Clarkston School Faculty Welcomed at Public Dinner

Evening Program Followed by Dance and Visiting of Class Rooms by Parents

Those who planned and worked so faithfully to make the annual banquet and reception for the Clarkston School faculty a success were happy on Wednesday night when so many attended and really had a good time. The tables were very attractive. In the center of each table on a small red or red and white cover was a beautiful bouquet of garden flowers of mixed colors in pretty copper bowls, kettles, etc. At each end of the tables were lighted tapers in copper or brass candle holders. At each side toward the front of the room were large baskets of red and white gladioli and on the stage was a miniature sleigh, known as a cutter in the by-gone days, with a large copper bowl full of colorful zinnias. On the other side of the stage was another lovely bouquet of bright colored garden flowers. Mrs. Lee Volberding and her committee were responsible for the beautiful dining room arrangements.

The delicious dinner, which was prepared by Mrs. Leslie Shanks and her committee, was served by a corps of Clarkston's young women, some high school students and some graduates of the local school. The service was all that could be desired.

To open the program Mrs. Russell Colton, president of the Clarkston Parent-Teacher Association, gave a few words of welcome and expressed her appreciation for such a grand response to the invitation extended by the P.T.A. An expression of thanks was made to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jaenicke of Dixie Highway who so generously sent the large baskets of gladioli to help make the dining room so attractive. She then presented Carl Brablec, school superintendent, who introduced Paul Henry, president of the school board. Mr. Henry gave a thumbnail sketch of what the board was doing and presented the other members of the board. Mr. Brablec then called on Wallace Ridgely, high school principal, who introduced the teachers in the high school and Mrs. William Vliet, elementary school principal, who presented the teachers under her jurisdiction.

Mr. Brablec then called attention to the cleanliness and neatness of everything about the school building and grounds and presented those who were responsible—Fred Stewart, who has retired after 26 years of service; Archie Francis and Robert Boyens who have put in many long hours all summer getting things in readiness for the opening day this September.

Mrs. William Mansfield, in her usual pleasing manner, sang "My Lover is a Fisherman", "Pale Hands I Love" and "The Hills of Home". Adele Thomas played her piano accompaniment.

Mrs. Colton announced that membership dues would be gladly accepted after the meeting and invited all present to become members of the P.T.A. She stated that membership for 1945-46 was 207 and hopes were high for a much larger membership during 1946-47. All were asked to notice the elementary library and the books on display in each classroom. She drew attention to the fact that in order to vote at the state and county election in November all citizens must re-register and for the convenience of those at the banquet Harold J. Doebler, township clerk, was present with the blanks and would assist those who wished to re-register after the program. An invitation to visit the teachers in their classrooms was extended and for about an hour the crowd enjoyed a tour of the school. Everyone seemed to do just about as they wanted and when at last they wandered back to the auditorium they found the

By the Way . . .

How Communism grows in a democracy. The clown in the course of his antics, took off his shoe. One half of his sock was missing and the crowd howled with laughter. Now for the punch line. He gazed at the audience and disdainfully remarked: "Rich people! Think it over . . . Because this is a free country you can vote as you wish. However, certain things are necessary and one is to re-register. Harold J. Doebler, Township Clerk, is doing his best to make that little job easy for you. But to vote this November YOU MUST REGISTER . . . The P.T.A. party was a success in every way. However, fight fans took time out (2 minutes and 9 seconds) to listen to the radio account of the fight . . . Here comes the advertising plug of the week—wonder how many know what radio sponsor, selling what, paid for the radio time. Better stick to newspaper advertising where the sponsor's name and product is in black and white and if you are interested you can tear out the ad, and keep it to refresh your memory . . . We went to the county fair—yes sir, the Saginaw County fair. Walking along, never expecting to see anyone we knew that far from home we were pleased to meet the Glenn Kertons and Maurice Ogden . . . Don't talk too much about this but later while I was trying to win a pair of nylon for the better half, the Reverend Carl Martenson, D.D., pastor of the Congregational Church at Saginaw and Mrs. Martenson and children stopped to visit with us . . . Tried something new, to me, in the eating line—french fried egg plant. It's good! Believe me! . . . Looks like one more turn on the lawnmower this fall . . . Have you been noticing the Northern Lights display the last few nights? Very pretty . . . Mrs. Russell McNeil let us inspect a rather interesting hand bill on Saturday. It was advertising the last excursion, on what is now the Grand Trunk Railroad, to Detroit for the season of 1881. It was found by George Slayton in the building the McNeils are remodeling. . . Probably to make conversation, the lady asked the bride how she and her husband came to marry, and was she surprised when the newlywed answered: "It's the same old story. We started out to be good friends, and later we changed our minds."

The first two meetings will be conducted by Miss Laura Davis, extension specialist in home management. This is one of the discussions offered by the home economics extension office of Michigan State College.

Workers in industry have studied their methods and improved them by reducing the number of motions used. This has resulted in greater production. Homemakers can do the same. Those who have done so have been able to increase the amount of work accomplished and at the same time decrease the amount of time and energy used.

If there are any individuals or groups that would like to be a part of this county program they may contact the Home Demonstration Agent, County Extension Office at 15½ West Huron Street, Pontiac.

A 30-lap race will be the feature attraction of the day.

tables all cleared away and a gay crowd dancing to music by "Spike" Masters and the school dance band. Robert L. Jones acted as master of ceremonies and all had an exceptionally fine time. Many remarked—"Why can't we do this more often?"

NAVAL STUDENTS TO ATTEND MSC

Approximately 50 naval aviation officer candidates have selected Michigan State College for the two years of college work they are required to have before undertaking flight training. These men applied for admittance to the college as civilians and fulfilled the same requirements as other successful applicants for admittance.

While on campus the navy-sponsored students will be on inactive duty, and are to be considered regular students in every sense of the word, the navy says. The navy will pay costs of tuition, books, and supplies, but the student must make his own arrangements for housing, feeding and general living expenses. The college authorities will have complete control of these students for academic and disciplinary purposes.

CANDIDATES WARMING UP FOR STUDENT COUNCIL RACE

The school is buzzing with politics. Seniors are talking earnestly to sophomores, the boards are plastered with political advertisements, rumors are flying! Candidates for student council are the subject for discussion at the high school at the moment.

Mr. Ridgely has set this Friday as the deadline so sheets with long lists of names are circulating in the halls. In order to get your candidate's name on the ballot, you must turn in a petition which reads, "We the undersigned wish to nominate John Doe for the office of President of the school year 1946-1947", and contains at least thirty authentic signatures. The campaign assembly is to be held next Thursday and elections Friday.

Hunt Cooperatives Are Urged to File Applications Now

Arnold Haugen, conservationist at Michigan State college, advises that farmers who desire to register their Williamson plan hunting cooperatives should send in applications at once. Applications may be sent to the Department of Conservation, Lansing, or to Haugen in the department of conservation at Michigan State college.

To qualify for state cooperation, each Williamson plan club must include not less than one section of land or more than 10,000 acres. The plan takes its name from the original plan formed in Williamson township in Ingham county nearly 20 years ago. Farmers in the plan require hunters to leave their cars parked in a member's yard. The hunters then receive a permit tag which entitles them to hunt on that farm and adjoining cooperative land. Each farmer has a limited number of tickets to issue. This makes the number of hunters at any time within reason of the space and game in the area. Last year 40 clubs with a total of 168,592 acres in 19 counties operated in Michigan.

The Michigan conservation department has cooperated with the plan for the past ten years and believes it to be a successful protection for the farmer and a benefit both to the hunter and to the protection of game.

The conservation department furnishes signs which indicate to hunters that hunting is by permission only. Permit from one farmer allows hunting on adjoining farms belonging to the same cooperative.

Clarkston Boy Scouts Must Find A Scoutmaster or Lose Charter

The need for a scoutmaster to take over Clarkston Boy Scout Troop No. 49 is fast approaching a crisis. Sponsors are many, but when it comes to actual leadership in this worthy organization there seems to be a trend to hide or duck the responsibility and "let Charlie do it."

After establishing itself as the second best Scout troop in Oakland County last spring the organization has deteriorated to a point of near oblivion—all because these boys cannot find a scoutmaster to lead them. The charter has already lapsed and may not be renewed until the group finds a leader.

At present the Explorer Scouts are under the very capable direction of Otto Ivenon. This group consists of boys 15 years of age and over. They are advanced Scouts and have set up a grand record of performance.

The Cub Scouts, under the leadership of Bob Jones, have also been doing very well for themselves and show an ever-increasing interest in their record of achievements.

The main body of Scouts—the boys ranging in age from 12 to 15 years—are the ones who are in dire need of guidance. They don't ask too much. A scoutmaster need not be a former Scout. The only qualifications are that he be able to work with boys and know how to handle them; he must be able to devote one evening each week to the Scout meetings. Several volunteers have offered to act as advisors and perhaps teach classes in handicraft or assist in other ways in helping the Scouts earn their merit badges. But so far no one has found the courage to tackle the job of heading the troop.

There will be a meeting at the Township Hall Monday evening, Sept. 23. The boys of Scout Troop 49 invite all the dads in Clarkston to come and lend a hand in this quest for a new scoutmaster. It would be a disgrace for the Village

Bloomer State Park Gets New Building

Building materials which have lain at the site since CCC workers laid down their tools before the war are being worked again, and Bloomer No. 2 state park will have a new combination shelter, toilet and concession building ready for next season.

The structure, of split field stone and logs, was nearly one-quarter complete when work stopped. The crew now finishing it also will build several hundred feet of sidewalks and steps leading down the steep banks of the Clinton river.

Since the building was started, Rochester-Utica state recreation area has been acquired and opened to the public, and this larger unit now includes and administers Bloomer No. 2 state park as its northwestern section.

Fats and Oils Are Still on Vital List

There's not much relief ahead for the homemaker who has skimmed on fats and oils. They are among the wartime food shortages that have carried over into peacetime. Foods and nutrition specialists at Michigan State college say reports received from the department of agriculture indicate little or no relief this year.

Stocks of fat and oils in July were the lowest since 1920. While we will probably import more fats and oils from the Philippines and the East Indies, the increase will not be large. The United States has severely cut land and oil shipments overseas due to the acute situation here at home.

So the American housewife is going to be required to learn to make that old-fashioned "boiled dressing" — which really isn't boiled. It's just cooked in a double boiler and made from milk, eggs, flour, seasonings and a little butter or other fat.

Another substitute dressing is made by combining a little lemon juice, a bit of sugar and a sprinkling of salt. It is fine for a topping on salads—either fruit or vegetables.

Many women have learned to relieve the shortage by rendering their own fat for dressings. They use fat trimmings from meat and chicken running them through a grinder. Then it is melted in a double boiler and strained through a cloth. Keeping the grease in a cold place will prevent it from getting rancid. That's why it isn't a good idea to keep fat around the hot kitchen—on the stove or in an open can—as many people do.

Clarkston Rotary Club News

Guests at the Clarkston Rotary Club meeting on Monday were Jack Wignall, Kenneth Watson and R. C. Beattie of the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club; Bill Williams of the Birmingham Club and H. W. Huttenlocher of the Pontiac Club.

Community singing included birthday greetings to Ernest Squier and Joseph S. Seeterlin.

Lloyd C. Mege introduced the speaker of the evening, former District Governor Edgar F. Downs.

Anglers Prepare for Big Trout Fishing

Trout season is over for most fishermen, but the hardier anglers are preparing now for the big rainbow trout or "steelhead" fishing that will continue on more than 80 designated lakes and streams to the end of November.

Big fish moving in from the Great Lakes are the main attraction of this late season trout fishing. The sport has a number of ardent followers who brave even the rigors of the heavy ones. The Platte, Per Marquette, Manistee, Muskegon, Sturgeon, and East Branch of the Au Gres are among the more famous of the fall fishing streams, and some of the state's biggest lakes—Higgins, Burt and Mullet—and some southern lakes recently planted, like Orchard and Swains, also are open for rainbow fishing to November 30. Anglers interested may check specific locations in the fish law digest or with their local conservation officer.

License Shipping Is On Schedule

More than half the hunting season's record printing of 1,288,100 licenses, back tags and seals already has been dispatched to dealers, and with shipments continuing on schedule all licenses will be on their way to dealers by September 13, the conservation department reports.

Deliveries to the upper peninsula, where the heavy demand comes earlier, were completed August 27. With all licenses in dealers' hands by the middle of the month, two weeks before the first hunting season opens, there will be no need for early-season hunters—as once, was feared might be necessary because of the great shipping problem—to write directly to Lansing for any licenses.

Maps Are Available To Guide Hunters

Southern Michigan hunters—particularly returned veterans—who have not yet become acquainted with the state game areas and public hunting grounds developed in the southern counties in recent years may get maps to guide them to state-owned lands from the conservation department's game division.

Saginaw Bay frontage and Pointe Mouillee and Erie state game area maps will be useful to waterfowl hunters, and pheasant and rabbit hunters can obtain maps of Dansville state game area, Ingham County, Port Huron state game area, St. Clair County, DeWitt and Vassar state game areas, Tuscola County, Lapeer state game area, Lapeer County and Flat River state game area, Ionia and Montcalm Counties.

All state-owned lands, with the exception of a few sanctuaries and safety zones near buildings, are open to hunting, and the older areas like Rose Lake, Swan Creek, Tuscola, Gratiot-Saginaw and Barry County areas are already well known. Eleven southeastern Michigan state recreation areas and Waterloo and Yankee Springs also offer extensive acreage. Hunting is controlled (that is, the hunter must register at headquarters and obtain a ticket each day) only on a part of Pointe Mouillee marsh and at Swan Creek and Rose Lake. At all other areas, hunters need only remember to stay within the posted boundaries of the state-owned land.

AIRCRAFT TIRES TO BE SOLD AS SURPLUS ITEMS

County and township road commissions in Michigan have an opportunity to buy large quantities of 36-inch and 56-inch aircraft tires and tubes. The tires, originally manufactured for super fortresses and heavy bombers, are adaptable for use on heavy farm equipment, road and mining machinery and other industrial purposes.

The tires and tubes, to be sold through War Assets Administration, are priced from $30 for a 56-inch new casing in lots of less than 100, to $15.00 for a recapped 36-inch tire. WAA has 97,500 of them for sale.

Harold Tubbs, district game supervisor stationed at Caro, in the Thumb, talked one prowling housecat for every five miles of roadside in recent night driving.

On Tuesday night at a public ceremony the officers of the Campbell-Richmond Post 63, American Legion, were installed. A ritual team of Voiture 811, 40/8, did the honors. The work was very impressive and colorful and those in attendance learned that if the officers of the Post do the duties of the office as is outlined in the installing ceremony then a Legion Post is an asset to the community, state and nation.

The officers installed included: Commander, Harold Kennedy; Senior Vice Commander, Herbert Beach; Junior Vice Commander, Raymond Jarvis; Adjutant, Clark Souby; Finance Officer, Stanwood Radoy; Chaplain, Everett Butters; Historian, Edward D. Whipple; Sergeant-at-arms, L. D. Hemingway; William Jens, Commander for the past year was presented with a past commander's pin.

The captain of the visiting ritual team was George McDonald of Ferndale. Among the guests were several members of the Waterford Township Post and George R. Simmons of Northville, Commander of the 17th District of which the Clarkston Post is a part.

Following the installation Commander Harold Kennedy took charge and extended heartfelt thanks to the ritual team for their services and splendid cooperation. He then invited the guests and the members of the local Post to assemble at the Rotary rooms, immediately following the meeting, for light refreshments.

Folks will be glad to know that Robert Waters, who underwent an operation at Pontiac General Hospital on Monday, is getting along nicely and expects to return to his home this weekend.

The Creek

A way up, in the hills, a spring Runs out beneath a soggy bank. To form a stream where robbers sing; There years ago the deer herd drank.

From just a trickle at its head It winds along the valley green, To carry rains the hill sides shed A silver thread in the ravine.

It spreads to form a tranquil lake To add its bit of loveliness. Only to leave a freshened wake As other scenes meet its caress.

It's dammed to make the mill wheels turn, It carries boats upon its crest. It's called upon when houses burn To quench the fire from its breast.

A hundred tasks, the stream performs While winding thru the pasture lot, Absorbing from the spring time storms The coolness for, when days are hot.

Under our Village street it flows, Babbling along so merrily, It whispers songs where cattail grows As it slips onward toward the sea.

THE PACE OF PROGRESS

With almost methodical regularity we hear or read of startling new discoveries in medicine. The pace of progress in research has been greatly accelerated. Hundreds of trained people are devoting their lives to organized research where there was but one a few years ago. As soon as the value of a new drug has been established, it is made available to the medical profession. A chronic condition from which you have been suffering may yield to a new treatment today. It is wiser than ever before to see your physician regularly once or twice a year. We take pride in maintaining complete stocks of the newer medicinal agents, ready to serve you on the order of your physician.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

With typical coach's reserve, Ralph "Doc" Thayer and Leigh Bonner made no definite statements on the football prospects for Clarkston's '46 season. To an inexperienced observer, however, the rest of their comments make the prospects sound good. After bemoaning the accident which will probably keep Gene Greathouse, one of the potential threats to our opponents, out of the playing for the year, the two coaches went on to tell about the "biggest squad" in Clarkston history. Last year's regulars—Davison, Hagen, Remback, Smith, Trim and others—don't seem to have slowed down any. The squad has been well fortified by men from neighboring schools. Lawrence Westover from Drayton Plains and others new to Clarkston may be on the starting line-up.

As Mr. Bonner stated, "Things don't look too bad. Why don't you come to the game Friday at Goodrich and see for yourself?"

Mr. Carl Brabec announced Tuesday that school will be closed for Teachers' Institute in Detroit on Thursday and Friday, October 10 and 11.

GI EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS EXPIRE OCTOBER 5

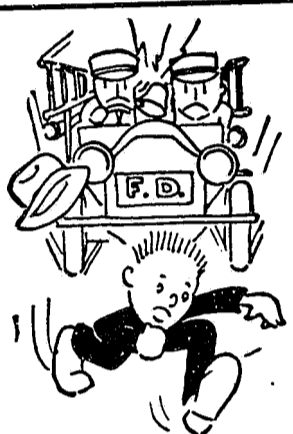

Thirty-three days are left for those young men who contemplate enlisting in the Regular Army in order to take advantage of the educational opportunities of the GI Bill of Rights before its expiration October 5.

Lt. Robert H. Welsbacher, commanding officer of the Pontiac recruiting station located at 53 1/2 W. Huron St., announced today that unless the President calls a special session of Congress to consider the extension of the GI Bill, it will automatically expire on October 5.

There is no better way for ambitious young men to get ahead, to prepare for their education and get it free than by enlisting in the Regular Army. Lt. Welsbacher said. The government will pay towards his college, trade or business school up to $500 for an ordinary school year. On an 18-month enlistment he will receive 30 months of college education, for a two year enlistment 36 months of education, and for a three-year enlistment 48 months, plus $65 per month to live on while attending school.

More than 900,000 young men have volunteered since last fall in the United States. They are now a part of the new army which is doing vital research work in science, medicine, engineering and many other fields which will be a great benefit to America's future, Lt. Welsbacher said.

In Michigan last year accidents were the leading cause of death for males between the ages of 1 and 15, according to records of the Michigan Department of Health.

Garden Clubs Resume Meetings

Resuming an annual "school meeting" suspended during wartime, women of Michigan's Federated Garden Clubs, 100 strong, will convene September 25-27 at the conservation department's training school at Higgins Lake.

At this, their eighth annual convention and first meeting since 1940, women representing garden clubs in 90 Michigan cities will make field trips to the state pine nursery, the forest fire experiment station, a typical oil field and Hartwick Pines state park.

They will hear discussions of Michigan's current conservation problems by P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the Michigan department of conservation, and others of the department staff. S. G. Fontanna, deputy director of the department, will tell of Michigan's water problems and other specific problems will be presented by Paul A. Herbert, head of Michigan State College's forestry department, R. G. Hill, secretary of the Michigan Soil Conservation committee, Paul M. Barrett, land use specialist of the conservation department and the college, Helen Martin of the department's geological survey and Russell J. Martin, superintendent of the department's training school.

Arrangements for the club women's school have been made by Mrs. Earl W. Delano of Allegan, Mrs. J. Shirley Symons of Saginaw, Mrs. Ormond E. Hunt of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Clarence W. Avery of Detroit and Mrs. Elizabeth Cole of the department of conservation.

BUMPER CROP OF WILD FRUIT FOR STATE'S GAME BIRDS

THE STRAN-STEEL

"Quonset 24"

All-steel, quickly erected, low in cost, the "Quonset 24" is a better building investment for your farm. Its amazing flexibility permits a free hand in planning for your particular needs.

The spacious, clear-span "Quonset 24" is 24 feet wide, and as long as you want it, in sections of 12 feet. The front of each section can be independently enclosed, left open, or equipped with a roller door; side panels may be solid, or fitted with walk-doors and windows as required. Scores of variations and combinations are possible—and it's an easy matter to install whatever partitions, insulation, wallboard and accessories are desired. If you need more space later on, extra sections may be added simply and economically.

Built with Stran-Steel, the modern framing material that permits the outside sheet steel covering to be nailed directly to framing members, the "Quonset" is fire-safe and durable, free from sag and rot. No other building combines the accepted advantages of all-steel construction with ready adaptability to scores of uses.

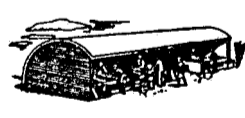

Ask us for further information—we'll be glad to show you how a "Quonset 24" will meet your plans.

WHAT'S YOUR "Eye-Q"?

TRY THIS TRUE OR FALSE TEST ON THE FAMILY!

1. The spider has more eyes than any other insect.

2. Men are more apt to be color-blind than women.

3. Insufficient light, while reading, is the easiest way to strain your eyes.

4. A fish closes his eyes only when he's very deep in the water.

5. Only 5% of high school boys and girls need glasses.

6. Babies are naturally farsighted.

Some of these statements are based only on interesting facts. Others are important . . . for they may affect you and your family. Take numbers 5 and 6, for instance. Although very few babies are born with defective vision, nearly a quarter of them need glasses by the time they've completed grade school. The reason? Well, in many cases—too many cases—it's poor lighting.

Lighting can be very deceptive. You can grow so accustomed to a particular lamp that you won't realize its light is tiring. You may not notice it, but glare from a lamp may cause a youngster to squint as he studies—cause headaches, poor grades, even harmful eyestrain.

You can be certain about your lighting, though, if you arrange to have an Edison Home Service Advisor check over your lamps and fixtures. In a few minutes, she can measure your light scientifically with a "Light-Meter", and—if necessary—give you helpful advice on improving it. There's no charge for her visit. It takes but a few minutes of your time . . . and it may add years to your family's eyesight. Yes, it's a real "ounce of protection" for that precious eyesight! Telephone your nearest Edison office today.

Here Are the Answers—

1. TRUE. Most spiders have eight eyes, symmetrical.
2. TRUE. One man in twenty-five is color-blind.
3. FALSE. Harmful infrared glare causes much more eye fatigue and strain than insufficient lighting.
4. FALSE. A fish never closes his eyes because he has no eyelids.
5. TRUE. Twenty-four per cent of high schoolers need glasses—on an eye-lighting test.
6. FALSE. Very few babies are born with defective vision.

Test Drilling Begins For New Source of Flint Water Supply

Indications of two buried valleys in the underlying bed rock, located by engineers of the conservation department's geological survey and the U. S. Geological survey, are guiding test drilling for a new city water supply for the city of Flint that begins September 15. The drilling program calls for 40 test wells six inches in diameter, 30 pilot wells one and a quarter inches in diameter, and four permanent wells 16 or 18 inches in diameter. City growth and the needs of Flint's big industries make the search for additional water supplies urgent, as the limit to the city's use of river water, with available treatment facilities, has been reached.

Vets Urged to Keep Insurance

Any World War II veteran who has allowed his government insurance to lapse may now reinstate it by paying two monthly premiums and making a statement that he believes himself to be in as good physical condition as at the time the insurance lapsed. That privilege will remain in effect until December 31, 1946. The above is just one of 22 new amendments passed by Congress to liberalize government insurance and make it even more desirable to all veterans. This legislation was proposed and fought for by The American Legion which now urges every veteran to retain his insurance in force.

Hunters Cautioned Against Guessing at Hours for Shooting

One-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset is the legal daily span for shooting waterfowl this season, but hunters are cautioned against guessing the starting and stopping hours from a glance at the sky. A watch and the official timetable will be much more dependable, the conservation department advises. Since the hours vary from week to week and from county to county, hunters are advised to clip the official timetable appearing in newspapers, or consult local conservation officers for specific information on local shooting grounds.

Starting time varies from 6:01 a. m. in the eastern part of the state and 6:29 a. m. in the extreme western county on opening day, October 5, to as late as 6:52 in the east and 7:20 in the west in the season's closing days. The cease-fire hour, starting at 5:35 p. m. in the east and 6:03 in the west, grows earlier during the Information on the new amendments may be obtained from any American Legion post service officer.

Surplus Minnows Go to Bait Dealers

Suplus minnows produced this summer in the course of experiments to learn practical methods of raising them are to be sold to licensed minnow dealers by the conservation department's fish division in the last week of September.

The surplus stock consists of sucker and chub minnows two to five inches long and golden shiners two to four inches long, and is located at Wolf Lake, Hastings, Drayton Plains and Harrisville hatcheries. No sales will be made for less than 2,500 minnows, and there will be no deliveries—purchasers must transport the bait they buy.

This will be the final minnow sale of the season, as all other minnow stock is being held over the winter continuing experiments designed to show private dealers practical and economical methods of raising their own minnow bait.

The average New York worker spends four and a quarter hours a month in the subways.

Irrigation System Can Pay Off Well If Properly Used

The more an irrigation system is used in Michigan, the bigger return it will pay its purchaser. That is the opinion of Frank W. Peikert, irrigation specialist in the department of agricultural engineering at Michigan State College.

Since the big cost is in the investment for equipment, Peikert feels that use of the system for a larger number of crops will make it return a greater profit. Farmers who have originally purchased equipment to water berries and truck crops have found that using it on other crops, or even pastures, causes it to pay more dividends. When water is not needed on the truck crops, the irrigation can be diverted to a pasture, a bean crop or even an orchard, Peikert points out.

Most new irrigation plants in Michigan pump water from streams or lakes. Peikert says if a surface source is available within a half mile, it is usually cheaper to use it than to drill a well.

A pump throwing 250 gallons a minute will put one inch of moisture on five acres a day. The new quick-coupling, lightweight pipe of 3 or 4 inch size for field laterals is suggested. Two men can move 1,000 feet of such pipe to make a new setting in about 30 minutes. Sprinklers should be placed from 48 to 60 feet apart in the line for successful coverage.

Many make the mistake of waiting too late to irrigate. Peikert warns that those with an irrigation system should water once each week or within a week after the last rain which was of any value to the crop.

Farmers going into irrigation should consult with someone with technical knowledge before purchasing equipment to be sure to get a pump and engine big enough to do the job, yet not too large for efficiency.

Equipment Course Proves Very Popular

Michigan State's new placement training course in Farm Equipment Service and Sales has gained state-wide and nation-wide recognition. The special course, started by the agricultural engineering department in cooperation with the Michigan Farm Equipment association, has attracted far more applicants than can be handled with present facilities.

The course is the first of its kind in any agricultural college in the United States and is offered through the Institute of Short Course. Many out-of-state requests for admission have been received but could not be considered because of the demand by Michigan students.

Many requests have been received from other agricultural colleges for information about the new program. Early this month, M. L. Bailey, assistant professor and counselor for the program, appeared at a meeting of agricultural engineering college heads and teachers at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., to tell them of the course.

The joint course consists of two 12-week terms of resident work at the college and two 12-week periods of placement training with implement dealers under college supervision. About 80 per cent of those taking the course last year were veterans and qualified under the GI Bill of Rights.

The first class, which started in September 1945, consisted of 12 of whom six completed the course late in August 1946 and were placed in responsible jobs as service men, partsmen, service shop managers or store managers. Most of them joined concerns with which they had taken their placement training. Three of the group in the first class decided to enter a four-year course in agricultural engineering at Michigan State College.

An Amazing Human Document
By JOHN HERSEY
Author of "A Bell for Adano"
Volumes have been written about the atom bomb and Hiroshima, but it remained for John Hersey, the novelist, to capture the human reaction to the first atom bomb's impact. This he did by the simple process of asking six people who lived through the terrifying ordeal to describe in detail what happened, how they felt, what they saw, what they did.
These were the Methodist Minister Tanimoto, Jesuit Father Kleinsorge, Dr. Sasaki Fujii, Mrs. Nakamura, and Miss Toshiko Sasaki.
When Hersey's story came to The New Yorker, that magazine immediately cancelled all of its usual editorial matter to publish it complete. That The New Yorker judged correctly was evidenced by an immediate sell-out. Now, The Detroit News feels it is a great privilege to be able to present to its readers this remarkable document, beginning in

A REPORT ON PROGRESS IN CLARKSTON

There are still a number of people waiting for telephones in this area. Before we can serve everybody, we'll need more outside wire and cable to connect new customers' premises with the central office. But shortages of lead and copper have seriously slowed their manufacture.
Even after we receive the new wire and cable, there will be the painstaking job of interconnecting it with the present telephone plant... a job that must be done carefully without interrupting existing service.
We are continuing to stretch our present equipment to the limit to install telephones for as many waiting applicants as we can. If you are waiting for a telephone, you can be sure your order will be filled in its proper turn just as soon as possible.
Meanwhile, our facilities are serving more telephones and handling more calls than ever before, which means that service for everyone may not always be as good as we want it to be. We're sorry when that condition occurs, but you can be sure that we are doing our best to get additional equipments as soon as possible.

Evangelist at Waterford Church

The evangelistic services now being held at the Waterford Community Church are drawing large attendances each night. Beautiful, full color scenes drawn in chalk and enhanced by an elaborate system of colored lights are a prominent feature of every service, and are used by the evangelist, Rev. R. A. Chute of Collinsville, Ill., to illustrate Gospel truth.
In addition to being an exceptional artist and preacher, Rev. Chute is also an accomplished musician, and plays the trombone and piano at the services. Mrs. Chute, vocal soloist, also leads the congregation in singing songs and choruses. Magic illustrations are used by the evangelist as exceptional lessons for the children present.

CANDLELIGHT WEDDING FOR KATHERINE P. JONES

Katherine J. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones and Joseph E. Kelly, son of Mrs. Enola Kelly, were united in marriage Friday night at a lovely candlelight service in the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church. Rev. C. J. Sutton performed the double ring ceremony before an altar of palms, white gladiolus, chrysanthemums and candelabrum.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was lovely in a floor length dress of white silk marquisette trimmed with lace with a finger tip veil to match

Frances Smith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a floor length dress of blue taffeta with a shoulder length blue veil and carried yellow roses. Katherine Ione McCreary, a niece, was flower girl and was dressed in floor length white organdy and carried a mixed bouquet.

Phillip Gordon Smith, nephew, was ring bearer.

Lowly Aspen No Longer Scorned
The lowly aspen, scorned not so long ago as a weed tree, topped jack pine and all other species cut for pulpwood on 13 state forests in the last fiscal year and was second only to jackpine in the state forest cut of logs for lumber.

The conservation department's forestry division, revealing "popple's" push to front rank position, reports timber sales totaling 18,447 cords of pulpwood in the fiscal year just ended, 4,138 cords more than in the year before. Of the recent total, 46 per cent is popple, 40 per cent is jack pine and the remainder miscellaneous species.

Timber sales of logs for lumber from state forest lands also were greater in the last fiscal year than in the year before, totaling 5,751,000 board feet as compared with 4,872,000 board feet the previous season. Jack pine accounted for 43 per cent of the 1945-46 cut, but aspen was a strong second at 19 per cent of the total, leading 15 other species sold by a wide margin.

Income from sales of stumpage in state forests amounted to $71,940 in the fiscal year, compared with $51,810 a year earlier. Most of the income is from lands that reverted for non-payment of taxes, and under provisions of a new law it will be spent on reforestation in the counties where the trees were cut.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON UNUSED LEAVE TIME

Q. Who is eligible?
A. Discharged enlisted men and women who served after Sept. 8, 1939; former officers part of whose service was in the ranks, and officers and enlisted men still in service who on Sept. 1, 1946, have between 61 and 120 days leave to their credit.

Q. How do they apply?
A. Obtain application forms from local post office, fill out and notarize, mail along with discharge certificate to one of paying offices designated in instruction sheet.
Q. How will payment be made?
A. By mail.
Q. In what form?

A. If less than $50 total, by Treasury check. For larger amounts, by bonds in multiples of $25, with the balance by check.
Payments would be at the rate of two and one-half days a month, less furlough time actually received. But no one could be paid for more than 120 days, regardless of how much time he had accrued.
The amount of pay would be computed at the rate of base pay and longevity pay received at the time of discharge. To that would be added a minimum of 70 cents a day for subsistence and, in the new case of personnel of the first three pay grades with dependents, another $1.25 a day for quarters allowances. The first three pay grades include master, technical and staff sergeants in the Army and chief, first and second class petty officers in the Navy.

Q. When will forms be available?
A. Available now.
Q. When must applications be filed?
A. Application must be made prior to Sept. 1, 1947, except that in the cases of men who did not receive Honorable or under-honorable conditions discharges and whose records were corrected to provide this type of discharge may make application within one year of the date of the corrected discharge.
Q. Are the bonds negotiable or transferable?
A. No. But they may be used to pay premiums, loans or conversion costs on Government or National Service Life Insurance.
Q. Must original discharge certificate or certificate of service be submitted?
A. A true copy certified by an authorized state or local official or a photostatic copy of both sides (no miniatures) will suffice.
Q. Suppose the original has been lost or destroyed?
A. A "certificate in lieu of discharge" may be obtained from one of the following: Adjutant General of the Army, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd.; St. Louis, Mo.; Chief of Navy Personnel, Navy Department, Washington 25, D.C.; Director of Personnel Headquarters, United States Marine Corps, Washington 25, D.C.; or Commandant of Coast Guard, Washington 25, D.C.

Q. Can a veteran who served both as an enlisted man and an officer collect for leave time accumulated when in the ranks?
A. Yes, within the over-all maximum of 120 days.
Q. When may the bonds be cashed?
A. Five years from date they bear. This will be the first day of the quarter following the quarter in which the individual was separated from service.
Q. If a veteran held several different ratings when in service, which governs the rate of payment?
A. Payment will be at the rate in effect at the time of last separation from service. Those still on active duty will be compensated for at the last enlisted grade or rating held.
Q. If a veteran has died since leaving service, may his survivors collect?
A. Yes, if the survivors are wives and children, or parents. If there are no such survivors, no payments will be made.

Tuesday, Oct. 1—Family Night Pot Luck supper.

WEATHER IS MAIN TOPIC FOR DEER HUNTERS
Hot-stove talk among deer hunters, gathering to discuss their sport on the first chilly days of late summer, is the weather. Michigan's herd has been favored with three light, mild, short winters in a row, and the big question is whether a fourth winter of the same kind is possible, or likely.
Conservation department deer specialist I. H. Bartlett says that if the coming winter proves to be a hard one, some losses from starvation will be unavoidable. Reports from all parts of the state agree on the current abundance of deer, and in some districts a normal hunting season may leave more animals than there is winter food for in times of deep snow.
