Spencer-McKay Vows Spoken Saturday

Couple to Reside in Clarkston

A very pretty wedding took place last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in the First Methodist Church of Clarkston when Miss Charlotte E. Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Spencer, became the bride of Lawrence McKay Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. I. McKay, of Detroit. The Rev. W. Harold Pailthorpe read the service before the altar banked with palms, dahlias, white gladioli and white cathedral candles in tall candelabra. Mrs. Charles Matthews of Clarkston presided at the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white net over taffeta which was fashioned with a long torso bodice, a V neck and three quarter length shirred sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was fastened to a Juliet cap with flower rosettes and her corsage was of white roses, larkspur and gardenias. Her only jewelry was a necklace, the gift of the groom, and a bracelet worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Mrs. Stanley J. Spencer of Clarkston, sister-in-law of the bride, as matron of honor was gowned in apple green net over taffeta with long, full skirt and a long bodice with sweetheart neckline. Miss Shirley Ann McKay of Detroit, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid wore a similar gown of yellow net and taffeta. Both carried bouquets of yellow daisy chrysanthemums and wore tiaras of similar flowers.

Assisting Mr. McKay were Wilfred Livermore of Detroit as best man and W. J. MacLeod Jr. of Grosse Pointe Woods and John F. McNamara of Detroit as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for one hundred guests was held at the home of the bride's parents on North Main Street. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake flanked by white candles in crystal holders.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Spencer wore navy blue crepe trimmed in white with navy blue accessories and a corsage of rulum lilies. The groom's mother wore a soldier blue wool dress with blue accessories and a corsage of rulum lilies.

For travelling Mrs. McKay wore a rust wool dress with velveteen jacket, brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias. After spending two weeks at a cottage at Georgian Bay the young couple will make their home in Clarkston.

Mrs. McKay is a graduate of the Clarkston High School in the class of '34 and attended Pontiac Business Institute. Mr. McKay was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1938 and is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Out of town guests were from Wooster, Ohio, Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, Holly, Traverse City, Milford, Grosse Pointe and Big Rapids.

Somebody's Grandma

Somebody's grandma sitting there in a barroom's battered chair. Her hair as white as driven snow in the early evening glow.

Somebody's grandma features set A puffing on a cigarette. She heeded not the noises loud Emerging from the bar room crowd Somebody's grandma lost in thought A pack of fags that she had bought, Open laid beside her glasses. Ash trays there to hold her ashes.

I would judge this stern old lady Must have been close on to eighty, Cigarette near burned her muzzie As she worked a cross word puzzle.

I looked and wondered why she sought

A place like this to wrap in thought, Where she was sure to catch the eye Of hundreds as they passed her by.

A grandma, now in forty-one. Knows of no reason 'near the sun Why crowds should make her get upset

If she should smoke a cigarette.

Rotarians Have Attendance Contest

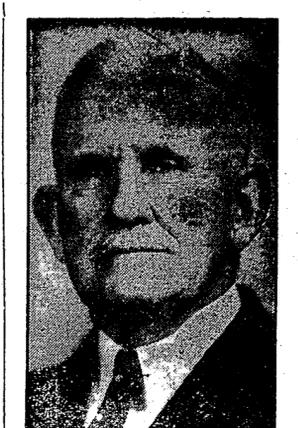

The "Dark Horses" the name of the team of Rotarians whose Captain is Mr. Dan Winn are quite generally conceded by the opposing team, the "White Hopes" whose Captain is, Mr. Lloyd Megee not to have a chance in this contest. While it is not easy to discover why the "White Hopes" have lost heart in the contest even before it has a bare beginning, some of the "Dark Horses" interpret the lack of spirit and energy of the "White Hopes" to the sheer sense of inferiority injected into them by the quite obvious determination of the "Horses" to have that free dinner at the expense of the "Hopes". The Secretary of the Club quite frankly admits that it is too bad that the only "Hope" the "White Hopes" have is their name.

Sept. 15th—Monday—The Clarkston Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. George Perry to celebrate its first birthday. Election of officers will take place. All members and those interested are urged to attend.

JAMES H. LYNCH HAS PASSED ON

Death Ends Distinguished Career of County Leader

Pontiac and Oakland County lost one of its most outstanding citizens in the death of James H. Lynch, which occurred at his home last Sunday. He had been sick three weeks. A stroke of paralysis was followed by another from which he failed to rally.

Two years later he was admitted to the bar and for 55 years practiced law in Oakland County.

In all his activities he was devoted to high ideals and genuine service to the community.

He was a prominent member of St. Vincent de Paul's Catholic church, where the funeral was held Wednesday morning.

Mr. Lynch was an uncompromising Democrat and his services to the party were both active and clean.

Protect Fruit Trees From Rabbits

When the snows blow next winter and the law-protected cottontail rabbits get hungry, valuable fruit trees won't be gnawed by the hungry animals if they are protected by a process perfected and tested by horticultural workers at Michigan State College.

By experimentation the process has been simplified and the materials now recommended do not curtail tree growth as some of the previous preparations indicated.

Rosin and ethyl alcohol are the ingredients. The rate is seven pounds of rosin to a gallon of alcohol. The rosin is pulverized and the mixture is permitted to stand 24 hours in a warm room. No heat should be applied as this not only is dangerous but would drive off enough alcohol to alter the composition of the mixture.

Rabbits have a habit in tough winter periods when food is scarce of chewing off tender areas of bark. Orchard operators call this girdling. It leads to tree killing or the necessity of grafting new tops. Surveys indicate the rabbits reach as high as two feet above the drifted snow, so that protection of the bark must extend to that probable height.

One gallon of repellent has been found sufficient to treat 150 to 200 two-year-old nursery trees. The exact number depends on size of trees and height of treatment.

A cheap brush is used for application. The brushing is done while the tree bark is dry. Subsequent moisture causes a white precipitate but this does not affect the repellent results. One application has been found sufficient for a winter season.

For Homemakers

Schooltime is here and clothing specialists of the Michigan State College home economics staff remind us that it is time to look about fall and winter clothes.

If there's a boy in the family, some points to check in buying the new suit are points that make for warmth, long wear, comfortable fit and value. The tips come from the new bulletin, "Buying Boys' Suits," just issued by the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The fabric, the cut, the fit of the suit deserve attention.

The new Wool Products Labeling Act went into effect July 14, 1941. According to this, if the label reads "100 per cent wool" or "all wool," it means the suit is made of all new wool. If the wool is re-used or reprocessed the label must say so. New wool is not necessarily always best. There are good and poor qualities of new wool.

Cotton corduroys are useful for boys' school suits. Good quality corduroy will stand considerable hard wear and is less expensive than wool, especially right now when the Army and Navy are taking wool for uniforms.

Good suiting feels springy and soft and at the same time is firm and sturdy. Poor-quality cloth feels hard and scratchy. It has no life.

Study the cut of the coat and trousers. Are they on the straight of the goods. And are all the garments full cut, with plenty of room for action as a boy grows? Seams should be at least three-eighths of an inch deep, even when there are no "let-outs" allowed.

The heiress and her three working men husbands. Her first one a mechanic, her second a bartender, and now the $3,000,000 heiress takes for her third a husky miner. Read about her romances in the illustrated feature in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Chicago Herald-American.

HOLLY THEATRE

Jack Benny, the greatest comedian of our time, makes his bow in Brandon Thomas' immortal comedy, "Charley's Aunt", which comes Sunday to the Holly Theatre.

Jack has been cast in the title role of this long-time laugh favorite, and it promises to be the most hilarious and most unusual of his career.

The story is that of the fellow who helps out two college pals by masquerading as his friend's aunt. While clothed as the aunt, he chaperons two young ladies and receives two proposals of marriage. Then, at the height of his impersonation, the real aunt comes upon the scene. How he and his friends get out of their predicament makes for one of the funniest comedy climaxes.

Preview audiences hailed Jack Benny's performance and have called him the funniest thing in skirts. Kay Francis is the real aunt who turns up at the wrong time and James Ellison is the friend who needs the help.

The Brandon Thomas farce from which this screen comedy has been adapted is one of the most popular stage plays of all time. It has been shown more times than any other play with the single exception of "Hamlet". Translated into seventeen different languages, it has scored a hit in every one. In the forty-nine years since it was first shown in London, there has always been at least one company playing "Charley's Aunt" somewhere.

An impressive cast of laugh provokers have placed in the other supporting roles to make this the funniest comedy of the year. Among the others in the cast are Edmund Gwenn, Anne Baxter, Reginald Owen, Arleen Whelan, Laird Cregar, Ernest Cossart, Richard Haydn and Morton Lowry.

Archie Mayo directed "Charley's Aunt" from the screen play by George Seaton. It was produced by William Perlberg.

SOIL DIRECTORS ADOPT A CHANGE

Affects Time and Place of Holding Regular Meetings

Directors of the Fenton Soil Conservation District at the last regular meeting voted to change the time and place of holding their regular monthly business meetings. In the future the regular meetings will be held in the Fenton Council room on the first Wednesday night of each month. The change is being made to give landowners a better chance to meet with the board if they desire and to transact business matters at the first part of each month. Formerly all meetings were rotated in the five townships of Argentine, Fenton, Tyrone, Deerfield and Hartland, which comprise the district, and were held on the second Wednesday of each month.

Director George Holcomb, of Deerfield township, was appointed general chairman for a dinner meeting to be held early in November for district cooperators and others who are interested in soil erosion control.

The popularity of the soil conservation district movement in other parts of the state and nation have produced 530 similar districts over the United States in the past three years and over 300 more communities have petitions filed with the state committee in their respective states. Cooperation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture agencies has been given to all organized districts; in addition many have secured state and local agency help for their communities.

In the Fenton District farmers have received similar help in their tree planting, pasture improvement, marshland utilization, strip cropping, diversion ditches, better crop rotations and woodland management. Applications for assistance are made to the District directors or to the county agricultural agent.

How to Take Care Of Your Lawn

Good home defense these days involves lead, but this time in the form of powdered lead arsenate on lawns where white grubs, the larvae of the June beetle, prevail.

Dead patches of lawn that fail to respond to frequent showers usually are the result of white grubs eating off the bluegrass roots. The remedy is to remake the lawn or to apply lead arsenate for lawn insurance and patch or reseed.

Applications recommended by E. I. McDaniel of the entomology department at Michigan State College vary according to how the lawn is progressing.

On a new lawn Professor McDaniel would apply a complete treatment of 10 pounds of lead arsenate to each 1,000 square feet. This should be mixed into the top inch of soil and should suffice for five years. It tends to discourage ants, earthworms, and is a deterrent to rose chafers and the dreaded Japanese beetle.

On old lawns the treatment should be split. Some can be applied in the fall and the rest of the application in the spring. Better coverage is attained by mixing the powder with dry soil or sand—10 pounds to a bushel. After application the powder should be flooded into the turf.

Three broods are recognized as prevalent in Michigan. The present attack on lawns has been made by the larval attack of Brood C. There is to be a full season of chewing in 1942 by larvae of Brood A, which is even more prevalent than the Brood C beetles or grubs.

World's Largest Carferry To Be Launched Sept. 18

Sixteen-year-old Helen A. Dow, of Midland, Mich., will sponsor the $2,000,000 City of Midland, new flagship of the Pere Marquette Railway Co.'s car ferry fleet, which is to be launched at Manitowoc, Wis., Sept. 18. A forest of timber and steel surrounds the giant hull as shipbuilders working in two daily shifts are readying the ship for the launching. Operation of the new car ferry across Lake Michigan, between Manitowoc and Ludington, Mich., starting early in 1941, will be another step in the program of transportation preparedness, initiated by the railroads as a whole to meet any increased demands of service resulting from national rearmament.

The new flagship of the Pere Marquette Railway Company's Lake Michigan fleet, the streamlined, all-steel City of Midland, largest, most modern, and one of the fastest car ferries in the world, is to be launched September 18, at the yards of the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Company, at Manitowoc, Wis.

This $2,000,000 ship will go into service, early in 1941, on one of the busiest water traffic lanes—the run between Manitowoc and Ludington, Mich.—transporting passengers, freight and highway vehicles across Lake Michigan.

Miss Helen A. Dow, 16-year-old daughter of Willard Henry Dow, President and General Manager of the Dow Chemical Company, of Midland, Mich., will sponsor the ship. She will name the vessel after her own home town, an important industrial center on the line of the Pere Marquette.

The ceremony, starting at 1:30 o'clock, under joint auspices of the Pere Marquette and shipbuilding company, will be witnessed by hundreds of guests of the two companies, by a large civic delegation from Midland and a party of executives from the Dow Chemical Company's Midland plant. Guests of the railway and shipbuilding company will come from other Michigan points, from Wisconsin and distant localities.

The guests will be predominantly public officials, industrialists, trans-lake shippers, shipbuilding company executives, representatives of railroad associations and officers and directors of railroads.

President G. D. Brookes, of Chesapeake and Ohio Lines, other officers and the directors of the lines, who are starting on their inspection trip over the Pere Marquette, will leave after the meetings of their respective boards to be held at Detroit, the morning of Tuesday, September 17. This party will comprise approximately sixty persons. A special train from Detroit, for guests arriving from the East, will be operated by the Pere Marquette.

Plans for the ceremony and reception of guests were developed by a committee composed of representatives of the railroad and shipbuilding company, functioning under direction of R. J. Bowman,

Vice President of the Pere Marquette.

The contract for the construction of City of Midland was awarded on November 22, 1939. Keel was laid on March 21, with L. H. Kent, of Ludington, Superintendent of Steamships of the Pere Marquette, driving the first rivet.

6,000,000 Pounds of Steel
When completed, approximately 6,000,000 pounds of steel will have been used in her construction; 700,000 rivets, 25 miles of electrical wire, 450 light fixtures, about two miles of pipes and about 6,800 feet—well over a mile—of rail, including guard rail.

In outward appearance, the ship will mark a radical departure from previous vessels of her type. With single streamlined stack, she will embody the modern streamline principle in all her superstructure.

Ranking with the safest of ships afloat, she is built to conform with all of the recent marine safety laws and regulations. She will have automatic sprinkler protection, automatic fire alarm system, signalling, communication and lifeboat facilities, gyroscope compass, radio compass, or direction finder, and every other type of device that is an aid to safe, efficient navigation.

Fireproof Throughout
Of all-steel construction, and with all-metal furniture, she will be fireproof throughout. A special feature of the construction is the division of her reinforced double-water-bottom hull by steel bulkheads into eleven water-tight compartments. She is the first passenger vessel on the Great Lakes to be so constructed.

City of Midland's overall length is 406 feet; her length between perpendiculars, 338 feet. She is 25 feet longer than the largest car ferries now operating on the Great Lakes. She has a 58-foot beam and a mold depth of 23½ feet. Her gross tonnage will be 6,000 tons; her displacement, 8,200 tons; her maximum mean draft, 17½ feet. Powered by twin uniflow steam engines, with a normal shaft horsepower of 6,000, the largest engines of their type ever constructed, she will have a service speed of 18 miles per hour.

Luxurious Accommodations
New luxury quality will be introduced into trans-lake passenger service when City of Midland goes into service. Her public spaces will include luxurious accommodations for passengers, with furnishings in the modern manner. She will have large dining room and lounge accommodations, along with 74 passenger staterooms, including 12 master staterooms, or parlor suites, having private shower and toilet facilities, and two smoking rooms, one for women and one for men.

Staterooms have been planned for most effective utilization of space. Upper berths and luggage compartments fold back into walls when not in use. Staterooms will have hot and cold running water.

The large, attractively decorated dining salon, situated forward on the main deck, will accommodate sixty persons at a sitting. It will be served from an adjoining modern galley, all-electric in its equipment.

Carries 376 Passengers
City of Midland's carrying capacity, per trip, will be 34 loaded freight cars, 50 automobiles and 376 passengers.

The arrangement for transporting passenger automobiles marks another innovation in car ferry construction. Automobiles will be carried on the upper deck—not the car deck as in the case of her sister ships—and will be loaded and unloaded by means of a special ramp. This will leave the car deck free for freight cars exclusively, increasing the ship's capacity both for autos and freight. The ship will have four railroad tracks on her main deck. Railroad cars, loaded and unloaded at the stern, will be handled directly by rail between yard tracks and car-ferry tracks. This obviates need for breaking bulk.

City of Midland, starting in all-year-round service early in 1941, will make two round-trips daily between Ludington and Manitowoc, where Lake Michigan traffic moves in greatest volume. In effect, a "bridge," connecting rail lines serving Michigan with those serving the Northwest, this route enables traffic to move in sizable volume to and from the Northwest without passing through the great ganglion of rails at Chicago, busiest rail terminal in the world. This is of especial importance, in the light of national rearmament and the measures being taken by railroads as a whole to meet any resulting increased demands for transportation. The Ludington-Manitowoc route is also the link in U. S. Highway No. 10. By means of it motorists avoid the long detour around the base of Lake Michigan.

Removing Salt Blocks That Lure Deer

Whatever remains of the six-pound salt blocks used to lure deer away from heavily traveled, chloride-treated upper peninsula roads during the summer will be picked up well in advance of the hunting season, the conservation department reports.

Scouting fears of some persons claiming the blocks could become places of ambush, field administration officials of the department say the ground will be well dug up, so that nothing will remain to attract the animals when they are legal game. Before the blocks were set out, many deer were killed on the roads near Newberry, where they were so numerous that they had become a serious night traffic hazard.

Working to Save Scenic Area

The Porcupine Mountains in the Upper Peninsula are a mecca for tourists who annually visit that section in the thousands. Many Holly people have been there and were delighted with the charm of the bold and rugged scenery. The forest area there is the last great stand of virgin hardwood in the United States, covering 165,000 acres (more than 250 square miles) on the south shore of Lake Superior in Gogebic and Ontonagon counties.

To save this area from being destroyed civic bodies in that locality have organized with that as their objective. In their campaign they are using an article written by Ben East and published last January in American Forests. It is entitled "Porcupine Wilderness", and gives a description of the great forest with a plea to guard it from destruction by ruthless logging methods. "The defense program," wrote Mr. East, "has so accelerated the rate of cutting that unless something is done at once this area will be irrevocably slashed in three years' time, destroying one of the finest and most beautiful stands of hardwood left in the nation."

Proclamation

Once bountifully blessed with mighty forests, in which wildlife abounded, and with luscious streams and clear lakes containing the world's greatest supply of inland fish, Michigan went through a hectic era in which our natural resources were stripped bare, our wildlife slaughtered and many species made extinct, our land left barren, our scenic features enervated.

In recent years, through education, through restocking and re-planting, through public and private cooperation to save and improve what was left, Michigan has regained her top-most ranking as a state of beauty, a mecca for sportsmen, and has become the nation's leading tourist and resort state. Our wildlife, woods, waters and scenic areas annually attract more visitors than any other state, and are the source of a revenue for our citizens and our government second only to the automobile industry.

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs now plan a Michigan Conservation Week from October 5 to 11, as the first annual effort to focus intensified national attention on our outdoor attractions and our state and private conservation programs. Special commemorative stamps will be issued by the conservation clubs, illustrating various aspects of Michigan conservation, such as deer, pheasant, trout and lakeshore scenes. Revenues from these stamps will help finance conservation programs, educational work and other projects of direct benefit to Michigan. The stamps will be distributed through the 118 affiliated organizations of the United Conservation Clubs, as well as through Garden clubs, schools and civic organizations.

I hereby proclaim the week of October 5 to 11, 1941, as Michigan Conservation Week, and call on our citizens to cooperate by purchasing the conservation stamps, using them on mail to advertise Michigan's natural attractions, and to join in the various public programs which will stress the value of conservation of our natural resources as an integral part of the national defense and as a practice which reflects most favorably to the general public benefit.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Michigan, this nineteenth day of August, in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred Forty-one, and of the Commonwealth, the One Hundred Fifth.

MURRAY D. VAN WAGONER, Governor
By the Governor: Harry F. Kelly, Secretary of State.

One week remains for farmers to file their requests with the conservation department for assistance in organizing Williamston plan hunting cooperative clubs, September 20 being the deadline. R. G. Hill, of the department's game division and Michigan State College extension service, said today.

To date, the department has received 54 applications covering 208,000 acres, Hill said, and the usual deadline rush is expected this week. Cooperative clubs used conservation department signs and regulations in controlled hunting arrangements for a half million acres of southern Michigan farm land during the 1940 season.

This Month's Star

By BETTY BARCLAY

These are cake days. Cooler weather makes baking a pleasure rather than a task, so home-made cakes are appearing in far greater quantity than during the summer.

A particularly delicious orange sponge cake with a flavorful filling becomes the star recipe for the month. If you want to assure yourself and your guests that it is entitled to such an honor, try the following recipe. And if you know of a better cake recipe, let me have it. Perhaps it too, will become a "Star."

Orange Sponge Cake
5 egg yolks
1 1/4 cups sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup water
2 cups cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
5 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Beat egg yolks, sugar and orange juice for 10 minutes with a rotary hand or machine beater. Add water and beat 2 minutes. Add flour, sifted with baking powder and salt. Beat about 1 minute, or only until the dry ingredients have been quickly and thoroughly blended into the mixture. Fold in the grated peel, and then the egg whites which have been stiffly beaten but not dry. Bake in a 9-inch tube pan, in moderate oven (350° F.) for 70 minutes.

For the filling take:
4 egg yolks
3/4 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon gelatin
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1/4 cup sugar
Mix egg yolks, 3/4 cup sugar and orange juice and cook in double boiler. When thick, add the gelatin and orange peel. Cool. Beat egg whites and add 1/4 cup sugar. Fold egg white mixture into orange custard. Spread on cake and sprinkle with coconut. Chill in refrigerator.

NEW POSTMASTER FOR DAVISBURG

Mrs. Cynthia Nelsey has been appointed postmaster as Davisburg to succeed the late William J. Garrison, whose death occurred several months ago. There were a number of applicants for the position which probably had something to do with the delay in filling the vacancy.

Mrs. Nelsey has been a resident of Davisburg for the past 14 years and has been active and influential in social and civic affairs.

Her husband, C. A. Nelsey, is proprietor of the hardware store at Davisburg, and the postoffice will be located in an addition to the building, now used for a department of the business.

The high mark for the Labor Day holiday period was set Saturday, Aug. 30, when 5,046 cars were transported across the Straits. A total of 19,776 cars were transported during the five-day period from Aug. 28 to Sept. 1, an increase of 3,703 vehicles, or 23.03 per cent, over the corresponding period last year.
