New Caledonia

Wednesday, Sept. 27, 1944.

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Stamp,
It has been some time since I last wrote to you but believe me, I have been thinking of you people.

Things haven't changed a bit in this part of the world, this is the same old South Pacific rock, there is one slight change and I might add it is for the better, that is the new Super Post Exchange that is now in operation in Noumea, it is about like the super drug stores in the States, it is operated by the army but they have French girls behind the soda fountain, they certainly have picked up the English language and also the Glingo. The store has most everything that the drug stores back home have, they have a large soda fountain and a couple of pop corn machines, it really is something after being over here so long without something like that.

This letter is chiefly to report this new change in my address but I also want to thank you again for sending me the News each week and to let you know I am still alive and kicking after eighteen months here.

Sincerely,
Roy Spencer, Jr.

Dear Mr. Stamp:

I am writing this in hopes that you may be able to help me, in getting this letter to the proper people in Clarkston. I received this day, the most appreciative gift, from the folks in Clarkston. These things are of the utmost importance to us, as it's something we can always use. I have already shared my gifts with my ship mates who as yet haven't received anything so nice. Please believe me Mr. Stamp, on reading this poem and opening this gift, it brings just a few tears, and a lump seems to come to my throat. From the bottom of my heart, please thank these people who were so kind and thoughtful. Also thank Mr. Bob Beattie for the very nice poem. It's very nice and I've read it many times, and thought so often of all you folks at home.

Yours respectfully,
Warren R. Flinn, S1

Will Train Boys to Drive Tractors

Michigan State college has accepted an allotment of $1,660 from Standard Oil to be used for one 4-H, or former 4-H, youth in each county to attend one of four tractor maintenance training schools to be held during October and early November at four localities in the state.

The schools are to be conducted cooperatively by the agricultural engineering and 4-H club departments of Michigan State college and Standard Oil. A. J. Bell, extension specialist in agricultural engineering, will be in charge of the training courses.

A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader, said that county agricultural agents are endeavoring to select prospective leaders in each county— young men on farms using power machinery who may have ability to train other young men in proper methods of operating and maintaining tractors. The schools will lay the groundwork for an all-farm youth tractor maintenance training program to be sponsored by Standard Oil in 1945.

The maintenance schools are scheduled to be conducted at Michigan State college Oct. 17 to 20, and later at Kalamazoo, Gaylord and Marquette. Twenty-two counties will be represented at M. S. C.

Phases of tractor maintenance and operation to be studied include: the instruction manual, fuel system, ignition and spark plug service, air cleaner service, cooling system service, engine and transmission lubrication, general lubrication, and safety.

Interesting Meetings Held This Week

The Mary Circle of the Methodist W.S.C.S. met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Tondy on Clarkston-Orion Road on Tuesday afternoon. A lovely pot-luck luncheon was enjoyed at noon and the regular business followed. It was voted to contribute $25 to the fund for the Christmas boxes for the boys and girls in service from Independence Township. The group is planning to serve a public dinner at the church on Thursday evening, November 16th.

The Martha Circle met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Thayer on Wednesday with 21 present. Mrs. Henry Wolfenden was co-hostess. A delicious pot-luck luncheon was served at noon at tables attractively centered with purple asters. The business meeting was called to order by Mrs. Garnet Poulton, chairman. Mrs. Ada Mills led the devotionals and Mrs. Ronald Walter read Beecham's Challenge, a prologue from the missionary study book, "For All Of Life". Mrs. Poulton was elected delegate to the district conference in Flint in November. An hour of entertainment planned by Mrs. Thayer followed the business meeting. The circle found they had several artists in their midst. Mrs. Walter Saxton won the first prize and Mrs. Carl Brabec won second. The November meeting will be with Mrs. Ronald Walter.

The Dorcas Circle met at the home of Mrs. Orlo Willoughby on Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance. Mrs. Kenneth Johnson had charge of the devotionals. Mrs. Ray Clark read a chapter from the mission study book on the work of the medical missionary in India. It was voted to contribute $15 to the fund for the service men's Christmas boxes. At the conclusion of the regular business Mrs. Ray Clark told some of the interesting things about China as seen by her son-in-law, Lt. Wilbur Walton, who has just returned from that area. She also showed some of the gifts that he had sent and brought from India and China. Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. William Johnston, Mrs. John Alander and Miss Ada Serace assisted Mrs. Willoughby. The next meeting will be held the first Wednesday in November with Mrs. Will Gulick when election of officers will be held.

Women to Prepare For Post War Positions

Designed for women who want to prepare for post war positions in business, a program of Secretarial Training is being offered by the University of Michigan.

The course, which also will serve women who wish to reenter business and need to brush up on such work, is in charge of the University's Division of Emergency Training and is directed by Mrs. Irene Place. Mrs. Place spent the summer in the East studying the secretarial programs offered there.

Classes will start when the fall term opens, Nov. 1. This is the second year the University has offered this work.

Sugar for making home-made fruit butters, jams, jellies and other processed foods for sale—even though these products are ration-free—may be obtained by farm families, housewives and others to the extent that they used sugar for this purpose in 1941 or to the extent of 250 pounds, whichever is greater, OPA says. Prior to September 27, sugar was not authorized for home-processing non-rationed or point-free foods for sale. Application for sugar for this purpose should be made to the local War Price and Rationing Board, OPA says.

Inasmuch as processed foods are now valued only in multiples of 10 ration points, the rations of these foods for service men on leave or furlough for 72 hours or more have been increased from eight to ten points for each nine meals, OPA announces. Civilians eligible for temporary food rations will be issued processed food rations on the basis of 10 points for each seven days.

Cast Off Clothing Needed In Europe

Cold weather will soon be here. Snow has fallen in many parts of Europe. The grown-ups there have been so busy fighting a war that winter clothing has not been made ready. In fact they have not the material to make the clothing. Perhaps you have some clothing that you have cast aside that they would appreciate. A drive has started throughout the country to prepare boxes for the needy over there. Useful and wearable garments would be gladly accepted and too if you have anything in the bedding line that you would like to contribute, it would be greatly appreciated. Children's clothing is especially needed.

Have your contribution to the Clarkston Methodist Church on or before October 9th—that is the deadline. If you need someone to pick it up, phone Mrs. Glenn Howland, 5891. The box will be packed and sent direct from Clarkston.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 8.

The Golden Text (Ps. 30:2,3) is: "O Lord My God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me. O Lord, thou hast brought up my soul from the grave: thou hast kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 1:18): "Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (473): "Jesus is the name of the man who, more than all other men, has presented Christ, the true idea of God, healing the sick and the sinning and destroying the power of death."

Navy's Need For WAVES May Soon Be Filled

Since the Navy's need for WAVES may soon be filled, women who have considered this branch of service should apply now for enlistment while they still may join.

This was announced today by Lieut. Comdr. Byron E. Flechtner, Officer in Charge of Navy recruiting for this area.

He said that WAVE enlistments nationally have reached approximately 80,000 and the Navy's quota for its Women's Reserve may soon be filled.

"Although the war is nearly three years old for the United States," said Commander Flechtner, "the Navy's biggest job in the Pacific still lies ahead. This is why more WAVES are needed here in this country to perform the many different jobs so vital to the efficient operation of the fleet at sea."

Through their work in Naval shore establishments throughout the country, WAVES are helping to hasten the end of the war and victorious return home of our fighting men, Commander Flechtner said.

Enlistment in the WAVES is open to women, 20 to 36 years old who have had at least two years of high school or business school. Married women are eligible, provided they have no children under 18.

Autumn Time

The little swail beneath the hill. Where sassafras and ivy grows. Is just a swamp all through the year. Where wandering stream its banks o'erflows.

A worthless tract where rattlers live. And moccasins come out to swim; Where black ash grow to towering heights

And swamp birds hop from limb to limb. A gloomy place in summer months, This corner in the pasture lot, Where tall marsh grass and cattails grow,

Only to die and go to rot. But now that ivy's fiery red Like tongues of flame among the trees,

Blending with sassafras and elm To rustle there in autumn breeze. A dismal swamp has come to life, As if by magic there it lies Adorned more beautiful by far Than any sight to meet your eyes. Though it will last a week or two, Our God must feel an inward pride, That beauty such as this can be, And worthlessness is justified.

Sheep Offer Good Profit Prospect

Farmers who are considering adding sheep to their farm enterprises will seldom have a better opportunity than is offered this fall for good profits, contends E. L. Benton, extension animal husbandry specialist, Michigan State college.

Good ewes probably can be purchased to better advantage this fall than next, since young farm ewes are selling for $6 to $8 a head. No farm animal will pay for itself quicker with the same labor minimum, since the wool clip next spring will about pay the winter feed bill and the lamb from each ewe should sell next fall for $10 to $12, or nearly double the cost of the ewe.

Benton points out that because of pressure for faster and more intensive production on farms and ranches for the war effort, sheep numbers have declined. Several years will elapse before the western ranchmen can re-stock to the pre-war level. More people in the meantime have learned to eat lamb.

Open Pasture Gate. IF YOU'RE annoyed by having to open and close the gate to your pasture every time you go through, here's a simple way to eliminate all this bother.

An open gate that a cow, horse, or mule cannot twist through can be made with an extra fence post, a hole digger, a few staples and nails, six planks about three feet long, and two 2-by-4's about seven feet long. Just pick out a spot in the fence that's convenient and set a new post about 18 inches from one of the old ones. Nail the wire to this, then cut out the wire between the two posts.

Next, set one of the 2-by-4's on each side of the new post about 1 1/2 feet from the end of the pasture and the other end. Then nail three planks across the 2-by-4's, and nail the wire to the fence post, as shown in the drawing.

Next, set one of the 2-by-4's on each side of the new post about 1 1/2 feet from the end of the pasture and the other end. Then nail three planks across the 2-by-4's, and nail the wire to the fence post, as shown in the drawing.

Potato Storage Methods Outlined

With a below average potato crop anticipated for Michigan, and federal loans available on stored potatoes, County Agricultural Agent Karl D. Bailey believes growers should be familiar with improved methods of storage.

Here are some of the more important factors involved, as outlined by H. C. Moore, extension farm crops specialist of Michigan State College:

Care should be used in putting the tubers in storage. They should be handled as carefully and as little as possible to avoid bruising.

Plenty of ventilation should be provided in the storage room, with ventilators left open to cool the potatoes. For the first 10 days the temperature of the storage room can be maintained in the neighborhood of 60 degrees. After the curing period is over, the temperature shouldn't exceed 48 degrees and should be kept above 35 degrees F.

The storage cellar should be well insulated so that the potatoes can be kept at the proper temperature without use of artificial heat. Darkness in the room is desirable to prevent the tubers from turning green and causing a bitter flavor.

Many potatoes spoil if stored in basements that are warmed by furnaces.

Plenty of water should be kept to prevent the potatoes from drying out. Quite often it is necessary to throw water on the floor to keep the storage room damp.

Michigan's potato production is slightly less than last year's crop, reported to be 19,000,000 bushels, or nearly 25 per cent less than the year's crop. With the crop being smaller, it is important to have the best possible storage methods.

Experts will be busy in the coming months with the grading and marketing of the crop. Growers should be familiar with the various grades and the requirements for each.

Apples Are Versatile Food These Days

Suggestions of Numerous Ways to Serve Them

The crisp, juicy apples of fall are a most desirable food. Michigan growers are producing a variety of apples, and the crop is expected to be larger than last year's.

suggestions for use and preparation. Selection of the proper variety of apple for the purpose desired is particularly important. Among those recommended for dessert eating are Delicious, Golden Delicious, Steel Red, and Jonathan. Apples for cooking are King, McIntosh, Grimes, and Wealthy. For Northern Spy.

One of the many appealing ways of serving apples is fresh apple salad. Miss Bader suggests a combination of dried apples with cherries and nuts. For the favorite Waldorf salad, 100 lbs. of dried apples, 100 lbs. of cherries, and 100 lbs. of nuts are needed. Make up the salad far ahead of time to allow the flavors to blend.

With several of these suggestions in mind, you can enjoy the versatility of apples in many different ways.

Production of dried apples is a growing industry. The process involves washing, peeling, and slicing the apples, followed by drying in a controlled environment. This process preserves the natural flavor and nutrients of the fruit.

The use of dried apples in cooking is widespread. They can be used in pies, cakes, and breads. They are also a popular ingredient in many types of salads and preserves.

Apples are a versatile and nutritious food. They can be enjoyed in many different ways, and they are a valuable addition to any diet.

Here's One Reason Why—
—The Army Needs More Trucks
—GMC Needs More Workmen

The news photo above is mute evidence of the fact that war is plenty tough on military trucks. In the invasion of Normandy, for example, 75 per cent of the trucks used were lost in the first days of the fierce fighting. A great share of these wrecked vehicles must be replaced by GMC—the largest producer of military trucks. To build these replacements, plus the additional thousands required by our ever-lengthening supply lines, GMC needs more machine operators, material handlers, assemblers and men for a multitude of other well-paid, vital jobs. Take your place at GMC Truck & Coach and help replace the military trucks so urgently needed to speed Victory in Europe and the South Pacific.

LIGHTNING sends its "Calling Card" - to warn us of trouble!

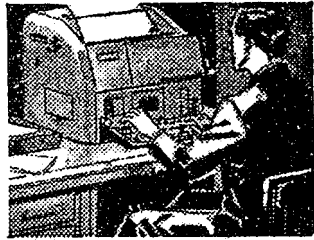

This "calling card" warns us in advance of approaching storms.

LIGHTNING storms are often of a local character and difficult to forecast by usual methods. Yet they can cause a great deal of trouble for The Detroit Edison Company and its customers. For this reason, we need special devices to warn us of storms in advance. Such a device is this "calling card" for lightning.

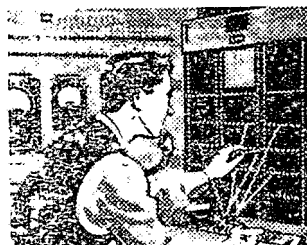

Have you noticed how your radio sputters with static before an approaching storm? The "calling card" is that same static—put down on paper in black and white. The static "inks in" its own record on the chart, at the rate of 1 1/4 inches per hour... telling us the storm's approximate speed and direction. When trouble strikes, when lightning burns down our lines or falling trees and branches drag down wires, our men are ready immediately to start the work of restoring electric service.

THE U. S. WEATHER BUREAU provides us daily with reports on local weather conditions. But this is only one of several storm-warning safeguards employed.

TELETYPE SERVICE direct from a weather forecasting service in California gives us special reports, supplementing those of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

THE TROUBLE DISPATCHER, when warned of a storm's approach, notifies Detroit Edison firemen—at home or elsewhere—as quickly as possible.

FAST ACTION. Our men respond without delay when such a call is received. Edison service must be maintained, whatever the weather.

To maintain the high standards of service our customers enjoy, we are constantly developing new ideas and improvements... resulting in better electric service at lower rates.

The Pontiac W. C. T. U. Federation members met last Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. O. R. Briney, 99 East Iroquois Road. Twenty-five members were present. Mrs. John Little opened the meeting by introducing Mrs. Katherine Cable who had charge of the music. "I Would Be True" and "Let the Beauty of Jesus Be Seen in Me" were sung. Mrs. L. G. Rowley presided at the piano and followed with prayer. Mrs. Lloyd H. Nixon, wife of Rev. Lloyd H. Nixon, pastor of the Central Methodist Church, Pontiac, brought the message. Her topic was "Witnesses and Faith". God was a true witness. Witnesses are very important people. They have to be true witnesses in case of law. Jesus Christ was a true witness. Closing the afternoon meeting the ladies were invited to the dining-room, where tea was served by Mrs. Nixon. The table was spread with a lovely lace tablecloth; in the center was a huge basket of ageratum and around it were laid the silver and white, pink and green napkins. Autumn leaves were used for decorations.

The supply of cotton goods is "tighter" now than it has been any time during the war and is expected to remain "tight" for from one to two years after the collapse of Germany. The Office of War Information reports, on the basis of facts supplied by the War Production Board and the Foreign Economic Administration. Production is insufficient to meet military and civilian demands, and the market is short in basic types of cotton fabrics used in low-cost garments. The Pacific war will require more cotton as the basic military clothing staple, whereas wool has been heavily used in Europe. Cotton fabrics such as denims and chambrays will continue to be needed by the military, and cotton duck is now on the urgent list. During the first six months after the fall of Germany the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is expected to ask for 300 million yards of cotton textiles, and the food industry must depend upon cotton bagging due to a shortage of jute from India.

Service men on leave or furlough seventy-two hours or longer may receive ration points for processed foods on the basis of ten points for each nine meals, the OPA announced today.

This amendment becomes effective October 7th. Previous to October 7th furlough rations of processed foods were issued to service men on the basis of eight more for each nine meals.

The two-point increase is necessary because point values of processed foods are now set in multiples of tens.

Leather-soled moccasins of the house-slipper class, previously ration-free, are now rationed.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"It sounds almost like a miracle, Judge... how did we ever do it?" "American industry did it, Sally. When the Japs conquered the chief natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had dealt a death blow to our war effort. But, in less than two years, we are producing enough synthetic rubber in this country to supply all our military and essential civilian requirements. "Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the most practical process at the time required huge amounts of industrial alcohol... far beyond the already overtaxed capacity of our industrial alcohol plants. So, overnight, our country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and produced hundreds of millions of gallons of the vitally needed alcohol.

"As a matter of fact, Sally, a high government official said recently "... synthetic rubber is from 6 to 9 months ahead of where it could have been if alcohol had not been available for butadiene production."

"We were really fortunate, weren't we Judge, to have a beverage distilling industry in existence... able to help perform this great wartime miracle!"
