Universal Bible Sanday, pographical conditions and all being duly considered-but it does remind me of the story of how streets are laid out. It seems when the town was young, cows coming me from pasture walked a crooked line as cows are wont to do. The path became a trail. Then the farmers found the trail coule be made into a wagon road. Finally the road was paved and modern civilization follows the crooked path laid out by some cow coming home from pasture cur and years ago. The new sidewalk starts in the center of Sam Morgan's front yard, 25 feet from the pavement, runs straight to Middle Lake Road and decides to get better acquainted with the prevenent and cuts over so close hat only the curb separates it rom M-15. THERE ISN'T ALWAYS ROOM
FOR ONE MORE-

HERE'S always a soda at the drug store for Junior when Sister's beau comes L calling. There isn't room for one more on the sofa. There isn't room for that extra electrical appliance in your home, either-not if you have an inadequate wiring system with overloaded circuits and improper distribution of outlets. It's a comfortable, satisfying home where you can arrange furniture to suit yourself-where the room arrangement isn't dictated by the chance location of outlets. Your home may be an old one, but it can hold all the electrical conveniences of a new one with adequate wiring. You'll want a new frozen-food cabinet, electric range, automatic laundry, electric dishwasher and many other electrical appliances that will make living more pleasant and easier in your home of tomorrow. Be sure of adequate wiring by inspecting it today!

> This is one of a series of advertisements prepared in cooperation with the electrical contractors in your area in the interest of insuring adequate wiring for every home. When you build or remodel, be sure your home is properly wired. For wiring recommendations, call your local Detroit Edison office.
