Forester Predicts

Michigan can expect a gradual and continual decrease in most duct the feeding tests, types of wildlife, according to Paul A. Herbert, head of the forestry department at Michigan State college.

Forty years ago foresters were predicting a timber famine, Herbert points out. The years have proved those predictions correct. Today we can predict a wildlife famine with equal confidence, he believes.

Most of the large forms of wild life of major interest to the tourist and hunter require cover and food of a kind that is rapidly disappearing in Michigan, Without such protective cover and food it is inevitable that a large part of the wildlife will starve or be destroyed.

According to Herbert, clean farming and the increase in tlairy farming reduce both food and cover of farm game animals and birds. On the non-agricultural areas which are growing up into dense forests the same reduction can be predicted because the species of trees that grow over most of Michigan do not produce much food for wildlife. The dense tree stands, as they grow older, shade out most of the plants that furnish - both food and shelter to most kinds of forest wildlife,

A wildlife famine cannot be entirely avoided but it could be made much less severe if all persons connected with wildlife came to a realistic grip with the problem. Herbert believes this is unlikely and says, "My prediction of a wildlife famine within 40 years stands".

Subsistence Loans For Veterans

Veterans attending Michigan colleges this fall who are faced with a sixty day delay in obtaining federal subsistence checks the Veterans Administration may obtain a Student Subsistence Loan from the State Office of Veterans' Affairs, Lan-

These loans are made solely for the purpose of providing the veteran with subsistence during the period between his enrollment and the date of the receipt of his first federal subsistence check.

Eligibility for such loans is confined to veterans, who, at the time of induction, were bona fide residents of this state and who are now engaged in a course of instruction at a school located in the state of Michigan,

The amount of the loan will not exceed $65.00 for a single veteran, or $90.00 for a married

Student Subsistence Loans should be initiated and cleared through the veterans at the school. In cases where the school does not have this service the veteran should make application for the loan at the nearest community counseling center, or write to the State Office of Veterans' Affairs, 411 W. Michigan, Lansing, Michigan.

Use More Protein In Pigs' Feed

Little pigs thrive and make excellent gains on high protein feed mixtures, says W. N. McMillen, extension animal husbandry spegalist at Michlgan State college.

MSC tests have shown that "stunting" of little pigs may be caused by rations too low in protein. To find out how protein affected pigs gaining weight, Mc-Millen worked with Dr. R. W. Wildlife Famine Luecke, agricultural research chemist and Dr. Frank Thorpe, Jr., research veterinarian, to con-Weanling pigs, six weeks old were fed different amounts of protein along with grain. The pigs fed a 14-percent protein ration consumed a pound-and-a half of feed per day but gained an average of only one-third of a pound per day, Pigs fed more Jhan 20-percent protein gained more than a pound a day eating about two-and-one-third pounds of feed.

Three times the gain was made with less than twice the amount of feed.

McMillen points out that farmers can well afford to feed plenty of supplement to little oigs today because there is little difference in the price of supplement and grain.

Protein needs vary according to the size of the pigs. Part of the protein should be of animal origin, especially that fed to pigs weighing less than 75 pounds.

Run-Off Causes Loss Of Soil

Some of the figures about soil erosion are pretty startling, but hey're true, nevertheless.

Leonard Braamse, soil specialist at Michigan State college reports that a test in Livingston county on a seven percent slope showed there was 200 times more soil lost by erosion on up and down hill cultivation as there was on red clover-brome plots. During some heavy showers 60 to 75 percent of the rain ran off. This heavy run-off caused the great soil loss.

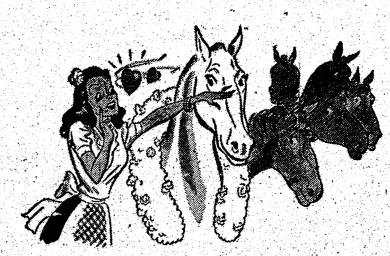

Lack of iodine in the soil is associated) with the prevalence of goiter.

Good crop rotation is an important step in a land manage ment program.

The marketing of farm products means peak service for farm trucks and increases chances for accidents. About one and one-half million or 30 percent of all privately owned trucks are now owned by farmers, points out Karl D. Bailey, county agricultural agent.

The number of farm trucks reported in 1945 shows more than 40 percent gain over 1940, and reports of the National Safety Council also show that farm motor vehicle accident fatalities are increasing rapidly. The seven thousand, farm residents killed in motor vehicle accidents during 1946 represent a 27 percent increase over 1945. In addition, there were 250,000 non-fatal farm motor vehicle injuries during 1946.

One of the first rules of interior decorating during hot weather is to keep things to a maximum of simplicity. Here both comfort and good decorating have been employed. For cool writing comfort, the desk has been placed near the window. Glass curtains have been removed in order to let in any passing cool air, simple draperies have been used and crisp looking striped window shades shield the room from the direct rays of the sun. During the warm part of the day the window is kept closed and the shade is drawn to the sill. According to actual tests, rooms can be kept 10 to 20 degrees cooler by the simple expedient of drawing the shades.
