Egg Production Is Important Now

Extra Care Will Pay as War Demands Increase

It's not the fault of the hen if eggs get broken even before they leave the poultry house. With one of the major demands in war efforts calling for increased egg production and with egg prices high enough to pay well for feeding a flock, the care of eggs is important, according to K. D. Bailey, agricultural agent in Oakland County.

Frequent gathering of eggs is essential, poultry authorities point out. Broken eggs found in the nests usually indicate that eggs are not gathered often enough. Not only are the broken eggs a loss, but other eggs in the nest are dirtied.

Frequent egg collection also adds to egg quality. A trip to the hen house three or four times a day is considered essential for care of the flock including egg gathering. Storage of eggs in a reasonably cool place is recommended.

Litter in the nest must be adequate. Straw, shavings or excelsior can be used, changed often enough to keep the nests clean.

For Homemakers

Milk, fruit, meat, and vegetables have priority on the family table where good eating is uppermost in the homemakers' thoughts.

Farm families who raise a good share of these foods at home may enjoy more of these foods and still keep food bills moderate, according to nutritionists at M. S. C.

"Make Your Meals to Measure," is a recent publication that has new ideas in meal planning plus the recipes for preparing them. Both economy meals and moderate cost ones are included in the leaflet that was prepared by Roberta Hershey and Miriam Eads, nutrition specialists of home economics extension in cooperation with the state nutrition defense committee.

Michigan grown foods are featured in new and interesting ways that add zest to winter-time meals.

Baked cherry dumplings, steamed carrot pudding, stuffed spiced cabbage leaves, frankfurter crown with potato dressing, are a few of the tantalizing meals that have taste appeal and best of all are no strain on the family budget, yet help the homemaker in her search for a well-balanced diet.

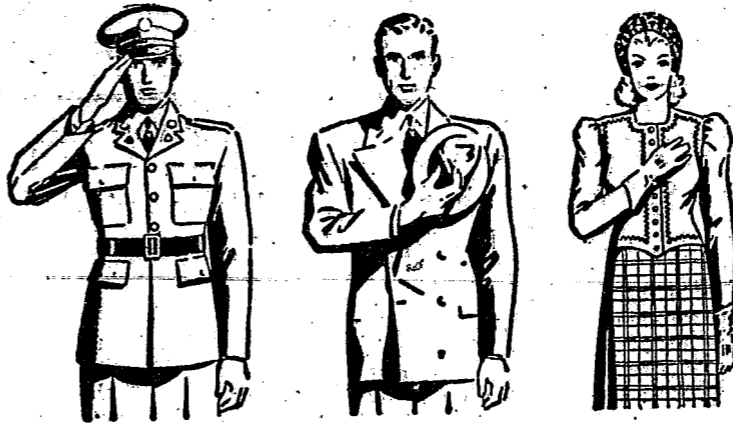

Farm and small town families who raise part of their food are in luck, say the nutritionists, for they can set a good table of wholesome home grown food at a cost less than when all is purchased.

Figures of Michigan farm folks show the value of home produced food to be $150 to $250 for a year. Already families are laying plans to give the garden a prominent place for the summer of 1942.

The home economics extension department is prepared to give wide distribution to this leaflet through home demonstration agents and the Bulletin Room at the college as a help in better food for Michigan families.

When most antiques were just junk. Quilt coverings worth only six cents a pound 50 years ago are now sold for as much as $20 a square foot. Read how a fortune may be kicking around in your own attic in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Every Patriotic American Salutes His Nation's Flag

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag, or when the flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention and salute. Those present in uniform should render the right hand salute. Those men - not in uniform should remove their headress with the right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the flag in a moving column is rendered as the flag approaches the spectator and is held until it has passed.

Treasury Notes Are Now Available

Make It Easier to Meet Income Tax Payments

To make it easier for taxpayers to meet the increased taxes required by the National Defense Program, the Treasury Department is offering for sale two series of notes, both dated August 1, 1941, and maturing Aug. 1, 1943.

In January of each year two new series will be provided so that a taxpayer can always purchase notes during the entire year in which he is receiving his income for use in payment of taxes due the following year. The reason for the two-year note is to permit a taxpayer, if he so desires, to begin saving in January of one year and continue through that year to save for his taxes due the following year.

All notes are sold at par and accrued interest. When presented in payment of income taxes they will be received at par and accrued interest up to and including the month in which such taxes are paid. Interest will not accrue beyond the maturity of the notes. If not presented in payment of income taxes, they will be redeemed for cash under certain specified conditions at the purchase price paid for the notes. In other words, the taxpayer, if he redeems the notes for cash, gets back just the amount he paid.

Complete information about these Treasury notes, will be found in a Treasury Department Circular available at local banks, Federal Reserve Banks and branches, or Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

Sugar rationing cards will soon be issued by the Government, and it is stated that where hoarding has been practiced and information can be obtained the persons having too large quantities of sugar in their possession will be obliged to "divvy" up.

Woodland Management Is Being Encouraged

Much Can Be Done to Increase Revenue

Many farmers cooperating with the Fenton Soil Conservation District, in woodland protection and the planting programs, are also cooperating on intensive forestry projects.

It is pointed out that Farm self-sufficiency is good business and sound economy at any time, but especially so during war times.

use of everything grown and available on the farm, and to produce additional things needed that can logically be grown, instead of "spending cash for these commodities, is largely a matter of good common sense and thrift.

Of the many forms of home-grown commodities, none is more commonly overlooked than woods products. For example, farmers all over the country are using steel fence posts despite large quantities of wood that frequently is available right on the farm.

With war days with us again, and with the increasing need for coal, steel, oil, gas, and other commodities for war purposes, it becomes not only a matter of self-sufficiency and economy, but also a matter of patriotic cooperation in the national effort to conserve these vital raw materials for military use.

Fortunately, there is ample information to show that these woods materials are not only cheaper for the farmer but just as good or better if properly prepared for use.

As a part of war time farm self-sufficiency program, all farmers should make an efficient use of "home grown" woods products.

Farm Leaders Plan Defense Measures

Co-ordination of Activities Is Essential Feature

The name of the State and county agricultural defense boards of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been changed to State and County U. S. D. A. War Boards by order of the Secretary of Agriculture, Claude R. Wickard.

The County U. S. D. A. War Board will function as the representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the field to realize the fullest contribution of the "farm front" to the war effort.

The membership of the Oakland County U. S. D. A. War Board is composed of Walter R. Cook, Oakland County A A A Chairman, who serves as Chairman of the War Board; Karl D. Bailey, county agricultural agent; Manley Young, representing the Farm Credit Administration, and Fred J. Beckman, representing the Pontiac Production Credit Association.

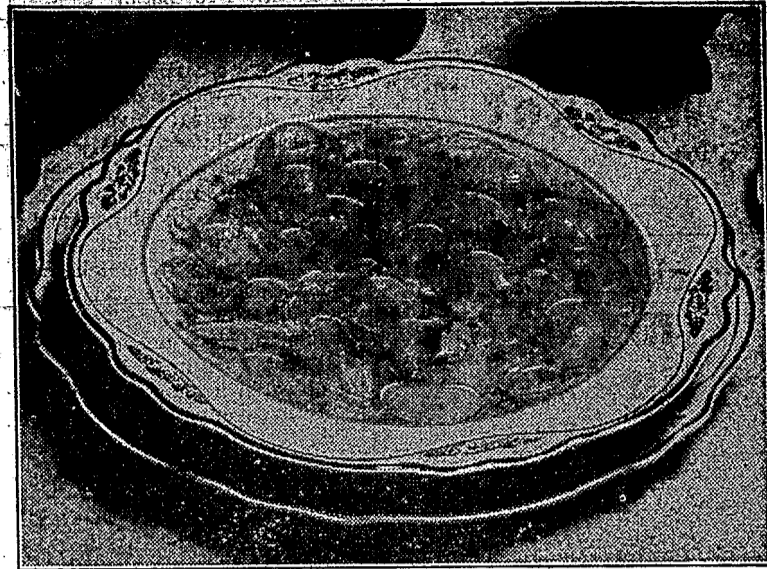

Rural Fire Protection Defense Project

Survey Expected to Save Thousands of Dollars

Every farm in Michigan becomes a cog in the statewide rural fire prevention campaign to be conducted in February under the sponsorship of the Michigan Council of Defense, county defense councils and the county U. S. D. A. war boards.

Major purpose of the survey is to prevent loss of food and materials that might be destroyed by fires on any of the state's 186,000 farms.

Some Sumptuous Soups

By BETTY BARCLAY

There are thousands, perhaps millions, of homes in which soup is seldom if ever served.

Why? It's easy to ask the question, but impossible to give the answer. Soup is an economical dish, easy to prepare, light, healthful, a wonderful "warmer" on a cold day and it can be varied as almost no other dish can.

Soup is an excellent balancer for any dinner. Through it, those who eat few greens, may be given everything from chopped parsley to peppers. It's a dish that should appear on every table at least twice a week.

Here are two recipes for soups made with Lima beans as an ingredient. One calls for dried Limas and the other for cooked dried Limas - which may be procured in cans almost anywhere.

Lima and Cabbage Soup

- 1 cup dried Limas
2 quarts cold water
1 end of pork shoulder
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 pound stewing beef, cut in small pieces
1 beef bone
1 onion, sliced
1 quart cabbage, sliced
1/2 teaspoon carrot, diced
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Cover Limas with cold water, bring slowly to boiling point, drain and rinse with cold water. Put in large kettle, add cold water, meat and bone, cabbage, onion, carrot, parsley and seasonings. Bring to boiling point and simmer 3 hours.

Savory Lima Soup
2 cups cooked, dried Limas
4 cups or 1 quart milk
2 tablespoons chopped carrot
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 slices onion
2 tablespoons butter or bacon fat
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Put Limas through food chopper. Heat milk in double boiler, add Lima's. Heat fat in frying pan; add onion and carrot and cook 5 minutes. Add to hot mixture, cook 10 minutes, then strain. Add salt, pepper and parsley.

Farmers Week At M. S. C.

Twenty-five major contests ranging from rural drama and Grange chapter singing to turkeys, baby chicks, colts, swine, beef calves, sheep and horse pulling dot the calendar of the 27th annual Farmers' Week program scheduled at Michigan State College February 2-6, inclusive.

Although Monday's program is confined largely to dairy and poultry meetings, visitors will see the start of assembling topnotch crops and livestock from all sections of the state according to R. W. Tenny, program chairman. Eggs and crops exhibits of 4-H club boys and girls are to be assembled in a show Monday forenoon.

Active competition begins Tuesday, Feb. 3. Colts and beef calves are to be in the judging ring of the livestock pavilion. Farmers will begin scoring in the rifle shooting contest which continues Wednesday and Thursday. Radio amateurs compete, as well on Thursday afternoon. Drum majors will strut in the field house Tuesday morning and afternoon. In the meantime, visitors will be strolling through the baby chick and the turkey shows. In the evening the heavyweight draft teams will pull in the Jenison field house program.

Turkeys are to be judged Wednesday and Thursday. Also on Wednesday, judges will be scanning live hogs and swine carcasses in the morning and pens and individual lambs in the afternoon. Farmers' entering deer antlers and visitors showing amateur outdoor pictures are to bring in their entries before Wednesday noon for the Conservation Institute competition. Farmers in county livestock judging teams will compete at 2:30 p. m.

Thursday's competitions include rifle shooting and the radio amateurs. Friday's contests include crowning of the 1941 Michigan onion king as part of the muck farmers' program. Rural drama finals will be staged morning and evening, plus the Grange singing contest.

While hundreds of the 7,600 former CCC enrollees trained as truck and tractor operators in Michigan's state forest CCC camps now are engaged actively or indirectly in World War II, many needy veterans of World War I are enrolling in the civilian conservation camps as replacements.

Veterans' applications for admission are being accepted now at any of the state's four CCC camps, or they may be filed with the Veterans' Administration in Detroit. Enrollments are conducted on the last Friday of each month. Veterans' camps are at Higgins lake and Wolverine, while junior white camps are located at Cusino and Paradise.

CCC enrollees who wish to be truck and tractor operators are given daily classroom instruction for several weeks. Nearly all CCC-operated tractors in Michigan are of the track type, and hundreds of young enrollees trained on them require a much shorter training period than other enlisted men in learning to operate similar machinery in the army.

Say It With Sauce

By Frances Lee Barton

UNDOUBTEDLY that ice cream, pudding or cake you intend making will be very delicious and relished by all in your home. But your compliments will be doubled if you cover the dessert with Chocolate Sundae Sauce. It is simple to make. Requires but four ingredients, and about eight minutes of your time.

By the way, this sauce would be excellent to use for that party you may be planning.

Chocolate Sundae Sauce
2 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate; 1/2 cup water; 1/2 cup sugar; dash of salt.

Add chocolate to water in small saucepan, bring to a boil, and cook gently 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Add sugar and salt, and boil 4 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Serve hot or cold on ice cream, puddings, or cake. Makes 1 cup sauce.

This sauce may be kept in an air-tight container in refrigerator and used as desired for hot chocolate drinks.

SO WAR NEEDS MAY BE MET

★ IN 1941, about $300,000,000 was spent by defense industries in Michigan for new plants, new machinery and equipment, in preparation for war-materials production. That is a big sum of money.

★ Nearly 10 per cent as large, the $28,250,000 spent by Michigan Bell for new construction was a record figure because of the same urgent defense needs. When industry expands for rearmament, it reaches for the telephone.

★ To meet the greatest demand for service in history, new telephone buildings, cables, and central office equipment were rushed into operation.

★ Telephone people had a big job in 1941, but surmounting that problem only served to condition them better to face the more difficult task in 1942. Increasing shortage of materials is hampering their efforts to meet civilian requests as readily as in the past, but they are confidently determined that every war need will be met.
