CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1947

Death Comes Suddenly To Prominent Citizen

Funeral Service For George D. King Will Be Sunday Afternoon

George Dorn King, prominent in Oakland County banking circles and President of the Clarkston State Bank, passed away suddenly, Wednesday, November 12, at eleven o'clock p. m. at his Boynton Beach home in Florida. With him at the time of his death were Mrs. King and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Schurz of Clarkston. Mr. King had been ill for the past eighteen months with a heart ailment, and had arrived in Boynton Beach for the winter just a few hours before he was stricken.

Mr. King was born July 20, 1887, at Fisher's Landing, Minnesota, the son of Reverend and Mrs. Samuel King. His childhood was spent in Juno, Alaska, where his parents were Presbyterian missionaries.

His banking career started in South Bend, Indiana, at the age of 16. In 1907 he married Mazy Daly and came to Detroit to accept a position in the Old Detroit National Bank. March 14, 1914 the Clarkston State Bank was organized and he accepted the position of cashier. Under his steady tutelage the bank increased in size to its present status of over three million dollars. He was made president on January 12, 1937.

Mr. King was a member of the Methodist Church in Clarkston; Cedar Lodge No. 60, F. & A. M.; Rotary International, Oakland County Bankers Association, and the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents. He also owned and operated King's Insurance Agency.

George was civic-minded and always had the interests of this community at heart. He had served on the Clarkston Village Council, the Independence Township Board and had been a member of many committees which had as their purpose the betterment of the village and community.

He disliked for anything to distract from the appearance of the place where he lived and had either built or associated with others in the building of some of the better buildings on Main Street.

He was always glad to welcome newcomers to town and to assist them in getting started. His advice was sought by many on varied matters. No one was ever turned away if he could be of help to them.

His idea of a successful business man was one who was thinking of his business twenty-four hours a day. Those who knew him will agree that his mind was on his business that same amount of time. His one desire was to be just in his dealings. He was considered a good banker and one often heard the remark that the bank was president of was a "strong" bank. Although ailing for some time he was constantly thinking of some idea that might improve the bank in some way.

Besides his widow, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Isabel K. Bullen and Mrs. Phyllis Robinson, and three grandchildren, Tommy Bullen, Kay and Georgia Robinson, all of Clarkston.

A prayer service was held in Boynton Beach, this morning.

Mrs. Bullen, who went to Boynton Beach by plane on Thursday to be with her mother, will return to Clarkston with her this evening.

The funeral services in Clarkston are tentatively set for Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the Clarkston Methodist Church with burial in Lakeview Cemetery. The body will lie in state in the lobby of the Clarkston State Bank before the services.

The Sharpe Funeral Home in Clarkston and Harold Kennedy of Wayne, Michigan will care for all arrangements.

Program Planned For P. T. A.

The Clarkston P.T.A. will meet at the school next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. There will be a short business meeting which will be followed by folk dancing directed by Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Siddall of "Harmony Valley". This program will be just a little different than the average and will be interesting.

Refreshments will be served by the fifth grade room mothers, Mrs. John Turek and Mrs. Elmer Collins.

Wolves End Season With 33-0 Loss

With ten seniors playing their last high school football Friday, Clarkston ended their season by absorbing a 33-0 loss from Lake Orion.

Playing at night for the first time, the Wolves were scored upon by the Dragons after four plays, and after that practically the whole game was dominated by the Orion boys. They scored one touchdown in each of the first two quarters and climaxed the game with three in the last period. Lake Orion ran their right side of the line for almost every touchdown and showed a powerful running attack all around. All Clarkston could do was to run the ends and pass. Many fumbles accounted for a large number of losses for the wolves.

Playing their last high school game were linemen Greathouse, Kidder, Bird, Ludwig, Jenks and Anderson. Backs appearing in their last game were Trim, Longair, McGee, and Doyle.

Basketball practice started this week with the first game slated for December 5 with Lake Orion at Lake Orion.

The Clarkston Rotary club was entertained Monday evening by the showing of home-made sound films. Mr. Al Palmer, of Pontiac, was the guest speaker. This sound is developed by synchronizing a record with the film. Mr. Palmer showed pictures of his western trip through the Yellowstone. His unique device and beautiful pictures were enjoyed by all.

Guest Rotarians included Dick Hills and Ken Oakes from the Waterford - Drayton club; Jack Hamilton and Arnold Nique from the Ortonville club; Leigh Bonner and Fred Groven Jr. were guests of Fred Groven. Mr. Frank Cowley, former-star track man, was the guest of Gerald O'Dell. Don Stackable was accompanied by his former Marine buddy Steve Schuster.

Hunters Register For Emergency Calls

With the northward trek to the woods well under way, deer hunters are taking full advantage of the new service offered by the State Conservation Department and Michigan State Police to register their camp locations so that they can be reached in an emergency occurs at home.

The plan provides that hunters register at the Conservation headquarters or State Police post nearest their camp. Before leaving home they should inform their families, or office, or both where they will register. Then if an emergency occurs, all that is necessary is for those at home to notify the Conservation headquarters or State Police post nearest to them, and the message will be sent by radio to the station of registration and from there delivered by an officer to the individual's camp. There is no fee for the service.

By the Way...

It was Tuesday morning. Your writer called on the comptroller of a busy company to confer on a piece of printing that was needed in a rush. Hardly had he entered the office when all was confusion with the heads of two departments converging on the time clock. Wondering what was the matter, we tagged along. At the clock, they waited until 11:00 a. m., then pushed a button and a siren started calling all workers to a reverent pause. In life's busy rush we had forgotten that Tuesday was Armistice day. The executive who started the siren was a member of the First Division, World War I. The other, a veteran of World War II. Following the moment of silence, a short siren called the workers back to their work. Then the three of us spent a few minutes thinking of those who had gone to war in our particular groups—those who did not come back. What a beautiful tribute to our departed—a moment of silence in their memory, once a year as years go on, and on, and on. We have been waiting for a full report before mentioning the Halloween party given by the Clarkston Motor Sales for the "small fry". We can now tell you that it was a huge success. They were in a class by themselves, and had a much better time than they would have had with the slightly older youth for whom the Rotary and school Halloween party was designed. They played the games they liked. They bobbed for apples, ate pop corn and fried cakes and drank sweet cider, and in between they munched on real old fashioned ginger candy. Prizes for costumes as well as winning games kept the interest high. From our interview we somehow gleaned the idea that perhaps Mr. and Mrs. Al Poole had as much if not more fun than the youngsters. Personally we would vouch that a new annual event has been started. Saturday as we were talking our black cocker "Doc" on his demanded run through the fields, we suffered that pleasant ailment—you can name your state, but in our case it is called "Florida sand in our shoes". We can understand why so many citizens, annually go south. The cure for "sand in your shoes" is so pleasant. The deer hunters are away to the north. One beautiful thought is that if our pressman is a deer hunter, our other assistant likes fishing. While we believe in both these sports, it would be bad for a newspaper if all the workers liked both. However, the hunters have a lot of enthusiasm—so here is more power to them. On Wednesday morning when Mrs. Durand Ogden went into her garden to plant tulips she was surprised to see delphinium and viola blooms. She was able to pick quite a pretty bouquet. No doubt this will be the last blooms for the season. A crowd was assembled on a dock in the early days of Philadelphia bemoaning the fact that a poor drayman had lost his team of horses, the team having fallen off the dock and drowned. Stephen Girard, of banking fame came along, found out what was the matter and immediately placed a bill on a pile of boxes and said "I feel that sorry". Following that example, the crowd soon collected enough to help the drayman buy a new team. This story was told to the writer by the late George D. King and perhaps best explains his desire to help others, in a concrete way, in times of trouble.

ANDERSON-SKINNER RITES READ IN PONTIAC

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Pontiac was the scene of a very pretty wedding on November first when Marjorie Mae Anderson became the bride of Clyde Skinner at a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Philip A. Jordan, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church of Waterford. The parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Anderson of Waterford and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Skinner of Pontiac.

Approximately 250 guests saw the bride advance down the aisle on the arm of her father, as Mrs. J. R. Berryman played the traditional music. She was beautiful in a candlelight satin gown accented with a net yolk embroidered in seed pearls. A tika of seed pearls held the silk net veil in place. Her bouquet was fashioned of chrysanthemums, carnations and gardenias.

Mrs. Mary Buck Lindquist sang "Because", "Always", and "The Lord's Prayer" and was accompanied by Mrs. Berryman.

Norma Forsythe, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a long dress of teal taffeta and carried a contrasting bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Fuschia gowns were worn by the bridesmaids, Mrs. William Siver, Sara Lou Lehban, Bernice Wells, and Peggy Forsythe, cousin of the bride. Each bridesmaid carried pink chrysanthemums, Little Beverly Morey was flower girl and looked very sweet in a long baby blue taffeta dress.

 All matters handled through the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.
 Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.
 We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper each week.

STUDENT COUNCIL NEWS

Last week during our Student Council meeting we passed two laws concerning hall conduct and noon hour activities. One law was that the gym should be kept locked on days when it is nice enough to be on the out side. Another law was that anyone found cluttering or defacing school property should be brought before the Student Council for proper punishment. A tentative Annual Staff was appointed, with Mrs. Beach as the sponsor. Mary Keelean, Editor; Dick Doyle, Business Manager; with Bob Fell as assistant; Art Editor; Mary Beattie with Mary Lee Volberding as assistant; Boy's Sports, Wayne Longair with Dave Leak as assistant; Music, Lewis Masters; Photography, Dean Anderson; Girl's Sports, Pat A. Watson with Regina Jennings, as the assistant.

The Student Council will sponsor a talk by a foreign correspondent for the student body. It should be very good.

The Student Body would like to give their thanks to Mr. George Perry for the use of his truck and Mr. Whipple for the wood which added greatly to the bonfire on Halloween night.

The Council is talking up a big carnival for New Year's Eve with all the trimmings.

FIRST GRADE NEWS
The first grade has started to do work with numbers. We have learned to write by using figures and others with words.

We also have been drawing pictures portraying things of interest we have done. One of the main items of interest was the snow over the weekend.

SENIOR NEWS
Last Friday afternoon the town people were a little surprised to see, coming down the main street in full force, the Clarkston band in full dress followed by the entire high school body waving blue and gold banners. When the hilarious crowd reached O'Dell's Drug Store, they stopped and gave school cheers, led by Mary Porritt, Janet Keelean, and Marty Wager. The purpose of the unusual proceedings was to promote spirit for the last football game of the year to be played at Lake Orion under lights. Although we lost the game, I'm sure we will all agree there was a lot of school spirit. Our boys certainly looked good under lights!

Two of our class members, Gene Greathouse and Fred Mortimore, are now honorary members of the Naval Reserve. Fred left on Saturday for a two weeks' cruise on the U.S.S. Wisconsin. He left from New York and will travel to Haiti and Puerto Rico.

Clarkston school observed a few minutes of silence on Armistice Day as the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Taps".

The play is fully underway now and is but two weeks away. A few last minute touches must be added to "smooth over the play—"The Groom Said No".

"The Sullivan Brothers", a popular, true-life movie was shown Wednesday afternoon.

LATIN CLASSES
The Latin Classes are seeing some very interesting Ancient Rome slides. They are being shown by their instructor, Miss Mary Campbell.

Before starting the slides Bob Rose gave a very highlighting review of a forum, which is a market place. As the slides went on we saw the high walls, surrounding Rome, some of which were 20 and 30 feet high. We saw homes of the most famous people, Cathedrals, the Coliseum, etc.

Most of the places in the pictures were over 1400 years old.

M.S.C. Students Use 8 Foot Slide Rule
Demonstrations of slide rule technique at Michigan State college have taken on an out-sized aspect with the acquisition of an eight-foot slide-rule for classroom instruction.

The new rule is used in classes in engineering, mathematics and other technical courses where expert use of a slide rule is mandatory.

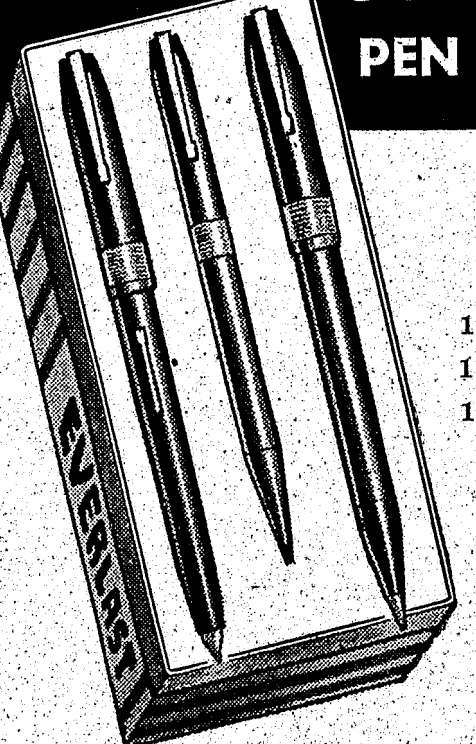

The first U. S. Naval officer to become an Admiral was David Glasgow Farragut, who was appointed to that rank July 25, 1866.

If your telephone grew in SIZE the way it's growing in VALUE...

It's a good thing we don't have to make your telephone bigger every time we make it possible for you to call more people. You'd have to move out of the house to make room for the telephone.

Each of these new telephones means someone else you can call. It may be a butcher, a baker, a hardware store, a doctor or lawyer or druggist. Or it may be a friend or relative you've not been able to reach until now.

Except for the increasing size of your telephone directory, you may not realize how the telephone system is being enlarged. We're adding thousands of new telephones every month.

The point is that each new telephone means more errands your telephone can run for you . . . more jobs it can do for you. It's getting more valuable every day.

Bronze Star Awards Now Available.

New rules, announced by the War Department embodied in a circular changing the Army Regulations respecting decorations, provide that all persons who in the period between Pearl Harbor and V.J. Day were cited individually for their part in ground combat will be eligible for award of the Bronze Star. In many cases, orders granting the Combat Infantryman's or Combat Medical badges will be sufficient supporting evidence to a man's claim for the medal. However, the combat badges must have been awarded in the period between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945.

Frequently during combat, field units issued general orders or formal certificates to individuals for their acts, and these, judged individually by the War Department on their merits, may also be used as support for the medal awards.

Applications for the award must be submitted to The Adjutant General, Washington 25, D. C. Application must cite par. 15e, AR 600-45, and a copy of the citation or order awarding the Combat Infantry or Combat Medical Badge must be enclosed. Reserve Commissions Warrant Officers, flight officers and enlisted personnel of the first three grades who served honorably for at least six months on active Federal service in the AUS or one of its components, between December 7, 1941 and June 30, 1947, may apply for a commission in the ORC. Regulations require applicants to be at least 21 years of age and that they must not have passed their 28th birthday at time of appointment in the Reserve.

Florists To Award M. S. C. Scholarship

To promote interest in careers floriculture, the Central Michigan Florists' Club will award a one hundred dollar scholarship to the Michigan State College junior showing the most promise in that field, it was announced by club officials.

The selections of candidates for the scholarship will be made by the staff at Michigan State college.

HOW DILLINGER WAS LED TO HIS DOOM

It's a great story proving that crime does not pay! Read Peter Levins' account of "DILLINGER AND THE WOMAN IN RED", in the startling recital about the ruthless killer, John Dillinger, beginning in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (November 16) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

TO THE VOTERS OF SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP

For a long time the residents of this Township have been without adequate fire protection. Now, thanks to the sales tax diversion amendment, there are ample funds on hand to provide that long needed fire protection.

Your Town Board has called a Special Election for December 9, 1947, so that the voters of the Township can decide whether or not they want the Town Board to spend not to exceed $9,000.00 from funds now on hand for the purchase of fire fighting equipment. We urge every voter in the Township to vote that day and express his or her desire in the matter and your Town Board will, of course, follow the results of the ballot.

Every member of the Township Board is in favor of purchasing this fire equipment and if the electors agree with them on December 9 we will promptly proceed to get the necessary equipment at the most favorable price.

Sixteen men from the vicinity of Davidsburg have already volunteered to man the equipment.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Prissy's Got a Man! (Maybe)
Yesterday Sis Martin, our librarian, found an article cut from their file copy of the Clarion. When she compared it with another copy that I gave her she found it was my column on "How-to-Keep-a-Husband Happy."
Nothing unusual about that. Except the last person seen reading the paper was Prissy Hopkins (our town's proverbial Old Maid)!
Well, if Prissy has finally got a man, more power to her. And more tolerance to both of them... because that's what my column was about: Tolerance of a husband's taste for old hats, old pipes, old friends, and mellow beer. And tolerance on the husband's part of a wife's tastes and habits.
From where I sit, nobody begrudges Prissy taking that clipping from the Clarion. But I'd like to hint that if she'd just subscribe, she'd get my thoughts on tolerance, firsthand. And in return I'll treat her to a glass of beer.

THE FINEST MEAL I EVER COOKED!
That's what Jim said after the first meal on our new electric range. And he's right. Postwar electric ranges are a vast improvement over older models. Ovens are better insulated. Heating units are more efficient. That means even faster cooking... lower cost.
You save extra time, too, with the automatic control that starts and stops your range by itself. Why, you can go shopping all day and have supper ready to serve when you return. And there's no heating up the kitchen... no soot or smoke to bother about.
These easy-to-use electric ranges are in stock right now at your local dealers. Be sure to see them soon.

More Jr. Colleges

Establishment of a state-wide regional junior college system on the basis of population and primarily under local control is advocated by Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State college system. Overcrowding of Michigan's four-year schools is creating an impossible situation, he said. "It will be impossible and impractionable to enlarge those colleges sufficiently to care for all those who seek and deserve admission." Dr. Hannah's position was summarized in this quotation from a recent speech: "In brief, I believe there should be a state-wide regional junior college organization, that would place a junior college within thirty-five miles of the maximum possible number of our total population with a minimum of 500 to 700 students per junior college. These junior colleges should be established and maintained to serve regions rather than individual municipalities; they should be under local control, with only enough state supervision to insure uniformity and coordination where required, and they should be operated as separate colleges, not as overgrown high schools."

He also believes these junior colleges should emphasize general education to lay the groundwork for entrance of students into upper schools.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING SERVICE AVAILABLE NOW

The development of the Artificial Breeding Association to serve Ortonville, Clarkston, Oxford, Rochester and Leonard areas is making very good progress. E. W. Alchin, assistant county agricultural agent reports that although recent membership meetings were not attended by large numbers of farmers, those who did attend signed their herds for service. Agent Alchin reports that over 250 cows have now been contracted for and that the association will probably get under way in December. He reports that Cecil Heimbauch, who is an artificial breeding inseminator for the Hadley area in Lapeer County will do the breeding work for the new association until a man can be trained later in the winter.

Those farmers who have signed herds for service are as follows: J. M. Lomerson, Lee B. Taylor, Walter Cook, Alvin Yonkers, Herman Weigold, C. Chatfield, B. D. Carpenter, Ray Berean, Clarence Porritt, Keith Middleton, E. J. Kearney, Morley Wright, Harry Garland, B. J. Arcand, F. G. Kennedy.

A good many other farmers are interested in signing up their herds according to Agent Alchin. Anyone desiring to make use of the fine proven sires available through this program can contact any of the above members or the Extension Service Office in Pontiac.

BUILDING PLANS AVAILABLE NOW

Farm families who expect to build a new house or remodel their present home or other farm buildings are urged to begin planning months ahead by housing and engineering specialists at Michigan State college.

To make a workable plan for your building or remodeling you can obtain trained help from your county extension office. County extension agents have recently completed a refresher training school and are ready to help you with your building problems.

At your county extension office you can obtain information on electric wiring, water systems and septic tanks. You can learn sources of plans and blueprints and receive cut-out aids for farm house planning. You will also find out about eliminating fire and accident hazards in your planning.

Michigan farm families are remodeling to include the installation of running hot and cold water, septic tanks, kitchen sinks, kitchen cabinets, bathrooms, storage space, and central heating systems. If you plan to include one or more of these changes in your program you will want to make the changes properly. For the greatest returns in time and energy saving you will want to know the latest recommendations for the location and installation of these conveniences.

Your county extension office has the latest information from Michigan State college and your agents are ready and willing to serve you.

USE CARE WITH INSECTICIDE

Benzene hexachloride, the new insecticide, shows promise of controlling pests such as peach curculio, wireworms, poultry and cattle lice, hog mange, and spittle bug. But Ray Jones, extension entomologist at Michigan State college, says care should be taken in using it.

Benzene hexachloride has a musty odor which flavors such foods as potatoes and strawberries.

When used on cattle or laying hens it will flavor milk and eggs. Jones advises that materials such as sodium fluoride, nicotine sulfate, 40 percent, and DDT can be used to control lice on poultry; and DDT or rotenone for control of lice on milch cows. These materials do a good job of control if used correctly and also avoid the danger of flavoring the milk or eggs that is present when benzene hexachloride is used.

STABLE COWS IN COOLER WEATHER

With cooler nights here, dairymen should keep cows stabled, advises Ed. Alchin, assistant county agricultural agent. Cold wet days will cause cows to stand around outdoors with their backs humped up and tails tucked between their legs, probably wondering where to go to get their next bite of food. Under such conditions, cows are better off in the stable. While keeping cows in the stable will require a little extra work, agent Alchin believes that it will pay off in milk returns because of the better feeding that can be done, more comfort for cows, and the lessened danger of mastitis and udder inflammation. It is common for cows who lie out all night to come up in the morning with caked quarters and swollen bags brought on by exposure of the udders to the cold ground.

A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State college, advises this grain ration: 700 lbs. of cereal, 100 to 500 lbs. of either 24 percent or 32 percent protein concentrate mixture. Permitting cows outdoors under bright, sunny fall days during the daytime to grub out some feed from stalk fields is all right, providing regular, barn feeding conditions are carried on.

Cows should be fed one pound of grain daily for the total pounds of fat produced in a week. For example, a cow giving 40 pounds of four percent milk would produce ten pounds of fat per week and should receive ten pounds of grain daily.

According to past records, November is usually the lowest month in terms of pounds of milk per day. Feeding cows hay, silage and grain will tend to reduce this drop in milk production.
