Michigan will have a substantial portion of the 18 million Victory Gardens set as a goal for this year by the Department of Agriculture. Secretary Wickard urges every town, city and suburban family with a sufficient plot of ground to plant a Victory garden to aid the nation's food supply. He says special attention should be given to green, leafy and yellow vegetables and tomatoes.

The Army and Navy have set up housekeeping in a big way. In 1942 they bought 76 million pieces of that heavy, vitrified china often seen in restaurants and hotels.

When War Ration Book Two is distributed late in February, the person registering for the family must state the excess number of cans of rationed goods eight-ounce size and larger owned in the family. An eight-point stamp will be deducted for each can in excess of five cans per person, the Office of Price Administration has announced.

Whether many rural children attend school next fall depends largely on how well school bus drivers observe conservation policies now. It is recommended by ODT that in order to reduce mileage each bus should be stationed overnight as near as possible to the point where the first pupil boards the bus in the morning and should be parked close to the school during school hours.

Lighter and less bright colors will be the fashion mode this year. This is not a whim of the fashion experts but a necessity brought about by control of dyes and organic pigments.

"It Takes Both"

It takes both... Management and Labor, working in harmony and cooperation to keep the assembly lines going in our factories—to produce the necessary implements of war.

It takes both... War Bonds and Taxes to pay the cost of these vital tools of war to keep our fighting men supplied.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I couldn't help overhearing you, Mary, when you asked Jim here why they let the liquor companies use sugar to make whiskey when all the rest of us have to cut down on it. I happen to know the answer to that.

"You see, the fact of the matter is, the industry never has used a single pound of sugar to make whiskey. The bootleggers were the only ones who used sugar to make whiskey. On top of that, there's not a single large distillery in the country making whiskey any more. They're all working day and night making war alcohol for the government for gunpowder, synthetic rubber, chemicals, and medical supplies.

"Just as I told Ed down at the courthouse this morning, the government simply wouldn't be able to get all this alcohol it needs in time if we didn't have these distilleries available and on the job."

How to STRETCH A COW during Meat Rationing

When beef and other meats are rationed, the housewife who knows how to "stretch a cow" can serve meals that are far more appetizing and nutritious. Your weekly quota of beef, pork, veal or lamb can be stretched considerably by the skillful use of "meat extenders:"

1. Serve stews—with vegetables, noodles, dumplings, etc.
2. Serve meat pies—with vegetables, and with biscuit or mashed potato topping.
3. Serve patties or meat loaf—meat mixed with bread or cracker crumbs and milk and egg.
4. Serve casserole dishes—escaloped meat with vegetables, noodles or spaghetti.
5. Serve filling soups with a meat stock base, such as ham shank with navy beans, etc., or creamed vegetable soups with sliced frankfurters or dried beef added.
6. Serve macaroni or spaghetti with meat balls and tomato sauce.
7. Serve croquettes, using left-over meats.
8. Stretch meat dishes with rice (lamb curry, Spanish rice, etc.), or with dressing, such as stuffed and baked lamb ribs, hearts, rolled breast.
9. Stretch your meat with sauces and gravies such as Swiss steak with mushroom gravy, flank steak with barbecue sauce.
10. Serve hash (with potatoes and onions), or baked beans with frankfurters, sausage, bacon or salt pork.

And remember—(for homes with electric ranges)—that electric cooking makes even the cheaper cuts of meat more tasty and tender!

NINTH GRADE NEWS
My subject is, as usual, "last week"—but this time "last week" took on a sinister aspect for some. You see, on Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday we had our semester exams. I don't think, though, that the ninth graders did as badly as they anticipated.

Now that the exams are over, we can but wait for the cards to come out in resigned "unconcern". Let's hope our teachers are just a bit lenient.

In farewell I sincerely wish you a happy and successful February.

10TH GRADE
Everybody is chewing his finger nails today and no doubt will continue to do so until Wednesday afternoon when we receive our report cards. Then I bet certain faces will change!! The teachers, too, will have their troubles. Students running to them wondering "how and why" he or she got such and such a mark.

So long until next week when I shall resume my brief weekly chat with you.

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

There seems to be a shortage of news in all the home rooms this week. Of course semester exams are all over now, all over except for the dreaded news which will come out Wednesday.

The 8th grade Home Ec. class is going to start on cooking this semester. Last semester consisted of sewing, personal grooming, and the care of children.

I hope I'll have more news for you next week (good or bad) and until then—So Long.

Whom to Contact For Farm Machinery

County Agr. War Board Is Proper Organization

Michigan farmers are reminded that they must contact the chairman of their local County Agricultural War Board if they wish to purchase farm machinery or equipment.

Arthur H. Sarvis, state chief of the Office of Price Administration, said many farmers are applying mistakenly to their local OPA war price and rationing boards or to the War Production Board, which are not the proper agencies for such applications.

Such applications have been handled by the County Agricultural War Board since they were set up by the Department of Agriculture in each county in the nation last fall. More recently, applications for store and space heating equipment in farm homes also have been brought under the Agricultural War Board's jurisdiction. Each county agricultural agent is a member of the Agricultural War Board in his county.

According to Sarvis, farmers will save time and effort if they get directly in touch with the Agricultural War Board whenever they wish to purchase any type of machinery or equipment for productive farm use.

Michigan Beans Are Important Crop

More So Than Ever Because of Demands Created by War

Some of the field crop juggling necessary to get in the suggested record of 828,000 acres of navy beans in Michigan fields in 1943 provides several possibilities on which farmers can plan.

Competitive major cash crops needed in the war are potatoes and sugar beets. Some increase in corn will be necessary to reach production goals of dairy, meat and poultry products. Full acreages of forage and pasture will be necessary as war crops for livestock feed.

These ideas come from H. C. Rafter, head of the Michigan State College farm crops department.

Fewer soybeans are needed than were planted in 1942, especially in the counties where navy beans are a prominent crop. In those counties many soybeans failed to mature. In fact, 30 to 50 per cent of the soybeans have been snowed in, still unharvested.

The balance of the extra navy bean acreage could come out of fields normally planted to oats. Rafter suggests, without seriously impairing feed supplies. New price inducements offered navy bean growers should make such a change profitable. Recent price increases for 1942 beans, in spite of lack of bean canning, give indication of the importance of Michigan beans as a war crop. The state in 1942 produced 91 per cent of the nation's white pea or navy beans. Bean fields not recently manured and not growing a legume sod should get a 2-16-8 fertilizer.

HOLLY THEATRE

"Now, Voyager" is the name of Bette Davis' newest picture and great is the word for both the picture and its star. In one of the greatest love stories the screen has ever told, Miss Davis rises to the greatest heights of her entire dramatic career, and the result is the year's finest screen entertainment.

Here is a film story so sensitively directed, so ably enacted that the audience cannot help but live the events as they unfold on the screen. Bette is cast as Carlotta Vale, a girl who has been kept in such complete seclusion by her mother for so long a period of time, that she suffers a nervous breakdown as a result. It is a role that calls for a superb performance, and Miss Davis certainly gives that. As Carlotta, she plays a young girl of twenty whose first love affair is ruthlessly broken up by her tyrannical mother; a girl of twenty-eight, who looks like thirty-eight, dowdy, with thick eyebrows, thick rimmed glasses and a bad case of nerves, and as a charming young woman of the world.

Cast opposite Miss Davis is Paul Henreid, who gave such fine performances in the play "Flight to the West" and the film "Joan of Paris." This picture will most certainly put him up with the screen's greatest lovers. His portrayal of a lonely man who finds happiness but cannot accept, is flawless.

Claude Rains, as the psychiatrist called in to help Carlotta find the road to happiness, gives a fine performance. Neyer does one get the feeling that he is a professional physician, but a good friend of the family. The role of the mother who is a strict disciplinarian is played with superb realism by Gladys Cooper, famous actress of the London stage.

Ika Chase is grand as Carlotta's sister-in-law. She is one Vale who refuses to be awed or frightened by Back Bay traditions and is instrumental in seeing that Carlotta receives the proper care.

Irrving Rapper, who piloted Miss Davis through "In This Our Life", has directed "Now, Voyager."

The story which was adapted for the screen by Casey Robinson, from the novel by Olive Higgins Prouty, is a decidedly original treatment of a truly unique theme. The film is a Hal W. Wallis production.

Baseball fans will be glad to know that this year's baseballs will be as serviceable as ever. But they will be made with a scrap rubber cushioned center instead of the rubber-cushioned cork center. Results of mechanical and real-life tests of the new ball have convinced manufacturers that your favorite slugger will continue to knock them out of the ball park with his usual ease.

Thousands of British-made Lend-Leased barrage balloons now protect the West Coast of the United States.

There's no nickel in the new nickel. The new five cent piece consists of 66 per cent copper, 35 per cent silver and 9 per cent manganese.

Clarkston Locals

The friends of A. E. Butters of Norwich, N. Y., formerly of Clarkston were glad to see him the first of the week. He was here for a few days and attended the Rotary Club meeting on Monday evening.

Mrs. Roy Spencer and Miss Muriel Boyns returned on Wednesday from a trip to Camp Wolters, Texas, where they visited Pte Roy Spencer Jr. They all had a happy time and they left Roy in good spirits and feeling fine.

Last Thursday Mrs. Sam Carson of Springfield Road entertained at a one o'clock luncheon at her home. The guests included Mrs. Howard Dean, Mrs. Sam Morgan, Mrs. Clair Hopkins and Mrs. Harold Brown.

Among those who donated blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank in Pontiac a couple of weeks ago was Mrs. Huldah Linabury. This is the second time she has donated blood during the year.

Miss Evelyn Davies and her friend, William Hungerford, both students at the University of Michigan, spent a few days this week in Clarkston with Evelyn's mother and sister, Mrs. Minnie Davies and Nancy.

workers teach mathematics, current events and Spanish to the servicemen. There are also Sunday night Vespers, Musical programs, Sunday night suppers and on other nights movies and dances. Volunteers visit the hospitals, taking flowers and gifts to the sick soldiers and sailors.

The entertainment of the service men is no small part of the work these women are doing.

One thing has been missing down here and that is any sign of general rowdiness among the armed forces. Soldiers and sailors are given rides by the motoring public and are invited into homes where they are made welcome.

Many times a day one can see the Military Police (M.P.) and the Coast Guard Police on duty on the streets, in the movies and on the Beach. They have full and complete jurisdiction over all service men and have the power to make arrests and to enforce order. They can order a soldier or sailor to correct his appearance if they catch one carelessly attired, hat or cap askew, blouse unfastened, face dirty or shoes not shined. These men are not trouble seekers but are trouble preventors.

The very appearance of the swarthy, uniformed patrol is enough to cause caution to prevail. They are instructed to be courteous but firm and they have no jurisdiction over civilians, except in military zones and in dealing with traffic problems where military is concerned.

Men from every walk of life are teamed in the Army Air Force technical training at Boca Raton Field, a few miles south of Delray Beach, for one great purpose, "Victory", and many of these men have sidetracked college and perhaps brilliant careers for something they consider greater freedom for America.

There are many men in uniform on the streets and the civilian business is going along about the same, subject naturally to war time restrictions. Playgrounds and golf courses have become drilling fields.

Dim-out regulations are in force all up and down the coast and the Bridge lights are blacked out from Ocean-side. All motorists must have the top half of their headlights painted black.

Army and Immigration Guards stop all westbound traffic on the bridges to the mainland for personal identification. The Beach and the surf are clean and free from oil and people can fish and swim from sunrise to sundown; but no one is allowed on the beaches at night. All along Ocean Blvd. and the Beach is patrolled by Coast Guards. In this area the Coast Guards ride horses along the Beach at night. What about the spirits of those on the firing lines? Our soldiers, our sailors, our marines and our merchant marines have shown great courage and cheerfulness and there has been a steady rush of volunteers.

On the home front perhaps there has been some hoarding and whining and it has been a harsh adjustment for some to make, but most of the people have been willing to do their part.

It is now over a year of war for the U. S. A. and we have come a long way; a very long way, a distance Hitler never dreamed of. Much hard fighting is ahead and there will be many difficult problems to handle; but there has been achieved a "Turning of the Tide" and the Axis and the Japs have been halted and the U. S. A. with our Allies are edging ahead.

Yours Truly Mrs. David L. Newlands P. S. I might add that the weather has been unusually warm so far this winter and we have had no cold spells.

The temperature averages 79°. Just day after day of sunshine and summer weather and very little rain but still there are many kinds of flowers and green vegetables are plentiful and reasonable in price and a very large crop of oranges, grapefruit and other citrus fruits. The local fishermen have been able to supply the fish markets with plenty of fresh fish from the ocean.

Inez Holcomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Holcomb, is among those who have been unfortunate enough to get the chicken-pox. Inez is confined to her home on Holcomb Street.
