Youth Center Invites You To Dine

The young people of Springfield invite everyone to enjoy a dinner at the Springfield Youth Center, the old Springfield schoolhouse at 8300 Dixie Highway, next Saturday evening, Nov. 29th. Serving will start at 7 o'clock. The dinner will be followed with entertainment including acts by two comedians and a magician.

The admission for the dinner and the entertainment is reasonable and the young folks would appreciate a good crowd. They promise you a good meal and a good time.

P. C. A. Holds Annual Meeting

Highlights in the development of cooperative production credit for farmers will be sketched by Joe Montgomery of St. Paul at the annual meetings of the Pontiac Production Credit Association to be held on Tuesday, Dec. 2, at Howell; Wednesday, Dec. 3, at Drayton Plains for the Pontiac district and on Thursday, Dec. 4, at Lapeer. Announcement that Mr. Montgomery will appear briefly on the program was made this week by Fred J. Beckman, secretary-treasurer of the Association.

Mr. Montgomery has for a long time worked with farm organizations, and at the present time holds the position of secretary of the Production Credit Corporation at St. Paul. His address will be of special interest to all members as it is expected to give new information on the complete ownership of the cooperative credit organization.

The meetings are being held at the Methodist Church in Howell, the United Presbyterian Church on Sashabaw Road in Drayton Plains, and the Methodist Church in Lapeer. They will be called to order each day at twelve o'clock by president Luchtman. The main feature of the short business session will be the election of a director to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Albert Luchtman of Washington, Mich. Some special entertainment has also been planned for the meeting.

The report of the secretary-treasurer will sum up the year's financial progress on the volume of business done by the organization, and is expected to show this year an increase in membership and in capital and reserve funds. Beckman says that the figures show 1947 to be the best year in the 14 years since the Association's founding.

Seymour Lake Girl Wins 4-H Trip

Mary Cook, Seymour Lake 4-H Club member won a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress and will leave November 29, according to Lyn Lewis, County 4-H Club agent. The award was made for her state winning essay on "Milk and Milk Products are the Most Economical Foods". Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milner Cook of Ortonville, route 2. She has been a 4-H Club member for 4 years and has from the start won honors in her 4-H Club work.

Miss Olive Taylor is the leader of the club.

The National 4-H Club Congress will bring together 1,000 club members from all over the country. Twenty-three delegates will attend from Michigan.

Precious Documents On "Freedom Train"

The greatest tribute ever paid to the safety of the American railroads, according to the Michigan Railroads Association, is implied by the entrusting to them the nation's most precious documents, now touring the nation in "The Freedom Train".

The history-making movement never would have been permitted by those responsible for these documents if they were not satisfied that the railroads have reached such a state of safety and efficiency as to render infinitesimal the chance of anything happening to the documents during this 33,000 mile tour, officials of the association assert.

The collection of documents aboard the train is the most impressive of its kind ever assembled and starts with a letter written in 1493 by Christopher Columbus announcing the discovery of America, and ends with the Charter of the United Nations, signed in 1945. Highlighting the collection are the Mayflower Compact, Jefferson's draft of the Declaration of Independence, the Bay Psalm Book (first book printed in America), Washington's copy of the Constitution, the manuscript of the "Star Spangled Banner", the Emancipation Proclamation, Japanese and German surrender documents, and the flag raised on Mount Suribachi in the invasion of Iwo Jima.

The train, which will travel through southern Michigan next June or July, left Philadelphia recently and will touch at more than 300 cities in all 48 states. It consists of 6 cars, painted in the national colors. The interiors of the three exhibition cars have been removed and the windows replaced with standard steel passenger car walls. Special lighting and air-conditioning is installed. Documents are enclosed between two sheets of specially prepared plastic bolted inside metal cases fronted with shatterproof glass and screwed to the walls. Captions are placed above the documents which run in chronological order.

Club Gets Ready For Christmas

On Thursday of last week the Clarkston Service Mothers Club met at the home of Mrs. Paul Henry on Orion Road. A pot-luck luncheon was served at noon.

There were fourteen at the business meeting, in the afternoon when it was decided to mail Christmas cards to all the boys in the service from this district. Christmas boxes have been packed and mailed to the boys who are out of the country. A basket will be sent to the veteran at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanitorium to whom the club has been sending articles for the past few months.

John Alander was lucky enough to win the beautiful Afghan that the club has been working on for several weeks.

Welfare Work Done By Auxiliary

On Tuesday evening of last week the Ladies' Auxiliary to the local American Legion Post held its regular meeting in the Township Hall. The president, Mrs. William O'Roark, presided. Future projects and the December meeting were discussed. Mrs. Elmer Collins gave a very complete welfare report and made an appeal for children's underwear and quilts and blankets to be distributed in this district. Mrs. Gordon Jones was welcomed as a new member.

Following the meeting the ladies joined the Post members for refreshments at Tally-Ho Foods.

Rotary Anns Hear Officer Of League

On Tuesday night, Nov. 25, the Clarkston Rotary Anns will meet at the home of Mrs. Wallace Rigley on N. Main St. Mrs. Robert C. Beattie will be the cohostess.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. A. W. Bender of Grosse Pointe, first vice president of the Michigan League for Crippled Children.

All members are urged to attend.

On Sunday evening the Youth Fellowship of the Methodist Church was entertained at the home of Norman Laws on Holcomb St. The group enjoyed a social hour and Norman's mother, Mrs. Ivan Laws served refreshments.

Twenty-four U. S. Marines will provide day and night security guard over the documents and more than 5,000 expert railroad men will have contributed their services to the train by the end of its tour. As many cities and towns as possible will be visited. There will be six daily exhibitions from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. weekly, with one day of rest out of each seven for the train crew.

Fifty-two U. S. railroads have joined together in handling the Freedom Train as a public service. The movement is sponsored by the Federal Government and privately financed by the American Heritage Foundation.

Large Crowd Sees Annual Senior Play

Last Friday night the Senior Class of the Clarkston High School presented the play "The Groom Said No!", to a large crowd. Interest was kept up from start to finish because of the fast moving incidents that occurred in the life of a want-to-be-bride and a young man who didn't want to be a groom.

Those who had charge of selecting the cast did a splendid job. Each part seemed to suit the actor. Patricia A. Watson of Drayton Plains, as Mrs. Cameron, had many lines to learn but she appeared quite capable and seemed to enjoy her part as much as her audience did. The Cameron girls Noreen Moore and Patricia J. Watson, were quite at ease on the stage and added their bit of humor to the fast moving story. Their brother, Steve Cameron, a returned marine, whose future life had been planned by his mother and a girl who had made up her mind to marry him, was played by Martin Wager. He got himself out of many ridiculous and amusing situations.

Mary Secan played the part of Clara Curtis, the girl who spent her time doing fancy work and planning her married life with Steve Cameron. She was quite persistent but failed in the long run. She acted her part well and like all the rest remembered her lines perfectly.

Dean Anderson, as Will Cameron head of the household, didn't care to get mixed up in the marriage tangle and casually made himself scarce whenever the mother and the young couple got together. Dean acted as though he was quite used to being before an audience.

Joyce Fosdick, as Mrs. Sorenson, was one of those knowing persons, always ready to solve all problems and give advice whether it is wanted or not. Joyce gave her listeners many good laughs. Joan Johnson as Mary Alice Smith, was one of those nosy little neighbor girls, always ready to carry tales. Her Shirley Temple curls and above the knee frocks were very becoming. Willie Williams played by Jere Kidder, was the fellow that was always around when he wasn't wanted. Willie was always hungry and exceptionally good natured. Those who knew him said he acted natural.

Shirley Crosby took the part of Lt. Shirley Anderson, a nurse. Her appearance as a nurse was very good and she seemed to live her part. Her sweet and gentle manners won the love of Steve Cameron and to climax the story she broke up the affair that Clara Curtis thought she had with Steve. Clara had to be satisfied with marrying Ed Smith, played by Robert Sheldon. He came to her rescue after she asked him to prove to Steve that she was a popular girl.

After the final curtain Mary Jo Pettigill showed the appreciation of the Senior Class by presenting gifts to Miss Mary Campbell, director; Mrs. O. Berg, class advisor, and Mrs. C. Beach as assistant director.

The others who helped are to be congratulated. They all worked to make the play a success.

Since the last issue of the News Mrs. Gray Robertson, who is ill with pneumonia at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, had a set back. However, the latest report is that she has had a few transfusions and has gained some strength and without further setbacks she is on her way to recovery.

Rotary Club News
Clarkston Rotary Club held a joint meeting with the clubs from Oxford, Orion and Ortonville at Indianwood Club on Monday night.

After a period of good fellowship together, the groups had the pleasure of hearing Lazarus Davidow of Detroit discuss social problems of the day.

Everyone enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Wallace A. Ridgley

Extension Clubs Plan Meeting
Mrs. Maurice Young, chairman of the Pontiac district, announces a leaders' training meeting for the leaders of the Home Extension Course for the Pontiac area on "Selection of Floor Coverings."

The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 2, at 10 o'clock and will be held at the Waterford Township Hall, corner of Crescent Lake Road and M-59, 4 miles west of Pontiac. There will be a potluck lunch at noon.

Miss Jessie Marion, extension specialist in home furnishings of Michigan State college, will give the lesson.

By the Way . . .

A certain editor feeling that he should write a Thanksgiving masterpiece for his paper racked his brain for quite a while, trying to think of what he was most thankful. Then came the inspiration that he was thankful that he was alive and could enjoy all of the things that he had been thinking of, and who knows, perhaps this piece was the masterpiece he was looking for. Anyway if you are in good health, credit is good, and you have a good dinner planned for Thanksgiving, be thankful. Things could be worse. . . . We think a lot of the publisher and editorial boys on our nearest metropolitan daily, and so it is with a little pleasure that we rib them about calling a load of straw, hay. It may be that combined straw, left in the field, may color so that the outside of the bale looks like hay, but as one author said, "Figs Is Pigs" and with the confirmation of several farmer friends and the statement of the truck driver, "Straw is Straw". And straw is what fell off of the truck in Clarkston last week. . . . The News is published early this week so that you will know where to buy that Thanksgiving dinner, or the provisions to make your own dinner. . . . To you who liked the design on the Senior play programs, may we mention that the color block was made in our own shop by M. E. Holmes, out of plastic. Just another desire of the News to keep strictly up to date. . . . The Clarkston State Bank will be closed on Thursday, a legal holiday. . . . Christmas is nearly at hand. Already the trucks laden with trees are passing on their way down from the north to grace the living rooms on that most joyous day of the year. . . . For the benefit of our northern subscribers who are now in the south for the winter, our weather has not been so severe as yet although the snow storm on Monday made everything look like the pictures of the winter wonderland. . . . Just heard an amusing incident about one of our popular local couples the other day. He is a golf enthusiast and she is equally fond of auction sales. The funny part of it is they both talk in their sleep. "One night guests in their home heard him shout, "Fore!" and immediately his wife yelled, "Four and a quarter!"

Thanks For America
We view our land with hearts aglow
At what it has to offer.
We see our grain stand row on row
To fill a nation's coffer.
Our livestock roam our fertile plains,
Producing for our tables,
While countless herds fill farmers' lanes
Enroute to milking stables.
Fruit orchards dot our country side
With branches richly fruited.
Their owners view results with pride,
What God and man have rooted.
Game fish abound our lakes and streams
To give us food and pleasure.
We live a life of pleasant dreams,
But value not our treasure.
Compare with this those other lands
O'er run with grim starvation,
Those barren and deserted sands,
All part of God's creation.
Then truly let us all give thanks
For blessings as presented,
From lowliest to highest ranks
We should be most contented.
We're thankful too that we can give
To those who need assistance,
That those abroad may also live
A happier existence.

brick, soft tile, limestone, or any other type of masonry which presents a clean surface having some absorption.

If desired, a paint may be made up by using equal parts of white portland cement, very fine sand, or fine agricultural limestone. Application of either commercial or homemade portland cement paint is the same.

The surfaces to be painted should be dampened before painting. Do not apply portland cement paint to a dry surface.

Mix the paint with water to a creamy consistency. Apply the paint with scrub brushes or tender brushes. Scrub the paint into the surface. The surfaces should be kept continuously moist for several hours either by spraying them frequently with a fog spray or by protecting them from drying out by hanging damp canvas or burlap over them.

It is usually advisable to apply two coats, especially on rough masonry surfaces.

CEMENT PAINT EASY TO USE
The finishing touch on concrete masonry is a coat of paint that is made especially for that type of work. According to James S. Boyd, agricultural engineer at Michigan State college, portland cement paint does the job effectively and economically.
Portland cement paint is sold in dry powdered form ready to mix with water. It is generally made from white portland cement, and limeproof and sunproof mineral pigments which are ground with other materials to produce the desired colors. The cement bonds with any properly prepared concrete surface, concrete masonry or portland cement stucco, common

THE HILLTOPPER

FIRST GRADE

This week the first grade had a story about Robin Redbreast, an airplane. After the story was read, we wrote one of our own stories on the blackboard.

For our art work we drew a picture of Robin to tell any part of the story we liked most.

THIRD GRADE

We have a new boy, Wilbur Loudon, who comes from Kalamazoo.

We have had many out of school due to illness.

FOURTH GRADE

We are very happy to welcome Sheila Loudon from Kalamazoo as a new member of the fourth grade.

Geography is just like the magic rug that carries one wherever he wishes to go. We are now visiting the Kazaks in Eurasia. They are such interesting people, we decided to make a scene of their summer wanderings in the grassy plains near the Caspian Sea. The boys are busy making the summer homes called yurts, while the girls are making the people and the animals.

FIFTH GRADE

We are making booklets of Thanksgiving poems. Some we are copying from other books, and some we are writing for ourselves. Here are some which have been written by some members of our class:

Be Thankful To God

We thank God who is up so high, Who never comes out of the sky. He gives us all the food so great, For Thanksgiving is the date.

—Janet Miller

Giving Thanks

O Lord, we raise our thanks to Thee,
For all the lovely things we see—
The sun that shines,
The birds that sing,
And all the pretty flowers
That come in the spring;
The green grass and the pretty trees,
And all the butterflies and bees.
O Lord, we give our thanks to Thee,
For milk, cream and good bread to eat;
The cozy blankets on our bed,
For our dear parents, so kind and true,
And all the little ones I knew;
For the rivers, lakes and sky above,
But most of all, thanks for Thy love.

—Marcia Smith

SIXTH GRADE

Grades 3, 4, 5, and 6 enjoyed a matinee performance of the Senior play on Thursday.

Mrs. Barrows and Mrs. Heineman were our P. T. A. librarians last week. The room committee: Solvej Petersen, Ronald Schebor and Mary Dean took special pains to have the library in excellent order for the Library Tea. Jon McIntyre, Ann Barrows and Charles Bilbey are decorating our room for Thanksgiving.

NINTH GRADE NEWS

At last the time has come. The Freshmen are sponsoring a dance, Dec. 6, 1947 from 9 until 12 p.m. Everyone is invited.

The busy bees busying around Clarkston are: Mary Beattie, chairman of the decoration committee; Dorothy Sinkler, refreshment committee; Joice Carte, advertising committee; Jerry Altman, name committee; Jim Huttenlocher, band committee and Don Lord, tickets.

SENIOR NEWS

One very happy group of people right now is the Senior Class. The play was a terrific success -- a big crowd attended and wonderful cooperation was given by everyone.

Shirley Powell and Donna Beals raced around before the play and between acts trying to keep everyone in make-up. Martin Wager and Dean Anderson not only participated in the play but worked until the last minute on stage setting and lights. They were assisted by Bob Caskey, Dick Doyle, Ronald Pearsall and other aids. The boys did a splendid job! Mrs. Berg, Miss Campbell and Mrs. Beach worked and worried along with everyone else in the cast to make it a success.

A very happy time was had by all at the home of Shirley Crosby, who gave a cast party after the play. The party was pot-luck and approximately fifty attended, cast, helpers and friends.

Here comes basketball season with a bang!!! Practice has begun. We are now packing away our football uniforms and putting on our gym suits. There is a very large squad this year. Practice begins at 3:00 for some; at 4:00 another set comes out. 'Doc' says these are the first team prospects: Greathouse, Ludwig, Longair, Dean Anderson, Adams, Fell, Doyle, Wells, Sutton, Leak, Chuck McGee, Devaney and Dubats.

Wells and Sutton are new at basketball, but they show promise. Let's show some school spirit and attend these basketball games. Jim Huttenlocher

4-H YOUTH SET FOR DETROIT SHOW

Careful feeding and grooming is the order of the day for 4-H Club members from 30 Michigan counties who are preparing livestock entries for the annual Detroit Junior Livestock show, December 9, 10 and 11.

Competing for honors as well as prizes will be 286 boys and girls feeding steers and 63 feeding pens of three lambs each. V. A. Freeman, assistant state 4-H Club leader at Michigan State college, believes competition will be keen again this year.

Steers will be entered in the show from 30 counties with Tuscola leading with 38 animals and Calhoun with 35 entries. In sheep competition, both Calhoun and Lapeer counties expect to enter 11 pens each.

The show, in its eighteenth year, will be held at the Detroit Stock Yards and is co-sponsored by the Detroit Junior Livestock Society and the Michigan State college 4-H Club department.

ROOT VEGETABLES GOOD BUY NOW

November is the month when root vegetables come into their own. Your garden has been bare of leafy vegetables for some time, and your root crop has been harvested and stored.

If you don't have a supply of root vegetables of your own, Ruth Ingalls, foods research assistant at Michigan State college, suggests that you will find them a "best buy" at your grocers. The root crop includes beets, carrots, onions, Kohl Rabi, turnips, rutabagas and salsify (vegetable oysters).

Select firm, medium-sized vegetables which are regular in shape. Store them in a cool, dry, well-ventilated place where there is no danger of freezing. These root vegetables are low in calories but are a good source of most of the important minerals. And remember that carrots are a good source of vitamin 'A'.

If you're careful in cooking these vegetables you can preserve their full food value as well as improve their flavor. They should be cooked in a small amount of water and any water remaining should be used with them or later in soups. These vegetables require a rather long cooking time but should not be overcooked as it will destroy the flavor and color -- especially in onions.

Root vegetables are at their best when pressure cooked. Don't forget that several of them may be used as a relish in place of a salad. Beets, carrots, white turnips and onions are all good raw.

Salsify, or vegetable oyster, is not as common as some of the other root crops. To prepare it, wash and scrape the salsify until clean and slice thin into water to which a few drops of vinegar has been added. Drain. Cover with boiling water. Add salt and cook until tender -- 40 to 50 minutes. Before serving add butter and pepper.

READY FOR SERVICE SOON IN CLARKSTON
In a short time we will be able to provide telephone service for many of the folks in this community who have been waiting.
Skilled hands are now winding up the complex task of installing additional central office switching equipment in the telephone building. Meanwhile, we have been adding a lot of outside wire and cable where it is needed to connect new subscribers' homes with the central office.
Soon we will begin connecting new telephones for as many folks as possible. Still more facilities must be provided, however, before all can be served. But we'll keep working as fast as the equipment comes in—building for the day when everyone has the telephone and the kind of service he wants.

Thanks for THE AMERICAN WAY
Thanks to "the American Way," the people of this Country enjoy—greater freedom—greater happiness—greater opportunity.
Never before have the benefits from our American way of life loomed so big to the people of the rest of the world, nor have our people had a better opportunity to evaluate their great worth.
Thanksgiving Day this year should mean more to every American. Not only should we join in remembering those early pioneers who gave thanks to God for their deliverance from want and oppression but we should also take into account our high standard of living as compared with the people of the rest of the world.
Few men, if any, would exchange their position here, no matter what their job may be, for the grief and limited opportunity that is held out to them in almost any other country in the world.
Here in America we can still create, build, develop and promote our individual ideas for the betterment and advancement of ourselves and all our people.
Let's keep it that way. Let's keep the American Way safe, by guarding more closely than ever the framework of freedom—Freedom of speech—Freedom of religion—Freedom of press and Equal rights for all, so that there will always be... A Thanksgiving Day in America.

TURKEY SHOW AT ALMA ON DEC. 4-5

Michigan's first dressed turkey show is scheduled for Alma on December 4 and 5, according to J. M. Moore, extension poultryman at Michigan State college and manager of the show.

operating in making plans for the festival, which will be held in Exhibition hall. No entry fee is charged and the show is open to any turkey raiser. Entries will close at noon on Thursday, December 4. Judging will be held during the afternoon for all classes. Premiums and awards will be given for various classes such as dressed and undressed birds, quick frozen birds and pairs of hens and toms. During the afternoon, a turkey race will be conducted by Gratiot county agricultural agent, C. P. Milham. The race is open to boys and girls from Gratiot county who have trained birds for the race. A turkey banquet will be held Thursday night.

Judging of the birds will be completed Friday morning. A feature for the ladies attending the festival will be a cooking school conducted by Miss Roberta Hershey, extension foods specialist at Michigan State college. The school will be held Friday in the Alma theatre.

TIME FARROWING TO MEET FEED SUPPLY

The pork producer faces three problems as he makes his plans for 1948, says Harry Moxley, Michigan State college swine specialist. A short corn crop a relatively narrow corn-hog ratio and a stressed feed conservation program all add up to the problem "how can the Michigan farmer meet the present feed situation and hold up in pork production through 1948?"

Moxley points out the danger that too few sows will be bred for spring pigs and there may not be enough hogs to consume the corn crop produced in 1948. The real effects of a short corn crop on livestock production usually do not show up until the following summer.

Michigan farmers should breed as many sows for spring farrowing as the annual farm program calls for. Timing as to when pigs will farrow will be an important problem and governed by available feed on hand. Farmers properly equipped to do so and with feed should continue to farrow early pigs and stay on a two litter a year basis.

Farmers with only a limited or short supply of grains should consider farrowing their pigs during the late spring or early summer. Such pigs will require little of the 1947 crop, make maximum use of good pasture and be finished on the 1948 grain crop. An appraisal of the feed supply on the individual farm will to a large measure determine the system to be followed.

Sows should be culled on a production basis and only the best producers kept in the herd. Carefully selected gilts should replace heavy sows if possible, especially when bred for late farrowing. Under ordinary conditions they require only two-thirds the grain that fat sows do and save as many pigs at farrowing time.

Thanksgiving Driving

It's an old American tradition for the entire family to get together for Thanksgiving dinner. For some of the family it may mean just a trip around the corner; for others, arriving at that table laden with turkey, pumpkin pie and all the other favorites, may mean a day's trip.

This year, as other Thanksgivings, there will be people who never reach the family gathering because they will be involved in a traffic accident. If this year is like others, some of the family will not make it home after the dinner. The reason is the same as before: traffic accidents.

Make this a safe and happy Thanksgiving for yourself and your family. In a line of traffic keep enough distance between yourself and the other fellow so you can stop without crashing into the car ahead. Do not pass unless the highway is free of oncoming traffic for enough distance to permit overtaking and passing in safety. When passing, always sound your horn unless you are in a business or residential district.

Now I'll tell a bedtime story
"When that blustery old wind makes the curtains dance and the windows rattle, it's fun to hop into a bed already warm and cozy."
"How come? My new electric blanket, of course."
"Mom likes it, too. She sleeps better 'cause she knows I'm snug and warm no matter what the weather. Sis (who's pretty smart for a girl) claims bedmaking is easier. And Dad goes for it because it costs only a few pennies a week."
Blissful, healthy slumber is as close as the nearest Detroit Edison office or your neighborhood appliance dealer who stocks automatic electric blankets. Made of pure virgin wool by firms who created electrically heated flying clothing, automatic blankets are light and fluffy-textured. In soft boudoir pastels, they wash beautifully, and one blanket does the work of three old-fashioned ones. See them today... and switch to better sleeping. Satin-covered electric comforters are available, too.
SO EASY TO USE!
Set your bedside control once a season for the degree of sleeping warmth you want. Your blanket automatically adjusts to temperature changes.

On Friday evening Mrs. Grace Barnhart received word of the death of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. O. R. Barnhart, of Lansing. The funeral was Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the Gorsline Funeral Home in Lansing with interment in Deepdale cemetery in Lansing.

Miss Lois Robb and Miss Bernadette Krem were hostesses at a bridal shower on Thursday evening in honor of "Peggy" Manning of Pontiac who will become the bride of Donald Redker, also of Pontiac, on December 20th.

"Ted" Cleveland was one of the lucky hunters to get his buck this last weekend.

"Ted" Rockwell, S1/c, SKD of the USS Randall at Norfolk, Va., is spending a 21 day leave at his home on Tubbs Road.

Charlotte Robb is reported some better at this writing. She has been very ill with virus pneumonia. Mrs. Joseph McGaffey is still seriously ill at her home.

PURDY-SURRE RITES READ LAST FRIDAY EVENING

A very pretty, double ring, candlelight, wedding ceremony was performed last Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the United Presbyterian Church of Drayton Plains when Cheryl Lou Purdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Purdy of Warren Drive and Robert Surre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Surre of Kemp St., Pontiac spoke their marriage vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white silk for her wedding. It was fashioned with a dropped neckline with lace inserts extending over the shoulders, the waist buttoned down the front with tiny pearls, buttons and a narrow plume at the waistline, with the skirt ending in a short train. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of lace and seed pearls. She carried white rosebuds on a white prayer book. For something borrowed she wore a strand of pearls belonging to Mrs. Donald Langdon and for something old she wore a hand embroidered slip that was one hundred years old and belonged to her godmother's mother.

The bride's sister, as maid of honor was gowned in peach taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and yellow roses tied with bronze ribbon.

The bridesmaids were also sisters of the bride. Barbara Lee wore a gown of gold taffeta and carried a bouquet of orchid chrysanthemums tied with an orchid bow and LeVillier wore a gown of aqua and carried pink chrysanthemums tied with pink ribbon.

The little flower girl, Susan Weitschot of Lake Orion, cousin of the bride, wore a white taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with a pink bow.

Mr. Surre was assisted by Richard Surre, as best man and Al Flick and Gerald Davies, seated the guests.

Mrs. Purdy chose for her daughter's wedding a street length dress of wine crepe with wine and gold accessories. Mrs. Surre wore a black dress with black accessories. Their corsages were of yellow roses and chrysanthemums.

Immediately after the ceremony about 250 guests were received by the bridal party in the church parlors. Roberta Dean, Marjorie Voelker and Phyllis Brinker presided at the refreshment table and Mrs. Frank Molina registered the guests.

The young couple left on a honeymoon in Northern Michigan. On their return they will reside in the Cobb block apartment. For traveling the bride wore a brown suit with brown accessories.

FATHER-SON FARM PLAN WORKS WELL

Well-planned father and son partnerships are working out satisfactorily on Michigan farms, according to N. L. Smith, farm management specialist at Michigan State college.

This type of agreement is especially designed for farmers who have a son, son-in-law, or other young farmer whom they want in the business. It is a flexible arrangement that takes into consideration the contributions and responsibilities of both parties.

All Set For Thanksgiving. With Thanksgiving near, the turkey held by pretty LaVerne Miller, Hamilton County, Ohio girl, has good reason to be excited. This year, there are approximately 35 million turkeys ready to be killed and roasted for holiday dinners, according to James Bay, Kroger poultry expert. Bay said that the present crop is about 16 per cent less than the bumper 1946 crop but was five per cent greater than the past five-year average.

Clarkston Locals

Mrs. Mary Losch left last week to make her home with her sister in Lapeer.

A card from the Ira Joneses, in St. Cloud, Fla., says that they are enjoying lovely warm weather. Mrs. Myra Wieland will spend Thanksgiving with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kitchen in Detroit. She expects to leave on December 4th to spend the winter at Beverly Hills, Calif., with her other daughter and family, the Guy A. Prices.

Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henry, besides their sons, Robert and Walter, who will be home from college, will be her mother, Mrs. Minnie Hooper, her sister, Mrs. Betty Vanoveran, her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gribbell and their two children and Miss Joy Mead, all of Grand Rapids.

Word has been received from Mrs. C. A. Waterbury and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Waterbury, Jr., and son, that they are enjoying life in Phoenix, Ariz., and hope to make it their permanent home.

colored. Five local residents substantiate Warj akka's description. Elmer White, conservation department game biologist at Baraga, says the brown or cinnamon bear is a rarity anywhere east of the Mississippi, though common among black bears in the west. Like the black squirrel in a litter of grays, the cinnamon bear is simply a color variant, not a different species.

Lucky deer hunters in Keweenaw peninsula may have seen a most uncommon sight in Michigan -- a brown "black" bear. The bear was seen several times near the town of Delaware. Uno Warj akka of Lac LaBelle describes its fur as long, silky and definitely tan-

ARmy Career
R-Retirement after 30 years

Many Civilians come to the end of their working lifetime with no pension except that provided by personal savings. Those occupations which do offer a pension plan usually make no provision for retirement earlier than age 60 or even 65.

But the Army Retirement Plan enables you to retire at one-half pay after 20 years service and on up to three quarters pay after 30 years of service.

If you were to buy an annuity to give you a life income equal to the least a private can have upon retirement, it would cost you from $10,800 to $22,250 spot cash depending upon your age then.

How many men do you know who can afford this kind of security?

For additional information on this chance of a lifetime, see your local recruiting officer at 53 1/2 W. Huron Street, Pontiac Michigan--AT ONCE.
