Crowd Attends Junior Play

The lights were lowered, and a hush went over the audience. As the curtains parted, an eerie hotel lobby was revealed. This was lighted up brightly at intervals by lightning caused by the storm which raged outside.

During a peal of thunder which shook the shabby walls, the dashing hero (Clark Rouse) and his sidekick (Jim Smith) walked in dripping wet. Seeking refuge from the weather they pleaded with the housekeeper (Nora Brewer) to let them stay. A lawyer (Jim Huttenlocher) and the aunt (Sylvia Peterson) of a hypnotized heiress (Gail Oswald) and a cousin of Gail's (Joice Carte) entered. They looked Gail in a room; then they planned her murder after she signed a will.

Because she got stuck down the road, Lissa (Mary Beattie), came to the "Lame Duck" Inn. Clark was obviously struck by Cupid's arrow, and he did everything in his power to protect her from the lurking danger at the inn.

Joice, enraged by her small "cut" from the will, promptly killed Jim Huttenlocher. Then the battle of wits was on and each person suspected the other one.

Two tramps Bob Rose and Steve Bilbey, having been paid off by Jim Huttenlocher before his death for keeping quiet about an accident years before, were caught with $5,000 by a hick sheriff (Wayne Orr) and promptly ushered back into the inn.

A medium (Gail Robertson) and her French maid (Gerry Lang) knew that the aunt would be found dead also. The sheriff arrested Mary for the murders and she revealed that she was the editor of a detective magazine, who had been looking for the answers to the murder of Gail Oswald's brother and sister which took place years before. She then proceeded to tell the people that the murderer was in the room as Gail was brought out of her trance.

Joice, unnerved by the proceedings, whipped out a gun and headed for the door; she was stopped abruptly when Clark ran into her from behind and the sheriff grabbed the gun.

Mary, realizing Clark as a hero, ran into his open arms and the curtain fell as they ended in an embrace.

When the curtain opened for the curtain call, Clark was wiping off the lipstick. This was the end of a wonderful play with a wonderful cast.

Catherine Garnier

The above article was written by one of the students and gives in detail the thrilling story that was presented by a very fine cast selected from the junior class. Mr. Heimbarger, the director, and the players are to be congratulated on the ease and smoothness with which the presentation was made. They provided an enjoyable evening's entertainment.

Between the acts Barbara Waggener, in behalf of the juniors, presented Mr. Heimbarger, the director, and Mr. Staebler and Mr. Bonner, who were in charge of the stage setting and make-up, with gifts of appreciation.

Miss Haviland was the 4-H representative from Michigan who was chosen as delegate to the International Youth Exchange project. She spent four and a half months with farm families in France. Miss Haviland has much charm and ability as a speaker and her slides of the French farms and countryside were interesting and beautiful.

The club had as guests for the afternoon, Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. Joseph Hubbard, active 4-H workers.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Thomas Wilson on May 22nd at 1 p. m.

Local M. Y. F. Host Sunday

Last Sunday evening the Senior Youth Fellowship of the local Methodist Church entertained the Milford-Highland group. There was a splendid attendance.

In charge of the worship service were Lee Johnson, Carolyn Yoder, James Huttenlocher, Leslie Boyns and Ann Spohn. Mr. W. Ridgley showed two motion pictures that had been obtained by Mr. T. S. Boyns. The pictures depicted a portion of our New England coast and Yellowstone National Park. These pictures, in color, were not only beautiful but were educational.

To close a very fine evening the groups enjoyed a social hour and refreshments.

Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club News

The speaker at the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club on Tuesday was Gerd Padel of Zurich, Switzerland, a journalism student. Don Giroux, program chairman for the day introduced this very brilliant young man who gave an outline of his work and the advantages he is enjoying in the U. S. A. He compared the school and education in general in Europe with what he has experienced in America. He stressed educational development through fellowship and scholarship. The Rotarians were vitally interested in what he had to say as Rotary has many young people in foreign countries.

In the absence of the president, Robert C. Beattie, the president-elect for 1950-51, Erwin Greer, took charge of the meeting. Visiting Rotarians included W. H. Stamp and Ed. Lamberton of the Clarkston Club.

New J. Deere Dealer In Davisburg

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Parker, new John Deere Quality Farm implements dealer in Davisburg and vicinity, come to you with a wide experience in agricultural work. He was employed with the Keego Hardware Co., of Pontiac for 14 1/2 years in hardware and specialty selling. They have owned and operated successfully their own business for the past five years.

The Parkers have lived in Oakland County for over forty years, spending most of this time in W. Bloomfield Township. They are interested in sports, hunting, fishing, bowling and club work. They have a family of 4 with Alice and Patricia at home. Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. Bradley also makes her home with them.

The Parkers are affiliated with the Kiwanis Club, the Keego-Cass Woman's Club, the P. T. A., and Trinity Methodist Church and are interested in the League of Women Voters.

The family will live in Davisburg after June 15th. Patricia will finish her last semester of her freshman year at Keego Harbor High School.

Precision engineering, scientific quality control, and modern production methods that would do credit to the finest factories in the world are used in the manufacture of John Deere farm implements, according to James F. Parker, of Davisburg, who returned Saturday evening from a five-day tour of John Deere plants in western Illinois and eastern Iowa. These controls and methods not only contribute to the outstanding quality of John Deere farm implements, said Jim, but are to a large degree responsible for the fact that their products have not increased in cost as much as most other lines of "hard" goods since the war.

The first three days of Jim's tour were spent in Moline and East Moline, Ill., where five of the sixteen John Deere manufacturing plants are located. In Moline, Jim saw the John Deere Flow Works, established more than 100 years ago and "home" of world-famous Disk Tillers and Truss-Frame moldboard plows, the Wagon Works, where rubber-tired wagons, beet and bean tools, stalk cutters and crop dusters are made and the Planter Works, largest corn planter factory in the world, which — among other implements — produces corn planters with 60-acre daily capacity. He also saw their testing and research laboratories, where highly-trained specialists are employed in never-ending search for new ways to improve John Deere implements.

In East Moline, Jim visited the Harvesters Works, which covers 55 acres all under one roof and employs more than 3,000, manufacturing large and small combines, mowers, threshers and other implements. The Spreader Works makes manure spreaders and loaders, cotton harvesters, hammer and roughage mills, corn shells and grain elevators.

During the last two days of his tour, Jim visited the two huge John Deere tractor factories at Dubuque and Waterloo, Ia., which employ about 9,000 persons. At PROTECT PEACH CROP FROM BROWN ROT NOW It won't be long until peaches are in bloom in Michigan, and Ed Andrews, extension plant pathologist at Michigan State College, is advising growers to use time between now and then to knock peach brown rot mummies from the trees.

Most healthy fruit left on trees drops soon after harvest time, Andrews says. All fruit hanging in the tree at this time is infected with the brown rot fungus.

Leaves come out when peaches are in bloom and mummies cannot be seen readily, making it harder to knock them out of the trees. An hour or two spent in each acre of peach orchard with a broom stick will help to insure the success of future brown rot control sprays.

Mummies left in the trees produce brown rot spores throughout the growing season. If they are knocked to the ground now, they will not produce mushrooms and spores during the bloom period this year.

Disking old mummies that remain on the ground from last season will disturb them and help cut down the amount of spores from this source.

Spring and early summer is the time to kill sheep ticks. Ask your county agricultural agent for information.

1950 FARM CENSUS WILL PROVIDE STATISTICS FOR FORT-TIME FARMS

The 1950 Census of Agriculture, to be conducted in April, will ask farmers of Oakland County to report the number of days worked on their farms at non-farm jobs, businesses or professions. In addition, farmers will be asked if they or members of their families have any other non-farm income. This information will enable the Bureau of the Census to provide statistics for part-time farms and places used primarily as rural residences. Information supplied by the individual farmer is held in confidence by the Census Bureau and is combined with similar figures furnished by many other farmers and published in impersonal statistical tables.

Michael A. Bida, District Supervisor, reported that according to the 1945 Census of Agriculture, there were 602,000 part-time farms in the United States in 1945. In 1944, approximately 1,570,000 farm operators worked off their farm for pay or profit and more than three-fifths of these farm operators worked 100 days or more off their farms.

The following table presents the number of farmers classified according to the number of days worked off farm for the various censuses since 1930.

Table with 5 columns: Year (1930, 1935, 1940, 1945, 1950), and 10 rows of farmer categories (All farm operators, Operators reporting work off farm, Under 25 days, 25 to 49 days, 50 to 99 days, 100 to 149 days, 150 to 199 days, 200 to 249 days, 250 days or more).

FARM CENSUS GUIDES FUTURE PLANNING

Importance of the giving complete and accurate figures in the 1950 farm census was emphasized today by C. V. Ballard, director of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service.

Although individual information is personal, the director pointed out that totals gathered furnished basic data to be used until another federal census is taken. "It is highly important that an accurate and complete census is taken because farmers, industry, government agencies and other groups will depend upon the figures as a guide," Director Ballard commented.

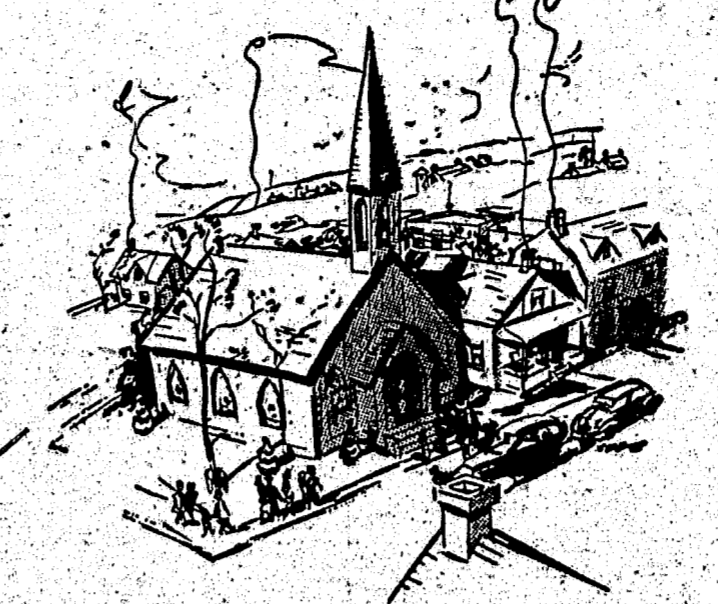

Information is summarized by areas such as county or state which will give the basis for developing agricultural programs or determining the shift of crops or livestock numbers. Facts concerning individual farms are never revealed.

MICHIGAN Motoring Don't take a chance—know and OBEY your traffic laws! Have you ever stopped to really think about our traffic laws—the reasons behind them? They are made to protect you... and even wrong parking may mean the loss of a life—perhaps your own!

Look at the chart above—study these distances for safe parking. Then check over the parking rules below. Make sure your parking violation may not endanger you or someone close to you. YOU MUST NOT PARK: 1. Where signs prohibit parking. 2. Within 15 feet of a fire hydrant. 3. So as to obstruct traffic, such as at a sidewalk. 4. Within 20 feet of a marked crosswalk at an intersection. 5. Within 30 feet of any traffic stop sign. 6. Opposite a safety zone. 7. Within 50 feet of a railroad crossing. NEW GRANTS EXPAND MSC CANCER STUDIES

Cancer research at Michigan State College will be intensified and expanded under three new grants totaling $17,850 by the American Cancer Society. The grants will launch one new study of breast cancer in women and continue two other projects which are using plants to trace development of the disease and develop a horticultural extract to combat tumor growths. New work, to be conducted by the department of physiology in the School of Veterinary Medicine, involves study of the lactogenic hormone and its action on milk secretion tissues of the mammary glands.

OFFER WALNUT SEEDS FOR TIMBER PLANTING

Black walnuts to replant for game food and timber production can still be obtained from the forestry department of Michigan State College, reports W. Ira Bull, who supervises the college tree nursery. The forester advises early orders so the nuts can be planted before the end of April. The nuts have been stratified over winter in moist sand to keep them in good growing condition until spring. They are sold in peck or bushel lots. A peck holds about 225 nuts.

Walnuts should be planted in fairly fertile farm soil in order to get best results. Odd corners not large enough to farm or openings in the farm woodlots are excellent places to plant these nuts. They grow better mixed with other hardwoods than in a pine plantation. Orders for walnuts should be placed on the regular forest tree seedling order blank that can be obtained from county agricultural agents' offices or by writing to the Forestry Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan. A nominal sum is charged for the walnuts to pay for the cost of handling and stratifying. Walnuts are furnished by the walnut veneer industry in cooperation with the American Walnut Manufacturer's Association.

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Ps. 145:9): "The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 127): "Christian Science reveals God, not as the author of sin, sickness, and death; but as divine Principle, Supreme Being, Mind, exempt from all evil."

WATERFORD COMMUNITY

Wright VanPlew, Pastor Emphasizing the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, the services at Waterford Community Church on Good Friday evening and Easter Sunday, will present an unusually attractive program. A candlelight Communion Service will be held on Friday evening at 7:30, at which time the fact and significance of the death of Christ will be related by the pastor, Rev. Wright VanPlew. Appropriate music will be furnished by the Choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles Jehle, after which the Lord's Supper will be observed. All are invited to attend.

On Easter Sunday morning, the traditional Sunrise Service will begin at 7 A. M., on the theme, "Experiences of Resurrection Life", featuring testimonies and Scripture meditation.

Sunday School will convene at the usual hour 10 A. M., with a class for all ages engaging in a study of the greatest event in History, the resurrection, as recorded in the Bible. At the morning service, beginning at 11:15 A. M. the sermon subject by the pastor will be entitled, "Why I am Sure Christ Arose." Also on the program will be a reception of new members into the church, and music by the choir.

A new feature in the regular church program will be added at the Worship Hour, in the form of a Junior Church to be held in the new Annex Building. Children between the ages of 7 to 12 years will meet for worship at this time. The Junior Church will continue regularly each Sunday thereafter, with the purpose of providing a service which will train children in proper worship. The committee in charge of this new program is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goll and Mr. and Mrs. Corum Atkins.

A nursery for younger children is conducted by Miss Yvonne Thayer also during the Worship hour. On Sunday evening, the Choir will present a program of Easter music and reading from the Bible, including a narrative of the life and ministry of Jesus during His last week from the Entry into Jerusalem to the Resurrection. New robes, recently purchased by the choir, will be worn for the first time during the Good Friday and Easter services. Maroon in color they will harmonize with other pulpit furnishings, and it is expected that they will add materially to the improvement of the spirit of worship and orderliness.

All are invited to enjoy the growing ministry of this Community Church dedicated to the preaching and teaching of the Biblical, historic Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The Girl's Athletic Association, sponsored by Miss Bennet, a few months ago, posted a notice on the bulletin board that any girls interested in bowling one night a week after school were to sign. For a few weeks a group of girls bowled with their friends. Now they hope to form a league. Bowling is held at Howe's Lanes every Wednesday night after school. Due to the fact that the group is school sponsored, a special rate of 25c a game and free shoes are offered.

NOMINATING PETITIONS IN CIRCULATION FOR CONGRESSMAN DONDERO

This week finds nominating petitions for Congressman George A. Dondero placed in circulation. He has represented the 17th Congressional District of Michigan since it was formed. Because of the continuous service Congressman Dondero has rendered, he was made Chairman of the Public works Committee of the House of Representatives in the 80th Congress and is now Ranking Republican Member of that Committee in this, the 81st Congress. A high place on this committee means much to Michigan. Before it comes legislation on rivers and harbors; public roads - important to a state which manufactures about 85% of the automobiles of the nation; flood control; and public buildings (including post offices) and grounds. Substantial savings to the people have been accomplished by Congressman Dondero because of his watchful attention to legislation and the influence he has gained through years of experience and knowledge of the needs of his district, State, and Nation. An outstanding achievement of Congressman Dondero for the District was the improvement of the Red Run-Clinton River flood control authorization and appropriation. The work on this project is now under way. He is instrumental in the establishment of a program for stream pollution control and a Federal Highway Bill which benefitted Michigan by securing additional funds for the expansion of its highway program for 1951-1952. He strengthened our national defense by piloting through the House of Representatives a measure for the erection of an important installation at Nome, Alaska. He has voted consistently against Federal tax increases and government projects when in his opinion they added needlessly to the public debt. Even when public money was needed for his own District, he made sure the expenditure was imperative and would return benefits in excess of cost. Dondero has voted for and urges early action on the recommendations of the Hoover Commission for the reorganization of the Executive Departments wherever he believes they are in the public interest. He succeeded in obtaining a reduction in taxes and is working for the removal of wartime excise taxes. He has supported reductions in government spending and waste. Congressman Dondero has given of his time and effort to rid the government agencies of communists, subversives, and left-wing employees. He has always been a staunch defender of our form of government and has exerted every effort to preserve our heritage of freedom. He is opposed to the socialistic state. The Congressman maintains an office, when Congress is not in session, at 527 Washington Square Building, Royal Oak, Michigan, for the convenience of the people he represents. OFFICIAL CENSUS TAKERS HAVE PROPER CREDENTIALS Housewives will be called to their front doors during the first two weeks of April by the knock of the Census takers from the United States Bureau of the Census. The Census taker will present his credentials, in the form of an identification card introducing him as an enumerator for the 17th Decennial Census. He will carry an official Census of Population form on which he will write down names and note information about each individual in the household. He will have nothing to sell and he will ask only questions which appear on the Census form. If the visitor claims to be a Census taker but cannot produce his credentials he is an impostor and will be subject to penal action for impersonating a Federal officer. If he undertakes to conduct any business other than the collection of official Census information, he betrays himself because official Census takers are subject to loss of their jobs if they combine their Census work with soliciting money, selling house-to-house, distributing advertising material, or other similar activities which bring canvassers, peddlers and the like from door-to-door. Housewives who have reason to believe that they are being imposed upon by a faker are urged by Michael A. Bida, local Census District Supervisor, to notify the police and give the authorities a description of the individual. Police authorities here have been shown the type of credentials required of Census takers and have assured the Census Bureau of assistance in apprehending imposters.

Device Helps in U-M Wood Research

ANN ARBOR — Troublesome doors and windows that do not open or close easily in damp weather are a nuisance in many a household. Pictured above is a research activity at the University of Michigan's Wood Utilization Laboratory centering around this problem. Robert E. Snyder, a graduate student in wood technology from Detroit, is checking the effectiveness of wood preservatives and water repellent substances. He is using a "swell-o-graph", a special device which records how much and how fast a treated or untreated piece of wood expands due to moisture.

The Human Body Is More Complex Than an Automobile

★ You wouldn't take your car to a garage and refuse to tell the mechanic what was wrong. The mechanic would have every right to doubt your sanity. Yet people frequently refuse to tell the physician of their ailments. They are anxious to have an "unbiased opinion."

You can save time and expense by being frank with your physician. To do a competent job of diagnosis he needs the history of your symptoms. The human body is far more complex than an automobile. For the best results give him all the facts.

All we need is the physician's prescription. We are competent to compound it exactly as he specifies.

LOUISIANA CHICKEN GUMBO

From way down New Orleans way, where cooking becomes culinary art, comes this delicacy that fits for a king. It's rich in both flavor and nutrition, so try

Louisiana Chicken Gumbo

(With oysters when they are in season... or shrimp alone at all seasons of the year)
4-5 Pound chicken, jointed
Salt, pepper
1/2 lb. ham, cubed
4 tbs. softened margarine
4 tbs. shortening
3/4 cup onions
8 qts. boiling water
2 tbs. cornstarch
2 tbs. cold water
1/2 lb. okra
1 lb. minced parsley
3/4 tsp. thyme
1 bay leaf
1 dozen oysters (when in season)
1 dozen raw shrimp, shelled and cleaned

Salt and pepper the chicken. Sauté to golden brown with the cubes of ham, in the melted margarine and shortening. Add onions, turn heat very low and continue to sauté gently until onions are soft. Add boiling water. Cut okra into inch-long pieces, dropping into the boiling pot, as you cut. Mix cornstarch with the cold water to smooth paste. Add parsley, thyme, bay leaf. Add oyster liquor, if oysters are to be used. Cover and simmer gently 1 to 1 1/2 hours until chicken is very tender. Add seafood. Cook gently another 6-8 minutes. Serve steaming hot with boiled rice—or with boiled grits. Serves 6-8.

sew on as the plain colors are. Usually you will need about one-fourth yard of extra material to make a plaid dress or suit for there is often waste in matching the plaids, remind Gary Gephart, clothing instructor at Michigan State College.

Extra fabric is used because the pattern is laid out so that the plaid design matches at the seams. Fabrics with an up-and-down design as well as a right and left design are most difficult. It is easier to match plaid in a simpler pattern with few seams. A good example of a simple skirt pattern is a four-gore skirt. The plaid mitered down the center front and center back is beautiful in line and design.

It is important to check the notches when laying the pattern pieces on the material. Make sure, for example, that a notch on the sleeve comes at the same place in the plaid as the corresponding notch in the armhole of the blouse front and back.

When making a plaid garment it usually pays to cut each piece singly and match the plaid pattern perfectly as you proceed. Check first to see if you have enough material for the whole garment. There is a great deal of satisfaction in making a plaid garment with the plaids matched perfectly at the seams.

75,000 SCHOOL TEACHERS RECEIVE TEXTBOOK ABOUT THE 1950 CENSUS

The United States Bureau of the Census has distributed 75,000 copies of a pamphlet entitled "We Count in 1950" to school teachers in all parts of the Nation for classroom use in conducting a study course on the 17th Decennial Census of the United States. Described as "a handbook on the Federal Census prepared for teachers in elementary and secondary schools" the publication has been issued by the Census Bureau with the joint sponsorship of the National Council for Social Studies. Consultants from the National Education Association and the Federal Office of Education assisted in the planning of the Census study project.

The booklet gives the history of Census-taking in the United States, describes the work of the Census Bureau and the use made of Census statistics, and suggests elementary and high school pupils.

The manuscript was written by Frank W. Hubbard, Director of the Research Division of the National Education Association. Consultative assistance was given by officials of the National Association of Chief School Officers, National Association of Secondary School Principals, American Association of School Administrators, and the Department of Classroom Teachers and the Department of Elementary School Principals of the National Education Association.

Leading educators familiar with the work of the Census Bureau regard the classroom Census study project as an important part of the Nation's schools can play in getting the people ready for the visit in April of this year by Census enumerators. It further affords school children opportunity to become informed on one of the greatest peace-time undertakings of the Nation.

All matters handled through the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

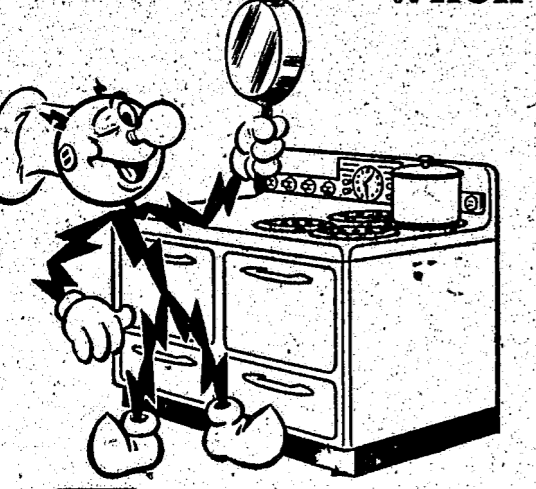

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper each week.

the group camps is ample reason alone for a diligent fire protection policy. The hunter is dependent on forest cover, thick swamplands and the rolling grass-covered hills for his sport. Besides the large army of picknickers and swimmers, there are the campers, naturalists, and fishermen who have an interest in these state lands.
Each park and recreation area is equipped with pump cans, shovels, axes and other useful fire-extinguishing tools. Park rangers are trained to use this equipment and park managers are designated as "keymen" in the conservation department's state-wide fire fighting organization.
Local fire departments adjacent to parks help out in emergencies. Several fires have been held to a minimum amount of damage because of their cooperation.
Uncrushed cigarette butts and smoldering camp fires give park men the most trouble, Leeson advises.

Loss of crop production capacity of some of Michigan's most valuable land is the result of uncontrolled fires on muck lands, according to L. A. Carter, instructor, forest fire protection, Michigan State College.
Muck land fires actually burn the soil as well as grass, trees and other vegetation.
Destruction of large muck areas by burning occurs each year and is especially prevalent on muck lands that have been drained. Burning also easily takes place on sod which has not been brought under cultivation.
Carter stresses that burning of muck soil is undesirable from both agricultural and forestry standpoints.

Some of the negative factors to be considered:
Production of an alkaline reaction by burning upper layer of a high lime-muck may render soil unsuited for growing several crops.
Burning of shallow deposits of muck often leaves sand, marl, heavy clay, hardpan or rock boulders exposed.
Decreasing depth of muck by burning shortens life of muck soil deposit.
Surface muck often is more fertile than lower layers.
Lowering the level of the field lessens the chances of obtaining proper drainage.

Feeding silage to dairy cows by the fork or basket method is one of the best examples of wasted time and work on many farms, says B. R. Bookout, farm management research specialist at Michigan State College.
Use of a silage cart, he says, saves three-fourths of the walking done with the fork method, and nearly all of the heavy lifting.
Bookout published results of a study made at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station in the current issue of Michigan Economics, agricultural economics department monthly publication.
The study revealed that in feeding a 15-cow herd with the fork carrying method, a farmer walks more than a quarter of a mile a day. This chore takes him 20 minutes. By using a basket he walks 825 feet, and takes 15 minutes to do the job. With a silage cart the feeding takes 13 minutes and he walks only 375 feet.
Silage carts cannot be used on all farms due to barn arrangement. But in many cases, minor changes such as widening a door or replacing a step with an incline would permit the use of a cart, Bookout says.
The full advantage of the cart is obtained when it is run under the silo chute and filled as the silage is thrown down.
If soil is approximately neutral in reaction, a concrete tile with correct specifications should be all right. In quite acid or alkaline soils, however, concrete tile can't be expected to stand up any great length of time. Clay tile is better in this type of soil.

THE TRUTH ABOUT FOOD PRICES
With food prices what they are today most mothers have a job feeding their families, yet the government is destroying or throwing away food. For the story of how the government is purposely making food expensive, read "Mother's Taxes", in The American Weekly, great magazine with this Sunday's (April 9) issue Detroit Sunday Times.
