More Clarkston Boys Report for Duty

It's "Anchors Aweigh" for two Clarkston, Mich., men who reported for duty at the U. S. Naval Training Station last week to begin their recruit training.

Through an intensive program of training in the fundamentals of seamanship, naval procedure, and physical hardening, these men will soon be ready to earn themselves a berth aboard a Navy Man-O-War. Some of them showing aptitude for a specialized branch of service, may be retained for further training at one of the Navy's many service schools.

Rev. Glenn Harris Addresses Rotary Club

Henry Hoyt and William Parker Guests of Club

At the Monday meeting of the Clarkston Rotary Club, William Parker, waiting his call to join the U. S. Coast Guard, and Henry Hoyt, home on furlough before going into the Army on the 24th of this month were honored guests of the Club. This is in line with the policy of the club of entertaining the boys going into the service at a dinner.

Wilbur Adams, of the Clarkston High School, who had been sent to the Wolverine Boys State at Lansing by the club, gave a very interesting report of the activities and pronounced the enterprise a success.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. Glenn Harris, Pastor of the Birmingham Presbyterian Church, who had just completed a four weeks' trip through the army camps of Texas on special work for the Presbyterian Churches of the U. S.

Perhaps the main point of the talk was the high morale of the army boys and the main question was whether the people at home were appreciating their efforts. Rev. Harris stated that talk in camp did not seem to favor the fuss of the civilian as to whether he could get tires or not and certainly was annoyed at the civilian grumbling over sugar shortages, when they were in camps being trained to give everything, perhaps their lives.

Other guests from Birmingham were Clayton Gracey, Past President and J. B. Howarth, Secretary of the Birmingham Rotary Club.

Milton O. Clark of Clarkston and member of Draft Board 9 was a welcome guest.

Fred Beckman, Chairman of the Urban and Country Committee, gave a short talk as to the need of the business men helping the farmers during the harvesting season.

The dinner was served by the Royal Neighbors.

Obituary

Clarkston Locals

Floyd Morgan of Clarkston has been receiving much publicity this past week on account of his clever way of transporting several men to and from work. He tried to think of a scheme whereby he could not only help himself but help others get around the rubber shortage and the imminent rationing of gasoline. The ride-together plan seemed to be the answer. So he rebuilt a 1932 Henney Funeral Coach into a station wagon with a seating capacity of fifteen.

Magnetism

There's magnetism in a smile
That has a pulling power,
Without regard for pomp, or style
Or souls that have gone sour.

You can't resist the guy who smiles,
He captures your attention
The face that beams your spirit, foils,
And drives away dissention.

A piece of steel is magnetized,
By being with a magnet
Its properties commercialized,
Or used just as a gadget.

If we'll associate our lives
With lovely things and places,
We'll be amazed when there arrives
Those smiles upon our faces.

If you would live a life that's drear,
Hunt out some sour devils
And join with them in hate and fear,
Residing on their levels.

We get just what our hearts desire,
Without negotiations
Magnetic forces we acquire,
From our associations.

Annual School Election Held on Monday

Board of Trustees Elect Robert C. Beattie President

The annual School meeting was held on Monday at the Clarkston High School with a good attendance.

President of the Board, Joseph P. Hubbard, called the Meeting to order and in the absence of Mrs. Carrie Davies, Secretary, the minutes of the last annual meeting were read by Robert C. Beattie.

J. Alfred Hubbard, the Treasurer, gave the Treasurer's report.

Depositories were continued for the next year to be the same as last. The Clarkston State Bank will handle the general account while the Bond account will be taken care of by the Community National Bank of Pontiac.

Election of three trustees was the next business. Roy Spencer who had served 14 years had resigned during the year and Gerald O'Dell had been appointed to fill the year. Mr. O'Dell was elected for the unexpired term of one year.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. J. A. Hubbard created a term of two years to be filled and Russell Walter was elected to the office. The names of Mrs. Beulah Jones, Ray C. Ainsley and H. W. Huttenlocher were nominated but withdrawn as they did not care to run for the office.

The term of Mrs. Carrie Davies, which had expired, created the office vacant and was to run for three years. Mrs. Carrie Davies was re-elected for the term.

No other business was to be transacted and the meeting closed.

After the annual meeting, the Trustees met and elected the following officers for the ensuing year. President, Robert C. Beattie; Secretary, Mrs. Carrie Davies; Treasurer, Russell Walter; Joseph P. Hubbard and Gerald O'Dell will serve as trustees.

Convert Half-Year Plates Into Full Year

Automobile owners who have not previously placed 1942 plates on their cars and trucks may do so now at half price and these plates will give them the right of the use of the roads until March 1, 1943.

Motorists who have half year 1942 plates on their cars may from now on convert them into full year plates by going to the branch offices and purchasing a metal strip 10 inches by 1 1/2 inches that will change the half year plate into a full year plate without requiring, as in the past, the issuing of new license numbers. The same half year fee will be paid for the strip as in the past.

Summer communion service will be held in the Community United Presbyterian Church Sunday, July 26th. If you have not a church home in this community but truly desire to be counted for your Lord, you are invited to unite with our church on this date. Worship service starts promptly at 11 o'clock.

Dr. C. Clayton Mosier and daughters Latova, Marie and Jaleeta of Ft. Worth, Texas, stopped at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Girls! Help Grease Skids for the Axis

You've been asking for it, haven't you? (A war job, we mean.) Well, here it is . . . one for the duration . . . greasing the skids for Hitler and the Japs with the grease right out of your own kitchens.

So get yourself a pound size tin can . . . one with a wide mouth (the kind your vegetable shortening or your coffee comes in is perfect.) Scrub it out so it's scrupulously clean. Put it on the back of the stove where it's handy and warn the rest of the family, "Hands off! This is for grease salvage."

For grease salvage is your job . . . saving as much as you can of the two billion pounds of grease which ordinarily go down the drain or out with the garbage.

When the Japs took the Philippines and Malaya and the Dutch East Indies, they also took away from us a good half of our imports of fats and oils. We needed those fats and oils . . . badly.

We needed them for food, and for paints and varnishes for planes, and tanks and guns and ships. We needed them, too, for glycerine . . . not to make a sweet smelling lotion for your hands, but for explosives and gun powders and for medications.

But with the greases ordinarily wasted in the kitchen, you can help, if you will, to make up in part, for the loss of these imports. That's why your Government is asking you to start right now to save every tiny drop of grease from roast ham, beef, lamb and poultry; all the drippings from broiled steaks, chops, veal or bacon; every ounce of lard or vegetable shortening in which you've cooked the doughnuts or the French fries or the fish or anything else you fry in deep fat. (Of course you're not expected to relinquish this deep fat until you've used it as many times as you wish.)

Strain these fats into your wide-mouthed tin can. Keep the can in your refrigerator or some other cool place until you've collected at least a pound of grease. Be sure it doesn't grow rancid because then the glycerine content will be lessened.

When you have a pound or more of grease, take it to your meat dealer. He'll be ready for you, and will pay you 4 cents a pound for it and start it on its patriotic way to our war industries. (By the way, try not to take it on week-ends, because that's your butcher's busiest time.)

One more important thing to remember . . . do not put the fats in glass jars . . . glass jars cannot be accepted by your meat dealer or grocer.

Saving kitchen grease isn't a very exciting job. But the Nazis have been doing it ever since the war began because they know how valuable it is in their war plans. We're not going to let them get ahead of us, even in such a small matter as grease salvage, are we?

Mrs. W. H. Stamp has been made chairman of the Fats Salvage program in this district. For further information call her at Clarkston 4321.

Marriage Vows Spoken Friday

Couple Will Reside in Pontiac

Last Friday evening a very pretty wedding took place in the First Christian Church in Pontiac when Wanda Eveline Vanderpool, daughter of Mrs. Nina Vanderpool and Olin Vanderpool of Pontiac and Albert Edward Ledger, son of Mrs. Vesta Sheets of Pontiac and William Ledger of Williams Lake, spoke their marriage vows. The Rev. H. A. Frye officiated and Mrs. W. F. Jackson played organ music.

The bride given in marriage by her father was sweet in a gown of heavy white satin made with a sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves with points at the wrists, a tight fitting bodice and a full skirt. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of ruffles fastened with orange blossoms. She carried white delphinium and carnations centered with a gardenia corsage and tied with white satin ribbon and streamers. A single strand of pearls was her only jewelry.

June Vanderpool, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore pink net over pink satin fashioned with a tight fitting bodice and full skirt. Her headpiece was matching pink net fastened with pink flowers and she carried pink carnations and blue delphinium with pink satin streamers. Lila Zimmerman, Nedra MacDuff, Joan Manus and Stella Vanderpool as bridesmaids were gowned in pink, blue and aqua net over satin. Their matching headpieces were fastened with flowers and their flowers were blue delphiniums and pink and white carnations tied with satin streamers.

Mr. Ledger was assisted by Robert Going as best man and seating the guests were Kenneth McVittie and George Roberts.

Mrs. Vanderpool chose for her daughter's wedding a black crepe gown with white organdy collar and cuffs and a large veiled picture hat and white accessories. Her corsage was pink roses and white carnations. Mrs. Sheets, mother of the bridegroom, wore a printed sheer with white accessories and a corsage of blue delphinium and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The lace covered table was pretty with the bride's cake in the center and low bowls of pink roses and blue delphinium at either side.

The couple left on a trip into northern Michigan. For traveling the bride wore a yellow outfit with brown polka dots and white accessories and a gardenia corsage. When they return they will make their home at 59 Williams Street, Pontiac.

Sugar Not Needed For Canning

So Says Expert, and She Tells How to Do It

Grandmother canned her fruit without sugar. So can we, Miss Ruth Griswold, Home economics professor at Michigan State College assures.

After all, says Miss Griswold, it is not the sugar that preserves the fruit, it is the sterilization that makes it keep for winter use. Although the present outlook for an ample supply of sugar is brighter than it was a few weeks ago, Miss Griswold advises housewives if they wish to be on the safe side, they may can their fruit sugarless.

Crushed or sliced fruit can be heated in a double boiler to draw out the juice, then packed in jars and processed as usual. Juicy fruits, such as berries and cherries may be canned in their own juice. The juice is prepared by crushing, heating and straining the ripe fruit.

When canning fruits that are not juicy, such as peaches, pears and apples, just enough water should be used to cover the fruit.

Where sugar is available in only small amounts, a light syrup may be made to use instead of the water. In any case, says Miss Griswold, the process is the same.

July 22nd—Wednesday—the Royal Neighbor Sewing Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Floyd Lowery.

Scrap Metal Drive To End August 1

At a meeting held in Davisburg last week it was decided to end the scrap metal drive on August 1st. That means that everyone must get busy and collect every bit of metal that is not in use around the place. The smallest scrap will help.

Every district in the country is organized to make this campaign successful. There is plenty idle metal in the country and it is vital to the war effort. Make a thorough search of your place during the next two weeks and be able to say that you helped in some way to win this war.

The boys in the armed forces, whether in the air, on the land or on the sea, are depending on you. They are doing their share and they are asking the home folks to keep the implements of war rolling.

Good News for Those Seeking War Jobs

A recent act of Congress has lowered the barriers facing many Michigan workers who have been unable to secure jobs with war contractors because they could not produce birth certificates, according to George W. Cross, Michigan director of the U. S. Employment Service.

This Act, H. R. 6634, states "that no defense contractor should deny employment on account of failure to produce a birth certificate, to any person who submits, in lieu of a birth certificate, an honorable discharge certificate or certificate issued in lieu thereof from the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States, unless such honorable discharge certificate shows on its face that such person may have been alien at the time of its issuance."

The term "defense contractor" is defined as "an employer engaged in: (1) the production, maintenance, or storage of arms, armament, ammunition, implements of war, munitions, machinery, tools, clothing, food, fuel, or any articles or supplies, or parts or ingredients of any articles or supplies; or (2) the construction, reconstruction, repair, or installation of a building, plant, structure, or facility."

"This will be good news to many skilled workers in Michigan who have been unable to secure employment in the war plants because they were unable to provide proof of citizenship," Cross said. "It also will be a boon to employers who would have welcomed these skilled men long ago had their war production contracts permitted the hiring of workers without concrete proof of citizenship."

For Homemakers

"Your kitchen range, if treated right, will make the work of cooking light" is an old saw that is now being emphasized at by home economists at Michigan State College.

With supplies of steel and chromium out for the duration, and supplies for repairs limited, care of the kitchen range becomes more necessary than ever, says the experts. Because the kitchen range is so valuable a part of the household equipment, it must be given special attention. If something goes wrong which the housewife does not know how to "fix" she should call in a repair man as soon as possible.

A few precautions will add life to the range, and preserve its beauty. Some of these suggestions offered by the home economists are:

Keep your range clean. Give it a quick "once-over" after each use and remove spatters of grease and drops of food. Use soft paper, a dry cloth, or a cloth wrung from hot water for immediate cleaning while the stove is still hot. When the range has cooled, you can clean it more thoroughly.

Use warm, soapy water to clean all surfaces and racks. For spots, use fine cleaning powder or 00 grade steel wool, but never scrape. Wipe off grates, burners, and enclosed surface units after each meal. Wash removable pans beneath surface units as you would any cooking utensil. Wash or wipe off drip trays under the cooking surface whenever necessary.

The broiler compartment needs cleaning after each use and the inside of the oven also when it is grease-spattered or stained. Use a soapy cloth for both, rinse with a cloth wrung from clean water, and dry thoroughly. Also use soap and water on bright metal trim. Polish such trimming with a soft dry cloth. Heating units on a range need special cleaning care, the method depending on whether they are gas or electric.

Serve Seasonable Pies

By Frances Lee Barton

THE woman who neglects to make seasonable pies as the various fruits and berries appear locally, really cheats her family out of many delicious desserts. No matter how we may lean toward some particular pie, the seasonable pie is always a welcome change. Here is a recipe that should be taken advantage of when the luscious blackberry is obtainable:

Blackberry Glacé, Lemon Pie
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin; 1 1/2 cups hot water; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/4 cup lemon juice; 3/4 cup heavy cream; 1 baked 9-inch pie shell; 2 1/2 cups blackberries; 1/2 cup blackberries; 2 tablespoons sugar; 2 tablespoons water.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add 1/2 cup sugar and salt. Reserve 1/2 cup gelatin mixture for glacé. Add lemon juice to remaining gelatin. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in cream, whipped only until thick and shiny, but not stiff. Turn into cold pie shell. Chill until firm. Cover with 2 1/2 cups blackberries. Four glacé over blackberries. Chill until firm.

To make glacé, combine 1/2 cup blackberries, 2 tablespoons sugar, and 2 tablespoons water in small saucepan. Cook gently until blackberries are very soft. Drain, reserving juice; measure 2 tablespoons. Add to reserved 1/2 cup gelatin. Chill until cold and syrupy.

Favorite Blonde.
According to all reports, the teaming of Hope and Carroll was an inspiration. Listeners on Hop's radio hour are thoroughly familiar with his expressions of unbounded admiration for the beautiful Madeleine. He's been calling her "my favorite blonde" on the air for years but nobody seemed to hit on the obvious and cast them together in a picture until Paramount bought a story called "Snowball in Hell", a rollicking yarn of a ham vaudevillian who gets mixed up with Nazi spies. The character of the gorgeous British secret agent seemed made to order for Carroll. With the title changed and Hope cast as the bewildered actor, the result was "My Favorite Blonde", fastest and most furiously funny of the Hope epics.

The picture is a chase pure and simple but with a stepped-up tempo that makes for furious fun, a perfect film for Hope's brand of fast comedy.
The story of "My Favorite Blonde" sends the Hope-Carroll-Percy combination on a thrilling cross-country race that starts in New York and ends in Hollywood. Before it's over Hope is wanted for murder, robbery, misrepresentation and a flock of other crimes, including evading arrest. He drives an oil truck, swipes a bus at a union picnic, flies a monoplane that's shot at in the air, spends a night with Madeleine in a freight car, outwits the Nazis murderers and, finally takes a wild ride in a hearse with a secret military message that sends a flight of 150 American bombers on their way to Great Britain.

Supporting the stars is a villainous list of heavies, the spy gang, headed by Gale Sondergaard.

Like the cloud with the silver lining—

every dark lamp shade needs a WHITE LINING!

Like a thirsty sponge soaking up water, a dark lamp shade absorbs light. The light from the bulb is "hidden under a bushel" instead of being thrown into the room where it can do some good. One way to correct this fault—and still make use of the offending shade—is to fit the shade with a white lining. This reflects more light into the room and may increase the efficiency of your lamp as much as 50 per cent.

Another way to get all the light you pay for is to clean your bulbs and shades and fixtures frequently. Dust is insidious: It collects under shades, on reflector bowls, even inside enclosed glass fixtures, and cuts down the amount of light 10, 20, 30 per cent or more. Wipe off lamp bulbs, reflectors, etc., with a damp cloth, and dust your lamp shades inside and out.

Use the right size bulbs in your lamps and fixtures. Don't expect a small bulb to do a good lighting job when a larger bulb is needed. The light will be inadequate. Don't squeeze too big a bulb into a small lamp, either. . . the glaring light and harsh shadows are equally harmful. Try moving your lamps closer to the point of use, so that they shed their light more directly on your work.

White linings for shades are only one type of "light adaptor" equipment that makes it possible to modernize your lamps and fixtures easily and at low cost. There are many others in a variety of styles, all moderately priced . . . available at department stores, lighting fixture stores, and electrical dealers. (We do not sell this equipment.) CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 19.

The Golden Text (John 5:26) is: "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (1 John 1:5): "This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.289): "Because Life is God, Life must be eternal, self-existent. Life is the everlasting I AM, the Being who was and is and shall be, whom nothing can erase."

Give Your Pullets Special Attention

This Is Necessary if Increased Egg Production Is Secured

Poultry producers are faced with the problem of increasing egg production next year with less labor. That they have tackled this problem is indicated by an increased chick crop of 16 per cent according to U. S. D. A. estimates. More chicks may not mean more eggs if there is a shortage of labor to care for the pullets and if the increased pullet population is crowded into houses designed for a normal crop.

To get the increased egg production desired next year rigid selection of the larger pullet is advised by E. W. Henderson of the Michigan State College poultry department. Crowding of laying houses should be avoided this fall thus reducing the labor requirements and a greater production will be obtained from the selected pullets.

One important basis for selecting pullets is earliness of maturity. The pullet that has the ability to utilize feed and grow faster than her sisters is apt to be the one which will utilize feed for egg production later. Runty or unhealthy pullets should be eliminated before the flock is housed for the fall.

How to determine when a pullet has matured is simply a matter of learning how to distinguish a pullet in laying condition. How to select fowls in laying condition is explained in detail in Michigan State College Ext. Bul. 221 entitled "Selecting Profitable Layers." One of the infallible and familiar signs that a pullet is near egg production is the enlarged reddened condition of her comb.

It is urged that flock owners select the number of pullets they want this fall from those which are healthy and normal in size and which are first to show enlarged red comb.

Chicken Dinners Are Advised

As Means of Saving Other Meats for Armed Forces

The broiler season will be on, July 16 to 25, says an announcement by the Agricultural Marketing Administration.

Michigan food merchants are stressing broilers as a part of the "Victory Food Special" campaign, centering attention on certain foods of which there is a surplus. At this season, broilers are at their best, say the authorities, and housewives, by buying now, substituting chicken for pork, can vary the family meat diet, and at the same time save pork and beef which are so necessary for the men in the armed forces.

The surplus in broilers is a natural result of the current drive to increase the supply of eggs. More chicks were hatched, and as a result, there was a greater number of broilers. By serving broiled or fried chicken, it is expected the surplus can be removed during the time set.

The marketing administration points out that the campaign is good news to Michigan women who set before their families three good meals a day, as chicken, fried or broiled, is not only good food, but one of America's favorites for summertime eating.

More goods—war and civilian—are moving over rail than ever before in U. S. history. Around 500 freight trains move through Pittsburgh, Pa., area every 24 hours, an average of more than 20 an hour, carrying a total of between ten and thirteen thousand loaded cars.
