Clarkston Loses To Linden

The Clarkston Merchants baseball team lost another tri-county game Sunday to drop into a tie for second place with Fenton and Linden. Linden gained its second place tie by defeating the merchants last Sunday by a score of 10-4. Clarkston was pretty easy picking for Linden for the local boys were playing short handed as a result of family reunions and hot weather. But rather than forfeit the game Manager, Bert Bebe took over right field and inserted Gordon Kelley in left field playing one handed. Kelley suffered a very badly cut left hand last week while at work. The only bright spot in last Sunday's game for the Clarkston fans was "Dutch" Walters home run with two mates aboard in the first inning to put Clarkston back in the game after Linden had scored 4 runs in their half. After that it was pretty much Linden, as they collected 14 hits off Bill O'Roark, while 7 was the best the home team could get off from Stiff, Bert Bebe, Clarkston's pilot maintains it will be different next Sunday as he intends to have all his charges with him when he goes to Fenton to continue the battle for second place in the league. Game time will be 2:30.

Nuptial Rites Read Saturday

Palms, white gladioli, stock and lighted candelabra decorated the altar at the Methodist Church in Clarkston and white gladioli and large white bows marked the aisle when Mary Louise Buck walked to the altar on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock to become the bride of Victor M. Lindquist of Chicago. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Henri F. Buck of Waterford and the late Mr. Buck and Mr. Lindquist is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Lindquist of Charlton, Iowa.

The Reverend Walter C. B. Saxman read the double ring ceremony before about two hundred guests. Adele Thomas presided at the organ and Leona Olson sang "Through the Years" and "Oh, Perfect Love".

Charles Harris of Milford gave his sister in marriage. The bride was charming in nylon taffeta fashioned with full length sleeves with lace ruffles over the hands and a marquisette yoke outlined with a lace ruffle. The skirt, which ended in a train, had a panel of lace ruffles down the front. She wore a Dutch cap with a fingertip veil of illusion and carried her father's Bible which was covered with white satin and adorned with a white orchid and a shower of stephanotis. Her only jewelry was an heirloom ring set with pearls.

The bride's attendants were her two sisters, Mrs. William Poland of Detroit and Mrs. Emerson Mitchell of Waterford. Their gowns of pink and blue marquisette, respectively, were styled with fitted bodices, round necklines, full sleeves fastened at the wrists and full skirts. They wore waltzers of flowers in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of lavender and rose.

Little Jean Carol Poland, niece of the bride was the flower girl. Her gown was of fuchsia net trimmed with light blue bows and she carried a light blue satin basket filled with mixed flowers.

Mr. Lindquist was assisted by Charles Carlson of Chicago, as best man and Kenneth Johnson of Chicago and Emerson Mitchell of Waterford seated the guests. Mrs. Buck chose for her daughter's wedding a black dress with gold accessories and a small pink hat with matching gloves. Mrs. Lindquist wore aqua with black accessories. Both mothers wore an orchid corsage.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. The lace covered table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Lighted candles in crystal holders and bowls of white flowers decorated the table. Mrs. Earl Kniffen of Hazel Park and Mrs. Clinton Disbrow of Oxford poured. Mrs. Walter Schmitz of Pontiac cut the cake and Doreen Carlson, Mrs. Charles Harris and Leona Olson assisted.

The young couple left to spend a week in northern Michigan. For traveling the bride wore a summer print dress with a beige top and brown accessories and an orchid corsage. On their return they will make their home at 6245 Andersonville Road, Waterford.

Get In The Band For Big Parade

Next Wednesday night at 7 o'clock the band for the Labor Day parade will have a rehearsal. See Bill Radoye at the Village Market for particulars. In order to make this parade the biggest and best ever held in Clarkston it is quite essential to have the biggest and best band. There may be many musicians in this territory who haven't had a chance to play in a band for a long time. Now is their chance to have a good time and at the same time make entertainment for a great many people.

All of the school musicians, past and present, are asked to be at the rehearsal.

Interest Alive In 4-H Work

Forty members of The Homemakers Club exhibited their projects at the home of Mrs. Arnold Malec of Oneida Road last Saturday. Tables were lined with products from food preparation, food preservation, sewing, flower arrangement and vegetables ready for the judging which was done by 15 year old Evelyn M. McCrum of the Oakland County 4-H Club. She did comparative judging according to the 4-H judging rules.

Five members were chosen to compete with members from 30 other clubs in the state at the Homemakers' Fair to be held August 25 to 29 at Bay City. The members are Mrs. Arnold Malec, Mrs. Matthew Johnson of Clarkston, Mrs. Lyle Bagnasco of Lake Orion and Mrs. John Ross and Mrs. Robert Spencer of Pontiac. These five members will receive awards besides competing with other clubs.

Evelyn gave a very interesting talk on "The Importance of Comparative Judging". Mrs. Malec served a very fine supper at the close of the day's program which was from 7:00 a.m. until 11:00 p.m.

County Sends Many To 4-H Fair

Oakland county will send 55 4-H boys and girls to the annual state 4-H club show at Michigan State college, August 26 to 29, according to R. Lynox Lewis, county 4-H club agent.

A total of more than 4,000 exhibits is expected for the show. There will be more than 1,200 animals shown.

Word received by the agent from A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader, indicates that this year's show will be one of the biggest ever. Better facilities are available for showing the exhibits and for housing and feeding the 4-H club members.

Speaking of plans for the week, agent R. L. Lewis stated that 1,200 boys and girls will be housed in the quonset village area at MSC. They will eat in a nearby cafeteria.

The laboratories of the new agricultural engineering building will house the beef cattle and sheep entries. Dairy entries will be shown under the football stadium and swine will be exhibited in the judging pavilion and the beef experimental barn. Horses will be shown in the riding horse barn.

All garden, home economics, crops, and handicraft exhibits will be housed in the college auditorium.

Thursday, August 28, has been designated as "Farmers Day" and farm families are invited to inspect the MSC experimental plots and livestock. MSC agricultural specialists will be on hand to explain the experimental work and to consult with farmers on agricultural problems.

Lightning Artist At Andersonville

Phil Saint, lightning artist will present the Gospel in art and song at Andersonville Community Church on Sunday evening, August 24th at 7:30.

Phil is the son of the internationally known stained glass craftsman, Lawrence B. Saint. He began his artistic career at an early age. Following a brief period of freelance drawing for various publications, he felt called to full-time Christian service. In each of his programs he rapidly sketches cartoons to illustrate Bible truths and also draws a feature picture in full colors. He sings and speaks as he draws. Saint, although young, is an experienced platform artist and a dynamic youth speaker, having appeared before cosmopolitan audiences throughout the country for the last ten years.

Shortly after he felt called to full-time Christian work, invading the field of commercial art illustrating the Gospel message, in 1937 he entered Wheaton college, where he completed a liberal arts course, majoring in the field of anthropology. Saint was twice selected for "Who's Who Among Students of American Universities and Colleges", and served as art editor and cartoonist for the college annual. He also originated the first Christian story strip and is the author of a number of books.

During the war he spent much time in the army camps and naval stations, presenting programs before large and enthusiastic audiences of servicemen. He is now devoting his entire time to helping overcome the rising delinquency among the young people of America through his programs presenting the Gospel in Art and Song.

In the unique program, while Artist Phil Saint rapidly sketches his colored pictures, a musical accompaniment is blended in so that it synchronizes with the developing thought. The picture is then intensified with rich lighting effects.

The program is open to the public and a special invitation is always given to young people to attend.

White And Green On Azure Blue

Out on the azure, wind-swept waves
Were caps of white and troughs and caves
Of pure water, of Torch Lake,
Blended, a beauty spot to make.

A gull, upon its trusty wing
Was waiting for a chance to spring
Upon a fish that swam too high,
With thoughts upon a cadis fly.

There, many boats, both large and small
Upon the waves would rise and fall,
As merrily they plied the surf,
Each one in turn, thus proved its worth.

But king of all upon this scene
There sailed a boat of white and green,
With mast and hull of finest trees,
And sails held taught before the breeze.

Truly in water such as this,
White sails should never come amiss.
For scenes like this are all too few,
With white and green on azure blue.

Can Corn With Care

If you can corn with care, using a pressure canner, you will not lose any of this precious crop with spoilage.

Don't expect the job to be as short as with some vegetables, warns Roberta Hershey, foods specialist at Michigan State college. Heat penetrates very slowly in corn which is a starchy vegetable.

Choose corn at just the right stage for eating. Remove husks and silk and then wash the ears. Do not use poorly developed, diseased or badly infested ears.

For whole kernel corn, cut it from the cob with a sharp knife with a smooth stroke at about two-thirds the depth of the kernel. To each quart of corn add 1 pint of boiling water. Heat to boiling.

Pack corn loosely to 1 inch of the top in hot glass jars and cover with hot cooking liquid, leaving 1 inch space at the top. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to pints and 1 teaspoon to quarts. Adjust jar lids. Process in a steam pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure. Process pints 55 minutes and quarts 85 minutes. As soon as jars are removed from the canner, complete the seals.

For cream style corn, cut from the cob at about the center, and scrape the cobs. Proceed the same as for whole kernel style, but use only pint jars. Process the pint jars in a pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure for 85 minutes.

Burrs In Fields Cut Wool Quality

The quality of the 1948 wool crop will depend on how careful farmers are in handling their sheep during the entire year, points out Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State college.

During late summer sheep pick up burrs and other foreign material of this nature if allowed to come in contact with them. Permanent pastures should be checked for burdock and other weeds of this type.

When sheep are turned in second cutting hay fields, or allowed to clean up grain fields after harvest, as is often done, fence rows and other out-of-the-way places should be checked for burdock and other plants with seeds that adhere to wool. Sheep are sure to pick up burrs from even one plant that is left. These plants should be cut and carried out of the field and placed where sheep will not be in contact with them.

Good Peach Supply Is Predicted

Michigan housewives who have been patient enough to wait for Michigan peaches this year will be rewarded with an ample supply of quality fruit at reasonable prices, according to Arthur Mauch, extension agricultural economist.

You can buy, sell, swap or rent anything with a Clarkston News Want Ad.

at Michigan State college.
The August 1 report of the Michigan crop-reporting service indicates that the harvest will be 10 to 15 days later than usual. Although some Michigan peaches are now appearing in stores, the peak for Halehavens is expected about September 1, and the peak of Elbertas about September 15.
The total United States crop for 1947 will be slightly above the approximate 86 million bushel record crop of 1946.

THE THREE SCOURGES OF MAN

★ Devastating epidemics have ranked with war and famine as population levelers. Of these three scourges of man, pestilence was most dreaded. During the Black Plague epidemic of 1348, it was estimated that in some places over two-thirds of the population was wiped out.

The discovery of bacteria as the cause of infectious disease is still within the memory of the living. Pasteur developed the first vaccine for rabies in 1885. Since that time many immunizing procedures have become routine. As a consequence, deaths from infectious diseases have been drastically reduced.

Everyone should be protected against smallpox and diphtheria as an absolute minimum. Do not wait for an epidemic to break out. Then it is often too late.

Exports Maintain High Living Costs

Exports of U. S. goods and services have increased rapidly since the first of the year and are now about four times as large as in 1940, according to Lawrence Witt, agricultural economist at Michigan State college.

Michigan agriculture is not affected as much as industry by the recent increases. Exports of agricultural products reached high levels earlier and now are not increasing as rapidly as exports of industrial goods. The large volume of exports has helped to maintain high levels of industrial production and purchasing power in the United States.

The value of U. S. exports of goods and services is over twice the value of our imports. Exports are now occurring at the rate of about 16 billion dollars each year. Imports, on the other hand, are around 7 billion dollars. This approximate 9 billion dollar difference between our imports and exports is paid by the importing countries from U. S. dollars accumulated by them during the war, newly mined gold, sale by them of U. S. securities which they own, and loans from public and private sources in the United States. If these large scale loans are not forthcoming, a reduction of exports is likely as dollar balances and U. S. Securities run out.

As exports decline, the domestic market will have to absorb additional supplies of both agricultural and industrial products. However, additional foreign loans may delay a decline in exports.

Poor Seals Cause Food Spoilage

If your canned fruits and vegetables spoil, the reason, four times out of five, is poor sealing.

Roberta Hershey, food specialist at Michigan State college, warns that all jars should cool for 24 hours and then you should test the seal before storing them.

You can prevent poor seals if you know how to seal jars correctly and if you are careful. Be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions in sealing jars. In general, leave one-half inch head space in the jars. Leave a full inch for corn and peas.

Before processing, all jars are partially sealed, but in different ways. With the three-piece lid, the small-sized rubber should be taken out of hot water, fitted on the ledge of the glass top, and then placed carefully on the jar. Be sure the jar has a perfectly smooth level edge. Turn the metal ring down until it is tight, and then back one-fourth turn. After processing, tighten the ring gradually. After 18 to 24 hours remove the rings as they are likely to rust.

One-piece screw tops with rubbers that fit on the jar shoulder should be tightened and turned back one-fourth inch before processing. Tighten the seal after processing.

Vacuum seal lids are partially sealed when the rings are turned down tightly as long as the composition is still hot and soft. The complete seal is made as the jars cool. Rings should be turned down firmly and gradually so the compound will not be cut through before processing. They should not be tightened afterward. The next day the rings may be removed.

Guard against chips on jar rims, old rubbers, particles of food or grease on sealing surfaces, rough handling, tilting jars while food is still hot and improper storage.

Who put the sapphires in Mrs. Murphy's basement?

Tommy Murphy was incredulous. "G'wan, how can there be sapphires in our basement?" he demanded. "Where are they, anyhow?" "Right in this little black box, son," grinned the Edison man, tapping the Murphy's meter. "In there you'll find tiny sapphire-jeweled bearings, made with the same skill and precision that go into your dad's watch."

The careful workmanship in your meter is reflected in its absolute accuracy, whether it be in your basement or outside your home. And the man who checks that meter is so well-trained that he reads its figures as quickly and accurately as you tell time. This emphasis on accuracy is part of the Edison way of doing business... it contributes to the uniformity and the year-round reliability of your electrical service.

Control of Cattle Insects Important

Control of insects that attack cattle is important at this time of year, believes Karl D. Bailey, county agricultural agent.

Details of treatments, supplied by Ray L. Janes, extension specialist in entomology at Michigan State college, are easily followed and effective, the agent points out.

Flies (except heel, deer and horse flies) can be controlled with four pounds of 50 percent wettable DDT to 100 gallons of water. Wet animals thoroughly but avoid excessive run-off. Large sprayers should be used at 400 to 600 pounds pressure. With knapsack sprayers, use five pounds of 50 percent wettable DDT to 100 gallons of water. Care must be taken to apply the treatment thoroughly when using knapsack or low pressure sprayers. If flies show signs of becoming troublesome, repeat treatment. For stable flies in barns and sheds, it will take 35 to 40 pounds of 50 percent wettable DDT to 100 gallons of water to get adequate control. Apply with a coarse, low pressure spray. Avoid running the spray from the walls.

Cattle lice are controlled with DDT, four pounds to 50 percent wettable to 100 gallons of water. The requirements for use of equipment are the same as those listed for fly control. Wet animals thoroughly but avoid excessive run-off. If cattle have not been sprayed with DDT during the summer for either lice or flies, use five pounds of 50 percent wettable DDT to 100 gallons of water for early fall treatment of lice. For best results, give a second treatment 18 to 21 days after the first. The first treatment should be given about September 5 to 10. No recommendation is given in Michigan for the spraying of cattle for lice during the winter. Caution: Don't contaminate milk, utensils, or feeds with DDT. Oil and emulsion forms of DDT are not recommended for control of insects affecting cattle in Michigan.

Bonds Cashed By Veterans Only

Veterans re-warned that they should not sell their terminal leave bonds or turn them over to someone as collateral and then apply to the Treasury Department at Washington for a duplicate bond. Such an action would be considered as perjury and would render them liable for legal action as such.

The law just passed by the 80th Congress, authorizing the cashing of terminal leave bonds after September 1, 1947, stipulates that the veteran in whose name the bond is issued must present the bond in person to secure payment and thus any bond given to a third party as security or for any other reason will be valueless unless the veteran presents it himself for cash.

The Treasury department has no jurisdiction over recovery of bonds held by other than veterans, so it will be necessary to contact local law enforcement authorities if it is desired to recover bonds committed to another person. All veterans are accordingly urged to keep their bonds in their own possession and not let them get into the hands of "loan sharks" or other parties who will attempt to profit off them at the veteran's expense.

New N. C. O. In Charge In Pontiac

M/Sgt Jack D. Carpenter has been appointed the N. C. O. in charge of the U. S. Army Recruiting Station at 53 1/2 W. Huron St., in Pontiac. This assignment also includes the U. S. Army Recruiting sub-station at Ferndale.

M/Sgt Finas Williams, formerly in charge of the station has announced his plans to retire after more than 20 years service.

M/Sgt Carpenter came to Pontiac from headquarters, Michigan Recruiting District, 403 Federal Building, Detroit. He was born and attended high school at Wolverine, Mich. He has been a member of the regular army since 1934. From 1940 to 1942, he served as a Sgt., on recruiting duty at Detroit. Prior to that time he spent 4 years as a member of the 2nd Infantry regiment stationed at Fort Brady and Fort Wayne, Mich. In July, 1942 he attended Infantry Officers Candidate School at Fort Benning, Ga. and was commissioned a 2nd Lt., Infantry in October, 1942.

During World War II he served in combat in Italy with the 10th Mountain Infantry division as an Infantry Rifle Company Commander and holds the following combat decorations: silver star medal, bronze star medal, purple heart, combat infantry badge and Emet ribbon with 2 bronze battle stars.

M/Sgt Carpenter returned from a tour of duty in Korea in May of this year and was separated as a Major, Infantry, Orc., and re-listed on the 30th of June in the grade of M/Sgt Adjutant General's Department, Regular Army. He is married to the former Alada Yager of Coleman, Mich. and they have one son, Jackie, age 2 years. He is very pleased with his present assignment and expects to make Pontiac his future home for an indefinite time.

Do You Know Your Rugs?

Don't judge a rug by the type of its weave. Rug weaves are no longer a sign of quality or value. Jessie Marion, home furnishings extension specialist at Michigan State college, cautions that if you know the structure of the common weaves you can take out most of the guesswork in buying rugs.

Wilton rugs are made on special looms with a separate strand of yarn for every color in them. When a color doesn't show it is buried in the back of the rug until it again appears in the pattern. This increases the rug's thickness and may increase the wear. But it is an expensive way of usually having a short pile, clear cut designs and the backs are flexible and tough. Worsteds Wiltons are finer in texture and design than woolen Wiltons which have a coarser twist in the yarn.

Axminster weaves can be identified by the pronounced ridges on the back which make it impossible to roll them crosswise. Good Axminsters will give good service and are better buys than cheap Wiltons. There is no limit to the number of colors used because most of the wool is on the surface. Wool tufts are held in place on cotton warp by crosswise threads of jute or cotton.

Velvet weaves are the simplest and the better grades are very durable. All the wool is on the surface because the pile is woven over wires which cut the loops when withdrawn. The old Brussels weaves were the same as the velvet except that the loops were uncut.

Broadloom means nothing about rug quality but tells only that the rug has been woven on a broad loom, is seamless, and may be 6, 9, 12, 15 or 18 feet wide or even wider on special orders. Any type weave or quality of rug may be broadloom.

Rug quality is determined by the amount and quality of wool in the rug and by the construction on and beneath the surface.

Oakland County will be well represented at the Michigan State college steer feeding contest next winter. Ed. Alchin, Assistant County Agricultural agent reports that in addition to Wildwood Farms, Lake Orion and Cesar Farms, Farmington, who showed last year, Meadowbrook Farms, Rochester, Great Oaks Stock Farms, Rochester and Knobby Hills Farm of Holly have entered steers this year.

Last year's entry from Wildwood Farms topped his class and was reserve grand champion of the show.

Mr. Alchin states that the steers are looking good and Oakland County will again be well represented in the 1948 contest.

Forest Fires Now Raging

Conservation department forest fire officials look with apprehension on soaring temperatures of the new heat wave, after fighting 91 forest fires last week and counting up the damage to more than 1,000 acres.

Three-fourths of the loss was in the upper peninsula where the hazard rating is now "No. 6", next to the highest on the fire fighters' danger scale. Much of the upper peninsula has had no rain for three weeks. Some parts have had none since before the Fourth of July.

Travelers in the high hazard areas are being asked to take particular care with campfires and smoking tobacco.

While pheasant hunters are concerned about the scarcity of pheasants, one gardener in Allen Park, a Detroit suburb, has complained of too many, and has obtained a conservation department permit for control of those damaging his tomatoes, sweet corn and melons.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Reid and family have returned from a three weeks trip to Memphis, Tenn., and Marion, Ark.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Stein of Los Angeles, Calif., a daughter on July 2nd, Sheldon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stein, former owners of the Drayton Soda Grill.

Over eighty members of the Patterson-Bennett families attended the forty-third annual reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nell Gundry last Sunday. Guests were from Michigan, Ohio and Missouri. Harry Doyina of Kansas City, Mo., traveled the greatest distance to attend. This is the first time that he has been able to be present. At the business meeting it was decided that the families will get together in Chesterfield, Ohio, next year.

Jimmy O'Berry is the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Bailey this week at their home at Whipple Lake on Pine Knob Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Shell are the parents of a son, Douglas Gerald, born Saturday, August 16 at St. Joseph Mercy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Schoenhals and family spent last week as guests of Mr and Mrs. Winfred Stimson and son, Richard, at their cabin on Cedar Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brandes of Avoca, Iowa, have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. James Vandersall and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Vandersall, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Vandersall and family of Story, Iowa, are visiting at the James Vandersall home.

Cheri Lou, Barbara Lee and LeVillie Purdy and Robert Surre spent last week at Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Oakes announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Robert L. Aiken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Aiken of Pontiac Lake.

Mrs. Anna Brown left Monday to spend the week in Detroit with her brother, Andrew Gordon and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ball entertained at a birthday dinner on Saturday evening honoring Mrs. Marvin Lewis of Pontiac. Nine guests enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Mrs. Lewis received many lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Miller, Mrs. Ann Nice and Mr. Henry Ball of London, Ontario, stopped at the Robert Ball home for a few days last week on their way home after visiting in Duluth. Mr. and Mrs. Ball accompanied them to their home in Ontario for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Barber and family, Harvey Beach, Jimmy Sutton, Barbara Krem, Barbara Roadway, Tilly Neilson, Helen Cleveland, Mary Lou Falkner, Rose Mary Wilson, Lucille Hangee, Gordon and Anna Brown left Tuesday for Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, to attend the 50th National Convention of the United Presbyterian Youth from Aug. 20 to 24.

The Drayton Plains group of the Home Extension Club held its annual picnic at the summer home of Mrs. Charles Williams at Williams Lake on Wednesday, August 13. Special guests were Mrs. Charles Nolan, Sr., of Dallas, Texas, Mrs. Milton Reddeman of Oxbow Lake and Mrs. Donald Herr, all former members of the group.

Mrs. Milton Reddeman and daughter, Marjorie, entertained at their home at Oxbow Lake, twenty-two members of the Pontiac and Drayton Plains P. T. A. singers. At seven o'clock a lovely pot-luck dinner was served. After dinner the group had a good time consuming an extra large watermelon. The evening was spent visiting and preparing to start the fall music practice which will start on September 16. The group will hold their next picnic with Mrs. Lyla Taber at Walter Lake on September 9th.

Red Cross News

Total attendance at the summer water safety program of the Oakland County Chapter American Red Cross which ended last week, was 5,654 according to Mark Smith chairman of water safety. Instruction was given at 19 beaches and pools of the county once a week for eight weeks. Beginner, intermediate, swimmer and advanced swimmer certificates were awarded to those who completed the various tests. Senior and Junior life saving certificates were also awarded. In addition to this program three volunteers have directed classes at Twin Beach. Bradford Kempton, Bill Jackson and Neil Wasserberger have been responsible for these classes. Many Oakland County camps have placed Red Cross instructors in charge of swimming during the camp period.

Mr. Smith states that frequent drownings during the summer months show the lack of knowledge, on the part of many individuals, of the hazards involved in any aquatic activity. The chapter for this reason offers each summer the opportunity for training in swimming and water safety.
