All in a Lifetime

Beside the lake, the old oak tree
Has stood down thru the ages,
And it has always sheltered me
Thru all life's different stages.

When I was just a little boy
We kids would go in swimmin'
Complete we found to be our joy
Unhampered by the women.

Beneath the oak we shed our clothes
Into the water dashing,
And often times would stub our toes
And get a belly smashing.

And bathing suits unheard of then
Were first seen on the women,
With cloth enough for eight or ten
When they first took to swimmin'.

And underneath the old oak tree
My soul was full of wonder,
With bathing suit enough for three
To keep from going under.

New old oak tree beside the lake
In trunks I go in swimmin'
I don't wear much, I think it's great,
And less is worn by women.

FISHING SEASON OPENED JUNE 25

Michigan Anglers Now Have Full Swing at the Sport

Yesterday, (Wednesday, June 25) was the opening day of the 1941 fishing season for thousands of Michigan anglers who neither fish for trout nor have easy access to pike lakes or Great Lakes waters. The season is now open on every fish that swims in Michigan waters except grayling and sturgeon.

Certain to get much attention is the bluegill, the "kingfish" among the state's game fishes that accounts for twice as much of the average angler's catch, according to conservation department creel census, as its nearest rival, yellow perch. It is the favorite of lake fishermen who use cane poles and worms, but it may be taken on artificial flies. Bluegills have been protected since March 31, to allow for spawning.

Hard-fighting black bass, largemouths and smallmouths, also become fair quarry after being protected since December 31. The black bass limit is five fish, each not less than 10 inches long.

Likelihood of good catches at the opening of the season is reported by conservation officers for most parts of the state. Favorable spring weather induced early spawning, assuring both a good crop of fry and a season opening at which the fish would be off the nest and looking for food.

The size limit on bluegill, sunfish, rock bass, crappies and yellow perch continues unchanged at six inches, and the creel limit allows each angler on inland waters a combined total of 25 of these fish, or 25 of any one kind.

Proclamation by the Governor

Forty-nine persons died on Michigan highways over the Memorial Day week-end. That was 49 too many.

As Governor of the State of Michigan, I call upon all citizens, all state, county and municipal officials, to join in a great effort to prevent a repetition of this tragedy over the Fourth of July weekend.

Celebration of our Independence Day will bring a peak of traffic volume such as we have never seen before on a state-wide basis. We can prevent a repetition of 40 too many deaths.

We can do this if all Michigan citizens will cooperate by driving safely over the Fourth of July week-end and every week-end thereafter during the summer.

I am asking the state departments to take the lead in this safe driving campaign. All local governments, city and county, are sincerely requested to cooperate. Public and private organizations alike can do their part by bending every effort toward spreading the word for safe and sober driving over the Fourth.

Forty-nine fatalities due to motor car crashes over the Memorial Day week-end were too many. We need not have a repetition. Sensible driving and walking on streets and highways will prevent it.

I hereby proclaim the period from Thursday, July 3 to Monday, July 7 as Michigan safe driving days to call attention to the need for extreme caution on the part of motorists and pedestrians.

MURRAY D. VAN WAGONER, Governor

HOLLY THEATRE

Intended to outshine the amazing tricks of its fore-runners, Universal's "The Invisible Woman" opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre, with Virginia Bruce, John Barrymore, John Howard, Charlie Ruggles and Oscar Homolka in starring roles.

Produced by the same studio which first startled film audiences with "The Invisible Man" in 1933 and "The Invisible Man Returns" in 1939, the new film is the first to employ these tricks effects for comedy purposes.

Novel story of the picture presents Barrymore as an eccentric professor who discovers a formula for human invisibility. Miss Bruce, as a discouraged dress model, offers herself as subject for the scientist's experiments, which prove complete successful.

Thereupon Miss Bruce employs her invisibility to gain revenge on an abusive employer, to torment a young playboy and his befuddled butler with her invisible pranks, and even to round up a gangster mob in a hilarious sequence.

Howard appears as the playboy who finances the professor's experiments, and who takes an immediate dislike to the Invisible Woman because of her playful nature. He changes his mind, however, when she materializes and he finds that the Invisible Woman is actually a beautiful lady.

Charlie Ruggles appears as Howard's butler, Oscar Homolka is chief of the gangster mob and other roles are played by Edward Brophy, Donald MacBride, Margaret Hamilton, Thurston Hall, Mary Gordon, Charles Lane and Eddie Conrad.

A. Edward Sutherland directed, and special photographic effects are by John Fulton, creator of the "Invisible Man". Burt Kelly was associate producer.

Red Arrow Division 1941 Reunion

Twenty-four years ago thousands of boys from Michigan departed for France as members of the now famous 32nd Red Arrow Division. They were joined in their war effort by thousands of men and boys from other midwestern states, principally Wisconsin.

This year Michigan will be host to the veterans of this fighting division, the annual reunion to be held in Jackson Aug. 30-Sept. 1.

More than 5,000 veterans are expected to attend the gathering which will include men from every state in the Union, but principally from Michigan and Wisconsin.

Major William H. Burke, of Owosso, is reunion corporation president. Burke was one of the youngest officers serving in France during the war. Charles Alexander of Jackson is secretary.

Reciprocal reunions, a banquet at which a nationally known speaker is scheduled to appear, memorial services followed by a drum and bugle corps contest, are features of the three-day program.

RED CROSS NOTES

Hot Weather Relief

High temperatures and clear, bright days make swimming and sun bathing at Michigan's many beaches an ideal way to spend a hot weather holiday. As at Bay City state park shown here, where thousands play on the warm sands each weekend, or swim under the watchful eye of the lifeguard, some of the state's best water frontages developed for recreation is within the limits of the 99 state parks. In the course of a year the Michigan state park system is host to visitors numbering nearly twice the population of the state.

AUSTIN AND BIRD SCHOOL REUNION

Brought Together Many Pupils of Days Gone By

The 12th annual reunion of the Austin Corners and Bird schools held at the Austin Corners schoolhouse on Sunday, June 22, was attended by 52 people. They were present and former pupils of the schools, and residents of the community. There were also guests from Rochester, Pontiac, Detroit, Dryden, Midland, Fenton, Clarkston, Davisburg, Ortonville and Rose.

A co-operative dinner was enjoyed around noon time, followed by a short program, business meeting and visiting.

The program opened with everyone singing "Auld Lang Syne" and prayer and a short talk by Rev. Ralph Brown.

Luella Beebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bird Beebe, played a piano solo. The Bryan sisters, granddaughters of Joseph Bryan, of Midland, sang two solos.

Aubrey Lowery, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lowery, of Clarkston, gave a recitation. "God Bless America" was sung by Luella Beebe and Ella Swaller.

There were eleven pupils present who had attended the Austin school and 6 who had attended the Bird school. There were none of the teachers of either of the schools present.

Joseph Bryan, of Midland, 82 years of age, was the oldest person present, and accompanied by other members of his family, came the greatest distance, and has not missed attending any of the 12 reunions. Mr. Bryan was a pupil in the Bird school in 1879 and 1880. When a young man he worked for some time for the late H. Lee Wright and the late William H. Green. Later he went to Midland, where he owns a fine dairy farm which has been his home for a good many years.

There were three generations of the Bryan family present. They were Mr. Bryan, his daughter, Mrs. J. Banknecht, and his granddaughter, Elizabeth Banknecht. He was also accompanied by two other granddaughters, Leona and Ruth Bryan, both of Midland.

There were three generations of the late Peter Smith family at the reunion. The Smith family were residents of the Austin school district for many years, and where the Smith children, Charlie, Anna, Lydia and Andrew, attended school.

Those of the Smith family at the reunion on Sunday were Mrs. Peter Smith and her son Charlie, who now live in Rochester; another son, Andrew, his wife, Lula Albee Smith, and their three children, John, Margaret and Priscilla, all of Pontiac; Mrs. Anna Smith Terwilliger and daughter, Cecelia Ballard, both of Detroit. Charlie Smith was a member of the Austin school board for a number of years, holding the office of secretary and treasurer. He stated that he still has many of the school records, some of them dating back to the first school held in the present school building.

Making up another family of three generations were Mrs. Mable Beebe Small, her son, Bird Beebe, and his daughter, Luella Beebe. Mrs. Small was formerly Mable Bird, and attended the Bird school.

Mrs. Wilfred Williams (Ada Hill) was a pupil of both the Austin and Bird schools, in her childhood days. She said Gordon Terry was her first teacher. Mr. Terry was a well known farmer in the Mt. Bethel community for a great many years.

Mrs. Williams exhibited an antique. It was a printed program of the closing exercises of the Austin school held April 9, 1862. There were only three persons mentioned in this program who were known by anyone at this reunion. They were Brainard Phillips, director of the music, Sylvanus Buzzard, father of A. Clifton Buzzard, of Holly, and Charles Landon. Mr. Landon is the only one living at this date, June 22, 1941. The teacher was a Mr. J. M. Cook. There were two very amusing features about this program. It started at 6 1/2 o'clock p. m. and there was an admission fee of 3 cents each person, charged to pay expenses of the entertainment.

SAFETY URGED OVER THE 4TH

State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy predicts that holiday traffic will reach an all-time peak over the Fourth of July week-end.

"Unless bad weather interferes," the Commissioner stated, "Michigan highways will be taxed to capacity."

Motorists should remember that they are operating in a more dangerous period in planning holiday trips, Kennedy said, and that additional time should be allowed so that driving at excessive speeds will not be necessary.

Calling attention to the fact that 49 persons lost their lives on Michigan highways and streets over the Memorial Day week-end, Kennedy declared that motorists, through courtesy and cooperation extended to fellow drivers, could be responsible in reducing traffic fatalities.

It was stated the state highway department was co-operating wholeheartedly with the Governor and various other state departments in an effort to halt the ever-mounting traffic toll on Michigan highways and streets.

All county maintenance superintendents have been instructed to have highway facilities in the best possible condition for the Fourth.

Kennedy also explained that no permits for oversize or overweight loads would be issued over the holiday period; that construction work would be halted on all projects where heavy flow of traffic might create distinct hazards, and that all temporary roads, barricades and lighting were being carefully checked so there would be no hazards or inconvenience to motorists.

Most accidents would not happen if every driver:

1—Regulated his speed with regard for safety.

2—Exercised special care when overtaking and passing and in keeping as far to the right of opposite-bound traffic as possible.

3—Observed stop signs and traffic signals and made certain it was safe to enter intersections before doing so.

"The better part of a million dollars in deaths, injuries and damage was the price paid last Fourth of July season for the luxury of violating these rules," says State Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander, "and the toll will be greater this year unless efforts by public authorities to impress the driving public with the necessity of better traffic law observance are successful."

Indicating the trend of midwest vacation thinking are increased demands for 1941 Michigan fish law digests, the handy-sized conservation department guide to fishing regulations. On placing an order for an additional supply of the digests, Mildred Howe, manager of the Michigan Tourist Information Bureau on South Dearborn street, Chicago, reported that inquiries about Michigan tourist attractions are four times greater this year than last.

Deitsch-Stein Wedding

On last Wednesday evening, June 18, 1941, at 8 o'clock in Chicago, Miss Lucylee Joyce Deitsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Deitsch, 40910 N. Ridgeway, Chicago, Ill., and Sheldon Stein, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Stein of Drayton Plains, Mich., took their stand before the altar at the Temple Jaudea and pledged their nuptial vows before a large group of relatives and friends. To here Rabbi Kritze read the Jewish service. Preceding the ceremony a friend of the bride sang "I Love You Truly". The double ring ceremony was held. Miss Deitsch was given in marriage by her father and Mr. Stein was given by his father. After the wedding "O Promise Me" was sung. The bride chose for her wedding gown a yellow organdy with white accessories and carried white baby lilies. The maid of honor, Mrs. Goldman, sister of the bride, wore white organdy with accessories to match. The groom wore a suit of white flannel with a yellow tie. Immediately after the ceremony thirty-five guests were entertained in the club room of the Temple. The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a lovely white and blue lines with accessories to match. Mrs. Stein chose for her son's wedding a redingote with blue and white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Stein will make their home in Chicago where Mr. Stein is employed.

Several members of the Women's Missionary society of the Community United Presbyterian Church attended a farewell tea in honor of Miss Janet Kerr, home missionary of the Detroit Presbytery, who is leaving this field of work, as the guests of the Auburn Heights Missionary society at the home of Mrs. Harold Lobaugh in Auburn Heights on last Wednesday afternoon, June 18th. Mrs. Ray Thrasher of Seeley St. received word last week of the death of her sister, Mrs. Mary Daken, in New Jersey. After spending the day at Bob-Lo last Thursday, Frances Graessle, Bill Krause, Billie Robb and Ned Wyberg took another trip to Glennie, spending the night and returning on Friday afternoon.

Northland Lure

Not many tourists to Northern Michigan will glimpse a scene like this, especially those who stick to the main traveled highways. But those who turn off on one of the sandy weed-grown by-roads and camp for the night near a stream or lake may expect these visitors between sundown and sunrise and later. Returning campers have reported a half dozen in sight at one time, does and fawn, and they showed little concern or alarm at the visitors.

Mrs. Thomas J. Walker of Seeley street is confined to her home by illness. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thayer of Warren Drive spent from last Wednesday, June 18, until Sunday at Ann Arbor, where they attended the Spanish War Veterans and Aux. Pontiac 23 Chapter convention. Harlon Thayer was taken to the hospital in Pontiac last Wednesday for x-rays and observation. Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Milvin Gard of Cromwell, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Cole of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart of Keego Harbor were weekend guests of Mrs. Emma Barnes and Joseph Hangge. Mrs. Emma Barnes and Joseph Hangge called on friends in Clio and Corunna last Thursday. Mrs. Olive Boardman, Mrs. Grace Barnhart, Mrs. Charles Williams and Raymond Williams were in Chesaning on business last Thursday afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Burnett of Pontiac is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Morris on Warren Dr. and is attending the Vocational Bible School in the Community United Presbyterian Church. A mature golden eagle, released by employees of the Emory L. Ford estate near Port Huron after its injured leg had healed, returned within 10 days to scratch for food in the barn where it had been fed during captivity. It is tame enough to be picked up by estate superintendent Cecil Davies. The eagle will be turned over to a zoo or released in some distant place, so it will not be a menace to young pheasants.

"Don't Feed Betsy." The four-year-old glamour girl's parents hung that sign around her neck, and even advertised in the paper, because everybody in town kept giving her candy. Read about her unique "candy-magnetism" and why nobody can resist it, as told in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Sanitary Resorts

Inspection of Michigan's 2,700 resorts is in full swing as county, district and state health departments join forces to protect the health of summer vacationists. "Water and milk supplies, sewage, garbage and refuse disposal, food handling methods and bathing beaches are thoroughly inspected and where standards are met, large sanitation approved signs are posted," said Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "This sign tells the tourist that the resort has health department approval. Look for the white metal signs with 'Sanitation Approved, Michigan Department of Health' in big black letters. It will be a good place to stop." Resorts are divided into seven types by the Michigan Department of Health. These are: summer trailer camps, cabin camps, summer recreation camps, state, county and township parks, amusement resorts, resort hotels and community resorts.

SCHOOL REUNION

John Austin, of Davisburg, said he started to school when 1 1/2 years old. When asked why he started school so young he said it was because he was such a nuisance around home, but he missed it because the rest of the family wanted to get him out of the way. He stated that William Mathews was one of his early teachers. Phyllis Swalier, 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swalier, was the youngest guest at the gathering. Since the 1940 reunion there had been three deaths. They were Mrs. Joseph Bryan, of Midland, Fred Shappee, of Clarkston, a former resident of the Bird school district, and Edward Wieland, of Clarkston, who was a pupil in the Austin school when a boy. The following were selected as a committee for the 1942 reunion to be held the third Sunday in June at the Austin Corners schoolhouse. President—Rev. Ralph Brown. Secretary and Treasurer—Carrie M. Green. Program—Harold L. Wright, Katherine Cuthbert Hathaway. Arrangements—Mr. and Mrs. Bird Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swalier, Carrie M. Green. The afternoon closed with everyone singing "The Old Oaken Bucket" and repeating the Lord's Prayer.

GEORGE M. WELCH HIGHLY HONORED

Awarded Degree by the University of Michigan

George M. Welch, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Business Administration at the annual commencement exercises held Saturday night at the University of Michigan.

GEORGE M. WELCH President, Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

With the honorary degree came the following citation for Welch:

"Long associated with the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, in whose service he has steadily risen to positions of increasing responsibility. As general manager from 1916 to 1934 and since then as its president, he has justified the confidence placed in his judgment. He has demonstrated his capacity to direct the manifold affairs of a rapidly growing industry in accordance with the highest ideals of modern business and its relation to the public good. Among the marvels of scientific discovery, organized and developed by farseeing executives, none remains more indispensable to the needs of civilization than the mechanism which sends voices and even images swiftly and clearly through the wide spaces of the world."

Through successive promotions, Welch rose to general manager of the company in 1916 at the age of 35, the youngest official with that title in the Bell System. He was given the added title, vice-president, in 1920, and was made president in 1934.

For Homemakers

Cheering news for Michigan housewives comes from peach producing sections of the state where estimates have been made that the fruit likely will total 2,580,000 bushels, nearly a million more bushels than the 1940 harvest.

More cheering news is that many of the more progressive orchard operators are thinning out the small green fruit so that the fruit left to mature will attain a more attractive size.

That last practice is recommended heartily by H. D. Hootman, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State College. In fact, the thinning may make a few less peaches but housewives will be more apt to purchase and to can many of the peaches for winter consumption. That fits in with suggestions from the federal government that "food for defense" be laid away from home crops, permitting surpluses for Britain of more solid foods.

Now that the June drop is over, fruit growers can get busy thinning the peaches. Best practice is to allow six inches between fruits. Where the curculio has stung fruit, this is to be culled out when thinning. The curculio dies if the stung fruit is thrown out into the sunlight between the rows.

Nearly 30,000,000 bottles of milk are delivered every day to American homes.

Largest Trees in State Reported

In a search that has received statewide cooperation from volunteer reporters, Michigan tree authorities announce what are believed to be the three largest known trees in the state.

One is located near Lawrence, another in Shiawassee county and the third near Adrian, according to Roy E. Skog, assistant extension forester at Michigan State College. The project was carried on with the cooperation of the state conservation department on the suggestion of the American Forestry association which sought the information from each of the states.

An American elm located on the farm of Myrta Smith near Lawrence is believed to be the largest tree in the state. Art Haney, living on the farm, reports the specimen has a circumference of 23 1/2 feet and is more than 75 feet in height. Another large elm of equal height measures 21 feet, 3 inches in circumference.

This is in Newton's woods, seven miles south of Decatur. Among the oaks, the largest one reported is a black oak in Woodhull township, Shiawassee county, just north of M 78. Verne G. Woodbury, Laingsburg reports this tree is 22 feet, 4 inches in circumference.

Third of the giants is a poplar reported by Mrs. J. W. Helme, Adrian. On the Helme farm a poplar has grown to a 20 foot circumference and a spread of 110 feet.

A modern steam locomotive contains more than 7,000 parts.
