Suggestions on How to Save Fuel

The OPA asked all fuel users in the Detroit District to save as much fuel as possible throughout the next heating season beginning September 1. They give the following simple methods of protecting fuel:

1. Keep heaters turned down during the day and turned off at night after the family has gone to bed. Pull down all window shades during the evening.
2. Don't burn heaters in rooms not being used, and when you leave a room, pull down the shades and shut the door of that room.
3. If possible, in the evening arrange for the entire family to be in one room instead of several rooms.
4. Cook complete meals at the same time whenever possible in one oven or in one service unit.
5. Fill in cracks around windows and doors at all times and don't leave outside doors and windows open any more than absolutely necessary.

USDA says—Much of the pulpwood for the V-Box, a soak-proof, paper-board box used in carrying supplies to the Armed Forces, comes from the thinning and logging operations in farm woodlands. Sweet Potato meal, made from dehydrated sweet potatoes compares favorably with corn as a feed for steers. Forty-one per cent fewer cattle were on feed for market in 11 corn belt states August 1, this year, than on that date last year, one of the sharpest decreases ever known.

When you go shopping, you can give your merchant a lift if you take your own shopping bag or else carry your purchase home unwrapped, because WPB reveals that this year less than half as much paper for retail wrapping and paper bags is available than during a normal year. WPB has asked merchants to wrap for protection rather than for appearance.

The Oakland County Farm Bureau wishes to announce that they are playing host to all of the Rural Youth of this vicinity. ALL the young people between the ages of 15 to 28 are cordially invited to be at the Highland High School, on Thursday, August 24, at 8:00 p. m. Wheat Should Be Sown After Sept. 16

Oakland county farmers planning to sow wheat this year are advised by County Agricultural Agent Karl D. Bailey to sow after Sept. 16 to avoid damage from Hessian flies.

This date, which varies throughout the state, is based on the observations of entomologists that in each locality after a certain date each year, there is still time before winter to establish a stand of wheat but not time for the adult Hessian flies to lay eggs between the leaves of wheat plants. These dates are based on latitude, altitude, and nearness to the Great Lakes.

The Hessian fly does its damage to young wheat stands while in the larvae or maggot stage. The larvae obtain food by scraping the plant tissue, thus weakening the stem and interfering with the supply of nutrients to the head of the plant. Injured plants lodge and show withered heads. In severe infestations, complete loss of the crop may result either from the fall or from the spring attack.

Owing to the necessity of getting wheat established before cold weather, Mr. Bailey urges that Oakland county farmers plant as soon after the fly-free date as possible.

You can help raise this money by donating all of your old rags and waste paper each month. A collection will be made early in September so start now to get your bundles ready.

Local Residents Attend Picnic

Last Saturday afternoon the Mayes Bros. Tool Mfg. Co., and the Winders Vial Co., of Port Austin, Mich., were hosts to their employees at a picnic at VanWagoner Park on Saginaw Bay. Present at the picnic as guests of Frank Kinch, president of the Tool Co., and Jos. Richardson, president of the Vial Co., were Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Stamp of Clarkston.

There were about 150 enjoyed the lunch which was served before and after the program. Mark McKee of the Pan-American Airways gave a short talk and praised the workers and their employers for their cooperation in the war effort. He said that the township of Pt. Austin had been one of the first in the State to go "over the top" in the bond drives and that it was the many Pt. Austins doing their home front jobs that really made America great. Another guest speaker was Fred Vandevanter, a news commentator on a Detroit broadcast station. Mr. Vandevanter explained that we in America had three enemies to fight. The first enemy was Germany; the second was Japan and the third was ourselves. "Ourselves, because we are too complacent, he said. We take too much for granted. If we are to have our freedom that is so dear to the American people then we must all fight for it—that is everyone's job. He congratulated the two companies and the workers for the harmonious way they get their work done and advised them to keep right on cooperating.

Later, the guests from Clarkston were taken on a tour of the two factories. The Mayes Tool Mfg. Co., is one of the largest, if not the largest level factory in the world. Here, levels, small and large, wooden and metal are turned out by the thousands every day. This company has been in Port Austin for the past twenty-five years and employs about 70 or 75 people, men and women. The Winders Vial Co., makes glass vials for levels and it was indeed interesting to follow the many delicate operations from the bending and forming the vial until it is filled with the alcohol and sealed ready to be shipped to the level factories all over the country. About seventy-five per cent of the vials made at Winders is sent to the Mayes Bros., for their levels.

Of the awards and citations given to a total of 105 women in the U. S. Armed Forces to date, 97 women of the Army Nurse Corps got the lion's share, OWI reported on the basis of information from Army and Navy.

The Distinguished Flying Cross, highest award ever made to a woman, went to a flying Army Nurse in New Guinea.

OPA says—Any farmer who sold 6,000 pounds or less of dressed meat having any ration point value and produced from his own livestock during the past 12 months must file a report of his sales on form R-1609 and file with OPA. Individual consumers, small boarding houses and eating places operated to feed workers inside industrial plants may apply for supplemental ration points if they are in areas where the fresh vegetable supply does not meet nutritional needs. Because of extensive counterfeiting of A-11 gasoline coupons, service station operators should be sure that every A coupon they accept is torn out of a valid ration book and that the motorist has endorsed the coupon with the license number of the car into which the gas is delivered.

Notice

The Service Mothers Club has placed jars in several of the stores for the purpose of collecting money for the Christmas boxes for the service boys and girls. You will want to help with these boxes so be sure to put your contribution in one of these jars soon. Let's make the boys and girls who are far from home at Christmas time as happy as we possibly can.

Canning Club To Demonstrate

The Clarkston 4-H Canning Club will hold a business meeting and demonstrate the canning of peaches in the Home Economics room at the school on Thursday afternoon, August 31st, at 2 o'clock. This demonstration is one that they will give at the State show in East Lansing on September 8th. The mothers and all interested are invited to attend.

Red Cross News

Prisoner's packages. Oakland County next-of-kin of American Prisoners of War not only may get advice from Oakland County Red Cross chapter in selecting gifts but they may even get the carton in which to ship gifts to Americans in German hands.

Mrs. R. M. Knox, chairman of the Oakland County Red Cross Prisoner of War committee announced today that heavy cardboard cartons especially designed for prisoner's gift packages are now available free of charge at the Red Cross Home Service Office, 410 Peoples State Bldg., Pontiac. This service is offered to speed delivery of parcels to Americans in enemy lands and to insure against damage from improper packing. In the past, many boxes had to be completely repacked at the New York office of censorship and the standard carton now being distributed by the Red Cross will avoid delays and duplication of effort.

Cartons are available to anyone having an official gift label from the Provost Marshal which is necessary for every gift parcel. The free container is approved by postal authorities and is of the correct size. There is still no means of sending gift boxes to prisoners in the Far East.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 1:14): "And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (332): "The Christ is incorporeal, spiritual,—yes, the divine image and likeness, dispelling the illusions of the senses; the Way, the Truth, and the Life, healing the sick and casting out evils, destroying sin, disease, and death."

Give Me a Place By the Side of a Lake

Just give me a place on the bank of a lake

Where the boats go gliding by,
Where the beauty of God, each way that you look

Is all that meets with your eye.
Oh! give me a place where the blue waters roll

And dance in a gentle breeze;
Where your thoughts can stray to points far away

And come and go as they please.
Let me free from all strain, and relax every nerve

That I may heed God's appeal
To mingle with Him in this glorious life

With His creations so real.
The strife in the world, as promoted by man,

Seems so uncalled for today;
Had we only the thought to include in our plan

A bit more time for our play.
Yes, let me get lost from this high pressure world

Where men are wrapped in their greed;
Let nature embrace me again to her breast,

And care for my spirits' need.
Just give me a place by the side of a lake,

Close where the blue waters roll;
That I may enjoy all the peace and content

That comes where nature unfolds.

Waterford Community Activities News

A special effort is being made to get at least twenty-five men, next Friday evening, with plumbing, carpentry, and painting equipment, to do the many jobs that need to be done in order to make it possible to rent the building to various organizations for special functions. With the present set-up it is very hard to do many of the things that need to be done without much of the needed repair work done. A great deal more money could be raised towards a heating plant and other necessary things that should have immediate attention when the kitchen is ready. Toilet facilities are also badly needed which will take money. This money could be raised when the building is more in order.

Much improvement has been made at the Club House and is very much appreciated, but it is hoped that some of these other jobs will be completed before cold weather sets in. The large east hall really looks beautiful and will make a fine place for various functions when some of the other very necessary details are completed.

Don't give away, sell or destroy that coal or wood burning equipment you have just in order to get a fuel ration, because OPA has authorized Local Rationing Boards to withhold the ration under such circumstances.

Build Breakfast from the "Basic 7"

Breakfast is at seven.
Breakfast is at ten.
Breakfast is at three o'clock.
Breakfast is when — ever the working man or woman's day begins and nowadays that may be at any hour.

Breakfasting time has changed but the health rule of breaking your fast with an adequate and balanced meal has not changed. If anything, it is more important than ever.

Don't Gulp and Run
Do you eat breakfast at home? or do you order your breakfast from a restaurant or fountain menu? In either case, the coffee and toast-doughnut-or-bun meal, eaten "gulp and run," is O-U-T.

It is important to your health and production power, says Uncle Sam, to begin the day with a breakfast that provides a variety of balanced foods, together with a fourth to a third of the day's food energy. Your slices of toast — good so far as it goes — should be supplemented by other foods to make a number one breakfast.

Know Your "Basic 7"
You are hearing much about the "basic 7" foods — the seven groups of foods we are asked to eat every day to protect health. This chart is the simplest measuring-stick for good nutrition that we have. To secure it, write to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. and ask for leaflet, "National Wartime Nutrition Guide."

First step in your better breakfast campaign, is to study the food lists on this chart and plan your breakfast to include some of them. Pictured here is a breakfast, which offers foods from six of the "basic 7" groups:

- Orange juice Group 2
Bananas Group 2
Milk Group 4
Eggs Group 5
Cereal and whole wheat toast Group 6
Butter or fortified margarine Group 6

There's nothing complicated about this meal. It took some time and thought, of course, to plan it but the result is a meal that's almost a full health insurance for the day, so far as food goes. Only one food group of the "basic 7" is left to be supplied in the other meals of the day — the green and yellow vegetables in group 1.

Orange Juice Gives Vitamin C
It's a glass of fresh good to eat, too. The glass of fresh golden orange juice, sipped as a first course, stimulates appetite for the foods that follow. It should be a large glass — 6 to 8 ounces. It will then furnish the day's quota of vitamin C.

Vitamin C is not stored in the body and must, therefore, be taken every day. Fresh orange juice is one of its most available sources and one that every one enjoys. Vitamin C is important to good dental health, as well as general health. Children need vitamin C foods for the bone and teeth they are developing. This vitamin is important for the working man or woman, because it counteracts fatigue.

And here's an important note. If you are on a night shift and your breakfast meal is really a lunch or dinner, start it with a protective glass of orange juice.

Sweeten Cereal with Fruit
It's well to serve a second fruit at the breakfast meal. This may go with the cereal as pictured. The bananas may be replaced by berries, sliced peaches or other fruits in season. Raisins, figs or prunes may be added to a cooked cereal, such as oatmeal. The fruit helps to sweeten the cereal and spares sugar. Children like these fruit and cereal combinations.

Milk and eggs have valuable food elements that round out this better breakfast. An egg a day is recommended for children and three or four a week for adults.
Now's the time for a better breakfast campaign. Start yours today.

Timely items concerning your electric service, suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances, and many other things of interest and value will appear from time to time in "Edison Lines." Make "Edison Lines" a reading habit!

HEATING BY REFRIGERATION . . . Your electric refrigerator "manufactures" cold. Why isn't it possible to "reverse" the refrigeration cycle and produce heat? Then, in winter you could use cold outdoor temperature to heat your home! Actually, the idea isn't new. It originated with Lord Kelvin over 50 years ago. A few installations have been made — mostly in the temperate climates than Michigan's. So far, the idea isn't practical for general use, but our research engineers have it in their "active" file. Some of our developments may transfer it from the laboratory experiment into a practical machine.

SUMMER SNACK . . . For something new and different, try this recipe from our Home Service Department:
Tomato and Salmon Toast
6 slices bread 6 tbsp. flaked salmon, seasoned
6 slices American cheese 12 slices bacon
6 slices tomatoes

Place a slice of cheese on each slice of bread. On top of cheese put the flaked salmon. Place tomatoes on salmon and two slices of bacon on each slice of tomato. Broil until bacon crisps and cheese melts.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE . . . More than 1500 of our employes are now in the armed forces — about one out of every five. Of this number, 36 are women. There are 16 gold stars on the company's Service Flag. Every branch of the service is represented, and over 500 of the 1500 employes are overseas. Five Distinguished Service Crosses have been awarded to Edison men.

POWER GRID . . . Putting the Axis "on the griddle" is more than a figure of speech in southeastern Michigan. The uninterrupted flow of electricity to thousands of war plants has made possible new production records in all sorts of vital war materials. And one of the things that assures this uninterrupted electric supply is the "power grid" or network which covers all this area. If for any reason there is a power failure somewhere in the system, the "grid" connection makes it possible to restore service immediately by feeding in power from another point. Should a turbine in one plant shut down, other Edison plants pick up the load and keep the electricity flowing. The far-flung Edison network is interconnected with the Consumers Power Company on the west, and with the Detroit municipal power plant, lending added strength to the combined power grid.

OVERHEAD GAS BARRELS SAVE TIME

For a long time, Jim Besko, St. Johns RFD route 6, went through the usual chore of climbing on a chicken crate, ladder, or perching one foot in the tractor drive pulley while lifting a five-gallon can of gasoline to the rim of a high gasoline tank funnel.

He attached an ordinary kitchen anti-splash faucet strainer to strain the gasoline before it enters the tractor tank. Often he lets the gasoline run into the tractor tank while he greases some part of the tractor or tool, thus doing two jobs at the same time.

The importance of this labor-saving device begins to be realized after one has handled 30 gallons of gasoline a day for a few days in the old way in five-gallon lots, says Mr. Besko.

Safety in Homes Is Emphasized

Many Suggestions on How to Prevent Accidents

Safety measures in the home and kitchen pay big dividends to Michigan housewives, says Julia Pond, extension specialist in home management, Michigan State College.

There is not a family in the state which can afford to lose valuable time and energy because of home accidents, so a few minutes spent now and then checking on ways to prevent accidents is time well spent.

Here are suggestions by Miss Pond that may help to make home—especially the kitchen—safer.

Prevent accidents by using safe equipment in the proper manner. Be careful in the use, washing and storage of sharp knives or tools. Do not put them in the dish pan with other dishes. Wash each one separately. Do not store sharp knives in a drawer with other utensils unless you have a separate compartment for them. Better still, if you are going to store sharp knives in a drawer, equip the drawer with a knife rack. Or hang knives in a rack on wall or inside of cupboard door and you will avoid cuts, save time in locating, and spend less time in sharpening knives.

Discard the badly clipped, cracked or broken dishes and put them where children won't be tempted to play with them.

Make it a habit to always use pad or holders when picking up utensils containing hot foods. Hang holders near the stove so you will always have one in the right place at the right time.

Play safe by making certain that the handles of cooking utensils won't turn. If you can't repair a loose handle, then use that utensil for cold foods. When cooking food, always turn the handles of utensils away from the edge of the stove. One never knows when a child will take hold of the handle and spill the hot food or water causing serious burns. In some instances, adults may accidentally overturn the utensil by merely brushing too close to the stove when the handle extended beyond the edge.

Stand on a step ladder, not on a box or the edge of a cupboard drawer when it is necessary to get articles from a shelf beyond your reach.

Keep your kitchen floor clean and also avoid falls by immediately wiping up spilled grease, food or water. Be certain you rub wax thoroughly after waxing the floor, and don't use scatter rugs on the waxed floor.

Young lady, if your Boy Friend is in Australia, you'd better write him today and every day. The Australian news and information bureau says that an estimated 10,000 American Servicemen in that Country have married Australian girls. The more than 7,000 marriages registered with American Consulates do not include recent weddings.
