Officers Installed At Public Ceremony

On Monday evening the 1949-50 officers for the Joseph C. Bird Chapter, 294, O. E. S. were installed at a public ceremony at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Gordon Boeneman, the retiring matron, was the master of ceremonies and she was assisted by Lloyd Anderson, retiring patron. Mrs. Blain Jones, a past matron of the local chapter, was the installing officer. She made the ceremony very impressive by the way she delivered the charges to the incoming officers. She was assisted by Mrs. Elmer Going, past matron, as marshal; Mrs. O. C. Adams, past matron, as chaplain and Mrs. Meta McIlroy of Pontiac chapter 228 as organist. Mrs. Stanley Craft, past matron, was the assisting marshal and pages for the evening were Patricia Lawson and Patricia Wood.

There were two hundred or more attended the installation and these included guests from several nearby towns and cities.

To close a very lovely evening the guests were invited to the dining room where refreshments were served from a table covered with a beautiful gold colored cloth and centered with a pretty arrangement of yellow gold mums flanked with white candles in crystal holders. Dainty sandwiches and cookies were attractively arranged and coffee and tea were served from silver services at each end of the long table. Mrs. Howard Peterson was in charge of the refreshments and she was assisted by Mrs. William Johnston, Mrs. Max Mumford and Mrs. William Kelley.

Shower Honors Saturday Bride

On Tuesday evening of last week Honor Stickey entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home honoring Malvina Smith who spoke her nuptial vows to Louis R. McCreight on Saturday. Old friends and neighbors made up the group.

During the evening a file of favorite recipes was made and then each guest embroidered her name on a quilt block. Malvina received an attractive gift from each guest from underneath a large, white silk parasol and then she was presented with an electric mixer from the group.

The refreshment table was centered with a pretty arrangement of pink asters and white clematis in a crystal bowl flanked with white candles in crystal holders. A special cake decorated with pink roses graced the table. Malvina had the pleasure of cutting this cake.

P. T. A. Council Met Friday

The Oakland County Council Parent-Teacher Association held their second meeting of the fall at the Donelson School Friday night.

Mrs. Max Williams of Royal Oak was the featured speaker of the evening. Mrs. Williams has been a member of the Parent-Teacher Association for twenty-one years and was recently presented with a life membership by District Six. She is Censorship Chairman of movies for Royal Oak and the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs. She has traveled in every state of the Union and is a teacher as well as a parent.

Mrs. Williams emphasized a five-point personality development program in her talk. First, take time to enjoy people; second, like many kinds of people; third, never allow personal or exterior surfaces to interfere with your circle of friends; fourth, say to yourself, "I will not rank or be ranked"; fifth, "I will not pass judgment on any question until I have examined both sides."

Twenty-four schools were represented at the meeting. Mrs. L. D. Gaynor and Mrs. Wallace Ridgley attended from Clarkston.

The November meeting will be held in the Community Activities Building at Waterford at an all-day session on Nov. 11th. Miss Laurentine Collins, Director of Public Relations in the Detroit Schools will be the guest speaker. Reservations for the luncheon must be in no later than November 4th. Phone Mrs. Gaynor or Mrs. Ridgley for reservations and also if you need transportation.

Nuptial Vows Spoken Saturday

Last Saturday evening the Clarkston Methodist Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Malvina E. Smith and Louis R. McCreight of Champaign, Illinois, spoke their marriage vows to the Reverend Walter C. B. Saxman before 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of William D. Smith of Clarkston and Mr. McCreight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCreight of Zion, Ill.

The double ring ceremony was read by candlelight before an altar banked with palms and large baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. Her gown of white satin had a yoke of illusion outlined by a small, double bertha collar finished with pointed scallops, a fitted bodice and long sleeves with points over the hands. The full skirt fell into a court train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a coronet of white satin braid. She carried a colonial bouquet of white baby chrysanthemums and stephanotis centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Laura B. Vliet of Clarkston, as maid of honor, was gowned in gold taffeta fashioned with a double bertha collar encircling the shoulders and joining to form a pointed neckline. She wore full length mitts and her shoulder length veil of gold net fell from a small coronet braid. She carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and gold chrysanthemums accented with deep red chrysanthemums.

Mary Hugelmann of Wakefield, Neb., a roommate of the bride at Champaign, Ill., and Honor Stickey of Clarkston were bridesmaids wearing gowns of deep green taffeta styled the same as the maid of honor's gown. Their shoulder length veils were of green net and their colonial bouquets were the same as the maid of honor's.

Mr. McCreight was assisted by three college students. His brother, Bert McCreight, a ceramic engineering student at the University of Illinois, was best man and the ushers were his brother, Everett McCreight, a senior at the University of Illinois and the bride's brother, Ray Smith, a junior at Michigan State College.

Three year old Billy Smith, nephew of the bride was the ring bearer. He wore a white suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Mrs. Adele Thomas, organist at the Clarkston Methodist Church, played the traditional music and also played the accompaniment for Mrs. Charlotte Gannin of Flint, cousin of the bride, who sang "At Dawning" and "Because" preceding the rites and "The Lord's Prayer" towards the close of the ceremony.

Following the ceremony the bride's aunt, Mrs. Julia M. Yeager, opened her home on E. Washington St., for a lovely reception. The refreshment table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature figurine of the bride and groom made by Mrs. Fred Yeager. Mrs. Harry Brown, aunt of the bride, of Lansing, Michigan, and Mrs. Archie Laird, cousin of the bride, of Detroit, presided at the silver service. Mrs. Charles W. Smith, sister-in-law of the bride, served the cake. Mrs. Lulu Grandstaff, a friend of the bride's family, assisted Mrs. Yeager with the reception.

For the occasion Mrs. Yeager wore a deep red, street length dress and a corsage of white, baby chrysanthemums.

Mrs. McCreight, mother of the bridegroom, was attended in a gray, street length dress with gray felt hat and gray accessories. Her corsage was of yellow, baby chrysanthemums.

When the newlyweds left on their honeymoon through Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia to Washington, D. C., the bride was wearing a hunter green suit with matching cloche hat complemented with touches of deep red. She wore lizard skin shoes and carried a matching purse to complete her outfit. On her jacket was the white orchid from "her bridal bouquet."

Mr. and Mrs. McCreight will go from Washington to Schenectady, N. Y., where he has accepted a new position with the General Electric Co., Research Laboratory.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State College, class of '46, member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. Following graduation she was employed in Chicago for one year and then in June of '47 she went

Church May Be Used For Classroom

The Executive Board of the Methodist Church, meeting on Monday evening, approved the request made by the Board of Education for the use of Church facilities for a first and second grade classroom for a period of one year.

Crowded conditions at the local schools have made it necessary for the Board of Education to seek additional classrooms. A written request was made by a representative of the Board of Education requesting the use of the first floor of the Church. These facilities have been conditionally approved by State and County authorities.

The Board of Education has not acted on the offer of the church as we go to press.

Keith Leak and F. L. Spooner have been appointed by Paul Henry, President of the Board of Education to organize a committee to study population trends and building requirements for Clarkston Public Schools.

The old school building on North Main Street, now property of the Ford Motor Company, has been examined by the School Board. The building can be purchased for $47,500 but cannot be leased. Substantial alterations would be required to convert the building to school purposes.

Present planning is based on the expansion of the present school building to meet the rapidly growing grade school and high school needs.

Hallowe'en Party At Harmony Valley

The next big event at Harmony Valley will be the annual Youth Hostel Hallowe'en Party on Saturday evening, Oct. 29. The Youth Hostellers from Clarkston, Drayton Plains, Pontiac, Flint, Detroit and Ann Arbor are inviting all of the neighbors to turn out on the jollification on that night.

There will be dancing, games, cider and doughnuts and just everything that goes to make Hallowe'en fun.

The American Vitreous Product Company of Fenton was kind enough to donate the boiler and even loaded it. The Ball Mountain Repair Shop on Lapeer Road contributed the labor in cutting and making the stove. The Parks and Recreation Commission furnished the transportation. The Morning Glory

I look outside my private room, And there the morning glories bloom. The seeds were planted way last spring; The vines then trained to climb a string. It wasn't long 'til blooms reared, And buds and flowers at dawn appeared. Each morning kissed by diamond dew Were gorgeous blooms of heaven blue. Each night the flowers of the day Would spend their strength and fade away. But when again the sun would rise A whole new crop would greet my eyes. All other flowers come and go, With colored fragrance stage a show, But it's the morning glories fate To every day reincarnate. The same, old friends with proven worth Will live forever here on earth; Will here survive each day of gloom; Will rise each morn to smile and bloom; Will make each life a bit more gay With cheerful thoughts to start each day.

By the Way . . .

Saturday evening the Clarkston Rotary Club will hold its annual hunter's party in the Rotary Club rooms. This is the party that the hunters and their friends do not miss, and a good crowd is expected. The advance sale of tickets, which will end Friday evening, speaks of a good time for everyone. There is still a lot of room and you can purchase tickets up to Friday evening from any member of the Rotary Club. If you do not get a ticket you are welcome and can secure tickets at the door Saturday. . . . Reports are heard that many hunters secured their quota of pheasants. Certainly the number of hunters clogged the roads leading out of Detroit. US 112 was crowded as far as Clinton and naturally US 10 and M-15 kept to their high peak of booming business. . . . Have you had any sweet cider yet this fall? . . . The Detroit Free Press will not like this but some people do not read the Sunday edition and we make free to mention a story published this last weekend. It seems the big city is a little worried. Residents are moving out into the so called "Area". Of interest to the residents of this community should have been the fact that Independence Township is growing and has profited by this exodus. Personally we are not sorry we came a number of years ago and the expressed wish of our friends in Detroit seems to be that they wish they could move out. . . . Plans are going forward for the Rotary sponsored "Hallowe'en party". There will be more details next week.

VOWS SPOKEN SATURDAY MORNING

Last Saturday morning the St. Michael church in Pontiac was the scene of a pretty wedding when Lorraine C. Felice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Felice of Waterford and Paul J. Bonfiglio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bonfiglio of Orchard Lake Road spoke their nuptial vows to Reverend Michael J. O'Reilly.

The bride was attractive in an ivory satin gown fashioned with a bustle back and a full length front panel of imported guipure lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a white satin tiara embroidered with seed pearls and

EDITORIAL

Well, another session of school has started at Clarkston High. Our enrollment has grown considerably this year. We expect to make many new friends. We would like to tell you how much we appreciate the clean sparkling school along with our new books, desks, and teachers.

Not only do we appreciate these, but we also wish to thank you for making it possible for us to remain on the accredited list of the University of Michigan. This enables students of Clarkston to enter any major college in the United States without taking the entrance examinations.

Nothing looks any nicer than walking into a school, or any place for that matter, and seeing clean white walls and spic and span floors. That is what we see every morning. We salute our custodians, Mr. Boyms, Mr. Green, Mr. Howland and Mr. Lowery, for doing a wonderful job.

In this, our first editorial for The Clarkston News, we, the Seniors of our High School, wish to thank, once again, the people of Clarkston and our School Board for the splendid way our school looks and for their cooperation.

(Submitted by the Senior Literature Class)

The Philip Carey Mfg. Co. of Detroit has recovered the boilers. The old insulation had loosened allowing heat loss and rusting of the boiler jacket. The boilers were found to be in very good condition externally.

In a recent meeting, the junior class discussed class dues for the year, class rings, and the sponsorship of an all school hayride followed by a dance.

One of the new faculty members this year is Mr. Staebler, who teaches physics, mechanical drawing and seventh grade mathematics and science.

He received most of his training at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor where he also lived. After one year of college he entered the Army where he was a weather observer. He served three years in the service during which time he spent his summers in the South and his winters in the North. Upon leaving the Army he decided to finish his schooling in college.

His hobby is playing the organ. We are very fortunate to be able to hear his music when we march into an assembly.

We hope Mr. Staebler will enjoy teaching at our school as much as we enjoy having him.

ASSEMBLY

Our first assembly was a pep session which was held September 23. The '49-'50 cheerleaders were chosen and the yell was demonstrated. A talk on the art of football was given by the coach, "Doc" Thayer with the help of the football team.

Student Council candidates were presented in assembly on September 30. Peggy Keasey gave a very influential speech which helped to swing the election to Hank Shell. Chuck Henry spoke for Lee Johnson and Bill Switzenberg for Joan Booth.

Did you wonder what was coming off October 7, when you heard the strains of the school song and the cheerleaders coming down the street? Well it was something just to get the spirit of the school up. The cheerleaders put on a mock football game between Waterford and Clarkston. The Clarkston team came in bounding after the Waterford team staggered in. Eventually the Clarkston team won after many funny incidents. The cheerleaders then led a snake dance through town with the football uniforms on. They did a cheer in town and then broke up.

GOSSIP

Hi there folks!

Well here I am again to bring you all of the gossip about the goings on at good ole Clarkston High.

Gloom hung low over the school at the beginning of this week after we lost a football game to Waterford. Later in the week something else hung low over the halls. It was an evil smelling smoke that poured from the chemistry room. Ah! The wonderful days of the year's first experiment. Pheui!

Say did you watch that football game between the two groups of cheerleaders in pep meeting? I watched from my own box on top of the beams in the gym. Boy! That was more fun than a barrel of monkeys!

The British may devalue the pound but the world is still on an even keel to Les and Joyce. How many years have they been going steady? Anyone know?

Hey, Chuck Collins, how many million dollars do you figure you'd have if you got a nickel for every trip that you take to Ortonville? Blue seems to be the color in the second row of fourth hour chemistry class. Eh! Boys? I guess you know Mary Jane!

I happened to get a look at the proofs of the seniors' pictures before they were handed out. What a large group of advertisements for "Life Can Be Gruesome!" I must say that pictures never lie.

Yesterday noon while I ate my free lunch of a candy bar which I stole from the seniors, I overheard several students and teachers talking over the subject of "How to get lights for the football field." I think that this is a wonderful idea, these lights.

Well, that's all the news for now, so I'll retire to my home, the Twin County Basketball trophy for 1948, in the trophy case. If you should dig up anything interesting, let me know, will you?

Farewell,
Kenny the Cockroach

HOME EC.

As you walk into the Home Ec. room you feel as if you're right in your own home. This is quite natural since the Home Ec. II girls have made new, grey, white and yellow curtains for the large windows and a complete new set of covers for the couch. They have also made pink, white, and blue place mats with matching napkins. Then there are the freshly painted book shelves and cupboards which are done in a pleasing light green and yellow.

Miss Etzler's work shop has a brand new electric sewing machine which is the cause of many girls hurrying to see which one gets there first.

Also the girls enjoy the use of the new pastel dishes which decorate the cupboards. In the dressing room they have a new set of sheets, pillow cases and a bath blanket for the bed.

All of these things, I'm sure, will make our Home Ec. just as delightful and pleasant as if you were at home.

SENIOR SKETCH

The saying "good things come in small packages", is doubly true with little Nonnie Alexander, our second senior of the week. She came into this world seventeen years ago on September 26, 1932.

This little miss is well traveled in that before starting school she has already been in many states. Her first year of school was spent at Mars in Detroit. Following that she attended Roosevelt in Keego Harbor, and Webster and Washington in Pontiac, respectively.

In 1947 we welcomed her into our class. Since then she has been active in both school and church, even though she was absent last year for about sixteen weeks because of a broken leg. But this didn't hinder her for she is still one of our better students. She is a kitten on the keys and loves to sew and to eat French fries. Among her few dislikes is the person who thinks they know it all.

She is petite, being only five foot one; has dark brown hair, and hazel eyes.

"Nonnie" is planning to be a teacher and we know that she will be not only an excellent teacher but also a friend to her little students.

MARLENE AIKEN

July 4th is over—but what's that—a late firecracker? No, just Marlene Aiken, who has turned out to be one of our vivacious seniors. It was July 30, 1932 when she first exploded and she is still going strong.

She was five when she toddled up to the doors of Webster and began her life as a student. The usual uneventful years at a rural grade school followed.

At fourteen she danced, for she had learned how at Webster, up to the Dublin Doors and was initiated into the school as Daisy Mae. Two exciting years elapsed and bang! She's at Clarkston.

She's working at Bill's Drive-In now as a car hop and is humming her favorite song "I'd Hate to Lose You". Hamburgers with mustard and onions and chocolate malts came into her life and are still her favorite foods.

She's now seventeen years old, five feet seven inches, brown hair, brown eyed senior. Her hobbies are dancing, swimming, and the movies. The Community House and the Drayton Theatre know her friendly face well. It seems that most every one has a pet peeve and hers is those people who are continually telling her that she is blushing.

Marlene is undecided about her future but we are sure that whatever she does will bring with her gaiety and laughter.

ADVICE ABOUT KEEPING WELL

"The man who thinks to conserve his health by uselessness and ease does not differ from him who guards his eyes by not seeing, and his voice by not speaking. . . . Least of all is it to be assumed that laziness is healthful, if it destroys what health aims at, and it is not true that inactive people are more healthy."

This excerpt from Plutarch's essay Advice About Keeping Well, written over 2,000 years ago, might have been written yesterday. Had medicine and pharmacy been well developed then as they are today, we are certain would have stressed the value of a periodic physical examination by a qualified physician. By the same reasoning, it is wise to take your prescription to a registered pharmacist for expert compounding. We are prescription specialists.

The Hilltopper

To parents of boys 8 through 10: A meeting of the boys (8 through 10) and their parents will be held Oct. 21 at the Clarkston High School at 7:30 P. M., to take up the matter of Cub Scouts which will be sponsored by the Clarkston Parent-Teacher Association.

Will you kindly arrange to be present at this meeting as each prospective Cub Scout must be accompanied by his parent or parents.

Dorothea Gaynor, President Clarkston Parent-Teacher Association

The kindergartners were happy to greet their teacher, Mrs. Ray Clark, on Tuesday. Mrs. Clark has been recuperating after an operation.

SIXTH GRADE In geography we made maps showing the crops and the mineral wealth of the British Isles. Judy Walker wrote a perfect test in Science on Friday. We have our room decorated for Halloween with witches, owls, pumpkins and bats.

THIRD GRADE We are glad to have Raymond Miller back to school. He has been absent a long time with a broken arm.

In science we are learning what animals do in the fall. We are busy making Halloween decorations for our room.

FIFTH GRADE Monday afternoon we decided to have a Safety Club. We elected the following officers: president, Patience Thayer; vice president, Gary Stallard; secretary, Janet Sue Willoughby; treasurer, David Lissner. The Club will meet every Friday afternoon at 3:15.

We wrote some very interesting English papers on "How the leaves change color". We didn't lay the blame on Jack Frost but on Mother Nature instead.

We had 29 perfect spelling papers last Friday.

GRADE NEWS

The grade children and teachers are pleased to have the older group of our scouts decorating the elementary library again this year. Under the direction of Mrs. R. E. Spohn the October decorations were planned to bring indoors reminders of our beautiful Michigan autumn. Colorful leaves, corn-stalks, vegetables and nuts were used to carry out this theme, making our book nook an attractive spot.

Captain of Safety Patrol, Gary Robertson and Lieutenant LeRoy Volberding have their new patrol well organized. All 6th grade boys are members. Those serving in September and October are: Billy Annett, Billy Brian, Edwin Campbell, Billy Greer, John Lemieux, Bill Loske, Tim Mortimore, Gary Robertson, Ronnie Roy, Bill Shanks, LeRoy Volberding and Lee Yoder.

The 6th graders are also learning to assist in the elementary library. Their duties are to check in all books; trace overdue books, keep stacks in order and room tidy. Those who have been librarians so far this year are: Barbara Bell, Erwin Berry, Joanne Betts, Sharon Hoyt, Barbara Jones, Bill Loske, Marjorie Lumm, Raldisse Pelham, Ronnie Roy, Phyllis Snover, Valerie Hoyt, Judy Walker.

Stanford Reading tests were given last week to all children in Grades 3-6, including Clarkston Station and Hunter Schools.

A new record player has been purchased for the grades with proceeds from a musical festival given by the grade children some time ago. The purchase was delayed until we could have a wider field from which to choose.

MAYBE BEARS LIKE MOVIES

A Chippewa county bear did not stop the show in the township hall in the village of Strong's, it never got started until Conservation Officer Edward Dorie finally shot the animal.

Getting a hurried call from an irate moviegoer, Dorie arrived on the scene to find a bear parked at the hall entrance defying evening film patrons to get out of their cars.

The suggestion that someone buy the bear a ticket so he could enjoy the movie was unheeded.

HOLE DIGGER, MODERN STYLE - A Michigan Bell pole-hole digging truck. On the rear is a huge corkscrew-like drill. Where soil conditions permit, it bores down into the ground and digs a clean, deep hole in a few minutes.

FAMILY AFFAIRS - Throughout Michigan Bell there are many instances of two or more kinsfolk employed by the company. In Detroit, for example, a mother and her three daughters work at a Long Distance switchboard.

TAILOR-MADE FOR THE FARMER - The telephone saves time for all who use it. But it's particularly valuable to the farmer. He often lives some distance from markets, suppliers, stores, friends and neighbors.

Water is cheap, of course, but we attach a special importance to it when folks drive their car into our station. In all friendliness, we always check the Radiator, clean the Windshield, ask about the Battery, Tire Pressure, etc.

You'll agree that we actually enjoy giving this kind of service, too.

Next time your car needs gas, drive in and see us.

CANCER SOCIETY PLANS APRIL DRIVE

The April cancer drive is a huge educational effort, as well as a big job of fund raising. The education of people to "see your doctor in time" and "to watch for cancer's danger signals" with detailed descriptions of what these danger signals are is undoubtedly the most effective single weapon available to the American Cancer Society for saving lives now.

Experience has shown it is vitally important to carry out the fund raising and educational efforts together. When a person gives his money to fight cancer, he becomes more vigilant in guarding his family and himself against cancer.

The reason for the existence of the American Cancer Society is to try to help twenty-two million Americans avoid an untimely and often unpleasant end. It is inconceivable that this issue is of such slight importance that it is not worthy of individual consideration by our people once a year.

It should be borne in mind that the American Cancer Society has no vested interest whatsoever in perpetuating itself. The Society is completely controlled by volunteer members and directors, none of whom receives one cent for his or her efforts. If a better way could be found to combat cancer than through the instrumentality of the American Cancer Society, the volunteers who control the Society would gladly dissolve it.
