Plane Crash Kills Clarkston Boy

Funeral Service For Lieut. Stanley F. Perrin Held Sunday Afternoon

Clarkston and vicinity were shocked on Thursday evening of last week when word was received that Lieutenant Stanley F. Perrin had been killed in a plane crash at Sixteen Mile Road and John R. Street. Flight Officer Louis J. Mikolajak of Buffalo, N. Y., who was with Lieut. Perrin, was killed also. The two officers who were flying an AT-6 two-seater North American were not in training at the Romulus Field but were there on duty from their home base at Sheppard Field, Texas. The plane, it is reported, hit the ground and careened across a garden space and demolished a garage and chicken coop and then hit a house destroying two bedrooms. A mother and her six year old daughter ran from the house and escaped injury. Lieutenant Perrin was thrown clear of the plane with his parachute opened about him. The other officer was trapped in the plane.

WHERE AN ARMY PLANE CUT A SWATH THROUGH A BACKYARD IN OAKLAND COUNTY Garage, left, was wrecked and home damaged in fatal crash

the Youth Fellowship in the Methodist Church and one summer when he attended the Youth Summer Institute at Lake Louise, he organized and directed a band.

Two years ago Stanley entered the service and for about four months he studied at Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa. He took his preflight training at Douglas, Ga., and further training at Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi fields. Last March 11 he received his wings and his commission. He was then stationed at Sheppard Field, Texas. For the past five weeks he had been at the Romulus Air Field on special duty in air flight service. Even while in the service Stanley tried to satisfy his longing for music. He always took his trumpet along with him and many times he has enjoyed being a member of a military band or orchestra.

He was a member of the United Presbyterian Church in Pontiac. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Donald and Eugene, and a sister, Jean, all at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Warden of Clarkston.

The funeral service, which was in charge of the Ogdan-Kennedy Funeral Home in Clarkston, was held at the Clarkston Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The officiating minister was the Reverend Andrew Cresswell of the United Presbyterian Church of Pontiac. Major William Kettler, one of the 14 officers with whom Stanley worked, was in charge of the military honors. Six lieutenants carried Lieutenant Perrin to his final resting place in Lake View cemetery. Other service men from the Romulus field acted as an honor guard. Also in line as an honor guard were members of the Chief Pontiac Post No. 377, American Legion of Pontiac to which Stanley's father belongs, and members of the Campbell-Richmond Post No. 63, American Legion of Clarkston. After a three gun salute and the sounding of "Taps" the large flag that had covered the casket was presented to Mrs. Perrin.

As "Taps" were sounded many folks thought of the times that Stanley had gone to Lake View cemetery and sounded "Taps" for veterans of the last war. Mention should be made of the floral tributes that filled the front of the church and were arranged so beautifully. Just at the back and above the flag covered casket was the Air Corps floral piece. It represented the stars and stripes made of white asters, red carnations and blue bachelor buttons in the shape of wings with a small bouquet of yellow roses at the top.

Among those who attended the funeral service was a group of young women, members of the 1943 graduating class of the Clarkston High School.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Suddall of Teggerdine Road were hosts on Saturday to the members of the Pontiac Unity Center. Over 40 members enjoyed the fishing, games and a cooperative dinner. In the evening there was group singing and a lecture by Mr. George Carhart on astronomy which was very instructive. It was announced that the Unity Center at 72 1/2 N. Saginaw St., in Pontiac is open every day for prayer and meditation and the library is open each Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Dear Mr. Stamp:
Just to let you know that I am still feeling fine and hope all you folks at home are in the best of health. Most of all I want to thank you and the Service Mothers for sending me the home town News each week. I've been getting it very regularly since you have been sending it in an envelope. I have noticed that a lot of the boys are getting back now and I'm really looking forward to that time too.
I had better close now with best wishes to all.
Sincerely Yours

Dear Mr. Stamp:
I wish to thank you again for the paper. I really appreciate it a lot. It seems to be about the only way a fellow can keep track of his buddies. Most of the boys, like myself, find it much easier to put off writing until tomorrow, until finally no one is writing.

I've been moved again and am at Chanute Field, Ill. now. This is the closest I have been to home since I came in the Army, but it's still not quite close enough so that I can get home.

We are going to take a parachute rigger's course here. Not quite what I expected to do in the air corps, but I guess it's just the breaks. We haven't started school yet and so far we have spent most every day in the swimming pool. The swimming pool is really nice but give me the good old Mill pond or Deer Lake any time.

I have to go to chow now so I will have to say so-long for now. Thanks again for the paper.
Sincerely Yours
Ralph Hagen

Teaching Staff Almost Complete

Mr. Brabec announces that a vacancy in grade 4 has not been filled to date, but that otherwise the teaching staff for September is complete.

At least three teachers are looking for living quarters in Clarkston. These are single women who prefer light house-keeping rooms or rooms with meals provided. One has indicated that she would settle for a room only, if other arrangements could not be made.

Any person who may be interested in keeping teachers should make this known to either Mr. Brabec or leave word at Mr. O'Dell's drug store.

Several of the elementary rooms which appear to be in need of paint are being decorated by Mr. Tinnall. Mr. Stewart and Mr. Francis, janitors, have nearly completed cleaning of the school plant and have made numerous repairs to equipment. The greater share of textbooks needed in September are already at hand, although two publishers cannot deliver on their orders until "later in the summer". Fortunately, only a small percentage text needs are on order in these cases.

Dr. William Cohoon of Waterford is on his vacation and his office on the Dixie Highway is closed for two weeks.

Farmers' Day Will Be on September 4

Farmers' Day, an annual event designed to give Michigan farmers opportunity to view progress of agricultural experiments being conducted at Michigan State college, will be held on the college campus Tuesday, September 4, in conjunction with the State 4-H Show.

E. I. Anthony, dean of agriculture, in discussing Farmers' Day plans said that all interested persons, whether farmers or city people, are invited. Several new and interesting features are being planned. Due to attract many on-lookers will be a special demonstration of the use of DDT for controlling flies in dairy and hog barns. Ray Hutson, head of the entomology department of the college, will be in charge.

Mow drying of hay will be an exhibit repeated this year. It attracted widespread interest at last year's Farmers Day, and additional information is available for this year's showing by the farm crops and agricultural engineering departments.

Plans are shaping up for a new and novel demonstration in which use of the civilian jeep and a weapon carrier will be viewed by visitors. This and the demonstration of other new machines, such as the recently devised sugar beet harvester, will be handled by the agricultural engineering department.

As in past years, farmers will be privileged to visit the college farm and experimental crop plots. College specialists will be on hand from 10 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. to answer questions and discuss projects.

Ralph Tenny, college short course director, is in charge of Farmers' Day arrangements.

Clarkston Locals

A card from Harold Brown who used to live on South Main St., in Clarkston says he is now working in New York City. They still have their home in Staatsburg, N. Y., as he hasn't quite convinced Mrs. Brown that she would like to live in the big city.

William D. Smith enjoyed a visit with his daughter, Malvina, last week. She is working as a caddy with a college friend, June Conklin, at a summer camp near Buffalo, N.Y. She spent a day at Niagara Falls while he was there.

Jacob Steiner formerly lived in Clarkston and worked at the Vulcan Works when it was located where the Infra Red is now. Besides his brother Fred, he leaves a brother and six sisters in Detroit.

About two weeks ago Jean Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mayer, had the misfortune to fall, while running in the orchard, and hurt her right arm. She complained of it hurting her a little but nothing seemed to be seriously wrong until the first of this week when a little lump appeared. On taking her to the Pontiac General Hospital they found that a small bone was broken about an inch above the wrist. After the bone was set the arm was put in a cast which she will most likely have to carry around for the next 2 or 3 weeks.

Costume, Pet and Horribles Parade Monday, Sept. 3

Plans are going ahead for the children's parade on Labor Day. The Rotarians are anxious to make this event a great success. Committees are at work to see that every little detail is taken care of. There will be prizes and refreshments for the children. Because this is called a children's parade it doesn't mean that the grown-ups are to be excluded. Adults are not only invited but are urged to get into costumes and parade with the children and make more fun for everybody.

On the costume advisory committee for the children are—Rev. Saxman, Earl Terry, Gerald O'Dell and Ray Ainsley. The children should visit any one of these men if they have any questions to ask. Robert Beattie will answer the questions for the adults.

Start planning your costume now and then with the cooperation and participation of the whole community the parade will be a success.

By The Way

The summer is slipping by and it will soon be time for the schools to open. According to an article in this issue of the paper the local school is almost in readiness. . . . We've all heard of "Moving Day" but this seems to be "Moving Week" on Holcomb Street. The Grant Coopers of Oak Hill Road purchased the Larson house and moved into it on Thursday. The Clarence Drakes have taken the notion for farm life so they have sold their home to the Hawthornes of Redford and they have bought the Cooper place and expect to move there the first of the week. On Wednesday the Manley Drakes moved to Pine Grove Ave., in Pontiac. The Hawthornes intend to do some redecorating and perhaps a little remodeling and will likely move here later this fall. . . . Some of the boys now in the service are getting a big kick out of writing to some of the discharged fellows and addressing them as Mr. even underlining the Mr. . . . Be sure to read about the Auction on Saturday. See the adv. on page 3.

Due to the rainy weather the picnic dinner was served in the house. The group enjoyed visiting. At three in the afternoon the Post members attended the funeral, in Clarkston, for Lieut. Stanley F. Perrin.

No Separation

When I leave here, I'd like to dwell

Close by the things, I love so well. When fate decrees, I should depart Save place for me within your heart.

For I shall never trespass far From places where I know you are.

I shall not sleep, nor shall I die, Nor seek some haven in the sky, Or shall that be the end of fun, Or mark a place where work is done.

The change will really set me free, To be the man that's truly me. If I should live a patriarch, To use up each last vital spark That drives man on to greater deeds.

I'll be deprived of spirit needs. Yet, there is naught one has to say, In choosing times to pass away.

I thank my God I feel I know That man is ever free to go To ones he loves whatever his state, As met-out by hands of fate.

That life eternal shall not part The soul of man from aching heart.

He will be remembered by young and old as a talented young man who was popular in all circles because he was ever ready to do his part. He was active in sports during his school days and played on the baseball, basketball and football teams. He was gifted with a musical talent which he never neglected. When he was a very small boy he played his violin and was always happy to help on any local programs. He was a member of the school orchestra and band and on many occasions he took the place of the director. Besides mastering the violin he could play almost any wind instrument. For four years he was a member of the Pontiac Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of D. Cesar Chanfone. Stanley's popularity made him president of the high school graduating class and during that year he showed great executive ability. During his high school years he was active in the work of

WORK AT GMC Builder Of The Famous "Duck"

GMC Truck & Coach needs more manpower -especially on the afternoon shift- to help power the push in the Pacific! The Armed Forces have called for an increase in "Duck" production and GMC, in turn, is calling on Oakland County workers to lend a hand. Previous experience is not necessary... there's a job for which you are especially suited. Every person who has a part in GMC "Duck" production is helping to speed the supplies to our fast-moving, hard-hitting fighters. With dock and harbor facilities lacking at many of the islands in the Pacific, the "Duck" is vitally important because it can haul huge loads of fighting equipment from ship to inland supply depot without stopping at the shore. You can keep the "Duck" in there "pitching" by working at GMC.

"The Victory Garden This Week"

Now that the Victory Garden is producing a variety of fresh vegetables for the home table, the gardener's plea to the cook might go like this: "Here they are—fresh and crisp—let's get them on the table as near like this as possible". Too many vegetables lose their appeal on the trip through the kitchen.

Here are some suggestions:

1. Harvest as short a time as possible before using. Refrigerate without any other preparation than washing, if vegetables are not to be used at once.
  2. Do not soak in water either salted or plain before cooking—not even to coax the cabbage worms out of broccoli.
  3. Parsing should be kept at a minimum—scrape rather than pare whenever possible. Cook potatoes—particularly the early crop—in their jackets to save vitamins and preserve flavor.
  4. Do not dice or cut vegetables into small pieces—the more cut surface the greater the loss of vitamins and flavor. Slice beans and carrots lengthwise—fewer cells will be cut and less flavor lost. Cut cabbage into quarters or large wedge-shaped sections rather than chopping up before cooking. Water should be boiling briskly when vegetables are put in.
  5. Do not overcook. Rescue vegetables from the stove before the color and texture have vanished entirely. Cabbage will particularly benefit from a short cooking period.
  6. Don't drown vegetables when cooking. Use only enough water to prevent burning. Remember that vitamins and minerals are in the liquid which remains after cooking, so leave it for use in gravies, soups, vegetable juice drinks.
  7. Greens for cooking or use raw should be harvested in the morning while crisp. Wash and refrigerate until ready for use.
- Notice, Mrs. Homemaker, most of these suggestions really are labor savers!

*"Having wonderful time!
Wish you were here"*

"At one time I never would have believed that I could enjoy working in a kitchen—but that was before 1941, when I had an all-electric kitchen installed. Pardon me if I bubble over about it, but it's so fine in every way. . . . Electric cookery gives uniform results that keep my performance high and food wastage low—and the automatic features let me attend to other work while the range attends to the cooking. I have a lot of help, too, from my mixer, juicer, percolator, toaster and other helpers. And after meals are over, the dishes don't stare me in the face. It's no bother at all to scrape them into the sink (yes, I have a garbage disposal in the drain that grinds up scraps and washes them away) . . . then I stack the empty plates, and let the dishwasher take care of them. I figure the dishwasher saves me a total of a day's work every month. My hands don't get in the water at all, and there's a world of difference in their appearance. Truly, I am having a wonderful time in my kitchen. I hear that all-electric kitchens will be available again to other lucky women before too long. I know they'll love 'em."

TURN ON THE ELECTRIC LIFE

What has been the greatest single factor in changing your way of living during the last fifteen years? . . . Almost certainly it has been electricity. Electricity has taken over to release homemakers from drudgery . . . to increase comfort . . . to provide a better way of life. Plan on turning on the electric life just as soon as appliances are again available. Find out what modern appliances can do for you . . . how they operate . . . what they cost. All the evidence indicates that the old-fashioned way is the wasteful way . . . all those who know say that the electric way is the better way.

HOW THE ELECTRIC DISHWASHER WORKS

After scraping, place plates in wire rack that holds them to catch scouring spray.

Place special soap powder in corner, close door, turn control knob to "WASH"

Wash for five minutes. After draining, two one-minute rinses with clear hot water.

Washed thoroughly, dishes dry in own heat, are left sparkling clean and sanitary.
