You Are Invited To the "Sweater Swing"

Saturday Night, January 30, At Clarkston School

The Senior Sweater Swing will be given Saturday, Jan. 30, in the high school gym. Deep snow and bad roads made it necessary to postpone it last week.

There is sure to be good music and we hope to see a fine crowd. Dancing will begin at 9:00 and last until 12:00. Tickets are 25c for everyone.

Music will be furnished by the School Dance Band under Mr. Wainowski.

No, you don't need to be a sweater girl or a jitterbug, just bring your partner and come. We guarantee you a good time.

W.S.C.S. Circles To Meet Wednesday

The four circles of the Methodist W. S. C. S. will hold their first meetings next Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The groups will meet at the following homes: northeast section, Mary, with Mrs. George Harris; northwest, Martha, with Mrs. L. F. Walter; southeast, Dorcas, with Mrs. Orlo Willoughby; southwest, Priscilla, with Mrs. H. W. Huttenlocher.

Washington and Main Streets are the dividing lines. If you live in any of these districts and you are interested in the work of the Church you are invited to attend the meeting for your section.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skarritt Honored at Dinner

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Skarritt of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Judd Skarritt of Oxford, Mrs. Cora E. Skarritt of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Skarritt of Clarkston.

Increased Penalty for Setting Forest Fires

Inclusion of "forest products and standing timber suitable therefor" in the definition of "war material" in a new act of Congress attaches such a stiff penalty to the willful setting of forest fires that the state conservation department is broadcasting warnings of the new penalties for the crime.

Destruction by fire of wood resources vitally needed in the war effort now can bring a fine of $10,000 or 30 years imprisonment or both, and the incendiary can expect swift and certain prosecution under federal law. The Michigan penalty for this offense is a fine of $100 to $500, and up to 10 years in jail.

For causing risk of accidental fire, the careless woodsman may be fined up to $100 and imprisoned up to three months.

Our Boys In The Service

V-Mail letters were received this week from Chas. VanHeel, who is somewhere in the Pacific, and Howard Kitchener who is in New Caledonia and a letter from William Lovejoy who is somewhere in New Guinea.

Dec. 25-42
Thurs. Eve

Dear Mr. Stamp:
I wish to thank you and the members of our chapter of the Red Cross for the nice presents they made possible for us boys. We really did appreciate the presents that we received.

We've been doing quite a bit of work lately and I imagine we'll be busy for the next month at least. We had a very nice Christmas dinner—T-bone steaks, French fried potatoes, salad, and for dessert we had banana cream pie, fruit and grape juice.

I'll write a longer letter soon,
Sincerely yours,
Chuck

Jan. 9-43

"Somewhere in New Guinea"

Dear Friends:

I guess you will be quite surprised to receive this letter as it has taken me so long to write it. I think you folks at home realize how hard it is to find news from over here that will pass the censor.

I am in New Guinea after 20 months of Army life and I guess I am as far from home as I will ever be so you see how much I look forward to each issue of the Clarkston News.

Christmas Day was much the same as any other day here except for the fact that we had ham for dinner and sat up until 2 o'clock in the morning singing Christmas carols.

I don't think I need tell you folks about the climate here as I guess you can just about picture what the rainy season in the jungle would be like. I used to think it got plenty hot in Clarkston but if I should happen to come home in the middle of summer don't be surprised if I arrive wearing an overcoat. Even our clothes perspire on the hangers here.

I have spent almost my entire army career in the kitchen and after baking for the last year I have been transferred to cooking and as most of our food is in cans you can see what a vacation I am having.

I spend a lot of my time thinking about all the folks at home and I sure hope it won't be too long until I make that long trip home. After looking at some of these Japs I can't see how the war has lasted as long as it has. They remind me of a bunch of sick kids, but they sure don't fight like kids.

My candle is getting awfully short so I'll close for now but I'll try and write a longer letter next time.

Thanks again for breaking up a lot of monotonous hours with the Clarkston News.

I remain,
Pte William Lovejoy

North West Africa
Jan. 14-43

To all members of the Independence Twp. Home Front Comm.:

I just received your most welcomed package which was sent in November. I really enjoyed getting it because it had everything in it that came in very useful. I was especially interested in the book and magazine because good storybooks are hard to get here. What books the fellows do have are exchanged among themselves.

Well the country here in Africa is sure different than in Ireland and England when I was there. I can look out of my tent and all I see are mountains, brush and Arabs. The Arabs are a very poor class of people. The poorest type live in brush shacks or hard clay houses. Most of them wear strips of cloth around their feet instead of shoes. Their fruit consists of oranges, tangerines, dates, figs and olives.

I had my best time in England. It seemed more like back home than the other places, although like any other country it has all things rationed.

I guess I had better close for this time, but I want to thank you again for the nice Christmas box.

Sincerely yours,
Pte Richard See

Literary Club Met Tuesday

Mrs. Garnet Poulton Was the Hostess

On Tuesday afternoon the Clarkston Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. Garnet Poulton on Holcomb Street. The members answered Roll Call by giving a "Famous Saying of a Famous American".

After the business meeting Mrs. Glenn Howland read an interesting description of Moscow; Mrs. John Shaughnessy read the story of "The American Flag" and Miss Ada Serace read a sketch of the life of George Washington Carver.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 16th at the home of Mrs. W. Harold Pailthorp.

Rotary Club News

The speaker for the next Monday evening meeting of the Rotary Club will be Mr. E. L. Karkau, of Pontiac, Michigan. He will review John Scott's book "The Duel for Europe" which is largely on Russia and her part in this global war. Mr. Karkau has appeared before the club before and his talks have been most interesting.

Last Monday night the Rotary Club enjoyed a Ladies' Night. It was really more than a Ladies' Night because each member invited another couple as guests. For a few hours everyone forgot their work and worries and had a most enjoyable time. The Clarkston High School orchestra furnished the music and they certainly provided all the vim and vigor that any dancing crowd would want. At about ten thirty Margaret Ann and Ida Mae Beattie played several selections on their Hawaiian guitars and they received a hearty applause.

At eleven-thirty, refreshments, in keeping with the times, were served. However everyone was delighted with the lovely ice-cream molds of the Rotary wheel in colors and the cakes with the "R" on the icing.

Among the guests were Kenneth Grate and Howard Boyns who were spending furloughs at their homes here.

Mrs. Roy Spencer and Miss Muriel Boyns left on Wednesday for Texas to visit Roy Spencer Jr., who is stationed at Camp Wolters.

Red Cross News

A total sum of $125,000,000 is needed to meet the heavy wartime obligations and responsibilities of the American Red Cross, it was announced recently by Walter S. Gifford, national chairman of the 1943 War Fund drive.

The Oakland county chapter has not yet been informed of its quota in this national goal, but expects the amount to exceed that of a year ago.

R. W. Essig, chairman of the War Fund in Oakland county, has announced the following local chairmen already at work on plans for the drive which opens in March: Pontiac, Norman Buckner; Royal Oak, O. W. Faulstich; Highland, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eis; Berkeley, Rev. Arno Wall-schlager; Avon township, Mrs. B. E. Norton; Novi, George R. Simmons. Others will be named shortly.

Additional space is being provided Oakland county Red Cross headquarters at 12 Seneca street, Pontiac, it was revealed by the executive committee. Reorganization of the present offices has relieved overcrowded conditions and has led to abandon earlier plans to move chapter headquarters to another location.

My best regards. Answer when you have time.

Pte Roy Alger of Camp Claiborne, La., is spending a few days furlough at his home here.

Howard Boyns and Kenneth Grate left on Thursday to return to their training centers after spending several days at their homes here. Howard returned to Scott Field, Ill., and Kenneth to Camp Lee, Va.

Death Claims Former Resident Of Clarkston

Almost Seventy Years Spent In Oakland County

Early last Friday morning Charles Perry, aged ninety years, passed away at the home of his daughter in Caro, Mich., after an illness of about three months.

Mr. Perry was born in England, February 10, 1852, and came to Oakland County when he was just 21 years old. Sixty-eight years ago he married Minnie Beckman at Oak Hill. Mrs. Perry died in 1940.

Mr. Perry was a retired farmer. After coming to this country he spent all but about five years in and around Clarkston.

He is survived by ten children, Mrs. Della Downing of Caro, Frank Perry of West Branch, William Perry of Oxford, Mrs. Alice Morgan of Ortonville, Mrs. Lillian Avenall of Metamora, Mrs. Alpha Williams of Howell, Mrs. Carrie Andrews of Lake Orion, Mrs. Lena Morgan of Clarkston, Joseph Perry of Clarkston and Henry Perry of Atlas; 44 grandchildren and 48 great grandchildren.

The funeral service was held at the Ogden-Kennedy Funeral Home in Clarkston on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 with the Rev. Walter Ballagh, pastor of the Clarkston Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Lake View cemetery. Six grandchildren carried Mr. Perry to his final resting place. They were Carl Downing, Harry Downing, Joseph Perry Jr., Wesley Perry, Otis Perry and Leslie Morgan.

War Roads Kept Open During Big Storm

Despite record-breaking snowfall, all federal trunklines in war production areas were kept open for traffic by state highway department maintenance crews during mid-January's snow storm, the worst in years.

To accomplish this, maintenance crews worked for a 96-hour stretch, with intermittent rest, beginning Friday night, January 15.

Snowfall in the lower peninsula averaged 15 inches from January 13 to January 21. On the ground level, snow totaled 18 to 20 inches deep in the lower peninsula and 20 to 30 inches in the upper peninsula on January 21, although drifts were much higher.

Sub-zero temperatures and near-gale winds added to the hazards and difficulty of maintaining open highways throughout the state. Department maintenance crews were forced to curtail secondary road plowing to keep main trunklines open.

Everyone here will be sorry to learn of the death of Fred P. Beuler, a former Clarkston business man, last Sunday, January 24th, at the home of his son, James Beuler, in Atlanta, Mich. The funeral service and burial took place in Atlanta on Tuesday.

Heroes Without Medals

A certain amount of glory's displayed, When uniformed men in public parade

There's something romantic in boots and spurs,

That the feelings of many an audience stir

The beat of a drum has ever instilled A feeling of pride, in folks who are thrilled,

With men who are marching, colors unfurled,

No matter what country, which part of the world.

There are others in service, who never have heard

A semblance of praise or encouraging word

No pat on the back or medals to wear,

A world full of people, and none seems to care

For the boy on the farm, who labors all day

In tending the crops, and putting away

Essentials of life, to meet every need, When millions on millions, our country must feed.

The boys, who stay home, when other ones leave,

Have hearts, that in silence and patience grieve

For man who takes life, and villages raids,

Is given some medals, some stripes, and some braids

And down in our history, is written his name

That unborn generations might read of his fame

But in all of our history, no one ever read

Of giving out medals for raising of bread.

Local Poet Honored By Rotary Governor

Rotary International Governor's Monthly Letter Office of the Governor of District 153 Alex E. Moore, Wayne, Michigan January, 1943

I am in receipt each week of a copy of the Clarkston News, in which is published a poem from the pen of Robert C. Beattie, one of the very fine members of the Clarkston Club. These poems are splendidly written and contain many real gems of thought. I am happy to confer upon Bob the title of "Poet Laureate" of the 153rd District.

What To Do With Discarded Materials

Give to the Goodwill Industries

The Detroit Goodwill Industries is an organization that does for the handicapped people what the Chinese Industrial Cooperatives do for the refugees and penniless people of China. It gives them constructive work, hope and a sense of security.

It fits them into a society that ordinarily can find no place for their latent or undeveloped talents.

Scores of young people, afflicted by physical handicap through no fault of their own and unable to secure employment through regular channels, are waiting for your discards as a means of earning a livelihood. An opportunity to earn a self-supporting income is offered these unfortunates through your generous donations to the Goodwill Industries of materials no longer considered useful to you.

Most homes have an accumulation of used clothing, shoes, furniture, household articles, etc., which, through the process of rehabilitation in the shops at the Goodwill Industries, offers them a chance to "Earn while they Learn".

Children of the United Nations are being kept warm this winter by clothing made over by volunteer workers at Goodwill Industries and given without charge to these unfortunate little ones.

If you have any articles to be discarded and you wish to give it to the Goodwill Industries just drop a card to them at 356 E. Congress, Detroit, or phone Detroit, Randolph 8060, and a truck will visit Clarkston.

Mr. Orison C. Proper and Mrs. Stella Bean were married Saturday night, January 23rd in the Methodist Parsonage by the pastor, Rev. W. Harold Pailthorp.

Successful Living

Speaking of Rotary By DR. EDGAR DEWITT JONES

Recently I spoke for the Rotary Clubs of Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas—sprightly organizations with top-flight men directing their activities. An old hand at this business, the experience never becomes commonplace.

The Rotary Club movement is comparatively young, not being as old as this century. Founder Harris is still alive and resides in Chicago. Yet, youthful as it is, Rotary is represented in every sizable town in America and Canada—has leaped the oceans, and until war intervened was spreading international goodwill in scores of foreign countries.

Rotary puts a premium on punctuality plus brevity. Meetings begin promptly at 12:15 and close at 1:30 on the dot. Rarely does a speaker go beyond that limit. Regular attendance, either at the home club or as a visitor at a club elsewhere is not only encouraged, but expected.

Rotary Clubs probably hear annually more first-class speakers than any other similar organization. Even so, they now and then pick a dud. Rotary speakers may be as witty as they can, but to venture a questionable story is to be greeted with stony silence, unsmiling faces and no return engagement.

Rotary publishes a bang-up magazine, The Rotarian, which is widely read. Being secretary of a Rotary Club is a position of importance, and in the larger cities an all time job.

One of my friends, an ardent Rotarian, always signs his letters "Rotarily yours." I don't think the word is in the dictionary, but it may well be some day. This friend regards his Rotary membership as a kind of religion, and proudly says so.

Sinclair Lewis, H. L. Mencken and a few others of the intelligentsia poked a lot of fun at Rotary meetings as a playground for Babbitt's, to employ a "Lewisian" word. Al the same, it is likely that long after these scintillating critics have gone the way of all flesh, Rotary will be holding its meetings and building brotherhood.

"Fellow Rotarians, we have with us today . . ."

Several Clarkston Boys Leave For Army Friday

On Wednesday night the several Clarkston boys who leave for Army service today were honored at a "Farewell" party in the Rotary Club rooms. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

There was a large crowd present and all had a fine time. A collection was taken up and each honoree present was given $5.00.

The boys leaving here this afternoon are Eugene McGill, Jack Skarritt, Sheldon Baker, Gerald Weston, Chester Morgan, Donald Sinkler and Harlan Day.

Junior Club Met Wednesday

Mrs. Daril O'Dea Was the Hostess

The Clarkston Junior Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. Daril O'Dea in Drayton Plains on Wednesday night. There was a good attendance and the Roll Call was answered with "A Beauty Hint".

At the business meeting it was voted to give $2.00 to "The March of Dimes". The group decided to have their annual theatre party and dinner in Pontiac this year on account of gasoline rationing. This annual affair will take place on the next meeting night. Several new books have been added to the Club Library at the Variety Store on Washington Street.

After the business meeting two splendid papers were given. One on "Preparing our Flyers for Combat" by Mrs. Harlan Oakes and the other "None Shall be Forgotten" by Mrs. Harold Weston.

At the close of a very interesting evening the hostess served dainty refreshments

Muck Crops Aid In Wartime Need

Michigan's high-yielding muck fields and the farmers who operate them continue to gain recognition for their wartime production of healthful vegetables needed for military and civilian health and morale.

With labor shortages facing some muck farmers and a suggestion that some of the needed crops be increased the problem has brought some production tips from P. M. Harmer, Michigan State College muck crops specialist.

Recommended acreages suggested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture included but one reduction, from the 1942 acreage in celery, and three increases in other crops.

Michigan acreages may be revised, but the original goals included 7,800 acres of cabbage against 7,200 in 1942; 1,100 acres of carrots compared with 900 last year, and 9,700 acres of onions, an increase of 1,300. Celery could drop from 7,400 acres to 5,500 in 1942 if the federal recommendations are followed.

"Problem fields may better be abandoned temporarily if help is scarce," Dr. Harmer suggests. "Perhaps seeding to a cover crop to control weeds would be sensible treatment of a field that may be too wet, too full of weeds, too acid or be less productive than other land which can take up all the available labor."

The college soils department will test samples, properly taken from a problem field, and report acidity and any special fertilizer treatments necessary to make the soil productive.

Onion and potato crates will be even more scarce next fall, according to Dr. Harmer. He suggests an early attempt to get a supply of crates. Second-hand cloth bags can be obtained in some localities. Potatoes usually can be stored on floor space and carrots and parsnips in pits in the field until graded for market. Insulating materials or sawdust might be obtained and saved for such storage next fall and early winter.

One Side of Indictment

Mr. C. M. Robertson, President of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, was asked for his comments about the indictment of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company by a Federal Grand Jury in Kansas on charges of violating the Anti-Trust Laws. Mr. Robertson said, "I probably should not comment on the indictment as it has not as yet been served upon the Company. My information in regards to it is gained mostly from newspaper information.

The United States Attorney-General's Staff submitted the matter to the Grand Jury, and the indictment is the result. As you are no doubt aware, a Grand Jury proceeding is one-sided, or as the lawyers would say, 'Ex Parte' in that only the prosecution's side is presented. The law and the facts of the case have yet to be passed upon by a Federal Judge and Federal Petit Jury in Kansas, and we feel confidence that our side will win. The Attorney-General might have been more considerate of us and the O.D.T. by pulling off this contemplated bout nearer Cincinnati. This is presumed to be a suit under the Anti-Trust Laws, then what is the basic reason or objective of the suit as you understand it? I am given the impression that the real problem or objective which is involved is a theory in economics, that bigness in itself in food distribution as exemplified by Kroger is economically unsound. In essence, the Government wishes us to unscramble our eggs and become 3,500 (store) units, which implies that mass buying, mass distribution, and the large economies in operation which are passed on to the buying public, are less important than their theory of economics. Another arm of our Government is at this time endeavoring to recommend the very things that Kroger is and has been doing for many years, that is, providing low cost food to consumers by buying direct from the farmer and producer and effecting the maximum of economies in the distribution of same. I might quote many recent extracts, but for example, one from this article by Secretary Wickard in the January Issue of Food Industries, 'American Processors and Distributors of food are, like American farmers, wonderfully efficient. This is not the time to change basic methods and relationships in either food processing or distributing, just for the sake of change. Distributors and Processors did a magnificent job last year, on the other hand, the Government has an equal responsibility for steering away from unnecessary changes in the way Processors and Distributors do business, and for extending them all possible help in making the adjustments which are needed'.

So it remains to be seen which objective of our Government will prevail. The issue involved still has to be passed upon by Judge and Jury. Might it not also occur that our American Public may eventually have something to say? The public should not jump to hasty conclusion and criticize too harshly either side to this controversy, but await the result of a trial on its merits. I do not feel that the staff of the Attorney-General sincerely believes we are such bad fellows as may appear from the indictment, but this suit is their means to test their economic theories. Our only crime, if it be a crime, is in having grown to be big and successful, to the advantage of the masses of women who had need to buy good food at low cost.

Please excuse me from further comment as I am busy and worried about an important problem, which is securing an adequate supply of food for our customers. The woman with the market basket is also worried about the same problem, she does not give a hoot about these economic theories, and will keep on trading with us so long as we have good food to sell her at low prices.

So let us forget about this suit and keep on the important problem of keeping open the food supply line, thereby helping to win this awful war. I might add that we are supplying, from our manufacturing plants, a large amount of food for the armed forces."

For Mercy, Courage, Kindness, Mirth, There is no measure upon earth; Nay, they wither, root and stem, If an end be set to them.
 —Laurence Binyon.

SERVICE

When people go to a bank they expect service.

They want unquestioned security—good service without error—friendliness, courtesy and a sympathetic understanding of their troubles.

Maybe we miss it sometimes, but rest assured we are always trying our best.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Quite a discussion some of the boys were having down at lodge meeting last night, Judge... you know, in the anteroom before the election of officers."

"Sure was... and Herb was dead wrong. The alcoholic beverage industry does account for more taxes than any other industry. I checked the figures in my office this morning. Why the figure on alcoholic beverages is pretty close to a billion and a half dollars a year. Lucky thing we haven't got prohibition or the government would have to make up the money some other way. And there's only one answer to that—more taxes. You know what that would add up to?... about $25 more taxes a year for every man and woman in the country. In other words you and Sue would have to pay about $50 more in some form of tax. I guess about the only ones who'd come out ahead on that deal would be the bootleggers and gangsters."

Electricity brings you a DOZEN HELPING HANDS

for only ten cents a day!

You'd need a dozen helping hands to perform all the jobs in your household now done by electricity. And if you had to hire extra help to do this work, you'd appreciate even more how LITTLE it costs you to do those jobs electrically.

Washing and ironing clothes, furnishing news and entertainment by radio, making toast and coffee, keeping time, vacuum cleaning rugs and drapes, in addition to lighting your home—electricity performs all of these tasks at a cost of 10c a day or less for many families. See how inexpensively these electric servants work for you (figured at 2 1/4c net per unit—the thrifty "bargain" step in your residence rate): ELECTRIC CLOCK 3 1/2c a month, VACUUM CLEANER 4c a month (used 20 minutes a day), WASHER 6c a month (used 2 1/2 hours a week), ELECTRIC IRON 1c an hour, FOOD MIXER 1 1/5c an hour, WAFFLE IRON 1 1/2c an hour, HEATING PAD 1/10c an hour, REFRIGERATOR 16c a week, TOASTER 6c a month (used 5 minutes a day).

Probably nothing you buy today gives you so much in return as your electric service. It is one of the few things that has not increased in price. For 10c a day, would you go back to beating rugs by hand, scrubbing clothes on a washboard, cleaning oil lamps, using a sad iron, and all the other hours of drudgery of fifty years ago?

We have started a First Grade newspaper on our black board.

The children have started to build a green house. When it is finished they are going to bring all the different kinds of plants and learn how to slip them.

NINTH GRADE NEWS

Folks, I'm sorry, but—there seems to be a terrible news shortage up here at Clarkston High School, the exact vicinity being the ninth grade home room. Maybe it developed because of the scarcity of students last week, and the "snow vacation" very likely had something to do with it. Anyway, I can't find a thing to pass on to you, so here's hoping you'll forgive me. So long!

10TH GRADE NEWS

A group of the Sophomore boys played basketball against the Juniors and lost. It would have been a good game if the 11th hadn't made all the points. The score was 56 to 8. The losing five consisted of two Sophomores, one Freshman and two eighth graders playing against five eleventh graders. If they could play again when all the tenth graders were present, there would be a much different story to tell.

The faculty were very generous this last week and let us have a few days off so we could study up for our exams this week. (I wonder how many kept that night lamp burning to study!!)

Well that's all until after exams.

4-H Mobilizes Huge War Effort

Fifty-five thousand members of the 6,500 Michigan 4-H boys and girls club put together a wartime contribution of materials worth an estimated $1,879,500 in 1942. Now they are mobilizing to do twice as much toward winning the war in 1943.

Nationwide is the 4-H Mobilization Week of Feb. 6-14. Nationally the 1,500,000 members of the 4-H organization are receiving high compliment from President Roosevelt who expresses faith in their ability to render a great service.

Proof that Michigan farm youngsters are war conscious appears in a compilation obtained by A. G. Ketunen, state leader at Michigan State College.
More than four tons of beef were marketed by four brothers on a farm near Blissfield in Lenawee county. Junior, Robert, James and Emerson Bliesner, whose ages range from 12 to 17, bought eight steers, fed them out with unusual parental cooperation and sold them recently for $1,350.

Girls had a hand in unusual wartime effort. Euline Stirling, who lives near the Soo in Chippewa county, gardened 96½ hours, had expenses of $8.96, produced more than 50 bushels of vegetables valued at $102.56. Her private war with the Axis was against insect pests.

Another girl canned 757 quarts of fruits, vegetables, jellies and jams, soups and juices, pickles and meats. That was the work of Mildred B. Rieger, 16, Swan Creek Road in Saginaw county. The addition to the home food supply was valued at $279.43, at a cost of $188.93.

Further proof of the practical knowledge gained in 4-H club work appears in the 10-year record of Donald Corwin, of Coldwater in Branch county. He is now a freshman at Michigan State College. In his projects of poultry, beef, potatoes and handicraft he obtained a total of $6,113. Home consumption took $750 of this total. In 1942 he had 1600 chickens, raised an acre of potatoes and two beef animals.

In 1942 12,000 boys and girls were in crops projects that added $440,000 worth of foods to Michigan's war production.

Six hundred beef calf club members fed out 300 tons of beef worth $96,000.

Four thousand dairy calf club members were on the job producing dairy animals and products worth $450,000.

Eight hundred pig club members produced 400,000 pounds of pork estimated at $60,000.

Sheep club members numbering 1,000 produced 40,000 pounds of wool and 360,000 pounds of mutton valued at $80,000.

Handicraft occupied part of the time of 13,000 club members who made $25,000 worth of articles for home use.

Four thousand club members canned 300,000 quarts of food valued at $75,000. Clothing valued at $26,000 was made by 17,600 girls.

Six thousand members helped in preparation of hot lunches with the aid of 500 food preparation members. The lunch effort was valued at $10,000.

That's a considerable job to better but their leader expresses his confidence in the Michigan slogan of "Double Our Service."

It's Patriotic To Wear Patch

It's patriotic to wear a patch, or at least keep clothing mended when replacements become scarce.

The wartime economy of wasting nothing applies to clothing as well as it does to food and machinery, say members of the home economics extension service at Michigan State College.

For instance, some of grandmother's technique of mending straight tears, three-corner tears, small holes, diagonal cloth cuts and snags can be revived. As fabrics vary, so does the method of repair.

For example, a hand darn in plain weave is recommended in mending most small tears in wool material. For a large tear, a darned-in patch or an inset patch proves better. To darn a straight tear by hand, start and finish about one-quarter inch beyond the tear. Keep the rows exactly in line with the yarns in the cloth. The darn will show less if you extend the rows of stitching unevenly into the fabric. To give added strength, darn over a piece of the same cloth or over a piece of the basted to the underside. Let the raw edges of the hole go to the underside.

To get thread that blends with the material, pull yarns from a scrap of the same cloth, or ravel them from straight-cut seams where they can be spared. Use lengthwise yarns for darning lengthwise; crosswise yarns for crosswise darning. You may be able to get crosswise yarns from the inside of the hem, lengthwise yarns from hidden seams.

Half a Pint Per Cow

Less than half a pint extra daily from each of Michigan's 980,000 dairy cows would provide Michigan's share of the extra volume of milk needed from this state in 1943 for war and civilian needs, according to A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. Production for 1942 totaled five and one-third billion pounds in the state.

Quiet minds cannot be perplexed or frightened, but go on in fortune or misfortune at their own private pace, like a clock during a thunderstorm. —Robert Louis Stevenson.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Love" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 31.

The Golden Text (Jude 1:21) is: "Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matthew 9:35): "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.494): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."
