WORKING AT GMC TRUCK & COACH HELPS TO WIN BATTLES—SAVE LIVES

One of the most important jobs that GMC military trucks are doing to help save the lives of wounded Americans is shown in the war front photo above. This GMC teams up with an Army transport plane to haul sealed containers of blood from a landing strip in France to a field hospital. Other GMCs, equipped as field surgical operating units, travel right behind our advancing columns. Two tents, attached to the sides and back of the truck, provide facilities for 80 to 100 operations in a 24-hour period. Still more GMCs help build the larger hospitals farther back from the front and deliver the huge loads of food and medical supplies required by millions of overseas soldiers. Many more of these vital vehicles are needed now, and GMC Truck & Coach needs your help to keep the GMCs working for our war wounded.

CHRISTMAS COOKIES. For youngsters and oldsters, too a Christmas recipe from our Home Service Department:

English Christmas Cookies

1/2 cup butter 1 egg

Top decoration: 1 tsp. cinnamon Granulated sugar Egg white

2 tsps. baking powder 1 cup brown sugar Blanched almonds if sliced, or 1½ sups sifted bread flour cike confetti or colored sugar

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, then well beaten egg and the flour and baking powder sifted together. Place in refrigerator overnight. (This dough may also be sliced or rolled out to 1,8-inch thickness or cut in fancy shapes; sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar and arrange nuts on top.) Put through cookie press onto sheets. Brush tops with egg white, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. You may use colored sugar or cake confetti, if desired. Time, 12-15 minutes. Temperature, 375-400° F.

FORGOTTEN LIGHTS. Do you sometimes leave a light burning in an unoccupied room? This is not serious in normal times. But needless use of electricity wastes coal-and today there is a critical shortage of coal in many areas of the United States. Your Government asks you to conserve electricity in home and store and office. Save wherever you can . . . as much as you can.

Winners Come From Long Line of Livestock Raisers

Livestock raising has been a heritage handed down through several generations in families of the two 4-H club youth who were awarded grand championship honors in lamb and beef cattle competition at the Michigan 4-H Show in Detroit December 12 to

The sheep business has been in the family of the champion lamb owner, Delmont Chapman, III, 14 years old, for 85 years. His great grandfather, Austin B. Chapman was the first white man to settle near South Rockwood. The story is told that he traded a homespun overcoat and an Indian pony for 80 acres of land. Cloth for the overcoat was made of wool which his mother took from a sheep, carded and wove. It was on this 80 acres that the family livestock inustry got its start. In 1923, Delmont's father, Delmont Chapman, jr., went into the purebred sheep business, and has handled several hundred sheep each year. It was only fitting that Delmont III should follow in the footsteps of his father, randfather, and great grandfather. A brother, Robert, 13, also is keepng the family tradition by raising sheep. Two years ago he had the reserve grand champion lamb at the Detroit show. Matthew Woods, jr., of Marshall, owner of the grand champion beef, also comes from a long line of live-stock raisers. His grandfather raised beef many years ago.

But both grand champion winners have had the added advantage of 4-H training, a privilege that their ancestors didn't enjoy.
