Live Stock Entries Break Record
At International Exposition Opening on Saturday

The International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show to be held from November 29 to December 6 in Chicago's huge International Amphitheatre will overflow a large area of the adjoining Stock Yards, where hundreds of carloads of choice cattle, sheep and swine will be displayed.
Officials of the Exposition announce that entries have thus far been received from prospective exhibitors in 37 states and four Canadian provinces, the largest number of states thus far ever represented.
All past records have been broken in the number of entries of baby beeves, lambs and pigs that will be shown this year by 554 farm boys and girls from 17 states in the junior classes of the Exposition. They will exhibit 825 head of steers, lambs and pigs of their own raising, an increase by a wide margin over any past year.
"The cattle entry for all divisions of the show, including both the purebred classes and steers, is at an all time record", says B. H. Heide, secretary-manager of the Exposition. Of the three principal beef breeds, the Shorthorn, Hereford and Aberdeen-Angus, which yield a major share of the country's finest meat cuts, Shorthorns will be shown by owners from 18 states and two provinces of Canada; Herefords will come from 19 states and Canada; and Aberdeen-Angus from 22 states and Canada.
Sheep will be sent to the show from 24 states and Canada, swine from 12 states, and draft horses from 15 states and two Canadian provinces.
All railroads serving Chicago have announced specially reduced fares from many points along their lines that will be in effect during the week of the Exposition.

For Homemakers

Good eating throughout life helps to build old-age health security, say members of the home economics extension staff at Michigan State College.
Present-day nutrition is said to offer an extra 10 years to the life of anyone who lives under its guidance. Best of all, these extra years can be added to life at its prime.
Good eating for older people differs in some ways from good eating for younger persons. There are three main things to keep in mind. First, an older person needs fewer calories than when he was younger because he uses less energy. His body mechanisms have slowed down—he doesn't work as hard or play as actively. The easiest way to tell, of course, whether too much food energy is being taken is to watch the scales. The best way to reduce food energy is to go slow no foods that supply little else than calories, such as rich desserts, pastries, many of the fats and rich dressings.
Calories may be reduced, but food must be planned so that minerals and vitamins are not cut down. Older persons need these in about the same amount as they always have. Therefore, older persons must continue to have plenty of protective foods in their diet, especially milk, fruit and vegetables, and some foods rich in vitamin B1.
Third, food for older persons must be easy to eat and easy to digest. Many things can be done in meal preparation to help. Fruits and tomatoes may be taken in the form of juices. Salad greens may be chopped up very fine. Vegetables may be cooked tender—even chopped up or sieved and served in purees or soups, taking care to conserve the water in which vegetables are cooked, however, to save valuable minerals and vitamins.

It is the very essence of love, of nobleness, of greatness, to be willing to suffer for the good of others. —Spencer.
The truest and surest way in which we can serve our fellow man is not so much to do anything for them, as to be the very truest, purest, noblest, being we know how. —Cobbe.

ROTARY CLUB ENTERTAINS FOOTBALL TEAM
On Monday last the Clarkston Rotary Club honored our athletes at the second annual Athletic Banquet. The affair was held at the Ganteen and a fine dinner was served. The chief speaker of the evening was Tom Harmon, sports announcer for WJR. Mr. Harmon gave a very instructive talk on football. The boys were surprised to hear this man, who had received more newspaper notice than any other Michigan star in this decade, disparage publicity for football players. He was particularly opposed to the common newspaper practice of singling out one player for attention. Harmon counseled the boys that football is very worthwhile when played for the love of the game and for the honor of a school, but the young man who goes into football, expecting material gain, is likely to be disillusioned. All in all, Harmon made a good impression on his audience, and his talk should be an inspiration to high school students interested in football as a career. Mr. Harmon's talk was short, due to the fact that he was scheduled to make an appearance in Detroit the same evening. Mr. Haas, who had introduced Tom Harmon, gave a talk afterward, in which he described how games are broadcast. He quoted some statistics on Harmon's fabulous football career, and told something of Harmon's prospects of a future in radio, now to be interrupted by Uncle Sam.
Songs were led by Mr. Robert Jones. Coach Thayer and Captain Bill O'Rourke spoke briefly on the season just concluded. Mr. Megee and Mr. Alger were in charge of the ceremonies.
The football men of the high school have asked this reporter to express their appreciation for this unusual treat, to the members of the Rotary Club. The boys say that they won't soon forget the dinner and evening, and, come next fall, they will be out there trying to translate their gratitude into football scores.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks North and daughter, Carol, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams.
The trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pelkey on Quillen St. burned on Sunday night about 9 o'clock. The trailer and contents were a total loss. Mr. and Mrs. Pelton are building a new home on the same street and were working in the basement when the fire started caused by a kerosene heater. Mrs. Pelton before her marriage was Miss Margaret Hutchinson.
An "old time get-together" was held at the home of Miss Josephine Sutton with Mrs. Charles Nolan Jr. as co-hostess on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The occasion was announcing the coming marriage of Miss Josephine Sutton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Sutton, to Edwin Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Watkins. The wedding will take place some time in February. Games were played during the evening after which refreshments were served on card tables. At each place was a tiny corsage of daisies and a tiny envelope enclosing the announcement.
The Pearl Sutton Missionary society will attend the first meeting of the Kindig revival meetings on Monday evening in a group and then go to Miss Josephine Sutton's home for the business meeting and refreshments. Miss Marjorie Oakes will be co-hostess. Sunshine Sisters will be drawn for the coming year also.
Mrs. Clarence Ingalsbee and Mrs. Robert Hoff of Saginaw are the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Stevens of Quillen St.
The Drayton Plains Men's Club annual ladies' night will be held in the school auditorium together with the regular meeting on Monday night, Dec. 1, at 8 o'clock. Very good entertainment and refreshments have been planned especially for the ladies. The committee for the occasion is Forest Gibson, entertainment; Earl Card and Charles St. John, refreshments. Plans for the annual newspaper sale have been completed. The date has been set for Saturday, December 13th, with Chester Huntley supervising.

Drayton Plains School

With all Thanksgiving programs completed, the Drayton school students are busy with the Christmas program plans.
The next assembly called the "Pet Show" will be presented by the seventh grade as a development of their literature work under the supervision of Mrs. L. E. Wiersema.
A basketball game between Drayton and Hadley opens the season for the year on Friday evening, November 28 at Hadley.
Mr. and Mrs. John J. Parson will present a dramatization of Washington Irving's famous story "Rip Van Winkle" on Monday evening, December 1, at 8 o'clock.
Love is never lost. If not reciprocated it will flow back and soften and purify the heart.—Washington Irving.
Give, if thou canst, an alms: if not, afford, instead of that, a sweet and gentle word.—Herrick.
