United States Treasury War Bond Sales—April

An all out drive all over the country is now going on by thousands of volunteer workers, to sell the largest number of WAR BONDS, ever sold in this country, in any one month. It is necessary to help finance the costs of this total war. We are on the offensive on almost every war front. Our boys are doing their part and doing it day and night, under almost impossible conditions, asking only from us the tools with which to work. WAR BONDS—BUY the tools and many other things that are so necessary. We on the home front, to justify our support of those who have their names on our HONOR BOARD, have a job to do. BUY BONDS—BUY MORE BONDS and then in this month of April—BUY EVEN MORE BONDS.

You are, after all, only lending your money and receiving interest for the loan, backed by the full faith and credit of the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

Any member of the Clarkston Rotary Club will gladly assist you with information on War Bonds. The Clarkston State Bank will handle your purchases. A large committee is being formed to help put this over in Independence Township.

It is not what you do not like that counts. What does count, is what you love with a passion beyond life itself—AMERICA—Say it with your dollars this month of April, by investing in the future of the finest and best of all—THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Back that boy with your dollars—Buy Bonds—Buy Bonds in April.

HOME SALVAGE

FATS, TIN CANS, SILK or NYLON HOSIERY will be needed just as long as the war lasts. The need is great and it is the duty of every woman and every housewife to see that her home is doing its share. Do not waste anything that might help our boys who are so confident that the folks at home will send them what they need to do their job.

If you cannot get your household scrap to the proper place just call our Girl Scouts. They will be ready to help you.

If you are busy getting your house-cleaning done in the next week or so remember to put into a bundle any old clothing, rag or old pieces of furniture that you want to get rid of and the Goodwill Industry will be glad to get it. Watch for the collection date. We will likely make a canvass and gather everything at one center where the Goodwill truck will call. You see truck-drivers and trucks are hard to get in the cities and we must do what we can to make things a little easier.

Ed. Miller Farm Sold To Detroit

It was announced Monday that Harry B. Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Company, of Detroit, had purchased the farm on Miller Road, known as the Ed. Miller Farm.

A few years ago this farm had been subdivided but reverted to farm land again. It is not known at this writing whether the new owner intends to carry out the original plan made by Knight-Menard Co. of Detroit, to subdivide the farm into "Estate" size parcels of land or to use it as his own private estate.

Our Boys In The Service

A letter received this past week from Hugh Cheeseman says he is in training in the Navy at Bainbridge, Maryland. He seems to be quite happy at his work and says there is a "swell bunch of fellows" to work with. He thinks that due to his training at the Citadel he received the rating of Junior Chief Petty Officer which without doubt will not hold after boot training.

A line from Arthur Frank Sr. says that their son, Sgt. Arthur A. Frank Jr., is now stationed somewhere in North Africa attached to the staff of General James Doolittle in the office of communications.

Nelson Clark of Maceday Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee M. Clark of Clarkston, has enlisted in the U. S. Coast Guard and will leave for Manhattan Beach on Monday.

"Somewhere in Africa"
March 11, 1943

Kind Sir:
I just received your paper dated January 8th and was very glad to get it. It sure was good to get the news of people I knew back home.

Well, the work over here isn't too easy, but I don't mind as long as I know I'm doing all I can to help.

I am feeling just fine and putting on a few lbs. It must be the Army food agreeing with me.

I would like to express my deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Gantner in the loss of their son, Richard. He was one of my best friends.

Give all the folks back home my best regards.

Yours,
Pfc. Richard See.

Clarkston W. S. C. S. Has Quarterly Meeting

Mrs. Tola M. McGowan Was The Guest Speaker

The W. S. C. S. of the Clarkston Methodist Church held its quarterly meeting at the church on Wednesday. The business meeting was held at ten o'clock in the morning. A pot-luck luncheon was enjoyed at noon and in the afternoon a very fine program was presented.

Mrs. Harold Pailthorp had charge of the devotionals; Mrs. Atkins and Adele Thomas favored the group with several very lovely musical numbers. The guest speaker, Mrs. Tola M. McGowan of Detroit, who is in charge of the publicity for the Goodwill Industries, gave an exceptionally interesting outline of the work done for the handicapped folks and just how the people in Clarkston could lend a hand.

The next quarterly meeting will be held in July.

Clarkston Garden Club Holds First Meeting

The first Spring meeting of the Clarkston Garden Club took place at the home of Miss Ada Serace on Thursday of last week. Open discussions on Shrubs and Bushes followed a light luncheon served by the hostess.

Be sure to read all about the Auction at the Weber Ware Farm on April 16th. See page 2.

The Gunter family has moved from Holcomb street to the school subdivision.

Have You Planned Your Victory Garden?

During the last two weeks you have surely heard the singing of the frogs in the distant swamps. Some of the wintry blasts that have made us stay in by the fireside surely have frozen the frog ponds over at least three times—so it must be that Spring is on its way and now is the time to start thinking of your Victory Garden.

William Vliet is chairman of the Victory Garden committee in this district and his co-workers are: Farmer Davies, A. B. Wompole, Mrs. William Edgar, Mrs. Russell Maybee, William Belitz and Mrs. Carl Irish. This committee has a list of land available for gardens. If you desire to plant a garden and you haven't land at your own home just call any member of this committee and they will see that you get a plot for planting. Then too if you have land that you are not going to make use of yourself and you are willing to let someone else use call any member of the committee and make the fact known.

Remember this committee is willing and ready to help you solve your garden space problem. Call them at once.

Further Restrictions For Phone Service

Further telephone restrictions under order of the War Production Board, announced by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, prohibit any installation of telephone service excepting on a conditional basis.

Where facilities are available, installations can be made only on condition that the instrumentalities be given up by the applicant for service if they should be needed later for war or other essential purposes. In some places it will be possible to provide service on a party-line but not on an individual line basis. The order applies to service moves from one location to another, as well as to new installations, it was stated.

In many sections, the company pointed out, telephone lines, cables and central office apparatus are in use to capacity, and no installations can be made.

During recent months, service was provided only on a conditional basis at several points throughout the state and in parts of Detroit and Grand Rapids. It applies state-wide under the new order, which is designed further to conserve telephone facilities and critical materials required for essential war purposes.

The latest WPB order also prohibits not only the installation of residence extension telephones, but also their reconnection for new occupants, and further limits the expansion of central office equipment and exchange plant.

Because of the shortage of materials with which to expand the telephone system, Michigan Bell officials said there is considerable likelihood that a person or firm planning to move may be unable to get telephone service at the new location. The facilities situation is changing from day to day and no definite advance promise of service can be made for any particular time or location. Even when and where service can be provided, considerable delay in its installation is probable because of manpower scarcity, it was stated.

Almost 3,000 miles of access roads to mines, quarries, and forests will be built in 1943 to serve war production purposes, with the largest unit cost for New York State, one mile at $39,300.

The Crippled Children Need Your Help

Formal announcement of the opening of the annual sale of Easter seals for crippled children was made today by Lloyd C. Mege, president of the Clarkston Rotary Club.

The seal sale, which is sponsored nationally by the National Society for Crippled Children to support local, state, and nation-wide programs for crippled children and adults, will close on Easter Sunday.

Pointing out the present need of the nation for the full productive capacity of all its people, Mr. Mege said that the work financed by Easter seals had been of "incalculable benefit" in helping crippled children to lead a useful life instead of one of dependency.

"The prospect that volunteers efforts in this direction may require drastic expansion because of the war is no less real because it is unpleasant," Mr. Mege said.

"In addition to the essential effort in rehabilitation of the handicapped in normal times, we are now facing the greatly increased incidence of disability due to the stepping up of industry, as well as the prospect of caring for the injured soldiers and sailors. While government planning to meet these problems is already underway, the experience and facilities of the volunteer organizations will be greatly needed."

"Public support of the Easter seal sale has been generous in the past," he concluded. "It is hoped that the urgency of the times will prompt the public to even greater support of our efforts this year."

Fly Kites In Open Fields

"Fly kites only in open fields," is the springtime caution voiced to youngsters today by teachers, Boy Scout leaders, and utility people. They explain that overhead wires carrying high voltage electric currents constitute a danger to children whose kites or kitestrings may touch the wires. Flying kites away from electric lines will eliminate this hazard.

In addition, the following rules were offered for kite safety:

String containing metal (such as Christmas tinsel cord) should never be used. It forms a perfect conductor to the hand from any electric wire it might touch. Likewise, wet string or thread acts like a wire, conducting electricity, and must be avoided. For this reason, no one should fly kites in the rain. String that is soaked should be dried out thoroughly before using. The use of metal for kite frames may cause a great deal of trouble.

Since kite-flying takes the children outdoors and into the fields, they may encounter broken kitestrings hanging from electric lines, or see dangling wires. Warn the children of the possible danger of touching any hanging wire.

Even apparently harmless wires may become charged by touching a line carrying current at some point you cannot see. You cannot always recognize a live wire—it seldom sparks, flashes or smokes. So it is better to leave all wires alone. Report "wires down" to The Detroit Edison Company at once, and leave to experienced linemen the job of handling them.

Remember to attend the Junior play at the school tonight.

During the 1942 African campaign, a British signal cypher "Rommel's pants are on fire" was decoded as "Rommel's pants are on fire."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 11.

The Golden Text (Psalms 67: 1, 2) is: "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt. 15:30): "And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.395): "When divine Science overcomes faith in a carnal mind, and faith in God destroys all faith in sin and in material methods of healing, then sin, disease, and death will disappear."

Scrap Drive

Were you ready when the scrap truck called this week? Lots of people were, as the pile is growing daily on the lot between the Baptist Church and Beattie Motor Sales. By this time all of the township has been covered and if you still have some scrap or they failed to stop at your house please call T. S. Boyns, Clarkston 3566. He will gladly arrange for the pick-up. This scrap is so vital toward the war effort, if for any reason, you could not have it ready for them this past week, please attend to it as soon as possible and call Mr. Boyns. Thanks to all who helped in the pick-ups, many of them for the first time and we are sure they were more than repaid for the joy of seeing the pile grow and in the knowledge they were helping the home front to do their part.

Rotary Club News

We enjoyed the splendid talk given by Dr. James McGee, pastor, Goodrich Methodist Church. Dr. McGee is a brother of the well known Clinton McGee, of Pontiac.

Please support our efforts in behalf of the Crippled Children of Michigan. This is a project very close to the hearts of all Rotarians and is sponsored by Rotary Clubs, everywhere. Recently many people received in their mail a number of Easter Seals, with a self addressed and stamped envelope for your dollar, and please, if you could see the full benefit of your dollar, for this cause, you would make it two dollars and still be happy.

Regular monthly meetings of the Board of Directors, will be held after the meeting, Monday, April 12th.

All members of the Club are behind the great WAR BOND sale, during the month of April. Many have already secured a number of sales. Every member has been asked to sell at least one thousand dollars worth of the bonds.

The speaker for next Monday, April 12th, will be announced later.

Friends of Louis F. Walter will be pleased to know that his condition is improving and he hopes to be home from the University Hospital at Ann Arbor very soon.

Heroes at Home

She kept from making any show when off to camp, he had to go. She managed then her grief to hide. Though she was sick, deep down inside, she mustered up some words of cheer and kept in check a burning tear.

The months have gone; she doesn't fail. To meet expectantly each mail. She dwells upon each word he sends. Thereby she follows camp life trends. She's so engrossed in what he's done. That life for both is just as one.

But as embarking time draws near. Her heart is crippled with deathly fear. She's sure he's left for over there. On land or sea she knows not where. No mail received; the broken link. She won't allow herself to think.

Now soldiers fight and go thru hell. But we at home know very well. That mother's brow is lined with care. And streaks of silver line her hair. As she lives through each gruesome day.

That boy of her's is gone away. When governments give medals out. To those who set the foe to rout. They shouldn't overlook a soul. From whom the war exacts its toll. The mothers who have sent a son. Should have a medal; everyone.

Seals are being sent out to local citizens through the mails, and are also available at O'Dell's Drug Store, Clarkston, Michigan, or any member of the Rotary Club.

WAR RESTRICTS

Telephone Installations to a Conditional Basis

NO INSTALLATIONS can be made in some sections

UNDER an order of the War Production Board, telephone installations can be made hereafter only on a conditional basis. The order requires that an applicant agree to share his line with others, or to relinquish his service entirely, if the facilities are needed later for vital war or other essential purposes.

Service moves to new addresses for present telephone users also are on a conditional basis.

In some places, no installations can be made because the facilities are being used to capacity and critical material shortages prevent expansion of the telephone system.

These and other wartime restrictions will inconvenience many persons, we know. However, we shall continue to supply service whenever possible, and we look forward to the day when we again can give all the service wanted, when and where wanted.

Edible Weeds Will Help Food Problem

Expert Tells What Kinds Best Suit the Palate

An untold wealth of weeds stands ready this spring to take some of the edge from food rationing for persons who are willing to tramp the woods and idle fields and gather the crisp tops before the weeds grow rank.

At least nine such weeds get a recommendation from Dr. H. T. Darlington, botany professor at Michigan State College. There's as much or more pleasure in the gathering as there is in the eating, he says.

Leading the list is the well-known dandelion, gathered like the rest when young and tender, but usually available right in the front lawn. For a crisp salad, the dandelion can be blanched by loosely covering with several layers of paper weighted at the edges.

Common in Michigan is the curly or yellow dock. This should be gathered young and tender, before it gets a foot high, and cooked as a pot herb. As for dandelions, for those who fail to appreciate the bitter taste, the cooking water should be changed several times during the brief cooking period.

A cousin of spinach is in this group. This is lamb's quarters, usually found in cultivated fields. Cutting for the table should be when the plants are six to ten inches high, cooked as spinach for about 20 minutes. The marsh marigold or American cowslip is another edible plant from which leaves and stems are boiled and served as spinach is served. The true water cress is familiar to

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I was just tellin' my brother Fred this morning, Judge...there's never been a time in our lives when we got to live up to that old sayin' 'United we stand, divided we fall' more than we have to today."
"How true that is, Herb. And for the life of me, I can't figure out why, at a time like this, some folks insist on raising a question like prohibition. I can't imagine anything that would tickle our enemies more than to get us folks over here taking sides against each other, arguing about an issue like that. We've got a he-man's job on our hands to win this war and we can't be wasting our minds, our money and our strength fighting about something we tried for nearly 14 years and found couldn't work."
"I say there's a time and a place for everything, and this is no time or place to be doing any fightin' except the kind that's going to win the war."

 MACHINE GUN LINKS
 made automatically—

...another job Electricity is doing to help win the war

A MACHINE GUN firing 1200 shells per minute requires mass production on a big scale to keep it supplied with ammunition. The metal links that make a continuous chain of machine gun bullets are a good example. Millions of these links are turned out daily in a single local plant, and thanks to electricity, the whole job is completely automatic from start to finish.

Starting with a steel strip, the stock feeds through multiple stamping machines to make the "green" link (not yet heat treated). Then on a continuous conveyor belt, the links go successively to electric furnaces for hardening, to shot blasting machines, to draw furnaces for more heat treating, to a rust preventive bath, and finally to bins where every link is tested for strength and accurate dimensions. They then slide down a chute and are packaged into waterproof cartons, which—after spot testing by Army inspectors—are conveyed directly into box cars.

Machine gun links by the carload are only ONE of the thousands of jobs that electricity is doing today in arsenals and war plants. Electric power is a weapon of war... making its strength felt on the production lines that equip our fighting men. The Detroit Edison Company.
