Mrs. Byron T. Miller

Byron T. Miller Weds Texas Girl

At eight o'clock on the evening of February tenth a very impressive candlelight service took place in the First Methodist Church in Colorado City, Texas when Byron T. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour S. Miller of Clarkston took as his bride, Joan Mills, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Mills. The Reverend Cliff M. Epps read the double ring ceremony before several hundred guests.

Potted daffodils decorated the church windows, the altar and the chancel rail. A wrought iron arch laced with daisy chains flanked by woodwardia fern trees made the setting for the nuptial vows. Lighted white tapers in candelabra were used in the windows and to form the altar background. Jonquils tied with white satin ribbon and candles standing in intertwined fern and flower holders marked the family pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in an ivory slipper satin gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a full skirt gathered at the waistline. Seed pearls in flower and leaflet design trimmed the low yoke which was edged with silk net to form a simple, round neckline. Long sleeves pointed at the wrists were trimmed with satin covered buttons which were repeated at the neckline in the back. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls and satin matching the gown. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a Bible topped with a single white orchid showered with satin streamers and staphanotis.

For something old she carried a lace handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett.

Mrs. James Given, the former Inez Miller, of Clarkston, a sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. She was gowned in ice blue faille. Mrs. Given was a classmate of the bride at Stephens College. Miss Dorothy Perkins of Sweetwater, Texas and Miss Patty Mitchell of San Antonio, both former Stephens friends of the bride, and Mrs. Bette Whipkey Wade, attended as bridesmaids, wearing identical gowns of faille styled with fitted bodice, billowy skirts, sweetheart neckline and stand-up collars. The four wore halo-fashioned flower circlets in their hair, and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Assisting the bridegroom as best man was Dick Shaughnessy of Clarkston and seating the guests were Carlton Fuller, Sam Majors, Jr., James Given and Jesse Heath. Mrs. Claude furnished the traditional music and as a background for the vows played in soft tones, "To a Wild Rose". Mrs. W. R. Martin of Loraine sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Mills home. Spring flowers were used in profusion about the house. The

For traveling the bride chose a Hattie Carnegie, wool gabardine suit in forest green. The young couple left on a honeymoon to Sea Island, Ga., Florida and Bermuda. On their return they will make their home in Clarkston.

The bride attended school in Colorado City and graduated from Gulf Park School for Girls in Gulfport, Miss. in 1943 and from Stephens College in June, 1946. The past Sunday was observed as Layman's day in the Methodist churches throughout the country. The service which was under the direction of Garnet Poulton, Lay Leader of the local church and W. A. Ridgley, director of Religious Education. Mr. Ridgley in speaking on Stewardship pointed out the fact that a steward is custodian, a supervisor and an administrator. Stewardship is concerned with the natural resources of the earth which have been entrusted to man. It is concerned with the democratic society and the construction of the Christian family. We can elevate our whole social pattern by spreading the influence of personal Christian life. Our every activity in our vocational and human relationship points toward our spiritual pattern of life.

We must have a tremendous revival of the missionary spirit if we are to establish "One Decent World". We can share in the victory of God by spending our life in the promotion of Christian living.

Scott, executive secretary of the society, "however, it reflects more nearly the amount needed for the work which the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children is faced with in the county."

"Many children need attention which we haven't been able to give them, and many adults can be made more self-sufficient and less of a burden to the public at large with a better program of adult rehabilitation," she says.

In the third quarter Milford out scored Clarkston 12 to 7. Greathouse had to leave the game at this point weakening Clarkston's offense and defense. Anderson and Ludwig hit the nets for a field goal each and Davison hit then for a field goal and a free throw.

Day of Prayer Observed

On Friday, February 21st, the W. S. C. S. of the Clarkston Methodist Church observed "World Day of Prayer". Members enjoyed a 1:00 o'clock luncheon which was followed by the worship service.

Mrs. Wilbur M. Ale, a member of the Central Methodist Church in Detroit and First President of the W. S. C. S. District Conference was guest speaker. She spoke about the missionary work that is being done throughout the world and particularly about foreign and home missions that were to benefit from the offerings on "World Day of Prayer". The offerings of Church Women for distribution were to be used to aid in the support of eight Union Christian Colleges, four of which are in India, one in Japan and three in China. These schools train young women of these countries to be Christian leaders among their people. Our own Christian colleges are to share in order to give foreign students in America, who are studying to be Christian leaders, an opportunity to see America at its best. Christian literature is to be made available to eager readers all over the world. Several other home and foreign missions will also benefit.

Mrs. Ale told of several incidents and experiences of individuals which tend to make an impression—either good or bad—on foreign visitors in the United States. She told also of foreign students who were genuinely received into American homes and made to feel welcome. These people will return home with a friendly feeling toward the American people.

Mrs. Ale closed her talk by telling about Hawthorne Darby, a young missionary doctor in Manila. After the Japs took over Manila during the war those who knew her in America were quite concerned as to her whereabouts because they had had no word of her. Nearly two years later it was learned that she was up in the mountains administering to the guerrillas—the people she knew and loved. She had been warned by the Japs not to help these people, but she did not heed their warnings. Then came the word that she, who would not forsake the people she loved, had been beheaded by the Japs.

Those who were unable to take advantage of the opportunity to hear Mrs. Ale missed a most interesting talk. She has given a great deal of her time to the W. S. C. S., missionary and youth work. Mrs. Orlo J. Willoughby sang "Stranger in Galilee" by Morris. Mrs. Evert Campbell presided at the piano. The program was prepared by Mrs. Walter Saxman, Secretary of Spiritual Life, and led by Mrs. Lloyd Sibley.

Mrs. Arnold Mann, Mrs. Carl Brabec and Mrs. Agnes Beardsley had charge of the tables and coffee.

Kenny Foundation Extends Thanks

The Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation wishes to thank the people of Clarkston for their generosity in the 1946 fund appeal. The local campaign was directed by Mrs. Elizabeth H. Ronk and a committee of public spirited citizens.

The 1946 drive was carried over into January, 1947, because of delay in securing campaign printing supplies. However this extension should not be confused with the 1947 appeal which will be conducted in September this year.

Mr. William G. Baxter, State Administrator, announces that the Michigan Chapter of the Sister Kenny Foundation is pushing forward with an aggressive program to provide hospitalization for all polio victims in this state and to make available the complete and authentic Kenny treatment under the direction of technicians who have taken the full 2 year course at the Kenny Institute in Minneapolis. This announcement provides real hope for infantile paralysis sufferers as better than 85% of new cases treated by the approved Kenny method recover completely and are not handicapped by crutches and steel braces.

The legal document reads: "Whereas Cora B. Waterbury and her husband Edwin Waterbury, the father of the undersigned, were interested in and closely associated with the First Baptist Church of Clarkston, Michigan, and the undersigned desire to perpetuate the memory of their parents in such church,

"Now therefore, the undersigned do jointly acknowledge the receipt of $2,100.00 from Ronald J. Waterbury, administrator of the estate of Cora B. Waterbury, deceased, and to direct the said administrator to pay to the First Baptist Church of Clarkston, Michigan, the sum of $2,100.00 out of the residue of the estate of Cora B. Waterbury, deceased, and to accompany said payment with a copy of the written instrument, together with such other letter of transmittal as to the said administrator seems best in order to definitely inform the Church that the within gift is made in memory of the parents of the undersigned.

"Witness our hands and seals as the month of February, A. D., 1947.

This letter was signed by J. Lionel Waterbury, Ronald J. Waterbury, Clifford G. Waterbury and George M. Waterbury".

The pastor and deacons of the Church will plan for the suitable dedication of the organ in the near future. However, it will be used in the services next Sunday.

Hope you will soon be back to school, Emory.

The friends of Mrs. T. F. Boothby will be glad to learn that she is feeling a little better after being stricken with a heart attack last fall and being confined to the hospital for several months. It is hoped that with extra good care and a complete rest Mrs. Boothby will soon be on her feet again.

Positive Thoughts

If you would have your dreams come true,
Plan far ahead what you would do.
To realize the goals you've sought
Fill your whole life with positive thought.

Perhaps or maybe have no place
In building up a better race.
He who turns and glances back
Will waiver from his chosen track.

A forward step though faced
With fire
Will always lead to stages higher
Than we had dreamed we could attain
Even though we suffered growing pain.

With gold or silver can't be bought
Success, that comes with positive thought.

There is no barrier too high
To stop the ones who really try.
Man's mind will have his purpose tricked
If it admits that he is licked.

To be assured you will succeed,
Think positively the life you'll lead.

Mrs. Louis Hälman's Brownie troop No. 3 enjoyed having Mrs. Clayton Melhargie and Mrs. James Hunt of troop No. 41 from LeBaron school, Pontiac, as their guests at the meeting on Tuesday.

Don't forget the Lenten service at the Williams Lake school Wednesday evening at 7:30. Christ Lutheran church is sponsoring the service and the Rev. Philip A. Jordan will speak on "Mary, the Mother of Jesus". The public is invited.

There will be an important congregational meeting after the Lenten service Wednesday evening. All voting members are urged to attend. The planning committee will present proposed plans for the new church building.

The pupils of the Waterford Township schools had a half day off on Thursday while the teachers worked on the problem of improvement of report cards.

Don't forget to call a member of the Luther League of Christ Lutheran Church if you have any waste paper and old magazines to dispose of. They plan to have another pick-up this Saturday. The League is anxious to earn $100. to turn over to the church building fund by Easter.

Plastic Material In Home Decorating

If you plan to buy some of the new plastic materials for curtains for your home, you will be surprised with the results you can get with a few well-placed stitches.

Mary J. E. Woodward, county home demonstration agent, advises that you use a longer stitch for plastic—about 10 stitches to the inch.

You may have difficulty in making the plastic move along under the presser foot of the machine. A strip of tissue paper under the plastic probably will eliminate this. If not, place another strip next to the presser foot.

Plastic material does not need to be hemmed. It will not fray or get out of shape. This reduces the amount of work and stitching. If you want a hem at the bottom edge to give the effect of weight or for extra strength, just turn the material up once.

You can make curtain headings with plastic that are quite effective and stand up nicely. Plastics gather easily and will hang in long, soft folds. You can also make attractive ruffles with the material. Plastic curtains are as simple to keep clean as they are to make. They can be washed off quickly and they won't need starching or ironing.

CONSERVATION NEWS

Unusual winter weather that piled snow deeper in northern lower Michigan than in the upper peninsula also brought the season's first reports of fawn starvation.

L. H. Bartlett, deer specialist of the conservation department's game division, reports:

Fifteen snow depth gages in northern lower Michigan averaged 1.36 feet, while the average of 29 gages in the upper peninsula is only 1.28 ft. The difference is much greater than the figures indicate, Bartlett says, because this snow depth in the upper peninsula is only normal, while below the straits it is higher than in recent years, and is crowding deer into some yards where the deer food supply is small.

High readings on snow gages are 2.0 feet in Marquette county; 2.2 in Schoolcraft; 2.3 in Luce and 2.6 in Alger, and in the lower peninsula

2.1 in Roscommon county; 2.0 in Otsego county and 1.9 in Montmorency county.

First reports of fawn starvation came from the old browned-out "trouble spots" in Alpena, Oscoda and Alcona counties. If the weather continues as in the past two weeks, without a warm spell, losses in the "trouble spots" may be substantial Bartlett says.

CLARKSTON TAKES HOLLY

In two rough games, marked by fouls by both sides, Clarkston's Wolves and Cubs took the Holly teams by close scores last Friday in the Clarkston gym.

The Wolves with Davison, Greathouse, Ludwig, C. McGee and Longair starting, found at the beginning of the game that the Holly five were playing to win. Substitutes for the game were Adams, Smith, D. Armstrong, and Dubats. Although the Wolves kept the lead throughout the game, it was by a slim margin. The final score for the first game was 30-24.

The Cubs with an early season defeat stinging them were out to take Holly. The starting lineup: Feil, Devaney, Doyle, Rioux and Leak, tried to bottle up Baker, Holly's point-a-minute man. Substitutes for the game were Morgan, Webster, Tower, G. Anderson and G. McGee. Although it was a case of fighting to keep there, the Cubs were in the lead all through the game. The final score was 26-21. Cheering for the first team was led by Ida Beattie and Mary Secan. The second team was greatly encouraged by Bob Trim. Mary Secan also led the cheering for the Cub's game.

JUNIOR PLAY

Mrs. Clark has begun work on the junior class production of "Snafu" to be given in the Clarkston High school auditorium, Friday, April 18. Although the entire cast has not yet been selected plans are under way to begin practice as soon as the play books arrive. Shirley Crosby will act as student director and Miss Klock, junior class advisor, will assist in presenting the play.

Snafu, a recent Broadway hit, is a hilarious comedy as can be seen from the initials of the title which mean—Situation normal—all fouled up. The play deals with the trials and tribulations of an Army sergeant on his return to his family.

ASSEMBLY

The high school gave almost perfect attention to the speech on national security given by Lt. Scribner, a pilot in the Army Air Corps Reserves at Romulus Field. Lt. Scribner made a plea for the support of a strong army and navy in this critical period of our history. Mr. Bonner introduced the speaker.

KINDERGARTEN

ECONOMIC CLASS

The Clarkston economic class heard a very inspiring talk last Friday, February 21. Our speaker, Mr. Kennedy summarized some of the important facts in his occupation as a funeral director.

Mr. Kennedy was a young boy in high school when he first got a taste for funeral work and decided he would like it as his life work. So he went to work in Chicago where he studied the art of embalming. In his studies he learned of the different diseases and in what part of the body they were found, so in the process of embalming he would know how to treat the harmful bacteria. Mr. Kennedy learned that he must be able to sympathize with people and yet be able to forget the sadness. One of the specialties he learned was plastic surgery. The College students went through the school with the idea to "restore as near lifelike as possible the remains of a human."

Many of us do not realize the qualifications needed and the responsibilities involved in this work. It is a dangerous work which, if done incorrectly could result in an epidemic through the town. Because of the danger involved in this type of work the people who enter it should have very good lungs and be quite healthy. The person is a slave to his community 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and must be ready to work when he is called.

Mr. Kennedy believed the working conditions to be very good and as to social conditions, "you serve every class of people."

One of the main ideas the class is interested in is each man's opinion of a successful person. Mr. Kennedy defines a successful person as one who is contented. Although he brought forth the fact that this had not always been his idea of a successful person. He believes that a person's ideas of success change as he gets older.

As to a happy man our speaker says, that is a man who has enough money to keep his family on an average basis and to supply their needs.

One important thought Mr. Kennedy left with us, which would be a very good one for all of us to think of was, "what do I give, not what do I get?"

The class was convinced that Mr. Kennedy is a very successful person as well as a happy one.

THIRD GRADE

After reading a health booklet "When I Grow Up", the question was asked "What do you want to be when you grow up?" We found we had 11 nurses, 2 firemen, 1 cop, 1 truckdriver, 1 pilot, 1 singer, 3 farmers, 3 cowboys, 1 printer, 2 actresses, 1 teacher, 1 horseman, 2 engineers, 1 architect, 1 doctor, 1 detective, and 1 feed man.

We have had a very "doggie" bulletin board - one filled with pictures of dogs, snapshots and magazine pictures and the other dogs we drew.

Feed Ewes Carefully Before Lambing

Many lambs will start arriving on Michigan farms in the next few weeks. The care that the ewe flock receives will have a definite effect on this year's lamb crop.

R. H. Nelson, specialist in animal husbandry at Michigan State college, says that good care during this period should result in a larger percent of lambs raised and should also get them off to a better start before they go to pasture.

Grain should be included in the ewe's ration during the last month before lambing. A half-pound of grain per head daily is recommended. Oats is the best single grain but a mixture of grains can be used with equally good results.

A protein supplement such as soybean oil meal should be fed if the hay is of poor quality. One-tenth to one-sixth of a pound of supplement per head daily is sufficient. The addition of bran to the diet is also desirable. It is bulky, slightly laxative and high in minerals.

Prepare For Chicks Before They Arrive

Farmers who have placed orders for baby chicks should be preparing now for their arrival says H. C. Zindel, extension poultryman at Michigan State college.

The success that farmers have with their chicks often depends on how they care for them during the first 10 days. It is then that the chicks learn to eat and find the source of heat in the brooder house. If conditions are not suitable, they often die or do not grow at the proper rate.

When "the chicks arrive, the house should be clean and warm. The floor should be covered with litter. If you start the brooder stove about 48 hours in advance, the house should be warm enough. With a coal or oil brooder, the thermostat should be adjusted so there is a temperature of about 95 degrees about 2 inches above the floor at the hover stage. A little higher temperature is recommended for an electric brooder. The chicks can be taught not to get too far from the heat by placing a guard of boards or wire about 18 inches from the brooder hover.

As soon as the chicks arrive, they should be fed. A good starting mash is best for them. Feed them 4 or 5 times a day, feeding only what they will eat in one half to one hour. After the first three or four days, the mash can be placed before them at all times. The chicks should have water or milk from the time they arrive.

National 4-H Club Week is scheduled for March 1 to 9, 1947. Michigan 4-H Club leaders are now laying plans for observance of the week. The theme selected by State Club leaders is "Working Together for a Better Home and World Community."

100th Anniversary of the Birth of Alexander Graham Bell

MARCH 3, 1947

The telephone was born and raised in a laboratory

Alexander Graham Bell's invention of the telephone was the achievement of a trained scientific mind.

Continuous scientific progress to improve telephone communication began with him and has continued ever since. It is carried on today by the six thousand men and women of the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Dr. Bell's thoughts on work and research were given to a number of young people in a graduation address.

"Don't keep going only where others have gone. Leave the beaten track occasionally and dive into the woods. You will be certain to find something that you have never seen before.

"Follow it up, explore all around it; one discovery will lead to another and before you know it you will have something worth thinking about."

That has been the policy of the telephone business from the beginning. It underlies the progress that has been made and the progress that is to come.

FIRST SENTENCE EVER SPOKEN OVER THE TELEPHONE (on March 10, 1876) was, "Mr. Watson, come here. I want you." It happened when Alexander Graham Bell spilled some battery solution on his clothes and called out for assistance. Thomas A. Watson, his assistant, came rushing in from another room and exclaimed, "Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said—distinctly."

Suggestions For Winter Care of Sows

Winter is an important time to pay special attention to care of brood sows. Care of brood sows during the last few weeks of gestation includes careful planning of rations.

W. N. McMillen, specialist in animal husbandry at Michigan State college, gives a few helpful hints on housing and diet for winter brood sow management. Shelter should be warm, roomy, dry, and free from drafts. If the sows tend to be lazy and not exercise enough, place their feed 10 to 20 rods from the sleeping quarters. This will give them exercise at meal times.

To gain weight gradually, sows should be fed about 1 to 1 1/4% of their weight daily. A gilt will need to eat 1 1/2% to 2% of its weight. To supply protein, the equivalent of 1/4 to 1/2 pound of tankage to 2 to 5 quarts of milk should be included in the diet. A simple mineral mixture should be fed or 1 1/2% mineral should be included in the feed.

At least 10% green leafy alfalfa or clover hay should be supplied. This may be increased to 25% to replace most of the protein supplement.

Greyhound Official Gets Promotion

President R. W. Budd of Great Lakes Greyhound Lines announced today the appointment of John W. Powell, identified with Greyhound since 1928, as assistant to the President.

Mr. Powell, who held the corresponding position under Mr. Budd during the latter's tenure as President of Central Greyhound Lines and affiliated companies, with headquarters at Cleveland, will

J. W. POWELL

Great Lakes Greyhound Lines

discharge administrative duties assigned by the President.

Mr. Budd recently was elected President of Great Lakes Greyhound, on which a large-scale expansion program is under way. He succeeded Manfred Burleigh, who resigned to head American Bus-lines, Inc.

Joining Greyhound at Camden, N. J. in 1928 as a clerk and garage helper, Mr. Powell was transferred to Philadelphia in 1930 as an operating supervisor. He became a city passenger agent in 1931 and later the same year, was named Secretary to Mr. Budd, who then was Vice President of Central Greyhound Lines, Inc., of New York and the New England Greyhound operations. He accompanied Mr. Budd to Cleveland in 1933 when the latter became top executive of the Central Greyhound group of companies. In 1940 Mr. Powell became executive assistant office of the President, and in 1944 he was named assistant to the President.

Farmers Must Plan Pasture Program

The shortage of adapted alfalfa seed may mean that Michigan farmers may have to do a little planning for their pastures this summer. This is the opinion of C. M. Harrison, farm crops specialist at Michigan State college.

Harrison advises farmers with old fields of alfalfa or alfalfa-brome that are still in fairly good shape to consider these fields carefully. It may be better management to leave them for another year rather than gamble on the chance of securing new seedlings from unadapted seed. The use of non-hardy alfalfa seed from the southwestern United States, Argentina, or South Africa will only result in a reduction of stand or winter-killing of the whole stand. Only seed produced in Michigan, or the northern or central United States should be used.

and order them by the ounce.

You will need several sizes of needles. Choose a medium-sized one for basting, a fine one for hand sewing and the longer, sharp needles for sewing that is not fine.

Your tape measure should be made of durable fabrics that will keep its markings. It should number from opposite ends with the numbers going in one direction on one side and in another direction on the opposite side. Metal reinforcements on the ends are necessary for good wear.

Your yard stick also should number from opposite ends and be firm enough not to bend when you are using it to mark a hem. The new chalk variety of hem marker is usable if you are going to put the hem in immediately.

Both the chalky kind and the wax kind of tailor's chalk is handy for marking. The waxy kind is better for wool.

We are again entering the farm auction sale season and because of the Bonine "Bangs" law requiring that all cattle over a year of age must be tested, when being sold, Director Charles Figy urges owners planning sales to have necessary tests made thirty days before the date of the sale, if possible. From a report, some people have been disappointed by delaying a test until just before a sale and then learning that their herd has some infected animals. When such belated tests are made state permits cannot be issued until the in-fectured animals have been removed and a retest conducted.

New Note in Sophisticated Smartness

The Chrysler Town and Country Six-passenger Convertible shown above is scoring a triumph among owners who seek the last word in distinction in their motor cars. The body of this convertible is built of white oak with mahogany panels on plywood plates. The woods are left in their natural colors. Interiors are finished in combinations of rayon and leather or Bedford cord and leather that lend themselves to particularly artistic treatment. The car is built on a Chrysler "New Yorker" chassis and is powered by an eight-cylinder engine. Gyrol Fluid Drive and the Hydraulically-Operated transmission contribute to its fine performance. Generous size of the body members gives stability and freedom from squeaks and rattles.

This car is now on display at the Clarkston Motor Sales.
