Clarkston Adds Fifth Victory

Undeclared Clarkston, leader in Twin County play, Tuesday night won their fifth straight by downing St. Michaels of Pontiac 28-18.

The game started slowly with the first quarter ending 5-2 Clarkston. McGee hit for three with Greathouse getting two for Clarkston, while Sapelak and Keller dropped charity tosses for Mikes. The game advanced slowly again in the second quarter with the Shamrocks pulling to within one point. The half found the score 9-8.

The Clarkston Wolves began hitting their stride at the beginning of the second half with Dean Anderson's first basket starting the 16 point spree. At the end of the period McGee had added five, Greathouse three, and Anderson four points, while Adams and Ludwig had sunk free shots. The Shamrocks seven points came from baskets of Arntz and Sapelak and foul tosses by Fitzgerald and Schneider.

The last quarter started with score 25-15 and at the end, the ten point margin held by Clarkston was intact 28-18.

For Clarkston, Greathouse's ten points and McGee's eight led the scoring. Arntz had six for the losers.

Clarkston's fast-moving Wolves last Friday crushed Auburn Heights 42-20. The game started slowly, with Clarkston controlling the ball practically the entire first quarter. But, their low percentage on shots gave them only a 12-4, first quarter lead.

The second period featured race horse basketball, but the Wolves managed to increase their lead by seven points. The score at the half time stood 29-14.

Coach "Doc" Thayer's boys continued to drop baskets in the second half with the game ending 42-20 in their favor. Clarkston's victory over Heights gave them their third straight league win and fourth of the season, without defeat.

Dick Doyle will be at Country Day. Jan. 20—Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock the Campbell-Richmond Post, American Legion, will meet in the Clarkston Rotary rooms. It pays to play the game of life with hands above the table. It matters not how great the strife, we find we're always able to stand our ground through thick and thin, and do a little better. If we will take it on the chin, performing to the letter, we might be tempted now and then to step just off of center. Or make our pathway curve and bend to goals, from where we enter. The wealth of life oft seems to be hid, down a road that's winding. It looks as though it's almost free to us for just the finding.

But woe to us, ill gotten gains, although we're strongly tempted, for there is sorrow for our pains, and no one is exempted. Great satisfaction's our reward for turning down temptation. It's fun with cards upon the board to smile at all creation.

Mrs. Coleman was formerly Miss Joanne Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hughes of the State Fish Hatchery. Mrs. Sylvester was formerly Mrs. Mamie O'Boyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Purdy, former owners of the Topnotch restaurant have purchased the Poorman home on the corner of Sherwood and Louella.

The adult Sunday School Bible class will hold its monthly business and social meeting on Friday evening (tonight) at 8 o'clock in the United Presbyterian Church parlors. Election of officers will take place and the group will be entertained by Sidney Estes, magician, of Pontiac.

Seventeen members of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church met at the church on Thursday evening of last week for their regular meeting. Mrs. C. J. Sutton brought a very interesting message on "Egypt Committed Unto Us" stressing the missionaries work at the United Presbyterian stations in Egypt. When refreshments were served each lady was given a name of a missionary and tables seating four guests represented a station in Egypt. Each one had to find the table or station where she would be a missionary. Mrs. Katherine Cable led the devotions, centering her message around a poem "Then Only Shall I Dare" found in "The Garden of Prayer".

Fifteen ladies met in the church basement on Wednesday of last week at 10:00 a.m. and made a large quantity of cancer pads for the needy appealing to the Cancer Association. A pot-luck dinner was served at noon.

STUDENT COUNCIL NEWS

The Student Council has for the last couple of months been laying plans for an all school carnival to raise funds to furnish more and better assemblies. Each of the classes and organizations are to be responsible for a "concession of some sort." The whole school will be taken over and there will be such activities as fish ponds, spook houses, park dancing, fortune telling, ping pong, etc., not to mention lots of food.

This carnival will be held February 27 from 7:30 to 12:00. We hope to see everyone there.

THIRD GRADE

We are reading in our Science reader, "The Seasons Pass", about feeding birds in winter and about different kinds of feeders we could make.

We enjoy our gym periods on Tuesday and Friday.

SIXTH GRADE

On Wednesdays at 3:30 the group of 5th and 6th graders are singing together. Mr. Ladd accompanies them at the piano.

We are delighted to have the new Britannica Junior in our room. We also have a new set of Encyclopedia Britannica picture stories of the World's Children.

Charles Bilbey has been our patrol captain for the third period. His lieutenant is Manley Morgan.

The ever popular gym periods for the grades are now running on schedule. Each class has two half-hours a week in the gym.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

We Juniors have numerous plans in store for the rest of the school year. We have just begun to wake up to the fact that there are many things to be done, and are now busier than ever.

The class has selected for its Junior play an unusual comedy called "Who Wouldn't Be Crazy?" Tryouts are scheduled for 16 parts as soon as our play books arrive. The date that has been set for the occasion is March 12, so keep this date in mind.

The annual Junior-Senior banquet is to take place in the spring. The Juniors will again be host to the Seniors, and also hope to have many townspeople attending the semi-formal dance. The dance will be put on in connection with the banquet, which is not open to the public.

Marie Bennett returned to school at the first of the year. She seemed to be heavily burdened with homework but it certainly seems good to have her well and back with us again. Another check mark on our calendar goes over the date Friday, the 13th of February. We hope this will be our lucky day, because we are planning to give the gay "Valentine Dance". Won't you and your friends attend? The more to come, the merrier, you know!

EXPLORERS PLAN TRIP

At the Explorer meeting Monday night it was planned to take a ski trip to West Branch on the weekends of Jan. 13 and Feb. 1. There will be events in skiing and skating and a dance on Saturday night.

Dick Allen

CUSTODIANS ATTEND CLASSES

It may be of considerable interest to the populous of Clarkston to learn that not only their children attend classes but also the janitors.

From East Lansing comes word that Mr. Boy's and Mr. Howland of Clarkston are attending classes in Pontiac on Saturday of each week. Mr. Boy's is taking a course on Heating and Ventilation while Mr. Howland is studying House-keeping. This course is one of the short courses sent out by the Extension Service of Michigan State college.

CONSERVATION NEWS

Both deer and rabbits have been found browsing on multiflora rose at Rose Lake wildlife experiment station, discovering a new value in this hardy shrub. Extensive test plantings of the shrubs have been made at the station and on game areas for erosion control, to provide shelter for small game, and to furnish food for pheasants in their abundant fruits, called rose hips.

Conservation department waterfowl observers plan to fly over the lower Detroit river and along the Lake Erie shore between January 7 and 10 to estimate ducks concentrated there. Their findings will help provide Michigan figures for the annual national waterfowl census being made under U. S. Fish and Wildlife service direction.

Southwestern county goose concentrations will be surveyed from Swan Creek wildlife experiment station, and experienced observers will be asked to estimate the number of ducks wintering on open water of northern trout streams.

Aerial observations before, during and after the 1947 duck season and cooperative observers' estimates both indicated as many or slightly more ducks in Michigan than in the year before. But on a continental scale the duck population a year ago was down, and some observers fear the overall population figures may show little improvement this year.

Moving to spike a rumor that has cropped up repeatedly in the southern counties since the end of the duck season, conservation department officials declared today that Michigan was not offered any extension of the waterfowl season by federal officials.

The state's only choice, the officials said, was between a continuous 35-day season and split 28 day season of 14 days of hunting, 14 days closed and 14 more days of hunting. The continuous season was chosen because the closed period in the split season would have come at the peak of duck migration. Before the continuous season opened, federal rules cut it down to 30 days.

Department waterfowl men say they have asked for and still prefer a two-week differential in waterfowl season dates between the upper peninsula and the lower peninsula to fit the climatic differences, just as hunting season set by the state recognize these differences.

STORAGE IMPORTANT FOR GOOD POTATOES

Whether your potatoes cook up the way you like to have them depends on their variety and also the way you store them.

If you like nice mealy potatoes you should watch the temperature where they are stored advises Mary Moor, foods specialist at Michigan State college.

Storing potatoes at a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees Fahrenheit for two weeks before they are cooked will give you high quality. Potatoes which have been held at a low storage temperature should be brought to a higher holding temperature for a while before they are used. How long they have been stored at low temperatures will decide how long they should be held at higher temperatures before cooking.

Storage temperatures, length of storage, and the cooking water all affect the color of cooked potatoes. Potatoes held at a low temperature, about 35 degrees, may become very brown before they are thoroughly cooked when used for fried potatoes.

Very alkaline cooking water will cause cooked potatoes to become yellow. You can prevent this by adding one teaspoon of vinegar or one-eighth teaspoon of cream of tartar per quart of cooking water. Iron in the water will cause potatoes to darken, so iron kettles or chipped enamel ware should not be used when cooking potatoes.

AIRCRAFT COMMUNICATORS FOR DUTY IN ALASKA

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has openings for 200 qualified single men as Aircraft Communicators in Alaska at starting salary of $3306 a year, it was announced today by the Civil Aeronautics Administration Aeronautical Center.

Successful applicants will be assigned to the 45 Airways Communications Stations operated by the Civil Aeronautics Administration in Alaska for the safety of civil and military flight.

The men selected will be in line for eventual promotion to higher grade jobs paying up to $5656 a year. Additional earnings are possible in all grades through authorized time beyond the 40 hour week and through the 10 per cent night differential.

Basic qualifications for the jobs are the ability to transmit and receive International Morse Code at a minimum speed of 30 words per minute; to touch typewrite at 35 words per minute; and 18 months of Aeronautical Communications experience or an acceptable equivalent in education and experience. Applicants other than veterans must be between the ages of 18 and 40 and in good health, particularly with regard to hearing, vision, and speech.

Five weeks of orientation training will be given to the appointees at the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Aeronautical Center, in Oklahoma City before they are sent to an Alaskan Post. They will be expected to remain in the Government Service in Alaska for at least 12 months following appointment.

Interested persons can obtain full information about these positions by writing directly to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Aeronautical Center, Box 1082, Oklahoma City-Oklahoma.

Rural Tele-news

QUICK QUIZ: Do you know how much telephone wire Michigan Bell put up in rural areas last year? Nearly nine thousand miles! It meant new service for thousands and fewer parties on many rural lines. Michigan Bell now serves 122,000 rural area subscribers—more than double the number in 1941.

STOP THEM WITH THIS ONE: Ask your friends how many telephone companies there are in Michigan in addition to Michigan Bell. It's a treat on you if they guess the right number—one hundred and sixty. All connect with Michigan Bell and Bell System telephones.

USEFUL . . . AND FUN: A survey shows that more than half the farm families served by Michigan Bell use their telephones for reaching the doctor, dentist and veterinarian, and for ordering parts, repairs, feed and supplies. "Visiting" with friends and arranging church and social activities are high up on the list too.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Who Are We, Anyway?

Subject came up at Bill Webster's, the other day, as we were chatting over beer and pretzels. Just who are the folks who make up our town? Where'd they come from?

Well, Doc Hollister's Scotch-English ancestry; Will Dudley's folks were mining stock from Pennsylvania; Skip Powell's family were brewers back in Holland.

Guess our bloodstream's got a bit of every country of the globe—and every section of America. We've still got differences in taste and background—whether they apply to music, history, or beer. Only those differences don't matter—because we're self-respecting people, in a free, united land.

And from where I sit, that's what makes our towns and cities—our America—so strong, progressive, tolerant. Our championship of individual liberties has brought us people from all faiths, all lands—to prove that respect for one another's rights is the greatest bond humanity can know!

"Landsakes, It's Past Seven!"

GRANDMA RILEY wasn't fooling either. "Past seven" was bedtime when Grandma was a girl. She was tired and tomorrow would be another hard day. She'd be up at 5:30 and busy every minute. Bread had to be baked and the wood stove had started smoking again. Then there were kerosene lamps to be filled—wicks trimmed and chimneys polished. And the oblong copper tubs had to be filled with clothes and steaming soap . . . then hand-scrubbed and put through the wooden ringer. Beating and sunning the rugs was another job that just had to be done. It had been put off too long already.

Today Grandma is living the life of Riley. She has electricity!

CHILDREN NEED SUNSHINE VITAMIN

"Michigan children have an unusual advantage in that they live in one of the nation's greatest winter playgrounds, but they have a disadvantage also, from the standpoint of their health--there is not enough sunshine during the winter months," Dr. J. K. Altland, Commissioner, Michigan Department of Health, said today.

Dr. Altland reminded parents that a supplement of vitamin D (the sunshine vitamin) is needed by all growing children in Michigan during the winter months and said that the family physician should determine the amount and type of vitamin D each child should be taking.

The sunshine vitamin is required for normal development of bones and teeth. Lack of sunshine and vitamin D may result in rickets, a disease which attacks and deforms bones during the period of most rapid growth--infancy and early childhood.

"Child specialists," Dr. Altland said, "often recommend that all children be given a supplement of vitamin D both summer and winter, during the entire period of growth."

"Many Michigan children," he said, "suffer from vitamin A and vitamin C deficiency because they do not eat adequate quantities of vegetables in winter."

Vitamin A and vitamin C both help the body to resist infections and are essential to tissue building and good growth.

"Use vitamin D fortified milk when it is available, and make an effort to interest your children in eating more tomatoes, carrots, rutabagas, squash, pumpkin, cabbage and other winter vegetables," the Health Commissioner counseled Michigan parents.

TARIFF CUTS TAKE EFFECT

Tariff reductions on a number of agricultural and industrial products went into effect on January 1, 1948.

These tariff reductions, made by the United States and 22 other countries, cover over half of the commodities entering world trade. It is hoped that these reductions will bring about a wider exchange of commodities leading toward world prosperity.

"According to Lawrence Witt, agricultural economist at Michigan State college, Michigan farmers will be affected little by the reductions at present. The continued high domestic demand, export sales and low level of production abroad will prevent any material price declines in the agricultural commodities affected. Over a period of time there will be some increase in imports."

However, reductions in trade barriers were made by foreign countries for many commodities the United States exports. Among the more important concessions were those on automobiles. This will lead to continued sales and a high level of employment in the Michigan automobile industry. This, in turn, will provide nearby markets for Michigan farm produce. The following are major Michigan farm products affected by the tariff reductions:

BUTTER: The present tariff of 14 cents per pound reduced to seven cents for the months from November through March for a maximum import of 50 million pounds or about three per cent of production. Thereafter the tariff of 14 cents is charged. DRY BEANS: The present tariff of three cents per pound is reduced to one and one-half cents for the Michigan type of dry bean.

POTATOES: Tariffs on potatoes are reduced slightly. The major change is to increase from one and one-half to two and one-half million bushels the quantity of certified seed potatoes which may be imported at 37 and one-half cents per 100 pounds. Imports in excess of two and one-half million bushels pay 75 cents per 100 pounds.

SUGAR: Duty on Cuban sugar cut from three-quarters to one-half cents per pound. Quotas limiting imports went into effect Jan. 1, 1948.

WOOL: Basic rate of 34 cents reduced to 25 and one-half cents per pound. The domestic wool stabilization program continues.

FARM ECONOMICS TO BE STRESSED AT MSC FARMERS' WEEK SHOW

Farmers who attend the program arranged by the Michigan State college farm management and agricultural economics department during Farmers' Week will find varied programs of interesting subjects. The program planned by the agricultural economics section will also stress farm problem of an economic nature.

Farm labor management will be the topic of the Tuesday morning session of the farm management department. Subjects such as labor efficiency and cutting chore time will be emphasized. The afternoon program will concern buying and selling farms in 1948 with discussions of land prices and farm values. Wednesday's topics will be "making farm pay" and "young folks in farming."

Agricultural economics is presenting new developments in the merchandising of farm produce on Tuesday. A panel discussion by farm produce specialists and reports on the results of surveys of consumer attitudes toward peaches, eggs, and potatoes will be features of the day. Wednesday's program will be varied with talks on farm programs and European aid problems.

On Thursday, January 29, the two departments will join to present a session on planning the 1948 farm business. Members of the departments and guest speakers will give their views on sound farm plans for the new year. Special meetings of the Michigan Association of Farm Brokers will be held Tuesday, January 27 and Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers on Thursday, January 29.

dette was the honor guest at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Gwendell Purkiss with Mrs. Gladys Wright as co-hostess. Fifteen guests had a good time completing a story of the prospective bride and groom and also assembling a bride's book.

After the bride-to-be was presented with her gifts, refreshments were served, buffet style, from a large table laid with a white cloth edged with pink and white crepe paper and a closed umbrella placed on one corner. The table was centered with a bowl of pink gladioli flanked with lighted tapers.

Guests included, besides the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Edward Krem, Mrs. Elmer Boadway, Mrs. Erwin Greer, Mrs. Carlton Brown, Mrs. Darril O'Dea, Mrs. Dan Williams, Mrs. John Foote, Mrs. W. B. Ellis, and Mrs. DeWitt Hart of Watkins Lake, Mrs. Mildred Nutall and Mrs. Victor Matzelle of Saginaw.

son School on Huron St. The public is welcome.

Jack Van Coevering made his trip to Alaska last August and September, accompanied by Ben Allen of Drayton Plains, Dr. Frank Bauman and Dr. Edward Martinek of Detroit. It was a flying trip all the way by four-motor plane. Even in Alaska, most travel was by air.

"Most people think of Alaska as a great snow-capped wasteland", said Mr. Van Coevering in telling about the film. "Actually, most of Alaska is just that. But the part where most of the people live is along the coast. That has no more snow than Detroit and the temperatures are no lower either."

"Southeast Alaska does have a lot of rain", he continued, "all except 65 days in every year are either rainy or foggy. That puts a premium on sunshine. It also makes me think I was pretty lucky in getting the pictures that I did".

The pictures, in actual color, will include a visit to the Indian village of Mt. Lakatla and its salmon fisheries, a trip to the famous Naha falls and their jumping salmon. Some of these wonderful fish will be seen climbing over the falls, as taken by the camera in slow motion. Black bears come to feed on the salmon and these also will be seen.

One of the most amazing pictures Mr. Van Coevering ever made is seen toward the end of the film. It was made in Yukon territory, Canada, where grayling are still plentiful. Fishermen are shown catching grayling, frying them, and leaving a creelful on the ground. When a red fox sneaks up to steal the fish out of the basket, the entire sequence was photographed.

Kroger
Any Little Store Can Grow!
All Kroger stores started from the one little store opened in Cincinnati in 1882. That store grew into many through pleasing the people it served. And today any little store can grow into a big store—or into many stores—through giving better service and values. That's the American system—the American way. It was—and is—the Kroger way, too.

Community Activities

Modern and Old Time dancing from 9:00 until 1:00 Saturday evening. Come and bring your family and friends. Over four hundred enjoyed the dance last Saturday evening. Refreshments are sold by the Women's Club. Pinochle will be played at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Armstrong at 8:00 Monday evening. Couples are invited. The address is 2854 Oakgrove at Williams Lake. Refreshments are served before the party breaks up for the night. Don't forget the book review at the home of Mrs. Norman Bartell Monday afternoon at 1:00. Mrs. A. J. Holstein will review "The Garretson Chronicle" by Brace, and Mrs. Laura Davis will tell about "The Money Man" by Costain. This review is open to all interested and is sponsored by the Community Library.

The next Community party at the Club house will be on Feb. 6. There is still a lot of work to be done at the Community house and it is greatly appreciated when men come over, even for a hour or two at a time ready to do whatever needs to be done at the moment.

The membership meeting was well attended last Thursday evening and it was a very interesting meeting. Members are urged to reserve the second Thursday of each month for this important meeting.

The Building committee was authorized to use an additional $10,000 to get the building in shape to use efficiently. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bartell were named as chairmen of the nominating committee and are to ask two other couples to prepare a slate for the coming election in February.

Did you know that the Community library has 500 books already to put on the shelves of the new library and there are 400 more to be gotten ready? Books may be borrowed by contacting Mrs. O. L. Siegman. Donations of good books are always appreciated.

Jan. 30—Friday night, the G. A. A. of the Clarkston High School will sponsor a Leap Year Dance in the school gym. Everyone is invited. A good time is assured.
