Large Crowd Attends Baccalaureate Service Memorial Services

Rev. Walter Ballagh Gave the Address

A very fine crowd of loyal Americans found time last Friday morning to attend the Memorial services vice will be in charge of the Methat Lakeview cemetery in Clarkston. odist minister, W. Harold Pailthorp, A threatening sky and a strong wind and the sermon will be preached by did not in any way disrupt the plans Dr. Eugene Allen, the book review that had been made by the local Le- editor of the Michigan Christian Adgion Post.

At 9:45 members of the Post, the Girl Scouts and the Boy Scouts began to assemble at the corner of Church and Buffalo streets and shortly after ten o'clock the Clarkston School Band, led by Orlo Willoughby, appeared on the scene ready to lead the parade. In spite of the heavy to this service. traffic on M-15 the parade passed through the business section for one Senior Assembly block. The band made a very fine appearance and the band members as Friday Afternoon well as those who watched the parade were justly proud of the Majorette, Inez Miller. Camera fans were busy all along the line of march. A great many cars followed the marchers to the cemetery.

The program consisted of the American Legion service, a selection dially invited to meet with the gradby the band, the Roll Call by Lee M. Clark and an address by Rev. Walter C. Ballagh, Pastor of the Clarkston Baptist Church. His talk was not the Class Prophecy. Betty Taylor only a fitting tribute to the soldier dead but also to those who are now ready to defend their country.

At the close of the program the Legion Post hurried to the cemetery Methodist Junior Choir at Ortonville where they conducted service.

Summer Schedule on At the Straits

Michigan's white fleet at the Straits of Mackinac is operating on summer schedule this week as the vanguard of millions of tourists headed north.

State Highway Commissioner G. Kennedy announced that Donald hourly schedules will be maintained from both St. Ignace and Mackinaw City with two additional trips scheduled for late in the evening and in the early morning. During rush periods all four boats will operate without schedule to transport tourist vehicles just as rapidly as they can load, make the crossing and unload. The summer schedule, effective until Sept. 9, is as follows: Leave Mackinaw City at 2 a.m., 5 a.m., and every hour until 11 p.m., inclusive.

Mother and Daughter Banquet to Be Held on June 17

The monthly luncheon served by the W. S. C. S. was attended by a good crowd on Wednesday.

Following the luncheon the business was in charge of the President Mrs. George Perry. Plans were completed for the Mother and Daughter Banquet which will be held on June 17th. Tickets will be on sale at L. F. Walter's store, and by Mrs. Ray Clark. The date for the Experience Tea was announced as June 26th, to be held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Perry. Everyone is invited to come with the $ they have earned, and how earned.

EARLY PLANTING HELPS POTATOES

in Timely Article

It is estimated that late blight of potatoes cost Oakland County over a half million dollars in 1940. This is the heaviest loss suffered by groweph Hubbard, president of the Board ers since late blight occurred in 1915. Potatoes in many bins and pits last fall seemingly free of blight this spring have shown various stages of rot due to this disease. Because of this wide spread situation, special attention must be given to seed stock for spring planting. The following suggestions are made in an effort to aid the potato grower during the coming season.

Potatoes in storage suspected of having blight should be thoroughly sorted. Badly blighted potatoes are readily recognized. Blighted potatoes not used for food or feeding farm animals should be buried. Blight in the potato field often starts on plants growing from the cull pile near the storage.

Seed treatment will kill blight spores on the surface of the tuber as well as scab and black scurf. On account of increased price of corrosive sublimate many growers may wish to substitute Semesan Bel, Sanoseed or formalin. Use the proprietary materials as recommended by the manufacturer. If formalin is used, soak the seed before cutting in a solution made up by adding 1 pint of formalin to 30 gallons of water. Soak at least one hour. Varieties like chippewa may be injured by prolonged soaking in treating solutions.

If the treated potatoes are to be stored before green sprouting, keep them cool and dry. The storage temerature should be kept at 36° to 40° F. Green sprouting by exposing the potatoes to sunlight is especially valuable after seed treatment. By this means all weak or slow sprouting tu-pers can be picked out and discarded. In cutting the seed, all potatoes which show any discoloration of the flesh or rotting should be discarded. Plant late varieties early. Spraying or dusting is our only means of protecting the potato plant against late blight. At present there is-no variety resistant to the disease, produced in Michigan on a commercial scale. Spraying should begin when the plants are 4 inches high. Early applications not only protect the plants from blight but also kill the potato beetles before they infect the entire field. Keep the vines covered with spray or dust throughout the season until danger of late blight is past. Spray or dust as often as weather conditions demand. In wet seasons an application every 7 days or oftener may be necessary. Spray with Bordeaux mixture 8-12-100 applying an average of 125 to 150 gallons per acre at each application .. Frequent applications are better than the use of heavier dosages of. copper sulphate applied at longer intervals. For control of leaf chewing nsects add 4-6 pounds of calcium Leave St. Ignace at 12:30 a.m., 3:30 a.m., 5:30 a.m., and every hour until 9:30 p.m., inclusive; also 11:30 p.m.

Traffic for the first four months has already showed an increase of 38 per cent above that of last year, and although the state-owned ferry will be taxed to capacity, Mr. Kennedy is confident that, with the addition of the newly christened City of Petoskey that that has just been added to the fleet, excellent service should be available throughout the summer months.

Tolerance

Our God made such a beauty spot To house man of his liking, Yet we hear bombs and cannon shot

And isn't it quite striking, That man can't stop and thankful be For God's great undertaking,

And thru God's plan man cannot see When God our world was making?

So foolish, man has always been And always quick to listen, To greedy schemes told o'er again 'Bout wealth and all its glisten,

And trampled down the beauty rare Placed here just for the taking, By God's great force with utmost care When earth was in the making.

The force of God the greatest powe Within our scope of thinking, Creates a flood of pleasant shower When water lines are shrinking, The world a glorious place to live And man so blamed ungrateful, Sees how little he can give And some times darned nigh hateful.

Tolerance, Oh God, you must possess To watch our foolish battle, And nature's hand our wounds caress As farmers do their cattle. When if your power you would send In one great sweeping motion, All warring nations you could end. By dunking in the ocean. (All rights reserved) Robert C. Beattle.

MUSIC NEWS The Annual Band Festival was held week ago last Tuesday at Milford, in which Clarkston made a grand showing. All the bands were assembled at 5:30 at the Milford High School and all five bands paraded downtown, Clarkston the 3rd band. Each Band was judged on their marching and playing by Mr. Overbard of Detroit. He was our guest conductor and later directed the Mass Concert.

Clarkston had a high rating in their appearance on parade with two 'B's" and an "A". Each Band gave their own concert. Our band was rained out in our last piece. The rain passed over and it was resumed. The festival ended at 9:00 P. M.

BAND MARCHES ON MEMORIAL DAY

A fine parade on Memorial Day was assembled at the Methodist Church Friday morning. All the parade marched to the cemetery for the morning service, the band playing many numbers. Taps were played by Dick Shaughnessy and the echo was played by Satn Perrin. After the service the Band march ed back to School and hung up the uniforms, thinking it would be the last time they would play this year until they received the grand invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Cheeseman. BANQUET TO BE GIVEN

Mr. and Mrs. Cheeseman Clarkston generously offered to hold a banquet in honor of the Clarkston Band. Next Wednesday the Band is to start from School at 4:30 P. M. and give a colorful parade through Clarkston. This will be the last appearance this year.

The Band will cross Main St. at Rudy's Store and hit Holcomb and march to the end. Then march across Miller's Road to Main St. and down through the center of Clarkston. Many numbers will be played and a large crowd is expected on this day, June 11.

After the Parade the Band will have a Banquet in Mr. Cheeseman's Ice Cream Shop, All in all it will be a grand activity to end the school

Those who like their sweet corn fresher and those who produce and prepare that sweet corn for sale in retail outlets are going to appreciate a suggestion that husked sweet corn e wrapped in transparent material such as cellophane for better keeping, easier selection and smaller be gone four or five-days. packages.

Poor quality keeps families from might, observes Keith C. Barrons, vegetable specialist on the Michigan State College staff.

An experiment in 1940 indicated how this can be changed. Corn picked from a field was husked and tips cut off. Ears were bunched in half dozens in a pyramid form and wrapped in cellophane. The extra cost per package was around 4 cents.

The price went up a bit, but consumers appreciated the service, retailers had less waste and corn ear worms were avoided. Apparently a sweet corn grower can obtain a cent husking and packaging. On fertile Berg's mother. soil sweet corn often will yield 10,000 marketable ears an acre.

Customers found no reason for picking over" the packaged corn. There weren't any corn ear worms. Many times these worms are on the tips of the ears when the ears are picked. If marketed in the husk, the before the corn is sold. One retailer was willing to sell the packaged corn on a 20 per cent margin, but said he needed 30 per cent margin for corn in the husk. In the 1940 experiment the halfdozen husked and wrapped packages were selling for 15 cents at the same time that the grocer was selfing good quality corn in the husk for 15 cents a dozen. In this same period corn could be obtained on a farmer's market for as low as 10 cents a dozen. An explanation of the process and the experiment is reported in the lic invited. THE CLARKSTON NEWS

WHEN AN OWNER of a lowest-priced car changes to Pontiac, the first good news he gets is the small size of his monthly payments. For contrary to what some may think, Pontiac owners will tell you Pontiac is priced so close to the lowest-priced cars they bardly notice the difference in their monthly payments!

Owners will also tell you that Pontiac is so economical on gas, oil and upkeep that it is actually costing them no more—and sometimes less—to own and operate than their former lowest-priced cars!

And the best news of all is that you actually pay no more for a Pontiac. You simply invest a little more because, thanks to Pontiac's reputation for dependability, those few extra dollars come back to you in higher value at trade-in time!

And in the meantime, you're enjoying the greater size, the more distinctive Body by Fisher beauty, the superior comfort, the finer performance and the remarkable economy of the fine car with the low price!

Why don't you investigate Pontiac? Your Pontiac dealer can prove to you, in five minutes, that, if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Pontiac "Torpedo"!

HOLLY THEATRE

With heavy industry going full tilt giant industries as a source of screen stories.

Indicating the start of the film trend is the new Paramount comedy, Reaching for the Sun", which makes its local bow Sunday at the Holly Theatre, with Joel McCrea and Ellen Drew in the starring roles. The basic locale of the story is Detroit, Michigan, and its ceaselessly moving assembly belts, giant stamping machines, tremendous forges and blast furnaces.

It is a new kind of comedy that Paramount presents, in that in addition to its light comedy touches, it introduces the thrills to be found among the giant machines. One of its sequences still has all Hollywood talking about it. It is a spectacle which Director William A. Wellman worked out, and which Hollywood, always quick to find the descriptive term for everything, has labeled 'The Battle of the Monsters".

The battle is between two great monster machines, a crane metal about two stories high weighing many tons, and a short, squat formidable looking machine called a manpulator, which seizes two-ton hot teel ingots in its pincer-like metal jaws. The crane is operated by Albert Dekker, and at the controls of the manipulator is Joel McCrea. As he machines maneuver for position, hey resemble two prehistoric mas-odons locked in a titanic struggle. Wellman is one of the few directors n Hollywood self-confident enough to nave the audacity to inject a few thrills into a picture intended to create laughs. In "Reaching for the Sun", Joel McCrea is a nothern Michigan woodsman who comes to Detroit to work in an automobile factory. He falls in love with Ellen Drew. Their dream of a better life motives an musing and heart-warming picture. Included in the cast are Eddie Bracken, Albert Dekker and Billy Gilbert.
