Miss Evelyn Jencks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jencks of Ortonville, spoke her nuptial vows to Clarence Appleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Appleton of Drayton Plains, Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the Clarkston Baptist Church with Rev. Walter C. Ballagh officiating before an altar decorated with ferns and vases of pink and white stock.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white taffeta, made on princess lines, fashioned with long puffed sleeves and floor length skirt. She wore a fingertip length veil, and carried a bouquet of pink and white with satin ribbon streamers.

Miss Alice Appleton, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride as maid-of-honor; and Miss Helen Tucker of Ortonville acted as bridesmaid. Their gowns were floor length, made of embroidered net, peach color and trimmed in blue. They each carried bouquets of pink and white flowers.

Help Is Asked for Crippled Children

Easter week in Oakland County affords the opportunity for all of us to help our less fortunate crippled children.

The Oakland County Crippled Childrens Association plans to seek your help and contributions in the Week of April 6th to 13th.

Many of our leading professional and business men in the past several years have devoted both time and professional assistance to Oakland Counties Crippled Children. Every community in Oakland County has at least one or more crippled children who are receiving hospitalization and home treatment through this Organization.

While we expect co-operation from the New State Administration and the New Legislature there is a shortage which must be carried for the balance of 1941 by the folks of Oakland County who "Have A Heart!"

The work of locating, examining, and placing the case of each individual crippled child in Oakland County is taken care of by the Oakland County Crippled Childrens Association. The money collected at Easter Time helps to defray the expenses of doing this work.

You can buy these seals from members of the Clarkston Rotary Club.

Tax Rate for 1941

The township tax rate has been broken down by the Township clerk in the following manner: Township .001; Infirmity rate .0005; fire protection .0008.

If You Drink Don't Drive

If you would like to stay alive Don't try to drink and also drive, Don't stand too long beside the bar And try to drive a motor car.

You wouldn't drink then take a gun And go out shooting just for fun, At strangers, friends, and neighbors too

You wouldn't do this, now would you?

I'm sure you'd feel most awful bad To see a family wrecked and sad, Because you didn't stop to think How people act with too much drink.

Motherless children mourn for years, And many fathers have shed tears, Because some driver didn't know There is a limit man can go.

Yet on himself he can depend To not endanger his best friend, And be a menace on the roads To smash up cars and precious loads.

Now I am quite inclined to drink, That there is virtue in a drink, But please don't carry it so far, That you'd get drunk and drive a car.

Clarkston Woman Visits the Bahamas

Mrs. David C. Newlands usually takes an extended trip every winter and last Saturday "The News" received a very interesting letter which we pass on to our many readers:

"March 23, '41"

"Have been on a cruise and am spending a while at the beautiful hotel 'The British Colonial Hotel' in Nassau, the capital of the Bahamas. "Nassau is picturesque and beautiful and is situated on New Providence Island. It enjoys a perfect climate in a tropical setting of fragrance and beauty. Nassau is the center of the social and sport life of these delightful islands.

"New Providence Island is twenty-one miles long and seven miles wide with an inhabitation of 16,000.

"Paradise Beach located on an island near Nassau is world famous.

"The climate of the Bahamas is unusually equable; the average daytime temperature during the winter months is around 72 degrees. Frosts are unknown here. Cold north winds are warmed by the Gulf Stream before reaching the islands.

"The waters around Nassau abound in fish. There are golf courses and race tracks. The shops are well stocked with English tweeds, linens and dishes.

"At the public markets you see the natives making such products as straw hats for women and men and fancy ornaments and jewelry from dyed fish scales and shells.

"This morning I attended church services at the large cathedral, 'Church of Christ'. It was filled to overflowing as today had been set aside as 'National Day of Prayer' by desire of His Majesty, the King of England.

"After we were seated numerous soldiers in uniform marched in, then guards in red and white uniforms, and Red Cross nurses and then the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. He wore a white dress uniform and she was a picture in a sky blue dress and hat.

"After the service they stood in front of the church for at least 15 minutes while soldiers, officers, etc. passed in review. I stood very close to them and it was indeed an interesting experience.

"The sea is calm and blue today."

Yours Truly,
Mrs. David L. Newlands.

Georgia Azaleas Bloom in Clarkston

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Ainsley received a letter from the Lee McFarlands in Savannah, Ga., saying they were mailing a package to them and it should arrive in a day or so. They explained that it was an experiment and they hoped the results would be favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Ainsley were very anxious to receive the mystery box and last Saturday morning it arrived. The package was carefully unwrapped and when the last wrapper was taken off and the inside box was opened these to their surprise and delight was beautiful pink azalea planted in rich Georgia soil.

As the Ainsleys, especially Mrs. Ainsley, love flowers, this gesture of Mr. and Mrs. McFarland was greatly appreciated.

The grand march was led by Roy Spencer, Class President, and his guest Miss Norma Eichenberg of Big Rapids.

A goodly number of Alumni and other townspeople were present. Also several out-of-town people. Altogether there were eighty couples present.

Refreshments served by mothers of Seniors consisted of punch and cup cakes, iced and lettered "1941".

The girls made the party gay with their colorful and attractive formal which were both feminine and girlish; and the Seniors of 1941 feel theirs was one of the nicest parties ever had at school.

Soil Experts Condemn Burning Practice

Technicians of the Fenton Soil Conservation District state that during the spring season some farmers resort to burning fence rows, field borders, and marshland with the idea of destroying insect and weed pests and improving the appearance of their property.

Quite often the fire is allowed to get out of control and will burn over other cropland and woodland. The effect of fire on good timber is disastrous and causes large financial loss to the landowners.

Burning vegetation as an insect and weed control measure is practically obsolete. The U. S. Bureau of Entomology and most State-Experiment Stations no longer recommend the practice. The reason is apparent when one considers the fact that most insects which hibernat in leaves and grass and which we burn up with our fires either don't do us any harm

Vitamins Called Out For Health Defense

By BETTY BARCLAY

Draftee number 1 on the nation's food defense program is Mr. Vitamin. The daily glass of orange juice and the daily salad take on new importance in the light of our nation's need for better food for better national health.

Draft boards are finding young men unfit for service, often as a result of malnutrition. The nation's attention is centering again on this condition which came to light with the first World War.

It's up to the women in the home to help here, for they buy the food and plan the meals. The rule to follow is—be sure your food is giving you and your family an adequate supply of the elements needed, especially those vitamins which are not stored by the body but must be eaten every day.

One of these vitamins—vitamin B—is being added under government supervision to breads and other cereal products. Vitamin B is found naturally in certain other foods, such as oranges, yeast and peanut butter.

Vitamin C is another vitamin that the body does not store. Most important every day sources of this vitamin are the citrus fruits—oranges and lemons. These fruits are fortunately available every day in the year, for growers in California have discovered that the near-tropical climate of that state permits the growing and harvesting of these fruits all year 'round.

In the winter and early spring months, the Washington Navel orange comes to market. It is seedless and has a firm meat, easy to slice and section. In the summer there is the juicy Valencia.

A large glass of orange juice served for breakfast furnishes one day's vitamin C defense. A salad is another delicious way of serving this fruit. Here are several salad recipes including a description of the one pictured.

Orange Prune Cheese Salad Fill center of salad plate with a generous serving of orange slices. For these peel a large orange and cut in 1/4 inch slices. Circle plate with 5 or 6 cooked prunes, stuffed with cottage cheese, and laid on leaves of crisp romaine or lettuce.

The prunes may be stuffed with peanut butter; or dates stuffed with cream cheese may be substituted for the prunes.

Serve with Lemon French Dressing made by blending: 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup salad oil, 1 tablespoon honey or sugar, 1/4 teaspoon each salt and paprika.

With bread and butter and a beverage, such as milk, you have a complete luncheon or supper meal, packed with protective vitamins.

Orange Salad Combinations Other popular orange salad combinations are:

Orange and Strawberries Arrange a circle of orange slices on lettuce. Top each slice with a strawberry. Cherries or other berries may replace strawberries.

Orange Watercress Arrange orange slices on bed of watercress. Top with sliced stuffed olives.

or are actually beneficial. It drives away insectivorous birds. By destroying or driving away the natural enemies of insect pests, burning may and probably does give them a better chance to survive and become pests.

Weed control by burning is equally ineffective. Most weed seeds have matured and are well distributed long before the plants are dry enough to burn. Burning will not destroy the roots of weeds nor brush. To cut weeds before they mature seed is a much more effective control method and provides for a neater appearance.

Not the least of the losses attributed to fires is the shortened life of fence lines. Even a grass fire is sufficiently hot to melt the zinc protection put on fence wires and metal posts to prevent rapid rusting.

Burning field borders destroys the most permanent home for farm wildlife, other than woodlots, we have in the community. On an acre basis borders support insectivorous bird populations from 7 to 23 times as great as a similar acreage of meadow land.

Farm wildlife is the crop most easily raised in these narrow borders. It can be best managed by providing permanent vegetation which does not invite burning or cutting in spring, early summer, or winter when cover is most needed. A neat border of low growing shrubs is good for desirable farm wildlife such as birds, quail, and pheasants. If fruit or nut producing varieties are used they add an additional source of food for the family table.

Management of these "frequently burned areas" to make them neater, to reduce their hazard as sources of pest development and as homes for wildlife helps materially to balance the budget between the farmer and the land he lives with.

Be as careful of the books you read, as of the company you keep; for your habits and character will be as much influenced by the former as by the latter.—Paxton Hood.

Michigan shares with New York state the national leadership in canning and bottling apple juice, according to a survey recently in a conference at Michigan State College. One of the speakers, Dr. H. H. Mottern of Philadelphia, described by-product usage and notes that pectin made from dried apple pomace apparently has found a new use in lubricating drills boring new oil wells. He also described possibilities of obtaining wax from apple peelings.

Smelt go up the streams to spawn in late March and April. With waders and hand-nets, the crowd waits for the night run of fish to begin.

Each spring local girls are chosen to reign as "Queens" of the various Smelt Festivals which take place during April.

Tons of smelt are frozen in huge slabs and stored for use as feed on mink and fox farms in Michigan and neighboring states.

LITTLE FISH MAKE A BIG MICHIGAN INDUSTRY

SMELT are running! Around Escanaba and Menominee, Beulah, Boyne City and other smelt centers, that means busy days and busy nights. Thousands of people join in the activity, netting tons of fish every night.

The annual catch of smelt in Michigan is over 9,000,000 pounds and growing every year. In the Escanaba area alone, it's a $50,000 industry.

Like all fish, smelt are highly perishable, and handling the catch requires lightning communication between packer, shipper and city market. In locating the places where smelt are in demand, speeding up shipments, routing fast orders, modern telephone service helps get the succulent little fish from river to frying-pan in the shortest possible time.

Flint Citadel Band At Hartland Area

Sunday, April 6th will see the Flint Citadel band in its fourth year as the final number, on the Hartland Area Vesper Concert Series.

The Band was organized 38 years ago to help in the religious services of the local corp, also for doing street meetings and was the means of attracting people to the meeting where they were told the simple story of the Man of Galilee.

In 1914 the band went to England to take part in a World Wide Congress in London. The men are not allowed to use tobacco or alcohol and must maintain a personal character at all times.

The music played by the band is of the religious type. Many of the best selections being built around hymn tunes, not only entertaining but blessing the soul, making one think of better things in life.

Bernard Smith is conductor of this fine organization and is a musician of the highest order. A fine cornet soloist in his own right he brings to the band a wealth of information which is largely responsible for the unusually fine tone quality of the group. The program will begin promptly at 8:30 p. m. Come early for a seat as the Music Hall is always full for this concert.

To the Voters:

In recommending Mr. William Belitz for Supervisor we are taking into consideration the qualities that make a good executive. First—he is a lifelong resident of this Township and knows just what this Township needs. Second—he has been a taxpayer who has paid taxes ever since he became of age, by actual labor in getting his livelihood from the soil. He knows what it means to earn a dollar and what a dollar is really worth. This makes him an excellent judge of values.

Mr. Belitz has been a good neighbor in its truest meaning. He has had experience in Township offices and his work was handled in a business-like manner at all times. He at no time took credit for himself but gave full credit to the Board as a whole. He never made promises he could not keep but handled the affairs of his office in fairness to all. It was largely through his efforts and influence that the black top was built from Clarkston to Andersonville Road.

In full this man merits your support.

Vote for William Belitz
and you will have an Efficient, Qualified, Honest

JUNIOR PLAY NEWS

The Junior Class of Clarkston High School is busily preparing itself to present a 3 act farce comedy entitled "It's Great to Be Crazy" on Friday evening, April 18th. Can you imagine anything more ludicrous than a real honest-to-goodness Count (Don Appleton) attempting to imitate a crowing rooster? Or a silly, romantic widow (Virginia Tondou) being made love to by a smart young dandy (Bob Bennett) who is interested in her—financially speaking? Or a hard-boiled sheriff (Bruce Thompson) trying to understand the rudiments of playing golf from a golf-friend (Dan Williams). Or a handsome, young American who can't seem to speak without uttering a wise crack? (Stewart Baynes). Or, funniest of all, a serious-minded actor (Stanwood Radoye) who is concerned with memorizing the lines of a part he has been assigned in a play, said lines consisting of the one word "yes", which he rehearses monotonously and tirelessly for minutes on end? Can you imagine anything more tragic than a mother (Honor Stickney) who wants to marry her only daughter (Betty Ash) to a title and will sacrifice all to do so? Or a daughter who loves another and is heartbroken because she must marry the title? Or a pretty newspaper reporter (Virginia Brockman) who is destined to lose her job unless she receives a certain exclusive interview. Or a likeable young bellboy (Claude Koope) who is madly devoted to a pretty housemaid (Betty Beach) but is refused by her because of his inadequate salary? Or a tyrannical hotel proprietress (Mildred Remback) who won't give him the raise he needs? Do you like excitement, romance, drama, comedy, happy endings? Are you interested in seeing a play that is a side-splitting sensation, possessing not a dull moment. If so, you will save Friday evening, April 18th, for fun with the Juniors!

Mr. Willoughby:
There is a Festival being held in Lansing on April 18th and 19th. Two students of Clarkston High School will participate in it, Dick Shaughnessy and Stan Perrin. Each will play a solo and be criticized by experts. They will have a chance to hear soloists from all over Michigan.

The Music Club met last week and arrangements were made for a party in May. Projects for the club to carry out were discussed.

FEATURES

We see Jack Skarritt's back in school. Could Anna May have anything to do with it?

Miss Cohen is getting headaches over her junior play. "Ready and she says that Armoure (Stan Radoye) has given her most of them.

Our dear friend and fellow student Don Smith has finally come back to dear old C. H. S. after several weeks absence.

It seems as though some of the freshmen have got spring fever already, for certain gals and certain boys have been seeing quite a bit of each other!!

Well Cheryl you can get rid of that sad look now because Donald is back in school and from his actions Friday night he is quite well. Some jitter-bugging for a beginner!!!

Why does Louise Shaughnessy like to walk past the Ford Garage? Could it be the red head???

Must be the Prom was quite a success. Everyone's still talking about it. That orchestra really got red hot.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

Between Music and the Junior play Mr. Thayer is worrying if he will have enough players to start the first game.

MR. THAYER'S NEWS

Mr. Thayer, coach for the Clarkston High School baseball team, has quite a job to get the players in shape in this nasty weather. Clarkston plays its first game at Walled Lake this season on April 18, 1941.

MISS COMPTON'S ROOM

Franklin Devaney was the winner of the 5th grade spelling bee and Fredric Mortimore was runner-up.

For the remainder of the semester, our room has been divided into teams for a spelling contest. The losing side will entertain the winning team at the end of the year.

The 4th graders have just completed their unit with painted pictures, The Netherlands, and they are about to begin another one on Switzerland.

The 4th graders also have enjoyed reading aloud their favorite stories from the new supplementary readers, "The Child Library Reader".

HOLLY THEATRE

A filmful of fun fresh from Hollywood will make its local debut Sunday at the Holly Theatre where Warner Bros.' sparkling comedy, "Honeymoon For Three" starts its run. The story tells of one of those long forgotten college romances that pops up at the most inopportune time. Just when Ann Sheridan, in the role of a famous author's secretary, has convinced her employer, an energetic writer played by George Brent, who likes his women as much as his typewriter (maybe more so), that he ought to marry her, along comes a very pretty young matron, played by Osa Massen, who claims him as the only man suited for her despite the fact that she already has a husband. He is an easy-going sort of fellow, very aptly portrayed by Charles Ruggles.

"Honeymoon For Three" has all the qualities necessary for a hit comedy; sprightly dialogue, ticklish situations and performers who are completely at home in their roles as comedians. Brent is determined to straighten things out between his college sweetheart and his practical secretary but the more he tries the worse it becomes. When he assembles everyone at a cozy roadside restaurant for a final showdown, it results in one of the most hilarious scenes in this year's crop of comedies.

William Orr plays the part of a very determined young lawyer, who is more serious than capable in his efforts to get Ruggles as his client. He is encouraged in this futile act by perky little Jane Wyman. Lee Patrick supplies plenty of laughs as a mother who insists on honoring Brent with the dubious pleasure of christening her child.

"Honeymoon For Three" was directed by one of Warner's top notch directors, Lloyd Bacon. The screen play was written by Earl Balwin, Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein are responsible for some of the film's effervescent dialogue. The story was adapted from a play by Allan Scott and George Haight.

GOOD GOLD LIES IN HERB GARDENS

Grandmother's old-time garden of herbs and spices can be converted into a miniature gold mine if a study of markets and culture is applied.

Take a look at the prices of herbs and drugs which have ballooned as much as 2000 per cent and then remember that many of these can be grown in Michigan's soil and climate suggest C. E. Wildon, floriculturist at Michigan State College.

Sage provides a good illustration. The herb is used for flavoring and in the dressing of poultry. Professor Wildon points to the imports of as much as two million pounds annually once obtained from Europe at five cents a pound. Now there is a scarcity and the price ranges from 70 cents a pound up to twice that much.

More and more farmers are inquiring about sage culture, according to Wildon. The college horticulture department has prepared information on growing sage and several other common herbs. The college gardens have produced samples, proving ease of culture.

Other flavoring seeds in demand include coriander for pickles, anise, caraway and poppy. Imports have stopped, but Michigan climate again says this state can grow its own.

Some of the other herbs also scarce include mustard, horseradish, wormwood, catnip, hennbane, and dill, common names of products found in

A Swig of Spring Sweetness

Before it is boiled down to the legal density of 11 pounds to the gallon, maple sap is only faintly sweet, may taste disappointingly flat. Ready for the market, the Michigan crop of maple syrup and sugar is worth well over $200,000 annually to farmers who collect and condense this native sweet by much the same methods Indians used centuries ago. Cold weather late in March has extended the current "sugaring off" season in many Michigan "sugar bushes."

medicine chests a quarter century ago.

Other fields in which Michigan already is profiting because of war conditions include the production of vegetable and flower seeds and bulbs. More and more farmers are inquiring of the college and seed contracting companies about growing seeds of onions, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, spinach and radishes.

White flour and white bread are coming to the market now in a new "enriched" form—that is, with a higher mineral and vitamin content than ordinary white flour or bread.

Nutritionally, the "enriched" flour differs from plain white flour in its content of thiamin chloride (vitamin B1), nicotinic acid (pellagra-preventive factor), and iron. To be labeled "enriched," the flour has to come up to certain minimum standards for these three important food values. It may also have greater amounts of calcium and riboflavin in it than does plain white flour.

ELECTION APRIL 7

Your Support Will Be Appreciated

Voters of Independence Township:

You Deserve and Are Entitled to a

JUSTICE COURT

• You should be able to try your cases at home.

• YOUR Township, where YOU pay taxes, has no ACTIVE Justice Court. You will be forced to have your cases heard by a Justice in an adjoining township. This is very inconvenient, and a waste of time and money.

GO TO THE POLLS APRIL 7TH AND VOTE FOR AN ACTIVE JUSTICE COURT.

ELECT JOHN A. MORLEY, WHO HAS CONDUCTED SUCH A COURT FOR NINE YEARS.

Don't Neglect to Vote Next Monday

You may be busy and think it unimportant to come to the polls, but it is about the most important thing you can do and it will take little of your time.

With two tickets in Clarkston this spring, more interest should be created than has been the case lately when there was but one, and there undoubtedly will be. The fact that there is also a State election will also result in a larger vote, as there is a hot contest on for some of the offices to be filled.

There are also two amendments to be voted upon, and if you haven't become confused by reading the conflicting claims regarding them you will want to put a cross some place on this ballot.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many thoughtful deeds at the time of our accident and for the comforting words and floral tributes when we lost our dear wife and mother.

Clayton Slieff and family.
