What important item COSTS LESS TODAY

than before the war?

Answer:

FLECTRICITY!

Look at the chart above. The upper line represents living costs as far back as 1914—including rent, food, clothing, household furnishings, etc. Notice the mountain peak during the first World War, and the rising slope during the present war. These upward curves mean money out of your pocket. You pay more and more for the things you buy.

Now look at the bottom line of the chart—the one headed steadily downward. That is the average price of your residential electricity since 1914. Thanks to rate reductions and increased use, your average price of electricity is LESS today than before the war. It is lower in price than even during the depression in 1932. And it is only half the price you paid during the last war. Electricity is cheap.

Congressman Dondero understands simple, grass-roots economics because his boyhood was shaped by hard, humble work. He began his education in a one-room district school in Royal Cak Township, Oakland County, and worked at 14, doing odd jobs for room and board.

Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., the Republican Floor Leader of the U. S. House of Representatives considers Congressman Dondero a sound and influential Member.

believes in government by law, rather than by Executive Orders. One of the bills introduced by him would amend the Constitution to fix the number of Justices of the Supreme Court so that not even a President or Congress could change it. Another Dondero bill would authorize a copy of the Constitution to be displayed in every U. S. Post Office. Still another measure initiated by our Congressman would perpetuate the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States by retiring from the presidential office any one who had served two terms.

Much of his attention is given to serving constituents in their relations with the various government agencies and he makes every effort possible to serve the people in this respect. He carefully considers legislation and votes his convictions, never hesitating te "stand up and be counted."

Congressman Dondero believes education is an essential in a Republic, where the people rule.

He was born in Greenfield Town ship. Wayne County, Michigan, within the district which he now represents. He understands the problems of the common people because he is one of the common people.

Our Congressman is ranking Rerublican member of the Committee on Education and because of such senority would become its chairman in he event that the next House of Representatives has a Republican majority. He is, also, second ranking Republican member of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors.
