Consumers to Register Next Week at Schools

Registration for War Rationing for individual consumers who are residents of the Clarkston School District will take place at the Clarkston School on May 4, 5, 6, and 7. The hours of registration will be between 8:30 a. m. and 9:00 p. m. on Monday and between 8:30 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

School will be closed on Monday, May 4, and all who can possibly do so are urged to register on Monday. Any member of a family over eighteen years of age may register for the whole family. A family is defined as two or more persons living together in one household related by blood, marriage, or adoption.

Students will be supplied with blanks on which a family may assemble data needed for registering the whole family.

Each person registered will receive a War Rationing Book which will serve as the basis for rationing sugar and any additional commodities that the government may see fit to ration on the same plan.

On Tuesday and Wednesday there were 60 registered at the Clarkston School for a War Rationing Book. Of these 60, eighteen were retailers and the other 42 were commercial users of sugar, including restaurant and tavern owners.

Clarkston Literary Club Met Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. William Kyle Was the Hostess

On Tuesday afternoon, the Clarkston Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. William Kyle. There were sixteen present. Mrs. Garnet Poulton, a new member was welcomed.

After the regular business meeting three very fine papers were read. Mrs. Ira Jones gave a paper on "The New Americans"; Mrs. Lucy King read about Gutzon Borglum and his work and Mrs. Forrest Jones read a paper on "What Will Tomorrow's World be like?"

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon, May 12th, at the home of Mrs. C. H. Souby.

Clarkston Students Make Fine Showing

Last Friday Mr. Orlo Willoughby went to Ann Arbor with three of his orchestra students, where they took part in the annual solo and ensemble musical festival.

The musicians are rated in five divisions and the three Clarkston entrants were placed in the first three divisions. Betty Ash who played a piano solo as well as accompanying the other two students was placed in the first division which is rated as excellent; Stanley Perrin who played a trumpet solo received a second division rating which means 85 to 95%, and Lewis Benfield played a trombone solo and was placed in the third division which is 85 to 87%. All three did exceedingly well and Clarkston is proud of them.

Clarkston Locals

The police department has not been kept very busy with the parking problem on Clarkston's main street. Town residents, farmers and transients have cooperated and all seem satisfied with the parallel parking. Among those who have commented favorably on the rulling is George D. King, president of the local bank.

Professor Brumm to Be Commencement Speaker

The Clarkston High School Seniors have been very fortunate in securing John L. Brumm, Professor of Journalism at University of Michigan, as the guest speaker at the Commencement exercises to be held in the school auditorium on Thursday evening, June 11th.

Professor Brumm is a well known commencement speaker and is well liked by young people.

The students who are acting as the commencement committee are: Stewart Baynes, Paul Sutton, Malvina Smith, Royal McGill, Alice Rose and Virginia Tondou.

We regret the omission of William Miller's name from the list of Clarkston High School graduates that was published last week. We didn't wish to cause William any worry, and will be glad to see him in the reception line on Commencement night, June 11th.

Excerpts from Letter From Jack Cubley

The News received a letter this week from Jack Cubley who enlisted in the U. S. Navy and is stationed at Great Lakes, Ill. Many will be interested in what Jack had to say:

"We have to get up every morning at 5:20 and retire at 9:30 every night. It is not hard for me to do this because I kept those hours while I was home. Of course there was one minor change. I got up at 9:30 in the evening and went to bed at 5:20 in the morning, but as I said that is only a minor change.

I am in quarantine for three weeks and cannot have any visitors or leave the camp during that time. Since being here we have had two shots and a vaccination and we have to have six more shots before the end of our quarantine period.

We have taken some examinations to qualify for school and we are due to take some more next week. If we pass the examinations we have a choice of going to school or to sea.

In our company there are two platoons. I am a member of platoon No. 1. There are about 120 men in a company. Our company graduates June 5th and if everything goes well I hope to graduate with them.

If you like you might publish my address in the paper and tell everyone I would like to hear from them."

Sincerely,
Jack Cubley

Junior Literary Club Met in Drayton

At the Home of Mrs. Charles St. John

The Clarkston Junior Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles St. John in Drayton Plains on Tuesday evening. All members and the sponsor were present.

After the regular business meeting, at which the plans for the Mother's Day Party at the home of Mrs. Harold Weston on the evening of May 12th were completed, a very fine paper was read by Mrs. James DenHerder on "It was only a Tooth". The group then listened to the President's Fireside Chat.

At the close of the evening the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Friends of Mrs. Herman Hibner will be sorry to learn that she had the misfortune to catch her heel in a rug on the floor in her home on Tuesday of last week which caused her to fall and suffer a fractured hip.

The "Salvage for Victory" committee continues to work hard in order that every available piece of scrap material will find its way into the defense channels. The Boy Scouts in charge of Mr. A. C. Waters make collections each Saturday. You are not obliged to donate this to the Scouts if you want to sell it, just see that you have done your part towards getting it on its way to the defense factory.

If you have any collection that you would like to give to the Scouts on Saturday call Clarkston 3893.

Oakland County Trying To Conserve Rubber

"Let's Ride Together, neighbor!" Such might well be the theme of Oakland County citizens who are registering daily at the swap-ride centers in their communities. Realizing the serious problem of men getting to war plants despite the rubber shortage, Oakland County stores and business establishments have patriotically offered their premises as swap-ride centers.

During the week registration cards and posters are being distributed to these centers. Everyone wishing to alternate the use of his car, to arrange for a ride, or to carry passengers, is urged to stop in at his community swap-ride center and fill out a registration card. Any Oakland County store or place of business wishing to aid in the transportation conservation program is urged to contact the War Transportation Conservation Committee, 416 Peoples State Building, Phone 4-2881.

Already serving in the movement are the Pure Oil Station in Keego Harbor, Martin Insurance Agency in Rochester, Burke's Shoe Store in Walled Lake, Drayton Drug Store in Drayton Plains, Beedle's Drug Store in Waterford, O'Dell's Drug Store in Clarkston, Griggs Drug Store and Schick's Grocery in Lake Orion, Crissman Pharmacy in Rochester and Horst Drug Store in Auburn Heights.

Congressman Dondero To Seek Re-election

High Ranking Member of Committees on Education and Rivers and Harbors

Rep. George A. Dondero, who has represented the 17th Congressional District of Michigan since its creation in 1932, this week announced his intention to seek re-election on the Republican ticket.

Under the procedure followed in the House of Representatives for its organization, committee assignments and rankings are based upon seniority attained by continuous service. Like all other newly elected Representatives, Rep. Dondero started at the bottom when the people of the 17th District first sent him to Congress. Today, he is the ranking member of the Committee on Education. His service in the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, in which he ranks near the top, has won national recognition.

Throughout the recent hearings on the St. Lawrence Seaway, Rep. Dondero's interrogation of witnesses appearing before the Committee on Rivers and Harbors was instrumental in bringing out much essential information on this project.

Rep. Dondero has been a consistent opponent of needless and non-defense expenditures and has frequently been instrumental in defeating non-essential projects involving millions of dollars.

With reference to the prosecution of the war with the Axis Powers, Rep. Dondero has accorded full support to President Roosevelt, voting for all funds requested for our armed forces and stressing the need for national unity.

Rep. Dondero has recently secured passage of highly desirable amendments to such legislation as that authorizing Federal aid to communities for the construction of school buildings and public facilities in defense areas.

Clarkston Locals

Friends of George Slayton will be sorry to hear that he almost cut off the top of his middle finger on his right hand on Tuesday night when he was repairing his lawnmower.

Last Friday evening a group gathered at the Ivan Rouse home on Waldon Road to help celebrate the twelfth birthday of Ivan Rouse Jr. A lovely luncheon was served and the evening was spent playing appropriate games. Among the relatives present were Ruby and Shirley Powell.

First Aid

The job's too big for one to do. It seems the task won't e'er be thru. And as I all the angles weigh It's much too big to start today.

In thought I find I have some doubt If I have muscles tough and stout, Enough; and do I understand About the job I have at hand.

Now if I'm one who wouldn't ask Someone to help perform this task, Then there's a reason I should fear The tasks before me thru the year.

But ever ready folks I find Who do not ever seem to mind, To me their brains and sinew lend Some job to do just now and then.

All nature's forces too I've found Will aid the man who tills the ground, Will feed the birds who ask for feed, Will push the sprouts from every seed.

Nature waits for man to ask For help to do some simple task, That looked too big for just a man And jobs he doesn't understand.

2-Day Conference On Conservation

 Thursday, May 14, with registration from 12:00 noon to 1:00 p. m. The first lecture will start promptly at 1:00 p. m. with Miss Helen M. Martin speaking on "The Foundations of Oakland County." Miss Martin tells of the romance of Nature's slow, gradual change of the face of the continent, an Autograph of Time which the lakes themselves in main part have written. Her story of geology makes an ideal beginning for one's interest in conservation.

"On the second day of the Conference, a field trip is planned on which the natural resources of our county will be visited under the guidance of the Michigan Department of Conservation. Mr. Robert McClure of Royal Oak will be Field-Trip Leader. Miss Helen Martin will go to show us the points of geologic interest; Mrs. Marjorie Bingham, Botanist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, and President of the Michigan Wildflower Association will tell the group about the wildflowers and trees and plants we will see on our trip; Mr. Walter Nickell, Ornithologist and Naturalist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, and President of the Detroit Audubon Club will tell the group about the birds we see on the trip and can answer almost any question concerning the outdoors; Mr. Leonard Braamse, Soil Extension Conservationist, will show us the Run-off plot in Livingston County and the actual demonstration of contour farming or strip-cropping. Mr. Russell Hill, Extension Specialist in Farm Game, of the Michigan State College, will show us work in reforestation and development of plans to encourage wildlife, which was begun last fall, and which show how such plans fit into the farm program. We hope to be successful in arranging bus transportation for this trip through Oakland County, one of the most beautiful counties in Michigan, with its many lakes and streams and hills and valleys. We have been invited to visit the Edsel Ford estate near White Lake and Milford. We plan to visit a stand of virgin pine and some Indian mounds, and the largest gravel pit in the whole world, and also farming areas that are more suited to recreational areas than farming."
 All meetings are open to anyone who is interested.

Old Favorite Honey Recipes

There are all sorts of things you can do to meet the sugar rationing cheerfully. It is really a challenge to cooks and homemakers to get along with substitutes—and we speak from experience—you may like the delicate flavor of honey and the keeping qualities of cookies, the stiff, firm, keep-over-night whipped cream cake topping or puffs and the creamy salad dressing made with honey better than the sugar kind.
 By request we will publish a few tried and true ones during the coming weeks.

Honey Drop Cookies
 ¾ cup honey
 ¼ cup shortening
 Dash of ginger, cinnamon and cloves
 1 egg, well beaten
 ½ teaspoon soda in 2 tble water
 1 cup chopped raisins
 1½ to 2 cups flour
 Heat the honey and shortening. Add the seasonings and cool. Add soda dissolved in hot water, raisins and flour to make a stiff dough. Drop by spoonfuls and bake in a moderate oven.

Honey Pumpkin Pie
 1 cup honey
 1½ cups pumpkin
 Ginger, cinnamon and salt
 3 eggs, well beaten
 1 to 1½ cups rich milk or cream
 Mix ingredients in the order given and bake in one crust as regular pie. This is a large pie and very rich and firm, keeping well overnight in a cool place.

Honey Fruit Dressing
 ¾ cup pineapple juice drained from gems
 ¼ cup lemon juice
 ¼ cup mild honey
 Mix well and pour over assorted fruits. Nice on cocktail fruits or mixed fruits, oranges, bananas, pears and peaches to serve for supper with cookies.

Honey Date Bars
 1 pound chopped dates
 1 cup chopped nuts
 3 eggs
 1 cup honey
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1 cup flour and pinch of salt
 Beat eggs, add honey. Sift flour and baking powder, add dates and nuts and fold into first mixture. Pour into flat greased pan about ½ inch thick and bake in a moderate oven about 45 minutes. Cut into bars and wrap in waxed or oiled paper and pack in covered jar at least 2 weeks to ripen. If possible, roll in powdered sugar before serving. Will keep well for months.

The writer has never had much success with but one honey cake (outside of fruit cakes) but that one has served at least three generations and is so elastic that a recipe is somewhat difficult. Sometimes it was baked in a huge dripping pan and cut in squares and served warm. Again, for unexpected company, it was baked quickly in iron gem pans and called drop cakes. These were topped with candied honey thinned to spread with a spoonful of thick sweet cream and a few colored caraway candies on top. Here is the basic recipe:
 1 cup honey
 1 cup sour cream (sour milk and add shortening)
 1 teaspoon soda
 ½ teaspoon cream tartar
 1 cup raisins (if we had them)
 Flour to follow the spoon

Honey Orange Filling
 1 tablespoon flour
 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 2 tablespoons water
 2 egg yolks, well beaten
 ½ cup honey
 ¼ cup orange juice
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 tablespoon butter
 Bit of grated orange rind
 Mix thickening, honey and eggs smooth in the double boiler, add the juices slowly, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened and add butter and grated rind. Cool and spread between layers of cake, graham crackers, or makes a nice sweet sandwich or topping for pudding.

Honey Applebutter Cake
 ¾ cup honey
 3 tablespoons shortening
 1 cup apple butter
 1 cup raisins
 Scant two cups flour
 1 teaspoon soda
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 Cream shortening and honey Sift soda and baking powder with flour, add raisins, applebutter and mix but lightly with shortening and honey. Bake in a loaf tin about 45 minutes. This has neither eggs or sugar and keeps well. Thick applesauce may be used but add spices

How the nation's
"War Time"
 is conserving
ELECTRIC POWER
 for Industry

Last February 9th, the nation advanced its clocks and watches one full hour "for the duration." People ask us—"What has the adoption of War Time meant in actual saving of electric power?"
 The huge turbo-generator you see above produces seventy-five thousand kilowatts of electricity—enough to take care of all the electric service requirements for a quarter of a million average families. A single one of these machines, complete, costs one-and-a-half million dollars, not counting transmission or distribution equipment to handle the current it produces. These great generators are put "on the line" as needed to meet peak-load requirements for electric power. Prior to February 9th, in the late afternoon, the demand for electricity from our power plants began to rise rapidly as lights were turned on, and electric ranges started cooking the evening meal. This simultaneous demand for power—from homes, stores, and factories—resulted in a high "peak" load, because lighting and cooking came together.
 Since February 9th—after the nation changed to War Time—lights are turned on later. The home lighting load has been separated from the commercial lighting and cooking load, and fewer machines like the one above are needed to meet the evening "peak." It is estimated that our evening 30-minute peak has been reduced 50,000 to 75,000 kilowatts by the change to War Time. This releases valuable generating capacity needed by industry for the manufacture of war materials. Incidentally, The Detroit Edison Company's total generating capacity is now 5½ times greater than at the close of World War I. The Detroit Edison Company.

What terrible power turns living men into Zombies... mindless slaves who must obey the will of their masters. HOLLY THEATRE

Wallace Beery was made an honorary sergeant of the U. S. tank service when he filmed scenes with regular troops at Fort Ord, Calif., for "The Bugle Sounds," Metro-Goldwin-Mayer drama of the new mechanized force, which opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre.

The star appears as a veteran sergeant in the picture, much of which was filmed at Fort Knox, Ky., in the war games in Louisiana, and at Fort Lewis, Wash., and at Fort Ord.

He worked with a group of regulars handling 20 huge tanks at Fort Ord, under command of Col. William Tow. The picture was filmed with cooperation of the War Department, with Captain Arthur W. Fields of Washington as technical adviser.

In the featured cast with Beery are Marjorie Main, Lewis Stone, George Baneroff, Henry O'Neill and Donna Reed, with the supporting players including Chill Wills, William Lundigan, Tom Dugan and Guinn Williams.

The story, with its background of actual army life, presents Beery as a cavalry sergeant with 19 years of service on his record. He becomes disgusted when the cavalry is dismounted to service with the armored tanks and his anger drives him to insubordination. A court martial decrees a dishonorable discharge and he goes out in disgrace.

When it is learned that saboteurs are organized to destroy a train load of tanks, Beery captures them single-handed, restoring himself in the eyes of his superior officers, and also in those of his fiancée for 19 years, played by Miss Main. Donna Reed and Lundigan have the youthful romantic roles.

On Guard

He doesn't carry a rifle or drive a tank. But night and day the telephone line patrolman does guard duty on a vital sector of the defense front—the Nation's communications system.

He spends his working hours driving through city or country, climbing poles, walking alleys, going over fences—always on the watch. If he locates any source of telephone trouble, he either repairs it on the spot or immediately reports it. His job is to prevent service interruptions before they can happen.

All telephone men and women realize their responsibility in maintaining and operating the nerve system that links our armed forces and the industries back of them. In spite of material shortages that make it increasingly difficult to meet service demands as promptly as in the past, they are determined that every war call will go through.

The Golden Text (Psalms 9:16) is: "The Lord is known by the judgement which he executeth; the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Galatians 6:7): "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.542): "Sin will receive its full penalty, both for what-it is and for what it does. Justice marks the sinner, and teaches mortals not to remove the waymarks of God. To envy's own hell, justice consigns the lie which, to advance itself, breaks God's commandments."
