Activities

Twenty-four persons enjoyed playing pinochle for the first time in the new Community Activities Building Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Armstrong have been kind enough to open their home for the games since the other building burned a year ago in January. The Armstrongs were given a gift and thank-you cards in appreciation of their kindness Monday evening. There was also a nice cake with the refreshments in appreciation of Armstrongs' kindness, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Topham will be chairman for the parties for the coming year and can be contacted evenings by persons wishing to call about the games. Now that the games are in the C.A.I. building more couples can be conveniently accomodated. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Siegman will be hosts for the party on April 26. The group turned $87.00 over to death of her father, J. E. Hoard, C.A.I. on Monday evening. This. has accumulated since fall.

> Now that house cleaning is on us again many persons may have some good books which they would like to take out of their own library and put them some place where they will be of value to others. The Community Ii-brary would be very glad to have the books for other book lovers to enjoy. The tile floor is now layed in the new library in the Club House. The room is now ready to be decorated.

"How can we afford to put our pre-school children in nursery school"? This question has been answered by parents in seven Michigan cities where cooperative schools represent a very promising new movement.

Parent - cooperative nursery schools in these towns are solvinthe problem states Bernice Borgman, instructor in the Michigan State college nursery school. Three of these schools are in Ann Arbor two in Lansing, and one each in Ypsilanti, Willow Run, Mt. Plea-sant, Allegan, and Bloomfield

These parents realized that a good nursery school serves as a laboratory for children. There they can learn about things and people from their children in a way that adults cannot duplicate There they have equipment and materials to work with that homes may not have.

For such reasons these parents tried to find some way of furnishing these advantages for their children. They reduced the cost of equipment by helping to make it, and the cost of instructors by working as teachers' assistants in the school. Very soon the parents discovered that they were profiting too. They learned much about children from the teacher and from the children themselves.

Parent - cooperative nursery chools have demonstrated that their success depends largely upon a well-qualified teacher and the continuous interest and activity of the parents. It is not enough for parents just to give money, they must help with the planning and work of the school. Real cooperation between the parents and the school are essential to its success Fathers must do their share as well as mothers.

Seventy-five persons attended the annual banquet for the Waterford firefighters association and their wives at the Knights of Pythias hall on the Voorheis road ast Thursday evening.

Each lady present was given a beautiful red rose before the dinner which was served after Bill Shunck gave the invocation.

President Elmer Fangbone made a few remarks and expressed his appreciation to each one present for his, or her, part in this important work. This being a volunteer department the ladies assist by putting the calls through the telephone call system while men get ready to "take off". President Fangboner also introduced everyone there. The program was enjoyed by all and included a clarinet number by a trio from Pontiac High School; Joe Davis of Pontiac, a student at the Bob Jones college, sang "Old Man River" and "God Bless This House" (the latter number was enjoyed so much that he was asked to repeat it), Norleen Smith of Pontiac accompanied Mr. Davis; Connie Carr gave several black faced numbers and Gidley's orchestra played for the group singing of "Smiles", "Missouri Waltz", and "Pm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover". The evening concluded with modern and old time dancing to Gidley's orchestra.

Now It's Neckties Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tayern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a byproduct of milk. "Took 33 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is - seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well

I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation. But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate. -because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

RANDOPH ADAMS DOUBTS POCAHONTAS SAVED SMITH makers, obtained from informa-

Did Pocahontas really save the life of John Smith, or did the Captain embellish the story of ulture. his capture by Indians when he published it some 20 years later? The legend lives on, but many competent historians agree that Smith probably took the story from an adventure attributed to an earlier Spanish explorer, Dr. Randolph G. Adams, director of the Clements Library of American year. History at the University of Michigan, points out.

"In the year 1807 Captain John Smith was captured by Indians in Virginia", Dr. Adams relates. "He told the story in a long letter published in booklet form in London a year later. About all that happened was that he was taken before an Indian chief, treated kindly, and sent back to Jamestown". Later, when Captain Smith returned to England, he found that Richard Hakluyt had published book on Spanish adventures in America, "Virginia Richly Valued", in which he told a yarn of how one Juan Ortiz was captured by Indians. The Indians were about to burn Ortiz at the stake, when the chief's daughter intervened and his life was spared, 🥕

In 1624, Captain Smith pubished "The Generall Historie of Virginia". Copies of eary editions of this book and of Smith's lette. are contained in the Clements Library, in which he tells a different story of his capture. This time, Dr. Adams points out, the story was the familiar one in which. Pocahontas rushed to which. Pocahontas rushed to Smith's defense at the critical moment.

"Whether or not Captain Smith purloined the Ortiz story is a question, although many competent historians who know something about human nature agree that he probably did", Dr. Adams points out.

In the Matter of the Estate of Elizabeth Drake, Deceased, Clarence A. Drake, having filed a petition praying that an instrument filed in said Court be admitted to Probate as the last will and testament of said deceased, and that administration with will annexed of said estate be granted to Vara Drake or to some other, suitable person.

It is Ordered, That the 10th day of May, A. D. 1948, at 9 o'clock, in the forencon, at said Probate Office, is hereby, appointed for hearing said petition.

However, there's some "poetic justice" in the tale. When Smith published his "Generall Historie" he illustrated it with some engravings, one of which shows a "very husky Pocahontas interceding for the life of a diminutive John Smith", the Michigan historian says. In 1893, the story of Juan Ortiz was retold in a book called "Indian Captivities or Life in the Wigwam". This time, the story of Ortiz is illustrated with a woodcut redrawing of Smith's a woodcut redrawing of Smith's

ONTIAC A FINE CAR MADE EVEN FINER

For all 'one-car' families

For the family which has but one motor car-Pontiac is an extremely wise choice.

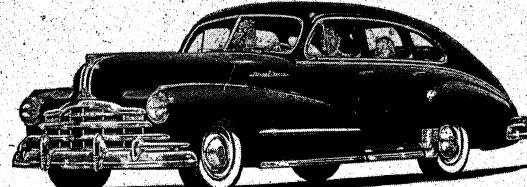

First, it is big and beautiful. You can drive it anywhere, any time, with the certain knowledge that it will be admired. It also gives you the comfort you want, and need. It is safe, too-because it has big, sturdy brakes—and remarkable balance on turns and curves. It provides the performance luxury of GM Hydra-Matic Drive*. It is quick and nimble, easy to steer and park -a feature especially appreciated by women. And it is very economical -just as economical, in fact, as any car you can buy. It is a rare car, indeed, which can offer all these qualities. And because Pontiac does offer them, it is becoming the choice of more and more people every day.

MAKE EVERY BUSHEL COUNT Feed Morton's Free Choice Salt

IN terms of feed, a pound of salt is equal to 151 pounds of corn. Purdue University Tests prove this. Given salt free choice, hogs needed 151 pounds less corn to reach market weight than hogs which got no salt.

This means that salt will s-t-r-e-t-c-h an otherwise short supply of corn ... permit you to raise more stock ... lengthen the spread between feed costs and market price . . . increase your profits.

For best results, feed salt free choice to hogs, dairy cows, meat animals, and sheep. Put a few salt feeding stations around your farm, and use Morton's Free Choice Salt.

Salt is more than an It is vitally needed for the proper digestion. It supplies the chlorine for hydrochloric acid, the sodium for bile, without which proteins, fats, and carbohydrates are not digested and assimilated, but wasted.

All livestock do better and are more profitable when fed salt free choice. It helps them convert feed into profits much faster, at lower cost - and as nature intended.

NON-HARDENING under normal use and storage conditions

Morton's Free Choice Salt is especially developed for live-stock feeding. It's pure — easy to feed and easy to use for mixing, and formulated to re-main NON-HARDENING under normal use and storage conditions. Be sure to ask your dealer for it BY NAME. MORTON'S Free Choice SALT.

Before chicks arrive, sweep down cobwebs, scrape and clean floor. Scrub with hot live solution and spray with good cresol disinfectant. Start brooder stove 4 days before chicks arrive to dry out house and eliminate toxic fumes.

Mrs. Chester Ritenous of Oxford, Indiana, realizes the importance of good feeding to get chicks off to a strong, fast start. She uses a good, commercial chick starter that contains all the proteins, minerals and vitamins young chicks need for health.

As a coccidiosis precaution, feed a co flushing mash for a full day every tw Flushing mash also perks up appetite intake. Here, Orval Hagerty feeds his 6-week old Barred Rock broilers making good gains.

Poultry Profits start with the chicks

Poultry profits next winter depend largely upon how well you get your chicks started this spring . . upon your success in growing them into large, well-developed profit-pullets. With good housing, feeding, care and management, chick death losses can be held to a minimum. Birds can be brought into production early while egg prices are highest, and pullets will have what it takes to carry on heavy production right through the laying year.

This picture story illustrates a step-by-step chick raising plan that will help assure you poultry success and bigger egg profits next fall and winter.

Remember, "cheap chicks don't cheep long", so buy from a reliable hatchery and get the best. Figure your laying house capacity and order 2½ straight run chicks for each 4 sq. ft. of hen house floor space. Here Mrs. C. P. Allen and son James, put day-old chicks under incubator.

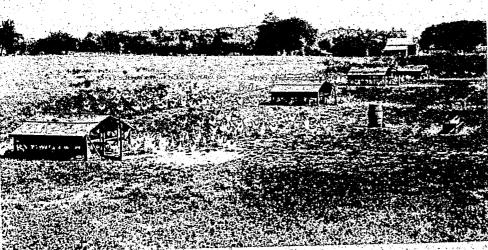

ive, check brooder stove and will be time for repairs, if 5°F. When chicks are under, Add new, dry litter 4 or 5 r with sacks or newspaper.

Don't over crowd. Provide one half square foot of floor space per chick: Use two 24-inch feeders, or equivalent, and two or three water founts for every one hundred chicks. Be sure feeders and water founts have been well cleaned and disinfected.

At six to eight weeks, move pullets to range shelters (weather permitting) on clean, legume pasture. Change to a commercial growing mash and keep one range hopper filled with it, another with corn or oats. Provide a constant supply of clean, cool water.

in growing crops with

A Proven Ester Formulation of 2,4-D

The new miracle chemical 2,4-D, offered in its most effective form in Agricultural Weed-No-More, brings you the practical, low-cost way to kill weeds in growing small grains.

Spraying Agricultural Weed-No-More on young corn is faster than cultivating, kills weeds right up to the corn plants, makes row-planting practical.

On pastures, fence rows, ditch banks, and grassed waterways, Agricultural Weed-No-More kills weeds, roots and all.

Agricultural Weed-No-More goes on fast—covers 7 to 15 acres per hour. It goes far, too—½ pint to 2 pints in only 5 gallons of water treats 1 acre! Apply it by the new low-gallonage method developed and proved by Sherwin-Williams Research. Use a simple, low-cost rig that you or any local shop can quickly assemble.

WEED-NO MORE

Costs less per acre because it controls weeds more effectively!

Agricultural authorities have found that the ester forms of 2,4-D used in Agricultural Weed-No-More penetrate weed leaves within 5 minutes, do not wash off, mix easily with water, won't clog or corrode spray equipment, and are harmless to stock Agricultural Weed-No-More has been proved on more than 500.000 acres.

SEE WEED-NO-MORE AT WORK IN NEW SOUND MOVIE

 Ask your county agent, vo-ag teacher or farm supply dealer to arrange for you and your neighbors to see "Agriculture's New Conquest." It will show you how you can boost yields and profits with 2,4-D.

Gwendolyn Ward, 16 year old 4-H Club member is state winner in bread making in Virginia, She takes over the job of making buns for the Sunday night supper.

Margie uses her great-grandmother's favorite recipe for bran ginger-snaps and they are a hit.

14 cups sifted flour

teaspoon soda teaspoon salt

tablespoon ginger cup molasses

6 tablespoons butter or other shortening

¼ cup brown sugar, firmly

packed 1½ cups bran flakes

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt and ginger, and sift again. Place molasses, shortening, and sugar in saucepan and cook gently 2 minutes; stir constantly. Cool to lukewarm. Add bran flakes and mix well. Then add flour mixture and mix thoroughly. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll 1/8 inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with 13/4 inch cooky cutter. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 10 minutes. Makes-6 dozen ginger space. dozen ginger snaps.

Teen-Agers Mix the Batter

Sunday night tinds teen-agers in town and in the country gathered for fun and food. Each of the girls whips up her own specialty and the boys roll up their sleeves and don aprons while they roast wieners on long, pointed sticks in the rec room fireplace or fry beefburgers on the grill for the gang.

Gwen, the prize bread maker, takes over the job of providing enough homemade buns for the crowd. Sometimes on special occasions, her contribution takes the form of pecan rolls or

And there's Irene, who's an artist at heart. Anyone would know it to lay eyes on the salads she concocts. She has a basic recipe which she uses with variations.

Marge brings cookies which the boys consume by the dozen, but she doesn't mind, for she uses recipes that have been handed down by her grandmother. Each week she pulls out the yellowed old cook book and tries out a different recipe.

Beth says simply that the way to a boy's heart is paved with chocolate cake . . . so she'll tred a chocolate path. Karen and Jean come up with ideas for dessert and plan the funfest that

As a rule, the menu is planned in order to provide a fairly balanced meal — but the boys never seem to mind if it's a bit loaded with sweets. Once — just once — it was pot luck. Only it happened that everyone brought potato salad, and that didn't work out too well. So now each girl has developed a specialty all her own that fits into the picture as a whole. And food and fun reign supreme when the teen-agers mix the batter.

Beth knows that the way to a boy's heart is paved with chocolate cake like this.

1½ teaspoons soda

teaspoon salt

cup butter or other shortening

tablespoons sugar 1 cup corn syrup

2 egg yolks, unbeaten

squares unsweetened chocolate, melted

cup milk

1 teaspoon vanilla 2 egg whites

1% cups sifted cake flour

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar and cream well. Add syrup very gradually, by tablespoons at first, beating very hard after each addition to keep mixture thick. Then add ¼ of flour and beat until smooth and well blended. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add chocolate and blend. Add remaining flour in thirds, alternately with milk in halves, beating very well after each addition. Add vanilla. Beat egg whites until they will hold up in moist peaks. Stir quickly but thoroughly into batter. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350°F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Double recipe for three 1-inch layers.

Karen and Peter work together to finish the gingerbread - Karen frosts it while Peter samples!

Irene is an artist skilled in concocting salads just out of this world! Here's her cottage cheese mold.

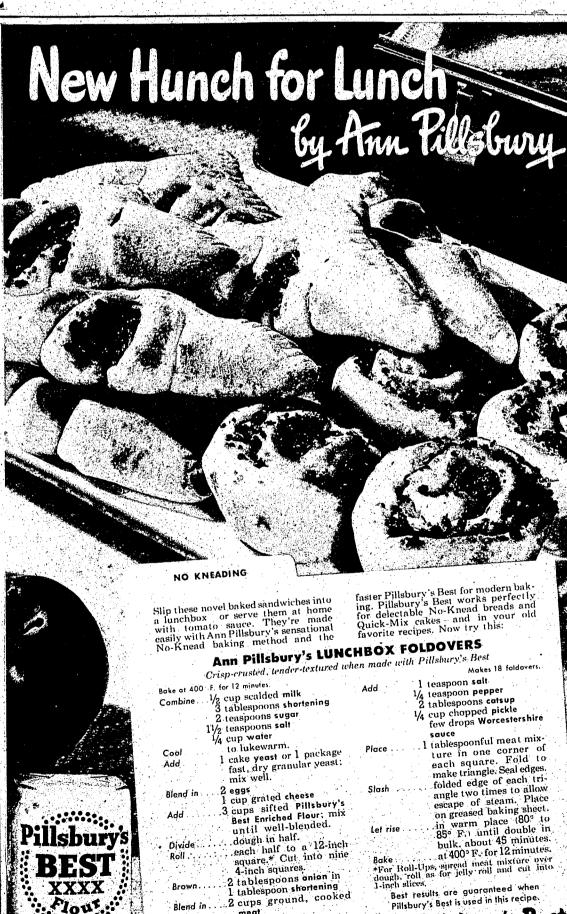

- 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
- cups hot water 1 tablespoon vinegar
- teaspoon salt
- Dash of cayenne 1 cup cottage cheese
- ½ cup mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar, salt and cayenne. Chill. When slightly thickened place in bowl of ice and water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Combine cheese and mayonnaise and fold into gelatin. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise, Makes 10 servings. 10 servings.

Variations

- 1 cup chopped celery 1/2 cup chopped nut meats
- ½ cup chopped pickles ½ cup chopped stuffed olives

Add one of the above ingredients or a combination of them. Fold into gelatin after adding cheese mixture. Makes 10 to 12 servings.
