The sponsors of this project are very proud of the interest shown thus far. Crowds of boys and girls come from many outlying communities such as Clarkston, Drayton Plains, Williams Lake Waterford Center, Hudson Covert and Fourtowns. Often the number attending is as high as 250.
 All rooms of the building are open to the young people. They dance in the east hall to the music of a young, but up and coming, band. One room is open for playing cards and another room is very popular with its ping pong tables. When the crowd wishes it a record player is used in the north hall for those who wish to learn to square dance or any other dance.
 Refreshments are served from the kitchen. Practically all the work of the evening is handled by the young people themselves under the direction of Arthur Weaver, Waterford Township visiting teacher, and Mrs. Helen Sanford, high school teacher in the Waterford village school. The boys and girls appreciate having such a place to go and are co-operating very well in keeping this project

THERE ISN'T ALWAYS ROOM FOR ONE MORE—

YOU can't put more eggs in a basket than it will hold. It won't work! And you can't use any number of electrical appliances on one circuit. It won't work either! Yet many home owners have become accustomed to inadequate wiring—to frequent blown fuses because of an "overloaded" circuit. Making sure that your home wiring is up to date is your assurance of being able to use the electrical appliances you want in your home when you want to use them—where you want to use them. It means having your home furnishings arranged to suit your taste, with outlets always convenient. It also means that it should accommodate a new frozen-food cabinet, electric range, automatic laundry, electric dishwasher and many other electrical appliances. And, of course, if your plans for tomorrow include a brand-new home, adequate wiring is an "A-1" item to check in plans and specifications.

Light after Darkness

This is our brightest Christmas in a long, dark time. Every light on every tree—every window that greets night with cheerful challenge—is a shining symbol of the passing of war's shadow.

There is radiant happiness in family gatherings this year. Men are coming home from war. And those who hear their Christmas carols under strange skies are closer, nearer to home than they have been in a great while.

For many, this will be a wistful Christmas—but a Christmas brave and strong in the knowledge that those who bought victory so dearly will make tomorrow's world a brighter place for us all.

TIPS for Holiday TRIP Comfort:

GO EARLY... GO GREYHOUND!

Start Before, Return After the Holiday Rush

The happiest Christmas in four long years means that millions of Americans will be on the move—especially right around the Holidays.

You'll be wise to take your Year-End trip early, a little before the rush days—returning a little after, if convenient—rather than during the immediate holiday period, when all travel facilities will be most heavily taxed.

So we say Go Early... Go Greyhound! You'll get more for your travel dollar—more comfort, more enjoyment—by arranging to go before or after the days when travel is heaviest.

And here's another timely tip: Check with the Greyhound Agent, in advance of the date you plan to leave, for complete information about schedules, fares and routes.

Good rural line neighbors give the other fellow a chance

There are very few more rural telephone lines today than before the war. But, because there were so many "war essential" rural folks who had service installed, there are almost twice as many telephones as before the war. In other words, there now are more telephones per line.

provide telephones to those who are waiting. Then we will reduce the number of telephones per line. Meanwhile, everyone can enjoy better service if he will share the line with a true spirit of friendliness.

You'll help by keeping all calls short... avoid listening in or interrupting when the line is in use... hang up your receiver carefully. One receiver off the hook ties up a whole line.

Read Labels On All New Fabrics

"Read the labels!" That's the recommendation to women who wish to wash or dry clean the new fabrics and ready-to-wear items now being sold. The suggestion comes from Hazel B. Strahan, head of the department of textiles and clothing at Michigan State College.

She says that many of the new finishes or fabrics require intelligent use by the consumer if they are to be entirely satisfactory. This includes following the recommendations given by the manufacturers for washing or dry cleaning.

The question of whether water repellent garments can be washed depends upon which type of finish has been used. One method of treating for water repellence involves injecting chemicals into the fibers. This produces a durable finish that will not wash out. A second method is the application of a wax-type chemical solution as a coating on the yarn. This is non-durable and the fabric must be re-treated after laundering or cleaning. Many laundries and cleaners are equipped to re-treat such garments.

The durable finish remains effective through many dry cleanings. In washing or wet cleaning it is important that all the soap be removed, for soap counteracts the water repellent effect.

Fabrics treated by either method wear longer because the repellent finish gives the fiber protection against water and non-oily spots and stains. In everyday wear

CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1945

NUMBER 15

And the angel said unto them,
Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.
For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.
And this shall be a sign unto you: ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.
And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,
Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.
Luke 2:10-14

Objects of Rotary

The objects of Rotary are to encourage and foster the ideal service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian by his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
3. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life;
4. The advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world of fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

Through the generous response of friends in the community who buy a copy of the annual Clarkston Goodfellow Rotary Paper, the expenses of our Christmas Party and all other community projects are met with the proceeds of this paper sale.

Freezing fingers and cold feet are not noticed, when a Rotarian stands on the street corners selling this paper—for in his heart there is a feeling of warmth that makes his fingers tingle and his feet warm for he knows that you who pay a lot or a little for his paper realize that the money received is for a worthy project.

That's What We Want For Christmas

All men returned from o'er the sea
To be with us this Christmas day,
All wars to be a memory
That time alone can take away.
A family waiting here at home,
With welcome mat outside the door,
And kindness there that might atone
For all that's happened here-to-fore.

We want this Christmas spirit new,
Exciting us to nobler deeds,
Pointing out things we may do
To fill our world with peace time needs.

We want humility with pride
To fill our people on this day,
And gratitude we cannot hide
For lives, laid down so far away.

Courage to look long years ahead
When all on earth may know the joys
To be well sheltered, clothed and fed,
And Santa's sack o'er run with toys.

Realization what it means
To raise our voices once again,
And shout, the wishes of our dreams,
"Peace on earth, goodwill toward men."

White Gift Offering

The White Gift Offering for the Children's Village will be received at the Christmas Party at the Methodist church Friday, December 21. Canned goods and non-perishable food stuffs will be presented at the foot of the Christmas tree for use among the orphans and children of unfortunate and broken homes. Money will be divided between the Children's Village and the Old Peoples Home. Let us share with others at this Christmas time.

Christmas Club Pays Savings

The Clarkston State Bank sent checks totaling $8,350 on Dec. 1st to members of its Christmas Club during the past year. The membership deposited small amounts each week and now at Christmas has sufficient ready cash to enjoy the season in the manner they wish.

The bank announces on page 2 of this issue, the formation of the new club for next Christmas and invites you to study the chart, select the weekly payment you wish and become a member.

Staff Sgt. Charles Chamberlin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chamberlin, of 9180 Ortonville Rd., arrived home on Monday. He has been overseas in the ETO for 18 months and has reenlisted for 3 more years. In 90 days he will report at Fort Sheridan, Ill., where he will get his assignment.

Secure Prominent Speakers For Extension Meeting

M. L. Wilson, national director of the Extension Service, Washington, D. C., will be one of the headline speakers at the Annual Extension Conference to be held at Michigan State College, December 17 to 20.

Other speakers from outside the college who are on the general session programs include Dr. Theodore W. Schultz, of the department of economics, University of Chicago; Karl Knaus, extension field agent, Washington, D. C.; and T. T. Martin, state 4-H club leader from the University of Missouri. Malcolm W. Bingay, editorial director for the Detroit Free Press, will be the speaker at the annual get-together banquet on Monday night, December 17, given for all extension workers by Epsilon Sigma Phi, extension fraternity.

Faculty members who will speak during the conference are Dr. John A. Hannah, college president; E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture; and R. J. Baldwin, director of the M. S. C. Extension Service.

Conference discussions will revolve about ways of improving and enlarging the service which Extension is rendering to Michigan farm families. All Extension staff members, including county agents, will attend.

Girl Scouts Make Donation to School

Have you seen the fine, large, open-mesh waste basket which the Girl Scouts bought for the school? It is designed to hold waste paper, candy wrappers and lunch sacks which are discarded by students on their way from town to the school.

This valuable container should help keep our school grounds in a neat, attractive manner. Miss Campbell, Girl Scout Leader, and the Girl Scouts will decide on the best way to make use of the container. Up to this time, the boys in the junior high gym classes have "policed" the grounds as needed. The grade children also help in keeping their part of the grounds clean.

Good school citizens will be especially careful not to throw wrappers on the lawns. One piece of waste paper tends to blot out what would otherwise be a pretty looking lawn.

Help the Girl Scouts with their excellent plan!

Those discharged from the naval service at the Great Lakes separation center last week included Clayton W. Bell, SF 2e(T) of 9124 Ortonville road and Francis Tindall "G" SF(X)1c(T) of route 2, Clarkston.

The Past Year In Clarkston Rotary

By a Club Reporter

The question is often asked Rotarians, "Just what do we accomplish?"

We can answer with: a few permanent extracts from the Local Rotary Clubs Activities, since the present officers and members of the Board of Directors took over on July 1st of this year. The Board meets monthly on the first Monday of each month and other times at the special call of the President or any group of members, having a special request made for their meeting. It is a hard working board, very much alive to the conditions of the present and always eager to lend a willing support to any worthy cause or suggestion. Earl Terry is our president; Ralph Marshall, vice president; Arthur Schurz, secretary; William Burns, treasurer; and William Vliet, Earl Hoyt and Everett Butters are the directors.

Early this summer they planned one of the best picnics in the history of the Club, inviting not only their wives, their children and special guests, but asked the members of the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club, to attend with their wives and children. A special guest was Harry Palmer, District Governor, 153rd district, Rotary International, who is a member of the Windsor, Ont. Rotary Club and Governor of this district. For once every child present had all the pop and candy bars they could eat, plus watermelon that simply went begging for lack of stomach size; music for dancing and a trained playground instructor to keep them busy throughout the day. After a typical old-fashioned basket dinner, with many delicious dishes of food passed around until there could be only a groan from the receiver. A soft ball game was played between the members of the two clubs. Space does not permit the telling of many of the incidents that happened in this game. Scoring was stopped after it required an adding machine, and it was strictly impossible to keep track of the errors. However, many showed signs of ability in base ball of past years.

On Labor Day the club sponsored a large Pet and Horribles Parade on our Main street, with more than one hundred children taking part, with prizes given to a number for their costumes.

Every year the club has sponsored a banquet to the High School Football team and their coach. This year it was the largest ever and more than 200 sat down to beautifully decorated tables in the High School Auditorium, for a fine dinner served by the committee headed by Mrs. Arthur Rose, under the direction of the P. T. A. and their president, Mrs. Russell H. Colton. The principal speaker was Major John S. Pingel, assistant coach at Michigan State College, and former all-American halfback. In former years, the speakers have been Wally Webber, Tom Harmon, Shorty McMillen and others of football fame.

The annual Bingo party provides fun, entertainment and in some cases, Thanksgiving dinners for a number of Clarkston friends of the Club. The main reason is the amount raised to care for the expenses of the Annual Christmas party, to all the children of Clarkston and surrounding township families. This party is the largest and most expensive, but certainly the most worthwhile, and gives the club members their biggest thrill. A real Santa Claus, a gift for every child and a fine Christmas Eve party for all, with a tree, beautifully lighted and placed so that it can be admired by those passing thru the village during the Christmas week.

The club maintains an active Club Service Fund, a Community Service Fund and a Crippled Children's Fund, with separate committees to control them.

Just recently, the club voted to give $500.00 to support a project toward new buildings and equipment at the Boy Scout camp, located near Clarkston, Camp Agawam, at Tommys Lake.

Since July of this year, we have taken in six new members and we feel they will be very active, both for their club and their community.

Seldom is the weekly attendance less than 90% and quite often 100%. Much of this credit must go to the very fine dinners served at our meetings by the Ladies of the Methodist church through their various circles.

Rotary International covers the world, with headquarters taking over floors of a large office building in Chicago, Ill. More than 5,000 clubs are in operation, in many countries, with a membership of more than 200,000.

Christmas Reflections

Christmas is here. Yes, I know it is hard to imagine that a whole year has rolled around since we celebrated this occasion twelve months ago. If, perchance, you have not felt the touch of Christmas in your blood, this Goodfellow Edition will surely start you on your way.

As these words are written there is a stillness outside. There is a bitter cold stillness. The glistening frost can be seen as I look out toward the street light. There is a quiet in the very air. In fact, the clock in our living room has just struck twelve—it is midnight. This lends itself to the stillness—and gives time for reflective thinking.

In spite of the outside, it is warm in my study and as I sit "just thinking" what to write next, I see, just about six feet from me, a row of books on my shelf. Each contains a Christmas story. There is "The Story of the Other Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke; "The Bird's Christmas Carol" by Kate Douglas Wiggin; "Why the Chimes Rang," by Raymond Alden; and Dickens Christmas Stories. These stand out as old classics. These stories seem to transform my very study. In fact as I allow my mind to wander, I feel very much like old Scrooge who was haunted by spirits from another world as the clock struck the hours of the night.

First of all, I think of those thousands—yes, it runs into millions—of folks in Europe. They are bereft of all those things which make for us a gay and Merry Christmas. Can you think of Christmas without food and without clothes, not even a house in which to live? The sound which breaks the stillness of the night is the weak cry of boys and girls whose stomachs and very bodies cry out for nourishment. (Compare this with the main street of Clarkston next Monday evening.) My mind runs quickly to the Orient. There for more than ten years there has been war and destruction. Our papers nightly tell us of these things. To all of this add the uncertainty of our American scene.

I return again to the warm study and I am conscious that in any given moment all of my life is being experienced somewhere by someone. Today may be one of gladness, tomorrow, sorrow. This is life. But it is tragedy when tribulations and sorrows are heaped upon folk because of the selfishness and greed and mercenary motives of others.

Like Scrooge, I was whisked away quickly—this time to the quiet scene of nearly two thousand years ago. It is a stable this time. A young couple found refuge there for the night. During that night, Mary — for that was the young mother's name—gave to the world a son, her son. Even as the child was born there was misapprehension throughout the world. The Bible states that "suddenly, there appeared with the angel a great number of heavenly hosts singing praise to God and saying:

"Glory to God on high,
And on earth, peace, goodwill among men."

Perhaps each time a child is born, the angels sing out and God hopes once again. Nevertheless, God saw in a babe another chance that a new feeling would get hold of mankind. (Not that old men cannot change—remember Scrooge changed.)

This was really the first Christmas.

There have been Christmas's since. I like that particular night, however. Shepherds — the poor folk — wise men — the successful folk — each came to share their life and their possessions with the young couple—and with the world. We do not know their names but we do know what they did. Our traditions are built upon the presents of that Birthday. Our Carols tell us of that night. Our inner self cries out for a part of that sharing.

This very night in some unpretentious place a young mother is going to nurse her first born and with face lifted to the cold and starlit sky, ask God to bless him and allow him to help save the world and bring:

"Glory to God on high,
And on earth, peace, goodwill among men."

Walter C. B. Saxman
Pastor of Clarkston Methodist Church

We close with a very short poem and with apologies to Past President Bob Beattie:
When We Rotarians look back,
It doesn't make us sad;
Because we always concentrate
Upon the fun we've had.

Church School Christmas Program

The annual Christmas party and program at the Methodist church will be held Friday evening, Dec. 21, at 6:30. The program will start with a potluck supper for the members of the church school and their families. Following the supper, the program will be held in the church auditorium. The program is to be in the form of an old-fashioned Christmas party. There will be group singing, "pieces" by the children, the tree and treats.

Parents are asked to teach their children Christmas "pieces" to be given Friday evening.

Those whose children desire to be on the program are asked to notify Mr. Hurstall before the supper hour on Friday. The dinner and program are to be informal. We want you to make Christmas worthwhile this year by spending an evening with your family and your friends at the church.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the First Baptist church will have a Christmas party Tuesday, December 18, at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Don Taylor. Each member is asked to bring a Christmas gift for her Sunshine Sister.

Christmas Carolers Again This Year

It would not be Christmas time in Clarkston were it not for the Methodist Young Peoples Chorus under the direction of Thomas S. Boyns. Christmas Eve will find them "making the town," singing for the sick, the aged and the shut-ins. Those desiring a visit from the carolers please phone Mrs. T. S. Boyns or the Rev. Walter C. B. Saxman. Those planning on Carol Singing please meet at the church Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Walter K. Skelton (Phyllis Walter) has received word that her husband, M/S Skelton, is on his way home from Cairo, Egypt.

Issac D. Rayment, water tender, third class, of Clarkston, is serving aboard the Shelby, an attack transport, one of the Navy's "Magic Carpet" fleet. The Shelby picked up her first load of home-bound veterans November 7 at Saipan.

Previously she participated in the occupation of Japan, sailing into Sasebo, Japan's third largest naval base, on September 22. The Shelby's first combat experience at Okinawa, was followed by a mission to Manila, transporting service troops.

Letter From Santa

North Pole
Earl Terry, President
Clarkston Rotary Club.
Dear Earl:

I will be delighted to attend your past Rotary Club Christmas Eve parties and look forward with pleasure to seeing all the children again. Of course, I will have a present for each child.

Elementary School To Present Program

On Wednesday night, Dec. 19, at eight o'clock, a program will be presented in the school auditorium by the pupils of the elementary school. The children of the kindergarten and the first grade will sing songs and will be seen in several pretty dances.

The second grade through the sixth grade will present a Christmas pageant, "Christmas in Different Parts of our Country."

The public is invited.

First Lt. William (Bill) Cobb has returned from the CBI theatre and has been discharged. He was serving with the Army Air Corps. Lt. Cobb and his wife and daughter, Betty, are visiting at the home of his parents, on Church St.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lawson, 6025 Orion Road, Clarkston, have received word that their son, Flight Officer Richard A. Lawson, has been promoted to Lieutenant and has also been awarded the Air Medal and the Distinguished Flying Cross. Lieutenant Lawson is on the staff at Headquarters on Okinawa.

IN THE PACIFIC—(Delayed)—Richard B. Shaughnessy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaughnessy, 60 S. Main St., Clarkston, has been promoted radioman, second class, USNR, aboard the USS WYTHE, now engaged in the occupation of Korea.

Shaughnessy, former St. Michaels High School student, entered the Navy in June, 1943 and has spent the last 14 months overseas. He participated in the Okinawa campaign.

GREETINGS

Open letter to the people of Clarkston and vicinity

On Saturday of this week, club members will again be on the street with their annual "Rotary Goodfellow Christmas Paper," a special edition of The Clarkston News, containing much information on the activities of the club.

The proceeds will be used to give Clarkston a real old-fashioned "Christmas Party." Plans call for the planting of a tree on the S. W. corner of Main and Washington streets and that it will be lighted with over 250 colored electric lights. A full evening entertainment will be provided beginning at seven on Christmas Eve, with a visit by Santa Claus at seven thirty who will have a gift for every child present at that time. The tree will be lighted every night of the Christmas week, plainly visible to all who are passing through our Village.

We wish to thank all of you for your very generous past contributions and are sure you will again respond for this very worthy project.

We are also undertaking a project in the rebuilding program at Camp Agawam for the Boy Scouts of Oakland County, which will benefit our local Scout Troop.

Sincerely,
Earl Terry,
President.

A VISIT FROM St. Nicholas

IT WAS the night before Christmas, when all through the house,
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced through their heads;
And Mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap,
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
Gave a lustre of mid-day to objects below . . .

WHEN what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his couriers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Dunder and Blitzen
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away, all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, hurr to the sky;
So up to the house-top the couriers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys, and St. Nicholas too . . .

AND then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had slung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
His eyes—how they twinkled! his dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow!
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke, it circled his head like a wreath . . .

HE had a broad face and a little round belly
That shook when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly,
He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself;
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread;
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, on the chimney he rose;
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle,
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
"HAPPY CHRISTMAS TO ALL, AND TO ALL A GOOD NIGHT!"

Crowds of boys and girls come from many outlying communities such as Clarkston, Drayton Plains, Williams Lake, Waterford Center, Hudson Covert and Fourtowns. Often the number attending is as high as 250.
 All rooms of the building are open to the young people. They dance in the east hall to the music of a young, but up and coming band. One room is open for playing cards and another room is very popular with its ping pong tables. When the crowd wishes it a record player is used in the north hall for those who wish to learn to square dance or any other dance.
 Refreshments are served from the kitchen. Practically all the work of the evening is handled by the young people themselves under the direction of Arthur Weaver, Waterford Township visiting teacher, and Mrs. Helen Sanford, high school teacher in the Waterford village school. The boys and girls appreciate having such a place to go and are co-operating very well in keeping this project

YOU can't put more eggs in a basket than it will hold. It won't work! And you can't use any number of electrical appliances on one circuit. It won't work either! Yet many home owners have become accustomed to inadequate wiring—to frequent blown fuses because of an "overloaded" circuit. Making sure that your home wiring is up to date is your assurance of being able to use the electrical appliances you want in your home when you want to use them—where you want to use them. It means having your home furnishings arranged to suit your taste, with outlets always convenient. It also means that it should accommodate a new frozen-food cabinet, electric range, automatic laundry, electric dishwasher and many other electrical appliances. And, of course, if your plans for tomorrow include a brand-new home, adequate wiring is an "A-1" item to check in plans and specifications.

This is our brightest Christmas in a long, dark time. Every light on every tree—every window that greets night with cheerful challenge—is a shining symbol of the passing of war's shadow.

There is radiant happiness in family gatherings this year. Men are coming home from war. And those who hear their Christmas carols under strange skies are closer, nearer to home than they have been in a great while.

For many, this will be a wistful Christmas—but a Christmas brave and strong in the knowledge that those who bought victory so dearly will make tomorrow's world a brighter place for us all.

GO EARLY... GO GREYHOUND!

Start Before, Return After the Holiday Rush

The happiest Christmas in four long years means that millions of Americans will be on the move—especially right around the Holidays.

You'll be wise to take your Year-End trip early, a little before the rush days—returning a little after, if convenient—rather than during the immediate holiday period, when all travel facilities will be most heavily taxed.

So we say Go Early... Go Greyhound! You'll get more for your travel dollar—more comfort, more enjoyment—by arranging to go before or after the days when travel is heaviest.

And here's another timely tip: Check with the Greyhound Agent, in advance of the date you plan to leave, for complete information about schedules, fares and routes.

Good rural line neighbors give the other fellow a chance

There are very few more rural telephone lines today than before the war. But, because there were so many "war essential" rural folks who had service installed, there are almost twice as many telephones as before the war. In other words, there now are more telephones per line.

provide telephones to those who are waiting. Then we will reduce the number of telephones per line. Meanwhile, everyone can enjoy better service if he will share the line with a true spirit of friendliness.

Read Labels On All New Fabrics

"Read the labels!"
That's the recommendation to women who wish to wash or dry clean the new fabrics and ready-to-wear items now being sold. The suggestion comes from Hazel B. Strahan, head of the department of textiles and clothing at Michigan State College.
She says that many of the new finishes or fabrics require intelligent use by the consumer if they are to be entirely satisfactory. This includes following the recommendations given by the manufacturers for washing or dry cleaning.
The question of whether water repellent garments can be washed depends upon which type of finish has been used. One method of treating for water repellence involves injecting chemicals into the fibers. This produces a durable finish that will not wash out. A second method is the application of a wax-type chemical solution as a coating on the yarn. This is non-durable and the fabric must be re-treated after laundering or cleaning. Many laundries and cleaners are equipped to re-treat such garments.

The durable finish remains effective through many dry cleanings. In washing or wet cleaning it is important that all the soap be removed, for soap counteracts the water repellent effect.
Fabrics treated by either method wear longer because the repellent finish gives the fiber protection against water and non-oily spots and stains. In everyday wear they stay clean longer and wash more easily.
