FIREFIGHTERS SPONSOR SHOW FRI.-SAT.

In "Uncle Ezy's Hayloft Jamboree" stage show, the curtain rises on the square dancers called the Hayloft Hoofers, stepping off fancy figures as they swing their partners while the fiddlers supply the good old time hoe downs we all know and enjoy. The caller, Lee Kaines, may call for an all-male left or perhaps he'll sing out, "Birdie Fly in, Crow Fly out", "Chase The Rabbit", "Chase the Squirrel", "Chase that pretty girl, 'round the world". But whatever the figure, you may be assured that these fancy do-ers are just the beginning of do-si-dos and promenades that mean things are off to a big start in the old hayloft. Those who will dance the square dances are from the two dance clubs here in Clarkston: the Merry Mixers of Waterford.

The part of Joe Kelly, master of ceremonies of the barndance will be played by Russell Colton. He comes out to welcome the crowd and is interrupted by Charlie Robinson who has the role of Hiram Hicks, a comedy character that combines all of the droll wit of Pat Buttram, the comedy of Duke of Paducah and Rodney Bradfield from Holenwald, Tennessee.

Uncle Ezy who is giving the Hayloft party for the boys and girls will be portrayed by Glenn Kerton. He arrives late, but as usual has a good alibi. One of the best loved characters on radio, the kindly wit and philosophy of Uncle Ezy, along with his pranks as the show progresses, make him a character that will long be remembered.

Then there is that irrepressible Belle of the Barndance, Lulu Belle. She will be impersonated by Mrs. Evelyn Kelley. Many other favorites have come and gone on barndance programs, but Lulu Belle is still the undisputed queen and sweetheart of those who follow the provoking broadcasts each week. Naturally before she does her "How Do You Do?" number, she parks her chawin' chawin' gum on the top of a git-fiddle and after she gets in gear, she gives her own fun provoking songs to the amusement of all.

One of the most surprising and entertaining features of Uncle Ezy's Hayloft Jamboree is the introduction of the Quiz Kids. They are the guests of honor for the evening. Joe Kelly, Russell Colton, will interview youngsters who have been chosen from the fifth and sixth grades of the Clarkston school.

Shower Honors Local Girl

Just recently Mrs. W. J. Fuller, assisted by Mrs. Arnold Pacer and Mrs. Ray MacDiarmid honored Mrs. Beers, formerly Pat Riksen, at a kitchen and linen shower at the Fuller home.

The group enjoyed playing Bingo and presenting the honored guest with many beautiful and useful gifts. A delightful luncheon was served.

Guests were from Clarkston, Pontiac, Goodrich and Holly.

Reminder

You are asked to remember the date of the next P. T. A. square dance at the Clarkston School is May 6th. There will be the same peppy orchestra and the same good time. Plan to attend.

Rotarians Fete Farmers At 10th Annual Party

The annual meeting of the Clarkston Rotary Club devoted to the entertainment of the farmers in the neighborhood, was held on Monday evening. There were about 80 guests and members present. Arriving at 6:30 a short period was devoted to visiting until the dinner was served at 7 o'clock.

William Ladd of the Clarkston School faculty, entertained at the piano before and during the dinner.

President Richard Morgan welcomed the guests and Alex Solley responded for the farmers. It was recalled that this was the tenth annual party and because it was the tenth anniversary year of the Club everyone tried to make it a little the best party the club has had. Floyd Andrews, township supervisor, said a few words for the township. The new club officers were introduced.

The entertainment featured Harry Cecil and his magic tricks. This was greatly enjoyed.

Mary L. Volberding In Girls Chorus

When the Dionysians of Michigan State College presented the new musical comedy "By George" on April 12, 13, 14, and 15 at the Fairchild Theatre, Mary Lee Volberding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Volberding of Clarkston, was in the Girls Chorus.

The Dionysian organization was founded in the fall of 1946 by Homer Opland of South Haven and Joseph Greenhoe of Lansing, when they decided that State needed an all student musical show to combine the elements of writing, composing, acting, designing and dancing. The membership was limited to students. Thus, the Dionysians were born, named for Dionysus, Greek God of poetry, music and wine. The Dionysians is one of few college producing units offering coeducational participation.

Fifth Graders Use Skill In Building Health Houses

This past week the fifth grade at the Clarkston School had one of the most unique exhibits that could be seen in any school. Mrs. Glenn Howland, the grade teacher, had the children working on a health project and one of the steps was to build a health house. The houses were on display in the classroom and were exhibited at the P. T. A. meeting last Thursday evening.

The houses, made out of food, were varied in structure. Some were small one story buildings and others were large two stories. There were flat roofs and hip roofs; there were bungalows, cottages and ranch houses. There were no two alike. Being made out of food the mode of constructing was difficult and it was amazing to see how many methods were used.

With each house displayed the pupil had listed the materials used. Sally Terry used cornflakes, tea, oatmeal, peanuts and carrot tops; Johnny Terry used shredded wheat, oatmeal, tea, carrot tops, graham crackers and celery; Edith Teggerdine — oatmeal, shredded wheat, puffed rice, cheerioats, all bran, macaroni, graham crackers, tea, cornflakes, navy beans, jelly beans, powdered sugar, rice krispies and kix; Harold Parker — shredded wheat, cauliflower, all bran, graham crackers, oyster crackers, loaf sugar and tea; Douglas Turek — shredded wheat, wheaties, carrot tops, green onion tops and celery; Dan Carter — all bran and soda crackers; Bobby Furlman — oatmeal and shredded ralsin; Dennis Gritzing — pop, shredded ralsin, shredded wheat, carrots, green tea, and macaroni; Janet Sue Willoughby — nabisco wafers, graham crackers, shredded ralsin, cinnamon candy, broccoli, colored frosting, orange drops, green sugar, raisins, oatmeal, parsley, stick macaroni, brown sugar, and cocoa.

The foods used by others in their construction were: Patience Thayer — shredded wheat, oatmeal, red sugar, graham crackers, wheat thins, broccoli, rice krispies, wheat bran, wheat germ, gum drops, stick candy and parsley; David Swayne — corn flakes, soda crackers, macaroni; Nadene Gleason — celery, rice, parsley, graham crackers, corn, green sugar and egg shells; Warner Beckman — tea, navy beans, soda crackers, graham crackers, corn flakes, cheerioats, oatmeal, carrot tops, cinnamon candy and macaroni; "Suellen O'Dell — tapioca, oatmeal, raisins graham crackers, corn meal, nabisco, celery tops, soda crackers and spaghetti; George Lange — peas, cheese, candy, green coconut, puffed wheat, puffed rice, tea, cinnamon candy, graham crackers and spaghetti; Frederick Robinson — macaroni, rice krispies, coconut and graham crackers; Onalee Morgan — graham crackers, jelly beans, oatmeal, corn flakes, kix, nescife, cabbage, beet tops, onion sprouts, onions, green tea and navy beans; Alfred O'Dell — oatmeal, rice, navy beans, graham crackers and lettuce; Sharon Beckman — oatmeal, cheerioats, corn flakes, carrot tops, lime jello, soda crackers, graham crackers, navy beans and macaroni; Arlene Mogg — colored rice, colored coconut, toasted bread, corn flakes and a cookie shaped like a tree; Sharon Glennie — rice krispies, soda crackers, oatmeal, carrot tops, colored mince, bread, flour, jelly beans, licorice, apple and cheerioats; Kenneth Hogg — carrots, candy, sugar, cheese bits, bay leaves, oatmeal and green coconut; Nola Vess — onion, oatmeal, cheerioats, corn meal, sweet potato, soda crackers, chocolate cake and chili powder; Gary Stallard — shredded wheat; June Rader — graham crackers, corn flakes, soda crackers, coconut, navy beans, Hi-Ho crackers and egg shells; Betty Gardnet — puffed wheat, cheerioats, corn flakes, graham crackers, carrot tops, raisins, celery, lump sugar, prune and spaghetti; Johnny Reynolds — carrots, bran flakes, corn soya, candy, egg shell and navy beans.

These children certainly had plenty imagination. There were all kinds of walls made with graham crackers, soda crackers, cheerioats and other cereals. One very attractive house had the walls made of cheese bits and laid up to represent a log house. The roofs were varied — many with the different cereals. One roof was striking and colorful, a hip roof with domers. It was made of split peas, laid like tile. Many of the chimneys and fireplaces were cleverly made of loaf sugar, peanuts and cinnamon candy. Many of the children designed flower gardens and vegetable gardens and most of the grounds were landscaped with trees and shrubs. At the rear of two or three of the houses were chicken yards and one even had a pig sty. The ingenuity of these nine, ten and eleven year olds is almost unbelievable.

The writer spent at least an hour looking at this exhibit and at that there were many little, clever details that were missed. Mrs. Howland and her fifth graders have received many deserving compliments.

School Teachers To Get Pay Increase

When the Clarkston Board of Education met on April 10th a schedule of increased salaries for school teachers was completed. These salaries will become effective next September. The increases will be from one hundred up to three hundred dollars per year for most teacher classifications and will bring the salaries in line with those paid in other districts.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men's Club tonight Dr. Don T. Stackable will speak on "Early American Guns". As this is his hobby Dr. Stackable will have guns on display and will tell of the history and the use of each one.

Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club News

Donald E. Adams, Justice of the Peace in Waterford Township, gave an interesting talk at the Tuesday-Drayton Rotary Club. He spoke chiefly on traffic laws, some of which many residents know very little about. Judge Adams has recently been made president of the newly organized Lions Club in Pontiac.

Arrangements are being made for the championship bowling events between the Drayton Exchange Club and the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club.

Dr. Richard Hills had charge of the day's entertainment. Tom Corbin was busy discussing plans for sponsoring the Boy Scout activities for the year.

Visiting Rotarians included William Mason of Imlay City, Berkeley Voss of Pontiac and Henry E. Harr of the Detroit Club.

P. T. A. Hears Talk On Home Highlights

About 160 attended the P. T. A. meeting at the school last Thursday night and heard a very interesting talk by Bruce Bradshaw on "Home Highlights". He stressed the idea that when redecorating the home it would be wise to have a decorating theme, according to your hobbies, your friends and the type of entertaining you enjoy. He said the architectural details should have a central interest and the furniture should be planned and arranged with this detail in mind. He told how to blend colors for the most pleasing results. Mr. Bradshaw made his talk live by exhibiting samples of drapery material, rugs and fine material for upholstery. Following his talk he answered questions.

At the business meeting it was voted to subscribe $50 to the State and National "Quarters for Headquarters". The square dance on May 6th was announced and a benefit party was planned for Wednesday evening, May 3rd.

Mrs. Wallace Ridgley, Mrs. Robert Osgood, Mrs. James Glennie and Miss Ruth Sharpe will go to Kalamazoo next Tuesday to attend the State Convention which lasts 3 days.

After the meeting the group enjoyed seeing the health houses that were made by the fifth graders.

The fifth and ninth grades won the pictures for attendance.

Dainty refreshments were served by the fifth grade room mothers, Mrs. Orlo J. Willoughby, Mrs. Garold O'Dell and Mrs. Ralph Walton. The table was attractive with a pale green cloth, and a centerpiece of spring flowers. Mrs. L. D. Gaynor and Mrs. Glenn Howland poured.

At the next P. T. A. meeting on May 11th there will be a family pot-luck supper. Mrs. Herman Kinck, P. T. A. Council President, will install the new officers.

Measles and chicken-pox are the order of the day in and around Clarkston these days.

Jackie Chisholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chisholm, of Miller Road, didn't want to miss too much school so he is home this week suffering with both measles and chicken-pox.

By the Way ...

Occasionally the coffee club which meets at the Clarkston Cafe about 9:15 a. m. daily, had a distinguished guest. On Thursday of last week who should come in but Col. James Welsh the Old AAA traveler. Earl Terry recognized him and he was invited to have a cup of coffee. This was one morning the cup of coffee took a little longer. When the traveler gets back into the district of New Orleans one could listen for hours that interesting city, any place you can mention, he not only knows about it but the history behind it. W. R. Cogger, owner of White Lake Road, lays claim to having the largest turkey farm in White Lake Township. Fred course W. R. wouldn't brag, nor does he in making this statement. He has the only turkey farm in the township. . . . Friday and Saturday evening of this week the Clarkston Firefighters will stage their home talent show at the Clarkston School. Because the actors are all from town and because we have enjoyed their acting before we believe you will enjoy seeing them again. . . . Perhaps this would be a better world if we did not talk about our troubles. Breathe through your nose all the time and you will keep your mouth shut and save yourself a lot of trouble.

C. H. S. Baseball Team Wins Seasons Opener

Clarkston got off on the right foot by defeating Oxford by the score of 7-1. Although neither team had been able to get in much practice due to the bad weather this season, Clarkston made very well played. Clarkston made one miscue in the field and Oxford committed four errors.

The first inning was the big one for Clarkston. Shell walked and Miller was safe on an infield hit. Rouse also singled and Lamberton walked. Curry was safe on an error, Morgan singled, Jacobs walked and Shell singled in his second trip to the plate. Altogether this barrage brought in 6 runs. Clarkston's other run came in the sixth.

Oxford's lone tally came in the fifth on a walk, a fielder's choice and a double by D. Galba.

Jacobs was the winning pitcher. He struck out 7 and also walked 7 and gave up one hit. Clarkston got 6 hits.

This Friday Clarkston goes to Auburn heights for its game.

CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1950

NUMBER 34

FIREFIGHTERS SPONSOR SHOW FRI.-SAT.

In "Uncle Ezy's Hayloft Jamboree" stage show, the curtain rises on the square dancers called the Hayloft Hoofers, stepping off fancy figures as they swing their partners while the fiddles supply the good old time hoe downs, we all know and enjoy. The caller, Lee Kaines, may call for an all-male left or perhaps he'll sing out, "Birdie Fly in, Crow Fly out," "Chase The Rabbit," "Chase the Squirrel," "Chase that pretty girl, round the world." But whatever the figure, you may be assured that these fancy dances are just the beginning of do-si-dos and promenades that mean things are off to a big start in the old hayloft. Those who will dance the square dances are from the two dance clubs here in Clarkston and the Merry Mixers of Waterford.

The part of Joe Kelly, master of ceremonies of the barndance will be played by Russell Colton. He comes out to welcome the crowd and is interrupted by Charlie Robinson who has the role of Hiram Hicks, a comedy character that combines all of the droll wit of Pat Buttram, the comedy of Duke of Paducah and Rodney Bradsford from Holenwald, Tennessee.

Uncle Ezy who is giving the Hayloft party for the boys and girls will be portrayed by Glenn Kerton. He arrives late, but as usual has a good alibi. One of the best loved characters on radio, the kindly wit, humor and philosophy of Uncle Ezy, along with his pranks as the show progresses, make him a character that will long be remembered.

Then there is that irrepressible Belle of the Barndance, Lulu Belle. She will be impersonated by Mrs. Evelyn Kelley. Many other favorites have come and gone on barndance programs, but Lulu Belle is still the undisputed queen and sweetheart of those who follow the provoking broadcasts each week. Naturally before she does her "How Do You Do?" number, she parks her chin'win' chavin' gum on the top of a git-fiddle and after she gets in gear, she gives her own fun provoking songs to the amusement of all. One of the most surprising and entertaining features of Uncle Ezy's Hayloft Jamboree is the introduction of the Quiz Kids. They are the guests of honor for the evening. Joe Kelly, Russell Colton, will interview youngsters who have been chosen from the fifth and sixth grades of the Clarkston school.

Guests were from Clarkston, Pontiac, Goodrich and Holly.

Reminder

Rotarians Fete Farmers At 10th Annual Party

The annual meeting of the Clarkston Rotary Club devoted to the entertainment of the farmers in the neighborhood, was held on Monday evening. There were about 80 guests and members present. Arriving at 6:30 a short period was devoted to visiting until the dinner hour.

President Richard Morgan welcomed the guests and Alex Solley responded for the farmers. It was recalled that this was the tenth annual party and because it was the tenth anniversary year of the Club everyone tried to make it a little the best party the club has had. Floyd Andrews, township supervisor, said a few words for the township. The new club officers were introduced.

The entertainment featured Harry Cecil and his magic tricks. This was greatly enjoyed.

Visiting Rotarians were Arno Davis and Bob Kerr.

Mary L. Volberding In Girls Chorus

When the Dionysians of Michigan State College presented the new musical comedy "By George" on April 12, 13, 14, and 15 at the Fairchild Theatre, Mary Lee Volberding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Volberding of Clarkston, was in the Girls Chorus.

The Dionysian organization was founded in the fall of 1946 by Homer Opland of South Haven and Joseph Greenhoe of Lansing, when they decided that State needed an all student musical show to combine the elements of writing, composing, acting, designing and dancing. The membership was limited to students. Thus, the Dionysians were born, named for Dionysus, Greek God of poetry, music and wine. The Dionysians is one of few college producing units offering coeducational participation.

Fifth Graders Use Skill In Building Health Houses

This past week the fifth grade at the Clarkston School had one of the most unique exhibits that could be seen in any school. Mrs. Glenn Howland, the grade teacher, had the children working on a health project and one of the steps was to build a health house. The houses were on display in the classroom and were exhibited at the P. T. A. meeting last Thursday evening.

The houses, made out of food, were varied in structure. Some were small one story buildings and others were large two stories. There were flat roofs and hip roofs; there were bungalows, cottages and ranch houses. There were no two alike. Being made out of food the mode of constructing was difficult and it was amazing to see how many methods were used.

With each house displayed the pupil had listed the materials used. Sally Terry used cornflakes, tea, oatmeal, peanuts and carrot tops; Johnny Terry used shredded wheat, oatmeal, tea, carrot tops, graham crackers and celery; Edith Teggerding — oatmeal, shredded wheat, puffed rice, cheerios, all bran, macaroni, graham crackers, tea, cornflakes, navy beans, jelly beans, powdered sugar, rice krispies and kix; Harold Parker — shredded wheat, cauliflower, all bran, graham crackers, oyster crackers, loaf sugar and tea; Douglas Turk — shredded wheat, wheats, carrot tops, green onion tops and celery; Dan Carter — all bran and soda crackers; Bobby Furman — oatmeal and shredded ralsion; Dennis Gritzinger — pep, shredded ralsion, shredded wheat, carrots, green tea, and macaroni; Janet Sue Willoughby — nabisco wafers, graham crackers, shredded ralsion, cinnamon candy, broccoli, colored frosting, orange drops, green sugar, raisins, oatmeal, parsley, stick macaroni, brown sugar, and cocoa.

The foods used by others in their construction were: Patience Thayer — shredded wheat, oatmeal, red sugar, graham crackers, wheat raisins, broccoli, rice krispies, wheat bran, wheat germ, gum drops, stick candy and parsley; David Swayne — corn flakes, soda crackers, macaroni; Nadyne Gleason — celery, rice, parsley, graham crackers, corn, green sugar and egg shells; Warner Beckman — tea, navy beans, soda crackers, graham crackers, corn flakes, cheerios, oatmeal, carrot tops, cinnamon candy and macaroni; Suellen O'Dell — laploca, oatmeal, raisins graham crackers, corn meal, nabisco, celery tops, soda crackers and spaghetti; George Lange — ing compliments.

School Teachers To Get Pay Increase

When the Clarkston Board of Education met on April 10th a schedule of increased salaries for school teachers was completed. These salaries will become effective next September. The increases will be from one hundred up to three hundred dollars per year for most teacher classifications and will bring the salaries in line with those paid in other districts.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men's Club tonight Dr. Don T. Stackable will speak on "Early American Guns". As this is his hobby Dr. Stackable will have guns on display and will tell of the history and the use of each one.

Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club News

Donald E. Adams, Justice of the Peace in Waterford Township, gave an interesting talk at the Tuesday meeting of the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club. He spoke chiefly on traffic laws, some of which many residents know very little about. Judge Adams has recently been made president of the newly organized Lions Club in Pontiac.

Arrangements are being made for the championship bowling events between the Drayton Exchange Club and the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club.

Dr. Richard Hills had charge of the day's entertainment. Tom Corbin was busy discussing plans for sponsoring the Boy Scout activities for the year.

Visiting Rotarians included William Mason of Imlay City, Berkeley Voss of Pontiac and Henry E. Harr of the Detroit Club.

P. T. A. Hears Talk On Home Highlights

About 160 attended the P. T. A. meeting at the school last Thursday night and heard a very interesting talk by Bruce Bradshaw on "Home Highlights". He stressed the idea that when redecorating the home it would be wise to have a decorating theme, according to your hobbies, your friends and the type of entertaining you enjoy. He said the architectural details should have a central interest and the furniture should be planned and arranged with this detail in mind. He told how to blend colors for the most pleasing results. Mr. Bradshaw made his talk live by exhibiting samples of drapery material, rugs and fine material for upholstery. Following his talk he answered questions.

At the business meeting it was voted to subscribe $50 to the State and National "Quarters for Headquarters". The square dance on May 6th was announced and a benefit party was planned for Wednesday evening, May 3rd.

Mrs. Wallace Ridgley, Mrs. Robert Osgood, Mrs. James Glenn and Miss Ruth Sharpe will go to Kalamazoo next Tuesday to attend the State Convention which lasts 8 days.

After the meeting the group enjoyed seeing the health houses that were made by the fifth graders.

The fifth and ninth grades won the pictures for attendance.

Dainty refreshments were served by the fifth grade room mothers, Mrs. Orlo J. Willoughby, Mrs. Gerald O'Dell and Mrs. Ralph Walton. This table was attractive with a pale green cloth, and a centerpiece of spring flowers. Mrs. L. D. Gaynor and Mrs. Glenn Howland poured.

At the next P. T. A. meeting on May 11th there will be a family pot-luck supper. Mrs. Herman Klinck, P. T. A. Council President, will install the new officers.

Measles and chicken-pox are the order of the day in and around Clarkston these days. Jackie Chisholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chisholm of Miller Road, didn't want to miss too much school so he is home this week suffering with both measles and chicken-pox.

By the Way . . .

Occasionally the coffee club which meets at the Clarkston Cafe about 9:15 a. m. daily, had a distinguished guest. On Thursday of last week who should come in but Col. James Welsh the Old AAA traveler. Earl Terry recognized him and he was invited to have a cup of coffee. This was one morning the cup of coffee took a little longer. When the traveler gets back into the district of New Orleans one could listen for hours on end and if you have been in that interesting city, any place you can mention, he not only knows about it but the history back of it. . . . W. R. Cogger, out White Lake Road, lays claim to having the largest turkey farm in White Lake Township. Of course W. R. wouldn't brag, nor does he in making this statement — he has the only turkey farm in the township. . . . Friday and Saturday evening of this week the Clarkston Firefighters will stage their home talent show at the Clarkston School. Because the actors are all from town and because we have enjoyed their acting before we believe you will enjoy seeing them again. . . . Perhaps because we are one of the supply men (advertising) we are more than interested in the so-called Chrysler strike. . . . Perhaps as we write this to settle there is no other way to settle industrial differences, but considering the huge cost to the men, the company, the supply men, and the public and business in general, we suggest some better way be found before everything goes to rack and ruin. . . . Something when one considers the number of people passing on, by way of heart trouble, in their early fifties, we can't help wonder why. For years after the war we have a cold war to keep everybody on edge. Then we were given a treatment of strike trouble or the commitment of strike trouble or the medical music score. We are not medical men but we are afraid that the only way to live to a ripe old age is to recognize the statement that it does no good to worry about something we cannot change. . . . Perhaps this would be a better world if we did not talk about our troubles. Breathe through your nose all the time — and you will keep your mouth shut and save yourself a lot of trouble.

Silver Anniversary Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lorenz of Maceday Lake celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Saturday, April 15th, with High Mass at St. Benedict's Church by the Reverend, Frederick J. Delaney of Our Lady of the Lakes Church.

Breakfast was served at 12:00 noon at the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford to 25 members of the immediate family and friends. Open house was held in the afternoon and evening.

General Guild Plans Activities

The Ladies' Guilds of Our Lady of the Lakes Church held their general meeting at the C. A. I. building on Wednesday evening of last week.

The St. Anne's Guild announced a card party they were sponsoring on Friday evening, April 21st, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Albert Seeterlin, 260 Lockhaven Road. The Rosary Guild of Clarkston announced a rummage sale on Saturday, April 22nd, at the I. O. O. F. Hall on Wayne St. in Pontiac.

Projects to be sponsored by the general guild include a fashion show and bridge party in May with Mrs. C. N. Tuohy as chairman; a square dance in September and a regular church bazaar in December. Plans were discussed for the festival to be held on August 4, 5, and 6.

Mrs. John Foster will supervise the gathering of information on altar linens for the new church on the Dixie Highway. Although the church will not be completed Reverend F. J. Delaney, pastor, hopes that it will be in use by the middle of May.

The next regular meeting of the general guild will be on May 10, with the St. Anne's Guild as host. The place will be announced later. At the meeting last Wednesday evening the Mary-Martha Guild served delightful refreshments.

Square Dance Dresses Popular

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y.—Mother and daughter dresses were inspired by a new Fruit of the Loom square dance cotton print. Shown here in the lobby of the fashionable Gideon Putnam Hotel are Mrs. James Anderson, socially prominent up-state New York woman, and her two daughters, Robin, age two, and Barbara, age five. Each is wearing a dress which Mrs. Anderson made from popular dress patterns using the new fabric which features an exciting combination of square dancing figures. Home sewing experts say that the new print is excellent for bed spreads, draperies and rumpus room decorations.

SOIL TESTING

The soil testing laboratory which opened Monday, April 10, supports the age-old belief that Oakland County soils are low in phosphates. Generally speaking, the tests show some of the greatest needs to be lime and phosphate fertilizer. However, there is such a great variation, depending on the rotation and fertilizer practices that have been followed, that it is all summed up as Burton Brendle of Rose Township says after he obtained results on his tests: "The results proved to me that you can't practice good soil management by guess work."

WEATHER HOLDING UP FIELD WORK

This backward spring has many farmers worried about the oat crop for this year. Results from experimental work show that in climate similar to ours, oats planted after the 20th of April decrease in yield about five bushel for each week up to May 5, and after this date something else might be planted.

There is sure going to be a lot of gasoline burned and exhaust fumes once the weather breaks. Jim Reid of Farmington says that a couple of good warm, dry days should give him an opportunity to get his machinery into the fields. Of course, with 16 above zero temperatures, most farmers have been able to get into the fields on frozen ground, but plowing would be a bit stiff under those circumstances.

Would you like to save more than $40,000? Home demonstration members in Michigan saved that much last year just through their efforts in slip-covering and repairing their own furniture.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING BEST

Earl Voorhees, a farmer who lives near Davisburg, says that artificial breeding, in his estimation, is one of the best means of obtaining good heifers to be added to the milking herd. Earl points out that the fact that in using artificial breeding, farmers are able to obtain services of bulls about which there is a great deal of information, proving their ability to improve daughters over their dams. Many farmers back Earl up in this belief.

SCIENCE TAKES LOOK AT SUSIE, THE GOAT THROUGH HER WINDOW

Susie is a goat who has bared her soul—rather, her stomach—to the world in the interest of science.

For Susie has a window in her Stomach No. 1 (she has plenty, three others) and Mrs. Clara Dodge Refson, graduate student in chemistry at Michigan State College, is on the outside looking in.

Mrs. Refson is studying whether Vitamin B-12 is synthesized in the rumen (stomach) of goats. The vitamin, used with some success in treating pernicious anemia in humans, is being studied for further possible uses.

Samples of digested food are taken out the window and tested for the presence of Vitamin B-12 by Mrs. Refson.

"Later I'll be putting something back in," said Mrs. Refson. "I'll be radioactive cobalt to run another test for Vitamin B-12."

The tests will determine if goats may become a valuable source of supply of the recently-discovered vitamin to be used in research, Mrs. Refson said.

"Susie doesn't suffer any pain from the window," said one veterinarian. "She just doesn't have the privacy that other goats have."

1950 HOUSING CENSUS TO COUNT ABOUT 45 MILLION DWELLING UNITS

Despite wartime brakes on residential construction in the first half of the 1940-1950 decade, the 17th Decennial Census to be taken in April, 1950, is expected to reveal the largest 10-year numerical increase in dwelling units in the nation's history. The 1940 Census of Housing enumerated 37,325,470 dwelling units. The 1950 Census of Housing is expected to reveal an estimated increase of about eight million units to an approximate total of 45 million units.

Of the 37.3 million dwelling units enumerated in 1940, about 34.8 million were reported vacant. Because of an unabated demand for more housing, the increase in number of occupied units is expected to exceed even the record increase in total number of units and will have a bearing on the number of vacant units reported as compared with 1940. No national housing census was taken before 1940, so the number of vacant dwelling units has never been ascertained for earlier years.

Prior to 1940, the decennial census did not enumerate dwelling units as such but the number of families, as defined for the earlier censuses, is nearly synonymous

HONOR LIVESTOCK PIONEERS AT MSC

Two men, long identified with Michigan's livestock industry, will be honored at a banquet, Thursday, May 4 at 6:00 p. m. in the Michigan State College Union building.

They are George Brown, head of the animal husbandry department and Ralph S. Hudson, head of the farm and horse department at Michigan State College.

At the time of the banquet portraits of these two men who have spent 43 years serving Michigan's livestock interests in their positions will be presented. The friends of these two throughout all of the state contributed toward having the portraits done. John S. deMartelly, MSC artist, did the paintings.

Both Brown and Hudson joined the staff upon graduation from Michigan Agricultural College in 1907 and will retire on June 30.

Charles E. Snyder, editor of the Chicago Drivers' Journal, will be the speaker for the occasion. Reservations for the event are being made through Verne Freeman of the 4-H Club department at the Michigan State College.

There are 38,500 homemakers who belong to home demonstration groups in Michigan. They are organized in cooperation with the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State College.

EXTENSION OFFERS FREE TRAINING TO LEARN SEWING

Your wish to make your own clothes, or your children's clothes, to save money and have garments that are original need not be an idle one.

Many homemakers without previous training or sewing experience have learned the skills as part of the program of their home demonstration group. Training is provided by clothing specialists from Michigan State College's Extension Service.

For women with small children there are special classes for making children's clothes. Last year members made more than 500 children's coats and other garments and saved more than $2,000.

Instruction is set up so that you progress from simple garments to more complicated patterns and fabrics. If you know something about sewing you can start with a more advanced group. You will be pleased to learn new finishes and short cuts in sewing.

Home demonstration members like their home sewed garments because they believe they are more satisfactory than readymades in material, construction and fit.

Other phases of clothing are also presented to the members such as facts about the new finishes for fabrics and the use of new fabrics. They learn how to remodel older garments to present-day styles. Study of accessories, becoming styles and colors and pattern alteration are also of interest.

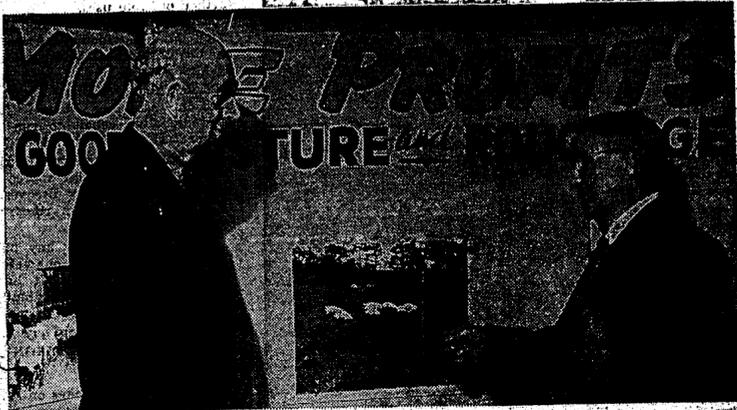

Clothing construction is only one of many interesting activities that you may choose as a home demonstration agent at your county seat for further details.

NEW ASSISTANT AGENT APPOINTED IN COUNTY

The State Board of Agriculture today approved the appointment of Willard E. Bosserman as assistant county agricultural agent for Oakland County. Mr. Bosserman replaces Fred W. Gettel, who resigned recently to enter private business.

Mr. Bosserman has a farm background, having resided on a farm in Gratiot County, Michigan, near Carson City. He graduated from Carson City High School in 1943. After graduation, he served 33

Plan United Soil Conservation Program

Fourteen federal and state agencies working with Michigan farmers are planning a unified program on soil conservation through use of more and better grasses and legumes. Rostell C. Carr, (left) who heads the Michigan U. S. Department of Agriculture Council, confers with C. V. Ballard, director of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, on the program for use of grass and legumes in hay and silage.

Michigan farmers will soon learn of the program on the local level through their county representatives of government agencies.

months in Army Ordinance. He served seven months overseas in France and Germany.

After his discharge in 1946, he entered Michigan State College and graduated in March of this year with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture. Mr. Bosserman majored in soil science.

His new duties as assistant county agricultural agent will consist of working with small acreage farmers in the rural-urban areas and assisting with agricultural projects in 4-H club work.

HOMEMAKERS NOTES

Home Extension Leaders Look Forward To Lesson On Color

Extension leaders throughout Oakland County look forward to the lesson "Color in the Home". Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, home demonstration agent, makes the announcement of the places in the counties where leaders will be taught during the months of April and May. The schedule is as follows: Pontiac District - Color I on April 25 and Color II on April 26.

The meeting will be on the 5th floor of the County Office Building 1 Lafayette St., Pontiac; Rochester District - May 2, at Avon Park Pavilion, Avon Park, Rochester; Oxford District - May 4 at the Oxford Homemaking Department in Oxford; Holly District - May 8 at Rose Hall, Rose Center; Oxford District - in Lake Orion - May 10 at the Youth Center, Lake Orion.

Mrs. Margaret Foster, extension specialist in home furnishings, will be in the county to teach the first lesson in the Pontiac district. Mrs.

Lawyer will then teach the lesson in the six other training centers. By teaching this lesson the home extension members will learn more about the use of color.

Color is now used in paints, fabrics, wallpapers, and floor coverings to make our home more beautiful and attractive. The homemaker needs to understand color and what it can do in order to choose the best for her home.

HIGH SPEED MACHINES TABULATE BILLIONS OF CENSUS ITEMS

The science of electronics has been applied to the science of statistics to make feasible the tabulation of the billions of items of information being collected in April in the 17th Decennial Census. But for the invention and development of high speed statistical machines, the compilation of the results of the 1950 Census would be an impossible undertaking.

The basis of the machine tabulation system employed by the United States Bureau of the Census is called the "punch card." Holes are punched into these cards in various columnar arrangements and combinations to represent the items taken from individual Census reports. These cards, in turn, are fed into electric sorting machines to be arranged swiftly into related sequences. Then they go into counting machines where the individual items are counted at a rate of 450 cards per minute, faster than the human eye can register and many times as rapidly as human hands could handle them. In other arrangements, or, sortings, these cards are passed through electronic tabulating and calculating machines, which make computations at almost unbelievable speed and automatically produce type-written tables of statistics.

Census Bureau experts estimate that more than 400 million punch cards will be used in compiling the results of the 1950 Census. More than 2,500 card punch operators will be employed for months in punching approximately 15 billion holes in these cards. One sorting of the 400 million cards at a rate of 450 per minute will require nearly 15 thousand machine hours or the equivalent of nearly 21 months of work for one sorting machine operating continuously 24 hours a day. The many machines employed by the Census Bureau make it possible to combine the 15 billion items on these 400 million cards in the numerous sortings necessary to produce the full census report.

CENSUS TAKERS UNCOVER MANY STRANGE KINDS OF JOBS

Information on occupations engaging the attention of Americans has been collected by Census takers at every decennial census of the United States since 1849. The 17th Decennial Census, to be conducted in April, asks all employed and unemployed persons 14 years of age and over for information on the kind of work they do. Probably well over 30,000 different occupations will be reported to the Census takers.

In collecting data on occupations in past censuses, the census takers discovered many odd pursuits. There was the woman who gave her trade as "egg-breaker." For eight hours a day, she broke eggs to be used in bakeries. Another highly specialized job was that of the man who measures the distance of flight of different breeds of pigeons.

The inventory of Americans at work revealed many other strange ways of making a living. One man a "fishworm ranch". Another worked for a tanner as an "un-hairer". "Tooth pick flavorer", and "whistle-tester" were reported by two others. In the food industry there were found a "potato-peeler" in a potato chip factory, a man who spent his days as a "ham sniffer", and one who might be called an "artillery-man", because he shot cereal out of a gun.

In 1940, the enumerators sometimes found the question of occupation touchy. One sensitive young girl, when asked the occupation of the head of the household, replied emphatically, "Electrician". When queried as to the kind of business in which he plied his trade, she stated reluctantly, "Well, he lights the red lanterns on a sewer construction project."

* Leeuwenhoek, in 1683, was the first to disturb the privacy of the teeming bustle of the unseen world. The "wretched wee beasties" cavorting innocently under his lens were later indicted and convicted by Koch and Pasteur. Unbeknownst to Leeuwenhoek, he had discovered a vicious and unseen world of killers, now known as bacteria, or germs.

The span of time between Leeuwenhoek and Pasteur was almost 200 years. Only an average lifetime has passed since Pasteur's experiments, during which practically all we know about disease and its treatment has been discovered. Our knowledge is expanding at an ever-increasing rate. The pharmacist works with the physician in bringing newer and better medication into the sickroom.

Better Eating by Jean Allen. THERE'S HAM IN THE REFRIGERATOR. Baked ham is a welcome meat to have in the refrigerator. It makes many a quick meal with little cooking. No need to mention serving cold sliced ham for dinner or in sandwiches for lunch. For a hot, hearty sandwich, fit for a prince try this idea. Place a slice of ham on a piece of buttered toast topped with slices of pressed American cheese and tomato. Season with salt and pepper and dot with butter. Slip under the broiler until the cheese has melted and the tomato is bubbling with juiciness. Serve this tasty sandwich with head lettuce and French dressing. It is a complete lunch - bread, meat, cheese and two vegetables. Ham is also delicious and different served creamed with your favorite crisp browned waffles. It makes a hearty evening meal. Creamed Ham 'n' Waffles. 1 1/2 cups sliced baked ham, 2 cups medium white sauce, 3/4 cup mushrooms, 1 tablespoon pimento strips, 1 egg yolk. Add ham, mushrooms sauteered in butter and pimento to white sauce. Heat well. Stir in lightly beaten egg yolk. Serve hot on waffles. Yield: 4 to 6 servings. Another dish you will be proud to serve is a ham soufflé. It is a good one to make when the ham is getting a little scraggy, or when the shank of the ham is ground or chopped very fine. Ham Soufflé. 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1/2 cup grated mild cheese, 3 eggs, separated, 1 cup ground or sliced ham. Melt butter. Blend in flour. Beat milk and cook until thick. Add cheese and stir until melted. Stir in beaten egg yolks; cool. Add ham. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into baking dish. Bake in moderately slow oven (325° F.) for 1 hour or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Yield: 4 servings. Faithfully Jean Allen. KAREN FOOD FOUNDATION, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

The Hilltopper

Coach Bonner is very happy about the showing made by the Clarkston thin-clads at the annual River Rouge Relays, in the Yost Fieldhouse at Ann Arbor. This is the largest indoor track meet in America and the Clarkston boys placed 17th with a total of 4 1/9 points. The outstanding performer was John Curry who tied for second place in the high jump. Other outstanding members of the team were: Bob Sharrock who after placing second in the preliminary heat of the low hurdles, placed third in the semi-finals; Bob Anderson obtained 1/9 of a point in the pole vault; and Les Hoyns who finished 4th in his heat of the mile.

The Clarkston team has home meets scheduled for every Wednesday through April and May.

PLOW FOR BEANS BEFORE MAY 15

Plowing under a green crop for beans or soybeans to be planted in late May or June should be done by May 15, urges H. R. Pettigrove, who conducts studies in bean cultural methods at Michigan State College.

Trials conducted by the Experiment Station on the college farms at East Lansing, showed that two out of three years the yield of field beans was cut in half when the sod crop was plowed late.

Results of one year's test showed a yield of 945 pounds of field beans per acre when plowing was done; 920 pounds when plowed May 1; 977 for May 15 and the significant drop to 473 pounds per acre when plowed May 31.

In another year, plowing before May 15 brought a yield of 1787 pounds per acre and plowing May 31 resulted in only 841 pounds of field beans per acre.

Similar results come for any late planted crop unless the year has rains sufficient to carry the crop, Pettigrove contends. Many farmers are planting soybeans late for better control of the weeds. The bean specialist says no bad effect should result from this if the field is plowed early enough.

A green manure crop plowed under late takes too much moisture for its growth in late May. Unless rains occur, not enough moisture is left in the soil to produce a Lightness of butter cakes mixed by the conventional method is partly due to the air beaten into the batter during the early steps. That is why it is important to cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend flour mixture into batter in thirds, alternately with milk added by halves. Mix to a smooth batter and bake.
