Waterford-Drayton Rotary News

The weekly meeting of 1 1/2 hours is really becoming crowded with so much business, speaking and entertainment. Tuesday's meeting was in charge of Andy Adams. He had as guest speaker, Dick Norton, a builders' supply dealer and a Rotarian from Detroit. He took his listeners on a south western trip and visited many Rotary clubs along the way. The talk was so interesting that the group could have listened for another hour.

The club will soon show a series of moving pictures pertaining to American Arms and Equipment. These pictures with few exceptions have been shown to the public before. Dates for the shows will be announced later.

Among the sources of those innumerable calamities which from age to age have overwhelmed mankind, may be reckoned as one of the principal, the abuse of words.—George Horne.

Ghost Cakes Add a Witching Note To Halloween Refreshment Menu

If you don't want the goblins to get you on All Saints' Eve, you must be sure to give a party. Frolic and feasting among good friends safely gathered indoors are a traditional talisman against the mischievous pranks of the prawning spooks and sprites and witches abroad on Halloween.
 You can celebrate the holiday with a little witchery of your own if you can't get your friends with spooky Ghost Cakes and star them with luscious Cofolate, made with decaffeinated coffee, so that you and your guests can indulge in extra glasses of coffee without night terrors when you try to get to sleep. Remember that the decaffeinated variety must be prepared from 15 to 18 minutes to bring out its rich, coffee flavor. You can serve your beverage either hot or cold. However you serve it, be sure to have a bowl of mixed fruit and a number of nuts, both time-honored Halloween fare.

It's an easy trick to make the Ghost Cakes. Just cut a flat square layer cake into long, irregular triangles. They may need a little trimming to make them stand upright on their bases. Then cover them with frosting. Don't try to make it too smooth. Your guests will look more ghostly if the frosting drips and furrows a little. Make tiny eyes and mouth of frosting or raisins, and your little ghosts are ready to add a decorative note to your table.

Halloween Cofolate
 1 cup strong decaffeinated coffee
 2 teaspoons unsweetened chocolate
 3 tablespoons sugar
 Dash of salt
 3 cups milk
 Make decaffeinated coffee extract strength, using 1/2 table spoon for each cup of milk water. Add chocolate to coffee in top of double boiler and place over low flame, stirring until chocolate is melted and blended. Add sugar and salt, and 1 1/4 cup milk, stirring constantly. Then add 1/2 cup water. Add milk to coffee mixture constantly, then beat. When hot, heat with rotary egg beater until frothy. Serve hot. Serves 4. Decaffeinated coffee needs slightly longer brewing to bring out its full flavor.

Witch Cake
 2 cups sifted cake flour
 1/2 cup double acting baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup butter or other shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 2 eggs
 1/2 cup beaten until very thick and well colored
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla or 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
 Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat well. Then add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring and beat thoroughly. Bake in greased pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 55 to 60 minutes, or two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

Much progress has been made in getting two school rooms ready in the west wing for pupils from the Waterford Center school. They will be ready for occupancy in the very near future. Much of the work has been done by volunteer labor and there is still a good deal more that could be done that way and would save a great deal of expense to the Club. Arthur Walter is in charge of the work.

Each player will turn in 25 cents each evening to buy inexpensive prizes for each evening of playing. There will be three men's and three ladies' prizes. Donald Beedle and Jack McCaffrey will be responsible for this Monday night's prizes. The balance of the money taken in will be turned in to the Community Activities to defray the cost of heat and light.

HOLLY THEATRE

Deanna Durbin, for several years Hollywood's top singing star, now emerges as one of the screen's top-ranking actresses as well. Her new Universal picture, "Christmas Holiday", coming Sunday to the Holly

Theatre, proves beyond doubt that Miss Durbin can hold her own in any company of dramatic artists.

The picture tells a story within a story and presents Deanna in a dual characterization — a worldly cafe entertainer, and a charming bride whose world collapses about her when her husband of six months commits murder.

The film introduces Deanna singing a torch song in a tawdry New Orleans cafe, and reveals her earlier years in flash-backs as she relates the story of her life to a young Army lieutenant.

Songs in the picture are held to a minimum. There are only two, Irving Berlin's "Always" — which the star sings twice — and an original by Frank Loesser, "Spring Will Be a Little Late This Year".

Gene Kelly, who co-stars with Miss Durbin, gives one of his finest performances as her husband. Kelly is completely charming and yet thoroughly convincing as a killer moved more by weakness than malice.

Richard Whorf as a newspaper reporter, Dean Harens as the young lieutenant, Gladys George as the cafe proprietress and Gale Sondergaard as Kelly's mother, all come forward with outstanding performances in exacting roles.

Robert Siodmak's extremely understanding direction gives tremendous force to the story, as adapted for the screen by Herman J. Mankiewicz.

Much credit also must go to Producer Felix Jackson and Associate Producer Frank Shaw for the fine manner in which this production presents Miss Durbin in her dramatic debut.

You Gave Them Hope!

ONE of the biggest jobs the U.S.O. did last year was to carry a slice of home to our boys overseas. Traveling shows that gave to those fighting men the best talent and entertainment this country had to offer.

Bob Hope . . . Carole Landis . . . Joe E. Brown . . . Kay Francis. The top names of radio and Hollywood. Vaudeville and night club headliners. Singers, dancers, magicians, swing bands.

Entertainment that gave them the chance to relax and remember what home is like. That's what your dollars helped make possible—in hundreds of overseas outposts.

It's hard to measure the effect this boost in morale had on all the gains we've so far made in this war. That it had an effect, an important effect, has been acknowledged by our military leaders.

But most important, it helped relieve for a while the loneliness of millions of boys away from home. And that was certainly worth every dollar you gave.

The job isn't over yet. There are still millions of boys across the seas. We can't let them down now. That's why you're being asked to give again, this year—to give more than ever before. Much of your gift will be needed here to help servicemen's families, to help solve juvenile delinquency, to care for the needy. Much of your gift will go overseas, to war prisoners, to Merchant Seamen, to homeless refugees. Make your contribution today, through your local community drive.

Fruits Taste Good In Lunch Box Menus

"And now I can eat the orange!" smiles Mary Ann, as she reaches this pleasant and refreshing ending to the carefully planned and mineral-and-vitamin-filled meal mother tucked into her lunch box this morning.

Mary Ann's Balanced Lunch
 The vacuum bottle carried a hot vegetable-milk soup. There were also a peanut butter sandwich, a handful of raisins, crisp carrot sticks and gingerbread—a good lunch to furnish building material and energy to a growing active body.

The juicy, golden orange is sweet and flavorful. It provides an important food element—vitamin C—not found in the other foods and needed for good teeth and gums and for strong bones. This orange is a drink and a dessert that tastes good.

Mary Ann has eaten all of her lunch and enjoyed it. She is well fitted for an active afternoon of study and play. Before mother learned to plan these lunches, however, the little girl often brought much of her lunch home uneaten.

Have You a Mary Ann?

If you are the mother of a Mary Ann—or perhaps it is a Jack or a Jim—you know that it takes care and thought to tempt youthful appetites to eat the food variety that growing bodies should have.

Two Fruits Are Better Than One
 Mary Ann's mother has discovered that children like fruit and this may be a helpful hint for you. She sees that Mary Ann always has her vitamin-C-providing orange. Sometimes she packs two oranges—the second one for a snack for recess. It's better than a candy bar, which may dull appetite.

Sometimes for the second fruit, she tucks in an apple, a banana, a peach, a pear, grapes or other fruits in season. The orange comes first, because it supplies ample vitamin C. The other fruits furnish other minerals and vitamins but few of them furnish much vitamin C.

Lemonade for Hot Days
 On hot days, Mary Ann's mother fills the vacuum bottle with frosty lemonade. It's better for Mary Ann than a bottle of pop, for lemons also provide vitamin C. Mary Ann likes lemonade and her mother is building a good health habit for Mary Ann here.

Dried Fruits Are Good
 Dried fruits are popular with Mary Ann. In her lunch there are often raisins, figs, prunes, dates, apricots. Growing boys, too, like and should have these high energy foods.

Fruit is an easy item to pack. It takes little or no preparation—costs no ration points—is healthful. We think Mary Ann is a lucky little girl.

"WQJL EMERGENCY! CALLING TRUCK 23 CALLING TRUCK 23"

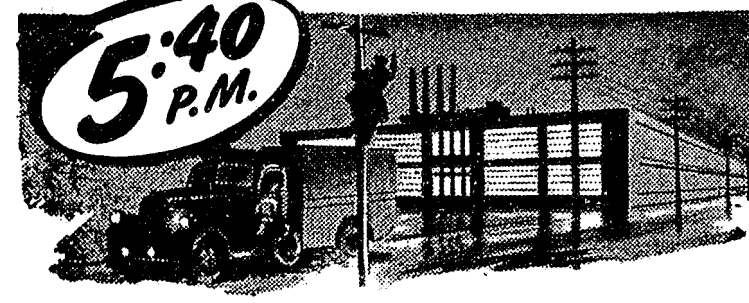

5:01 P.M.
 One day, at 5:01 p. m., a tool and die company producing equipment for B-29's sent an urgent call to the Edison Company reporting that its electric power was off and vital war production halted.

5:02 P.M.
 In one minute a Detroit Edison trouble dispatcher had contacted the emergency crew of truck 23—at that time in the vicinity of the crippled plant—by short wave radio over our Station WQJL.

5:03 P.M.
 Truck 23—responding to the call of its short wave receiver—was speeding on its way toward the trouble even before the dispatcher finished giving complete details.

5:09 P.M.
 In six more minutes the skilled overhead lines crew of truck 23 was at work repairing the break in the system, so that war production could resume.

5:40 P.M.
 Just 39 minutes after the Detroit Edison received the emergency call, power was restored and vital war work was moving again.

We are not always able to set this record for speed. But by means of two-way FM (Frequency Modulation) radio, 49 Edison cars and trucks are always in touch with our central trouble switchboard, permitting emergency crews to be dispatched speedily to the scenes of major emergencies. We are constantly seeking new ways to improve our operation and give better service to our customers.

TELEPHONE POST-WAR PROSPECT

Michigan Bell, anticipating high demand, plans expansion and improvement

IN ANTICIPATION of favorable business conditions following reconversion, Michigan Bell foresees post-war expenditures of as much as $120,000,000 within a five-year period.

More buildings, cables, central office apparatus, and telephones are needed. But we cannot undertake to provide them until war needs are reduced greatly. Today the armed forces take about all the communications equipment that can be made.

Dependent on business conditions, materials, manpower, and funds, the program is being engineered to:

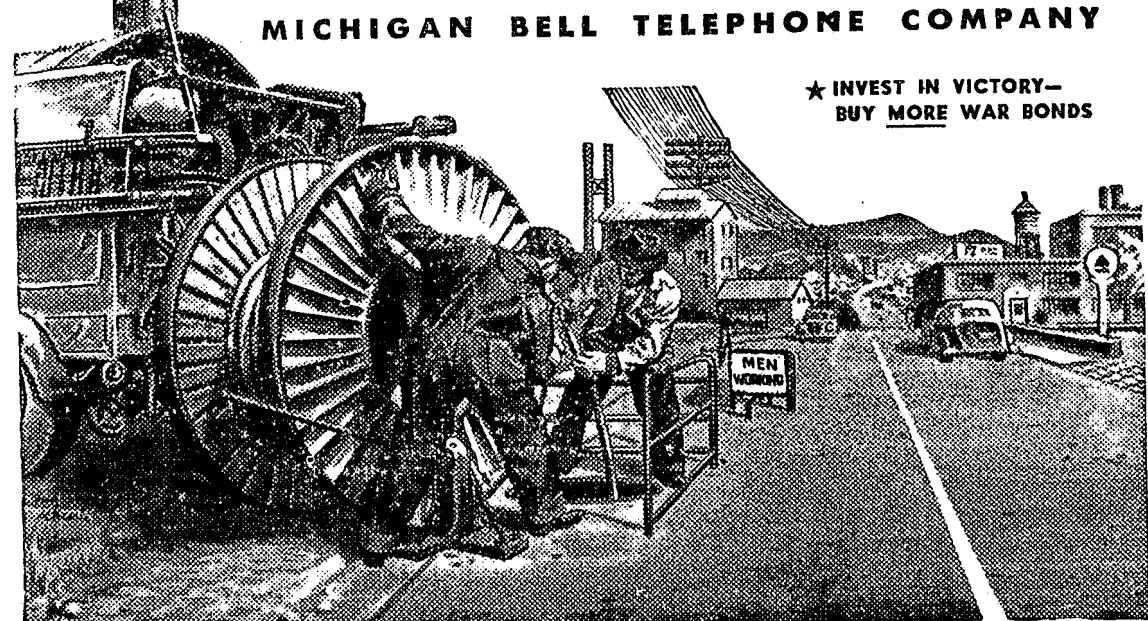

- 1 Provide service to nearly 90,000 persons who now can't get it.
- 2 Expand both urban and rural service to meet anticipated demand, and to restore safe margins of facilities.
- 3 Assure prompt completion of Long Distance calls for the growing number of users.
- 4 Carry out plant betterments suspended because of the war.

Such a program of additions will be necessary if the Company is to continue to furnish the grade of service the public expects and is to take its place in an expanded national economy.

We shall welcome the day when that program can be started.

The Hilltopper

This week we shall give you a short sketch about the senior homeroom teacher, Miss Campbell.

Miss Campbell's home is in Menominee, Mich., in the upper peninsula.

Being very modest Miss Campbell would not tell me too much about herself.

However, I learned that she attended Albion College and the University of Michigan.

In school Miss Campbell majored in History, but is now teaching mostly English subjects.

Having taught previously at Newaygo, Michigan, and at Rapid River, Michigan, she is an experienced teacher.

Miss Campbell is very interested in Girl Scouts, and has been in their summer camps for years.

She was assistant director of a camp in New York for one summer. Carrying on her interest she and Miss Kloock will lead the Brownies this year.

Another of her hobbies is a collection of classical records. She also has a wide knowledge of literature which includes a story of a college graduate blowing out a candle and a story of some strange creature called a nutnick.

You probably wonder what a nutnick is, well so do about sixty seniors.

We, the Seniors, are sure everyone who meets Miss Campbell will like her as much as we do.

RESULTS OF THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council for this school year was chosen in the election held on Oct. 5.

The officers are as follows: President, Tom Waid; Business Manager, Walt La Plante; Boys Commissioner of Activities, Frank Ronk; Girls Commissioner of Activities, Linda Myers;

Commissioner of Building & Grounds, Bud Kratt; and Girls Commissioner of Building & Grounds, Barbara Strickland.

The first meeting was held on October 9.

JUNIOR NEWS

Everyone is invited to attend the "Fall Frolic", October 20. This dance will be sponsored by the Junior Class.

We plan to decorate the high school gymnasium in a novel manner. Come and bring your friends.

The Juniors are well represented on the football team this year. We have 6 boys from our class playing. They are: Bill Wyckoff, Cecil Morrow,

Frank Ronk, Walt LaPlante, Bill Sharp and Norman Johnson. Marjorie Vilet

10TH GRADE NEWS

The Sophomores held a meeting last week and voted upon class dues. It was finally decided that each class member should pay one dollar a semester.

Last week the voting for the Student Council Officers was held. Although the Sophomore candidate, Yours Truly, did not win, it was a close race.

Keep your eyes glued to the paper for news of the Halloween Dance which will probably be held the 31st of this month. I'll tell you more about it next week when I'll know for sure if the Sophomores are going to have the honor of decorating the Gym.

Katherine La Plante FLASH!!!

Photographs of the fellows and girls of Clarkston who are serving Uncle Sam are now on exhibit in the showcase of the Clarkston High School.

This is only a small way in which we can show them our appreciation. If you have any photos that you would like to have us exhibit, please phone Doris Boyns, Clarkston 3566.

Doris, a sophomore, has done an exceedingly good job of collecting and arranging these photos. They will be on exhibit for about a week. Be sure to see them!

Tommy Slick The Seniors would like to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to the following patrons who so ably assisted the Senior Class at the "Senior Welcome": Mr. and Mrs. Keith Leak, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Tremper, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson.

We would like to thank Walt La Plante and his dance band for the fine music they furnished.

Linda Myers

12 NEWS

Our "Senior Welcome" was a huge success with nearly 400 people attending. They all had a wonderful time dancing to music furnished by Walt La Plante and his dance band.

Decorations were in a patriotic motif, following the pattern of a U. S. O. Canteen. The effect was finished off by a large representation of service men from Clarkston and other surrounding localities.

This year we have started a floor show during intermission. The main feature Friday night was when Walt Henry turned on the loud speaking system and began calling up some of the better known male singers of Clarkston. They entertained us with the "Old Mill Stream", "Sweet Adeline", and "God Bless America", accompanied by the audience. Next a group of high school boys were requested to sing, and they picked as their song, "Working on the Railroad". All of this singing was done with no practice, and was completed by some hot numbers played by Walt La Plante and Gordon Paul on saxophones, Charlie Robinson at the piano, and Basil Ash at the drums.

We would like to thank the following willing Patrons who helped immensely to make our dance a success: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones; Mr. and Mrs. Tremper; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Leak; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson; and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore.

DEFENSE STAMP SALES

Total stamp sales for the high school was $85. The Seniors are very proud of themselves as they are the holders of the Minute Man trophy for having the highest percentage of stamp buyers for the first week.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS... "The war sure has made a lot of changes in this old world of ours, hasn't it, Judge?" "Plenty of them, John. One that few people realize is that the rubber producing center of the world is now right here in the United States. "When the Japs conquered the big natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had us licked. But in two short years, thanks to American industry, we are now producing synthetic rubber enough to supply all our military and essential civilian needs. "Our rubber experts knew I was to make it but the problem was to find the huge amounts of industrial alcohol needed. Almost overnight the country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and converted 100% to the production of this vital ingredient. A high government official said recently this was "...an almost unparalelled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war." "Come to think of it, Judge, it was a mighty fortunate thing that the rubber and lag industry was in existence when the war broke out."

Garbed in field outfits and wearing their helmets, these members of the Women's Army Corps take time out from drills which prepare them for service in Normandy to brush up on their French. Conservation Note

With the opening of hunting season the State Health Department reminds hunters to be on the lookout for rabbits with tularemia, or rabbit fever. This disease is infectious and the germs can go through healthy skin, giving the disease to human beings, according to Dr. William DeKleine, State Commissioner of Health. Best way to avoid rabbit fever is to avoid handling wild rabbits with the bare hands, and to be sure that all rabbit meat is thoroughly cooked before eating.

Not all rabbits, of course, are infected with tularemia. To avoid the sick animals, Dr. DeKleine advises that hunters always shoot rabbits that are running. Slow or sluggish rabbits are likely to be infected with tularemia. If peculiar whitish spots appear on the internal organs, the meat should be destroyed, since these spots may indicate tularemia.

This sickness starts with a sore at the place where the germs enter the body. These sores are frequently quite extensive, much swollen, discolored and ulcerated. Nearby lymph glands enlarge and may form pus. The patient has fever and may feel very weak and exhausted. About one of 20 patients dies of the disease.

Houghton Lake, Oct. 12.—A mink fur makes a warm neckpiece but with a live mink inside, it can be much warmer. Joyce Jordan, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jordan, discovered this while he sat on the bank of the Muskegon River while his Dad hunted ducks nearby. Joyce playfully threw a handful of sand at a mink that sat near watching him. The mink ran up his leg and coiled around his neck. When Joyce tried to knock it off, the mink bit his thumb. The boy yelled for his father but the mink, satisfied with his revenge, scampered off before help arrived.
