Rotarians Hear Rev. R. D. Richards

The combined Clarkston and Lake Orion Rotary Club ladies' night was held at the Indianwood Country Club, was such an outstanding success, that no one wanted to leave. This was due to an unusual speech given by the Rev. Robert D. Richards of the East Detroit Methodist Church. He was introduced by our Rev. Walter C. B. Saxman. When he started his speech, it was in a high soft falsetto voice, and everyone figured they were in for a dull evening. After about five minutes of this he suddenly dropped his voice to a deep bass voice. For the balance of the talk, 1 hour and 20 minutes, he had the crowd crying one minute and laughing the next. The theme of his speech was based upon his appreciation of America, after coming from Wales 19 years ago, and his first interpretations of American slang. The two presidents of the respective clubs introduced their vice presidents—Robert L. Jones of Clarkston and Pete N. Hammelef of Orion. Jerry O'Connor gave two piano selections.

Help Us Celebrate!

The Clarkston Merchant's baseball team will wear their new uniforms purchased by the merchants of the town when they play Gaines, Sunday June 1st, at the Clarkston Ball diamond. This promises to be a good game as Gaines is considered one of the strongest teams in the Tri-County League. Manager Bert Bebe and the team hope for a large crowd to help initiate the new uniforms and score a second victory.

The opponents for the game on Memorial Day as yet have not been chosen but the manager promises a good game. Details as to the time and place of the game may be obtained from any member of the team or the manager.

Last Sunday's game which was rained out will be played as a double-header at a later date.

Clarkston Locals

Word was received here on Sunday by Harold Weston that his brother, Gerald, was killed in an automobile accident last Saturday afternoon at Albion, Mich. The funeral is being held, Wednesday (today) at 2 o'clock. Gerald was well known here having graduated from the local high school in the class of '41.

Of interest to the folks in this vicinity is the fact that you do not always have to go to the north woods to see deer. Last Sunday Fred Gulick called his mother Mrs. Alice Gulick to the window to see a deer scamper by the Richard Watson home on E. Washington street and disappear past the Vliet house.

William Scrace who has been a patient at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor where he underwent two serious operations, was brought to his home in Clarkston on Sunday. He is getting along nicely and hopes that with rest and a little summer weather he will be in good health before very long.

GI Loan Advice Given To Veterans

Ex-service men and women who have saved GI loans to buy homes are advised not to sell their property without making certain that their interests are protected.

A veteran is inviting trouble if he consents to any sale of his property whereby the purchaser takes over the existing loan. In such case the veteran remains personally responsible for payment of the loan and once an ex-serviceman has used his $4,000 loan guarantee, he can secure no further backing from Uncle Sam.

Whenever an ex-serviceman sells a home financed by a GI loan, he should demand that the purchaser either pay cash or arrange a loan in his own name. Then the veteran should see that his own note is marked paid and that the lien on his property is marked satisfied on court records.

If an ex-serviceman consents to a sale in which the purchaser merely assumes existing indebtedness, the veteran later may have to pay any part of the debt defaulted by the new owner. If the new owner fails to keep up his payments, the lending institution can foreclose and may force a trustee's sale where the property could be sold at less than the amount of the debt remaining. When proceeds from a sale do not cover the amount of the loan outstanding, the difference remains a debt against the veteran. The U. S. Government will pay the lending agency for any portion of this debt which is guaranteed, and the veteran will then owe the government. If part of the remaining debt is not guaranteed, the veteran will continue to owe this to the lending institution.

The best woodcock shooting in Michigan in six years is indicated by machine sorting of small game hunters' 1946 report cards—a kill of more than 69,000 the conservation's game division reports. A year earlier, the season's bag of woodcock was just over 37,000 birds.

Showshoe hares are another species the hunters' cards indicate were more abundant last season than in the year before. The 1946 kill is estimated at 314,000 where the 1945 total was about 255,000.

The Hilltopper

ORTONVILLE BEATS CLARKSTON

Last Tuesday Clarkston lost to Ortonville by a score of 2 - 0. In the second inning Ortonville jumped to a one run lead on an error and a single. An unusual thing happened in the second inning when Sage, the Ortonville pitcher, struck out five men in one inning. This happened when the catcher dropped the ball and the batter beat it out at first. Ortonville brought their last run across in the fourth inning.

Adams and Anderson were the only Wolf batters to get hits. Adams singled in the second and Anderson in the fifth.

Two Vacancies On School Board

Not only is the school year drawing to a close in Clarkston, but the terms of two trustees, Elmer Pettengill and Orlo Willoughby will expire this year.

Under the system now in use in Clarkston, these positions must be filled by an election to decide which candidates, previously named by petition, will fill the offices for the next three years. Those interested in securing a petition should read the notice on page 3.

If your desire is to vote at the election you should read the notice on page 6 to see if you are registered.

Car Races At Milford

On Sunday June 8, the Big Cars will race for the largest purse of Prize Money ever posted at the Milford track.

Being a member of the Interstate Racing Circuit and the Milford date the only one scheduled for June 8, a very large field of cars is expected.

The track having been reclayed last fall is in ideal shape due to the spring rains, which have settled the new surface to make a very fast track.

A few of the early entries include such top notch drivers as Freddie Hawes, winner of the 1947 opener at Jackson, Mich., Geo. Tischendor of Logansport, Ind., Bob O'Neal of Detroit, Geo. Lynch of Detroit, Dick VanEmmerick of Waterford Mich. and Red Bayles of Cleveland Ohio.

There will be 7 thrill packed events, which will include a 25 lap feature.

Qualifying at 1 o'clock sharp and first race at 2:30.

Tonight's banquet ends the 1947 bowling season for the Clarkston Girl's League. It will take place at Sunny Beach Country Club near Lake Orion, on Walter's Lake. At least 50 will be there to enjoy steak or chicken served in a large ballroom decorated with spring flowers.

Not Our respect has not been lost. Nor has our love for those who've passed. Been hampered by the work or cost. Because we've learned the truth at last.

Yes! We will place with tender care Some flowers on their resting place. Yet know that they're not really there. That death cannot change limb or face.

That those we love in spirit dwell Much more alive than we of earth. That they still live and love as well. Retaining serious thoughts and mirth.

Our loved ones who've been called by God Will know our actions at the grave. Will help us up the road we trod And will that we be strong and brave.

Newly Authorized Dog Training Areas

There is no need for hurry in filing applications for those newly authorized dog training areas, conservation department officials report.

Though signed by the governor May 12, the law, Public Act 82, does not become effective until 90 days after the Legislature's final adjournment. Sometime before that date, which is likely to be in September, the conservation department will announce the time for making applications and the regulations under which the areas will be operated.

Since the training of dogs on game birds and animals becomes legal anywhere in the state in August, 60 days in advance of the opening of hunting season, the new act will provide no special pre-season benefit this year.

The act authorizing the establishment of special dog training areas limits their number to six per county in counties of less than 100,000 population, and specifies that each may be not less than 80 nor more than 240 acres. Land in dog training areas is automatically closed to all hunting.

Decoration Day

In years gone by upon this day, We made our pilgrimage afar To honor those who passed away With pots of flowers in our car.

This year no doubt we'll do it too Because of custom through the years. But we won't feel so low and blue Or waste much time in shedding tears.

Not Our respect has not been lost. Nor has our love for those who've passed. Been hampered by the work or cost. Because we've learned the truth at last.

Yes! We will place with tender care Some flowers on their resting place. Yet know that they're not really there. That death cannot change limb or face.

What Michigan Bell's WAGE SETTLEMENT Means To Telephone Employees

Agreements signed last week with the Michigan telephone unions provide among other things, for:

- wage increases of $3 and $4 a week for all present employees, depending on their length of service.
- even higher wage increases for employees in a number of Michigan towns because of reclassification of their communities to higher wage groups.
- including the effect of "fringe" items, an average increase of $4.13 per week for employees represented by the Plant, Traffic and Accounting unions.
- increases in beginner's rates and top rates where local conditions justify.

Telephone employees will continue to receive:

- extra payments for overtime, Sunday, holiday, evening and night duty.
- the usual merit and length-of-service wage increases.
- six holidays with pay; vacations with pay up to three weeks, depending on length of service; as well as sickness and death payments and pensions - all paid for in full by the company.
- steady work, not subject to seasonal layoffs.

Considering these other advantages, the settlement - which in itself amounts to more than 10 cents an hour - compares favorably with settlements recently made in some outside industries. These telephone wage increases have been granted even though the adjustments in outside industry will not be reflected for sometime in the general wage levels of most Michigan communities.

But what is even more important is that some 19,000 Michigan Bell employees again are receiving regular pay checks.

To The Company

The settlement, together with wage adjustments for other employees, will add more than $5,500,000 a year to Michigan Bell's cost of providing service.

For many months, the company's earnings for investors have been on a downward trend. In view of these wage increases and other rising costs, rate increases must be requested of the Michigan Public Service Commission to keep the company financially sound so as to attract the new capital needed for expansion and improvement.

To The Public

The settlement means that the public again has normal telephone service and Michigan Bell's million dollar-a-week payroll again is contributing to the economic life of Michigan communities.

It will be remembered that the original union demands would have amounted to $26,000,000 a year. The wage adjustments agreed on, which are geared to local conditions in Michigan, will cost about one-fourth that amount. This will mean telephone rates for Michigan customers considerably lower than would be necessary if the original demands had been met.

Last but not least, the settlement means that Michigan Bell can get on with the big job of providing telephones for the thousands of folks who are waiting, and making telephone service better and better for everyone.

A WORD OF THANKS—We would like to say "thanks" for your patience and cooperation during the telephone strike. We deeply regret any inconvenience which the strike may have caused you. And we sincerely hope that it will not happen again.

Law Protects Wild, Young Animals

One little boy can consider himself lucky conservation officers say, after reconstructing the crime of "cub napping" from the circumstantial evidence.

On a visit to the now well known bear den near Naubinway, predatory animal control officer Clifford Peterman found the bears gone, but 30 feet from the mouth of the den he found one of the cubs entangled in the brush with an 18-inch length of twine tied at one end to one of the cub's legs and at the other to a four-foot long branch of cedar.

Officers believe some boy used the noose on the end of the stick to snare himself a cub from the den for a pet, fled in the nick of time when the mother bear came out of the den to chase him. He was lucky, they say, to get away unharmed.

After being held overnight in Sault Ste. Marie, the cub was released the next day to rejoin the mother bear and her other cubs when they were located again within 800 yards of the den.

This is the season, the conservation officers say, when they must explain over and over to well intentioned, but uninformed persons that no special permits may be obtained to possess cubs, fawns, baby raccoons or other young wild animals taken outside hunting seasons. The law protects all helpless wild young animals in their homes in the woods -- where they are not lost, as some city folk insist on thinking. Possession of any of them is punishable by stiff fines.

Parade of Floats For M. S. C. Carnival

A parade of floats will proceed down the Red Cedar river on the campus of Michigan State college Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 29, 30 and 31 to mark the return of the Water Carnival to the spring schedule at the college. It will be the 20th Water Carnival at the college since the first one was held in 1924. For the past four years it was not held because of the war.

The overall theme for the Water Carnival is "Songs We All Know". Each float will symbolize some song that has attained rank as a national favorite. The first float in the parade appropriately enough will be "Old Man River". Closing song will be a campus favorite, "M.S.C. Shadows".

Other songs to be portrayed include such favorites as "Oklahoma", "Turkey in the Straw", "Apple Blossom Time", "School-days", "The Old Oaken Bucket", "White Christmas", "Harvest Moon" and many others. Each float will be decorated by a student organization, with best floats winning prizes for their sponsors. The parade of floats will start each of the three nights about 9 o'clock. A program of water contests will start about 7:30 each night, with canoe racing, canoe tilting and log birling on the program. Preliminaries will be held the first two nights, with the finals on Saturday.

Intermission programs will be arranged for Thursday and Friday nights. At intermission on Saturday, Excelsior, senior men's honorary, will tap a group of juniors for membership.

The second annual school music short course for high school students and teachers will be held at Michigan State college June 23 to July 12. A staff of 32 prominent college and high school music instructors will teach.

CONSERVATION NEWS

In spite of the season's slow progress toward summer weather, family picnic baskets are getting a workout in state parks and the vacation season has begun.

The conservation department's parks and recreation division reports there were 1,000 picnickers and six hardy boys went in swimming, last Sunday at Cass Lake state park. And on the same day

At Warren Dunes state park, auto licenses from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Oregon, Iowa, Kentucky and Maryland were noted in the parking lot.

At Haven Hill Lake in Highland state recreation area, where a new sanctuary is being developed, a pair of wild Canada geese is nesting, with 25 wing-clipped Canadas for company. When two youthful campers in Waterloo recreation area let a campfire get away from them, a troop of Detroit boy scouts at Burns lodge turned out in a body to help fight the resulting 42-acre burn. The Ortonville state recreation area group camp building was used for the local high school's junior prom. Detroit hikers have had a good time around fireplaces in group camp buildings when it rained as they arrived.

Test Your House Then Remodel It

Don't let the outside appearance of a house discourage your plans for remodeling. It is the frame work and foundation that count.

Olevia C. Meyer, extension specialist in housing at Michigan State college, reminds us that siding, roofing, paint, porches, floors and plaster can be replaced.

Your house is worth remodeling if the frame work and foundation are still in good condition. Check the foundation first. If you find cracks in the foundation walls they may indicate settling or lack of footing under the foundation.

Check the mortar between the foundation bricks or stones. Slight crumbling on the outer surface can be filled in. Deep cracks make the wall unsafe. Are the basement walls and floor damp? Is the floor made of concrete and well drained.

Next, look at the framework to make sure it is sound and plumb. Joists and sub-flooring should be checked for signs of decay and damage from termites. Cracked plastering, sagging doors and slanting floors indicate weaknesses. Check the walls for plumb and any wings or additions for separation from the main part of the house. The roof line should be straight and the framework sound.

Floods Endanger Farm Fields

Floods and spring rains have shown many farmers the danger of erosion in their fields. E. C. Sackrider, federal soil conservationist at Michigan State college, states that observations during the wet weather of April showed the value of winter cover crops as a protection against erosion.

Last year Michigan grew over one and a half million acres of corn, and it is estimated that over a million acres went into the winter without the benefit of a cover crop. In addition to the bare corn land, most of last year's potato and sugar beet land was unprotected by cover crops. Because of favorable fall weather much fall plowing was done, leaving additional acres exposed to the spring rains.

Evidence of erosion is more noticeable this year than in many past years and can be observed in most bare fields. Much erosion is also evident in winter wheat fields where the wheat was drilled up and down the hill. Estimates have been made that as high as a million tons of top soil were lost in Michigan this winter. Top soil contains 75 percent of the available plant food and produces twice as much sub-soil.

Stuart D. Sleight, Lainsburg, named as the other boy to attend, has been a member of a 4-H Club for nine years. His 4-H work has included dairy, sheep, hog and poultry production. At present, Stuart is attending Michigan State College studying veterinary medicine.

One of the two girls attending the camp will be Mary J. Manning, Lachine, a 4-H worker for 8 years. Mary's 4-H projects have consisted mainly of clothing, canning, and gardening. She is now attending the school of dentistry at the University of Michigan.

Beverly Jane Watkins, Mason, has been a 4-H Club member for 8 years. She has carried on 30 projects, emphasizing gardening, food preparation, and canning. Beverly is now a student at Michigan State college.

The theme of the 1947 National 4-H Club camp is "Serving as Citizens in our Representative Government". Special opportunities will be offered to 4-H members to gain an understanding of the national government and to visit landmarks in the vicinity of Washington.

Tenderay Beef Back In Kroger's

Reintroduction of Tenderay beef to Kroger stores in this area was announced today by Ira O. Shy, general manager of the company's Detroit branch.

Originally introduced here in 1940, Kroger's patented process for tenderizing beef was suspended during the war years because of inability to obtain sufficient beef of high quality, according to Shy. He explained the method speeds up nature's slow ageing process, achieving in two days the same degree of tenderness that requires six weeks or more with traditional ageing methods.

Beef is held in special processing rooms at a temperature of 65 degrees and relatively high humidity while it is protected from bacteria and molds through use of a battery of ultra violet lamps. Rays of these lamps maintain hospital-like sterile conditions in the air which is circulated constantly. At relatively high temperature and humidity the natural enzymes in the meat act quickly to tenderize tough connective tissue.

Described by a noted scientist as "the only important contribution to the meat industry since the invention of mechanical refrigeration", the Tenderay process was developed jointly by the Kroger Company, Westinghouse Electric corporation, and an internationally famous industrial research institution after more than four years of testing and experimental work, Shy said.

He added that reintroduction of Tenderay at a time when Kroger's standard beef cutting method has been adopted in all of the company's stores constituted a substantial contribution toward insuring improved quality and keeping the cost of meat down. He explained that the new beef cutting method standardizes all cuts and eliminates excess fat and bone.

Prospects Good For Strawberries

If reasonably good weather prevails for thirty days strawberry growers will be busy harvesting their crop, reports Charles Figy, Director, Department of Agriculture. This year it is expected 6,000 acres will be harvested compared with 9,074 acres for the previous ten year average. The big shrinkage in acreage is largely a war time casualty due to shortage of labor and scarcity of good plants. Red Stele disease, according to C. A. Boyer, Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, has reduced the acreage of strawberries in many states as well as in some European countries. However, the disease has not been the cause of the shrinkage of acreage in Michigan. Since locating the disease in some of the strawberry fields in this state, Michigan has adopted the double inspection system. This is one of the most difficult diseases in its early stages to identify, one inspection is made at blossoming time when presence of the disease is easiest to identify and the other at the end of the growing season in August and September. Michigan was the first state to establish this rigid inspection work to control Red Stele disease and the National Plant Board reports that

Wild Trout Known By Fisherman

Most trout fishermen this season will catch wild trout with all their fins intact or hatchery trout with the dorsal fin clipped off, but one or two in a hundred are certain to get some unusual fish that are not, at first glance, either one or the other.

Conservation department fish hatchery men, now planting fish that were fin clipped months ago, have noted a few trout that had grown a replacement for the fin soon after. The unusual regenerated fins are stubby and odd-shaped, and readily distinguished on close inspection.

forty-seven other states have copied the program of this state.

Fin clipping permits all anglers to know this season how many wild trout they are getting in proportion to hatchery-reared fish.

AN IMPRESSIVE RECORD

★ Although tuberculosis is one of the oldest known diseases, its cause was first conclusively proved when Robert Koch isolated the tubercle bacillus a little over fifty years ago. The success resulting from vigorous public health measures, particularly in the last quarter century, is impressive. At the beginning of the century, tuberculosis led the list of diseases as the most frequent cause of death. Today it has dropped to seventh place. There is no reason why it should not drop completely from the list of important causes of death.

This splendid record has resulted from the combined efforts of many agencies. An enlightened public opinion with respect to the value of the physician's services has contributed immeasurably. Have that long-delayed physical examination today. We are prescription specialists.

All's Well In Magruder's Brooder

... But last winter when lightning knocked out a nearby utility line, Farmer Magruder was sure of disaster. Although 467 baby chicks were snug and warm in his electric brooder, the brooder would soon grow cold without electricity, and the chicks could not survive.

Almost before the brooder had begun to cool, an Edison emergency crew was repairing the damage—restoring service. Not a chick had a chilblain. Magruder's investment was saved. Electrical equipment is so reliable these days that there aren't many cases like that. But it's good to know that there are Edison troubleshooters, alert to keep electricity flowing to Edison farm customers. It's their work, coupled with the experience of Edison Farm Service Advisers, that makes electricity the most reliable of farm hands.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh. Want to Run a "Collective" Farm? Was reading the other day about the "collective" farms they have in certain countries. It seems the folks who run them have plenty of help... good hours... and the best equipment. Sounds pretty nice—till you learn that the "farmer" doesn't own his land, or even farm it, in our sense. He takes orders from the state; produces whatever they want him to produce, at prices they set. Even his off-hours are spent according to state regulations. No, that would never go here. Beligent behavior in fox squirrels at this season is not uncommon and is not necessarily a sign of disease, according to conservation department game men. For Safety's sake, however, they recommend that squirrels caught after showing a disposition to attack be sent to Lansing for pathological examination.
