LOW EGG PRICES NOT BLAMED ON IMPORTS

Canadian imports are not blame for low egg prices this winter, says Lawrence Witt Michigan State College agricultur al economist — and he has plenty of figures to back up his claim.

During the production year 1948-49, the U.S. exported more than six times as many eggs as vere imported from all foreign sources. Although most were from Canada, Canadian imports were only .06 of one percent of our egg consumption for the year. This means that less than one out of very 1,600 shell eggs that we ised came from Canada — too lew to have any significant effect on our market prices. At the same UNIVERSITY DAY HAS time, we exported about one out BEEN SET FOR MAY 5 of every 300 eggs we produced, primarily to Latin American coun-

Witt explains that even in the Detroit market Canadian imports are not a major factor. This market receives a large amount of Canadian eggs as compared with other egg markets. But even in the Detroit market only two to three percent of total receipts came from Canada during the fall months of 1949. No imports from Canada were received in December when prices were much lower. Yet, December receipts in Detroit were 20 percent over October.

High production in the United States was actually responsible for shapp declines in egg prices, Witt says. This was due to:

1 - An unexpectedly high out put per hen. With the mild weather in early winter months, the hens just kept on producing in a season when they ordinarily stop laying.

2 - Steadily increasing output per hen in general, due to improv ed breeds.

3 - Increasing poultry numbers

SOLVES PROBLEM FOR LADY SHOPPERS

Delving, into a bulky handbag for keys, pencils, bus tokens, noney and lists while shopping. burdened with packages, can be very frustrating and embarasing for the lady shopper.

Designed to solve the situation is a new, efficient and smart looking garment called the Handi-Coat which you can make yourself. It was designed by Clarice Scott, clothing specialist for the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. The pattern is available now, reports Marjorie Eastman, Michigan State College extension specialist.

The Handi-Coat has ridden acessories and special pockets designed to provide more shopping comfort for its wearer. The grocery list fits in a slot in the left sleeve. A second slot is made to hold a handkerchief. Pencil and fountain pen stand upright in slots in a lower right-hand pocket, leaving room for a wallet beside them.

Those who ride a bus will appreciate the token dispenser attached to a pull chain inside the right upper pocket. The house key, too, is on this chain which flips back into place when released. Equally handy are the roomier pockets for gloves, check book or other items.

This rain-or-shine coat attractive as well as practical. It has a shirt-type collar, long zipper closing, and a front kick pleat to provide walking room. The detachable visor hood with shoulder cape gives added protection against

Invitations have been sent to high schools throughout the state inviting students to the University of Michigan on May 5. Student officers of the Michigan Union have set that date as University Day. The Union revived this "Campus open house" last year after a wartime lapse.

★ The early Greek physicians believed that it was not possible for a man to enjoy perfect health unless he carefully organized his life to accomplish this single objective. This meant the meticulous ordering of each day. Proper nutrition, exercise, and rest were perfectly balanced. Physical constitution, age, and even the seasons of the year were considered. For a man of affairs, such a regimen is out of the question. When your work is done, you play and exercise when you can. But this little you can do. See your family physician at least once a year. Follow his advice. In case medication is required, we are prepared to serve you, promptly and economically.

FAMILY TRACED THROUGH LETTER WRITTEN IN 1874

With the aid of a letter written 75 years ago Michigan State Police have located members of a family sought by a relative in Canada. Early this year Mrs. Urvar

Perry, of Trenton, Ontario, wrote to the State Police requesting aid in locating anyone by the name of Durham who may have lived in the vicinity of Crystal Valley or Pentwater at some time or another.

Mrs. Perry explained that the only information she had on the family was obtained from a letter dated December 12, 1874, According to the letter the Durhams had six children, the oldest 12, and there was a possibility some were efill living.

Corporal Clarence Beuerle, of the Grand Haven post, began inquiring in Crystal Valley and the nearby towns of Pentwater, Hart and Walkerville. He located an elderly gentleman in Hart who said he had known two brothers of the family. Both were dead but he was certain one had son who resided in Ludington.

In Ludington officers located George Durham who told them only one of the six children mentioned in the letter was still alive. This was his uncle, Albert, who lived at his daughter's home in Charlevoix.

Trooper Nick Reecako, of the Praverse City post, found Albert t the daughter's home. The officer earned that he was the youngest of the children. His mother died in 1918.

Albert, 75, was amused when old of the date on the old letter. It was December 12, 1874—he was born on May 12 of the same year. After hearing the good new Mrs. Perry said it was wonderful to locate relatives after not hearing from them for 75 years.

LEADER'S SCHOOL

Each year the Michigan State College puts on a Leadership School for boys and girls who will be future leaders in their communities

The school was held this year t Caro on Feb. 9, 10 and 11th. The school stressed methods of teaching in 4-H Club activities. Demonstrations, projects, recreation and parliamentary procedure are but a few of the things that will be stressed.

Delegates from Oakland County were Bill Ludwig of Oxford and present the material they learned to all the leaders in the county at a later date.

Michigan members of home demonstration groups made 694 slip covers and saved over $9,000 in the process last year. They also saved more than $8,000 by refinishing more than 1,000 pieces of furniture and $4,000 by repairing innerspring cushions in furniture. County home demonstration agents supervised the projects.

And neither do you. But it could happen to your family—and it will, unless each one of you resolves to drive safely and carefully every day in the year.
