Children's Photos to Be Featured in The Clarkston News

Sponsored by the Clarkston News—To Be Known as "Clarkston's Citizens of Tomorrow"

In co-operation with the famous Woltz-Allen Studios, of Detroit and Des Moines, Iowa, appointments for sittings will be made through the representatives of the Woltz-Allen Studios, who will begin calling today at the homes in Clarkston.

All photographs for use in this new feature will be taken at the Independence Town Hall, Wednesday, May 20, free of charge, and with no obligation to the parents. In case of pouring rain, photographs will be taken the following day.

Pictures taken will appear in the Clarkston News. However, parents may purchase as many prints as they desire. Only children six years of age, or under, who have not been photographed within the past six months will be selected.

The Clarkston News is pleased to be able to make it possible for you to have a portrait sitting of your child taken at no cost to you, and we hope that you will avail yourselves of this opportunity to obtain a sitting so that your child's photograph may also appear in this new feature.

Remember the date—Pictures will be taken Wednesday, May 20, 1942, at the Independence Town Hall. Watch for the representative on your street to get your free appointment ticket.

Your Cooperation Is Requested

Dog owners in Clarkston are asked to cooperate with the police department if they want to keep their pets. Every dog owner must see that his dog is kept on his own property, either by leash or by training. Your neighbor's garden must not suffer because your dog is allowed to run loose. Several complaints have been made and steps must be taken to protect the rights of the people.

Annual Poppy Day Will Be May 23

New Meaning This Year With War Again Upon Us

New names on America's roll of honored dead give new meaning to the memorial poppy this year, members of the American Legion Post pointed out as they worked on final arrangements for the distribution of the little red flowers Saturday, May 22.

"Wearing a poppy is the individual way of honoring the men who have sacrificed their lives in the nation's service," said Lyman Girst, local commander. "Ever since the first World War the poppy has been worn in tribute to the men who gave their lives in that conflict. Now new names are being inscribed among America's heroic dead. The poppy is for them, too. It is a symbol of our sorrow and pride. It is a pledge that we will always remember them and serve on in the cause for which they died."

"The poppy springs from the blood and tears that are the price of victory—the price of freedom in this world of conquest and oppression. Again and again Americans have had to pay this price to win and maintain their existence as a free nation. When we wear the poppy this year we will be showing that we are not shrinking from paying that great price once more in order that we may pass on to Americans to come the heritage of a free America."

"As we honor those who give their lives, we should think, too, of those who sacrifice health and strength, and of the families left in need because a father or son has served his country. They are still within the reach of our help. Let us be generous in our contributions for the poppies. Every penny of the money given goes to support the work the American Legion and the Auxiliary are doing for the disabled and dependent families of the first World War and of the present conflict."

Nurses' Aides Receive Caps

Patients in Oakland county hospitals are receiving extra care from the thirty-three Red Cross Nurses' Aides who recently were presented their caps in an impressive ceremony climaxing completion of an extensive training course in Pontiac General hospital and St. Joseph Mercy hospital.

The Nurses' Aides are sponsored jointly by the American Red Cross and the office of civilian defense and is a strictly volunteer service. It is a boon to hospitals, relieving staff members of minor tasks and enabling them to devote more time and skill to the more important duties. Mrs. E. L. Bradley is chairman of this service in Oakland county.

Completing the course were the following women from Pontiac, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Waterford and Keego Harbor: Mrs. E. F. Bennett, Mrs. Gertrude Compton, Mrs. Julian Fray, Fontie-Claire Mahannah, Mrs. Milton Miles, Mrs. Cordelia Petrie, Mrs. Thomas J. Reigel, Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. R. H. Soules, Mrs. Irene Carrigan, Mrs. George Cary, Virginia Hills, Patricia Kates, Mrs. Wayne Stricklin, Mrs. Clarence Sullivan, Mrs. J. H. Troyer, Mrs. Arthur Voorheis, Mrs. Clarence Waters, Mrs. Orval Blake, Mrs. Francis Blizard, Mrs. James Dorsey, Mrs. Marion Haynie, Mrs. Harold Kirvan, Mrs. Doris Manns, Mrs. Harry Menzies, Mrs. Fred Read, Mrs. Lyman Girst, Mrs. G. W. Gaches, Mrs. Herbert Cador, Mrs. Virginia Grovagal, Mrs. A. G. Hallow, Betty Lou Jones and Mrs. W. J. Preece.

Say It Now

His Mother didn't seem so dear To him; when he knew she was near, He never dreamed there'd come a day When mother too would pass away. It never seemed he could believe That his internal self could grieve So much; and yet that it could live. To have her back what he would give.

When she was here he didn't pay Tributes to her, he does today, Nor was he very much concerned About the things from life she'd learned.

She was eccentric, she was old, Repeated things that she had told, And couldn't do things anymore That she had done long years before.

But now she's gone how he will tell How she could make the grandest jell, And he will praise her to the skies How she could bake the sweetest pies. How mother longed these words to hear From someone's lips when she was near.

So let's not wait these words to say Until our mother's passed away. Robert C. Beattie. (All rights reserved)

Bank Interest Is Decreased

Elsewhere in the News this week is carried the notice of savings interest reduction by the Clarkston State Bank to 1%.

Officials at the bank explain that this rate, which is the prevailing savings rate among banks at the present time, is due to the almost complete stoppage of demand for loans. Building loans are apparently out for the duration. Automobile and household items are also under ban. So, until conditions change, bank surplus funds will have to be invested in government bonds and held in cash.

To continue the idea of getting out of debt and staying out of debt, your attention is called to the recent Reserve Bank ruling "W", which says among other things: "To keep the cost of living from spiraling upward, we must discourage credit and installment buying, and encourage the paying off of debts, mortgages and other obligations for this promotes savings, retards excessive buying and adds to the amount available to the creditors for the purchase of War Bonds."

Wedding in Methodist Church

The wedding ritual was read on Saturday night by the Rev. W. Harold Pailthorp before the altar, uniting in marriage Mr. Robert Trumble of Center Line and Miss Phyllis Class of Royal Oak, Michigan. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John O. Larsen of Royal Oak.

Salvage for Victory

The scrap in the Clarkston area at the close of the last drive amounts to approximately 6½ tons the local committee reports. Everyone in the district has cooperated and are going to continue to save all scrap material for the next collection which will take place in the very near future. This is one way the people can all take part in the war effort.

Patricia Stites Made Carnival Queen

14 Year Old at Waterford Gets 800 Votes

A 14 year old ninth grader, Patricia Stites, reigned as queen of the Waterford school carnival Friday night when she received about 800 votes of a thirteen hundred total.

President of her class, Patricia won the recent school declamation contest, and placed second in the district contest. She is a Girl Scout and according to her mother, Mrs. James Stites, her hobbies are baseball and dogs. Although she claims 14 years, Patricia has celebrated only three birthdays in her life—she's one of those leap year babies.

The carnival was declared by far the most successful ever held at the school by Donald McComb, director, who is boys' athletic coach at the school. Proceeds amounted to $100 and will go to purchase athletic equipment for the school.

Last Month Driest April on Record

This Is Report Made by Fenton Soil Con. District

The month of April proved to be the driest of all Aprils since records have been kept in the Fenton Soil Conservation District. There was only one inch of total rainfall during the month, which was the smallest amount of precipitation to be recorded for any of the previous years, since 1928 when measurements were started. On April 6, '42 of an inch of rain was measured by the automatic rain gauge which is located on the Burton Street farm in Tyrone township. The only other precipitation that was recorded during April was four days later on April 10, when there was snow equivalent to .28 of an inch of rainfall. While the snow actually amounted to about 4 inches in depth, the snow is measured by weight and is recorded in inches of rainfall. The highest April rainfall recorded in the Fenton District was 3.49 inches in 1939. In contrast to a dry April, a record rainfall of 3.5 inches was made in March this year. In addition to rainfall, records are kept in the Fenton District on soil and water losses from various types of land cover and different methods of cultivation.

Despite the difficulty of preparing land for crops, some farmers consider a warm and dry April a good omen to harvest large grain crops later in the summer. Many farmers and Soil Conservationists point out a good way to have moisture for your crops is to conserve it by plowing and planting your small grain and row crops on the contour, or with the hill. This additional moisture which is held back by the rows' oftentimes will make several bushels more grain and will prevent much waste of top soil and soil minerals. Also, the lime fertilizer and manure which have been applied to sloping fields will not be washed off.

HOLLY THEATRE

'Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are with us again—and funnier than ever! Clad in chaps, spur-bedecked boots and ten-gallon hats, Universal's star comedians hit a new comedy high in "Ride 'Em Cowboy", which opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre. "Ride 'Em Cowboy" is the most pretentious and best of their riotous vehicles.
The story takes Abbott and Costello from their berths as hot-dog vendors at a Long Island rodeo, shanghai's them into Arizona and establishes them as cowpokes on a dude ranch. They become entangled in a mesh of feminine pulchritude, wild steers, bucking broncos and last, but not least, a tribe of Indians. And that's not all. Running throughout the offering are two romantic threads. One features eye-filling, talented Anne Gwynne with Dick Foran and Johnny Mack Brown. The other is highlighted by the bow-and-arrow wedding of the cherubic Costello and the plump Jody Gilbert.
Other notables in the cast include Samuel S. Hinds, The Merry Macs and Ella Fitzgerald. Musical specialties are contributed by The Hi-Hatters, The Buckaroo Band and the Ranger Chorus of 40.
The sagebrush idea was a happy thought on the part of Abbott and Costello's bosses at Universal, for it provides the zanies with every possible opportunity to parade their guffaw-generating ability. But they are not the only ones taking advantage of the western setting, for Cameraman John Boyle has broadened his own artistic prestige by his expert filming of the wide open spaces.
"Ride 'Em Cowboy", an original story by Edmund L. Hartmann, was adapted by Harold Shumate and prepared as a screen play by True Boardman and John Grant.

For Homemakers

Sugar continues to make news and history but it isn't necessary to dip into the sugar supply to sweeten many of the normal Michigan meals. Suggestions from the home economics extension service at Michigan State College indicate the several ways a cook can turn to save sugar.
One cup of refined white sugar can be replaced by one cup of maple sugar, maple syrup or honey or by 1 1/2 cups of sorghum syrup or cane syrup or by two cups of corn syrup.
In the lemonade season a handy recipe can be used without disturbing the sugar. A tasty hot weather drink includes 2 1/2 cups corn syrup, one quart ice water or carbonated water, a half cup strained lemon juice and an eighth teaspoon of salt. Mix the corn syrup and ice water, add the lemon juice and salt and serve with cracked ice.

In changing from sugar to syrup for sweetening, some modification is made in most recipes in the liquid. Michigan State College authorities recommend:—For cakes and cookies, use honey to replace sugar cup for cup, but use only half the quantity of other liquid usually recommended. If the original recipe calls for a cup of sugar and a cup of milk, then the cook can use a cup of honey and a half a cup of milk.
When corn, cane or maple syrups replace sugar, reduce the liquid in the recipe by one-third.
Those who turn to sorghum syrup can follow the same rule as with other syrups, but the baking powder should be reduced. A half teaspoon of soda should be added for each cup of sorghum and this has the leavening power of two teaspoons of baking powder.

Michigan Leads in Three Major Crops

They're Field Beans, Sour Cherries, Cucumber Pickles

Three major crops still give Michigan top ranking over all other states in the production of field beans, sour cherries and cucumbers for pickles.
Farm crop authorities, horticulturists and other specialists at Michigan State College claim a share in the state's honors. The information and service available through the federal-state extension service administered by the college helps bolster quality, volume, efficiency and marketing.
Recent rankings on the basis of 1941 yields, announced by the federal-state crop statistician's office in Lansing place Michigan at the head of the list of states producing late truck crops of celery and cantaloupes. Other production ranks include second place in the nation for late market carrots, late strawberries, peppermint and spearmint and late market cucumbers.
Third ranking are granted the state for buckwheat, grapes and late onions. Michigan stands in fourth place for sugar beets, red clover seed, late market asparagus, canning beets late market and kraut cabbage, late market tomatoes and maple syrup and sugar.
In fifth place are such crops as Michigan popcorn, snap beans for canning and peaches. Two other fifth place crops formerly ranked Michigan higher. These are alfalfa seed and potatoes. Sixth place crops are those of green lima beans for manufacture, apples, alsike clover seed and alfalfa hay. Alfalfa acreage ranks second, but college crops men assert that if other acreage where alfalfa is mixed with smooth brome grass for hay and pasture is included,

Michigan stands at the top.
At least in variety, Michigan's farmers can claim top ranking by reason of soils, climatic variations and technical knowledge.

Even giant turbines need "low gear"

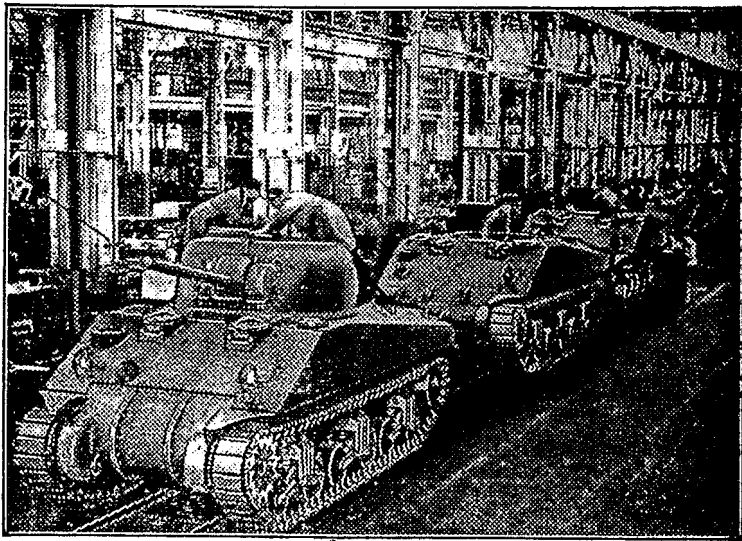

TO "KEEP 'EM ROLLING" at top speed

The speeding wheels of large turbines like the one above are playing a vital part in Detroit's war industries — generating electric power for hundreds of factories, for stores and offices and homes. Yet strangely enough, these high-speed machines have a "low gear" so slow as to barely "turn over" — a most important piece of equipment!

These small "turning gears"—developed more than a dozen years ago—have played an important part in preventing costly damage to the huge turbo-generators in Detroit Edison power plants. A big turbo-generator weighs many tons, but it is very delicately fitted—with clearances of fifteen one-thousandths of an inch. When a turbine is taken off the line or is temporarily not in use, the stored heat in the turbine gradually raises the temperature at the top of the casing, causing the shaft to distort and "bow" upward. If a turbine were started in this condition, the shaft might be permanently bent—resulting in damage that would cripple the turbine for months, and a repair bill of some $30,000. Even with a high priority, replacement might take months.

Turbines are too costly to be treated like this—and too hard to replace. So the small "turning gear" does an important job. It keeps the large shaft rotating slowly and continuously during shut-down periods, and prevents warping or bowing. It also permits bringing the turbine up to speed again in half the time formerly required. And because clearances can be set to a few thousandths of an inch, steam is used at a slightly increased efficiency—thereby saving a small part of the coal required to produce electricity. The Detroit Edison Company.

April set some kind of record for high temperatures and lack of rain. May seems determined to follow suit in reverse. So far the month has been unusually cold and considerable rain has fallen. When it was not cloudy there was a frost every night and many persons who had early gardens started report losses. Pastures are in fine condition, however, and lilacs are in full bloom. They will all be gone before Decoration day, and possibly spirea which is just coming into bloom.

Be Careful! Our forests are vital to victory. Claude R. Wickard, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture, points out that 20 million acres of timberland destroyed annually represent thousands of planes, snips, guns and equipment that should, but don't go to our fighting men. Before You Move . . .

BE SURE YOU CAN GET A TELEPHONE

● Before you decide to move or build, the Telephone Company will be glad to advise you whether war restrictions will permit you to have the telephone service you will need.

Even though telephone service is furnished now in the locality to which you plan to move, it may not be possible to supply you with any service, or exactly the kind of service you want.

Drastic restrictions of telephone installations have been ordered by the War Production Board in the interest of conserving war materials.

Except as needed for war purposes, or by those responsible for public health, welfare or security—

1. Telephone service cannot be provided at some locations.
2. Party line service only, can be furnished in many cases.
3. Extension telephones cannot be installed in residences.
4. Additional apparatus may be installed only on a limited basis.

In so far as materials and war restrictions permit, we shall provide the best possible service, and we look forward to the day when we again can give the kind of service wanted, "when and where wanted." But now, and for the duration, war needs come first. That is part of the price of protecting liberty.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Job 14:1,2): "Man that is born of a woman, is of few days and full of trouble. He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.190): "Human birth, growth, maturity, and decay are as the grass springing from the soil with beautiful green blades, afterwards to wither and return to its native nothingness.
