OUTDOOR BENEFIT PARTY SATURDAY, JULY 23

The outdoor benefit party being sponsored by the Clarkston Firefighters for the Cathy Richardson Fund will be held on Satur- Has Guest Night day evening, July 23rd, beginning at eight o'clock. This very worthwhile affair will take place on West Washington Street just off of Main Street. Everybody in Clarkston and surrounding communities are invited to attend and have a good time.

There will be a surprise to start the evening, so be on time. Another interesting feature will be the stitute of Science. Mr. Nickells is presence of little "Cathy" who will take part in the evening's lecturer and an outstanding au-

The Firefighters have put in much time and thought to try pictures of birds and told of their to make this affair big enough to raise the Cathy Richardson Fund over the thousand dollar mark. The Fund is now well over $500. Their hopes will be realized of the lecture Mr. Nickells gave if everyone cooperates.

Many folks are still asking who is Cathy Richardson? and what is the fund for? Cathy is the nineteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Richardson who reside on S. Main Street, Clarkston. Last winter she was a very sick baby and had to undergo two or three major operations. Following the operations a blood clot formed in her leg. Finally the leg had to be amputated between the knee and the thigh, At that time Cathy had never walked and now with an artificial limb she is finding it quite difficult. This fund is to pay for aruficial limbs which will have to be purchased as she grows. This might mean adjustments at first and then a larger leg and foot.

Cathy now has her first artificial leg and her folks are very happy to say that with a little support from mama or daddy she is able to take a few steps. The leg manufacturer tells them it might be a few months before she is able to walk by herself.

Be on hand Saturday night to help put a few dollars in the fund.

Doctor Advises On Tonsillectomy

There is no more danger in having your child's tonsils taken demic of polio in your neighborloctor says.

Many parents have asked if having tonsils removed during the polio season would make their children more susceptible to this disease, Dr. Ernest H. Watson, associate professor of pediatrics and communicable diseases in the University's Medical School, re-

"Taking the tonsils out would not make the child more susceptible," the doctor asserted. "But if he should contract polio soon afterwards, chances are it might be a more severe form of the disease, called bulbar poliomyelitis."

For this reason, if there should be polio in a neighborhood, doctors advise against taking the tonsils out at that time.

Children need not have their tonsils removed simply because they have large tonsils, Dr. Watson declared. He added that all preschool age children have large

"If your child breathes through his mouth, has a continuous nasal discharge, a discharge from his ears, or swollen neck glands, have him examined by your physician. Dr. Watson said. "These are indications that he may have diseased tonsils or adenoids."

If adenoids grow back after they have been removed, it does not mean that the operation has been improperly performed, the doctor pointed out. Regrowth of adenoids may happen, particularly if they have been removed from very young children. "In general, tonsil and adenoid removal may be postponed until the child is four or five years old," Dr. Watson said. "But if the very young child has repeated attacks of middle ear infection, called otitis media, or persistent colds and sore throats, then his adenoids should be removed even if there is a chance they will grow back."

Some instances of failure to grow and gain weight normally have been traced to diseased tonsils and adenoids, the doctor

WATCH THREE C's IN PICNIC BASKETS

Outbreaks of food poisoning are traced each year to Michigan picnic baskets, the Michigan Department of Health warned today. Three C's - CAREFULNESS of selection and preparation; CLEAN-LINESS of person, kitchen utensils and ingredients; and COLD-NESS of ingredients through storfamily from food poisoning, the Department said. Modern and old time dancing Don't get the mistaken ideas that good music from 9:00 until 1:00 food, once cooked, will remain safe for hours; that pre-cooked or cured frigeration; that spoiled food always tastes or smells bad, it add-These are the foods which require special care: all pre-cooked and cooked meats, poultry, fish and eggs, salad dressings and cream-filled pastries. Still others requiring care are: gelatin preparations, baked beans, gravies and puddings. These foods must be kept cold-50 degrees or below from the time they are prepared until they are eaten. They cannot be kept safely at room temperature, or in the ordinary piculc basket. Food poisoning is caused by the growth in food of germs (staphlococci) usually found in the nose colds, and in pimples, boils, car- until eaten. buncles and infected fingers.

These germs may reach from the air, from sore or dirty hands. unclean towels, dishes, utensils, sandwich and meat boards and meat grinders or from flies, mice and roaches,

In warm weather, these germs multiply and produce poisons so fast that food kept even an hour without proper refrigeration may be dangerous, even though it is refrigerated later. Usually heating up such food is not sufficient to destroy the bacteria and the poison can be fatal.

The ingredients of the picnic lunch especially, should be kept lean and cold during preparation, should be refrigerated until transferred to an insulated container or packed in ice for transportation. There are insulated containers on the market and putting potato salad, baked beans and sandwich fillings in clean, closed jars and then packing them in a box of cracked ice, thoroughly insulated with newspaper wrappings, is an inexpensive recommended procedure. Keep the refrigerated pic-

and throat of people with bad nic foods covered and in the shade

The clothes you pack in the going away bag depend on your destination and the activities you will enjoy when you arrive. Rural Zele-news

HARD-WORKING WIRES - Helping to bring telephone service to more farm families is the application of "carrier" equipment to rural telephone lines. This special equipment, used for years on Long Distance lines, enables several conversations to travel along the same pair of wires at the same time and without interfering with each other. Recent developments indicate that, under suitable conditions, extra rural circuits also can be provided in this manner.

RADIO BY TELEPHONE - Radio networks are really networks of special telephone circuits linking groups of radio stations. A program originating in one station is sent out by telephone wires to other stations. From there it is broadcast to you by radio. Thus the telephone system helps make possible one of today's most important sources of news, information and entertainment on the farm.

ONE LITTLE CALL - The telephone rings. It's your tractor dealer calling to say that axle won't be ready today after all, and a needless trip to town is saved. Almost every call saves you time and trouble, helps you get so much more done order supplies, make appointments, or talk to a neighbor. For the small price you pay for telephone service, you get a lot of value.

Windy Sure "Stopped The Show"!

watching a swell vaudeville program on his new television set. It came in fine, but just once. the screen got a little streaky.

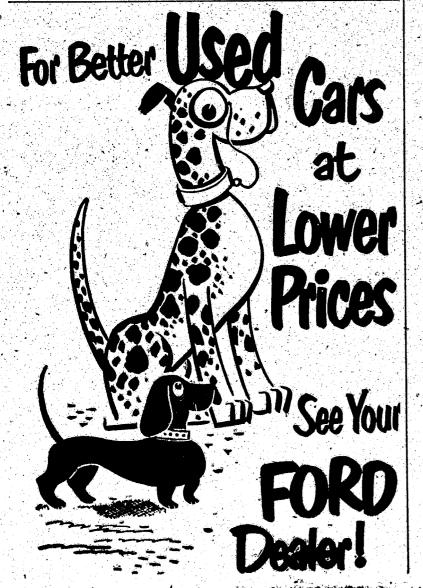

Before the Judge could touch the knob to bring it into focus, old Windy Taylor starts fooling around with the antenna connection. "I can fix that!" he says.

Windy fixed it all right. He "stopped the show" for us, and Buzz Ellis had to come over and do a $20 repair job. I understand

The other night a bunch of us Windy feels so bad, that he's paywere over at Judge Canningham's ing the bill and has apologized to the Judge for acting so smart.

HELP THE PHYSICIAN HELP YOU

An accurate case history is an invaluable aid in arriving at a correct diagnosis. In order to get the information needed to make an accurate diagnosis, the physician must ask you many searching questions. If you answer his questions frankly and accurately, he has a valuable group of facts with which to work. Withholding information from him only serves to obscure the very result you seek. We are not diagnosticians, but we are skilled in the art of compounding and dispensing medicine at the order of your physcian.

Do you know one in every five drivers involved in fatal accidents had been drinking?" That one in four adult pedestrians involved in fatal accidents "had been drinking?" In one-fourth of the fatal accidents in America, for a recent year, either driver or pedestrian was reported to have been drink-

That's an appalling record—and calls for a reminder to every citizen — if you drink, don't drive

If you drink, be doubly careful walking or riding.

Driving under the influence of liquor is a traffic violation. One conviction means the automatic suspension of your driver's license. The basic rule for every driver to remember is "Keep your car under control at all times." The driver who has had too much to drink has no control over either himself or his car. He's endangering not only his own life but the lives of everyone about him. Remember, drinking and driving do not mix. Even the person who has had "only a couple drinks" is a potential traffic hazard. Watch out for this fellow—and make sure that you yourself have the good sense to keep out of this category. This is just one of the common sense laws of good safe driving. Study all those laws — the rules of good driving — the traffic rules. Don't take a chance — know and OBEY your traffic laws and save
