Assistant ed-itors are Lela Jones, Carolyn Ridg-ley, Ann Spohn, Michael Thayer and Danny Curry. A new staff will be chosen by the class for the April number.

John Stageman and Janet Heine-man made perfect spelling records for the past marking period.

All ten members of our spelling team were present for the school contest. Robert Hopson was the last sixth grader to go down, plac-ing sixth in the match.

11. HONOR ROLL

JUNIOR PLAY

Old man winter has taken an- other toll. This time it's the date for the performance of Snafu, the Junior play. Because a week was shied from the calendar, Mrs. Clark has postponed the final op- ening curtain until May 2. Tick- ets for the play will soon be out.

STAGE CREW

Gene Greathouse, chairman of the committee for the set for the play announces his committee as follows: Bob Stitt, Bob Caskey, Dean VanCamp, Earl Tonkin, Martin Wager, Dale Sutphen, Dean Anderson, Pauline Baker, Noreen Moore, and Pat J. Watson. With the capable assistance of these Juniors Gene feels that the set for Snafu will be a job well done.

TECHNICAL DIRECTOR

May we present Mr. David Lock- lin? David is a senior at Pontiac High School, majoring in English and speech. For several years he has worked under Miss Hiller in the Pontiac Hi radio workshop and has contributed greatly to its suc- cessful broadcasts. His interest in speech and dramatics dates way back but some of his inspiration came from Mrs. Monzelle Clark, under whose direction he worked as stage and property man at Washington Junior High in Pont- iac. From her he got his keen in- sight into what makes a stage set click.

David became technical director (stage and set arranger) at the Cranbrook Summer School of the Theatre several years ago and they liked his work so well he will return this coming summer for his fourth season. David's great- est ambition is to design theatre sets professionally. After some practical experience in one of the larger theatres in Detroit next win- ter, Dave plans to study art and architecture under Milton Horn at Olivet.

Are you wondering how all this concerns Clarkston? Mrs. Clark has been able to coax Dave to de- sign the sets and help with the stage of Snafu. Dave's technical skill and artistic sense should make the setting for the Junior play a great success.

SPELLING CONTEST

The winner! Bob Bickford; run- ner-up, Mary Jane Beattie! Last Monday the ten best spellers in the 5, 6, 7, and 8 grades met in the gym for the great contest. Mr. Brabler the pronouncer, gave the word "personally". Mary Jane muffed it and Bob was declared -- the winner.

ANNUAL 4-H ACHIEVEMENT DAY

County Club leader, Mr. Lewis was making preparations early in the week for a "bigger and better" 4-H Achievement Day. A good share of the first floor of the school would be needed and the kinder- garten and first grade pupils' rooms were taken over for the day. The program would provide an unusual educational experience for Clarkston students as well as for 4-H members from away. About 300 exhibits in shop handicraft could be seen and the sewing projects were expected to fill the gymnasium.

Mr. Lewis was of the opinion that the Achievement program, held annually at Clarkston, for some years, would need to be held elsewhere in the future because it was outgrowing the display and seating space available here.

Lime Needs Are Not Same For All Crops

Lack of lime in many Michigan soils often limits the production of feed crops, says Kirk Lawton, specialist in soils at Michigan State College.

Many Michigan soils were devel- oped from acid rocks and were al- ways low in lime. Others, which were once well supplied with lime, have deteriorated through farming practices.

All crops do not need the same amount of lime. Crops such as corn, wheat, oats and buckwheat do not respond greatly to lime. However, legumes such as alfalfa and sweet clover and other non-legume crops like sugar beets, barley, asparagus, cabbage, spinach and garden beets respond most markedly to lime.

The test for lime requirements in soils is simple. Such a test can be made by the county agricultural agent or soil samples can be sent directly to the Department of Soil Science, Michigan State Col- lege, East Lansing, for analysis.

Plan Chores And Save Labor

Chore planning is one way to cut time and labor, according to B. R. Bookhout, specialist in farm management at Michigan State college.

One Michigan dairy farmer with 12 cows analyzed his chores, planned them, and put the plan in- to effect. Figures showed that planning the chores saved 26 min- utes and 689 steps in one day. When these savings are taken over a period of one year, they amount to 16 days or 119 miles.

How To Use Electric Brooders

Farmers who are using electric brooders for the first time this year will be interested in some tips given by Karl D. Bailey county agricultural agent.

It is necessary to place feed and water partially under the hover at first, since only the space under the hover is heated. If the chicks tend to "bunch up" at certain points under the hover, the hover is being operated at too high or too low a temperature. An accu- rate thermometer is essential for the correct regulation of temperature.

Chicks need to be taught to re- turn to the hover for warmth when they have been out to feed. A chick guard, placed not more than 18 inches from the hover, will help to do this. The brooder should be kept warm enough that the chicks form in a circle at the outer edge, reducing the possibility of crowd- ing.

One method that helps to en- courage chicks to return to the brooder is to place a light under the hover.

With the warm air supplied by an electric brooder, moisture fre- quently condenses on the floor, or a litter three inches or more deep will help to reduce the con- densation of moisture on the floor. Walls and ceilings should be cov- ered with good insulation board.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR SUMMER TOURISTS

At least one trip a day dur- ing July and August up the Ta- guamenon river from its mouth to the lower falls is assured tour- ists this summer under an agree- ment with Tom Brown of White- fish Point approved by the con- servation commission.

The agreement covers docking privileges for a ten-year period and operation of a concession at the lower falls.

Brown has agreed to build the docks, dredge the river as neces- sary, and provide boat services at rates "the same or in line with" those charged on boat-trips to the upper falls. He has announced that fish dinners on the boat will be one of the features of the trip.

WOMEN RULE THE "BIG TOP"

Perhaps even more spectacular than the big show itself is the be- hind-the-scenes battle for control of the circus. Read the full story of three-ring discord in "the greatest show on earth", in The American Weekly magazine with this Sun- day's (April 6) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

AN IMPRESSIVE RECORD

★ Although tuberculosis is one of the oldest known diseases, its cause was first conclusively proved when Robert Koch isolated the tubercle bacillus a little over fifty years ago. The success resulting from vigorous public health measures, particularly in the last quarter century, is impressive. At the beginning of the century, tuberculosis led the list of diseases as the most frequent cause of death. Today it has dropped to seventh place. There is no reason why it should not drop completely from the list of important causes of death.

This splendid record has resulted from the combined efforts of many agencies. An enlightened public opinion with respect to the value of the physician's services has contributed immeasurably. Have that long-delayed phys- ical examination today. We are prescription specialists.

Some Wild Flowers Protected By Law

Pick the first violet that shows above the snow, but be careful about those wild orchids or trilliums—they're protected by law.

University of Michigan Museum experts have this month prepared an exhibit for students and others, showing wild flowers which are protected by law and those which are so plentiful that they may be picked or transplanted.

"Everyone who likes to spend much time out-of-doors should learn to recognize the more common wild flowers and to take an interest in their protection," Dr. Rogers McVaugh, associate professor of botany, believes. "Although some species of plants are mentioned in legislation, the law is very difficult to enforce. The best protection for Michigan's native plants lies in an understanding of the need for protection by the citizens of the state."

Plants which need protection are those whose numbers are reduced by picking—that is, those having flowers which cannot be picked without pulling up the entire plant, or those which produce only a single flower to a plant. If this one flower is destroyed, naturally there will be no seed, Prof. McVaugh points out.

Plants mentioned in protective legislation include the wild orchids and lady's slippers which grow in Michigan swamps and marshes, the black alder which is Michigan's

Cattle Will Find Harmful Plant Life

The warmer days, when many farmers move their cattle out of the barn to the farm woods, are not too far away.

W. Ira Bull, extension forester at Michigan State College, warns farmers that turning cattle into the farm woodlot may be bad management.

When cattle are kept in the barn during the winter, close attention is paid to their diet. The warm spring days should not be a signal to turn them loose to eat much of the harmful plant life that grows in woodlots.

Wild cherry trees are abundant in most upland farm woods. The leaves will form a deadly acid in the stomach of a cow. Low, wet areas frequently abundant in water hemlock—also a livestock killer.

In connection with livestock, the farm woods can be used for one purpose. It can supply shade for the cattle. A minor rearrangement of fences can give the cattle an acre or so of shade in areas that do not harbor livestock forage hazards.

It is best to pasture livestock in the open sunlight. In addition to harmful plants, many animals diseases persist in shady places where the sunshine does not strike the ground.

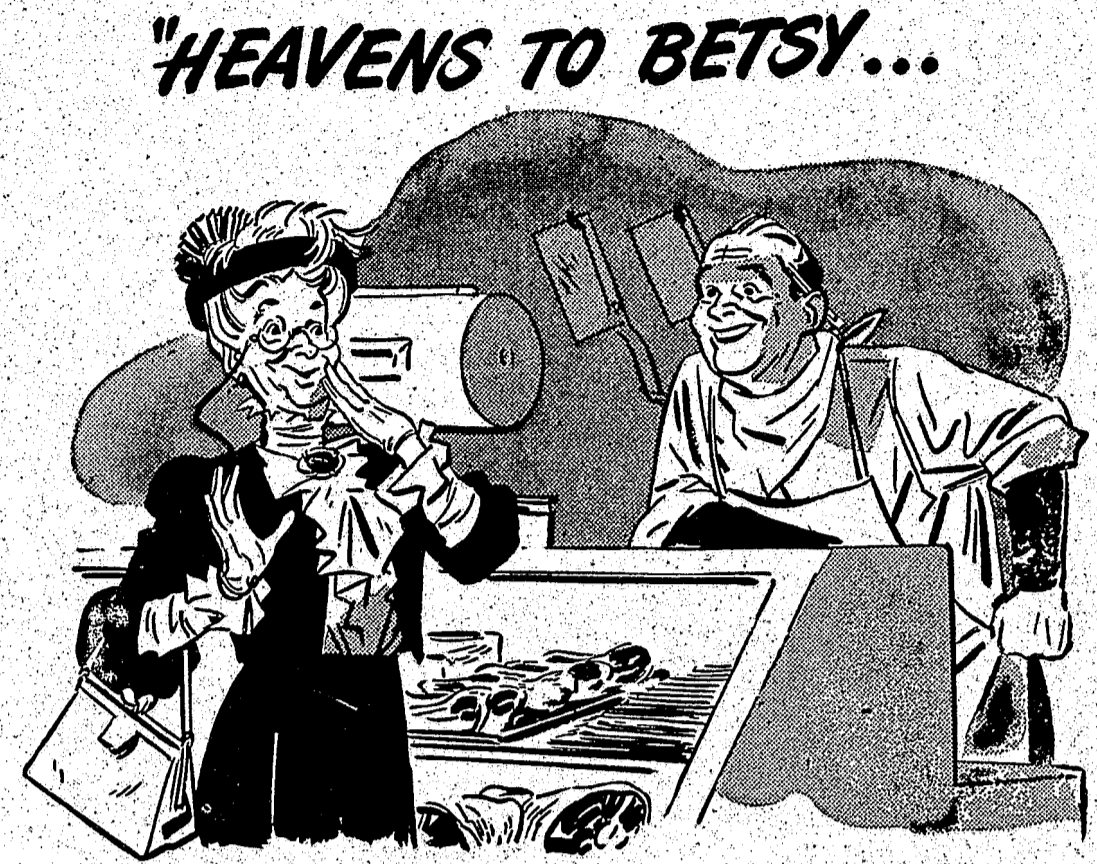

Let the woodland grow timber and put the cows in a good pasture.

sign of a quality product. The poultry department at Michigan State College has a few tips for farmers that will help to keep eggs clean.

A clean litter is important. A litter of shavings of crushed corn cobs is more absorbent than straw or hay. Getting the freshly laid eggs out of the nest as soon as possible will help, too. Ten a. m., noon, and evening are good egg-gathering times. Cool eggs before putting them in an egg case. The last step is marketing them as often as possible. The quality of the eggs is not improved by holding them for once a week marketing. If possible, get them to the market twice a week or oftener.

"HEAVENS TO BETSY..."
"HOW CAN INVISIBLE LIGHT MAKE MEAT TASTE BETTER?"

"WHY, IT'S EASY, MA'AM," chortled the butcher. "These new germ-killing lamps in our refrigerator stop bacteria cold—thanks to invisible ultraviolet rays... and that means less waste and more taste for your money!"

For years, you see, butchers have had a difficult problem in keeping meat both pure and fresh. Refrigeration, of course, is partially the answer. Refrigeration will slow up the growth of mold and bacteria to almost nothing—will keep meat practically 100% pure. But refrigeration alone cannot always keep meat from drying out. And when meat does dry out, it loses its natural flavor, juiciness and color.

Now, however, the germ-killing lamp, properly installed, makes it possible to increase the temperature and humidity in butcher shop refrigerators. That's because its invisible ultraviolet rays destroy airborne bacteria before the meat is contaminated.

The result? Sanitary, sweet-smelling meat storage, for one thing. Less chance of meat spoilage in your own refrigerator, too, because your purchases are healthfully pure and—at the same time—juicier, tastier, more flavorful... not shrunken, discolored or dehydrated.

The germ-killing lamp is not brand-new. For some years it has been used—in many ways and with varying results—to fight airborne bacteria. During these years, scientists and engineers made a thorough study of the lamp to determine exactly how best it could be used. As a result of this research, it is now possible for every meat market in southeastern Michigan to get the maximum benefit from these lamps—easily. A butcher need not know how to compute the required number of lamps—need not be an expert on bacteria counts or ultraviolet radiation. For Edison specialists can study his problem and give him specific recommendations.

There's no charge for this accurate, impartial advice. It's another example of how Edison service can help Edison customers get the most from all the electricity they buy.

BUTCHERS ARE BEAMING!
 Naturally, their new germ-killing lamps save them both meat and money. Less spoilage... no more time and trouble in discoloring meat.
 P.S. The customers like them, too! There's less waste, more taste and more value for them!

Albert Richmond returned Monday of last week after a three week's trip through the Southern states, visiting all important points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Busch of Lake Oakland are the parents of a daughter, Blanche Rita, born March 20, at Pontiac General Hospital. Mrs. Busch was formerly Miss Alice Garneau.

A very fine program has been planned for the P. T. A. meeting which will be held Tuesday evening, April 8 in the school auditorium at 7:30. Prof. John Sullivan of Wayne University, child psychologist will be the guest speaker. This meeting is for adults only. In case parents have to bring their children, they will be cared for by the girl scouts. Prof. Sullivan has a radio program called "Young Ideas" every Saturday night on a Detroit station. The refreshments will be in charge of the 3rd and 4th grade room mothers, Mrs. Jack Greathouse, Mrs. Frank Koehes, Mrs. Claude Carter and Mrs. Hugo Priezt.

Monday, April 7, the P. T. A. is sponsoring "Meet the Misses" luncheon and radio program in the school auditorium at 12 o'clock.

Friday, April 4 Monday, April 7, will be Easter vacation for the school children. Therefore, election will take place on the floor of the school and not in the auditorium as before.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Drayton Men's Club met in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening with twenty-one present for a pot luck supper and business meeting. After the dinner a very lovely corsage of red roses and white snapdragons was presented to the outgoing president, Mrs. Earl Card, by the new president, Mrs. George Werner. The new officers were installed for the coming year. They are president, Mrs. George Werner; vice president, Mrs. Fred Barrett; Secretary, Mrs. Peter Newman; treasurer, Miss Lela Jeffery. Later a social time was enjoyed by playing "50-50". Prizes were won by Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Nolan Brown. Two new members joined at this meeting and Mrs. Henry Floyd and Mrs. Wm. Goulet were appointed in charge of refreshments and program for the next meeting to be held April 15.

Mrs. Alfred Hutchinson received word of the death of her niece, Mrs. Dorothy O'Berry, of Bay City on Saturday and also of the death of her brother-in-law, Elmer Pontius, of Grand Rapids, on Friday of last week.

The Housewives Bowling League will hold a special meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 1:00 for the purpose of electing officers and organizing for next year. Mrs. Leo Larkin and Mrs. Charles Williams took home the prizes this week and Mannings Market.

The annual congregational business meeting and pot luck supper will be held next Friday night, April 11 beginning at 6:30 at the United Presbyterian church. All secretaries and treasurers of the various organizations of the church are to have their reports read to hand in to the chairman, John Watkins.

The Detroit Presbyterial Missionary Convention will be held all day, Tuesday April 8 at Littlefield Blvd., United Presbyterian Church at Dearborn. Box luncheon at noon and a dinner will be served by the church ladies at night. The regular meeting will be on Thursday evening, April 17 instead of April 10. Dr. Walter Skellie, returned missionary from Egypt, will be the guest speaker in the afternoon and evening.

Twenty-five guests were entertained at a bridal shower in honor of Ethel Willing on Saturday afternoon at her home on Dixie Highway. The shower was given by her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Willing, and Mrs. Wilbur Stroubler of Tommie Lake was cohostess. The afternoon was spent playing Five Hundred, Pinochle, and Bug. Many lovely gifts were presented to the honoree from a large table centered with a bride and groom leaving the church. Ice cream, several kinds of cake and coffee were served. Miss Willing will become the bride of Victor Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nelson Sr., of Pontiac, on Saturday, April 19.

Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmerman have returned from Florida after spending the winter there. Miss Myra Katherine Rowley spent the week at her home and returned on Saturday to Ohio Wesleyan University, where she is attending school to join the AcaPELLa Choir to tour the East and also to appear on The Columbia Broadcasting station, April 12 at 3:45 p. m.
