CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1947

Charles Gaffney Was Rotary Speaker Last Monday Night

Arthur W. Schurz, secretary of the Clarkston Rotary Club, announced that three of our members made up meetings in Florida. Bob Jones at Boyton Beach, Fred Beckman at Miami, and Bill Stamp at Miami. Our club average attendance for the past year was 90.1%—which we consider very good.

Lloyd "Slip" Megee introduced the speaker in a very able manner, mentioning how Pontiac was fortunate in having such an outstanding organizer for the Boys Club of America. Mr. Charles Gaffney then told the club how he had accepted his present position, having to leave a similar one in California. The club started from a membership of zero to 750, with a waiting list of 220, although plans are now underway for a new building to house this growing organization.

The only visiting Rotarian was Russell Thompson of Milford.

Ladies who served the dinner were: Ada Scrace, Mrs. Ralph Kreger, Mrs. Howard Dean, Mrs. Duane Hursfall and Mrs. N. E. Maytag.

Free Chest X-Rays Will Be Given With Mobile X-Ray Unit

The Oakland County Department of Health, Pontiac City Health Department, local health departments, the Oakland County Medical Society, and the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association are cooperating in bringing a mobile X-ray unit into Oakland County for a county-wide survey beginning Jan. 27. This unit is operated by the Michigan Department of Health through its Bureau of Tuberculosis Control.

The plan is to cover the entire county while the unit is here. High schools, industries, community groups, and the public at large will be offered the opportunity to have a free chest X-ray.

Many people will be interested in this service as a part of their general health protection program, especially since the unit will come to each community and furnish this service without cost.

"No one is immune to tuberculosis and no one can tell whether or not a person has early tuberculosis without a chest X-ray," said A. R. Musson, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association today.

Local information will be published prior to the date on which the unit arrives in each community.

Clothing for Europe Is Urgently Needed

We have been reminded many times of the great need for clothing, food and the general necessities of life which exists in both Europe and Asia. The Church World Service is the American answer to world need.

Assurance has been given that all clothing will be cleaned, sorted and in use in Europe within eight weeks after it is collected. This is made possible by the sixteen denominational bodies.

We can all help by giving whatever we have. Arrangements have been made at the school and the town hall in Clarkston to receive all clothing and supplies. These will be collected on Wednesday, Feb. 5 and shipped immediately. Those who find it impossible to get their contribution to these two depositories can have it picked up by phoning Rev. Walter C. B. Saxman of the Clarkston Methodist Church. He states that he will be only too glad to collect the bundles.

As a matter of information, the following articles are needed: men's, women's and children's clothing of all sorts, including stockings, layettes and diapers for babies, shoes, overshoes, blankets and quilts, household linens, odd pieces of cloth which can be made over—all types of sewing equipment, soap, etc.

Rev. Saxman, on behalf of this worthy drive, says that he is trusting that we may have a great deal of clothing for those in need and thanks the benefactors who contribute to the cause.

March of Dimes Supported by Health Department

Endorsement of the $24,000,000 goal of the 1947 March of Dimes by Michigan Health Commissioner William DeKleine, was made public today by Abner E. Larned, state campaign chairman for the March of Dimes.

Dr. DeKleine's statement, urging continued public support in the continued fight against the scourge of dread infantile paralysis, read:

"The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which sponsors the March of Dimes campaign has, over the years, built up a nationwide organization and developed an extensive program of assistance to physicians and hospitals for prompt and efficient care of poliomyelitis patients. The foundation also provides funds for research in this field in the hope that someday we will know how to prevent this dread disease."

"The Michigan Department of Health has worked closely for many years with the National Foundation in studying this problem through laboratory and field research and also with its state representatives and local chapters in a joint effort to provide the very best medical and hospital care for poliomyelitis patients. The physicians and hospitals of our state have been most cooperative to that end."

"The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis deserves our wholehearted support, and I urge the public to keep this agency in the forefront in the march toward victory over poliomyelitis."

School Teachers Doing a Good Job, Educator Believes

Criticism of adults and failures in public education is obscuring the fact that most schools and most teachers are doing a good job, believes Dr. George E. Carrothers, director of the University of Michigan Bureau of Cooperation with Educational Institutions.

"The pointing out of shortcomings may, we hope, enable teachers to improve their teaching, but that sort of procedure if unintercepted may leave the critic and his readers with the idea that schools are quite inefficient," Dr. Carrothers commented. "That is not the situation, for teaching is being done quite effectively today for the largest number of children ever enrolled in school by any country."

Those who accuse the schools of doing a less efficient job than in the "good old days" are forgetting that schools today are much more complex and teaching a much more difficult task than in former years, the university man said.

The simplified program of the early school has given way to a school with hundreds of subjects and many extra-curricular activities. These many subjects are necessary because of the varied needs of a school body composed of "all the children of all the people," Dr. Carrothers notes. Compulsory school attendance laws have brought into the schools many children for whom the traditional college preparatory program is not suitable.

The results have been tabulated near the front door of the room. At this time, third graders are also learning to carry in arithmetic.

Honor Roll

The honor roll and perfect attendance record for the first semester was released by Mr. Ridgley this week. Those on the honor roll have had at least a B average for the past three marking periods. Perfect attendance indicated that the student has been in school on time every day for the semester.

March of Dimes

Students and faculty members of the Clarkston Public School donated $97.75 toward the Warm Springs Foundation. Some of the money was solicited from homes and friends.

The money and cards, with addresses, was given to Mr. Alger, community chairman of the drive. Mr. Alger expressed his thanks and appreciation for the good work. The amount represented about double the collection in 1946.

Visual Instruction

Several films will be shown to the student body. They are: Feb. 3—"Dixie", a Yale University picture of historical interest; Feb. 28—"General Motors Institute", "Precisely So" and "Modes and Motors". These latter pictures are from the General Motors Corporation. On March 14, several safety films will be shown. These are entitled "We Drivers", "On Two Wheels", and "The Other Fellow".

Grade students have "Swiss Family Robinson" scheduled for March 6.

Year Book

Tuesday, Feb. 4, will be a busy day at Clarkston. The Camp Publishing Co. will be at the school to take group pictures for the 1947 Hilltopper. Miss Niblack and

Seniors Excel in Government Class

Mr. Ridgley's government class, consisting of fifty seniors, has completed a series of standard government tests based on a national norm. We are proud to announce that on every test the class average was considerably above the norm for the nation. On the six tests the class had from 63 to 77 per cent of its scores above the national average. This speaks very well for the efforts of the class membership. The semester examination was a similar test consisting of 200 questions.

The first work on the quality and use of water published in this country was a reprint, in Boston in 1725, of a book printed first in London in 1712. Its author was John Smith C. M.; its title: "The Curiosities of Common Water or the Advantages Thereof in Curing Cholera, Intemperance and Other Maladies."

Business Internship Is New Feature At Ann Arbor

Sixteen weeks of internship employment with a public accounting firm will be a part of the academic program of students in the University of Michigan School of Business Administration who are specializing in accounting starting next fall, Assistant Dean Herbert F. Taggart has announced.

The new program will be an extension of the internship principle by which the university has for several years enabled students studying public accounting to obtain a limited amount of practical experience to supplement classroom training. Under the old plan, students were employed only a few weeks during the rush season, Prof. Taggart explains.

Internships will be offered each fall semester, with students becoming paid members of the staffs of cooperative accounting firms. They will live where conditions of the assignment require, and will present a written report of the work done at the completion of the term. The cooperating firm will likewise submit reports on the students employed, Prof. Taggart said.

Since accounting students who plan to go into other branches of the profession than public accounting would find internship training profitable, the school of Business Administration expect to expand its new program to include industrial establishments, retail and wholesale enterprises, and other business enterprises, it was announced.

Hunting Fatalities Decrease in Number

When Bitanti Palini, Negaunee miner, shot a rabbit last October 31, he stuffed it in his coat pocket with the head sticking out. A while later he lay down to peer into a brush pile for a second rabbit; a hunting companion fired at the lifelike bunny in his pocket and Bitanti became one of the 181 hunters injured in the 1946-47 hunting season. Not all hunting accidents were as easily explained as Bitanti's, but conservation department records of 205 gun accidents, 24 of them fatal, show, as in Bitanti's case, that the hunter's greatest danger is in his own gun or the guns of his companions.

Of the 15 fatalities in small game season, five accidentally shot themselves, seven were shot by members of the same party. Of the 121 small game hunters injured, 26 were hurt by their own guns, 58 were shot by members of their own party. In deer season one hunter killed himself, two were killed by members of their own party and of the 60 injured, 13 shot themselves and 27 were injured by other members of their party. The 66 accidents in which the hunter himself or a member of his party was not responsible include eight cases in which the responsible party is unknown.

Of the hunters responsible for accidents, the ages of 143 were known. Fifty of them were over 30; 28 were between 21 and 30; 19 were between 17 and 20 and 46 were under 17 years old.

Among the 650,000 small game hunters there was one fatality per 43,333 hunters. Among more than 300,000 deer hunters the average was one fatality per 33,333 hunters. In 1929, when the keeping of accurate hunting accident records began, there were 26 deaths among 411,516 licensed hunters, a ratio of one fatality per 15,827 hunters—double the rate in 1946.

"I'M GOING ON A DIET"

★ Perhaps overeating is the most common dietary indiscretion. The natural result of overeating is obesity. It has been said that we in America eat ourselves into a premature grave. The pendulum then frequently swings back to the other extreme. We go on a diet. Many self-imposed reducing diets wouldn't keep a bird alive, and often serious vitamin, mineral, and protein deficiencies result.

In recent years great strides have been made in our knowledge of nutrition. For the maintenance of optimal health one must be assured that proper balance of various foods is maintained. For dietary advice of any kind see your physician. You can then be certain that all bodily needs are being adequately met. Bring your prescriptions to us.

MICHIGAN'S MOST FAMOUS STUDENT...

OF THE hundreds of thousands of boys and girls who have studied in Michigan, Thomas Alva Edison is the most famous. Yet the man who did so much for humanity never had more than a few years of formal education.

You may have read that Edison, the boy, was banished from the Port Huron schools for dreaminess in class—that his teacher called him "addled"—and that he learned the three R's from his mother. Later, when in his teens, he worked on the Grand Trunk railroad. Fortunately for every one of us, his train had a daily lay-over of nearly five hours in Detroit.

For Thomas A. Edison, high school and college were an ancient building, the Young Men's Society Library, on Jefferson Avenue, just a few doors east of Woodward. Between runs, he buried himself in its books, devouring them, not by subject or author, but by shelf and section.

Throughout his life, this thoroughness was characteristic with him. It was the quality that carried him through three thousand unsuccessful theories before he invented the incandescent lamp—fifty thousand abortive experiments before he created the storage battery. "Genius," he was fond of saying, "is one per cent inspiration, ninety-nine per cent perspiration."

Few of us have Mr. Edison's thoroughness, his patience, his capacity for concentration. But we at Detroit Edison realize that our heritage from him is both an inspiration and an obligation—an obligation to continue his efforts to make life more comfortable. That is why we are constantly trying to develop new and better ways for electricity to serve you.

THE DETROIT EDISON CO.

IN HONOR OF MR. EDISON... You are cordially invited to these exhibits Feb. 10 through Feb. 15; the Edison Institute Museum at Greenfield Village, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, admission 25c, and the

Cancer Society Opens Office In Pontiac

Announcement of the opening of an Oakland County office of the American Cancer Society was made today by Mrs. Russell E. Driver of Pleasant Ridge, a member of the executive committee of the field army. The center, which is located at 7th Street and Washington Avenue in Royal Oak, will service all communities in the southern part of Oakland County. The office in Royal Oak will combine an information center and a bandage workroom for women volunteers. It will also serve as a campaign headquarters for the drive for funds held annually in April. Educational literature on various phases of cancer and cancer control will be available at the County office, as will be cancer dressings which are furnished free to patients in private homes, health centers, hospitals, nurses and doctors.

One of the major programs carried on by the American Cancer Society is the education of the public to recognize the symptoms of cancer in the early stages, inasmuch as the only hope of successful treatment lies in the early detection of the disease and its prompt treatment. Six detection centers are now maintained in the greater Detroit area at which physical examinations may be obtained without cost. Appointments for these checkups may be made through the Royal Oak office of the American Cancer Society.

Another activity being expanded in Oakland County is the work carried on by the Patients Aid Committee, which services cancer sufferers with dressings, sick room necessities and medical supplies. The Patients Aid Committee also supervises the collection of material used in the making of cancer pads, and the distribution of dressings. Practically all of the communities of Oakland County have various women groups engaged in making the pads, but it is hoped to augment these sewing groups.

Smart Lines Characterize New Chevrolet

Re-styled for the new year, with emphasis on a more massive front end and a smoother sweep to body contours, the new Chevrolet will soon make its debut. New front-end grille and complementing bright work, as well as elimination of the body belt molding, have done much to give the new model an air of greater luxuriousness.

New Equipment For Pasteurization Coming Into Use

The development of sensitive, reliable, control mechanisms for pasteurizing equipment has contributed largely to the acceptance of high temperature short-time pasteurization in Michigan, Director of Agriculture, Charles Figy said today.

It was in 1945 that the legislature approved the use of such equipment in Michigan and the law became effective a little more than a year ago. Since that time five dairies have installed eight high temperature short-time pasteurizers in Benton Harbor, Detroit and Muskegon, Director Figy stated.

Dairy equipment manufacturers have developed a compact, dependable and practicable piece of equipment for rapid heating and cooling of milk which has interested dairies in the practicability of high temperature short-time pasteurization. The state law provides for the heating of milk 160 degrees for fifteen seconds with immediate cooling and under the law it is the responsibility of the department of agriculture to thoroughly check all phases of each installation before approval can be given for its use in Michigan dairy plants.

The installation of this equipment is of a highly technical nature, and the department of agriculture has personnel available that have made a specialized study of the intricate phases of the installation, the automatic controls and the proper operation of such equipment so that the public may be assured of safe high quality pasteurized milk.

F. M. Skiver, chief of the bureau of dairying, says that the automatic controls are so adjusted that only properly pasteurized milk may reach the consumer. When these controls are so regulated and set by the department of agriculture inspectors, they are then sealed so it is impossible for any of the dairy plant personnel to make any changes in the operation of the high temperature short-time pasteurizer that would affect the proper pasteurization of milk.

Feb. 5 Is Dairy Day At East Lansing

More than 500 members of Michigan's dairy breed associations are expected on the Michigan State College campus at East Lansing next Thursday, February 5, for Dairy Day.

When announcement was made that Farmers' Week was an impossibility due to heavy enrollment at the college, dairy department officials started making arrangements for the five breed associations to meet and plan their events for 1947.

Dr. Earl Weaver, head of the dairy department at MSC, will preside at the opening session at 10:30 a. m. in the Fairchild Theater. A. C. Baltzer, extension dairy man, will speak briefly to this session which will include the members of all the breed associations. Charles Figy, director of the Michigan department of agriculture and Dr. C. F. Clark, state veterinarian, will report on the progress of the Bang's disease testing program.

Awards to outstanding lifetime dairymen will be made by Miss Sarah VanHoesen Jones, member of the State Board of Agriculture, and vice president of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The afternoon will be occupied by annual meetings of the individual breed associations in the Peoples Church. The Guernsey breeders, however, will hold their meetings at Hotel Olds, Lansing.

The Michigan dairy herd improvement association supervisors will meet with dairymen and have a program of their own in Peoples Church during the afternoon. Various breed associations will elect officers.

Farmers, dairymen, and members of the breed associations will find that many interesting features have been planned for the 1947 Dairy Day.

Your Sheet Supply Can Be Made to Last With a Little Care

Your sheet supply is probably one of your biggest household problems. How to make sheets last until they are again plentiful has been a problem for many homemakers.

Mary J. E. Woodward, county home demonstration agent, believes that the life of your sheets depends as much on their care as on their durability.

If you must use a strong solution to wash sheets, be sure to rinse thoroughly to remove any solution or bleaching agent. Hang them over the line to dry.

Sheets wear out first where they are rubbed by the shoulders of the person sleeping on them. You can distribute this wear by changing the sheets end for end with the narrow hem at the top. Also use them for under sheets and top sheets alternately.

Ironing may wear your sheets as much as washing. Irons that are too hot gradually weaken the fabric even if they do not make a scorch that can be seen. Ironing folds in your sheets tend to break the yarns. Folds are not only pressed in by the iron but also by the weight of the pile in which they are stored.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING THESE QUESTIONS ABOUT ARMY ENLISTMENT

Q. What educational benefits do I get under the GI Bill of Rights?

A. If you serve honorably on active duty for a period of 90 days, one day of which is served between September 16, 1940, and the date of termination of the present war, or you are discharged because of an actual service-incurred injury or disability incurred within that first 90-day period of service, you are, upon discharge, entitled to one year of education in the college, trade or business school of your choice for which you can qualify. In addition, each month of active duty, including the first three, prior to the termination of the war, entitles you to another month of post-service education, up to 48 months.

Your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year will be paid by the government. Also, you will receive $65 a month living allowance; $90 a month if you have dependents.

Q. What about family allowances?

A. For men enlisting or reenlisting now, family allowances will continue until six months after the war is officially ended.

Q. What are my chances of going overseas?

A. If you enlist for 3 years, you may select to serve in any overseas theater which has openings, especially Japan or Korea.

Q. Can I still choose the branch of service I want to serve in?

A. Yes. You can pick any branch which has quotas to be filled, if you enlist for 3 years.

Q. Is there any way I can reenlist in my old grade?

A. Yes, you can, if you reenlist for a 3-year term within 20 days after your honorable discharge.

Q. Is there any other way I can reenlist in grade?

A. Yes, if you held one of certain military occupational specialties, and were discharged on or after May 12, 1945, you can reenlist in a grade depending on the length of time you held the desired M. O. S.

Goodwill Industries Sends Out S. O. S. For More Materials

"There is a serious shortage of materials at Goodwill Industries, and something must be done about it, or temporary layoffs of handicapped workers will result." This blunt announcement was made by Executive Secretary Harold H. McKinnon, of the Goodwill Industries of Detroit, to members of his staff last Thursday afternoon. Contributions of castoffs are normally below average during the winter season. This year the drop has been more general and severe than usual. The stockpile of accumulated materials is rapidly diminishing.

that these "lows" in contributions are not without precedent, and that in every previous instance the mere publication of the need has resulted in a magnificent response on the part of thousands in both city and suburban communities. Goodwill Industries, a wholly philanthropic, non-profit institution, gives gainful employment to hundreds of handicapped people, making it possible for them in spite of many serious disabilities to live normal, happy, useful lives. About ninety percent of all the work done in the Industries consists of reconditioning or making over of discarded clothing, shoes, furniture, household equipment, books, dolls, toys, etc. These skilfully restored or recreated items are then sold in Goodwill stores throughout metropolitan Detroit.

MSC's Champion Judging Team Takes Honors

Not only is Michigan the top state in horse production—as recent International Livestock Exposition results revealed—but Michigan State College is outstanding in horse judging. The college team, shown above with the Belgian Breeders' Association cup for first in horse judging at the show, also won a plaque from the American Horse and Mule Association for the honor. Pictured (left to right) are: Ronald Nelson, MSC animal husbandry department professor and coach; Marvin Eppelheimer, Charlotte; Leon S. Pope, Addison; Byron Carpenter, Pontiac and John L. Sears, Pontiac. Not pictured, but a member of the team is Raymond M. Gregersen, Howell, who graduated at the end of the fall term. Pope was the high individual among members of 22 college teams competing in the contest.

Rheumatic Fever Is Enemy of Health

Rheumatic fever in its early stages is not always easily recognized. The symptoms may be vague. They may include poor appetite, repeated nosebleeds, rapid heart action or frequent complaints of pain in the arms, legs or abdomen. To be on the safe side, parents should have their child examined by a doctor when these signs appear. More obvious symptoms of the disease—nervous twitching, small lumps under the skin, painful and inflamed joints—demand immediate medical attention if heart damage is to be avoided or at least minimized. Bed rest, perhaps for months, is essential for protection of the heart. Doctor's orders must be carried out to the letter.

Newspapers, magazines, wrapping paper, etc., are also acceptable. The training program for handicapped young people in approximately thirty trades, skills, and jobs is a major activity at Goodwill. The payroll of the handicapped has recently been the highest in Detroit Goodwill history, and extensive plans are in progress for a vast expansion of program and service. But immediately, the shortage of materials must be met if many of the employees are not to face a rather dismal winter. All who would like to give a lift in the existing emergency, can bring a Goodwill truck to the door for pick-up of discarded articles by simply phoning RANDOLPH 8060.

Jungle Pictures To Be Shown at Art Institute Sunday

Exciting jungle adventures in the Caribbean and South America will be shown in gorgeous color motion pictures when Col. Nicol Smith, California globe-trotter, gives a public lecture on "Expedition to Martinique and Dutch Guiana" for the World Adventure Series at 3:30 next Sunday afternoon, Feb. 2, at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Among the color film highlights: a battle to the death between a mongoose and a big bushmaster snake; a Djuka Fire Dance, in which a Black Witch Doctor walks nonchalantly into flames, stands there, eats fire; savage jungle dances; weird and rare big animals of the South American jungle; the fierce umbrella ants, marching in great armies and attacking and bringing down huge beetles.

breeding association, by contracting for cows in their dairy herds. A total of about 20 herds have been signed up. Among the leaders in the project are: Malon Morris, Earl Voorhees, Norris Walls, J. D. Smith, Vivian Nichols, Leonard Kubisak, Walter Welberry, Velma H. Evans, Godfrey Holmwood, Hugh Montgomery, the Virgin Brothers, Warner and Thompson. All farmers having dairy cows who are interested in improving their herds are encouraged to attend this meeting. The service offered is from excellent bulls and the cost is not too much. At the meeting in Davisburg on the 28th, new members will be signed up and Mr. Alchin says that a total of 700 cows are desired to start the association.
