Auto Accident on Davisburg Road

Dast Friday afternoon as Henry Harpkop and Donald Knaak, both of Detroit, were driving east on the Davisburg Road, their car overturned in loose gravel on Friday's hill. Both young men were injured but Harpkop the more seriously. His right hand was so badly hurt, with all bones broken, that it is feared he will never again have the use of it. This is particularly unfortunate as he is a medical student majoring in brain surgery.

First aid was given to the injured men at the home of Mrs. John Keller and later they were taken to a hos-

Traveling at too high a rate of speed when they struck the loose gravel is said to have been the cause of the accident.

State Flags to Fly With "Old Glory"

Nearly 150 conservation department field units and headquarters will fly the flag of the state of Michigan along with the United States stars and stripes as soon as all projects can be supplied with the state emblem, in accordance with an order by the conservation commission.

The state flag has a solid blue field and on one side bears the state coat of arms, which includes a moose and an elk rampant, an eagle and Latin mottoes, among them the well known, "If you seek a beautiful peninsula look about you."

Conservation field projects at which state flags may be flown include 20 district and regional field administration headquarters, 12 forest fire equipment stations, 58 state parks, 13 state forest headquarters and two tree nurseries, 25 fish hatcheries and rearing stations, 11 game area headquarters and wildlife experiment stations and a training school.

Aunt Belle

Well I remember all the joy You furnished when I was a boy, When I would go with you to stay Each chance I'd have to go away.

Well I remember cookie jars Before the days of motor cars, And other goodies there galore In cupboards with an open door.

Well I remember childhood scenes Of tables, laden with baked beans, The likes of which I've never had But at your house when just a lad.

It gives me pleasure now, today To have you come with me and stay, And find the pleasure I had known While I was visiting your home.

It gives me pleasure aunt of mine To have you with us this short time, And it's been fun for you and I To talk of days long since gone by.

It gives me pleasure to repay In just my simple sort of way, In part for all that wondrous joy You gave me when I was a boy. Robert C. Beattle. (All rights reserved)

Conservation Notes

After sustaining the heaviest week's losses of the season when 168 fires swept 2,069 acres, conservation department forest fire fighters are taking advantage of relief brought by rains to prepare for more high hazard conditions.

Biggest loss in the season's eighteenth week was in southwestern Michigan, where 710 acres burned. Four other lower Michigan districts reported losses above 200 acres. A muck fire in Kalkaska county that began August 3 is still burning, though confined now by a deeply plowed ditch.

At Frankfort, in Benzie county, the department recorded its first fire suppression with the assistance of a glider. A few minutes after leaving the Frankfort airport a glider pilot saw the smoke, returned and dispatched a crew which put out a dangerous grass fire.

Polio Cases Reported Under Average Figures

Infantile paralysis cases reported n the first week of August have been under average figures, the Michigan Department of Health says, but adds hat the course of polio is unpredict-

"No one can tell in advance how polio may affect a community, nor say what the outcome of a case may be," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "The patient who recovers without paralysis and the one who has a crippling aftereffect may look just the same at the beginning. The physician must have a chance to see polio early and follow the case day by day. Proper care helps to avoid paralysis, but if it does develop, the crippling effects can be overcome in part by rest and Washington. Time will be taken to use of splints. For these reasons, the visit points of interest along the physician should be called for any of the signs which may be the first symptoms of polio-fever, vomiting,

No cases were reported in August until the fifth day, whereas last year polio was reported daily through the month and the August total was three times the five-year average of 103.

Polio is caused by one of the smallest of the viruses, whose diameter is calculated to be only one two-and-ahalf-millionth of an inch. If the virus is ever seen it will be with the aid of some device like the electron microscope. No one is now sure just how the virus is spread. It may get from one person to another like the virus of measles, by way of droplets from the nose and mouth in breathing, or like the germ of typhoid, through food and water. # CAUSEWAY BEING BUILT AT STRAITS

ing were appointed as nominating Will Ultimately Form Part of Long Talked of Bridge

The immediate construction of a causeway from the north shore of the Straits of Mackinac, designed to ultimately fit in with a bridge spanning the Straits, will be undertaken by the state highway department at total estimated cost of $1,700,000.

State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy said the causeway is expected to be completed by the end of the 1942 tourist season and will be undertaken as an expansion of the state ferry service. It will reduce the travel distance for the state ferries from nine to three miles and will step up the capacity of the service by more than one-third.

The causeway will extend into the Straits a total of 5,385 feet and its surface will be ample for a 44-foot roadway and shoulders. Sides of the causeway will be cased with ten-ton stones.

Bids will be taken soon on the first phase construction. This will be for stone dykes and fill for the causeway. A second contract for dock facilities to be located on the end of the causeway will be awarded a little

The initial work will form the bulk of the project and will cost an estifamily are vacationing in northern mated $1,000,000. The dock facilities at the end of the causeway, which will provide two end-loading slips, will cost an estimated additional $700,000.

Rapidly mounting traffic on the state boats at the Straits makes drastic steps necessary if satisfactory service is to be maintained, Commissioner Kennedy said. Traffic for the first seven months of 1941 was 25½ per cent, or nearly 34,000 cars, above a like period last year.

House Trailers Being Used as Homes

Twice as many house trailers were registered in Michigan the first five Sabbath evening. months of this year as were registered during the same period a year ago, reports Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly. 10,634 house trailers were registered in Michigan during the entire year of 1940, and from January 1 to June 30 of this year, 8.459 were registered.

Dealers of house trailers report that the majority of sales being made this year are for utility purposes. The trailers are being moved onto building lots and are being used as homes because of the housing shortage in industrial areas.

SCRAP ALUMINUM DRIVE IS CLOSED

County and State Trucks Make Collections for Defense

A small mechanized army of trucks and crew members was required to deliver the scrap aluminum contributed by Michigan citizens to U. S. Treasury agents, according to Everett DeRyke, executive director of the Michigan Council of Defense, which supervised the collection.

The State Highway Department and county road commissions throughout the state co-operated in the delivery of the aluminum to the Treasury, which will sell it to smelters supplying defense contractors. The money will be used to buy trainer planes for the Army and Navy.

The delivery system, set up by the State Highway Commissioner, reached into every community of the state. First of all, county trucks picked up aluminum from local collection points ed for the examination and adjustand hauled it into the yards of the county road commissions. Then state ceased. trucks, 19 of them, gathered the scrap metal from the county centers A true copy and hauled it to seven concentration centers in Detroit, Lansing, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Cadillac and Escanaba, where the Treasury took charge. In some cases, where Pontiac, Michigan county yards were near the concentration centers, county trucks made the final hauls, but the long routes were covered by State trucks. These 19 State trucks covered 1,652 miles in making the final collections.

No attempt was made to estimate the distance traveled by trucks making collections within counties, but it is known that those making hauls to the seven key points covered 868 miles. 75 road commission trucks vere in service.

Because there is nothing to deduct for transportation charges, the net return from Michigan is certain to be a sizeable one. Final figures on the amount are not available as yet,

Fast Work on a Forest Blaze

Quick action with "cat" drawn booster units has helped conservation department forest fire fighters keep the season's first 1,000 fires to an average of six acres each, where in all of last season a total of 900 fires burned over 17,888 acres. Fine spray of the booster units smothers ground fires before they can get into timbered areas where they are harder to put out. Fire wardens are asking public cooperation in preventing such fires in grassy areas along roadsides as the forest fire hazard approaches the season's peak.

Augmenting one of the best nat ural pheasant crops in many years, another 1,200 of the ringnecks are being sent this week from the conservation department's game farm near Mason to several points in southern lower Michigan for release.

With sportsmen, game division men, conservation officers and farmers reporting more and larger broods of pheasants in fields and roadsides, the season which opens October 15 and closes November 5 is expected to be one of the finest in years. Given favorable weather, hunters may bag a million pheasants this fall, game men believe. Last year the kill was 958,690 birds, according to hunters' game kill reports, while 907,000 pheasants were taken during the 1939 season.

The birds being released this week are 13 weeks old and many already are assuming distinctive coloration. In another five weeks, all are expected to be distinguishable for fall hunt ing. Game men and conservation officers are supervising the releases.

About 1,200 breeders-mature birds were released in July. One hundred and fifty birds are being held for release at field trials.

Lower mortality among young phaesants in brooder houses at the game farm this summer is believed due largely to the dry summer, which has been almost ideal weather for pheasant raising.
