Commencement Completes Clarkston School Year

When the Clarkston High School graduates marched into their places at the front of the First Methodist Church last Sunday evening for their baccalaureate service parents and friends filled the rest of the church to hear the Reverend Walter C. B. Saxman give an inspiring message on "Religion and Social Integration". His talk was short and to the point. He advised these young men and women to make themselves helpful in whatever community they located and to hold fast to their religion in order to keep to a high standard of living and make their lives really worthwhile.

Large vases of peonies, white snapdragons, and pink carnations were used to decorate the front of the sanctuary. The graduates marched in twos and occupied the front pews in the church. Several of the graduates were in the choir. At the close of the service they marched from the church as the organist, Adele Thomas, played "Onward Christian Soldiers".

It was an exceptionally warm night and many of the graduates were glad to free themselves of their gowns when they got out in the open. Much visiting was done outside before the class members went on to attend some social functions.

Open house was held by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Porritt and their daughter, Mary, a graduate, following the baccalaureate service for the graduates and the class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Bonner. Refreshments were served and the guests enjoyed seeing movies and colored slides of the senior activities and their recent trip to Washington, D. C.

The seniors spent a busy week leading up to their graduation on Wednesday night of this week. Besides the planning and preparing for the baccalaureate service and commencement during the day they were kept busy at social affairs in the evening. Last Friday night Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Butters and their son, Spenceley entertained the senior boys at dinner. They enjoyed a full evening with movies and games. On Monday afternoon and evening Mr. and Mrs. H. Baynes and their daughter, Lois, were hosts to the members of the class at a beach party at their cottage at Cass Lake.

On Wednesday evening high school days ended for another 42 young men and women when they received their diplomas at the graduation exercises at the Clarkston School. It was a happy occasion for the graduates, parents and friends who gathered there to greet each other and to hear a very fine program.

The graduates marched to their places at the front of the auditorium while Mrs. Adele Thomas and Mrs. Herbert Lissner played "Coronation March" on the two pianos. The members of the Junior Class formed an aisle of honor.

The invocation was given by the Reverend W. C. B. Saxman. The Salutatory, "Epilogue or Prologue" was given by David Saxman. He greeted the relatives and friends and thanked the parents, teachers, school board and citizens for making their education possible. Patsy Doyle, valedictorian, spoke on "Our Adjustment". She stressed the idea that to be a success, regardless of whether you are in high or low places, you must keep moving. No one can expect to get ahead if they loaf or sit down expecting fortune to fall at their feet.

The quartet, Spenceley Butters, Richard Allen, Lewis Masters and Gilbert Wells sang two very pretty numbers.

WORDS AND MUSIC

Mr. Ridgley introduced Mrs. C. B. Fulkerson of Kalamazoo and presented her with a corsage from the school. Mrs. Fulkerson responded and said how happy she was to attend the exercises. She graduated from this high school in the class of 1889. She was also a teacher in this school and was pleased to meet some of her pupils. After the program the folks realized that in their midst was also a graduate of early days, Mrs. Lillian Lessler who graduated in the class of 1887.

Mr. Ridgley then presented Edgar A. Guest who gave an inspiring talk, weaving many of his own experiences and his poems to together to drive home to the graduates that the life they are about to enter is to be one of unselfishness if they intend to reach any kind of a high goal. In part his talk was humorous but every word had weight and left something for the graduate to take with him wherever he might go.

I. J. Lawe, High School Principal, presented the class and Keith Leak, chairman of the Board of Education, awarded the diplomas. After each graduate received his or her diploma they were presented with a white rose, the class flower.

Rev. Mr. Saxman pronounced the benediction and the graduates left the auditorium to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance".

Much visiting was done in the corridors as greetings were extended to the graduates. The young people then left to attend a few final social affairs.

An interesting feature of the Baccalaureate Service and the Commencement Program was the fact that the Reverend W. C. B. Saxman who preached the baccalaureate sermon and Keith Leak who awarded the diplomas at the commencement exercises, both had sons in the graduating class.

Rites Read Tuesday Morning

On Tuesday morning at 9:30 at the Silvercrest Baptist Church Myrna L. Bliss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bliss of Ortonville, and Mrs. Robert E. Berg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Berg of Clarkston, spoke their marriage vows in the presence of their immediate families. The couple chose June 14th for their wedding day because it was the golden wedding anniversary of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lane of near Dryden.

The bride was smart in a white gabled dressmaker suit with navy trim, a small white hat, white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in the western part of the state. On their return they will make their home on the Dixie Highway just south of Clarkston.

Play Space Grows At Harmony Valley

The ground floor of the big play building at Harmony Valley Folk Art Center has been finished now making available 3,000 square feet of floor space for individuals and groups to have a good time.

An invitation is extended to recreational or educational group leaders or those who are interested in lay leadership to attend an informal get-together at the Center on Saturday, July 2nd. There will be no formal program but this will be a fine opportunity for leaders to exchange ideas and enjoy fellowship. There will be a pot-luck picnic supper and a play time in the evening.

Local Man In Polo Game Sunday

Several from Clarkston enjoyed the first polo game on the new Detroit Polo grounds located at Middlebelt and Fourteen Mile Roads on Sunday afternoon when the Detroit Gold Hats defeated the Pontiac Eagles, 12-9.

The field is what is known as an indoor-outdoor field. It has new bleachers and it is owned by the Detroit Club. Al Poole of the Clarkston Motors is a member and one of the organizers. Sunday he played with the Gold Hats. It was announced that Al had recently purchased three polo ponies.

Guests at the Orlo Willoughby home for a few days the first of the week were Mrs. Willoughby's sister and niece, Mrs. Ardis Snyder and daughter, Loren, of Bismarck, Minn. They returned to their home on Thursday.

Local Man Weds Grand Rapids Girl

Last Saturday evening at eight o'clock Joy Meade, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Brooks of Grand Rapids and Robert P. Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henry of Clarkston, spoke their nuptial vows to the Reverend Duane Vore at the Wallen Congregational Church in Grand Rapids.

The double ring ceremony was performed by candlelight before an altar banked with palms and large baskets of peonies and mock orange flanked with cathedral candelabra.

Before the service the bridegroom's uncle, Keith Hooper of Grand Rapids sang "O, Promise Me" and "Because", and at the close of the ceremony he sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Stephen Meade of Grand Rapids, was lovely in a shell pink organza gown with sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a band of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried cream colored roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor was Mrs. E. R. VanOvern, aunt of the bridegroom. She wore pale green organza styled similar to the bride's gown. Her headpiece was a halo hat of yellow and she carried yellow roses.

Two junior bridesmaids were Joyce Gribbell in yellow organza and Gwendolyn Hooper in blue organza. Their gowns were fashioned the same as the other attendants. They carried pink roses.

Raymond Hooper in a white suit was the ring bearer. He carried the rings on a pale pink satin pillow.

Janice Gribbell as flower girl wore pink organza and carried a basket of pink, white and yellow roses.

Assisting Mr. Henry was his brother, Walter Henry of Clarkston, as best man and seating the guests were his brother, Charles Henry of Clarkston and Leo Larkin and Russell VanOvern of Grand Rapids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hooper. The bride's table was attractive with a lace cloth over pink and centered with a three tiered wedding cake flanked with yellow candles in silver holders. Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Henry presided at the silver services. Mrs. Bruce Gribbell cut the cake.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Brooks, chose a black and white sheer print, a small black and white hat and white accessories for the occasion. Mrs. Henry was in printed silk with small white hat and white accessories. Both mothers wore an orchid corsage.

Following the reception the young couple left for a honeymoon in the Upper Peninsula. The bride wore, for traveling, a gray gabardine, tailored suit with small white hat, white accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. On their return they will make their home on Orion Road Clarkston.

The bridegroom graduated from the Clarkston High School in the class of '44. He served in the Army for three years, on duty in the Pacific area. He attended the Adrian College and is now employed by the Ainsley-Henry Electrical Shop in Clarkston.

Among the guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. E. F. Powell and her sister, Ruby Powell and Mrs. Charles Torry, Karoline Miller, Pauline Baker, Marilyn Baker, and Norma Terry.

The Dixie Saddle Club had a turn-out of 20 horses, both ridden and driven, for the trail ride last Sunday. The ride took them through some very pretty country, over hills and through valleys, country that can really be enjoyed on horseback.

They arrived at Wildwood Lake about noon and about 40 persons enjoyed a very fine lunch. At about two o'clock the president, William Sutton of Ortonville called the meeting to order. Several matters of business were taken care of and projects were discussed. At about three o'clock pictures were taken of the members and their horses and at 4 o'clock they were saddled and mounted and started on the ride back home. They arrived home about six o'clock tired and dirty from the heat and dust of a very warm Sunday well spent.

Anyone interested in the Saddle Club may phone Clarkston 7409 or 4098 for information.

Attention Drawn To Coming Elections

A page of this paper which contains very vital information to the people of this community is page 5. Seldom do we start a news item this way, but on this page will be found the legal notices relating to the purchase of the Ford property on W. Washington by the Village of Clarkston as well as the purchase of the Seesterlin Bros. garage on East Church Street by the Township of Independence. Your attention is also called to the annual school election and meeting.

Ford Property
The purchase of the Ford property including the very important issue of control of the water in the Mill Pond and to some degree Park Lake as well as the land from Washington to Depot Road carried at one election. Because of a legal technicality a second election was held and the decision to buy lacked a few votes of passing. The price has since been reduced from $40,000 to $22,500. The two different thoughts here are whether it is better to purchase the property and sell the hall on Main Street leaving this limited frontage to business or not to buy and thus leave the Ford property to be sold to some business which could use it for manufacturing.

The Township Purchase
The township need for a garage for fire trucks, tankers, cemetery and other trucks is acute. It would seem that the price of $15,000 is fair, and much cheaper than a building could be built.

The School Election
Four school board trustees will be chosen at the annual election. One member was not replaced at the meeting last year and thus held over. Another member is filling out the term of a member who resigned. Two terms of members expire at this time. We have been informed that no petition has been circulated, thus far, for any member. On July 7 the election for the reorganization of the school district will be decided. This question is important to the parents of children in school and the right or wrong decision could help or harm the standing of our schools and would do a lot to encourage or discourage newcomers who might like to settle here.

The News has no intention of doing more than calling the above facts to your attention. It is our belief that an informed public can safely be depended upon to act in the interest of the majority. But we do believe everyone interested, and all of us are more or less interested in one or more of the above, should know something about how to vote and then vote as they see fit and proper.

Vacation Schools Start At Churches

The Vacation Church School will open at the Clarkston Methodist Church on Monday morning, June 20th and continue each morning until Friday, July 1st. The sessions will be two hours in length from 9:30 until 11:30. The classes are as follows:

Kindergarten (ages 3-5), teachers, Mrs. William Mansfield and Mrs. Clifford Strandberg. Text: "The World About Us".

Primary (ages 6-8), teacher, Mrs. Walton Robbins. Text: "Our Daily Bread".

Junior (ages 9-11), teacher, Mrs. Orlo J. Willoughby. Text: "Praise Ye The World".

Intermediates (ages 12-14), teacher, Rev. Walter C. B. Saxman. Text: "Come Let Us Worship".

Vacation Bible School begins at Waterford Community Church, Monday morning June 20, at 9 A. M.

With classes for every age of children from three to fourteen years, and a lively, interesting program from start to finish, every boy and girl who attends is assured of two weeks of joyous activity.

The entire program is Bible centered, and non-denominational in character, featuring graded Bible lessons, worship, recreation and handwork, all designed to provide the children with a better acquaintance of the Book of Books and its central personality Jesus Christ.

All children of the community are invited to attend, and no charge is made for registration. Children are asked as far as possible to give twenty cents for the work books provided for each child.

An excellent staff of teachers, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Wright VanPlew, and the children's worker, Miss Elizabeth Jencks will conduct the school.

Further information may be obtained by calling 11-1771 or 3-2222.

Merger Urged For School District

A call has been issued by Oakland County Superintendent of Schools, E. J. Lederle, for a vote on Thursday, July 7, on the forming of a rural agricultural district. Schools involved are Bigelow, Clarkston, Clarkston Station, Hunter and Springfield I.

Students from these areas are now attending the Clarkston School.

No immediate large scale building program will be necessary. School districts organized on the basis of natural community areas have potentialities for meeting the present and future school problems which the smaller units could not possibly do.

Voting on July 7 will be at the High School for the voters of the Clarkston 3 Fr. district and the township hall for the voters of Bigelow, Clarkston Station, Hunter and Springfield I. The time will be from 1:00 to 8:00 o'clock.

Vows Spoken in Waterford

Miss Elsie Spaetzel and Thomas Joseph LaJoie spoke their vows on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Rev. Howard Jewell, who performed the ceremony.

Elsie is the daughter of Mrs. Dawson Israel of Caro and Harvey Spaetzel of Waterford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaJoie of Caro.

The bride's gown was of white satin and lace. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a braided tiara and she carried a bouquet of cream colored roses and white carnations.

Leah Piske of Caro was maid of honor. She wore a gown of yellow organza and carried rust colored roses. Mrs. Alice LaJoie of Detroit as bridesmaid was gowned in blue organza and carried pink roses.

The bridegroom's attendants were Robert McNeil of Caro and his brother, Bud LaJoie, of Detroit.

A wedding dinner was served to the wedding party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John MacLarty, 6671 Lotus Drive, Windiate Park. A reception for friends and relatives was held later in the day at the Caro Gun Club.

Mr. and Mrs. LaJoie will spend their honeymoon in northern Michigan and on their return will live near Caro.

By the Way . . .

Maybe I am a queer sort. I go to a wedding to see the bride walking down the aisle. I like to watch the bridegroom waiting at the altar. I like to go to a Baccalaureate service and I enjoy watching the class enter. The students at the Commencement exercises are an inspiration. So—why in the name of all that Emily Post represents does everyone stand up so no one can see the main participants? It may be an honor to the bride party or class but to me it would be a greater honor to see something . . . When your writer came to Clarkston to take over the News, he received a renewal subscription and a very kind letter from a subscriber. We have always remembered that letter and the inspiration it was to us. Last evening we had the pleasure of meeting the writer, Mrs. C. B. Fulkerson, a member of the graduating class of 1889. Now we can imagine that she has been an inspiration to all who have had the pleasure of meeting her. . . . Ever wonder what makes a person tick? Listening to Edgar A. Guest, one almost feels that he had listened to a good sermon. Afterwards I had the pleasure of meeting him—the fifth time. What makes him tick, to me, is that he acted as though he remembered me as an old friend. Just plain, unaffected Eddie—the humble soul that writes so many poems of just plain living—and I am sure to him, mine was just another face. . . . Times are hard for endowed institutions of learning. At least two or three times a month for some time past, as an attorney, and I presume all other attorneys are receiving the same sort of mail, we have been importuned to include a bequest in our client's wills leaving something to the endowment fund of this or that college. . . . Two new subscriptions this

Movies are again the program for this Friday evening's entertainment sponsored by the Clarkston Merchants.

Starting at eight o'clock the committee will furnish music; the high school boys' quartet will sing and you will be entertained until it is dark enough to show pictures.

The free prize is now $25.00 and will be given away if the one whose name is drawn is present to receive it. No one has claimed the prize at any of the previous shows.

Rotary Club News

Dr. George Chittenden of Jennings Hospital in Detroit, delivered an effective address on the subject of socialized medicine at the meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday evening. His main criticism, and one most of the members present agreed with, was that it was another chance for a government bureau and more bureaucrats. He was introduced by Harold Hart of Clarkston and Detroit. Charles Carr of the Detroit Club was present and A. B. Case of Idaho was a guest of William Sharpe.

The dinner committee was headed by Mrs. James Talmage assisted by Mrs. Arthur Tondou, Mrs. Emma Young and Alethea Rose.

The Home Extension groups met on Tuesday at the homes of Mrs. W. S. Barrows and Mrs. Bradley Miller and continued their dress-making lesson. Mrs. Perry's group will meet again on Wednesday, June 22, for an all day meeting and Mrs. Bates' group will meet with Mrs. Lee Clark on Tuesday, June 21, when they hope to complete their dresses.

Unfoldment

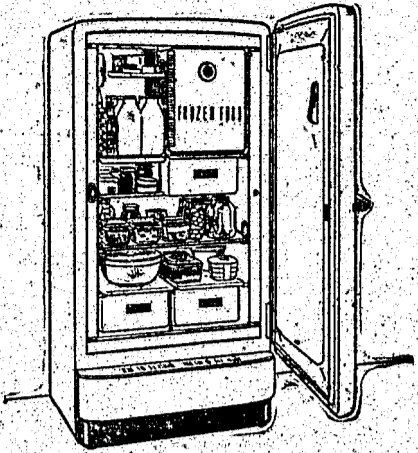

The month of June! there's none so rare. Then flowers bloom beyond compare; Then song birds hatch and try their wings, As parent proud, sits by and sings. Then, apples set and gardens grow, And laden bees fly to and fro. Then sun ascends in early morn— And perfect little colts are born. The earth is warmed by summer heat; Then heads are formed on winter wheat. The schools let out and some are thru, They enter in adventures new. The air is tense in every town, As seniors march in cap and gown. The family ties soon loose their hold When those we love start to unfold. We, like the birds, have had an eye On time when our offspring would fly— As we'd sit by and sing their praise, And look ahead to lonesome days. —ROBERT C. HEATHE (All rights reserved)

The entire school joined in a song. In the absence of Mrs. Miller who has worked in the Sunday School more than 50 years, Mrs. Henry Mehlberg represented the oldest in service in this church, Mr. Orville Gidcomb had charge of the promotion exercises, each teacher giving out the promotion cards.

The Girl Scout Troop No. 5 met at the Community Activities building on Monday evening with their leader, Mrs. Marshall White, and assistant leader, Mrs. Rudy Boss. Mrs. White welcomed the guests. There were 18 girls received clothing badges; 17 sewing badges; 1 handywoman and 1 leathercraft. Seven girls receiving the 5 year pin included: Frances Simpson, Gail Smith, Charlotte West, Judy Gallagher, Barbara Simmons, Joan Pammenter and Sandra Frack. Mitzi Boss received high honors when the curved bar was presented to her by Mrs. Edward Gallagher, who is the P. T. A. president. She made a very fitting speech. Mitzi's father had the honor of pinning the bar on her. Mrs. Boss was given her 5 year pin and Mrs. White received her 3 year service pin from the troop. Mrs. Boss received a lovely gift from the committee and the troop for her work. She presented her resignation at this time. Mitzi was presented with flowers from the troop for the highest achievement in girl scouting. The high light of the clothing work was the presenting of pinafores, sunsuits and baby clothing to the Ladies' Guild of Christ Lutheran Church. The Girl Scout meetings are discontinued for the summer and will be resumed in September.

The MOMS of Waterford held their June meeting on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Murdo McDonald when the group enjoyed a picnic dinner on the lovely lawn at the rear of the home. The day was ideal. There were 18 present. The meeting followed the dinner and was conducted by the president, Mrs. Clifford Wood. The committee planned the trip to the Veterans' Hospital at Dearborn on June 21st. Cookies and candy will be collected from those wishing to contribute on June 20th by Mrs. McDonald. Dish cloths are being sold. Mrs. William Hunt has charge of this project. Cards, jello, dolly dazies, and wonder sheets are being sold by the group. The main project of this group is to help the service men at the hospital.

The group started plans for a breakfast to be held in July. The president named the following committee for this affair: Mrs. William Wagner, Sr., Mrs. Murdo McDonald, Mrs. Robert VanMarster, Mrs. Floyd Wallace, Mrs. Lawrence Giddings, Mrs. Arthur Armstead and Mrs. Clifford Wood. Cards are to be sent to the members, notifying them of the meetings. Mrs. S. W. Eiter of Maybee Road will have the July meeting starting at 2 p. m. The August meeting will be a picnic at the home of Mrs. McDonald at 12:30.

The library room at the Community Activities building was the scene of a lovely affair on Wednesday afternoon when a varied program honored the 4th anniversary of the library. Mrs. Alton Banfield, president of the Mothers' Club had charge of the program. Prayer was offered by Mrs. H. B. Mehlberg. Mrs. O. L. Seigman greeted the guests and placed 4 candles on the make-believe birthday cake in an interesting and unique fashion. Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, in her pleasing manner, reviewed the book, "The Point of No Return" by B. F. Marquand. Mrs. A. J. Holstein, who is very active and contributes so much to the library work and presents so many of the book reviews, gave a brief resume of the work done by the group in the past year. She also outlined the work for the coming year, starting in September. Mrs. G. H. Gillen of Watkins Lake gave her hobby talk "Books Come Alive Through Dolls". She showed a very fine display of dolls from the various countries. The tea table was lovely with a centerpiece of roses. Mrs. William Shunch was chairman of arrangements for the tea. There were 60 women attended.

In outlining the program for the new year Mrs. Holstein named the following books for September: The Purple Land; Green Mansions and Idle Days in Patagonia. These books are by W. H. Hudson; October—books by Christopher Morley; The Haunted Book Shop; Parnissus on Wheels; Two American Humorists; Ring Lardner and Irvin S. Cobb; November — The Texas Longhorns and Coronado's Children by J. Frank Dobie; December — Leonardo da Vinci, Artist Supreme, His Life and Times; Antonina Vallentin. These books together with pictures will complete the work for 1949.

The Baccalaureate Service for the graduating class at the Waterford Township High School was held on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Drayton Plains Presbyterian Church. James Vandersall opened the program playing the processional "Pomp and Circumstance". The invocation was given by the Reverend Wright VanPlew, pastor of the Waterford Community Church. Miss Della Radenbaugh sang, "The Lord's Prayer" with Miss Joan Kray playing the piano accompaniment. The sermon was given by Reverend W. J. Teuwessing, pastor of the Drayton Church using as his topic Proverbs 19:8. The Reverend VanPlew pronounced the benediction and the class marched from the sanctuary. Among the graduates were:

"QUICK THINKING AND FAST ACTION GOT ME $175 EXTRA ON A FORD TRUCK TRADE!"

Ford Model F-1 Panel, one of over 150 models in the Ford Bonus Built Truck line for 1949.

"When I heard my Ford Dealer was making the best truck deals in town, I decided to check," says Andrew Ligieski.

"It was a fact! The offer looked extra good. And when I stopped to think that used truck values were slipping, and that I might take quite a loss if I waited, I made up my mind on the spot.

"I'm tickled pink I did. Used truck values have slipped so fast in the last three months, I figure my quick thinking and fast action got me at least $175 extra on a Ford Truck trade."

LAY CHURCH LEADERS TO MEET JULY 4-16

More than 100 rural clergymen and lay leaders representing Michigan and 16 other states will meet on the Michigan State College campus July 4-16 to participate in the third annual Rural Leadership School.

One of the headline speakers will be Dr. Claude Snyder, of St. Louis, Mo., national chairman of rural church work for the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Approximately 50 MSC faculty members and 15 leaders of community and church activities will direct the 12-day session, according to Russel J. Kleis, head of the MSC department of special courses and conferences.

SAVE THE CARPET ON STAIRS

Friction and wear on stair carpets is several times more severe than that received by floor coverings in other parts of the house. Since the pile is shifted back and forth constantly under the pressure of foot traffic, carpets with dense pile surfaces are not recommended, advises Miss Josephine Hoke, Home Demonstration Agent.

Wear is exceptionally rapid at the edge of the stair tread and stair carpets should be installed with underlays or rug cushioning of some type at these points. Sponge rubber underlays have been particularly suitable for this purpose.

For best results, stair carpet should be cut a foot longer than necessary. This extra length should be folded under in one or two risers at the top. Then you can shift the carpet downward when it begins to show wear over the nose of the tread.

In this way, the carpet can be shifted several times before it will be necessary to replace it. The most worn sections will be comparatively hidden on the risers. Excess carpet at the foot of the stairs can be folded under the riser at the bottom step after each shift.

MSC SUMMER SCHOOL WILL BEGIN JUNE 18

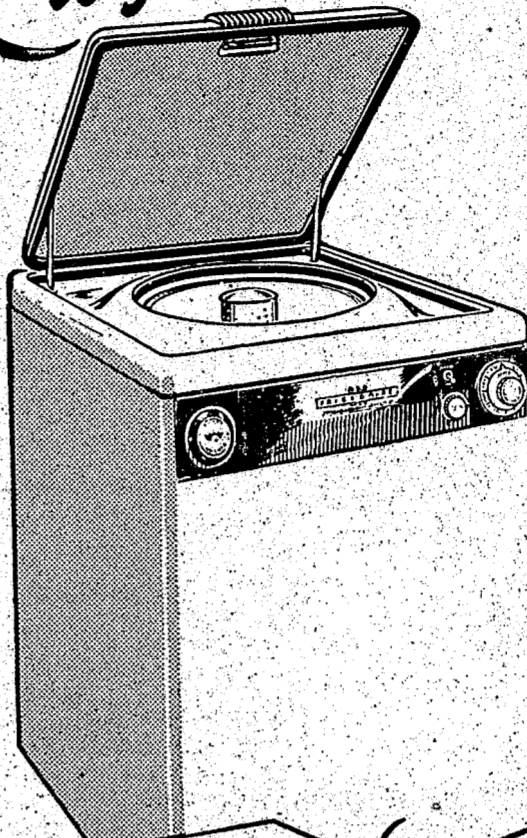

An estimated 4,000 persons will participate in regular summer school and special workshops to be held June 18 to August 1 at Michigan State College, according to Dean S. E. Crowe, summer school director.

Registration for the six-week session will be held June 18-20, although late registration will be allowed through June 27. Whether the college will offer a previously announced second six-week session starting July 27 will depend on action of the State Legislature June 23 when the college's budget comes up for approval, Crowe said. This same condition applies to all short courses and conferences usually sponsored by the college after August 1.

Included on the summer program will be speech and journalism workshops, and a six-week school music course, all designed for high school students. A special course in speech correction, the fourth annual government workshop the "Flying Classroom" and other special courses also, will be held.

Besides a large resident faculty, prominent guest speakers and educators will include: Gov. G. Mennen Williams, J. E. Davies, member of the President's Council of Economic Advisors; Dwight Rich, superintendent of Lansing public schools; Dr. S. J. Beck,

EMPTY FUEL OIL TANKS MAY CUT WINTER SUPPLY

Because consumers of fuel oil are holding back on filling furnace tanks in the expectation there will be further price cuts, production is being curtailed due to lack of storage capacity at refineries, and the end result may be a shortage in supplies next winter, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also state fuel coordinator, reported today.

In an effort to stimulate the movement of oil from refinery to distributor and consumer tanks many companies are now beginning to enter into contracts under which purchasers will give protection against any price declines that may occur up to September 1.

"In the past," Leonard said, "about 75 per cent of domestic consumers have filled their furnace tanks during the summer. This has been equivalent to adding that much storage capacity to the storage facilities of distributors and refineries. Because of price declines home consumers and distributors, too, are not making normal purchases in the hope there will be further reductions. This has meant that production has gone into refinery storage tanks and these are now brimming over. Refineries are therefore slowing down operations.

"If there is no change in the situation all of the accumulated demand will hit the producers at one time next fall. Although refinery tanks will be full there may be some delay in immediately meeting this impact because rail and truck equipment may not be sufficient. Lacking the margin of supply safety represented by production for summer sales, refineries also will thereafter be hard put to keep up with winter demands. And just to complicate it a little bit more, there will again be an increase in demand because of new oil furnace installations.

"Since the severe shortage of the winter of 1947-48, both crude oil and refinery production capacities have been increased and with normal sales during the summer there need be no apprehension over a shortage. But the suspension of buying may spell trouble.

"Of course, I am unable to say and would not predict whether there will be price increases or more reductions. I am presenting only the supply picture as it appears today so that consumers will have this information."

Don't Fence Yourself In

Every spring, Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts patch up the stone wall that separates their farms. They walk along talking—Easy on one side, Handy on the other—picking up the fallen stones and putting them back.

Afterwards, over a friendly glass of beer, Easy says, "You know, wall-mending is a nice neighborly custom, but we really don't need that wall. We keep it up just because it happens to be there."

"Yes," says Handy, "a lot of walls and fences and boundaries keep separating people for no good reason. Maybe we'd all be better off if some of them were torn down, instead of kept standing."

From where I sit, Handy said a mouthful. Take the "walls of intolerance" that people build up against each other. I like a temperate glass of beer now and then, you may prefer buttermilk—but that's no reason for me to criticize you, or you, me. Let's live and let-live together—making more friends and fewer "walls."

THE COST OF MEDICAL CARE

★ That the cost of medical care has risen, no one can deny. But the rise has not been out of proportion to the general advance in the cost of living. At the same time the quality of medical service has been immeasurably improved.

Consider that today your physician has invested from eight to ten years and about ten thousand dollars in his education alone. He has no chance to earn until he is twenty-six or twenty-seven years old. He must have an office in a good neighborhood, good equipment, a car, good clothes.

Pharmacy, too, has stepped up its standards. Almost every state now requires four years of college and a year or two of practice before registration. All this adds up to better medical service for you.

Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Rowley and her mother, Mrs. Katherine Cable, attended the graduation exercises at the Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, Ohio, on Monday. Among the graduates was Myra Katherine Rowley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rowley.

St. Michael's Church in Pontiac was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Saturday morning when Lois Arlene Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fuller of Frembes Street, and Howard George Brinker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Brinker of Dixie Highway, spoke their nuptial vows to the Reverend Louis Eyon before two hundred guests. The bride was lovely in a candlelight satin gown styled with a scalloped neckline, a full skirt with bustle back and a bird of paradise train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of satin with seed pearl trim. She carried a white prayer book on which was a white orchid and stephanotis.

Phyllis Brinker, sister of the bridegroom, was the honor maid. Her gown was of light green, tissue faille and she wore a matching picture hat and mitts. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and snapdragons with ivy streamers.

Mildred Strobe and Shirley Wall were bridesmaids in orchid and yellow faille, respectively. Their gowns were fashioned alike with short sleeves, full skirts and bustle bows. They also wore matching hats and mitts and carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations with bronze snapdragons and ivy streamers.

Mr. Brinker was assisted by Charles Ruemenapp of Detroit as best man and Roy Andrews and Jack Porter seated the guests.

Following the ceremony a breakfast for the wedding party was served at Devon Gables. In the afternoon, from two until five, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fuller chose a rose beige dress with toast hat and gloves and green lizard shoes and bag. She wore a corsage of yellow Talisman rosebuds. Mrs. Brinker was in gray crepe with pink and gray hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

The newlyweds left on a short honeymoon with the new Mrs. Brinker wearing a black crepe dress with white pique trim, a matching hat, white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Those vacationers who visit Sleeper state park near the tip of the Thumb can take a squint at the swell job nature has performed in grafting a white pine branch to a red pine tree.

According to Allen H. Boelter, conservation department farm forester, the white pine branch apparently became lodged in the crotch of the red pine. At the point of contact the cambium layer, or growing part of the white pine made contact with the same layer of the red pine. The white pine now is a vigorous and healthy tree 10 inches in diameter and is continuing to grow at right angles to the main stem of the parent tree.

The seven Michigan counties having more than 300 lakes include Marquette, Luce, Iron, Gogebic, Oakland, Schoolcraft and Barry.

Dear Fuel Oil Users:

During the fuel oil shortage many people experienced anxious days in not knowing whether their homes would be warm. Their supplier was without oil part of the time and other occasions found it necessary to charge as high as 50% over the market, before a delivery could be made.

My customers experienced no such difficulties. Fortunately I was able to take care of all my customers serving them with the finest Standard Oil fuels. Many folks who were not regular customers of mine tried to purchase our products, however, I had a full job of keeping my regulars supplied.

I have now expanded my facilities to serve additional customers. There is also more oil available at present. However with world unrest this situation may change radically in a short time.

Would you like to do business with a reputable company, who sells top quality products at a fair price? Why not give me a ring, telephone Clarkston 2656, and I'll be happy to become your supplier but do it now. Please don't wait because we may both be disappointed and I'd like very much to be your oil man next season.

In addition when I fill your storage this summer I will guarantee you that if the price is reduced before September the Standard Oil Company will refund to you the price difference.

Yours truly
Byron Nolan
Standard Oil Agent
