CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1947

NUMBER 1

Biggest And Best Parade Monday

The Clarkston Rotary Club can well be proud of the Labor Day parade. Without a doubt it was the biggest and best parade ever held here. From start to finish it was gay and interesting. With the colors and the boy and girl scouts leading the way the rest of the participants fell into line ready for a good time.

Bill Radoye and his band made a good showing and they are to be congratulated. Some of the musicians hadn't even had a practice. Everyone was delighted with the beautiful horses and ponies. Some of the riders wore very costly outfits. Then too, among the attractions were dogs, cats, a rabbit and a duck. These all helped to make the parade more interesting.

The children as well as the adults had a good time. Some of the costumes were very original and entailed a lot of preparation. First prizes went to Sharon and Elaine Crosby as Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy; Janet Sue and Johnny Willoughby as The Old Woman who lived in a shoe and Humpty-Dumpty; the Robertson Court children and Susan Cleland. Second prizes went to Lanny Leak, Stuelen O'Dell and Mary Lynn Muma, Lela Jones and Sally Forritt and Carol Collins. Third prizes were awarded to Rose Sarvis, Ronny Walter, Michael Thayer and Sharon Hoyt. Fourth prizes went to Janet Heineman, Gail Reese, Ruth Mahieu, Peggy Carvey and Gary Craven.

Receiving honorable mention was a Naval Reserve "Duck", the Clarkston Fire truck and the Standard Oil trucks. All of these entries made the parade bigger and better.

The Rotarians were on the job with refreshments for those in the parade and many of the little tots who were not in the parade got balloons. Many of the children had a ride on the Mill Pond in the Duck.

Right now many folks are starting to plan what they will do for the parade next year. Many have mentioned the idea of floats. Regardless of what is done everyone will look forward to next year's parade.

Payment in such cases will be made by full check to the next-of-kin of the deceased or the incompetent veteran.

Talk About High Prices

A few weeks ago a Canadian goose happened to fly in the vicinity of Lake Orion where a fellow was handy with a gun. His aim was good. Another fellow in a speed-boat retrieved the bird and a third fellow cleaned and dressed the goose and put it in the refrigerator in his home. Soon word got to the conservation department and then prices started to go up. The fellow who did the shooting paid $107. The second fellow who retrieved it was fined $32, and the third fellow who thought he was going to have a real meal had to pay a fine of $32.

The goose was taken from the refrigerator in the third fellow's home and given to a family on welfare.

Elusive Time

Like wings that soar thru air, the time has passed
It left naught in its wake that long will last.
Almost unnoticed thru our busy day.

Time quietly but quickly slipped away.
Nor has the sages of the earth yet learned
A way to have lost time make its return.

So suddenly we jar ourselves awake
To realize we've made the great mistake
Of letting time pass by with little heed
In doing things to meet a timely need.

Unto ourselves we make a solemn vow
Next time we'll do it differently somehow.
We'll make the most of time while it is here
Enjoying each season of each year.

But know we'll be too much involved in strife
To wrest from time the blessings made for life.

carries two men and may be operated with either wheels or skis on the front end. It is only about half as heavy as the army's better known "Weasel". The wide treads of the track at the rear of the vehicle so distribute the weight that pressure on the snow is about three-quarters of a pound per square inch.

Since 1936 motor toboggans, air-plane-propeller driven sleds and a variety of tracked vehicles have had experimental trials in deer-yard survey work, but none proved practical in the deep snows of thickly wooded swamps. Game men will test the new snow tractor in deeryards throughout the upper peninsula in the coming winter.

Two fox hunters of Caro are learning all about foxes by raising them from pups. The study started when Herb Sheardy caught a female two months old at the same time Ken Raymond caught a male of about the same age nearly a year ago. This spring the two had five pups. Raymond is keeping three of them, Sheardy has two in a pen near the barn.

Harold Tubbs, distric game manager, says the pups play with a young dog and are tame enough to be picked up by their keeper when no strangers are around.

Ten little servants, waiting in a line,
Call one to do the wash—and still you have nine!

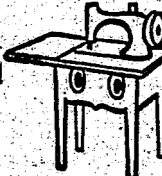

Nine little servants, working long and late,
Ask one to cook your meals—and still you have eight!

Eight little servants—working like eleven!
Call on one to clean for you, and still you have seven!

Seven little servants—you don't need candlesticks
When this one lights the house for you—and still you have six!

Six little servants, electrically alive,
This one sews a handy seam—and still you have five!

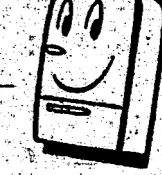

Five little servants to help with every chore;
One can iron all the shirts—and still you have four!

Four little servants—such activity!
One breathes a little breeze—and still you have three!

Three little servants—if you're feeling blue,
One will entertain you—and still you have two!

Two little servants, whose work is never done!
One keeps the food fresh, and thinks it's rather fun—

One tells the proper time from sun to setting sun.

And saves you lots of elbow grease. Suppose you had none?)

County Agent Warns About Winter Wheat

Farmers in Oakland County were warned this week by county agricultural agent Karl D. Bailey, that the seeding of soft winter wheat before September 17 is dangerous.

This date was established as the best for this area by Michigan State college specialists who set wheat seeding dates which avoid damage by the Hessian fly.

Although some farmers claim to have planted earlier and escaped damage, it must be remembered that the fly is not prevalent every year. The agent adds that this may be a year when the larvae of the Hessian fly are around to damage the wheat in the seedling stage.

Mr. Bailey advised farmers to plant certified seed and added that tested and approved seed is available this year. Grain elevators ordinarily have a supply but if not, the agent has a list of available sources at the county extension office. Varieties recommended for this county are Yorkwin.

Study Courses Offered Veterans

Nearly 200 complete educational courses, ranging from high school subjects to automobile mechanics, are available to ill and disabled veterans in the nine Veterans Administration hospitals in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky.

The courses, obtained from the U. S. Armed Forces Institute, are offered to patients as part of VA's educational therapy program.

In addition to academic high school material, the courses cover a complete variety of vocational and pre-vocational technical subjects, such as poultry raising, photography, radio repair and plastics.

Commercial subjects include bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, filing systems and problems of operating a small business.

While some veterans in hospitals are completing their high school education, others are taking business subjects which they hope to utilize after their discharge.

Ice Cream Industry Expands Rapidly

The ice cream industry of Michigan is rapidly expanding to its pre-war status. The number of licensed dealers in the state has increased from 632 on March 1, 1947 to 655 at the present date, and will probably reach 700 before the end of the year. During the war many ice cream manufacturers discontinued due to curtailment in the use of dairy products and sugar. The number of manufacturers decreased from 817 in 1941 to 603 in 1945. Several of these establishments have re-opened and many entirely new plants have already opened or are under construction, according to F. W. Skiver, Chief of the Bureau of Dairying.

Frozen Custard is one of the types of ice cream that is attracting considerable attention. Years ago this type of ice cream was made with plenty of eggs, and was frozen in the old hand freezer. Many of the new plants are dispensing custard ice cream direct to the consumer from the new type fast freezing machines. Michigan Ice Cream Law defines Frozen Custard as ice cream containing five dozen eggs for each 90 pounds of mix - about 6 eggs per gallon of ice cream. Skiver explained the State Law requires that all places making Frozen Custard or any other type of ice cream must be approved, and licensed by the Department of Agriculture. Continual checks are made by inspectors on all ice cream plants, and several of the machines operating temporarily with concessions at the fairs have been closed because they could not meet the sanitary requirements and standards of state laws.

More stringent checks are also being made on the sanitation and handling of products going into ice cream. The temperature of the mix must be maintained at 50 percent or less while in storage and transportation. Skiver stated that while the food value of some ice cream has continually improved since the war, analysis of samples show that a few dealers insist on whipping too much air into their products. By whipping too much air into the ice cream the manufacturer merely replaces the food value of the ice cream with air, which is a definite fraud upon the consumer. Manufacturers neglecting to control the quality and standards of their products are being warned and prosecuted.

Director of Agriculture, Charles Figy, stated that the present standards for food solids in ice cream are extremely lenient and the Department of Agriculture cannot permit the sale of products which are below the minimum requirements of the law. Figy says that for the general good of the dairy industry and the consumer the food solids requirements of the ice cream law should be raised.

Keep Peach Flavor By Freezing

To preserve that fresh peach flavor for next winter, freeze some of the plentiful crop now. Several Michigan varieties are recommended for freezing.

J. H. Hale, Halehaven, Fertile Hale and Elberta varieties are suggested for freezing by Pauline Paul, Michigan State college frozen food specialist. Select fruit at the firm ripe stage, but before it reaches the soft ripe stage.

Choose perfect fruit and prepare rapidly to prevent browning. Peel the peaches by putting them in boiling water. Plunge them in cold water and rub off peelings. Remove the pits and cut each half in 4 or 6 pieces. Pack quickly in containers, leaving as little head space as possible.

Cover the fruit in the containers with a 50 percent sirup using equal amounts of sugar and water. A crumpled wad of waxed paper placed under the lid of the container just before closing will help to hold the fruit under the sirup. This will prevent browning of the peaches on top.

Another way to help prevent browning is to add ascorbic acid in crystal form to the sirup. Use 3/4 teaspoon of ascorbic acid to each quart of sirup. If you buy ascorbic acid in tablet form, use 1,000 milligrams to each quart of sirup.

If you prefer the flavor, use corn sirup, honey or other sweetening. Some people prefer a combination of sweetening agents.

Simple Precautions Keep Eggs Clean

Prevention rather than cure is the watchword when it comes to producing clean eggs, says J. M. Moore, extension poultryman at Michigan State college.

Prevention means constant attention to possible causes and taking steps to eliminate and correct them. Among the common causes of dirty eggs are wet or muddy ranges, unclean floors in henhouses, infrequent change of litter on henhouse floors, unclean or insufficient nests, and overcrowding of hen houses. All of these causes may be kept under control.

Confining hens each day until noon or at least until the eggs are gathered usually answers the problem of dirty eggs which results from wet or muddy ranges. Wire cloth having a 2-inch mesh fixed under perches and over dropping boards will prevent hens from carrying filth to the nests. The use of clean, dry litter and frequent renewal of the litter answers the problem of keeping henhouse floors clean. Overcrowding of henhouses can be avoided by allowing at least three and one-half to four square feet of floor space for each hen and at least one nest for every five hens.

The problem of dirty or soiled eggs is largely one for the producer to solve. Care should be taken because dirty or soiled eggs are likely to spoil quickly if not cleaned properly.

Moore maintains that producing clean eggs in the first place is a better practice than trying to clean up the dirty or soiled eggs so they will be presentable for market.

Prepare Early For Wheat Seedbed

Early plowing of oat stubble for fall seeding of winter wheat is recommended by E. D. Longnecker, extension soil specialist at Michigan State college.

Preparation of wheat seedbeds differs from other soil preparation only in that the operation occurs at a season of the year when the moisture condition may not be most favorable.

The specialist points out that the first objective is to obtain a good seedbed pulverized to a point where the seed will make close contact with the soil. The soil must also contain adequate moisture in the surface layer to cause germination. Tillage should also be adequate to eliminate growing weeds and previous crop residues.

There has always been an argument whether to plow or disk for wheat, and Longnecker believes both have good points. If you plow, experiments show the seven-inch depth is best.

If a test proves your soil needs lime, an excellent time to apply it is in advance of the wheat crop. It can be applied either before or after plowing or disking with equal results. Because the soil is more compact before tillage, it is easier to haul the limestone before turning under the stubble.

Antlerless Deer Hunted Dec. 1-10

Applications to participate in the seventh season of antlerless deer hunting in the 24,000 acre crop damage tract in Allegan county December 1-10 are being accepted now by the conservation department.

Closing date for applications is October 5 and a lottery is scheduled for October 11 to determine which of the "outsiders" applying will get permits. Only 300 permits are issued, and "insiders" may obtain them without risking their luck in the lottery. "Insiders" this year include residents of the hunting area and the owners, lessees and sharecroppers operating farms in the area that furnish the major portion of their livelihood.

A year ago, 1,059, including about 40 residents, applied for permits; 262 hunted, killing 37 deer.

Applications are made on forms available on request from the conservation department's game division in Lansing, and at Plainwell and Allegan. They must be accompanied by check, draft or money order for $3.50; the new deer hunting license fee. Winners may use the same license to hunt in the regular deer season but disqualify themselves if they get a buck then.

GOOD RECORDS ARE MEANT TO BE BEATEN

★ The infantile death rate in the United States is very low. From 1934 to 1936 we ranked seventh in the world, led only by New Zealand, Holland, Australia, Norway, Switzerland, and Sweden.
Yet 70,000 infants die annually in the first month of life, and 53,000 more from the second to the twelfth month. How many of these precious infants might have lived had their mothers had adequate prenatal care under the direction of a competent physician?
It is now up to the mothers to take advantage of the knowledge and skill of the physician during the trying months of pregnancy. We are ready to supply the needed dietary supplements and other medication ordered by your physician.

Hospitals Conduct Sports By Wire

Telegraphic tournaments have created a new zest for sports activities among hospitalized war veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky.

Keen interest in various sports has developed among hundreds of veterans confined to the nine Veterans Administration hospitals in the area as a result of tri-state competition.

The telegraphic meets are one aspect of a broad sports and games program which is part of the rehabilitation of veterans at each hospital.

Telegraphic meets are conducted at the hospitals during a specified week each month. The results are wired to the VA's Branch Office in Columbus, Ohio. The Special Services Division compiles the standings and relays them to the competing hospitals so that each team knows how it is progressing in the tournament.

Telegraphic tournaments are conducted in 13 sports activities, including track and field events, swimming, softball, archery, horseshoes, golf, shuffleboard, darts, ring toss, croquet, red-ball, basketball and wheel-chair racing. All patients must be medically authorized to take part in any of these events. Team trophies and individual awards are given to the winning hospitals on a three-month championship basis.

The telegraphic meets have developed eager enthusiasm, convalescent assistance and a higher morale among the hospitalized veterans, VA officials report.

The nine VA hospitals are located at Cleveland, Brecksville, Dayton and Chillicothe, Ohio; Ft. Custer and Dearborn, Michigan and Lexington and Outwood, Kentucky.

yard, but they do not associate with his white leghorns. The hen pheasant that reared the three in the wild has not been seen for some time. Where she got the young domestic chicks is not known, but the nearest barred rock flock is more than half a mile from the farm now sheltering the adopted ones.

HOT WEATHER FISH STORIES: A fish that squeaked when landed at dusk by a Petoskey angler fly fishing for trout proved on examination to be a bat. On Commerce lake, Oakland county, a fisherman tried to stop a bullhead from bouncing about by beating it on the side of the boat. It was a rubber boat. The bullhead's horns pierced the boat's fabric, sank it.

Several hundred picnic tables, the last of a year's production of 1,800, are cut, fitted and varnished in the warehouse of the conservation department's parks division at Grayling, but deliveries are limited. The warehouse is shipping them a dozen or so at a time, as the necessary bolts to hold them together can be obtained.

The big timber of Porcupine Mountains state park was still untouched as forest fire fighters, aided by showers Sunday, held the region's worst fire of the year under control within fire lines, but not yet out.

Winds up to 25 miles an hour had pushed the fire to the Lake Superior shore along a two and a half mile front west of the park. The fire covered an area of 2,000 to 2,700 acres, but left several unburned "islands" in its wake, the conservation department reports.

Twenty bulldozers, more than ever were assembled before to fight a Michigan fire, and 250 men worked day and night through the heat wave to keep the flames out of the park's rare stand of virgin hardwood. Conservation department officials report excellent cooperation from lumber companies in fighting the fire.

Elsewhere in the upper peninsula forest fires were numerous and the hazard continues high. Besides berry pickers, fishermen, campers and tourists, plane pilots now are being asked to take exceptional care with fire during the emergency. Fire fighters who packed in equipment to put out a fire in an inaccessible spot in Schoolcraft county found no evidence of lightning or of anyone's having been in the area, believed a cigaret from a plane passing over could have started it.

Shipment of a million and a half hunting licenses is proceeding on schedule and all 3,000 license dealers will be supplied with licenses, back tags and seals by mid-September, the conservation department reports. Major hunting season starting dates are October 1 for grouse in the upper peninsula, October 7 for ducks over the entire state, October 15 for pheasants in southern Michigan and November 15 for the regular gun hunting of deer.

Eliminate hazards around the farm and home that may be the cause of a serious accident to you or members of your family.

'Contest Winner "Brands" His Prize

A pioneer of the auto industry, hunted throughout the nation in a contest to discover the oldest Chevrolet truck in America, turned up, appropriately, in the possession of a Montana homesteader. The venerable vehicle, vintage of 1918, was still serving Rancher Leslie A. Storey, of Jordan, Mont., whose ranch lies 18 miles from a typical "last frontier" town. The award for owning the oldest licensed and operating truck was a new Chevrolet "advance-design" model, which Storey "brands" here with his distinctive Circle-Heart brand. It was presented to him by J. W. Burke, manager of Chevrolet's truck department, as Mrs. Storey and Montana cowgirl Merle Spears (right) look on. Nearly 7,000 old-time Chevrolet trucks were entered in the contest won by this vehicle, which was one of 384 built by the division in 1918, its first year of truck production.

YOWS SPOKEN IN NORTH CAROLINA

At a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, August 16th, Emma Elizabeth Tally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal B. Tally of Fuquay Springs, N. C., became the bride of Donald Appleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Appleton of Drayton Plains.

The rites were read in the Fuquay Springs Baptist Church by the Reverend Walton M. Page. The double ring ceremony was performed before a beautifully decorated altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a high-neckline and a yoke of marquisette edged with seed pearls and a fitted bodice. Her full skirt fell into a circular train. Her triple-veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and extended beyond the train of her skirt. She carried a fan shaped bouquet of bridal roses shawped with tube roses and centered with a purple throated orchid.

Mrs. C. V. Tally, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor and Elizabeth Keith was maid of honor. They wore identical gowns of pastel lavender marquisette styled with fitted bodice, off-shoulder necklines, full skirts and bustles.

The bridesmaids were Hepsie Utley, Gladys Fish, Jane Gunyer and Evelyn O'Neil. Their dresses were pale green marquisette. Don Marie, sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl.

Mr. Appleton was assisted by his brother, Harold J. Appleton as best man and groomsmen were William Royal Tally, Jr., Robert E. Detheridge and Ward Ostrander of Pontiac.

Mrs. Appleton attended Bob Jones college in Cleveland, Tenn., and received her A.B. degree from Meredith college in 1946. Since then she has been teaching in Ellington, N.C.

Mr. Appleton attended Bob Jones college and in June received his A.B. degree from Roosevelt college in Chicago, where he has also been attending Northern Baptist Theological seminary. At present he has a pastorate in Wisconsin.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. R. J. B. Tally entertained at a lawn reception for 150 guests.

After September 1st the newlyweds are residing in Chicago.

Duck Hunters To Get More Rest

Duck hunters, traditionally early risers, may sleep later this season. The very earliest shooting hour is 6:34 a. m. and in the last week of the 30-day season, on the western side of the state, shooting will not start before 7:35 a. m. Opening day they may sleep latest of all, as shooting starts that day at noon.

The official shooting timetable for the migratory bird season, prepared by the conservation department, shows the closing hour varies from 5:29 p. m. in the west part of the state in the first week to 4:20 p. m. in the east part of the state in the final week.

Federal regulations that knocked half an hour off each end of the shooting day allowed last year provide that this season wildfowlers shoot only from sunrise to one hour before sunset. The eastern standard time equivalents of these starting and stopping points have been computed for eight zones across the state in each week of the season. Copies of the table will be available to hunters before the season opens October 7.
