Annual Senior Play A Grand Success

Haven't you often walked along a city street and read signs in front of show houses which said, "A Night of Fun"—"Laughs Galore". Well that is just what should have been in front of the Clarkston school last Friday night. The seniors and their director, Miss Gertrude Tew, are to be congratulated for giving the people of Clarkston and vicinity the best laugh they have had in a long time. Those who missed this evening of entertainment certainly missed a real treat.

The play "The Whole Town's Talking" was presented by a group of students of the senior class who were quite at ease on the stage and seemed to enjoy the story just as much as their audience. There were laughs from start to finish and even the children in the audience enjoyed the humor. Some of the cast had lengthy script to memorize and they deserve a great deal of credit for their success.

The stage crew must have done considerable work too because the setting required quite a few pieces of furniture which they managed to get—and they even arranged a fireplace with all of the fixtures. All of the committees must have worked well because the auditorium was crowded.

The music furnished by the High School Dance Band under the direction of Bill Radoye was pleasing indeed. These young people are really going places with their music and everyone in this vicinity is thrilled to see them making such strides. They played many splendid numbers last Friday night.

At the close of the play the seniors presented their director, Miss Tew, and those who assisted with gifts of appreciation.

Rotary Club News

On Monday night the Clarkston Rotary Club had a farmers' night. Each Rotarian and his wife had some neighboring farmers as their guests. Modern and old time dancing was enjoyed to music by Bill Radoye and his school musicians and by Mrs. George Savory of Highland. Mrs. Savory played the accordion and delighted the crowd with many old time tunes. She also played for the square dances and R. C. Ainsley did the calling.

During the evening Pfc. William O'Rourke, who was home on furlough, was presented and welcomed by a round of applause.

At about 11:30 refreshments were served. The crowd then had a good time singing some of the Rotary songs after which Bill Radoye and his group of musicians decided to go strictly 1913 and they burst forth with "Fistful Packin' Mama". Everyone had a good time and appreciated the good music.

Our Boys and Girls In The Service

Many of the young people will be interested in knowing that Hugh A. Preston, Jr., 52 c, is now at Treasure Island, San Francisco.

Pvt. Robert Johnson who is studying at Harvard University enjoyed this week at his home in Clarkston. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson of 3 Waldon Road.

California, Dec. 1-43
Dear Mr. and Mrs. Stamp:

I'm awfully sorry I haven't written you before now thanking you for the Clarkston News. I really appreciate the paper and the surrounding town news.

I am stationed in Camp Haan, about ten miles from Riverside. It is a nice camp. I'm sorry we didn't get more of our training here in-lead of out in the Mojave Desert. We have spent most of our time in the desert. The weather when we first arrived was awful hot and at night it was so hot and dry I could hardly sleep but I got used to it and now it doesn't bother me a bit. It's awful cold here at night now and the days are just warm.

At this moment I am out on the range where they are firing our big guns. These big guns make the ground shake for hundreds of yards when they are fired.

I'll close now and thanks again for the Clarkston News.

Sincerely
Pvt. Edwin Ross.

Many folks have asked that the addresses of boys be published. We are sorry that we cannot accommodate you in this way, but we have been asked by our government not to print addresses of service men. Why?—because this would give information as to what units were on the move and in what direction they were going and if attached to a ship the address would even name the ship. If you are interested in writing a letter or sending greetings to any of these boys we suggest that you contact their folks or call the Clarkston News.

Girl Scout News

their home in San Francisco.

When the girls of scout troop No. 17 met last Tuesday they decided it would be a good idea to change the date of the Christmas party to December 11th instead of the 21st since there is so much confusion around Christmastime and too, some of us are going away for the holidays.

The orders have been sent for the eight subscriptions to the American Girl magazine. We hope the children will enjoy them.

SENIOR NEWS

The Senior class wishes to thank the public for the backing they gave us to make our play a success.

We also wish to thank the Stage Crew: Bob Clark, Jim Burns, Eldon Rouse, and Ralph Hagen. They did an excellent job in last minute preparations on the stage.

In a few days the groggy feeling will be worn off because of the lack of sleep, and classes will be resumed as they were before play time.

11TH NEWS

The 11th grade has about six or seven boys trying out for the basketball team. Of course we have to have a few Juniors to help out the Seniors and make it a winning team.

Oh! yes, we are proud because we took in more money on our dance than the Seniors did on their dance. We hope that all of you will come to the dance the Juniors sponsor next.

The Juniors are always trying to do better than the Seniors, and the Seniors try to do better than the Juniors. The Seniors did very well on their play last Friday night, but the Juniors will do their best to surpass them next Spring.

10TH GRADE NEWS

Fire Destroys Rouse Home

On Wednesday morning of last week fire destroyed the house on Waldon Road occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rouse and family. The fire was first noticed by Mrs. Rouse who was busy in the kitchen. She summoned help from the neighbors and in a very few minutes there were many there to assist. The Clarkston Fire Department responded but their efforts to save the place were in vain. The house was destroyed and very little of the furnishings were saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Rouse and family have moved into the Thompson Miller place on South Main street recently vacated by the J. D. Powells who moved to Pontiac.

Andersonville News

The P.T.A. met at the schoolhouse last Thursday with a good attendance. It was decided to serve hot lunches to the school children two days every week. The girls of the school sang several Christmas songs. Mrs. Marshall Ferguson and Mrs. Wilfred Fuller acted as hostesses and served delectable refreshments.

The children of the Andersonville school packed four Christmas boxes to give to the Red Cross for the boys in the service. These children realize what this war means to the country and to each American and they are trying to do what they can to bring peace. Each week they buy their share of war stamps.

Michigan Housewives Had Canning Spree

Detailed Figures Reveal How They Added to Food Supply

At least 48,200,000 quart jars of food form shiny rows on storehouse shelves in 200,000 suburban and farm homes in Michigan, according to a conservative estimate of the work of foresighted families in bridging the winter food season of 1943-44.

Figures just compiled by Miriam Eads, MSC nutrition specialist, show that 1581 families reported canning 106,787 quarts of vegetables, 190,209 quarts of fruit, 82,919 quarts of tomatoes and tomato juice. With an average of 3.5 members in these families, this provides 35.3 quarts of fruit, 19.7 quarts of vegetables and 16 quarts of tomatoes. An adequate canning budget to give good meals rich in needed mineral, vitamins and other nutrients suggests about 50 quarts of fruit, 30 quarts of vegetables and 35 quarts of tomatoes for each adult.

The amount stored and eaten fresh must be counted in too, says Miss Eads, who points out that these records were compiled before full amounts to be stored were in cellars or pits. Families have an average of 3 bushels of vegetables and nearly a bushel of fruit for each person in the family. Since potatoes, 1 1/2 to 4 bushels for each person, are not included in the amount, the quantity stored is close to the 100 pounds recommended. These 1581 homemakers report just 5197 quarts of fruit and vegetables in freezer lockers.

There were 460 who improved their storage cellars, 104 who used a pressure cooker for the first time this year, and 1068 who helped their neighbors. More than 18,000 folks attended more than 1160 demonstrations that reached 81 counties.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, Dec. 12.
The Golden Text (Thessalonians 3:3) is: "The Lord is faithful, who shall establish you, and keep you from evil."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 55:16,17): "As for me, I will call upon God; and the Lord shall save me. Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.15): "Christians rejoice in secret beauty and bounty, hidden from the world, but known to God. Self-forgetfulness, purity, and affection are constant prayers. Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings."

Help Send Gifts To Those in Service

Organizations and various groups in the county are very active collecting articles for Christmas boxes to be sent to the armed forces in camps and hospitals in Michigan.

Mrs. Walter D. Appel, chairman of the Camp and Hospital committee for the American Red Cross, wants to remind people that they must have these packages at chapter headquarters, 12 Seneca street, Pontiac, by December 15th in order that they may reach the camps in time for Christmas.

Gifts especially wanted from the public include army colored socks and ties, boxes of candy, toilet articles, smoking tobacco, stationery, sewing kits, candied fruit, billfolds, etc. It is requested that all packages be wrapped in Christmas colors with the donors' names and addresses inside. The outside tag should state the contents of the package and the cost should not exceed two dollars.

Mrs. Joseph Seeterlin and Mrs. Frank Brigham are receiving gifts in this vicinity.

Christmas Mystery Play

At the First Methodist Church on the Sunday night before Christmas, December 19th, "A Mystery for Christmas" by H. D. McKinney, a mystery play will be presented in the medieval manner with Mrs. Eugene T. Cleland directing. The actors of the mystery will be the members of the Senior Youth Fellowship. Mr. Orlo J. Willoughby, the Director of Music will be in charge of the Chancel Choir which provides the choral effects for the mystery. Adele Thomas will serve as the organist.

For a beautiful portrayal of the Christmas Story the simplicity of the mystery with its simple spiritual appeal is an ideal vehicle. The public is cordially invited to this unique Christmas celebration.

The Peace of The Evening

There wasn't a thing in the new born day
As one could see that would help give away.
The secrets there held, of events to come.
"Only the peace of a fresh rising sun."
Now just how it happened scarce anyone knows.
Without any warning the storm arose.
From out of the nowhera clouds assembled
And branches of trees shivered and trembled
The air was biting as cold tempered steel
While hurries of snow went round like a wheel.
The day drew on, its striking force whitened
All life on the earth seemed to be threatened.
Without exception the strong and the weak
Scurried about, some protection to seek
From the force of the storm, trying to hide
Many a creature was injured and died.
When at the peak of our fear and despair
Just before nightfall peace filled the air.
On the horizon the sun glowing red
Smiled at us faintly and slipped off to bed.
The clouds disappeared as vapors of steam
That pass thru the mind of one in a dream.
The stars in the heavens twinkled so gay
To blot from our memory storms of the day.

Orange Lunch Box Treats

By BETTY BARCLAY

WITH everyone burning up extra energy in war work, the whole family needs a hearty, nourishing lunch... especially those members who carry the familiar lunch box. It takes ingenuity for mother to put into these boxes (for often now more than one member of the family carries lunch) the foods that will endure hours later and be appetizingly appealing through their freshness and taste and at the same time be crammed full of health essentials to replenish depleted energy.

Also, the lunch box has become so important. Important not only to the person who carries it but to the country as a whole in maintaining the demands of an all-out wartime production program. Basically the menu consists of a beverage - milk, coffee, or fruit juice - or perhaps a soup, vegetable, fruits, sandwiches, and a dessert. Of course these foods are packed in the pattern usually recommended.

Fruits are essential in the well-balanced menu and they are readily added to a lunch box service in a number of ways. The citrus fruits, oranges and grapefruit, have a special place in the lunch box as a source of vitamin C. They are also a source of calcium, phosphorus, and iron.

When mother packs up the lunch box, she should think in that space to 8 inches (the standard fruit is practically perfect, it is an ideal fruit for eating out of the hand. Many lunch makers cut the orange in quarters or partially peel it for the convenience of the hurried worker.

Still others prefer a generous jar of orange pieces combined with various seasonal fruits (such as pictured above). This is a fruit swisher service which can be both salad and dessert for the oranges provide a natural sweet juiciness associated with either course. Orange juice covering all the fruits in such a combination prevents them from turning dark... fruits such as apples, bananas, pears, etc., which normally discolor after peeling and slicing.

Another citrus favorite, lemonade, in the lunch box vacuum bottle is a refreshing beverage that builds a wholesome "health" habit. And the worker who wants lemonade in the morning and afternoon as well as at lunch brings a small bottle of pre-mixed lemon juice and sugar from home. He has it handy then for making his own lemonade whenever he wants it... just adds water - hot or cold - and serves himself.

Fruit juices lend themselves readily to other lunch box uses too for orange and lemon juice are delicious additions to sandwich spreads. If you haven't tried some of the following, they're sure to be a special treat:

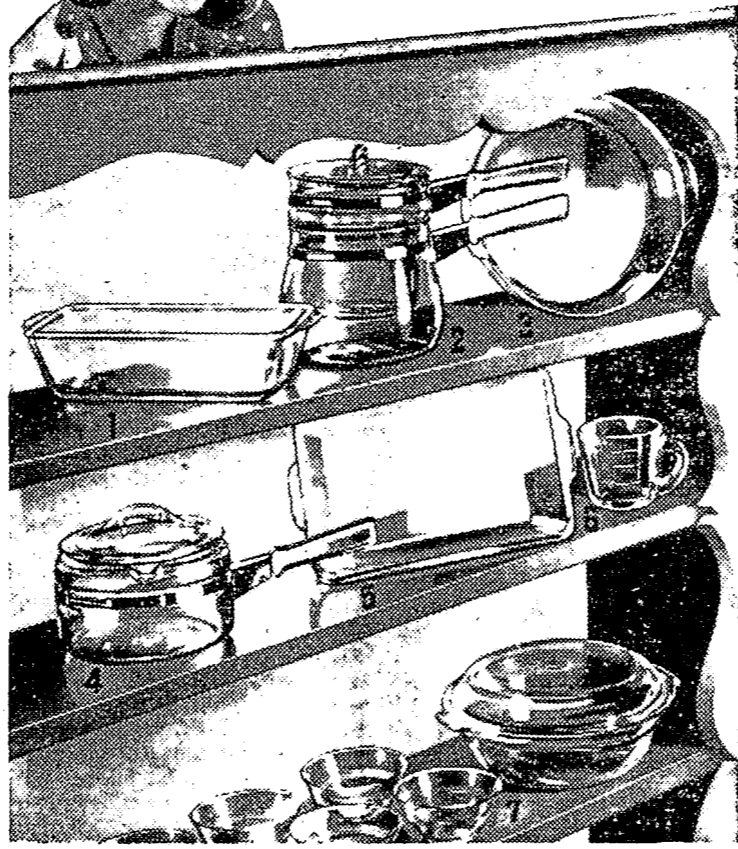

Peanut butter mixed with grated orange peel and thinned slightly with orange juice.

Mashed avocado thinned with lemon juice and seasoned with salt. Pared apples smoothed with a bit of orange marmalade or juice makes a tasty spread.

Chopped dates, raisins, mixed with ground nuts and moistened with lemon juice.

THE FORGOTTEN LIGHT

There it shines, a forgotten porch light burning all night long at someone's door. In normal times your porch light is a real convenience: It helps callers find your house number, it discourages prowlers, and it reduces accidents from falls on dark steps. The cost is only two or three cents a week—for electricity is cheap.

Today our country is at war... and that light burning needlessly is a serious matter, especially when it burns all night. It uses vital coal and manpower and transportation. And today our Government is asking for the most careful saving of these critical resources. It is asking you to save VOLUNTARILY.

Remember that electricity is a WAR MATERIAL, even though it is cheap and unrationed. There is no shortage of facilities for making electricity. But thousands of tons of coal per day are required for its manufacture in Edison power plants. Use it as carefully as you would rubber or gasoline or other critical resources. Power saved at home means more power for the fighting fronts. The Detroit Edison Company.

Even a 5% saving in the monthly use of electricity by Detroit Edison customers will save about...

Substitutes Suggested For Stock Bedding

Bedding scarcities for livestock on the average Michigan farm lead to suggestion that materials other than straw can be used to keep animals clean and comfortable during winter months.

Dry sawdust makes suitable bedding material. There is no justification that sawdust injures the land. From tests conducted by the soils science department at MSC and supplemented by research work in Ohio, sawdust can safely be used to soak up manure.

Twenty-five pounds of dry sawdust will absorb 100 pounds of liquid about as efficient as chopped straw. It is true that sawdust has only about one-third the plant food contained in straw and decays slowly in the soil, but land is not harmed if the material is spread over the land.

Used in excessive quantities, without manure, sawdust does take nitrogen from the soil, according to Dr. C. E. Millar, of the MSC soils science staff. That is because the carbohydrates in the sawdust require bacterial action supported by nitrogen to decay. In combination with manure the sawdust does not rob the soil of nitrogen.

Dried peat has high absorbing ability. Shavings also can be used. Shredded cornstalks make excellent bedding, since such material has twice as much nitrogen, phosphorus and potash as wheat straw. The shredding also aids in corn borer control.

9TH GRADE NEWS
 Several of our ninth graders sold enough tickets for the Senior Play to obtain a free one. As usual this shows the excellent salesmanship our class has always displayed.

We all express our deepest sympathy for Janette Bird whose home recently burned down. We hope to see you back soon Janette, and we'll all pitch in and help you with your school work (if the teachers don't mind).
 Katherine La Plante

Just a few words to let you know we appreciate the way you have been turning out at all the activities held at the school this year.

Students and grown-ups alike have turned out at the dances, and the senior play drew a whole house full.

This week the basket ball games start. Let's all come to the Clarkston High school and really show our cooperative spirit. That's what makes a team feel like getting in there and fighting.

Following this week's game will be the "Sweater Swing" mentioned last week. Radoye and his Dirty Dozen will again give out with sweet and the swing music.
 Be seeing you then.
 Pat Stites

SPORTS NEWS
 Now that the football season is over, we are ushering in the basketball season. The team has been practicing for two weeks and is rounding into shape. Clarkston plays its first league game with Milford at home Friday, so everyone be out for the opener. We also have two scrimmages this week in the afternoon, one with St. Michael's of Pontiac.

Absent from next year's football team will be Capt. Eldon Rouse, Jack Laughman, Ralph Hagan, Walt Henry and Arnold Pacer, the seniors on the football team.
 Walt La Plante

MUSIC NEWS
 The dance band was invited by the youth fellowship to a "Piggy-dinner" which was held at the Methodist Church. Several of the dance band members attended. We want to thank them for this privilege.

There is to be another dance after the basketball game which is sponsored by the tenth grade. The name of the dance is the "Sweater Swing". Let's have a big turnout and really have fun.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Never knew that before, Judge... I would have sworn it was just the other way 'round."

"No, Arthur, the grain used in distilling war-alcohol is not wasted. In an efficient distillery up to 29% of it is reprocessed and is returned to farms like yours in the form of premium-quality livestock feed.

"Remember, this nourishing remainder is plumb full of protein, vitamins and carbohydrates and becomes a highly-prized feed concentrate.

"By developing new products from this processed grain, the modern distilling industry has taken a leading part in solving the vital shortage of cattle and poultry feed ingredients which are rich in vitamins B-1 and B-2, so essential to satisfactory growth and production.

"And what I have told you about the absence of grain waste in making war-alcohol, Arthur, also applies in the making of whiskey, although not a drop has been made in this country for over a year."

About Bull Rings—Not Mexican

Rings for noses of dairy bulls are at a premium.

At the request of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, A. C. Baltzer recent ly made a survey in Michigan to determine if standard bull rings could be obtained and if bull rings made of steel seemed practical.

Bull rings are not obtainable in most local hardware stores. One dairymen reported using bailing wire for a bull ring. Leading farmers recommended use of rope halters, bull pen and yard as recommended by M. S. C. or special devices sold thru dairy supply houses.

Some rings are being recovered from slaughter houses and stock yards. Instances are known where bulls were not bled unless the seller provided a ring. Recommendation was made to the Bureau of Dairy Industry to gain priority from the War Production Board for release of steel to be used for manufacturing of steel rings. Standard rings commonly have been made of bronze alloy, are rust-proof and self piercing. Leading breeders suggested the steel ring would be kept rust-proof by nose section and tongue action of the bull.

"No, this is not O'Toole's Garage!"

POOR LADY! This morning she got a call for Ben's Men's Haberdashery. And yesterday one for Larry's Bowling Alley. Judging from the piece of her mind she gave the last caller, her peace of mind is definitely disturbed. Unfortunately, mix-ups like these are bound to occur when people trust to memory in calling telephone numbers. Even more unfortunately, a wrong number means an extra call on the already overburdened telephone system to correct the mistake. You will get fewer wrong numbers—and every one will benefit—if you will follow these practices:

- 1 If you are not absolutely sure of a number, check it in your telephone directory.
- 2 If you compile and use your own telephone list, go over it once in a while and eliminate obsolete numbers... write in the correct ones.
