LAND USE PLANS TO BE DISCUSSED

At County Meeting to Be Held in Pontiac on May 15

With the appointment recently of a County Land Use Planning Committee and the intentions to appoint township committees of people interested in land use, the program instituted by the Federal Department of Agriculture and sponsored by the local committees is officially getting under way in Oakland County.

At a meeting held Friday in the Extension Office in Pontiac, Fred J. Beckman was selected to act as chairman of the county committee and Karl D. Bailey, County Agricultural Agent, will act as executive secretary.

To acquaint people throughout the county with land use planning, the County Land Use Planning Committee is co-operating with the Oakland Citizens League in sponsoring a county wide meeting for 8:00 p. m. Thursday, May 15, in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building in Pontiac. The meeting will be addressed by Mr. E. C. Sackrider, Michigan State College, who shows pictures on conservation and erosion. Two other speakers are to be Herbert Berg, State leader in Land Use Planning, and Dr. Louis A. Wolfanger, Associate Land Use Planning Leader.

Just what land use planning is and what its goals are and how it is established is explained as follows:

In each township there will be a land use planning committee composed of the supervisor, one or more members of the Agricultural Conservation Committee, farmers, land owners and people interested in recreation. The committee makes an analysis of the land with respect to its present use, recreational possibilities, erosion surveys and much other valuable information that has a direct bearing on rural problems. Local committees express conclusions and make recommendations for such changes in land use planning as they determine should be carried out.

The various agencies of both Federal, State and County government which work with Agriculture have set up a land use Personnel and Equipment for the purpose of aiding the township committee and state land use planning committees in working out problems affecting agriculture.

It is expected that the program will get under way in Oakland County during the present year.

My Mother

Who, told the world of baby's worth
The same day of the baby's birth,
Most optimistic soul on earth
'Twas Mother.

Who, sewed those clothes, with stitches fine
And washed and hung them on the line
And never once begrudged her time?
'Twas Mother.

Who, baked for hungry girls and boys
And bare the torture of the noise,
Of whistles, drums and other toys?
'Twas Mother.

Who, taught us kids the golden rule
And kept us fit to go to school
Determined she'd not raise a fool?
'Twas Mother.

Who, took our parts when we were bad
And pleaded hard with angry dad,
With all the power that she had?
'Twas Mother.

Who, stayed awake the whole night
thru
When we came home at half past two,
And prayed no wrong her boy would do?
'Twas Mother.

Who, settled all our petty fights
Insisting each one had his rights,
And on our troubles cast new lights
'Twas Mother.

Who, held my baby on her knee
And said that it was plain to see,
That baby, sure did look like me?
'Twas Mother.

Parents of the new oat are Victory and Markton. Neither has a heavy test weight but each bears marked resistance to smut. The new oat retains this resistance with a surprising extra dividend. That is its attractive test weight, averaging more than 4 pounds a bushel in 1940 over other oat varieties grown for certification. The original plant breeding cross was obtained with scores of others from the United States Department of Agriculture.

NEW OAT VARIETY INCREASES YIELD

Is Smut Resistant and Promises Extra Dividends

At least 30,000 acres of farmlands principally in Michigan, will be planted this spring to the Huron oat, smut resistant variety with an exceptionally superior test weight obtained through years of breeding and selection at Michigan State College and announced as recently as 1937.

Figures of its increase are startling. A peck of the oats in 1937 produced on the test plot a yield of 8 bushels, planted on college land in 1938 for a production of 130 bushels. This was then released for increase in 1939 by selected growers out in the state. They multiplied the 130 bushels into 2,950. In 1940 an estimated 60,000 bushels were produced and were available this spring for planting. Growers had 739 acres inspected and 48,000 bushels certified. Another 500 acres likely were grown but not inspected. The yield of 60,000 bushels is sufficient to plant about 30,000 acres.

Parents of the new oat are Victory and Markton. Neither has a heavy test weight but each bears marked resistance to smut. The new oat retains this resistance with a surprising extra dividend. That is its attractive test weight, averaging more than 4 pounds a bushel in 1940 over other oat varieties grown for certification. The original plant breeding cross was obtained with scores of others from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Huron county is "mothering" the new Huron oat. One grain elevator company alone is reported to have obtained 12,000 bushels and distributed that amount of seed in 1941 to its patrons. Another elevator company is reported to have handled 4,000 bushels.

A novel type of handling seed has been announced in the Thumb area. Grain elevators offered seed oats in return for a promised three for two or two for one after threshing.

Boy Scout Council Has Annual Campaign

Gerald O'Dell is chairman of the annual campaign for this community's share of the expenses of Clinton Valley Council Boy Scouts of America. All of the smaller communities outside of the cities have such a campaign.

The Council in turn supplies our Troop with badges, records, supervision and administers the Scout Camp as well as carrying on all the necessary supervisory work of the Scout organization.

T. F. Boothby is chairman of the Clarkston Troop and reports considerable advancement by individual members this year and much interest on the part of the younger boys who will be eligible to join next year.

A. C. Waters is assistant Scout Master and Lee Volberding is Scout Master.

Achievement Day Well Attended

Ten ladies from the local Home Extension Club attended the Annual County Achievement Day, held at the Central Methodist Church in Pontiac on April 30. There was a luncheon at the church at 12:30, with a choice Glad bulb at each place as a favor.

The program of the afternoon was much enjoyed, especially the splendid talk by Mrs. Bertha Hess, whose topic was "How do we rate as parents?"

HOLLY THEATRE

Totally unrestrained laughter is still ringing in the ears of this reviewer as he attempts to tell you about Paramount's rollicking farce, "The Lady Eve", starring Barbara Stanwyck and Henry Fonda, which will be seen Sunday night at the Holly Theatre.

It was written and directed by Preston Sturges whose striking wit and genius brought you "The Great McGinty" and "Christmas in July" and if you thought those two farces were funny, all we can say is, "You ain't seen nothin' yet" until you've seen "The Lady Eve".

Fonda, the scion of a very wealthy family, is returning from a snake-hunting expedition in the South American jungles when he meets Miss Stanwyck, beautiful foil for a group of shipboard cardsharps.

Because of his wealth, Fonda is the target of all the fond mamas aboard who are chaperoning their marriageable daughters on the Southern cruise. The ingenious tricks and maneuvers that the debbies resort to in order to wangle an introduction to the heir of "Pike's Pale—the Ale that Won for Yale," starts are ball rolling in the most hilarious series of funny situations that the screen has shown in many, many moons.

Barbara is the one who snares the unsuspecting "Hank". She had intended merely to lure the unsophisticated snake scientist into the hands of her father's cardsharp gang for a thorough "cleaning". The last notion in her lovely head, at this time, was that she would ever fall in love with him.

However, she does. Naive "Hank" immediately proposes and is accepted. Meanwhile William Demarest, cast as Fonda's valet and bodyguard, finds out about Barbara and her father (Charles Coburn) and with the aid of the ship's purser, and a set of police photographs, convinces "Hank" that he is being duped.

The fury of a woman scorned determines Barbara to get even. What she does to get even with Fonda for throwing her over is a lesson in tactics to all women. Intermingled in this campaign of Barbara's is some of the fastest and funniest dialogue in years.

To tell more of the story would rob you of some delightful surprises. It is enough to say that "The Lady Eve" is not only the best of the Preston Sturges film hits this clever writer and director has given us in a year, but an absolute "must" on your movie calendar.

A fire that completely burned the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Roselle in Drayton Woods last Friday afternoon was discovered by Mrs. Roselle and apparently had started in the attic from where the flames and smoke were escaping when first noticed. The neighbors who first noticed the house on fire helped to remove the furniture from the down stairs and all but one room up stairs. The home was valued at about $8,000 and the owners carried partial insurance. The Pontiac Fire Department was called, but declined to go outside the city limits as the city commission some time ago decreed that the Pontiac department could not respond to calls in Waterford township as the township had failed to furnish satisfactory insurance bond to cover city equipment when in use in that area.

A Lazy-Weather Luxury

When the lawns are green, the early flowers in bloom and the birds are trilling their spring and summer songs — that's "spring fever" or "lazy" weather. We love to bask in the sun, fool around with our flower beds, take the children for a walk, but oh, how we hate to prepare heavy meals or do anything that seems entirely too arduous for such delightful weather.

To those who understand what I mean by "lazy weather" and yet know they must prepare healthful delicacies for dessert-loving males, I present the following recipe. No boiling or baking is necessary. You do not even need eggs. The dessert may be prepared in the coolness of the morning and placed in the refrigerator. Enjoy your "lazy" spring day as you wish, knowing that when dinner time arrives, or a midnight lunch for company is in order, you have something out of the ordinary to place before family or guests.

Almond Rennet-Custard Ice Cream Swans
Cream puff paste
1 rennet tablet
1 cup milk (ordinary or homogenized)
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup finely cut toasted almonds
1 cup whipping cream
Drop cream puff past (made according to any good standard recipe) by heaping teaspoons onto buttered baking sheet. For the swan necks, pipe S-shaped pieces about 3 1/2 inches long through a pastry tube with large rose tip, onto a buttered baking sheet. Small pointed tails may also be baked separately. Bake in a quick oven (350°-475° F.) until puffed to about double the original size; then reduce heat to 300° F. and bake 20 minutes longer, or until golden brown and crisp. Cool thoroughly.

Crush and dissolve the rennet tablet in cold water in a cup. To milk add sugar and vanilla and warm slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY WARM, (120° F.) not hot, remove at once from heat. Add dissolved rennet tablet and stir quickly for a few seconds only. Pour at once, while still liquid, into freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator. Let set at room temperature until firm and cool — about 10 minutes. Chill in refrigerator for half an hour. Mix the toasted almonds and the cream which has been whipped until stiff. Return to freezing compartment and freeze until hard.

Just before serving, cut off about 1/2 inch from tops of cream puffs and cut holes to insert swans' neck and tail. Fill cream puffs with ice cream. Cut cream puff top in two parts and press into ice cream on each side for wings. Serve immediately. Serves 8 to 10.

THE FINE CAR WITH THE LOW PRICE

WE'VE OFTEN SAID that Pontiac owners are our best salesmen. Records show that literally thousands of Pontiac sales result from the enthusiastic recommendations of this loyal family of owners. They're proud of their Pontiacs, and quick to tell their friends the good news. These people know from experience that Pontiac is the fine car with the low price. Far from being an expensive car, it is actually priced just a few dollars above the lowest priced three. They know it costs no more to own and operate a Pontiac than their former cars. In fact, fewer repair bills, combined with longer life, assure the minimum driving costs.

Finally, our owners have found that in the long run they actually pay no more for a Pontiac — they simply invest a little more at the time of purchase. For Pontiac's long life and famous dependability bring back those few extra dollars in higher value at trade-in time! Is it any wonder, then, that Pontiac owners are our best salesmen? That's why we urge you to see your nearest Pontiac owner — and then you'll want to see your nearest Pontiac dealer! *PONTIAC PRICES BEGIN AT $828 FOR THE DE LUXE "TORPEDO" SIX BUSINESS COUPE. Bill O'Roark
Stanley Perrin
Dick Shaughnessy

"In some cases persons who suffer from what they think are spring colds actually are affected by pollen from trees," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "Tree
pollen causes less hay fever than pollen from weeds or grasses, but oak, poplar and maple trees are among those that cause a considerable amount of spring hay fever."
Immunity to pollens that cause hay fever can often be built up by injections given just under the skin by a physician. The doses are usually gradually increased, and most doctors like to start them two or three months before the protection is needed. For those whose hay fever is due to ragweed pollen, the most common cause, immunity injections should begin now, since the ragweed season starts in August.

Men and Motors—The New Army on Wheels

Uncle Sam's motorized force—the new army on wheels—is symbolized by the "dawn patrol" of Chevrolet 4 x 4 army trucks shown across the bottom of the photo. The Chevrolet four-wheel-drive army truck, above, carries a complete telephone switchboard. Within a few minutes after the Fourth Division's motorized units completed a 235-mile trek from Fort Benning, Ga., on a practice movement, Major-General Lloyd E. Fredendall could communicate with every part of the vast encampment. The Fourth, moving in three columns, each 45 miles long, made the trip in 10 hours as compared with nearly 10 days before motorization.

For Homemakers

Put in the frills, but be sure first that the family garden has those vegetables that will offer sensible, protective foods, suggests Roberta Hersey, extension specialist in home economics at Michigan State College. Here are her recommendations:

Plant a yellow vegetable for vitamin A. Make it carrots or rutabagas and store some for winter use.

Take some from the greens. Broccoli is a good one, but others for supplies of iron and of vitamins A and C can include turnip greens, kale, Swiss chard or, that's it, spinach. Tomatoes ought to have a place for their supplies of vitamin C.

Potatoes hardly need to be mentioned, says Miss Hersey, because they seem to obtain row space automatically.

Another vitamin C provider is in the cabbage.

A gardener ought to remember onions for flavor.

For variety there are such crops as beets, parsnips and turnips.

Two in a class for fresh and canned consumption are string beans and asparagus.

That is the list offered by Miss Hersey. The extras that can supply starch and other elements in the diet include corn, peas and lima beans. These, again, offer produce direct from the garden and also be canned for winter consumption.

If you confer a benefit, never remember it; if you receive one, never forget it.—Chilon.

Because you lack a noble and successful past, is no real reason why you should lack a noble and successful future.—Thomas Dreier.

The praise of others may be of use in teaching us, not what we are, but what we ought to be.—Hare

Look upon every day as the whole of life, not merely as a section; and enjoy and improve the present without wishing, through haste, to rush on to another.—Richter.

Brimming with Health - Basket and Child

By BETTY BARCLAY

The first and foremost prerequisite to child health is food to build strong, straight bodies with a high resistance to ills. And the time to start this type of building is when we first have tiny lives to nourish into man and womanhood.

So suppose we go marketing for foods to accomplish just these things. Foods to build bodies, regulate their processes and protect against diseases, as well as furnish energy for the many activities of the child.

We'll want to include protective foods which contain minerals and vitamins — the so-called "must foods" — fruits, vegetables, and milk. One of the protective factors most often deficient in the average diet is vitamin C, which promotes general good health, aids in the development of perfect teeth and good bone structure, guards against tooth decay and gum troubles, and prevents scurvy.

Oranges and lemons are perfect sources for this vitamin, also provide calcium, iron, and phosphorus, as well as such dietetic values as vitamin A, B and G, alkaline salts, fruit acids, and sugars. Since vitamin C is not stored by the body, it must constantly be maintained as the child grows. Daily orange juice is one of the easiest ways to provide it. Children in below-teen ages require almost twice as much of this vitamin in proportion to their weight as do adults. In fact, according to research, for every ten pounds of body weight, at least one and six-tenths ounces of orange juice is recommended for the normal daily requirement to provide the sol-source of vitamin C. Growing, active children who need more of the benefits from this vitamin may consume a larger amount.

Besides these "must foods" (fruits, vegetables, and milk), we'll want eggs, meat, finely ground nuts, bread, cereals, butter and other fats, sweets in small amounts, and fluids. The basket will be brimming with essentials for perfect child development. And we must not forget in our search, there are some items we can't carry in a basket but must be included on a list for health; such as — fresh air, exercise, cleanliness, rest, and pure water.

After the foods and other essentials are selected, the problems of proper proportions, combinations, and regularity arise. Once these are established, the child's health and happiness are well provided not just for the day but in a sense for years to come.

Between Meals: Oranges are so filled with important health benefits, that they may well be eaten between meals or before going to bed. A glass of orange juice or the "easy to peel" fruit is handy for these purposes. Children do not need to be urged to eat more oranges or drink more orange juice. The tempting orange taste is a favorite from the start. A popular combination is:

- Orange Egg Milk Shake
- 1 cup orange juice
- 1 cup milk
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tea spoon grated orange peel
- Beat or shake well with ice to melt. Serves 2.

We should give as we would receive cheerfully, quickly, and without hesitation; for there is no grace in a benefit that sticks to the fingers. —Seneca.

Dry-fly or wet-fly, trolling, bait-casting or still-fishing—whatever kind of fishing you favor, there's sport for you in the streams and lakes of Michigan.

THERE'S A BIG ONE CALLING YOU!

THE fighting fish of Michigan are waiting hungrily for their annual tussle at the other end of your line. With five thousand miles of rivers and streams where brook trout, browns and rainbows are jumping—five thousand inland lakes, teeming with bass, lake trout, pike, walleyes and "muskies"—is it any wonder that Michigan tops every other state in the number of fishing licenses?

In the past year, millions of fish, many of them of legal size, have been placed in Michigan waters by the state hatcheries and feeding ponds. A splendid system of state highways leads to the lakes and rivers and the deep-water fishing grounds, offshore. And all Michigan is dotted with hotels and camps for the comfort of anglers. Telephone ahead for reservations, boats, guides or information. Then pack up your tackle and go where the fish are calling!

Do you know the flavor of fresh-caught Michigan trout, crisped and browned over a camp-fire? These are browns and rainbows, taken in Boardman River.
