hold Meeting

There will be a county-wide 4-H leader-training meeting at the Birmingham Community House on January 21. The meeting will start at 10 a. m. for those leaders who wish to make up illustrative material to take back to their club members.

At 1:30 p. m. the regular Leaders' Conference will be held. Miss Lola Belle Green, Assistant State Club Leader, Michigan State College, will be present to assist Mr. Lola T. Dudgeon, County Home Extension Agent, who supervises the girls' 4-H club activities in this county.

Leaders are urged to attend this meeting as there are matters concerning the Achievement Day program that need to be discussed.

NEW BORN BABE'S CRIES ARE PHONED TO GRANDPARENTS

Perhaps a new record for the youngest person to use the telephone was established the other day at Freeport, N. Y. when an infant born at 12:27 A. M. reported his arrival to his grandparents in Morristown, N. J. at 3 A. M. and "in no uncertain terms," according to the grandmother.

Enrollment of 3,500 Michigan youths 17 to 23 years of age to bring to full strength the force that mans the state's 45 CCC camps begins this week. Young men enroll for six months, may spend as much as two years in the camps where training in some 30 trades is furnished.

Reforestation of 425,000 acres since 1933 in Michigan has been the biggest CCC reforestation job in the nation. Nearly one-fourth of the 80 million dollars spent in CCC activity in the state has gone back to parents in allotments from enrollees' pay.

Bayous, such as those at the mouths of the Kalamazoo and Grand rivers, are treated in Michigan fishing regulations not as parts of rivers but as inland lakes, and as such are closed to fishing from April 1 to June 25, and are closed to spearing in the spring.
