The following week the stores will go back to their old schedule of staying closed Wednesday afternoons.

Fred Stewart Retires From School Job

Back in 1919 when the Clarkston school system reacted kindly to a graduating class of two, and when the school was located on North Main Street, Fred Stewart started his duties as a caretaker. June 30th, Fred takes a rest and retires from his work.

In 1916 he had left the farm and moved to Clarkston. He entered business with Charles Gibson running a coal yard and feed mill. Later he sold the coal yard and buying the old livery horse barn located at the southwest corner of Main and Depot Roads from the late Dr. Clark J. Sutherland, moved the mill to that site. Fred ran the mill while his partner did trucking of produce to Detroit. Then, buying out his partner, in a few months he sold the feed business and in 1919 took the work with the schools that was to last 25 years, and replacing the late Washington Irish, who had held the job for some time.

The school on North Main in 1919 did not have an auditorium and while it may have had a base ball team did not enter into the other athletic activities that are popular today. In fact basketball was not possible until the present school with its modern gymnasium was erected.

The enrollment was less than 200 pupils in both grade and high school. Today the enrollment is over 500.

Carl Hood was superintendent the year Fred started. Mr. Hood was succeeded by Daniel M. Winn, who in turn was succeeded by Carl Brablec, the present superintendent.

While Fred is "retiring" he assures us that he has a lot of work to do and he will keep busy.

Mary Circle to Have 'Hobo Picnic' July 2

The Mary Circle group of the W.S.C.S. of the Clarkston Methodist church will hold a "Hobo Picnic" at the August Doebler home on Pine Knob Road on Tuesday, July 2.

This promises to be a rollicking affair and a good time is expected to be enjoyed by all who attend. Wilma Doebler is chairman of the committee in charge of planning the picnic.

High school and junior high students are invited to use the facilities of the Elementary Library since there are any number of books suited to their years. This is especially true of works of fiction. The new library hours are 10 to 12 a. m. every Thursday.

Trout for Au Sable Anglers

Its goal for the 1946 season the planting of a million legal-sized brook, brown, and rainbow trout in Michigan streams, the Michigan Department of Conservation is using boats wherever possible to insure the widest possible distribution of fish. Here, employees of the Grayling hatchery are releasing trout in the Au Sable. The Department planted 800,000 legal-sized trout last season, is shooting for a record million this year.

550 Attend Water Safety Programs

Five hundred and fifty individuals attended the water safety programs of the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross last week according to Mark Smith, chairman of the committee. In spite of cold and rainy weather this number of individuals enrolled in the program which began at 12 beaches and pools of the county including Deer Lake, Clarkston. Those who were unable to enroll because of the bad weather are urged to attend classes in their own neighborhood in order that they may have an opportunity to complete tests before the program closes.

Adults who wish to swim may also enroll in the classes. An opportunity will be given to complete the beginners, swimmers, intermediate and advanced swimming tests. Junior and senior life saving will also be taught. Red Cross certificates will be awarded those who satisfactorily complete any of the tests. Instructors will instruct classes at Deer Lake Wednesday at 10 a. m.

IN MEMORIAM

You bid no one a lost farewell,
You said goodbye to none;
Your loving heart had ceased to beat,
Before we knew that you were gone.

God saw that you were suffering,
And the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed your weary eyes
And whispered "Peace be thine".

In memory of the wife of Charles Cline, who passed away one year ago June 29.

MOTORISTS ARE URGED TO USE CAUTION ON OPEN HIGHWAYS

This first peace-time Fourth of July will undoubtedly see record-breaking numbers of automobiles on the highways in this vicinity, headed for the cool lake retreats and picnics spots. While no one wants to think in terms of disaster at a time when merry-making is the order of the day, nevertheless the cold truth is that hundreds will die before the holiday is over. Statistics show that more people are killed each year by automobile accidents than were lost in battle casualties during World War II. Contributing to the hazards of holiday driving is the inexperienced driver who rarely drives in fast traffic except on such occasions as this.

QUIET DAY FOR CLARKSTON

Clarkston residents will take the Fourth in stride. No official celebration is planned and most local residents will probably spend a quiet day at home or else arrange picnics among their own family and neighbor groups. Clarkston people are fortunate in living in the midst of nature's playground—a spot where you need only step to your back door and let your eyes rest on natural beauty that "city folks" often drive for hours to get a fleeting glimpse for a few hours before heading back to the city again.

Eisenhower Report Available to Public

Orders should be addressed to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Three decisive battles were listed by General Eisenhower which coupled with allied teamwork and German mistakes clinched victory in Europe. The three decisive actions were the battle of Normandy, the battle of the Falaise pocket, and the battles of the west Rhine.

As a specimen of printing, the report is one of the best jobs ever produced in the Government Printing Office. The cover stock is heavy antique paper and features the supreme headquarters shield which is printed in five colors.

NEW PEACH VARIETIES

Two peach varieties originated at the Michigan State college South Haven Experiment station are now crowding the Elberta as Michigan's leading peach.

In co-operation with the American Pomological society, Michigan fruit growers, and department of horticulture at MSC, a survey has been completed which reveals the Elberta still leading. Both Halehaven and Redhaven, developed by Stanley Johnston, professor of horticulture at MSC and in charge of the South Haven station, have gained considerable in favor.

While Elberta has long been the ruling variety, the new varieties ripen earlier and tend to distribute the peach season over a longer period of time. The Redhaven is attracting attention also, owing to its fine color of fruit and excellence of the canned product.

Formula for Making A Perfect Day

To live in this world yet conscious of unknown forces and their plans.

To be blessed with the knack to see the handiwork of greater hands.

To live in tune with earthly things surrounding us all day by day.

To listen close as earth's chorus sings and let our troubles slip away.

To take the time from our work to greet our fellow man as he goes by.

To live peacefully with those we meet though they see differently than I.

To lend all a helping hand although perhaps it hurts right at the time.

To make the best of the things we know and pity those involved in crime.

In everything to bring out the best.

To push the ugly things aside, to steel ourselves to meet every test.

Let not our hunches be denied.

carrots and beets late in June for fall use, he advises.

Late cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli plants can also follow peas to a good advantage. Seed for the plants should be sown by this time, but many gardeners can purchase ready started plants when needed in July.

Continued plantings of snap beans can be made at ten-day to two-week intervals up to July 10. Beans for table use will then be available until frost.

Turnips and rutabagas are best when sown in mid-July. They can occupy the space vacated by early garden crops.

As the summer rolls on, succession crops of leaf lettuce, radishes and spinach should be sown. These crops can be planted as late as early August to grow and mature during cool fall weather.

The big planting is always during the spring season, but planting time for many crops continues through the summer. Rose says that is the way to make the most out of your garden.

Conservation News FISHING SEASON OPENS FOR MICHIGAN ANGLERS

Last Tuesday, June 25, was the first real day of summer for many thousands in Michigan who rate the opening of the bass and bluegill season above astronomers' calculations that fix summer's beginning officially on June 21.

are fighting bass for the sporty anglers and bluegills, perch and crappies for those who prefer more leisurely angling. And this season the fisherman may have the housewife's blessing if he can return with something tasty to grace a meat-shy table.

Except on a dozen or so experimental waters where local rules are more liberal than the general regulations, there have been no changes made since a year ago in size and creel limits.

according to the state department of conservation. On inland lakes these limits still stand at five black bass over 10 inches long; five northern or walleyed pike over 14 inches long; 25 panfish such as bluegills, sunfish, perch, crappies, and rock bass over six inches long, with not more than 15 bluegills in the total; and 10 white bass seven inches long.

Fishermen's worries this season, insofar as fishermen have worries, are not about the supply of fish but of such scarcities as those of fishing tackle, cabin accommodations and, in some localities, boats and bait.

MANY DEER KILLED

Highway collision kills of deer are great enough in Cusino state game area to rate as an index to the number of deer in the area, according to biologist Warren Shapton, now at Cusino wildlife experiment station. Conservation officers already have buried 20 deer killed by automobiles along the 25-mile stretch of highway M-28 between Seney and Shingleton this season, and in earlier years the game area's total collision kill has exceeded 140.

CURIOSITY NETS $135

BRIGHTON - Curiosity about the strange appearance of seven pups he had presented for bounty as foxes, after finding them in a hollow log in the swamp at the back end of his farm, brought Leroy Watters of Brighton town a net more than $100.

Watters exhumed the pup and named it Fox. Freshwater conservation department predatory animal control officer for the Detroit district, Laush, identified them as coyotes, and together with the adult male trapped at the den they brought Watters $135 in state bounty. Instead of the $175 he was about to collect from the county for them as foxes.

Watters still is trying to trap the adult female, worth another $200 if he can get her.

LANSING - Sportsmen and farmers who have been hoping the increase in the number of foxes in Michigan had about run its course will find no comfort in the report of D. F. Switzenburg, conservation department investigator, that no general statewide decline is yet evident.

Half of the more than a thousand sportsmen, farmers, fox hunters and trappers, amateur naturalists and conservation officers questioned believe there are more foxes than there were a year ago; only 16 per cent think there are fewer. Only one of 33 observers in the northern peninsula reported fewer foxes than a year ago, and in the southern peninsula only the southwestern and north central counties reported decreases.

Litters dug out are averaging six pups to the den, though one count of 14 was verified, near Coldwater.

Farmers' complaints of fox damage are being received at about the same rate as a year ago. Interest in foxes is especially high in the Thumb, where they have invaded the farming country in numbers for the first time since reliable records have been kept. The 1945 fox kill, computed at 52,000, including 28,300 taken by hunting and 23,700 trapped is 55 per cent above the kill the year before.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO ADMINISTER VETS' FUND

Organization of a state-wide set-up to administer Michigan's $50,000,000 Veterans' Trust Fund is proceeding rapidly. County committees, composed of representatives of The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Veterans Committee, and Disabled American Veterans, have already been appointed by the state board of trustees in 14 of the largest counties. Thirty-five of the remaining counties have been grouped into 14 districts with one committee to administer the fund for the welfare of all needy veterans and their dependents in each district.

Waterford Township Youth Centers

There are two youth centers in operation in Waterford Township this summer. One program is available to young people every Wednesday night from 8 to 11 at the Community Activities building on Williams Lake Road to serve the youth of the northern part of the township. The other program rotates among three schools in the southern part of the township, Donelson, Stringham and Lambert on succeeding Monday nights. The time of this program is 8 to 11 p. m.

Both programs feature dancing and games of interest to young people. The orchestras furnishing music for the dancing are made up of high school students. Each program is operated by a board of directors made up of students. The adult sponsors for the program at the Community House are Mrs. Helen Sanford and Don Weaver. The adult sponsors for the program in the schools are Mrs. Lea Brown, Mrs. John Harken, and Mrs. Stanley Hoffman, P.T.A. presidents of the schools; Mrs. Dorothy Selle, Mrs. Iva O'Dell and Mrs. Emily Hicks, principals of Lambert, Donelson and Stringham schools; and Don Weaver, visiting teacher, Waterford Township Schools.

On Wednesday, June 26, the program at the Waterford Community Activities Building will be open on a membership basis.

The program at the schools is now open to everyone without membership.

This project represents an effort on the part of the school and parents to provide a place where youngsters may enjoy wholesome recreational activities. All parents in the township are urged to encourage the teen-agers to avail themselves of this opportunity.

nows produced by the department in its experiments at fish hatcheries. Species preferred by the bait dealers are chubs, suckers, and shiners, in that order, with some demand also for muddlers, dace, mud and blunt-nosed minnows.

The wartime shortage of bait minnows is continuing in some northern resort areas where few streams are open to minnow netting. Inquiries directed to the department about raising minnows, including many from veterans, have been abundant this spring. Where 901 dealers were licensed in 1945, already this season 1,265 retail and 74 wholesale bait dealers' licenses have been issued.

Here comes the bride!

JUNE has swung around again, and this month brides by the thousands will start housekeeping—if they can find a house to keep.

In days soon to come, light housekeeping will be even lighter with electrical servants ready to wash and iron, clean and cook at the flip of a switch. And some day there will be many new electric aids—air conditioners, food freezers, electric blankets, television sets, and all the wonders of the era of electric living which lies ahead.

The electric service which powers these time-and-labor-saving appliances will continue to be inexpensive, friendly, dependable—ready around the clock and calendar—just as in the past.

Maybe 1946 brides will take the advantages of electricity for granted, just as you do. We hope they will. We're glad you just naturally count on the high efficiency and low cost of electric service. The men and women in this company worked hard to make electricity cheap and dependable. They'll work even harder to keep it that way.

SHORTAGE OF BALING WIRE THREATENS HAY CROP

The harvesting of hay may be greatly delayed or prevented as a result of an acute shortage of baling wire. Dealers report their inability to get supplies in adequate amount to take care of Oakland County's 65,000 acres of alfalfa and mixed hay.

For farmers who have saved their baling wire, Karl D. Bailey, County Agent, recommends the use of a Baled Wire Straightener. Wire can be used as much as three times. The straightener consists of a vise and a lever which pulls the wire taught permitting it to be reused. Plans for the straightener can be obtained from the County Agent's office, 15 1/2 W. Huron or by calling Pontiac 4-2564. Mr. Bailey will mail plans of the straightener to any farmer in the county requesting.

Mrs. Marjorie T. Bingham has been re-elected president of the Michigan Wildflower association, which has adopted a new name—The Michigan Association for Native Plant Protection. New association officers are vice president George S. Butler, secretary Mrs. N. T. Kelley, and treasurer Dr. William B. Drew.

Household Hints

Numerous June brides, in addition to wives of returning servicemen starting housekeeping for the first time, have resulted in many newcomers at meal-planning, food shopping and meal preparation. That is why Mary Woodward, home demonstration agent for Oakland County believes a little "menu mathematics" may be handy information at this time.

The number of servings from one pound of fresh vegetables varies. Fresh lima beans, peas and spinach will provide two or three servings per pound, while fresh snap beans, kale and carrots make three or four servings per pound. Out of a pound of head lettuce, red or green peppers, five servings can be obtained, while leaf lettuce and raw salad greens make eight servings to the pound. Canned or frozen lima or snap beans or peas make four servings to the pound.

Miss Woodward reveals that a pound of oranges or grapefruit, in the form of sections or in juice will make two to three servings, but if canned, a pound will serve four. Fresh tomatoes will serve three to four per pound and canned tomatoes four per pound. Potatoes and sweet potatoes will serve about four per pound. Five to six cups of dry beans will make 8 to 10 servings.

Boned or boneless cuts of meat will serve about four to the pound, while ground meat will serve five to the pound and ready-to-eat meats about six to the pound. Meats with bone, such as chops, and poultry and whole fish, will serve only two or three to the pound.

Two million poppies were sold by the Michigan American Legion and Auxiliary, and netted a total of approximately $250,000 which will be used to help needy veterans and their families.

HINTS ON SUMMER SEEDING OF ALFALFA CROP

If, like many farmers, you intend to plant alfalfa during the summer months, Roy E. Decker, head of the department of farm crops at Michigan State College, offers a few timely hints on how and when to do it to get the best results.

First, he suggests seeding before August 15, and second, it is important that the soil has all moisture possible. To keep the moisture, the land should be worked often enough to kill weeds as they appear. But keep the soil in a firm condition. A third suggestion is to make sure the soil contains sufficient lime to give a neutral or slightly alkaline reaction and that there are good supplies of available phosphate and potash. Decker says 300 to 500 pounds per acre of a fertilizer high in these plant foods will usually pay big dividends.

So That's Where It Comes From!

The old story of how the white and black cow eats green grass and gives white milk is more or less amazing to Jane Sepull and Holly Spittler, children of Michigan State college GI veteran students. Living with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sepull, Alpena, and Mr. and Mrs. Garth H. Spittler, Hart, in the MSC campus trailer camp for married veterans, these two youngsters are close to the source of supply, as the college dairy farm is nearby. The Michigan dairy industry last year furnished full or part-time employment to one out of every fifteen persons in the state. The year's income was well over $200,000,000.

Alfalfa is usually planted where it is advisable to cultivate to kill weeds, or where the soil is not productive enough to carry a small grain crop.

If the soil is likely to blow, a light seeding of one-half bushel of oats per acre will help. If smooth brome grass is to be seeded with the alfalfa, the brome grass can be mixed with the oats. To insure quick germination the seeding should be made very shallow. Poor stands of brome grass will result if seed is put more than a half inch below the surface—even on sandy soils. Cultivate the soil after seeding.

The Michigan State college specialist recommends 5 to 8 pounds of alfalfa per acre. If brome grass is seeded with the alfalfa, use 6 pounds of alfalfa and 3 to 4 pounds of brome grass.

FERTILIZE ALFALFA TO GET HIGHER YIELDS

With normal rainfall following the first cutting of alfalfa, Michigan farmers can increase the yield of the second crop by fertilizing their meadows as soon as the first cutting is removed from the field.

E. D. Longnecker, soils specialist at MSC, says experimental work and demonstrations on various soil types in Michigan show that alfalfa makes definite and favorable response to such treatment. In fact, on sands, loamy sand and sandy loam soils, better results may be expected from fertilizer applied as topdressings each year than from heavy applications at seeding time only.

Even on the heavier types of soil, topdressings of fertilizer made after the first cutting are resulting in total yields equal to those obtained when applied in the spring each year or heavy applications at seeding. Moderate application at seeding time, followed by topdressings each year after removal of first crop, results in the highest yield over a period of years.

On silt-loam and clay-loam soils, superphosphate or mixed fertilizers carrying half as much potash as phosphoric acid (0-14-1 or 0-20-10) will give good results, Longnecker explains. However, if tests or crop symptoms indicate a shortage of potash, an 0-20-20 fertilizer should be used, if available. On the lighter soils, commercial fertilizers carrying either equal parts of phosphoric acid and potash (0-12-12 or 0-20-20) or twice as much potash as phosphoric acid (0-10-20) will prove most profitable. Superphosphate alone cannot be expected to increase alfalfa yields on the lighter soils, unless used in combination with stable manure. In fact, many farmers report decreases in yields of both seed and hay crops from such use.

MANY VEV'S AVAILABLE

Victory Farm Volunteers in larger numbers are expected to go into Michigan's crop fields now that large city schools have dismissed for the summer. Doris G. Shimkus, supervisor of the program at Michigan State College, reveals that in May the total number at work reached 500.

Household Hints
SOAP SHOULD BE USED WISELY TO MAKE LAST
 It's needless to tell the housewife that soap saving is a real necessity these days. But Miss Laura P. Davis, extension specialist in home management, gives the homemaker a few tips on how to make the soap go farther and how to make the clothes cleaner. Too much soap in the washing machine not only is wasteful but does not do as good a job as the right amount. It is wasteful to use soap as a water softener. There are many softeners on the market today and they are less expensive than soap.

Water softener, however, should be thoroughly dissolved before the soap is added. It will, however, reduce the amount of soap required, if you give it a chance to do its job before you add the soap. Give it three to five minutes. Always measure the quantities to be used, after determining by experimentation the right amount necessary for the water you use. A two-inch suds on the wash-water is the most desirable. First find out how much soap it takes for that amount of suds—then measure the amount in the future.

A thorough rinsing of the clothes will lengthen the life of the fabric, Miss Davis contends. Not only do you have that "tattletale gray" look in your white clothes if not properly rinsed, but you will weaken the textile fibers. Hot soft water is ideal for rinsing. Soft water dissolves the soap without leaving a scum or sediment. The first rinse should be about the same temperature as the suds and of softened water, but later rinses may be lukewarm. For a good job, two or three rinses in clear water are needed until the water shows no trace of soapiness.

SPRAY DILUTION CHART HELPS SMALL GROWER

For those small-scale gardeners and fruit growers who have trouble in figuring out how much insecticide or fungicide to use to make up a small amount of spraying solution, here are the answers. Jack Rose, extension home gardening specialist at MSC, realizing that most instructions are based on quantities needed to make from 10 gallons to 1,000 gallons, has prepared the information for small users.

To make one gallon or one quart of various spray solutions required in your home garden, add to the desired amount of water the following amount of powder:

DDT wettable powder 25%—1 gallon of water, 3 tablespoons powder; 1 quart water, 2 tablespoons powder.

DDT wettable powder 50%—1 gallon, 1 1/2 tablespoons; 1 quart, 1 teaspoon.

Lead arsenate—1 gallon, 3 tablespoons; 1 quart, 2 tablespoons Calcium arsenate—1 gallon, 2 tablespoons; 1 quart, 2 teaspoons.

 Paris green—1 gallon, 1 teaspoon; 1 quart, 1/2 teaspoon.
 Cryolite—1 gallon, 4 tablespoons; 1 quart, 1 tablespoon.
 Nicotine sulfate—1 gallon, 2 teaspoons; 1 quart, 1 teaspoon.
 Wettable sulphur—1 gallon, 5 tablespoons; 1 quart, 1 tablespoon.
 Soap—1 gallon, 3 tablespoons; 1 quart, 2 teaspoons.
 Fermate—1 gallon, 1 tablespoon; 1 quart, 1 teaspoon.

Amvets Sponsor State Bonus

Petitions to place a state bonus proposal on the ballot in November were circulated throughout Michigan this week by AMVETS (American Veterans of World War II).

This new organization of veterans has been in the forefront of several battles for veterans' rights since its active inception in Michigan, December 5, 1945. It has grown in six months to 110 posts in this state, and more than 700 throughout the Nation.

"We veterans regret that the bonus question has been made a political football," said state adjutant Neil Holland of Detroit. "Our purpose in circulating these petitions is to see that a decent proposal gets on the ballot. We don't want the people of Michigan saddled with new taxes. Our proposal takes a percentage of the state sales tax to pay the bonus."

More than 176,000 signatures are required. Petitions may be secured at 401 Charlevoix Building, Detroit, or by calling AMVETS state headquarters at Cadillac 4690, Detroit, collect.

All registered voters are eligible to sign and circulate the petition.

MORE NURSES ARE NEEDED TO KEEP HEALTH STANDARD
 Despite the broad careers open to professional nurses, Michigan's schools of nursing are more than 90 per cent short of the number of students needed for classes beginning in September, it was reported today by the Michigan Council on Community Nursing.

"Unless a thousand girls are enrolled in Michigan's schools of nursing this fall, minimum health requirements of the state cannot be met," the Council's announcement stated.

The Council pointed out that nursing is a career of high professional standing and that there are unlimited opportunities for the registered graduate nurse, and urges all girls who may wish to investigate the possibilities of a nursing career to contact the director of nursing at the local hospital, or to write to the Michigan Council on Community Nursing, 51 West Warren, Detroit 1, for information.

MICHIGAN TAKES CARE OF ITS VETERANS

More than 10,000 cases were cleared for examination or treatment during the first two months of full operation of Michigan's program providing "home town care" for veterans with service-connected disabilities, according to John W. Castellucci of Michigan Medical Service.

The program permits the veteran to go to the registered doctor of his own choice rather than to a veteran's facility. More than 80 per cent of Michigan's doctors of medicine have registered with Michigan Medical Service as participants in the veterans program.

Castellucci said that approximately 700 veterans requiring treatment or disability rating examinations received authorizations during March, 1946, while the program still was in its experimental stages. On April 1 the plan went into full operation, and by June 1 the number of authorized cases reached a total of 10,837. Of these, 5,242 were treatment cases and 5,595 authorized examinations for disability rating.

In order to participate in the program, the veteran with a service-connected disability makes application to the nearest Veterans Administration Contact Representative. The Veterans Administration decides whether the case calls for the veteran to go to a veterans facility or whether the veteran can be authorized to visit the doctor of his choice.

In the latter case, the authorization is sent to Michigan Medical Service which in turn forwards it to the veteran who then takes it to the doctor for treatment or examination.

At the peak, more than 500 authorizations were handled in one day, Castellucci said. The load now has diminished somewhat, and it is expected that it will drop to between 100 and 200 cases daily in the near future.

MSC COMMITTEE HOLDS PICNIC AT ROCHESTER

The Extension Home Demonstration Executive Committee held their annual picnic at Rochester on June 20. Mrs. Dora Looney, chairman, conducted the afternoon meeting.

Election was held to fill several offices. Mrs. Arthur Simmons of Wixom was elected vice chairman. Mrs. J. H. Goodwin, Birmingham, was re-elected secretary; Mrs. Alex LeRoy, Holly, was made treasurer. Mrs. Looney's term as chairman continues for the coming year.

A report of the Women's Camp at Waldenwoods on June 11 to 14 was given by Mrs. LeRoy and Mrs. Simmons. Thirty-four women from Oakland County with 37 women from Ingham County were present for the camp activities.

One of the highlights was the crafts program. The crafts worked on were: weaving, decorated flasks, knitting, and spoolholders.

Vesper services were held each evening which all the women enjoyed. Mrs. Alex LeRoy and Mrs. Fred Lahring of Holly, each conducted a service. Mrs. Mildred North, Ingham County, had the third service.

Evenings were spent in square dancing, folk games, and a fire-side sing.

The week's events closed with a hilarious "Breakfast in Hollywood" Friday morning in which each woman participated.

The staff of the Clarkston State Bank attended the double-header ball game in Detroit Wednesday. Afterwards a turkey dinner was enjoyed at Devon Gables.
