Last weekend was a happy occasion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Turek when his brother and two sisters came to Clarkston for a reunion after being apart for a great many years. Tragwere children and after losing were separated and made their homes in different states. The war interrupted a family reunion. The oldest sister, Mrs. Frances McCarville, of Iowa hadn't seen her younger brother, Thomas, of California, for 30 years and her brother, John, of Clarkston, for 20 years. Needless to say they had a grand time.

A Beautiful Spot

Clarkston's Lakeview Cemetery is one of the most beautiful spots in Oakland County this year.

Owned and operated by the Township of Independence, it is one of the oldest-cemeteries in the County, It was founded on August 12, 1850, when three acres of ground were given to the Township by George VanSyckle for a burying ground. It was named Clarkston Union Cemetery.

James Bartlett was the first president of the new corporation; Horatio Foster was elected clerk; Jesse Millard, collector; Flavel Greenlief, treasurer and William Clark, sexton. In 1892 the name of the cemetery was changed to Lakeview. The Lakeview Cemetery Association was formed as a board of control and operated the cemetery until 1944. The Association Board resigned and the Township of Independence began operation of the cemetery.

In January 1948 a trained superintendent, Carl Anthony, Jr., of Pontiac was employed to take complete charge of the project. Additional land was purchased; surveyed and laid out in lots as the space in the old section became limited.

A modern underground sprinkling system was installed, shrubs and trees were planted, complete grave equipment was purchased, a truck for transporting this equiphis staff handle all burials in the Township cemeteries.

"A section of land has also been set aside for a veteran's plot. Lakeview cemetery is now thoroughly modernized.

The Invisible

We know the things we see and feel.

And things we touch as being real. We tell the good from bad as well By exercising sense of smell; By taste we judge the food we eat.

As being plain or dainty treat.

Yet, many things we must confess Are here, our daily lives to bless,

That we can't taste or smell or see Like fruit or blooms upon a tree. much, touch.

Most common of them all is air,

And no one knows where it will light As it ends its uncharted flight.

Then love, most powerful of all Does not respond to taste or call, Yet no one living can deny Its presence when it hovers nigh. So! God provides great things

VENTILATE HOTCAPS ON EARLY PLANTS

Tomato plants may be set out two weeks earlier and vine crops can be seeded three or four weeks earlier than normal through the use of waxed paper covers, says Jack Rose, Michigan State College department of horticulture.

Melons, cucumbers and squash can be seeded earlier if the hills are protected with covers commonly known as hotcaps. Tomato plants may be set out at the same time if protection is provided.

Several precautions are necessary in using the caps, Rose says. Caps should be set firmly and edges well covered with soil to hold them in place.

Plants growing under caps must have ventilation. When set over transplants or as soon as seed has come up under the caps, a twoinch shit should be cut in the side away from the prevailing wind.

As plants grow too large for the caps, the tops of the caps can be torn out to let plants grow through. The sides of the caps remaining in place continue to protect the young plants from the wind.

GOOD METHODS BRING BEST BEET RETURN

Maximum profits come from sugar beets when farmers choose good land for the crop and then plant sufficient amounts of seed, according to Richard Bell, Michigan State College farm crops extension specialist.

He recommends that four to five pounds of processed seed be used per acre to get a good stand. Sugar beets are very responsive to applications of commercial fertilizer. The use of 400 to 600 pounds per acre of a complete fertilizer is justified for good re-

For the 1949 crop season, Bell reports that the price outlook and labor supply are good for sugar beets. Government-prescribed labor wage rates are essentially the same as in 1948 and the use of more mechanical harvesters will ease the problem of harvest.

Although the acreage contracted to date is greater than in 1948; the plenty of land and facilities for 20,000 for 30,000 more acres of beets in Michigan.

Since sugar beets are not a "surplus" crop, there is little danger of an over production are staying in recesses so we can which would result in greatly be with the beavers instead of the lowered beet prices, Bell concludes.

Sweetheart on the Road?

The plain truth is you never drove a car that displays so many different, delightful and thrilling aspects when in action as does this big, roomy, lovely-looking 1949 Pontiac.

Here, ladies and gentlemen, is a real sweetheart on the road!

It's a treat just to sit behind the wheel and enjoy Pontiac's Safe-T-New Driver View, resulting from the Wide-Horizon windshield, slimmed corner pillars, lowered hood level-all contributing to easier, more enjoyable, safer driving.

When Pontiac's famous improved straight eight or six cylinder engine idles, there isn't a sound . . . and when it accelerates-zing! It takes the toughest hills in an easy stride. You swing around curves surely, steadily and without sway. There's magic in Pontiac's handling ease—comfort supreme in its exclusive new "Travelux" Ride and wonderful convenience with General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive*.

Yes, just name any phase of performance and comfort and you'll find it here to a unique and unusual degree. Best of all it's easy to own a Pontiac because it's priced just above the very lowest. The best way for you to satisfy yourself on Pontiac value is to come in today.

NOTICE

to Business Men:

It has come to our attention that, in certain Michigan Bell exchanges, advertising is being sold which is to appear on a "false cover" for telephone directories.

In that connection, we would like to call attention to the following provision of our tariff on file with the Michigan Public Service Commission:

"Directories regularly furnished to customers are the property of the Telephone Company and are loaned to customers; they are to be returned to the Telephone Company on request. No binder, holder or auxiliary cover of an advertising nature, except such as may be provided by or with the consent of the Telephone Company, shall be used in connection with any directory furnished by the Telephone Company."

In order to render good telephone service, it is necessary that we retain full control over our directories, which are an essential part of telephone service. We consider the above tariff to be a statement of a sound and necessary business policy and one which must be enforced.

Legal action has been taken to enjoin two persons who have sold advertising on and distributed such "falso covers" for telephone directories.
